Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 1, 1869. No. 129.

Notes of Travel.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

According to promise, I send you a few notes of travel since I left our goodly "City of the Bay." On Monday night the cars east were late in getting to Belleville, and when one did get on board there was not sitting room to be had. The overcrowding was caused by the Provincial Exhibition, and Prince Arthur's visit added to the multitude; but with all crowding, I think that it might have been so arranged that ladies did not stand while the stouter sex sit. Quite a number of ladies stood or sat on the backs of seats, and amongst the latter I noticed a very pretty American girl, who, no doubt, unfavorably contrasted the manners of the Canadians with those of Americans. Quite close to me stood Professor Wild, whose countenance was as philosophic as ever, but I suspect that both kindly face and philosophic manners derived a little of these qualities from the fact that he had only a short journey to take. As for me I stood for a while, then got a seat on the stove, and finally got possession of one-half of the wood box.—Of course, half a loaf is said to be better than no bread, but I doubt the truth of this maxim as applied to such a seat as I had. True, I had a seat, but a stream of restless men kept passing out and in, stamping on ones toes, keeping the door open, smoking bad tobacco and worse cigars, munching the vile weed as if they were cows ruminating for a wager, expectoating as if they meant to emulate Hannibal Chollop, or Elijah Pogram, and making themselves, generally speaking, as disagreeable as possible. David Copperfield complains, you remember, that in his early married days it seemed that his butcher seemed to buy all the deformed cattle and sheep for his especial consumption, and so it seemed to me that all the broadest human shoulders and sharpest human joints came near me that night. One especial tormentor I shall never forget, —never, no never. He was a tall man, thin and wiry, with a gnarled face, which looked as if it had been carved out of a knotty piece of oak. He finally got possession of my old throne on the stove, and its refrigerating properties did'nt seem to agree with him, for he could'nt keep quiet for two minutes at a time, for he would plunge a skeleton-like hand into unfathomable pockets, drawing out huge chunks of bread which he ate with great gusto. Then, with great effort, he fished out an ancient turnip shaped chronometer, attached to his person by a chain that would manacle a deserter. Then he would produce a pocket pistol with which he refreshed himself after his arduous labours, though I noted that that weapon of offence was carried in a handy outer pocket. Then he elevated his splay feet on the opposite door, and a glance at the pattern of his pantaloons caused a horrible suspicion to flash across my mind that he was a countryman of my own. Next he proceded to encase himself in a venerable drab over-coat, which operation was a complete gymnastic performance, involving the most singular contortions. Then he performed a kind of bayonet exercise with an umbrella and some other things, poking them in our faces in a way that disturbed even Prof. Wild's equinamity, and that's saying a good deal. Finally he got a seat, and we all felt as did Sinbad the Sailor, when he got rid of the Old Man of the Sea.

We had almost innumerable delays, and only reached Toronto about a quarter past five. I had only time to take a bath and breakfast at the "Queen's"—chosen hostelry of the dwellers by the Bay—and rush off to catch the Western train. I note, by the way, that the "Queens" seems to have incurred the displeasure of the Globe, for that paper no longer reports the list of guests. It is, however, consola tory to know that there are always at least two Belleville folks as a permanent garrison. West of Hamilton you get into a different country; even men can't help noticing that the ladies don't dress like our Belleville dames. The Western ladies, it is true, follow the fashions, but it is at a most respectful distance, and you see them complacently wearing things discarded in Belleville ages ago. Bonnets are at least as big as a man's hand, and the diadem shape is quite unknown, though doubtless they'll get it in about four years from now; hats are worn on the head, not on the forehead, like the board on a breehy cow; however, this has the advantage of displaying their eyes, and very fine eyes they are; their dresses don't fit them, and they are not of fashionable cut or hue, and they don't wear their hair in the Bedlam style, or the more graceful Greek fashion, and they would'nt pass muster on Front street at all at all. I would suggest that we send a detachment composed of two married and two unmarried ladies, to act as Missionaries of dress and fashion up West. The said Missionaries to be selected by a Committee, of which the writer is Secretary.

London was crowded with people, sightseeing and Prince-seeing; but I hadn't time to stay. I saw the immense Tecumseh Hotel, of which the Free Press once said that it was "the hotel that the Londoners had built for posterity." But "posterity" seems to have come rapidly in this case, for that's only fifteen years ago, and now the hotel is well patronised at all times. Leaving London gay with triumphal arches and thronged with loyal people, we started for Detroit. Speaking of loyal people reminds me that I heard a good deal of that insensate gabble about "Independence," which fills the mouths of silly people at present; you can't say that it fills their minds, for you can't imagine a mind without a throne, and one doubts if such people's minds are like those of some folks. Independence is Annexation in disguise, and we in Ontario have made great sacrifices to secure Confederation, because we believe that Confederation is the consolidation of British power on this continent for ever and ever, that is as man speaks. And now all loyal Britons desire to see all our neighbouring Provinces come into our Confederation enjoying "Freedom, such as man may claim, Under God's restraining laws."

We rushed across our western peninsular and contrasted their villages with ours in Hastings, much to the advantage of the latter, and crossed the river at Detroit and took the Michigan Central for Chicago. Here the people change at once, like a scene in a theatre. You find the comely whiskers and moustache are replaced by a chin beard usually festooned with tobacco juice. I don't pretend to explain how it is, but in Canada I heard no swearing, while in Michigan there seemed to be a perfect endemic of oaths. People swore just as we talk, and seemed to do it from habit, not at all under excitement. We stopped at Ann Arbor, the seat of the University of Michigan, and there I got out to stretch my legs and see things. On the platform loafed five tipsy youths who talked College and puffed cigars incessantly. They were entirely too verdant to be Students of the Law School, and though they were sufficiently vicious and scampish to be Medical Students; even in the States, youths of fourteen or fifteen, don't generally explore the mysteries of Materia Medica, or Obstetrics, save and except "Doctor Ginery Dunkle, of Troy." By the way, I never passed through Troy without looking round for that fine creation of Dickens. And the lads reeled and swore and puffed and swaggered till I would have liked to execute summary justice on them all, that is, in the fashion of our younger days. The cars were loaded with people going to the State Fair at Jackson, and hence more delays, but finally at six o'clock on Wednesday morning I alighted at Michigan city, in the once sovereign State of Indiana. More in my next.

Yours truly,

Mu Daleth.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 25th, 1869.

Lady Byron's Name and Lineage.

The writer of "Table Talk" in the London Guardian supplies the following information:—

Everybody is asking just now how she came to be known also as Lady Wentworth. She was, as most people know, a Miss Augusta Millbanke, the only child of Sir Ralph Millbanke, baronet, of Seaham Hall, county Durham. Her mother was the Hon. Judith Noel, daughter of Sir Edward Noel, baronet, who in 1745 succeeded his cousin, Martha Lovelace, in the ancient barony of Wentworth, and subsequently created Viscount Wentworth. This latter title became extinct at the death of Thomas, second Viscount, in 1851, when Sir Ralph and Lady Millbanke succeeded to the Wentworth property, and took in consequence the name of Noel, as also did their daughter and her husband. At the same time the barony of Wentworth fell into abeyance between Lady Millbanke and her sister's son, afterwards Lord Scardale, whose death without issue in 1853 terminated the abeyance, and the barony fell to Lady Millbanke's only child, the wife of the poet. She lived to enjoy the title only four or five years. Though when young she inherited an ample fortune, it is a mistake on the part of Mrs. Beecher Stowe to say that in her declining years she had 'a country seat near London.' She lived at one time at Ealing, and eventually purchased a small house in Sloane Gardens terrace, adjoining Primrose Hill, in the Regent's Park, and there she died in the year 1860 or 1863. The half-sister of Lord Byron, whose name turns up so unhappily in the recently published notices of Lord and Lady Byron's married life, and is there mentioned as 'Augusta,' was the only child of John Byron, the poet's father, by his first wife, Amelia d'Arcy, in her own right Baroness Conyers, who had herself been divorced from the Duke of Leeds. She was born January 29, 1783, and was consequently older than the poet by just four years. In 1807 she married Lieutenant Colonel Leigh, of the Tenth Dragoons, by whom she had issue. She died in November, 1851.

A quaint writer says: "I have seen women so delicate that they were afraid to ride for fear of the horse running away; afraid to walk for fear that the dew might fall; afraid to sail for fear the boat might upset; but I never saw one afraid to be married, which is more riskful than all of them put together.'

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, OCT. 1.

TO BE SWORN IN.—A telegram from Ottawa of Sept. 30th says: "It is understood that Sir Francis Hincks will be sworn in as Finance Minister upon his return to Ottawa."

TYENDINAGA FAIR.—The Annual Show of the Township of Tyendinaga Agricultural Society will take place to-morrow, Saturday, at Shannonville.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—Dr. Jewett, the celebrated American Temperance Orator, who is now on a visit to the Province, will lecture in the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Bridge street, on Tuesday evening next, 5th inst.

SHORT.—The monthly report of the United States Agricultural Department represents the Indian Corn crop as likely to be short by 150,000,000 bushels. A cotton crop of 2,750,000 bales is anticipated. Wheat is generally abundant. Pork will not be quite so plenty as last year.

HON. MR. HOWE.—A telegram from Ottawa, Sept. 30, says: "Hon. Mr. Howe at the latest advices was at St. Cloud, 63 miles west of Rainy Lake. His letters are dated 19th Sept. from St. Cloud. He would strike across the plains, expecting to be seven days under canvas and to reach Fort Garry to-night, 30th Sept.

BIG BUSINESS.—At a Railroad meeting held in Portland on Saturday, Mr. John A. Poor, the well known railway promoter, said that the Grand Trunk railroad has carried in the past year more than half the entire imports of Boston, having transported in all 600,000 or 700,000 barrels of flour and over 1,000,000 bushels of grain.

INJURED.—A brakeman on the Grand Trunk Railway named Cater, while in the act of getting on the train at Shannonville this morning, was struck by one of the wood racks and seriously injured. Dr. Hope was sent for, and did all that he could for the sufferer. It is expected he will soon recover.

LADIES' SCHOOL.—We take great pleasure in calling attention to Miss Moore's advertisement. Her select school for young ladies and children has been long established in Belleville, and Miss Moore as a teacher fully merits the patronage of our citizens. Her new and commodious residence will afford every advantage for a larger number of pupils than she has previously been able to accommodate.

GRAND REVIEW AT TORONTO:—We understand that the Grand Trunk Railway, with its usual liberality, will issue tickets to Toronto and return at one fare during the Grand Volunteer Review. Tickets will be good by any of the ordinary trains on Monday, and per special passenger train at 3 a. m. on Tuesday. Available for return journey up to and including Wednesday night.

ENTERTAINMENT TO-NIGHT.—The renowned and far-famed English Gymnasts, the Watson Brothers, with a first-class variety troupe, appear in the Ontario Hall this and to-morrow evening. The press in the Western part of Ontario speak in the highest terms of them. The Hamilton Spectator says:—"They are the very best troupe ever in this city. Their Gymnastic performances, cannot be equalled; their flying men is the most daring act ever performed, and as for the sumersault feat words cannot express its greatness; go and see and judge for yourself is our advice. Their negro performances are also of the best, while the clog-dance of Lettie Mach, and the beautiful singing of Miss Sophie West, are unapprochable, in fact the whole entertainment is first class." We wish them a full house to night. See advertisement.

THE MAN IN THE MOON.—It seems that there is a probability of holding actual communication with the "Man in the Moon," and we will then be able to ascertain whether he really came down once upon a time as the old nursery rhyme has it "to inquire his way to Norwich," and whether he "burnt his mouth with eating cold plum porridge." It appears that some French gentlemen proposes a scheme for communicating with the planets! He wishes to mount a gigantic mirror capable of being readily moved, and to give flashing signals to Jupiter or Venus. He says if these signals are repeated at regular intervals, the inhabitants of the planets will notice them, and probably return them after which a code of signals can be arranged with the "man in the moon" and other heavenly bodies. It seems strange that this fantastic idea should have been thought worthy of being made the subject of a long discussion at the French Academy of Science. Yet so it was.

—A physician boasted at dinner that he cured his own hams, when one of his guests remarked: "Doctor I would somerbe your ham than your patient."

Prince Arthur.

His Royal Highness Prince Arthur is receiving great ovations in the western part of Ontario. He has been hunting at Long Point, and had grand receptions at Simcoe and other localities in the county of Norfolk. A correspondent of the Hamilton Spectator says:—"Simcoe did itself honor on the occasion. Here the demonstration was magnificent. First came a magnificent floral arch, with an orchestra on top, where maids, fresh with youth and beauty, down amongst pine boughs and wreaths of flowers, warbled out the National Anthem. The road was covered with the population of the entire country round. Teachers, gentlemen, farmers and their good wives, lads with their lasses, all came dressed in holiday attire to testify their loyalty and gratify their curiosity by a glance at the young Prince. * * * * The Prince left Simcoe at three o'clock, amid the presence of one of the most enthusiastic crowds that has ever yet greeted him. He was accompanied, after leaving Simcoe, by a body guard formed of the mounted yeomanry of the County of Norfolk, and also by Sheriff Deedes, Col. Tisdale, the Thirty-Ninth Norfolk, and an immense procession of carriages from all parts of the country. Relays of horses were provided before starting from Simcoe. The party drove rapidly to Port Dover. Along the entire road arches and other marks of respect exhibited themselves almost as thick as fence posts, and in every house there were demonstrations of welcome.—Port Dover was reached about 4 o'clock, and here a procession of four arches presented expressions of welcome, with the name of the Prince."

To-day, Friday, the Prince is to be at Brantford, where the various tribes of Indians from the reservations near Brantford and Komoka and Sarnia are to assemble. The Indians will perform their war dance and other interesting ceremonies will take place.

At Hamilton great preparations are being made for the grand ball which takes place this evening. It promises to be a magnificent affair, Toronto will on Monday and Tuesday probably eclipse any other locality in the magnificence of its demonstrations. A ball, a Dejeuner and a Volunteer Review are among the attractions offered. The Review will be the most imposing ever held in Canada, no less than 5,000 Volunteers expecting to take part in it.

At Whitby there will be a demonstration on Wednesday, the Prince taking part in the ceremony of turning the first sod of the Whitby and Port Perry Railway.

At Belleville, His Royal Highness will only remain half an hour, and will not leave the Station. We believe it is in contemplation to erect a platform on the South side of the Station, where the Prince will receive the Address from the Corporation, and where the people can obtain a good view of His Royal Highness. We have been informed, officially, that the Prince's special train will leave Whitby on Wednesday about 11:30 a. m., and will reach Belleville about 2:40 p. m. It has been suggested, in order that all the people may have an opportunity of seeing the Prince, that the Merchants and Manufacturers be requested to close their places of business for a couple of hours on Wednesday afternoon. We have no doubt in addition to our own inhabitants a large number from the country will be in town that day, so that we may expect one of the biggest crowds ever seen in Belleville.

Fall Assizes.

FOURTH DAY.

THURSDAY, Sept. 30.

ORR vs Porter, et al.—An action brought by the Plaintiff to recover damages for an assault upon him by the Defendants on the 29th of May last. Plaintiff and Defendant claimed possession of a piece of land in the Township of Hungerford, lot 21 in 9th concession; Plaintiff did some work on it last spring, and Defendants also went to the lot to work and found the Plaintiff and four persons named Rutter there. Defendants moved the land with oats, and left their implements in the field; on the following day the Plaintiff was planting potatoes in the same ground where the oats had been sown; when the Defendants came to the ground and found the four Rutters and the Plaintiff, a dispute arose about their respective rights, and a fight was the end of it. While the witness, Alex. Rutter, was being examined as chief, and giving an account of the affray, describing it as something terrible, the Defendant's counsel stated that he, Rutter, settled with Defendants for the injury he had received in the fight by Defendants giving him a glass of whiskey. Witness, on oath, denied the soft impeachment, but upon cross examination admitted he had while taking a glass of ginger wine settled with Porter, but the paper produced was not read over to him, as it appears to have been written that he settled because he was frightened. Verdict for Plaintiff $125; Judge certified to entitle Plaintiff to full costs. G. E. Henderson for Piff. L. Wallbridge, Q. C. for Defts.

MCINTOSH vs. SNELL.—Action of ejectment to recover possession of a farm in second concession of Thurlow, lot 12. Defendant had a lease of said land for a term of years. In March last Plaintiff obtained a judgment against Defendant, and under an execution issued on said judgment the Sheriff of the County of Hastings seized the Defendant's interest in the unexpired term of said lease and sold it, the Plaintiff then became the purchaser. Defendant also in March, 1868, executed a deed by which he assigned his interest in said lease to the Plaintiff. Plaintiff brings his suit to recover possession of the property described in said lease. Defence—Alleged fraud induced by Plaintiff from Defendant was so obtained by fraud of Plaintiff. Verdict for Plaintiff. Diamond & Dickson for Plff.; A. R. Dougall for Defts.

BARNUM vs. DIAMOND.—Action brought against Defendant, who is Police Magistrate of the Town of Belleville, for an alleged incorrect return of convictions had before him as such Police Magistrate. Plaintiff becoming satisfied that the return, if incorrect, was an error of the Clerk of the Peace's Court, and that Defendant was not in fault. Parties agreed after case called to withdraw a juror, and puts an end to the case. Flint & Robertson for Plff.; Diamond & Dickson for Defts.

The Grand Jury found true bills in the following cases:—

Albert Gerrow, Perjury.

Patrick Murray, Murder.

And ignored the following bills:—

Mary Price and John Waters, larceny, stealing a pig.

FIFTH DAY.

FRIDAY, October 1, 1869.

Court opened at 9 a. m.

EMPIRE GOLD MINING COMPANY vs. B. H. MATHER.—Action of trover to recover value of a quantity of wood, plaintiffs allege was purchased by Wm. M. Jones, acting agent for them; this is another action arising out of the gold discovery in our back country; plaintiffs owning as they supposed a valuable gold mine, expected to erect crushing mills and other works, and to carry on their business would require a large quantity of wood; plaintiffs say they employed said Jones as their agent to purchase wood for them, giving him some money to purchase with; Jones purchased wood which was piled on defendant's property; plaintiffs demanded the wood from defendant, and refused to give it up. Defence.—Jones was not agent for plaintiffs, but was purchasing wood for himself, and the money advanced by plaintiffs was on account of wood which Jones was to deliver to plaintiffs; Jones did not deliver plaintiffs any of the wood which Wm. M. Jones purchased, he sold to his brother, Dr. Jones, now of Port Perry; Dr. Jones sold to defendant and Robert Simmons; Dr. Jones paid his brother in full for wood; defendant paid on account of purchase, $50, and took a written bill of sale of wood to himself, Simmons, for Dr. Jones. Verdict for defendant. L. Wallbridge, Q. C., for plff. Holden and MacLellan for deft.

VANALLEN vs GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY COMPANY.—Action brought by the Plaintiff against the Defendant to recover damages for an injury a son of Plaintiff received by falling off a bridge which crosses the railroad track on what is known as College street, within the Corporation of Belleville. The boy, with others, whilst playing on the bridge fell upon the railing, and it being rotten or otherwise defective, gave way, and he fell over the side of the bridge on to the track below, a distance of fifteen or twenty feet, thereby receiving severe injuries. Verdict for Plaintiff for $100, subject to the opinion of the Court. The Defendant's counsel contending that the Defendants are not obliged to maintain the bridge, the Act says they shall build the bridge or crossing, but does not say they shall maintain it. G. E. Henderson for Piff. Bell, Q. C. for Deft.

—The sugar crop of Cuba for the present year is estimated at 3,312,000 boxes of 450 pounds each. The molasses crop will amount to 365,000 hogsheads. Notwithstanding the distressed condition of the country, the actual amount produced this year will be about seven-eighths of the total product of last year. The smallest yearly exportation of saccharine productions during the past ten years amounted to 2,430,000 boxes, valued at $35,000,000. A careful estimate of the saccharine products, tobacco, wax, coccos, dyewoods, &c., of Cuba, places the total value at $80,000.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless-landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and sqnable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

Picton Assizes.

Among the cases tried at the Picton Assizes held last week, we find the following reported in the Picton New Nation of the 30th Sept.:—

JONES vs. PATTERSON, et. al.—The Piff. through his Agent, sold certain gold lands in Marloc to Deft's and they gave their cheques and notes in paymeht of the same. It seems to have been one of those sharp, high-priced bargains that have so frequent occurred in the County of Hastings during the gold fever, and the probability is that the Deft's thought there was deception practised in their case, so they thought the first Deft. obtained their notes and cheques under a condition to mieve a certain mortgage on the land, but failed to do so, and allowed the mortgage to recover judgment against the Piff., in consequence of which this suit arose. The Jury must, evidently, have considered that there was a fraud in the sale. Verdict for Deft's. D. B. Reid, Q. C. and G. D. Dickson, for Piff. Hon. L. Walbridge, Q. C. for Deft's.

YOUNG vs. JACKSON.—A long and tedious boundary line case, the property being Lots 8 and 9 and part of 7, better known as East and West Lake. Hon. L. Wallbridge, Q. C., for Piff. C. S. Patterson and W. H. R. Allison for Deft. This was a rather peculiar case. Everybody in this county must have heard of the notorious "Rider Line," and remember that in the case of Young vs. Ferguson and McDonald vs. Pettit, Mr. Allison obtained verdicts by contending that the said Rider Line must rule. In this last case, however, the same Counsel procured a nonsuit by maintaining that Young could show no title to land except the Government Patent to Major Young, which having been issued twelve years before the Rider line was run, rendered the latter of no account.

For the Intelligencer.

Irritability is glad to notice an attempt at drainage in the French Settlement across the Bridge. 'Twas nearly as pestilential as the cellar beneath the Post Office.

Belleville, Sept 30th, 1869.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—In reading over the remarks of the different papers quoted in your weekly issue, of the 3rd inst., concerning Mrs. Stowe's Byron scandal, I was impressed with the belief that that old lady's memory must be failing. There is not only the discrepancy about the "two whole years' whole married life of Byron and his wife lasted only one year; but that quotation that he is said to have made, "When shall we three meet again," is all out of time and out of place. The beautiful little poem "When shall we three meet again," written originally by a young officer in the British army, was not published till five or six years after the events spoken of, and the miserable Yankee imitation of it, which was probably the version that Mrs. Stowe saw, did not appear for fully ten years after, so that he could not make a quotation from a poem that was not then in existence. Besides, that letter spoken of as "playful and affectionate," was written from Nottingham two days after Lady Byron had parted with her husband in London, apparently on the most cordial terms. If Lady Byron made any such statements as are put into her mouth, she must have been insane on her death-bed.—But, the probability is that the whole story is a concoction of that morbid imagination that has been engaged through life in getting up works of fiction; and now that the "Beecher Stowes" have got their darling darkey free, and all to themselves, they can no longer get up a negro sensation; that game is played out, so turning their malevolence on the illustrious dead—the noble and the gifted of our country—Mrs. Stowe has made this last and desperate effort to restore her waning popularity. A woman that would sit down, and deliberately write such a book as "Uncle Tom's Cabin," can be guilty of any amount of mendacity; and a mind accustomed to breathe the foul atmosphere of miscegenation and negro philism will be sure to gloat over anything unnatural. But we cannot allow the memory of our noble bard to be thus insulted by those who have never done anything to merit either our admiration or respect. The man that has done more than all others, to raise the character of English poetry to a Horatian standard deserves fair play at the hands of his readers; for "with all his faults we love him still." Poor Byron! although a sinner like the rest of us, he was deeply sinned against; and there is no doubt but that his early attachment to Miss Chaworth spoiled his heart for any other woman. He might marry the wealthy heiress of two fine estates, and love her too, as well as husbands generally love their wives; he might afterwards wanton with the beautiful and accomplished Guiccioli, and sing to the Maid of Athens; but the image of that beloved Mary—the Goddess of his young idolatry—must have haunted him through life. But, if Mrs. Stowe wants to conjure up such a monster of guilt as she would make him, she had better look nearer hand home for a subject.

MR. CARDWELL ON THE COLONIES.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The Right Hon. Edward Cardwell, Secretary of State for War, delivered a speech to his constituents at Oxford last evening on the subject of the policy of the government towards Canada. He said the general policy of governing the colonies from home was a total failure. There had consequently been substituted for it a policy to encourage them to develop their own power and resources and stimulate them to a spirit of self-reliance. He showed how successful this policy had been in the case of Canada, and briefly reviewed the progress recently made by that colony. She already had an army of her own and such a merchant navy that if her people choose to adopt the act passed for the purpose she might become one of the first powers of the world.—This, the speaker said, was the true policy to pursue. If we benefited Canadians we benefited ourselves also. By this policy our colonies become sources of strength and honor—and when the time come and England called for the support of her colonies, there would be a Confederation such as the world never saw under a single Sovereign.

DISASTROUS DEFEAT OF LOPEZ.

Rio Janeiro advices state that on the 18th of August the allied army attacked the forces of Lopez, which were entrenched at Curaquata.—The Paraguayans were entirely defeated, losing one thousand killed and three hundred prisoners. Twelve cannon were also captured by the allies. Lopez, with the remainder of his army, fled to Ignacion, a short distance away. On the 21st he was again attacked by the allies and again defeated, losing 25 cannon. Count D'Eu, the general commanding the allies, at last advices was closely pursuing the fugitives. Owing to these victories the Paraguayans were compelled to abandon all their steamers; these subsequently fell into the hands of the allies.—Forty-four of the British subjects, who had lately been held in confinement by Lopez, were promptly liberated. The Provisional government at Asuncion had declared Lopez an outlaw. Latest advices fully confirm the fight of Lopez.

THE FEELING ON WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The two great facts of the day on Wall street are the injunction and the rise in stocks. The excitement of the past week has given way to comparative quiet, and business at the Stock Exchange is now conducted in a more orderly manner. A large number of gold contracts on last Friday's business have been privately settled, and the complications incident to that day's business have been reduced to a comparatively small compass. It is believed that this entire matter would have been adjusted to-day had it not been for the interference of the courts, whose action is generally and severely condemned.

The 'Commercial' learns upon good authority that the Lake Shore Co. owes Lockwood & Co. about $600,000 against collateral security of one million in stock of the Toledo and Wabash Railroad Company. It is understood that Legrand Lockwood agrees to assign in favor of J. H. Banker.

The general feeling in Wall street continues to improve slowly, but apparently surely, and at the close of bank hours money was rather easier. The general feeling is that the worst is now over, and a steady advance in stocks is now predicted.

WARLIKE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Matters at the Brooklyn Navy Yard are assuming a lively appearance. That the Government intends some active operations in connection with Cuban matters is evident from the fact that the iron clad 'Dictator' and steam frigate 'Severn' are already coaled, and expect immediate orders to proceed to the Cuban coast.

DECLINED WITH THANKS.

SONG OF IRON.

I am mighty in the sabre,
Fiercely wielded by the brave;
Glorious in the shadowy steamer,
Laughing at the storm and wave,

Beauteous in the palace pillars,
Saving in the pointed rod,
As it bring the deadly lightning,
Quelled and harmless to the sod.

But there is a glorious essence,
Where I take my grandest power,
Giving to the race my surest,
Sweetest aid in danger's hour.

See! before me fly diseases!
See the darkest hydras bow!
See the roses of health and beauty
Take the palest cheek and brow.

Fly, dyspepsia! fly, consumption!
Yes, all ills are crushed at length,
For I give what human nature
Only ever needed—STRENGTH.

Shall I tell in what great essence
I can thus your spirits cheer up?
Pallid, trembling, dying sufferer,
'Tis the famed "PERUVIAN SYRUP."

The PERUVIAN SYRUP is a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron, a new discovery in medicine that strikes at the root of disease by supplying the blood with its vital principle or element—Iron.

A YEAR'S TRIAL.

As Montreal Tea Company: MONTREAL, 1868.

GENTS.—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea has in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap. Yours very truly,

F. DENNIE.

Montreal Tea Co:

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue a customer

Yours respectfully,
FRANCIS T. GREENE,
64 St. John Street,
Montreal.

Montreal, April, 1868.—To the Montreal Tea Company, 6 Hospital Street, Montreal: We notice with pleasure the large amount of tea forwarded for you to different parts of the Dominion, and we are glad to find your business so rapidly increasing. We presume your Teas are giving great satisfaction, as out of the large amount forwarded we have only had occasion to return one box, which, we understand, was sent through a mistake.

G. CHENEY,

The Time to Manure Meadows.

The highest authorities on this subject (that is, the most experienced farmers) now urge the application of the meadow's dressing of manure as soon as possible after the hay has been secured. The roots of the grass having become exposed at this trying season, a good dressing of manure, the savings from the stables since the spring hauling, affords needed projection; and the manure being subjected to the action of the elements throughout the fall season, its virtues are conveyed to the roots of the grass without enduring a wasting exposure. This reviving power is received in time of need, and furnishes strength for a vigorous commencement of the labors of the next season.

At the conclusion of the haying and harvest labors, there in an easing up of the farmers' burdens, affording an opportunity of making this summer manuring of the meadows an easy and profitable task. The manure is now light and easily handled, the fields are in the best condition for teaming, allowing heavy loads to be drawn over them with a light draft, and without cutting up the surface with wheel and foot tracks. Spring and fall are the seasons allotted to hauling and spreading manure, but these seasons bring more than a sufficiency of labor in their train to the farmer of any districts, and especially to those of this locality, where the working period is so shortened by late springs and early frosts; and it would prove an advantageous alteration of the labor programme to do as much of this work as possible at this time.

Wit and Humor.

Who wrote most—Dickens, Warren, or Bulwer? Warner wrote 'Now and Then,' Bulwer wrote 'Night and Morning,' and Dickens wro te 'All the Year Round.'

An old bachelor thinks the trails of ladies, dresses infernal machines from the tact that a blow up took place directly after he had put his foot on one.

'That's very singular,' said a young lady to a gentleman who had just kissed her. 'Oh! well, miss,' was the reply,' 'I will make it plural,' and the villain did it.

Mrs. Jenkins complained in the evening that the turkey she had for Thanksgiving did not set well. 'Probably,' said Jenkins, 'It was not a hen turkey.'

A Small Apartment.—'I am now,' said a Turkish spy, writing to his Government 'in an apartment so small that the least suspicion cannot enter it.' He was in jail.

A miser having threatened to give a poor laborer some blows with a stick. 'I don't believe you,' said the other, 'for you never give anything.'

A reporter, in an article on the destitute poor spoke of the great number of persons reduced to poverty by the mysterious decrease of provisions.

Don't be too anxious to solve a conundrum. We knew a man who got two black eyes in endeavoring to find out the difference between a man and a woman fighting in the street.

We had related to us the other day an anecdote of an old lady who formerly entertained travellers in a neighboring country. Before guests commenced a meal it was her custom to ask a blessing: "O Lord! make us truly thankful for the food that is now before! Nancy hand around the corn bread first, and then the biscuit afterward. Amen."

A young man having preached for Dr. Edmonds one day was anxious to get a word of approval for his labor of love.—The grave Doctor, however, did not introduce the subject, and his younger brother was obliged to bait the hook for him: "I hope, sir, I did not weary your people by the length of my sermon to-day?" "No sir, not at all; near by the depth either." The young man was silent.

BE WISE TO-DAY.—'Tis madness to neglect a cough or cold, however slight. Consumption may follow, and though Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has frequently cured this much dreaded disease, it almost invariably cures the primary diseases of the throat, lungs, and chest, where other remedies fail.

Twenty years experience in using Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers have proved them to be the most effectual remedy for coughs, and irritation of the throat, caused by cold, or unusual exertion of the vocal organs; public speakers and singers will find them most beneficial. The entire freedom from all deleterious ingredients renders Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers, or Cough and Voice Lozenges, a safe remedy for the most delicate person, and has caused them to be held in high esteem by all who have used them. Sold by all medicine dealers at 25cts. per box.

The Mints of the United States have coined since they commenced operations the large amount of Eight hundred Million dollars, about one-fifth of the whole metallic currency of the world, of which amount $500,000,000 has been derived from their own mines; we are not without mines, but while we feel that they will not produce as much gold, we have the pleasure of knowing there is a sovereign remedy in the "Canadian Pain Destroyer," for sudden colds, rheumatism, neuralgia, tooth ache, &c. Sold by all Medicine Dealers, at 24 cts per bottle.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, ku" that it cures their neighbors and friends, and knows that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect in its compositions. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, where they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken judiciously to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for such doses as will correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. Those who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us out and relieve us from all an expanse of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and such a family could collect and cultivate?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the genuineness of, as well as benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as scrofula, erysipelas, ulcers, tumors, boils, swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin, irregularities on the stomach and bowels, it tones the liver, and promotes the secretion of bile in the system, without creating that sickening effect the patent pills do on one package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For convenience it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroborant for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the ravages has been reduced by sickness, as circulant it is an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, rheumatism, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called Pain Killer, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Relievers are used, such as cramps in the stomach, summer complaint, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or weaknesses, &c. It may be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply them at the prices of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this extensive medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by its use. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been partially cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofula is justly regarded as one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its direful forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles occur to be additionally deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows itself in running sores on the stomach and bowels; ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this AYER'S SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions of visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Nervous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for unloading the poisonous chalybeate matters by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratuitously. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation, and Jaundice, when arising from that cause, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is used wherever for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Dyspeptic, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find in it a singular relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this celebrated remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among every class of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the throat, lungs, and breast, have made it now a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms, it is not wanting in power to cope with the most formidable of pulmonary diseases. Hence it is often the best physician in the family, and the best antidote can be given for incipient consumption, and the protection it affords from the attack of Croup, whooping cough, and Bronchitis to which children are liable, and are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this safe antidote.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases, where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach the case, relief follows the Pectoral they suitable and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or noxious drug, it leaves no injurious effects upon the system. The number and importance of its cures in the large ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is to prepare for the sufferers a remedy to receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

A Moral for our Youth.

An old man crowned with honors nobly earned,
Once asked a youth what end in life he sought?
The hopeful boy said, "I would first be learned;
I would know all that all the schools e'er taught,"

The old man gravely shook his head,
"And when you've learned all this, what then?" he said.

"Then," said the boy, with all the warmth of youth,
"I'd be a lawyer, learned and eloquent;
Appearing always on the side of truth,
My mind would grow as thro' 'twas bent."
The old man sadly shook his head,
"And when you've done all this, what then?" he said.

"I will be famous," said the hopeful boy,
"Clients will pour upon me fees and briefs;
'Twill be my pleasing task to bring back joy
To houses and hearts hear crushed by darkest griefs."
But still the old man shook his reverent head,
"And when all that is gained, what then?" he said.

"And then I will be rich, and in old age,
My body then must die, but not my fame;
Surrounded by the fullest gratitude,
And far posterity will know my name."
Sadly the old man shook again his head,
"And after all this, what then?" he said.

"And then, and then!"—but ceased the boy to speak,
His eyes shaded, fell downward to the sod
A silent tear dropped on each blooming cheek.
The old man pointed silently to God,
Then laid his hand upon the drooping head,
"Remember there's a place beyond," he said.

The Missing Ruby.

'David!'

'Yes, sir,' promptly responded a brisk boy of sixteen, coming forward to await the old banker's orders.

Mr. Taft was rapidly writing at his desk and said no more for some time, while David Prescott stood waiting. Perhaps he wished to send a written message somewhere.

A few minutes passed. A gentleman came to see the banker on business. Leaving his writing, Mr. Taft began to talk with him, paying no attention to the boy. David waited till the gentleman had gone, and then asked,

'Did you want me, Mr. Taft?'

'No,' said the banker, and he returned to his writing and David to his place behind the counter.

The old gentleman had probably intended to send David on some errand, but in talking and thinking of other things had forgotten all about it. He was a very absent minded man.

Several days after this David was again called to the banker's desk. This time he found him unoccupied. With an omitous look upon his face, he said. 'Last Saturday I sent you to Grant & Willoughby's with a ruby ring to have the stone reset. I find it has never reached them. What does it mean?'

David looked puzzled. His face plainly said, 'What do you, mean Mr. Taft?' but of course he dared not speak it. 'I think you must be mistaken, sir,' he replied respectfully; 'I certainly have no recollection of being sent with a ring.'

'Certainly I am not mistaken, said the banker, tartly. 'I called you and gave you the ring at this very spot. It is lost. I hold you responsible for it.'

David turned pale with excitement. Looking his employer full in the eye he answered, 'I am positive that I was not sent to Grant & Willoughby's last Saturday at all, and I have never to my knowledge taken your ring into my hand.'

Mr. Taft stared an instant as if amazed at the boy's assurance.

'You deny it then, do you?' he said, almost fiercely.

He was a man of impulse, and, unfortunately, when once he had formed an opinion, he was so conceited that he could not be made to see that it might be incorrect, so he continued,

'If you had confessed that you had taken it, I might have been easy with you, but I hate a thief and a liar; Andrew, call in a policeman.'

'I am not a thief or a liar, sir,' said he, bursting into a passion of tears.

'There is no need of more talk,' replied the banker. 'I know that you took the missing ring. If you can show where it is, or will give any account of it, so much the better for you.'

'Arrest this boy, and take him to goal for stealing jewelry,' he said to the policeman who soon after entered; and the young clerk went out in custody of the officer.

David had been with the banker about six months. This was the first time any suspicion had rested against him.

He was an active willing lad, and seemed to satisfy his employer perfectly. Both he and his mother supposed he was sure of his place, and were anxiously awaiting the promised increase of wages at the end of the year.

When, therefore, Mrs Prescott heard the sad news of her son's arrest, it for the moment took away all her strength. As soon as she could, she hastened to see him. Poor David could throw little light upon the matter he was charged with, or give any explanation why the theft of the ring should be so confidently fastened upon him, unless it was that the banker had made a mistake. If the ring was lost some one else had certainly taken it. He had never touched it.

Mrs. Prescott was a widow, and unknown; but she was a woman of spirit. Being strongly assured of her son's innocence, she determined to leave no effort untried for his release and the vindication of her family from disgrace.

She went to Mr. Webb, a good lawyer, and told her story. He promised to do what he could.

Accordingly he first visited the banker, and afterward examined David in gaol. From neither, however, could he obtain any satisfaction as to the true state of the case.

Mr. Webb was pleased with the appearance of David, however; thought him innocent, and undertook his defence with more than ordinary zeal.

Being a really humane man he was touched with the apparent helplessness of the boy and his widowed mother, and was resolved, if the banker had wronged them, either intentionally or unintentionally, to force him to an acknowledgment.

Starting on the theory that there was really no crime in the case, only a mistake somewhere, his first step was to visit the principal jewelry stores, and make inquiries for the missing ruby.

It was a weary search, but he persevered, and at length, in one establishment, kept by one Mr. Anderson, he came upon the clue that he wished.

At this point he could have adjusted the case; but he felt that the boy's character and future success in life were at stake, and therefore determined to vindicate his good name in the most public manner; and at the same time give a needed lesson to the quick-tempered, impulsive banker.

At the trail everything seemed to go against poor David. His mother sat weeping and sobbing as if her heart would break.

Mr. Taft told his story under oath as we have already stated it, and the judge was evidently quite satisfied of its truth and correctness.' Few could have thought of doubting the evidence of so respectable a witness.

When Mr. Webb came to cross examine him he put his questions so rapidly and sharply, and made him repeat so often his positive assertion, that he gave the boy the ring as first claimed, that the old gentleman grew angry, and was on the point of appealing to the judge; but suddenly the quiet lawyer produced a fine ruby ring, and handing it to the banker, asked him if he had ever seen it before.

'It's mine,' said the banker, looking at it with astonishment.

'Then you identify it as the one you swore you gave to the boy, do you?' asked Mr. Webb.

'I do,' said he, beginning to look mortified.

'That is all, sir,' said the lawyer.

'And now, may it please your honor, I shall call one witness for the defence.—Will Mr. Anderson take the stand.'

Mr. Anderson stepped up, and being duly sworn and shown the ring, testified that he recognized it as one he had mended about a week before for an elderly gentleman who called and left it with the order,

'Is that gentleman in the room, Mr. Anderson?' asked the lawyer.

'He is,' replied the jeweler. 'He sits in that chair, pointing directly to Mr. Taft.

The judge and all the spectators were astonished, and the old banker was covered with confusion. There was no more now to be done, save to hear the stammered apology of the rich man to the court and his injured clerk.

The explanation was a simple one, but did him far less credit than it would if he had made it before pressing matters so far, and having it at last forced from him.

As we have said, he was one of those dogmatic men who think they can never do wrong, and, unfortunately for such a disposition, being very absent minded, he sometimes misplaced objects and events very strangely, as he now confessed.

He had intended to send the ruby by David to Grant & Willoughby's to be reset, and actually called him for the purpose, as we related at the beginning of the story. The hurry of other things had put the matter out of his mind, and, as we have seen, he never even named the errand to the boy.

The same absence of mind seemed to have followed him all that day, for when, on his way to dinner he passed, the store of Mr. Anderson and left the ring, he retained no recollection of it whatever.

Recurring afterwards to his first intention, he assumed it as a fact that he had sent the boy, and called at Grant & Willoughby's expecting to receive his ring.—Being told, much to his surprise, that no such article had been left there, instead of recollecting, or trying to recollect, if any other disposal had been made of it, he at once made up his mind that David had stolen it. Having taken that position, he was too set in his own opinions to take any other view of the matter.

The result of the affair taught him a lesson, old as he was, and he went so far in personal acknowledgment and amends to his wronged clerk, as to present him a hundred dollars for the trouble and pain he had caused him and his mother.

Progress in India.

The latest story of progress in Hindostan has a certain grim picturesqueness which is almost humor. The great festival of Juggernaut was held at Serampore in July. We all know what this used to be—for is it not in all the missionary story-books and pictorial geographies?—the priests upon the platform of the huge cars dancing and shouting, hundreds of worshippers pulling at the ropes, and crazy devotees flinging themselves beneath the wheels. This year the crowd attracted by the spectacle was small. The cars was dragged a short distance, by hired men, and then left half in a muddy ditch, with the idols still in them and the flags flying. When the priests urged the people to pull, the irreverent populace cried out. "Why don't you come down and pull yourselves?" Nobody was hurt, and only three men got drunk!—Tribune.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 2.

BASE BALL.—A general meeting of the Hastings Base Ball Club will be held at Hambley's on Monday evening, Oct. 4th, at eight o'clock.

FIRST SHIPMENT.—The first shipment of a schooner cargo of Barley from this port was made this afternoon by Captain McIntosh. The cargo consists of 6 bushels goes by the "Howard," and is consigned to Oswego.

GLACKMEYER'S "LITTLE BILL."—Some rich developments are promised with respect to the "little bill" presented by Alderman Glackmeyer, of London, for entertaining the Prince at his house during his stay in London. In a letter to the Prototype, Mr. Glackmeyer says that he "received the Prince at his house in such away as a Prince ought to be received and spared no expense on such a royal visit," and says the bill will be submitted to a court of law. He adds, "I fear not any revelations that may be brought out on the occasion; but I am sure the city will blush for the meanness displayed by those most interested in bringing the Prince to visit the city."

WATSON BROTHERS COMBINATION TROUPE.—This troupe performed in Ontario Hall, last night to a crowded house, and gave very general satisfaction. The gymnastic feats of the Watson Brothers were far ahead of anything ever before seen in this Town, and the great feat of a somersault in mid air from hands to hands, was truly wonderful. All their acts are performed with perfect ease and grace, and while the beholder is thrilled with the daring and extraordinary manner in which they are done, the perfect self-possession of the actors and the apparent ease displayed inspires confidence that no danger need be apprehended. The Hanlon Brothers are great acrobats, But the Watson Brothers are greater. The other performances comprise a great variety and if these were not added the gymnastic feats alone are well worth seeing. They appear to-night for the last time in Belleville. The performance will commence at 8½ o'clock to-night.

Railways and the Exhibition.

Considerable fault was found with the Great Western Railway Company for departing from its usual course in issuing tickets during the Provincial Exhibition week, and justly so. Even the Globe, which was never known to say a word against the management of that Company condemned the action of the Manager of that Company in no measured terms, and commended the liberal policy the Grand Trunk Railway. However, this matter has already been referred to in these columns, and we only now allude to it because of some most unjust comments made by a Western paper. The Sarnia Observer in defending the action of the Great Western Railway Company, takes occasion to say:

"Instead, therefore, of the Company's arrangement being "not creditable," we think it was the very reverse; especially when contrasted with that of the Grand Trunk Company, which did not put a single special train upon any part of their road."

This is well answered by the Berlin Telegraph as follows:—"We have not the least objection to the Observer saying a good word in defence of the Great Western—for we wish that line every success as we do all our railways—but we must protest against its doing so at the expense of the Grand Trunk Railway. The Observer asserts what is not true when it states that the Grand Trunk "did not put on a single special train upon any part of their road." Our cotemporary will doubtless open his eyes in amazement when we inform him that this road had no less than twelve trains including its branches, for the special benefit of those visiting the Provincial Exhibition, besides allowing persons holding excursion tickets to travel by any of their regular trains. Great credit is due to Mr. Hydges, Mr. Spicer and Mr. James Stephenson, and the public fully award them it, for their successful exertions to meet the wants of those attending the Exhibition and although the Observer is not over friendly to the G. T. R., we feel assured its respected editor and proprietor has no desire to detract in the least from the credit due it in this instance, and that it will take the first opportunity to correct the error into which it has fallen."

Gratifying Statements.

In his farewell speech at the Ministerial Banquet, Hon. Mr. Rose made some statements which are exceedingly encouraging, showing that during the past year there has been a large increase in the Dominion Revenue. The following tabulated statement will be read with interest:

STATEMENT OF REVENUE, comparing period from 1st July to 25th September, 1868, with corresponding period of 1869:

Customs	$2,176,002	$2,383,105
Excise	408,453	729,450
Post Office	99,842	120,057
Public Works	270,149	358,259
Miscellaneous	170,739	372,710
	$3,124,125	$3,867,578

Increase in 1869.

Customs	$209,103 or about 9½ per cent.
Excise	318 997 do	77½ do
Post Office	37,935 do	37½ do
Public Works	88,147 do	82½ do
Miscellaneous	101,971 do	59¾ do
	$743,453 do	23¾ do

It thus appears that there is a large increase on every single item.

The Montreal Gazette referring to this very gratifying state of things says: "Our accounts from the country lead us to believe that there is an altogether better state of feeling springing up in the West arising from the abundant harvest. We have advices from the Eastern Townships that the Indian Corn crop has ripened during the month of September, and is an average one. This is the only crop of which there was any fear. It follows that the crops in that section are the largest within memory. In some localities in this province the potatoe rot has done damage. But generally in Canada we may expect a state of prosperity."

Fall Assizes.

AN ABORTION CASE.

FIFTH DAY.

FRIDAY, October 1, 1869.

THE QUEEN vs. JOHN A. ROWE.

The prisoner who lives in Frankford, was indicted for having caused the death of Jane Ann Huff, in May 1868, from the effects of an abortion produced by the prisoner. Deceased was a young girl who lived in Napanee, and becoming enceinte, the prisoner was called upon to attend her. It is alleged that the prisoner gave her medicine, and used instruments to produce abortion, from the effects of which she died. A preliminary investigation was made before Coroner M. B. Roblin, and a warrant issued for the arrest of the prisoner. Before, however, it was served, Rowe fled the country, Subsequently he returned to Frankford, and was arrested under the warrant.

The Crown called as the first witness,

Mrs. NANCY GOLDING, who testified that she knew prisoner and Jane Ann Huff. "Jane Huff came to her house to board; she remained about a fortnight when she died; she was taken sick about 11 o'clock at night, and wanted a Doctor; I did not know then what was the matter; Dr. Rowe was sent for twice, and at length come; the next morning I saw the girl, and saw that things were not right; saw blood on the clothes; she died about seven days after; Dr. Rowe attended her all the time; could not say she had been delivered of a child; she appeared to be well when she came.

Cross Examined.—When she told me she wanted a Doctor she did not say she wanted any particular Doctor; I told my husband, and Dr. Rowe being nearest, he went for him; Dr. Rowe had considerable practice in that vicinity; he has attended witness in childbirth; before the Doctor was sent for she had very severe pains, and appeared to suffer greatly.

SANGER GOLDING, sworn—The evidence of this witness who is the husband of Mrs. Nancy Golding, was corroborative of her evidence; the night when Jane Huff was sick Dr. Rowe came about 11 o'clock; don't know when he went away; don't know whether any other person was in the room during the night,

CROSS-EXAMINED.—During his illness Dr Rowe called in Dr. Tomkins and Dr. Striker; could not say whether they were regular practitioners.

BRIDGET MCCORMICK, sworn.—Live near Trenton Station where I keep a tavern; about a fortnight before the last Dr. Rowe called at my house and met a lady called Mrs. Huff; don't know how long they remained together; know the prisoner; had a conversation with him since the inquest; I told him that it was a bad job that he came to my house at all; he replied that it was not his fault, that she came to him begging and praying him to help her.

MRS. HUFF, sworn.—Am mother of deceased Jane Ann Huff; Live in Napanee; my daughter left our place on Friday night to go to Frankford and her uncle's, who lives about two miles from Frankford; a week from the following Sunday I was sent for to see her; she lived until the following Thursday; on Wednesday of the week previous to my daughter leaving, I went to Mr. McCormick's tavern to meet Dr. Rowe; I wrote to him anonymously; having heard he had been in Napanee, I thought if I had attached my name to the letter he would not come; I heard that Dr. Rowe had been to Napanee and saw my daughter, and was anxious to find out what he came for, which was the reason I went to see Dr. Rowe and know what he visited her for; I had no suspicion that anything was the matter at that time; when I met Dr. Rowe at McCormick's I told him he had been to see my daughter; he replied that he had not; I do not know of a fact that my daughter was pregnant; believe that she had been from reports witness had heard; my daughter did not tell me she had; when I went to see my daughter Dr. Rowe came in; he told me that she had typhoid fever and that jaundice had set in; she was very low; I could not tell myself what the matter was with her; when I went to talk to her about her illness she would beg me not to speak to her or it would kill her; that when she got better she would tell me all; I know a Miss Vardy who lived in Napanee; had some conversation with her; was told before I went to Mrs. McCormick's that Dr. Rowe was a man who was in the habit of procuring abortion.

Cross-examined.—Don't know that my daughter just before she left Napanee had been attended by a Doctor; don't know that she had any medicine with her.

CHARLES HUFFMAN, sworn.—I live between Dr. Rowe's house and Golding's hotel; on Monday morning, just about daylight, I saw a foetus in a pail in Dr. Rowe's stable; on the following Saturday I met Dr. Rowe on the bridge, "You know what I saw," I was talking to him about the death of the woman and the inquest; I went away Monday and did not return until Saturday; It was on the Thursday intervening that Jane Huff died; when I said to him, "You know what I saw," I meant the child I saw in the pail, which I suppose he knew about.

ORONHYATEKHA, M. D., sworn—Am a licensed practitioner; know the prisoner at the bar; his name does appear in the list of regular practitioners; he practices in Frankford; I made a post mortem examination of Jane Ann Huff in conjunction with Dr. Day of Trenton; presented a written report which was produced; the report showed that the body gave evidence of having undergone pregnancy; there were signs of violent inflamation in the region of the womb; and on either of the os uteri were extensive lacerations; one side of the womb was torn an inch and a half, and there were lacerations in the other, and punctures, showing that some sharp instrument had been used; I have no doubt the woman had been delivered of a foetus; could only conjecture as to the age, probably five or six months old; I attribute cause of death from inflammation, which inflammation was produced by the use of instruments in the womb; don't think the girl could have been operated upon at Napanee, before she came to Frankford; the motion of the cars and movements in walking would have produced such inflammation as to cause death more quickly.

WM. DAY, M. D., sworn—Corroborated the evidence of Dr. Oronhyatekha; should say that the foetus was about 6 or 7 months old don't believe from the evidence of such an extensive lacerations in the womb, that those wounds could have been made by pregnancy merely; miscarriage would have followed travelling would produce death before she could reach Frankford; there was no evidence of typhoid fever or jaundice.

WM. HENRY TOMPKINS, sworn—Am not a practitioner of medicine; not been licensed in Canada; I have a license to practice in the United States; was called in by Dr. Rowe to visit Jane Ann Huff; saw her about 24 hours before she died; I declined to examine her, because I was not practicing medicine.

M. B. ROBLIN, Coroner, sworn.—Evidence taken before him was produced; a Dr. Striker gave evidence; have reason to believe that he is dead; saw his death noticed in the public prints; saw a person who saw the coffin in which he was buried; his native place is near Picton; it is reported among his relatives that he is dead; have no reason to doubt that he is dead; the prisoner was examined as a witness at the inquest; he was not then a prisoner; his testimony which was read was to the following effect:—

"Was medical attendant upon deceased; received an anonymous letter desiring me to go to Napanee; I went and met deceased; she told me she had been seduced and was pregnant, and wanted me to relieve her, but I told her I would not; she paid me $15 and I came home; afterwards met her at Sawyer Golding's when I judged she was far gone in pregnancy; she wanted me to give her medicine, but I would not; she had some kind of medicine which I thought was smart rye; I was present alone with her when a miscarriage took place; no one was with us at the time; I never gave her medicine until after she had a miscarriage; I called in Dr. Striker and Dr. Tomkins; Dr. Striker was with her one or two nights; I think her death was caused by jaundice and fever."

This closed the case for the Crown. Defence called no witnesses. D. B. Read, Q. C., for the Crown; L. Wallbridge, Q. C., and Jellett & Bro., for prisoner. Verdict—Not guilty.

QUEEN vs. ALBERT GEROW.—Defendant was indicted for perjury, a dispute arose some time last April among the fishermen at Point Ann; and Daniel Gerow laid a complaint before A. Diamond, Esq., Police Magistrate, against William McDonald, and the defendant was called as a witness on the part of the complainant; McDonald alleges, he then in his testimony before the Police Magistrate made a false statement; when the case was called on, and jury sworn, Crown Counsel stated the testimony given by the defendant before the Police Magistrate was material to the issue then being tried, and would not think perjury would lie, and that he would not call any witnesses.—Court ordered a verdict of not guilty to be entered. D. B. Read for Crown. S. S. Lazier for deft.

GUYETT vs THOMPSON.—An action of trespass on the West half of lot No. 7 in the 5th concession of Elzevir Parties own adjoining lots in the Township, and the Defendant wishing to get out some logs last winter sent his son to this land to cut them, thinking they were on his own lot; Defendant forbid him cutting and carrying away; the Defendant still went on cutting and drawing. Plaintiff proved title to lot by producing receipt for $20 paid Government; possession by working on lot, and Defendant told Mr. Flint that was Plaintiff's lot. Defendant's counsel moved for non-suit on the ground that Plaintiff's title was not sufficient to entitle him to recover case with jury. Verdict for $100. Flint & Robertson for Plff. L. Wallbridge Q. C., for Deft.

QUEEN vs JOHN A. ROWE.—Indictment for attempting to procure abortion. After the trial on the indictment for manslaughter resulted in an acquittal, the Crown Officer did not think it proper to go on with the charge of attempting to produce abortion, and asked the Court to admit the prisoner to bail in his own recognizance in the sum of $4,000, for his appearance at the next session. Recognizance taken and prisoner discharged.

TURLEY vs. DOYLE.—Action on account stated against the defendant, as an absconding debtor. No defence. Verdict for plaintiff $516 36. Bell & Hoskin for plff.

BONTER vs. NORTHCOTT.—Action to recover dower in a park lot, being part what was known as the Herchimer farm, in the Front of Thurlow; tenant claims, demandant released her dower, by release dated 13th November, 1841; release between demandant's husband and C. S. Herchimer, of land of which plaintiff forms a part; demandant denies her signature to deed, in which release is given. Verdict for tenant. Diamond & Jackson for demandant. L. Wallbridge, Q. C., for tenant.

PRESENTMENT.

The Grand Jury brought in the following presentment:

"The Grand Jurors of Our Lady the Queen, in attendance at the Court of Assize, beg to report that they have given their several indictments before their most careful attention.

"The Jail and Court House have been inspected by the Jurors, and found in good condition.

"The prisoners speak highly of the manner in which they have been treated by the Jail officials, and state that they have an abundance of good wholesome food.

"We found two Idiotic persons, viz:—A boy and a woman confined in the cells, and as we are of the opinion that a Jail is not a proper place for idiots we would recommend the erection of an Asylum in some central place in the Province for the reception of persons of this class.

"We would also recommend that the room adjoining the one used by the Barristers be properly furnished and kept for the sole use of the Crown Officers.

"We have to thank your Lordship and the Crown Officer for the valuable assistance rendered us during the prosecution of our duties,

"RICHARD NEWSON,
"Foreman.

"Grand Jury Room
"Belleville, Oct. 1st, 1869."

HIS LORDSHIP was glad that the state of the business before the Jury was such that he could discharge them. He was pleased to find from their Presentment that the gaol was in such good condition, and that the prisoners were well provided for. He perfectly agreed with the remarks respecting the unfortunate idiots who were confined in gaol, and regretted there was not proper accommodation for such persons. He hoped, however, that the new Wing which was being attached to the Toronto Lunatic Asylum would furnish sufficient room for the proper accommodation of this class of people. Respecting the room for the Crown Officers it was highly desirable that such accommodation and conveniences be furnished him as he needs, and it was the duty of County Councils to provide such accommodation. He would order copies of the Presentment sent to the Legislature and to the County Councels.

SIXTH DAY.

SATURDAY, Oct. 2.

Court opened this morning at 9 o'clock.

SENTENCES.

At the opening of the Court this morning Mr. Reed asked for the judgment of the Court upon Patrick Lawlor, convicted on two Indictments for assault.

Assault on Michael Langley, to pay a fine of $30 or be confined in gaol three months.

For the assault on James Cummings, to be imprisoned one week in the common gaol, contemporaneous with the other sentence.

GEROW vs. BLEECKER.—Action of trespass for cutting down and carrying away the Plaintiff's logs. Plaintiff purchased a farm from Defendant, which was not worth much without the timber, and not being able to pay for it gave a mortgage to secure payment, and Defendant, to make himself secure against the Plaintiff stripping the land of timber, had a clause inserted in the mortgage allowing him to take off the pine timber, or in other words that he purchased the pine timber from Plaintiff. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant not only took away the pine, but also destroyed other timber and cut down Plaintiff's sugar bush; that the clause in mortgage giving him a right to pine timber was obtained from Plaintiff by fraud of Defendant. Verdict for Defendant. E. E. Henderson and MacLellan for Plff.; L. Wallbridge, Q. C., for Deft.

—Malcolm Cameron has issued his address to the electors of North Lanark.

—Sir John A. Macdonald left Ottawa yesterday for Toronto; he will return with the Governor on the 9th.

—"What a little child!" said a friend, "Ah," replied Hood, "his parents never made much of him."

—There seems to be little doubt but that Sir Francis Hincks will run for Niagara. Mr. Currier denies the rumor that he would resign in favor of Sir Francis.

—Mr. McDougall will take out with him this fall several men from the county of Megantic who will locate settlements at Red River, for the British Canadians who propose immigrating to the North West next spring.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—The very superior character of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite. THE CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE remarks, "The singular success which Mr. Epps attained by his homœopathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold by the Trade only in ¼lb., ½lb., and 1lb. tin lined packets, labelled—JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England. 94-6m T&S

EXPEDITION FOR CUBA.

KEY WEST, Oct. 1.—A Cuban expedition, 400 strong, under Gen. Crypto, that left New York on Monday, arrived on the Florida coast this morning. It was joined by the Cuban Privateers 'Lillian' and 'Teaser,' on board of which were 1,000 men and a large amount of arms and ammunition. Another body of men, under command of Generals Steadman and Magruder, are now at the Gulf port embarking on a third vessel for the Cameron rendevous off the Cuban Coast. The 'Lillian and 'Teaser,' with 3,000 men, sailed for Cuba last night.—They will be joined at sea by the Privateers 'Hornet' and 'Cuba,' carrying 15 guns each, some of which are 100 pounders. These four vessels will escort the expedition to its final destination. Volunteering is very brisk along the whole Gulf Coast, and already 5,000 men are awaiting transportation.

ACCIDENT AT A FAIR.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 1.—A terrible accident occurred at the State Fair this afternoon. The boiler of Jinker & Co., of this city, exploded a few minutes before four o'clock. There was an immense crowd on the ground at the time and it is difficult to get particulars at present. It is known that twelve persons were instantly killed and the number wounded will probably reach one hundred.

LATER.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2—The scene at the fair ground after the accident was most heartrending. In one family consisting of a mother and three children, the mother was killed and the two older children badly scalded. A gentleman and lady were walking together, the gentleman was killed and the lady unhurt. As far as can be ascertained to night, 19 persons were killed, and nearly one hundred wounded. The receipts of the fair to-morrow will be given for the benefit of the wounded.

THE MONETARY CRISIS.

The Commercial says there were no new developments this evening in regard to the gold question. Many millions of gold on Friday's contracts were settled to-day, and the end of the complicated affairs seems to be drawing to a close. There were some few injunctions and counter-injunctions to day. The gold room presented a deserted aspect this afternoon, which was owing to brokers being busily engaged in their offices or making settlements around the street.

The street was filled with rumors this evening in regard to the losses of the Lake Shore or Michigan Southern Company by the late panic. Stocks closed unsettled and low.

LATER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Two more failures are announced at the Board. Adam, Kimball & Moore, and Pullerton & Raymond.

Stock Market.

The Montreal 'Gazette' of yesterday quotes Stocks as follows :—

Throughout the week the Stock Market has been extremely dull, and stocks generally are very heavy at a considerable decline on last week's quotations, the demand for money causing many holders to press sales.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SONG OF IRON.

I am mighty in the sabre,
Fiercely wielded by the brave;
Glorious in the stalwart steamer,
Laughing at the storm and wave,

Beauteous in the palace pillars,
Saving in the pointed rod,
As it brings the deadly lightning,
Quelled and harmless to the sod.

But there is a glorious essence,
Where I take my grandest power,
Giving to the man my surest,
Sweetest aid in danger's hour.

See! before me fly diseases!
See the darkest hydras bow!
See the rose of health and beauty
Take the palest cheek and brow.

Fly, dyspepsia! fly, consumption!
Yes, all ills are crushed at length,
For I give what human nature
Only ever needed—STRENGTH.

Shall I tell in what great essence
I can thus your spirits cheer up?
Pallid, trembling, dying sufferer,
'Tis the famed "PERUVIAN SYRUP."

The PERUVIAN SYRUP is a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron, a new discovery in medicine that strikes at the root of disease by supplying the blood with its vital principle or element—Iron.

The genuine has "PERUVIAN SYRUP" blown in the glass. Pamphlets free.

Had to Enlarge his STORE.

W. JOHNSON,

AT the close of his first four Months in Business, would be unworthy of the extensive patronage he has received, did he not thus publicly express his gratitude for the extensive, and still extending support he has received. He hopes by still following the rules which he has laid down for his guidance, to merit a portion of your trade. He would again repeat his mottoes:

Reasonable Profits,
(He believes in the "Nimble Penny.")
ONE PRICE,
(Your child buys as well as Yourself.)
NO TICK,
(Short Credits make long Friends.)

He has found it necessary to enlarge his Store, it will be found even more attractive than in the past, and his Windows will always contain an assortment of Goods to be found in Stock as well arranged as he can do it.

Look at his Windows.

His Stocks will be complete next week. To the following assortments he confines himself—

BILLA[illegible]LINT.

Belleville, Aug. 2, 1869.

Francis Hincks of the Windward Isles.

The last number of Diogenes contains the following new political ballad, sung by a veteran politician to the electors of North Lanark.

AIR: Captain Jinks.

I'm Francis Hincks of the Windward Isles,
I come to seek your votes and smiles,
I'm sure to please you with my wiles,
If you send me to the Parly—ment:
So if you want a job you know—
A job you know—a job you know—
You'll always be certain where to go,
If you send me to the Parly—ment.

Spoken—Yes, brother Electors! that's a part of political business, I flatter myself I understand as well as any man; so if any of you want a berth in the Customs, a Commissionership, or a snug little sinecure of any kind, you've only to come to me because you know—

Chorus—I'm Francis Hincks, &c.

When Rose resigned, Mac didn't know
For a good financier where to go—
So he fixed on me, and he'll tell you so,
If you send me to Parly—ment.
At financing I'm a regular swell—
A regular swell—a regular swell
And you'll benefit so, I can hardly tell
If you send me to Parly—ment.

Spoken—Yes, gentlemen Electors! I consider I am rather a swell at financing. Just look at what I did for you when I was in power, years ago. Why, you hadn't even a public debt worth speaking about before I took matters in hand; and you can't be a great country without a big public debt. So if you want it doubled, you've only to apply to—

Chorus—Francis Hincks, &c.

So now you've got the choice you see,
'Twixt Francis Hincks and Malcolm C——,
And if you're wise, you'll vote for me,
And send me to Parly—ment.
Then if you want a railroad new—
A railroad new—a railroad new—
I'll tell you exactly what to do,
If you send me to the Parly—ment.

Spoken—Yes, gentlemen Electors! I know something about making railroads, and a very profitable business it is. I don't mean to the Shareholders, but to—

Chorus—Francis Hincks of the Windward Isles,
Who comes to beg your votes and smiles;
And if he gets over you with his wiles,
There'll be the deuce to pay in the Parly—ment!

Newfoundland.

We have dates from St. John to the 16th inst.

If we may credit the Courier, the anti-confederation feeling is stronger in some parts of the Colony than it was supposed to be. It says that from one end of Green Bay District to the other the cry is "No Confederation." The Hon. Messrs. Cartier and Shea are holding public meetings on the subject in various parts of the Province, and their views in behalf of Confederation appear to meet with much favor.

We clip the following extracts of news from the Courier:

'We regret to learn that in the vicinity of Twillingate, and other parts of Green Bay, the fishery has not been so productive as in many other parts of the Island. The hay crop has been a good one, and potatoes are good in quality and large in quantity.

"We are informed that the Hon. A. Shea lectured at Harbor Grace and Carbonear last week, on Confederation. Major Renou also lectured at the latter place, and we understand was very well received. It appears that the people of the Bay are not such extreme Confederates as reported. We hear that the Antis muster strongly in Harbor Grace and Carbonear, and we anticipate a severe contest in both places.

"The fishery in all parts of Conception Bay has been a remarkably good one. We are told, on reliable authority, that the catch of fish on the South Shore is in excess of any these past ten years. Potatoes, too, are looking well, and if the weather proves auspicious we have reason to hope the crop will be a good one, and from the unprecedented large area planted, we trust that all parties will be above want the approaching winter.

"The French war steamer Latouche Tacvile arrived here on Sunday evening from the Northward;"

The Ledger republishes from the Royal Gazette the report and minutes of Conference on the subject of the union of Newfoundland with the Dominion, which will have the effect of putting matters right before the people.

The Harvest.

A writer in the Times, who has, at all events, studied the statistics of the question states his belief, founded on experiments that the wheat yield this year will be about the average, that is, 27 bushels to the acre all around, good and bad land included. Last year there were 3,700,000 acres under wheat and if the quantity has not been greatly altered the yield of the year will be 12,487,000 quarters. The people, however, requier 5½ bushels ahead a year, and as their number this year will be 31,000,000, they will want 21½ millionquarters. Add to this 1,000,000 quarters for seed, at 2¼ bushels to the acre, and we shall want 9½ million quarters from abroad, costing us at the very least £19,000,000., and more probably £21,500,000l. In fact, we buy half the corn we eat, and as population increases while land is limited, the proportion will become greater. If permanent peace were certain, or if the Englisg-peaking peoples were so united as to rule the ocean, it would pay us to turn the United Kingdom into a vast grazing farm, and grow no corn at all.—Spectator.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Notes of Travel.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

Michigan City is usually supposed to be situated in the State of Michigan, but it is really in the State of Indiana, and it is the principal port of the very small piece of coast belonging to it. At first sight, one would imagine it to be a few houses dumped down on a sand hill, but if you explore you find a prosperous town of upwards of 1,000 people, with good public buildings and comfortable residences. Congress has just granted some sixty thousand dollars towards deepening and improving the harbour, and when completed, it will be one of the best on Lake Michigan. By the bye, Mr. Editor, since Congress makes such grants, why cannot our Dominion Government, which is analogous to the Federal Government, make up a grant for our harbour? A beginning was made last session of Parliament, and if the division is fairly made, no harm can result from it. The Churches of Michigan City are very good, and the best of them is "St. Johannes Kirche," (Lutheran), and the Catholics are building one almost as fine. The soil is wholly composed of loose, shifting sand, which is piled up in huge hills around the harbour. The private residences are quite comfortable, though not so substantial as they would be in a Canadian town of the same size. I noted as a curious fact that there was only one Lawyer in the place, and only three physicians and one dental surgeon. After loading round a while I left for Chicago, some 54 miles distant, which I reached by a "lightning train," in one hour and 20 minutes.

Of Chicago I can say but little, as I moved South along the Illinois Central Railway. The aspect of the country is very different from anything we have in Canada, vast expanses of land stretch away to the very horizon, and there is no trace of indigenous trees. The fences are all of boards, and many of the fields are of immense size, and some of the farms are from ten thousand to thirty thousand acres.—The farm houses are almost all small and mean looking, in a hundred miles I only noted one that would pass muster in Canada, and that one was in connection with a Nursery. Quite a number of villages are along the road, but though I passed many of larger size, I saw nothing that would compare with Madoc or Trenton. I had, of course, some little interest in noting the number and standing of men in my own profession, and I was surprised at what I saw. In one place of perhaps 5,000 inhabitants there are no less than seventeen physicians, and in one hamlet of 800 souls there were five. I had had a long conversation with one of them, who told me that "it was a healthy country," but in a few minutes afterwards he told me that a bottle of Quinine lasted him just two days. I felt justified in taking his first statement at a large discount. He had spent many years in the west, and though he was a tall and good looking man, malaria and his favorite Quinine had done their worst for him. I meditated on the change that a few years' residence in our favoured land would work in his fever-smitten frame, and I thought that there must surely be some good in a country that enabled me to present such a striking contrast to him. Asides all this, (that ye Doctors of medicine with all your ears), it doesn't pay, for he told me that for many months at a time, he did'nt collect enough to pay for the Quinine he used. In fact, all through my tour, I took most careful stock of the physicians, and endeavoring to be as impartial as possible, I have no hesitation in saying that their average is vastly inferior to that of the physicians of Canada. Practically there is free trade in medicine, and though I have free trade views on commercial questions, I am a rigid protectionist on medical questions. Any body and everybody rushes into medicine, and its practitioners are but little thought of as a consequence. A physician who may be little thought of with us, would be a veritable prophet amongst such men as were many I saw. Some of the better class of physicians lamented the low condition of the profession, but they felt sure that nothing could be done to help it. Some of them spoke of legislative interference, but I told them that it was difficult to make men respectable by Act of Parliament, and urged them to apply themselves to study—hard unremitting study—as the best means of professional elevation.

I my next I shall endeavor to sketch Springfield and its environs.

Yours truly,

Mu Daleth.

Chicago, Sept. 28th, 1869.

Horrible Tragedy.

A CHILD STRANGLED BY A BLUE RACHE.

The Huron County (Mich) News tells the following story. It is similar to one which has been recently published, the incidents of which occurred elsewhere:

"We learn upon creditable authority the following particulars of a terrible double tragedy, which occurred on the 31st ult. In one of the back towns of Sinilac County, and adjoining Huron, lives a settler, who is of recent residence there, named James Hayes. His family consists, or rather consisted, of himself and wife and an only child, an infant. On the day above named, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes were hoeing potatoes in a field some distance from the house, having left the child at home in its crib. After working away in the field for some time, the husband became somewhat startled at hearing the child beginning to cry in an excessive and unusual manner, and anxiously requested his wife to go to the house and ascertain the cause. She replied that she thought the child would soon cease and compose itself to sleep. After listening for a moment or two the supposition seemed a correct one, as the sounds gradually ceased, and the child seemed to sleep. Nothing more was seriously thought of the matter—it being an instance of a very common nature—and at noon the husband and wife repaired to the house for dinner.

"But upon entering the house wher e the babe was lying, a horrible spectacle met their gaze. In their absence, a monster serpent of the blue racer species, had entered the open door, crawled to the cradle, and twined itself around the body of the infant, placed its head in the child's mouth, and in this manner had deprived it of life.

"The husband, upon beholding the hideous monster, and comprehending its fatal act upon the child, in a frenzy of excitement turned upon his wife, whom he had bidden, while in the field, to come to their child, and, without a word of upbraiding or warning, struck her a fearful blow on the head with the hoe he held in his hand. She sank to the floor and immediately expired, the sharp edge of the hoe having pierced her brains. The husband, finding himself wifeless, childless, and a murderer, rushed from his home proclaiming his guilt, a raving maniac.

"These are the particulars related to us by a gentleman of high social standing and veracity, and who has visited the locality."

A Well Paid Official.

Our readers will remember that during the early part of the present year, some correspondence appeared in the Spectator having reference to the Excise Department, and to the conduct of Mr. Brunel, the Assisant Commissioner and Inspector of Inland Revenue. In that correspondence it was suggested that the motive of Mr. Brunel's conduct was to be found in the fact that he made money out of seizures.—Mr. Brunel was very indignant at this suggestion, and addressed to us a letter in which he totally denied the soft impeachment, asking permission to state:

"1st.—That I have not received, directly or indirectly, any portion of the proceeds of any seizure made by me or by any person since I was appointed to my present office.

"2nd.—That it is a condition of my present appointment that I shall not have any interest in the division or appropriation of the proceeds of seizures."

We had no positive evidence at the time on the subject, and were forced to accept these statements. A Parliamentary return, however, which has just been printed, giving "the names of the officers in the Civil Service who have received any sum of money as allowance for special or other services, showing the amount of salary and other additional amounts so paid in each case," throws some light upon the matter, and proves that Mr. Brunel had received important emoluments from that source.

Turning to the Inland revenue Department, we find the following sums credited to Mr. Brunel in 1867-68:

Salary	$2000 00
Travelling expenses	2000 00
Allowance for special duties	600 00
Proportion of seizures	3192 00

Now, what are we to think of a gentleman who had, just a month or two before, pocketed over three thousand dollars as his proportion of seizures, and yet ventured the statement over his own signature that he had never received, directly or indirectly, a dollar from that source? We fancy those who knew Mr. Brunel best will perhaps not feel any great astonishment; but surely the public will enquire whether a man who is so utterly reckless of the statements he makes is fit to be entrusted with a position such as that which he now occupies. The amount received by this Mr. Brunel is something startling. $7,792.-00 in a single year, to a single official—over fifty per cent. more than a Minister of the Crown receives—is certainly a nice exhibit.

There are some other points in this return which are suggestive of the way the money goes. We may take occasion to refer to them at some other time. This, in the meantime, it is right to say, that there is an evident awakening to the impropriety of this kind of thing at head quarters, and that the year 1868-9 exhibits fewer cases of special services paid for than did the preceding year.—Hamilton Spectator.

Alderman Glackmeyer's Little Bill!

We are afraid, when certain matters become known in relation to the Prince's visit, that outsiders will set us down as a set of vultures, or even worse. The fact that five dollars an hour was charged by cab drivers here during the exhibition is a small matter compared with the account furnished for boarding and lodging the Prince and suite during their brief stay. The bill, as rendered to the Board of Agriculture, in detail, presents one of the most glaring instances of extortion on record. Only imagine a total sum of two thousand five hundred dollars being charged the association for entertaining the royal guest for a term of about two days and a half. The whole thing is outrageous, and we cannot wonder at the action of the Board in reducing it to a figure less than half the amount—one thousand dollars—which was considered more than amply sufficient to liquidate all expenses. In fact, many aver that five hundred dollars would have done the thing handsomely. This, we think, is nearer the mark, judging from the charges made by Mr. Derby, of the Tecumseh, for accommodating the Governor General and lady, the Lieutenant Governor and lady, Sir John A. Macdonald, and the Governor's attaches, which did not exceed the latter sum named. We opine, on the next occasion of a prince's visit, that greater caution will be manifested as to where the guest is to be lodged, and who shall be his caterer. We think the authorities more immediately interested will have by this time learned a lesson that they will profit by. We have examined the account sent in by Mr. Glackmeyer, and feel perfectly disgusted at some of the charges. Imagine an item of $120 for dry goods; $40 for beer; $150 for horse hire; $100 for the use of a carriage in which the Prince rode, with $150 additional in another item, and this after representations were made to the board that the Prince's carriage and horses would be furnished free; then there is likewise a claim of some $800 for omissions, use of house, &c., with other outrageous charges of a like nature "too numerous to mention." Is it any wonder that the Board kicked? The bill as it stands, is worthy of being preserved for future reference, or as a memento of the visit of Prince Arthur to London. As a proof of the exorbitant charges, we may state that Mr. Glackmeyer consented to accept $1,000 in settlement, but ultimately refused the offer for some reason. Should the bill be taken before the courts of law, some astounding revelations may be looked for. The residence in question was selected for the Prince at the owner's own request and on the understanding that honour would compel him to make a mere nominal charge for its use, the fact of the Prince occupying it being, in his estimation, almost sufficient to repay him for any temporary inconvenience he might be placed at, and that he would leave it altogether with the board to name what they considered a proper remuneration. How different then and now.—London Prototype.

Never Raise a Child by the Hand or Wrist.

It is a common practice of nurses and parents to grasp children by a single hand or wrist, and lift them bodily, as in stepping over gutters, streams, &c. Occasionally a child is seized by the hands and swung around with great force, the body being held nearly at right angles. This feat is not always followed by immediate ill effects, but it is liable to result in most serious injury. At this period of life, the ends of the long bones are united to the shafts by cartilage, which renders them weak and liable to be distorted by force.—There are three of these bones in the arm; one between the shoulder and elbow, and two between the elbow and wrist. The arm of the child is, therefore very weak.—When extension is made at the hand, the force is not extended upon firm bones, but rather upon bones broken at several points, and very loosely united. A small force, far less than is required to fracture a fully formed bone, will separate the cartilaginous portions, or permanently bend them.—There is also another form of injury which may occur at the instant. Of this I have seen several examples. It consists in a slight displacement of the cartilages in one of the joints, either the wrist or elbow, attended by pain, swelling and tenderness. The point is fixed in a semi-flexed position, and the little sufferer will not allow it to be moved or even handled. It can be easily rectified by a surgeon, by forcible flection and extension. Finally, by lifting a child in this manner the ligaments about the joints may be extended, and this will weaken the joints, and this weakness may remain as a permanent disability.—Hearth and Home.

ARRIVED.

FATHEN POINT, Oct. 4.—The steamship "Damascus," inwards at 6:15 a. m., with 9 cabin and 80 steerage passengers, has arrived.

'Is Mrs. Blinking at home?' asked Mr. Saunders of the Irish girl who answered his ring at the door. 'Yes, I'll have she is, sir.' 'Is she engaged?' 'Ah, is it engaged, you say? Faix, an' I can't tell you, sir; but she kissed Mr. Tunncent last evening as if she had never seen the like uv him, and it's engaged I'll have they are, sir.'

—A short time since, as a master in a grammar school, censuring his pupil for the dulness of his comprehension, and consenting to instruct him in a sum in practice, he said, "Is not the price of a penny loaf always a penny?" when the boy innocently replied, "No, sir; the bakers sell 'em two for three ha'pence when they are stale."

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 4.

INWARDS.—The steamer Peruvian, from Liverpool, arrived at Quebec this morning.

CURLING.—Curlers are reminded of the annual meeting of the Club to-night at the Rink for the election of officers. It is hoped there will be a large attendance.

CORRECTION.—A stupid blunder occurred in the announcement on Saturday of the first shipment of Barley from this port by Captain McIntosh. Instead of 6 bushels it should read 6,221 bushels.

BALL AT KINGSTON.—It seems after all that Kingston is to have a Ball in honor of Prince Arthur's visit. Those who desire to be present from Belleville are referred to the advertisement in another column.

WORKINGMEN'S TEMPERANCE ASSOCIATION.—Owing to the Lecture to be given by Dr. Jewett on Tuesday evening, the regular weekly meeting of the above society is postponed until the evening following, Wednesday Oct. 6th.

POSTPONED.—The races advertised to come off to-morrow and following day, have been postponed until further notice. Owing to the lateness of the track, and the wet weather, it has been found impossible to drive on the track in its present state. Due notice will be given when the races will take place.

A COLONIAL GOVERNORSHIP.—The Ottawa correspondent of the Quebec Chronicle telegraphs to that paper as follows: "The opinion is gaining ground that Sir John A. Macdonald will be appointed by the British Government to some important Colonial Governorship. This may be the key to his appointment of Sir Francis Hincks.

DR. JEWETT'S LECTURE.—We trust our readers will not forget the rare treat in store for them on to-morrow evening, at the Wesleyan Methodist Church. Dr. Chas. Jewett, one of the ablest and most eloquent lecturers in America, will give an address on Temperance in the Bridge Street Church to-morrow evening, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

TOUR OF INSPECTION.—A special train passed up Saturday afternoon containing Mr. Potter, President of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, who is on a tour of inspection of the road, C. J. Brydges, Esq., Mr. Spicer, and other officials. We understand Mr. Potter has expressed himself highly satisfied with the condition of the Railway so far as his inspection has gone.

REPORT ABOUT THE CROPS.—We have received from the Managing Director a detailed report of the state of the crops in the districts traversed by the Grand Trunk Railway, which include the most important portions of Quebec and Ontario. The reports confirm the opinions repeatedly expressed that while in some localities there is a deficiency, the harvest generally has been a most abundant one, and the condition of the country most prosperous.

SHIPPING OF GREAT BRITAIN.—The tonnage or the sea-going shipping of Great Britain is larger than that of all the rest of the world. The registered tonnage of Britain and her possessions is 7,232,000 tons, of which no less than 5,700,000 tons, belongs to the United Kingdom itself. The sea-going tonnage of all the other nations is 7,150 000 tons; the commercial tonnage of the whole world being 14,382,000 tons. The commerce of the United States has decreased 50 per cent. during the last ten years.

THE WATSON BROTHERS.—Watson's Combination Troupe performed on Saturday night again to a very good house, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, and in their wonderful gymnastic feats surprised every one. At the request of a very large number of persons the Troupe have consented to perform here again on Wednesday evening, when, we have no doubt, they will be greeted by a full house. The wonderful feat of a somersault (blindfolded) in mid air is worth the price of admission.

NEW DOMINION MONTHLY.—The number for October has been received. The following is a list of its contents:—Duck Shooting in the Northwest; Canada to England; Lawyers; The Humming Bird; Newport; Insane for a Night; Songs of Life; In the Ladies Gallery, Souvenirs of Travel; In Memory of Fitz; Greene Halleck; Elecirical Novelties; "It"; The Teacher is the Book; A Wonder. In addition there are the Young Folks, Musical, Domestic and Editorial Departments, which contain a good deal of interesting reading. It also has a portrait of the new Bishop of Montreal. Published by John Dougall & Son, Montreal, at $1 a year.

LA RUE'S MINSTRELS.—This troupe will appear in Ontario Hall to-morrow evening. The Ottawa Citizen speaking of their performances in that city says:—"This fine troupe of Negro Minstrels made their first appearance in Ottawa last night, at Her Majesty's Theatre, and we must say that they surpassed any other troupe of the kind that we have ever seen. So evidently thought the large and appreciative audience which filled the Theatre, and whom they alternately delighted by their fine singing, or kept in roars of laughter by their antics and ready jokes. The jokes and the great merit or novelty, besides being very good. The dancing was excellent, and the singing more than good, surprisingly delightful. Where all was good it seems invidious to particularize; but we cannot help expressing the delight with which we listened to Hugh Hamall. He has a fine voice, and renders his songs with fine taste. Ricardo was surprising. We never heard such a voice in a man. Good judges might well be deceived it unto believing it Parepa Rosa they were listening to until they saw him. He is a host in himself, and it is well worth more than the cost of admittance to hear him or Mr. Hamall. What particularly pleased us was that there was none of that coarseness that usually characterizes such performances, nothing to offend good taste. They deserve bumper houses."

Business Education.

In the present age, with its railways, telegraph lines over land and under sea, and other great and successful undertakings which have added largely to the extension and formation of commerce, and changed in no small degree the manner of conducting mercantile pursuits, it is not to be wondered at that for working successfully any branch or line of business certain qualifications are requisite, which, a few years ago were not considered so essentially necessary. But the days of monopoly and of small sales and large profits have gone by, to be succeeded by a keen competition in every trade, cutting down things to such a fine point that success depends almost entirely upon a man's knowledge of the ins and outs of the business in which he is engaged, and of the qualifications required. Among the essential elements of business success is a knowledge of the science of Book-keeping, and its application to particular lines of business. Every business man, in whatever business he may be engaged, should have a sufficient knowledge of this study as to enable him to record the transactions of his business in a proper manner, so that at any time he may know the exact state of it, and whether it is in a prosperous condition or not. How many have gone to the wall, and are going day after day, with their affairs in such a muddled condition, solely on account of not keeping a proper set of books, that it takes an almost indefinite period of time to arrive at the actual state of affairs, delaying settlements, and in many cases throwing the whole affair into Chancery to remain for many a day, entirely through incomplete or wrong entries.

No matter whether a man's business tends to prosperity or failure, equally important is it that the affairs of it should be kept properly, that no doubt may rest on the work of its general results. To the lawyer, merchant or clerk, manufacturer or mechanic, to executors or administrators of estates, is a knowledge of Book keeping particularly applicable, and in fact to any or every one who comes in contact with any matter of business of any importance.

An institution for the special instruction of Book-keeping in all its branches and systems, and other matters pertaining to a business education, is, we learn, to be opened in Belleville this fall, and to be conducted by gentlemen of well known ability and both theoretically and practical experience in business matters, and we would advise all whom it may concern to take advantage of the opportunity, and we have no doubt but that it will prove a success and be a lasting benefit to those who attend.

The Prince's Movements.

The Prince had a right royal reception in Hamilton; the enthusiasm of the people was unbounded. Among the places of interest he visited were the Wesleyan Female College, the Central and Grammar Schools and the Deaf and Dumb Institute. The Ball in the evening was a very successful affair.

At Toronto the reception was a magnificent one. One of the Globe's writers, who gives a glowing introductory account, says: "Saturday, the second day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine! Mark it down, in the reddest of red ink, among the great events which have come and gone, and will be to the people as landmarks in our history." The city was clad in holiday attire. Everywhere there were arches and evergreens and bunting and mottoes, and everybody was in the street to give His Royal Highness a hearty welcome. In the evening there was a grand illumination and a torchlight procession, which are described as truly magnificent.

The Prince remains to-day and to-morrow in Toronto, and on Wednesday leaves for Kingston. The train is expected to reach Belleville at 2:40 on Wednesday afternoon, and he will remain here about half an hour to receive an address from the Corporation. A platform is to be erected on the south side of the Railway Station, sufficiently elevated to give a good view from the grounds surrounding. A couple of arches are to be erected, the station will be decorated with evergreens and a good display of bunting will be made. We have no doubt the desire very generally expressed that the merchants and others close their places of business a couple of hours that afternoon, will be complied with, so that the whole town will have an opportunity of seeing Prince Arthur. Capt. Nunn, G. T. Rifles, will turn out his company as a guard of honor, and we are informed it is in contemplation to have a portion of the 15th Britallion and Belleville Rifles turn out. Of this we will know more to-morrow.

—A boy in Arkansas came a good joke on his father lately. He whistled so much like a wild turkey that the old man followed him through the bushes for a mile and finally killed the boy.

News Condensed.

—Lord Cecil is preaching in Guelph.

—Ex-President Pierce is dangerously ill.

—Geo. E. Desbrats was gazetted Queen's Printer on Saturday.

—Hon. Mr. Rose sailed for England on Saturday by the Nestorian.

—There were 89 head of cattle and 2,931 sheep from Canada at the last Boston market.

—A store in Denver City conquers in this sign FyNe KUT 2 BAC O.

—Kingston is to have a half holiday on Wednesday while the Prince is there.

—The City Council of Kingston has voted $500 for expenses connected with the Prince's visit.

—Sir John A. Macdonald has gone to Toronto to assist at the festivities in honor of Prince Arthur.

—The St. John (N. B.) Telegraph urges the appointment of a Dominion Press agent in England and New York.

—Government has appropriated $500 to illuminate the Parliament Building during the Prince's visit to Toronto.

—The clerk of a Portland hotel threw a man down stairs and killed him for insulting the head waiter girl.

'What a child!' said a friend. 'Ah,' replied Hood, 'his parents never made much of him.'

The minister who boasted of preaching without notes, didn't mean to be understood as referring to greenbacks.

Gov. Wise was lately shown a photograph of himself of which he said, "I suppose it is intended for me. It looks as if I was drunk, sleepy or pittying a kitten."

—The Richmond Whig proposes the name of Horace Greely for United States Senator from Virginia. There is nothing in the Constitution of the State which renders him illegible.

—At the Dominion Rifle match at Toronto the Montreallers won $205, St. Catharines $505, Toronto $530, and Hamilton $510. All Quebec outside of Montreal only won $205.

—Dickens says, 'I have known vast quantities of bad men not looking you in the face. Don't trust that convenient idea. Dishonesty will stare honesty out of countenance any day in the week, if there is anything to be got by it.

—A darkey's account of a sermon: "Well sah, the sermon was upon the miracles of de loaves. De minister said how der seven thousand loaves and de five hundred fishes divided between de twelve apostles; an' de miracle was dat dey didn't bust!"

—An English journalist proposes that insurable lunatics should be killed. If such an idea were converted into law, the writer himself might be in danger of a speedy release from the evils of this troublesome world. Such a proposition in the nineteenth century, and in christian England, savors strongly of insanity.

—At Tolleyallen, County Louth, the other day, an infant was left alone in the hut by its mother. During her absence, which was of short duration, a pig entered her cabin, dragged the child out of the bed, and by the time she returned had actually the hands and feet totally eaten off the little creature, who was at the time all but dead. It died soon afterward.

—A horrible outrage was attempted on the Ottawa and St. Lawrence Railway on Monday night. Some fiend placed two poles upright in the centre of the railroad track, between the ties in a culvert at a curve south of Rossiter's Station. Fortunately the poles were discovered before any damage was done. The Company offer $500 reward for the apprehension of the guilty parties.

—At Guelph, Canada, recently, a country youth attending a circus, offered the elephant a plug of tobacco. The sagacious animal, who had probably been tricked in the same way before, stretched out its proboscis as if to take the tobacco, but instead, suddenly seized the wight's hat, and after chewing it to a mas of pulp, threw it down at the feet of the owner.

—When Prince Arthur was in St. John, N.B., the following curious incident occurred:—As the Prince's carriage stood in front of the Court House, an enthusiastic young man sprang upon the steps and seized His Royal Highness by the hand, exclaiming thus, 'Welcome, a thousand welcomes your Royal Highness to British North America.' The Prince, somewhat astonished at the familiar but hearty salute, expressed his thanks, when the stranger, scanning the Princely face before him with an eye glowing like a coal, said, 'You are not as fine a looking man as Grant, but you'll live yet to be President of the North American Continent.' And then, dropping back into the crowd, he yelled out, 'Hurrah for His Royal Highness.'

—The Marquise de Boissy—Countess Guiccioli—has her word to say upon the Byron question. She confines herself to announcing through a writer in La Liberte that she is in constant and direct communication with Lord Byron, by means of a process similar to that known in America as "Planchette," and that she was informed by the poet two years ago that "an American author was preparing to write on his life a book full of false and horrible things." This is interesting, if not conclusive; and it is not at all improbable that we may before long be favored with Byron's direct views upon the subject of Mrs. Stowe's revelation, through the same trustworthy and unimpeachable channel.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the unspeakable joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite. The Civil Service Gazette remarks.—"The singular success which Mr. Epps attained by his homœopathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold by the Trade only in ½lb. ¼lb. and 1lb. tin lined packets, labelled—JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England. 91—Gm'183

SONG OF IRON.

I am mighty in the sabre,
Fiercely wielded by the brave;
Glorious is the stalwart steamer,
Laughing at the storm and wave,

Beauteous in the palace pillars,
Saving in the pointed rod,
As it brings the deadly lightning,
Quelled and harmless to the sod.

But there is a glorious essence,
Where I take my grandest power,
Giving to the sage my surest,
Sweetest aid in danger's hour.

See! before me fly diseases!
See the darkest hydras bow!
See the rose of health and beauty
Take the palest cheek and brow.

Fly, dyspepsia! fly, consumption!
Yea, all ills are crushed at length,
For I give what human nature
Only ever needed—STRENGTH.

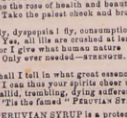

Shall I tell in what great essence
I can thus your spirits cheer up?
Pallid, trembling, dying sufferer,
'Tis the famed "PERUVIAN STRUP."

The PERUVIAN SYRUP is a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron, a new discovery in medicine that strikes at the root of disease by supplying the blood with its vital principle or element—Iron.

The genuine has "PERUVIAN STRUP" blown in the glass. Pamphlets free.

Had to Enlarge his STORE.

W. JOHNSON,

AT the close of his first four Months in Business, would be unworthy of the extensive patronage he has received, did he not thus publicly express his gratitude for the extensive, and still extending support he has received. He hopes by still following the rules which he has laid down for his guidance, to merit a portion of your trade. He would again repeat his mottoes:

Reasonable Profits,
(He believes in the "Nimble Penny.")
ONE PRICE,
(Your child buys as well as Yourself.)
NO TICK,
(Short Credits make long Friends.)

He has found it necessary to enlarge his Store, it will be found even more attractive than in the past, and his Windows will always contain an assortment of Goods to be found in Stock as well arranged as he can do it.

A YEAR'S TRIAL.

As Montreal Tea Company: MONTREAL, 1868.

GENTS.—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea has in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap.

Yours very truly,
F. DENNIE.

Montreal Tea Co:

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue to use it.

Yours respectfully,
FRANCIS T. GREENE,
54 St. John Street,
Montreal.

Montreal, April, 1868.—To the Montreal Tea Company, 6 Hospital Street, Montreal; We notice with pleasure the large amount of tea forwarded for you to different parts of the country, and we are glad to find your business so rapidly increasing. We presume your Teas are giving entire satisfaction, as out of the large amount forwarded we have only had occasion to return one box, which, we understand, was sent through a mistake.

G. CHENEY,
Manager Canadian Express Company.

HOUSE OF SENATE, OTTAWA,

Montreal Tea Company:

GENTLEMEN.—The box of English Breakfast and Young Hyson Tea which you sent me gives great satisfaction. You may expect my future orders. Yours, &c.,

☞ Beware of pedlars and runners using our name, or offering our Teas in small packages. Nothing less than a cattle sold.

NOTE THE ADDRESS—The Montreal Tea Company, 6 Hospital Street, Montreal.

☞ Silver taken at par. For notes and Post Office orders the Company will add the premium in Tea to the order. 41w 19d-2

Death in a Sleeping Car.

The Louisville Courier-Journal of the 20th says: The passengers on the Saturday night train of the Atlantic and Great Western railroad for Cincinnati were startled from their slumbers at an early hour in the morning by the cry of "Mother's dead!" uttered in an agonizing shriek from the rear end of the car, by a woman who afterwards proved to be a daughter of the deceased. The circumstances attending the death were these: The old lady, who was quite an invalid, had been taken on board at the village of Jamestown, New York, where she was met by her daughter, her daughter's husband, a merchant in Cincinnati, and a grand daughter, with whom she proposed to spend the winter for the benefit of her health. The old lady, though quite cheerful, was too feeble to sit up during the day, and one of the sections was arranged for her to lounge upon till bed-time, and her children were unweary in their attentions, watching her with such tender, thoughtful care as to attract the attention of those about them. In the evening, before they retired, the young people sang a beautiful hymn in an undertone, while the old lady sat looking out dreamily into the purple twilight with an expression which seemed to tell of yearnings for the spirit world, which was so soon to be her home. At bedtime she was placed away nicely in a section all to herself, being visited from time to time by her daughter, to whose tender inquiries she replied that she thought she should pass the night as comfortably as though she were in her own room. The last time that her daughter spoke to her it was at 2 o'clock in the morning. When she went over at 4 o'clock again, the spirit of the mother had passed away to the better land, apparently without a pain or struggle. It was a strange scene, that of the bustling, talking crowd of early risers, crowding thoughtlessly about one end of the car, getting ready to disembark, contrasted with the other where the corpse was laid out in the corner section, with the children kneeling and weeping at the bedside; and refusing to be comforted. The old lady was a general favorite in the village whence she came, and was escorted to the cars by quite a number of friends and acquaintances, to whom she said at parting: "Tell them all, if I slip away on this journey, that I was ready and willing to go."

—Evening Journal.

'I say, boy, why do you whistle so gayly?' 'Cause I'm happy, mister.' 'What makes you so happy?' 'Cause I got a new shirt; look here, ain't it nice?' 'It don't look very new. What is it made of?' 'Why, cut of granny's old sheets, what her marm gave her.'

A medical friend hands us the following: A regimental coffin maker was asked whom he was making one for, and mentioned the intended. 'Why, he is not dead, man!' said the querist. 'Don't you trouble yourself,' replied the other. 'Dr. —— told us to make his coffin, and I guess he knows what he gave him.'

'Mr. Simpkins has an abominable gait, don't you think so?' 'No, indeed; I think it quite handsome, especially since it was painted.' 'Excuse me, but you don't understand me—I allude to his carriage.'—'Why, law me! he has no carriage.' 'Oh yes he has; but it's only seen when he walks.'

An ostler was sent to the stable to bring out a traveller's horse, but not knowing which of the two strange horses in the stalls belonged to the traveller, and wishing to avoid the appearance of ignorance in his business, he saddled both animals, and brought them to the door. The traveller pointed out his own horse, saying, 'That's my nag.' 'Certainly, your honor, I know that very well,' said the ostler, 'but I did not know which was the other gentleman's.'

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 60 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865. is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the élite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The School Question.

Since the appearance of certain late communications in the DAILY INTELLIGENCER upon the subject of Common Schools, I have fallen upon an "Annual Report of the Board of St. Louis Public Schools for 1858 59." In it I find a great deal of valuable matter which would be most useful to our school authorities here if they were disposed and enabled to profit by the experience of others.

The report touches upon a great variety of matters, but in order to contract the limits of this communication I will extract only some portions bearing upon the great test question of a Central School.

The Superintendent is evidently no mere theorist, riding a hobby to death. He is not one of those who are ready to push a principle to extreme results.

To very large schools, indeed he objects, and shows that there is practically a certain point beyond which the principle of centralization cannot be pressed to advantage. At the same time "the advantages of large schools over small ones forms the heading of one very long and important section of his report."

He speaks of four schools something like our Ward Schools, held one in a school house and other three in rented buildings, one formerly a church, another a dwelling house and another a bar-room, all miserable apologies for school houses, badly constructed, badly ventilated, and poorly adapted to the accommodation of schools or to secure the health and convenience of pupils and teachers.

"To take the place of these unsightly structures, the Clay School House, a model building has been erected—finely located, well lighted and ventilated, easily warmed, with large airy comfortable, pleasant rooms, a play ground 100 x 250, and such pieces of gymnastic apparatus as are required for the healthful physical exercises and recreations of the pupils.

"What a contrast between the new and the old accommodations, considering merely the building's furniture and appurtenances.

"But when we come to compare the facilities for classification and instruction in the new building, we shall see still more striking the improvements that have been made. In a mixed school of sixty or eighty scholars of all ages, nearly as many classes are required as in a school four times as large; but in the latter case each class will contain four times as many pupils. In each of the old schools now discontinued, it often happened that a teacher had less than a half a dozen pupils in a class, and having a large number of classes was obliged to hurry from one exercise to another, giving only about ten or fifteen minutes to each recitation.—The results achieved under such circumstances bear no proportion to the amount and diversity of labor performed by the teacher, who being occupied at one moment with an alphabet class and at another with an advanced class in arithmetic or grammar, has no opportunity to give the scholars a thorough drill in any branch.

"Compared with these, let us examine for a moment the advantages which the Clay school will afford. The pupils will be classified and distributed by fifties according to their advancement. Each fifty falling to any one room and one teacher is to be subdivided into two classes, according to attainments. All the pupils in any class attend to precisely the same studies and use the same books. In each room there will be a first and second class, and it is important that the identical pupils which constitute the first class in one branch should constitute the first class in every branch pursued by the class.

"By this arrangement while one class is reciting, the other is preparing for recitation, and an alternating process is kept up though the day, affording the pupils ample time to study their lessons, and the teacher ample time to instruct each class.

"This is what is meant by a well graded and classified Schools. All the new Schools are like the Clay in this respect. There is to be but one principal to each building, all the other pupils being assistants; also but one set of registers and reports to be taken charge of by the principal.

"But leaving out of the question entirely the advantages of improved accommodations, and better classifications, the building of the new school houses has been a wise measure of the Board, in point of economy alone. Take the Clay School for illustration. When all the rooms are finished, it will accommodate 672 pupils, suppose the average number to be 600. The salaries of the twelve teachers will not over run $6,000, so that the yearly tuition per pupil (in actual attendance,) will not exceed $10. Add to this, incidental expenses, and interest on capital invested, and the total yearly expense will certainly not exceed $13; while in the Free Schools superseded by the Clay, the average for the year before last was $14 43, and last year was $17 89 per pupil. For 600 pupils the saving would be several thousand dollars per annum.

"The mode of effecting this saving is obvious; in the case of the four old schools, we had four houses to repair, high rents to pay, four principal teachers, four janitors, four sets of registers, &c., which in the new school, there is but one principal, (all the other teachers being assistants,) one janitor, no set of registers, and a much larger average of pupils to each teacher, thus would be proper in unclassified schools."

The report then goes on to mention some of the points in their system, which the Board had deliberately and unanimously laid down as fundamental and permanent.

1st. That the graded system be adopted.

2nd. That the schools shall be as far as possible of uniform size.

3rd. That each school, in order to secure good classification and economical management, should number 600 or 700 pupils.

5th. That there be one principal teacher, and one organization for each building."

It seems to me that if both the friends and the opponents of our future Central School would calmly consider this report, (and that of the Hamilton Central School for example, for the last year), they would discover that there is a common ground upon which they could meet. Let us not endeavor to push the centralization system too far. The scheme of gathering all the children in the town into one huge building, will not commend itself to the judgment of practical men. We cannot pull down our present school houses. Let these be used as preparatory schools and let us erect a building in the Baldwin Ward on Taylor's Hill, having say, six or eight rooms and let it be so planned as to be capable of extension if it be required, and experience shows the thing to work well. Thus, by a little concession on all sides, this unseeming suicidal strife upon the subject of our common schools during which they are meanwhile languishing in neglect might perhaps be allayed and swept into the forgotten past.

To those who begrudge the expense of our public schools, I commend the closing paragraph of Ira Divoll's report, "It seems not out of place to mention here, that of all the children and youths who have been arrested for petty offences, vagrancy and misdemeanour, and sent to the House of Refuge, Rochester, in the last 7000 during the last four or five years, not one was ever a pupil of the Public Schools."

Comment is unnecessary.

Yours truly,

E. S.

Mr. Greeley on Woman's Rights.

Horace Greeley contributes an article to the Hearth and Home entitled, 'My Notions on Woman's Rights,' from which we give the following extracts:—

"I hold that God created our race, male and female, with clear seeing intent that it should thereby be rendered more efficient, nobler, happier, than it otherwise could be, and that this diversity relates not to a single function merely, but extends to our entire physical, intellectual and emotional nature. * * * I hold that the appointed sphere of man is broader, not higher, than that of woman; that the household is her kingdom, within which her influence should be paramount, and her decisions have the force of law. * * * I affirm the right of woman to do whatever she can do well, even though her ability be exceptional, and not common to her sex. But even in that case I would have her work by herself, or with companions of her own sex, so far as possible. The promiscuous employment of men and women in shop or field has hitherto led to gross irregularities and corruptions, and I do not believe the time near at hand when such commingling may confidently be expected not to result in such lamentable consequences. * * * As to government: I heartily wish the women of our country, and of each State, would choose their wisest and best to assemble as delegates, consider the needs and wrongs of their sex, and memorialize Congress and their respective Legislatures for the removal of those wrongs. I am confident that such delegates, fairly chosen by the general voice of their sex, would make no demand that I would not heartily second. * * * * *

As to employment for women, I hold that there is an immensity of work to be done that specially pertains to the sphere of woman, which goes undone or done very badly and expensively because most women reject it. * * * * Hence, I welcome the agitation for Woman's Rights and Female Suffrage, as disturbing a stagnation which involved "the pain without the peace of death." The issue will not be such as the agitations contemplate, for Nature is too strong for a will even so stubborn as Anna Dickinson's a persistency as dogged as Susan Anthony's, but the fountains of the great deep will be profoundly stirred, and the result cannot fail to be wholesome. Woman is insisting that her share of the world's work be allotted and secured to her, and the demand, however unwisely urged or mistakenly directed, is substantially just."

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY, OCT. 5.

I. P. B. S. C. H.—The monthly meeting of the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society County of Hastings is postponed until Wednesday, the 13th inst.

SUSPICIOUS.—Sir Francis Hincks and E. H. King, of the Montreal Bank, have returned to Montreal from New York. Suspicions to see these two worthies together.

LECTURE.—Don't forget the Temperance Lecture by Dr. Chas. Jewett, one of the most popular Lecturers of the day, at the Bridge Street Wesleyan Methodist Church, this evening.

LA RUE'S MINSTRELS.—This Troupe performs in Ontario Hall this evening. The Kingston News of last night says: "This newly organized troupe of Ethiopian performers exhibited to a well filled house on Saturday evening in the Ontario Hall. The acting was as usual, laughable and well delineated, and the singing and dancing were loudly encored. The impersonations of Ricardo, as a fashionable belle of the present day, were well received.

15th Battalion.

We understand the 15th Battalion will turn out to-morrow to assist in giving His Royal Highness Prince Arthur, a hearty welcome. The Battalion will parade at the Armory, Pinnacle street, at 12:30 sharp.—We hope that every officer and man will be at his post, so that there may be a large and respectable muster.

West Hastings Exhibition.

Exhibitors are reminded that entries for the Exhibition to-morrow and Thursday, must be made before 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The Secretary, S. D. Farley, Esq., will be at his office in the Anglo-American, this evening, and to-morrow all day, to receive entries and to furnish such information respecting the show as may be desired.

The show will open to-morrow evening in the Skating Rink, when it is expected all articles intended for the building will be in position for inspection. Doors will be open at 7 o'clock, and as the admission is only 10 cts., we hope there will be a large attendance from the Town.

Prince Arthur.

The special train conveying His Excellency the Governor General and Prince Arthur and suite, is expected to arrive at Belleville Station at 2,40 p.m., to-morrow.—At a meeting of the Town Council last evening, it was stated that the addresses had been engrossed and sent forward, that thenecessary arrangements were being made as to erection of platform, the erection of arches, decorations, &c. The Committee were empowered to expend such sums of money as they might deem advisable.

In accordance with a resolution of the Council the Mayor was authorized to issue a proclamation, calling upon the inhabitants to close their places of business to-morrow from 2 to 4 p. m. The 15th Battalion is to turn out, and in conjunction with Capt. Hambly's Belleville Rifles, and Capt. Nunn's and Capt. Crowther's G. T. Rifles, will make quite an imposing military display. Of course all the people in the town and a great many from the country will be there, and although the stay of the party is but short, we will be able to show what kind of a demonstration Belleville could have made, if the Prince and the Governor had had more time to spend amongst us.

We understand in answer to an order from Lt.-Col. Brown, the Band of the 49th Battalion from Trenton, will be present to-morrow at the reception.

—Hon. Malcolm Cameron is stumping North Lanark.

—Ottawa is to spend $500 on the Prince's reception.

—The steam saw-mill of Thos. Sexsmith, at Selby, was destroyed by fire on the 3rd inst.

—At no moment of difficulty does a husband, knowing his own utter helplessness, draw so closely to his wife's side for comfort and assistance as when he wants a button sewed on his shirt collar.

—A country sculptor was ordered to engrave upon stone, 'A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband,' but being pinched for room it was contracted thus: 'A virtuous woman is 5s. to her husband.'

—It is said that there are people in the Mountain District of Kentucky, so green that they followed a waggon that happened to pass that way, twenty miles, 'just to see whether the hind wheels would overtake the fore ones.'

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and sqnable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

Sir Francis Hincks Again.

It is rumored that in consequence of the very general disapprobation with which the announcement of Sir Francis Hincks' appointment has been received throughout the Dominion, that gentleman will decline to be sworn into office. Of course, not being in the secrets of the Government, we cannot say whether there be good ground for this rumor or not, but we may venture the opinion that it will be found to be correct. We know Sir Francis is both bold and reckless, but he would be a far bolder and more reckless man than even Sir Francis Hincks, who would brave Public Opinion expressed with such singular unanimity as has been exhibited upon this proposed appointment. Not merely in Ontario, where, with two or three exceptions, the press of all shades of politics have spoken with the heartiest condemnation of the appointment, but in Quebec, New Brunswick, and even in Nova Scotia, the return of Sir Francis Hincks to political life in Canada is looked upon with peculiar dread and horror, and the press of those Provinces are nearly unanimous in urging the Government to avert the calamity which such an appointment would be to the Dominion. In view, therefore, of this remarkable verdict of Public Opinion, Sir Francis Hincks will probably consider that "discretion is the better part of valor," and decline for the present to commit political suicide.

With regard to the rumor that Sir John A. Macdonald is to accept a Colonial Governorship, and in view of that acceptance, has called upon Sir Francis to assume the Premiership of the Dominion, we must decline to attach any importance to it. If there was any such intention on the part of Sir John to leave us, we believe he has the interests of Canada too much at heart to inflict such a disaster upon us as to entrust Sir Francis with the whole management of the ship of State. Sir John has had too long the confidence of the public; he has been too closely identified with working out the destiny of Confederation, to warrant us in believing when he leaves public life, that he would bestow such a legacy to the people as the wily, ambitious, trickster Sir Francis Hincks, of whom he once said "he was steeped, to the lips in corruption."

We observe in one or two papers the argument very seriously advanced that because the Hon. George Brown and the Globe oppose the appointment of Sir Francis Hincks, therefore it must be a good one.—Such an argument can only be characterized as vicious. The fact that the Globe supports or condemns it does not certainly prove that it is good or bad. The question is, whether the appointment would be a wise one, whether it is generally acceptable, whether it will promote good will amongst the people and advance the best interests of the country. Public Opinion has given an unmistakable answer upon these points, and it does not concern us or the people whether the Hon. Geo. Brown or the Globe, or whether Mr. Beatty or the Leader, supports or opposes Public Opinion. Because the Globe does not treat its political opponents fairly, because it refuses to acknowledge a wrong done to the press or public men who are not found rowing in the same boat with it, are we to commit the same wrong? Will we be justified in resorting to the same unfair and ungenerous means to sustain our cause? Rather let us take the broader, manlier and higher ground, that we will do our duty to our country irrespective of men or party, and that in our public acts we will be governed by those higher considerations which actuate us in our private dealings with our fellow men.

Fall Assizes.

SIXTH DAY.

SATURDAY, Oct. 2nd, 1869.

Before Mr. Justice Morrison.

MCLELLAN vs. BRENNAN.

This was the last case tried, and was an action for malicious arrest, brought by Donald McLellan, of Cornwall, against the Rev. Mr. Brennan, of this place. A suit was brought last spring by McLellan against Brennan, to recover the value of certain goods taken from the house of the late Jane England, by Mr. Brennan, as executor, and claimed by Plaintiff, and for which he recovered a verdict; on the taxation of costs an affidavit was produced and filed on the part of McLellan, in which he swore he had paid certain sums to witnesses. It was alleged by Defendant that the statements in this affidavit were untrue, and information was laid before Mr. Wills, J. P., and McLellan was arrested for perjury and afterwards discharged. This action was brought to recover damages for expense incurred by Plaintiff in defending himself before the Magistrate, and for injury to his reputation.

The arrest of Plaintiff was proved by Downs, P. C., who stated on cross-examination that Plaintiff was dealt quietly with him to the Police Station; was in custody there about fifteen minutes: was taken to Mr. Wills' house and there bail was given by Mr. Dickson and Mr. Glass, and Plaintiff set at liberty.

Mr. Northrup produced the affidavit of disbursements and papers in the last suit.

This was the Plaintiff's case.

Mr. Robertson moved a non suit on the grounds

1st. That the prosecution before the Magistrate was not sufficiently proven; that the Plaintiff must produce the warrant and prove the oath, which he had failed to do.

2nd. That the Plaintiff had not shown a want of reasonable and probable cause on the part of the Defendant for laying the information.

3rd. That there was no evidence of malice, and consequently no question of fact to go to the jury.

Mr. Dickson contended that the dismissal of the complaint and release of the Plaintiff showed a want of probable cause, and that the existence of the warrant was proven by Downs; and that there was evidence of malice.

The Judge ruled that the grounds taken were upheld by the cases cited, and nonsuited the Plaintiff.

G. D. Dickson for Plaintiff. Alex. Robertson and J. J. B. Flint for Defendant.

The Court rose at two o'clock, leaving some three or four cases remanets; and the jurymen were discharged from further attendance.

Tyendinaga Agricultural Exhibition.

The annual Exhibition of the Tyendinaga Agricultural Society, took place at Shannonville, on Saturday, the 2nd October. The weather was delightful, and from far and near came bonnie lads and lasses, and young men and maidens, and middle aged men and matrons, and old men and old dames, bringing with them the products of the field, of the garden, of the dairy, of the loom, of the orchard, and specimens of their own handiwork. The attendance was larger than usual, and the number of entries was about one hundred greater than last year. In some departments there was a great improvement, while in others there was a falling off as compared with previous exhibitions. Of Horses there was the best show seen in Tyendinaga for several years. In fine young Stallions and well proportioned carriage horses, the exhibition particularly excelled. The show of Cattle was not so good. There were a few of improved breeds in milch cows, two or three very fine bulls, and some good calves, but the principal part of the cattle was of a poor quality. In Sheep there was a decided improvement over former years; and the same may be said of Pigs, of which there were some fine specimens.

There was a large display of carriages and waggons; in addition to the local exhibitors there was the manufacture of Vermilyes, of Belleville, Hart & Son, of Picton, and from makers in Napanee. A few ploughs, harrows, fanning mills, straw cutters, &c., from the Foundry of J. M. Walker & Co., Belleville, and belonging to members of the Society, constituted the show in Farmiag Implements.

It was in Grain and Roots that the Exhibition particularly excelled. There was not only a large variety of all kinds of grain, but the quality was of an excellent character, while of Potatoes, Roots, Cabbages, Squashes, Pumpkins, Onions, &c., the show was magnificent. The show of Tomatoes was particularly fine. In the Ladies' Department there was a very fair exhibition of coverlets, shawls, flannels, carpets, worsted work, embroidery, and other fancy work, though we have seen a greater variety at previous exhibitions of this Society. The Dairy Department was poorly represented, there being only eight lots of butter and five lots of cheese, two of the latter were furnished by Factories in the Township. The Judges said, however, the butter was all so good they had considerable difficulty in deciding which was best. The show of fruit was poor, there only being two or three lots. In the leather department there was some well made harness, and boots and shoes. Taking it altogether the exhibition was an improvement on former shows. The following is the

THE REPUBLICAN MOVEMENT—SERIOUS DEMOCRATIC DEMONSTRATION.

MADRID, Oct. 4.—The republican volunteer forces collected in the cities of Madrid and Barcelona and in other places, with the view of rescuing the prisoners taken by the military during the late engagements at the barricades, have cut the telegraph wires and stopped the mail trains carrying the government despatches.

Very considerable alarm still exists at Betor, where the populace remains excited and in a very unruly condition.

Republican deputies who have been elected to the Cortes have organized counter revolutionary or democratic reactionary bands in Heresca and Martaszelli. Their forces have been defeated at the last-named place by the local authorities and troops.

Most serious riots may occur at any minute but Madrid remains quiet just at present.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—All reports which have been received here of the progress of republicans in Spain are confirmed. The town of Pios, nine miles from Tarragona, has declared for liberty.

It is said that ex-King Ferdinand, of Portugal, has by this time accepted the Spanish crown, but if this combination does not succeed within eight days Spain will be a republic.

THE EMPEROR AT THE RACES.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The Emperor attended the races at the Bois de Boulogne yesterday.

PERE HYACINTHE.

Pere Hyacinthe is menaced with the sentence of Major Excommunication.

THE FRENCH CHAMBERS.

Nearly all the journals express dissatisfaction at the fact that the Chambers have not been immediately assembled.

THE FENIAN DEASEY DISCOVERED.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Some time since an injured man was admitted into King's College hospital in this city. He has just been identified as Kelley or Deasey, one of the Fenian prisoners recently rescued from the police.

COMMERCIAL.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 5.—Red wheat 9s 4d; White wheat 10s 7d to 10s 8d; U S Bonds 84½.

American Despatches.

THE ACCIDENT ON THE INDIANAPOLIS FAIR GROUND.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 3.—The coroner gives the number killed at the fair ground on Friday, including two wounded who have since died, at 20. As near as can be ascertained, between fifty and sixty persons were wounded.

BANKING-HOUSE ROBBED IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Yesterday, between the hours of one and two o'clock in the afternoon, some person entered the banking-house of Clarke and Ulman and went behind the counter, entered the vault and took a trunk containing securities amounting to $125,000. The robbery was not discovered until some two hours after. Fortunately none of the property taken can be made available to the burglar.

PRIVATEER SEIZED.

WILMINGTON, N. C., October 4.—The privateer 'Hornet' was seized by the deputy United States Marshal at Smithville, at 12 a.m. to-day, and brought up and anchored half a mile below the city. This evening a number of her officers were in the city, and there is no pretext under which she can be detained by the authorities longer than necessary to have an investigation with her armament and crew.

HEAVY RAINS.

SCRANTON, P. A., October 4.—Heavy rains for the last 48 hours, no trains arrived on Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroad; Del Lockawana and Western roads are also suspended.

PRESIDENT'S DECISION.

NEW YORK, October 5.—A Washington special says: The President on being notified of the presence of the 'Hornet,' at Wilmington, decided that she could come into our ports under stress of weather, and remain 24 hours.

A BATTLE.

A cable telegram to the Herald, states that a battle had taken place at Esperaguerra between the government troops, under Gen. Palacias and a Republican force, musteringl ,100 strong. The revolutionists were dispersed and compelled to retreat to the mountains after obstinate resistance, during which they lost 40 killed and 60 wounded.

Where did you get those BEAUTIFUL BUTTON BOOTS, WHY, AT CLARKE'S NEW STORE. They have pretty Balmorals too.

Literary and Scientific Lectures.

THE following Lectures will be delivered during the ensuing Winter season, in aid of the Apparatus Fund of Albert College, in the ONTARIO HALL,

Commencing on Thursday, Oct. 14, and continuing on each alternate Thursday, until the whole shall have been delivered:

No. 1. Preliminary—"Agriculture and Mining,".....Prof. J. T. Bell.
2. "Nelson,".....Prof. T. Macintyre.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS

[INTELLIGENCER OFFICE,
Belleville, Oct. 5, 1869.]

Grain is coming in more freely, the receipts averaging for the last few days from 5,000 to 6,000 bushels a day. Prices remain somewhat steady at quotations. The demand for all kinds of grain is good, but it is evident if half the grain of this County is shipped this fall, it must be brought forward more rapidly. Of course as soon as shipments cease, prices must decline. Vessels are scarce and freights are advancing. Oswego reports yesterday were rather discouraging to purchasers of Barley.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SONG OF IRON.

I am mighty in the sabre,
Fiercely wielded by the brave;
Glorious in the stalwart steamer,
Laughing at the storm and wave,

Beauteous in the palace pillars,
Saving in the pointed rod,
As it brings the deadly lightning,
Quelled and harmless to the sod.

But there is a glorious essence,
Where I take my grandest power,
Giving to the race my surest,
Sweetest aid in danger's hour.

See! before me fly diseases!
See the darkest hydras bow!
See the rose of health and beauty
Take the palest cheek and brow.

Fly, dyspepsia! fly, consumption!
Yes, all ills are crushed at length,
For I give what human nature
Only ever needed—STRENGTH.

Shall I tell in what great essence
I can thus your spirits cheer up?
Pallid, trembling, dying sufferer,
'Tis the famed "PERUVIAN SYRUP."

The PERUVIAN SYRUP is a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron, a new discovery in medicine that strikes at the root of disease by supplying the blood with its vital principle or element—Iron.

The genuine has "PERUVIAN SYRUP" blown in the glass. Pamphlets free.

Had to Enlarge his STORE.

W. JOHNSON,

AT the close of his first four Months in Business, would be unworthy of the extensive patronage he has received, did he not thus publicly express his gratitude for the extensive, and still extending support he has received. He hopes by still following the rules which he has laid down for his guidance, to merit a portion of your trade. He would again repeat his mottoes:

Reasonable Profits,
(He believes in the "Nimble Penny.")
ONE PRICE,
(Your child buys as well as Yourself.)
NO TICK,
(Short Credits make long Friends.)

He has found it necessary to enlarge his Store, as will be found even more attractive than in the past, and his Windows will always contain an assortment of Goods to be found in Stock as well arranged as he can do it.

Look at his Windows.

His Stocks will be complete next week. To the following assortments he confines himself—

A YEAR'S TRIAL.

At Montreal Tea Company: MONTREAL, 1868.

GENTS.—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea has in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap.

Yours very truly,
F. DENNIE.

Montreal Tea Co: Montreal, April, 1868.—To the Montreal Tea Company, 6 Hospital street, Montreal: We notice with pleasure the large amount of tea forwarded for you to different parts of the Dominion, and we are glad to find your business so rapidly increasing. We presume your Teas are giving general satisfaction, as out of the large amount forwarded we have only had occasion to return one box, which, we understand, was sent through a mistake.

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always follow after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue customer.

Yours respectfully,
FRANCIS T. GRENE,

A Jury Rebuked.

On the day after the acquittal of Griffin, the culpable engineer in the Mast Hope disaster, Judge Barrett administered a very remarkable rebuke to the jury for the verdict. The incident is described as follows:

"Judge Barrett ordered the clerk to call the names of the jury in the Griffin case, and directed that they be seated on his left. The clerk then proceeded to call the names, and the jurors responded as they were called until the whole panel had taken their seats. The jury knew they were under the ban of the judge's displeasure on account of their action the previous evening, but they were not probably prepared for the pouring out of indignation which was soon to burst forth from his Honor. The court-room was full, and the unusual proceeding had arrested and excited the interest of every one present, and eager curiosity was aroused as to what was coming next.

'Judge Barrett, addressing the jury, said:

"Gentlemen,—You last night returned into court, after a hearing of two days, with a verdict of not guilty in the case of the Common wealth against James Griffin. This was not expected, and the verdict was of course a verdict against law, against justice, and an outrage against humanity. You violated the obligations of your oath—a plain, simple obligation to render a verdict according to evidence. Instead of that you rendered a verdict against every particle of evidence. The cause of the defendant was abandoned by his counsel. Drowning men will catch at straws. The theory of the defence is unknown to the law, and must have existed for the defendant did not believe it themselves. I was and still am astonished at your verdict. I am astonished that you should in this way set aside the law and violate your oaths; and I trust that the spirits of the dead, dying, bleeding and burned victims of Mast Hope will rebuke you as long as you live. We have no power to cure the great wrong which you have inflicted on the community."

The judge continued at considerable length to recount the horors of the dreadful disaster at Mast Hope, and to ask the jury if they had no sympathy for the sufferers there, but must waste it on the prisoner, who was the author of the great calamity. He concluded his rebuke to the astonished jurymen as follows:—

"In future, I hope that you will feel a proper regard for your oaths. You are now discharged from any further duty at this court. You are not fit to sit as jurymen. I will not try cases before such a jury."

Mr. Jessup, of counsel for prosecution, made a motion that Griffin be held in recognizance to await proceedings against him on an indictment for manslaughter under the common law. After some discussion by counsel on either side, the judge denied the motion.

Griffin was then released from custody and immediately started for his home at Susquehanna Depot.

—The New York Herald recalls this story of the early ventures of A. T. Stewart: "While yet young in years and in the dry goods business, Mr. Stewart was called home—to Ireland—to receive his share in the distribution of some small inheritance. Having his money and being on the point of returning to America, he stopped at some dealers of his acquaintance, in Belfast, and priced a small article of linen trimming. It was cheap, and he invested in it his whole inheritance. This purchase he brought to New York, repaying the duty, of course—and here sold it for as much per yard as he had paid per piece. This is spoken of as Stewart's first venture as an importer of dry goods."

Slender party, (who is not very comfortable,)—"These street cars ought to charge by weight." Stout party (sharply)—"Ah, if they did they would never stop to pick you up."

Canadian Dominion Directory FOR 1870-71.

THE SUBSCRIBER proposes to issue in SEPTEMBER, 1870, if sufficient suppor t by SUBSCRIPTIONS and ADVERTISEMENTS can be obtained to cover the cost of Publication, a CANADIAN DOMINION DIRECTORY, comprising the Provinces of ONTARIO, QUEBEC, NOVA SCOTIA and NEW BRUNSWICK; to which will be appended the Provinces of NEWFOUNDLAND and PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND. The Directory will contain the names of Professional and Business Men, and of the principal Inhabitants in the Cities, Towns and Villages, together with a large amount of general information, including Alphabetical Directories of Post Offices and Postmasters, Banks, Governmental Departments and Employees, Houses of Parliament, Law Courts, Educational Departments, Customs Houses and Officers of Customs, Ports of Entry, Tariffs of Customs, List of Patents of Inventions, Canals, Railways, Railway and Steamboat Routes, Benevolent and Religious Societies, Clergy of all Denominations, Registered Vessels (with their Dimensions), and Periodicals, &c., &c.; also, Statements of Imports and Exports, Revenue, Expenditures, Trade, Population, &c., &c.

To be corrected to August, 1870.

The Canada Directory for 1857-58, published by the Subscriber, contained the names of the Principal Inhabitants in 1,329 Cities, Towns, and Villages in Upper and Lower Canada. The CANADIAN DOMINION DIRECTORY for 1870-71 will contain a short description of at least 3,500 Cities, Towns and Villages in the Dominion of Canada, and the Provinces of Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island, together with the Names of the Professional and Business Men, and of the principal Inhabitants.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil the finest linen, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is that in a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; others know its action, and all know that what it does once it does always —that it never fails. Hence the belief in the goodness of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action, remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their energy to action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills readily cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Pilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstruction which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppressions large doses should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

Should we not, should we longer adopt that systemic reference to medicines which are the simple extracted herbs or other plants and roots which our primary parents tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the spectacularity of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicine, viz:

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of its blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tumors, ulcers, old sores, blotches or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the genital vigor of the system, without destroying the strength of the patient. Sold at 60 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroborant for delicate persons, acting admirably under the most trying circumstances. A powerful recuperator after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with unparalleled success for causes of colds such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatism, pain—in fact it is a perfect CURE-ALL for COLDS & KILLS, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Relieforas used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female weaknesses or complaints, &c. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up his medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been expelled and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this insidious and subtle botanic disease undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs of heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it may exhaust its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers arises on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is an additional security against the inroads of this pervading evil, when even the active symptoms are absent. Persons afflicted with the following complaints, soon realize the most decisive relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: Tetter, Salt-rheum, Scaly or Pimply Eruptions, Boils, Blotches, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions of visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also, for more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Pile, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine But long continued use of this medicine will root the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are completely subdued by it, and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case will be found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by the accumulations of corrupting poisons fed in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Erysipelas, Neuralgia, Inflammations of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the same cause. Also, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, and bilious fevers, when dependent on bile, may be cured with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up his medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any one remedy been so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in the estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character for the cure of the severe pulmonary affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them, while mild cases, and milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most pleasant remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs, which often, rising against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed, all who are liable to colds and coughs, all should be provided with it as a protection from them.

Although Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled in the system, have been completely cured, some seemed settled in the system, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health and vigor, by the use of Cherry Pectoral. Nothing is its mastery over the disorders of the lungs and throat, within the medicinal range of human skill. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they have yielded and disappeared.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally has its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, for of less than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fevers, or and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither mercury, bark, bitters, or Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance, it is entirely vegetable, and contains the full number and importance of its cures in the ague districts of the country, by supplying one, and the only without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Cases of the most inveterate character, which have resisted the combined action of all other remedies, have readily yielded to the wonderful power of this antidote, and in every section, either resident in, or travelling through more than ordinarily localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from derangement of the Liver, it is a most excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures. Where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Dei Dottore F. P. Ferri, Prof. of Chemistry and Toxicology of Universita Pontificia, Rome.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, where Mr. Gianoli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1868, without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the élite of society, being generally served in the Dining Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 6, 1869. No. 133.

Our Halifax Letter.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

Dear Sir,—It is now something like five weeks since my last epistle was penned; I told you then of the grand reception extended in this old Atlantic city to our Governor General Sir John Young, alluding to the fact that some of our people refused to take part in the proceedings. Since that time His Royal Highness Prince Arthur,has paid us his promised visit. His reception was a perfect ovation. I happened to be over in P. E. Island at the time, and so managed to miss the affair. But I met a few American friends who had just arrived in Halifax from the neighbourhood of Boston, and they agreed that they had never seen any city so splendidly decorated with flags and so beautifully decked out in holiday attire as Halifax was when the Prince landed upon our shores. His reception was the wetest, with the exception of our place, was all that the most ardent Loyalist could desire. Unionists and Anties vied with each other in honouring the son of our beloved Queen, the truest, noblest, and best woman that ever sat on England's throne. The inhabitants of that rebellious little "gem of the sea," Prince Edward Island, were not behind their brethren upon the mainland, for, mark you, those Islanders are loyal to the throne, at least the great majority of them were loyal before the British Government began that silent, yet no less determined system of coercion, the end of which is to drive them into Confederation, or possibly Annexation. But they don't blame Prince Arthur or his mother for this, and so all joined heart and hand in extending him a right hearty and enthusiastic welcome. The only exception to this general rejoicing and harmony, was the small town of New Glasgow in Nova Scotia. There is a nest of Annexationists there, and a paper published by them whose avowed platform is Annexation. Those parties exhibited their good taste by hoisting the American flag with the Union Jack beneath at half mast, and reversed. Of course the Prince didn't land there.

But this news is old, and the outlines have doubtless been presented to your readers some time ago. I shall therefore hasten on to other matters which may be more interesting. The farmers have gathered a glorious harvest in almost every district. In P. E. Island they never had anything like this year's crop, since the old days some fifty years ago, when the virgin soil was newly brought under the husbandman's sway. The oyster mud, composed of the decayed and decaying shells of oysters and creatures of a similar character, which abounds in all the island, creeks and estuaries and bays, is found to possess extraordinary virtues as a fertilizer. The farmers are drawing it in every direction, and fast becoming rich in consequence. The weather is played out as a subject of news, though the wind has been blowing a pretty good gale all the night and doesn't seem to have played itself out yet. It is quite cool this morning and a fire would not feel uncomfortable. It seems that we are bound to pass from one source of excitement to another. No sooner had the Prince gone, when along came the Colchester election. There was'nt nearly so much noise about it, as there was about that of the Hon. Joseph Howe. It seemed to be distinctly understood that Archibald would win his seat, though his friends left no stone unturned, in a quiet way, to make the matter sure. The result of the contest indicates a wonderful change of feeling in the country, notwithstanding the loud proclamations of the Chronicle and other Anti papers, that the grave of of Adams, Archibald and his fellow sinners in the disgraceful transaction, by which this poor bleeding country was bound neck and heels, and handed over to the cruel tender mercies of "hungry, greedy, wicked Canada"—he dug some two years ago—Well, perhaps it was! But the intended occupants don't appear to be dead yet, or if they were at that time defunct, their late resuscitation is but another proof of the doctrine of a resurrection from the grave. I happened to be in the pretty little town of Truro on nomination day—too late to listen to the speeches delivered by some of the orators, and attempted to be delivered by others who were not allowed to speak. Among the unfortunate ones was Senator McLellan; I must say he had a good deal of brass to show his face in support of Archibald—the man whom he ousted only two years ago in this same county of Colchester, and in defence of his own action in accepting a measure which he then denounced as iniquitous, and tyrannical in the superlative degree. There was something manly in the action of Howe—he accepted the situation and an office, and then came down to his old constituents in Hants, with the honest declaration—I have done this thing, because I thought it best for all concerned, and now I wish your verdict upon my action. But McLellan after helping to set the whole country in a flame, quietly steps out of the class, and having secured a snug little office sets his constituents at defiance. He did not even ask their opinion upon the subject, and the people felt that such a course besides being very inconsistent, was by no means manly or upright. Hence it came to pass, upon nomination day, that the multitude would not listen to a single word of what he had to say; though I believe he was very anxious to defend his course. This conduct on the part of the meeting was no doubt very rude, and far from fair. The people seemed to be convinced by this, after the time for separating came, and so on declaration day, he was allowed to make his public defence—a noble effort I am told it was, in an oratorical point of view. How far he succeeded in dispersing the clouds that have been thundering around his head for the last few months, I am not prepared to say, as I have not read the speech, neither did I hear it delivered. Some rather good stories are related of sharp dealing on the part of those who opposed each other in the contest. I mean on the part of Committee men. One narrative is to the effect that Pearson, the Anti candidate, had sent up to Canada some time before the election for two or three thousand barrels of flour. The politicians don't as a general thing pay ready cash for votes down here, they only make presents to poor men with large families of a barrel or two of flour. One of Archibald's supporters heard that Pearson's election flour had arrived in Pictou, and down he goes to claim it as his own. Of course it could not be delivered until the dispute regarding ownership was settled. In the meantime the election day came on, while the flour, alas, which if judiciously employed, might have changed the fortunes of the hour, was lying quietly down at Pictou landing.—Next day the ingenious Unionist discovered that the flour wasn't his. I give the story of Dame Rumor for what it is worth, and though it was a rather sharp trick, it served Mr. Pearson right if he really intended thus to influence the election.—There is some talk of a dissolution of the Local Parliament at an early date, but this is probably unfounded. The union party know very well that the election in Hants and Colchester Counties are not a fair test of their real strength in the Province. Because it is a fact, patent to all who understand Nova Scotian politics, that no other men than Howe and Archibald could have gone into those localities and polled anything like the majorities that were rolled up by those two most popular candidates. Unionists would probably have gone in at the head of the poll in both counties at their last election, but the majorities should have been too small to render the risk by any means safe. The Union feeling is growing, and I think growing faster than it otherwise would do, from the fact that our parties are settling down into either confederates or annexationists; but in the meantime the former would do well to wait a little longer in order to make assurance doubly sure when the day of trial comes. Meanwhile, I remain

Yours, &c.,

Sir John Franklin's Fate Discovered.

The New York papers publish the following telegram from New Bedford, Mass., dated the 26th:—

"Dr. C. F. Hall, the distinguished Arctic explorer, with Ebierburg and Tookoolits, two Esquimaux, and their daughters arrived at this port to-day, in the ship 'Ansil Gibbs,' from Repules Bay, August 23. Dr. Hall brings, as amongst the results of his five years' residence in the Arctic regions, the most interesting intelligence in regard to the death of Sir John Franklin and his companions, and conclusive proof that none of them ever reached Montreal Island. He saw natives who were the last to look upon Crozier and his party. The Doctor also brings with him the remains of a young man who belonged to that ill-fated band of explorers, and also various relics of the explorations. He has prepared a report addressed to his friend, Mr. Henry Grinnell of New York, which will soon be given to the public through the press. Dr. Hall is by no means tired of exploration, and proposes next spring to start anew, and push his journeying to the North Pole. He regards his experience of the last ten years as invaluable to him as a preparation and aid in the future. In the report alluded to he says:—'Wherever I found that Sir John Franklin's companions had died, I erected monuments, fired salutes, and waved the Star Spangled Banner over them in memory of the discoverers of the North-West passage.'

They also publish the following telegram from Norwich, Conn.:—

"The whaling schooner Cornelia, Captain Baker, has arrived at New London from Cumberland Inlet. She brings as passengers three men belonging to Dr. C. F. Hall's expedition in search of Sir John Franklin. Dr. Hall is a passenger on board the ship Ansil Gibbs, for New Bedford. He has a number of articles belonging to Sir John Franklin, including some spoons and a

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 6.

PERSONAL.—The friends of Mr. Bowell, M. P., for North Hastings, will be glad to learn that he arrived home last evening, looking well and hearty after his three months' trip to England. Mr. K. Graham, M. P. P. for West Hastings, Mr. Thos. Wills, and Mr. P. R. Daly also arrived home by the Peruvian. Hon. R. Reed returned two weeks since in excellent health.

SAD ACCIDENT.—This afternoon while the Royal Salute was being fired on the arrival of the Prince's train the gun burst, and a piece of about six pounds weight struck Mr. Arthur Wensley in the groin, inflicting a wound about two and a half inches long and two and a half inches deep. Dr. Lister was called and did everything possible, but from the extent of the wound and injury there are but little hopes of his recovery.

THE WATSON BROTHERS.—Don't forget that the Watson Brothers perform to-night in Ontario Hall. They are without doubt one of the best troupes that has ever visited our town. This will be the last opportunity that the people of Belleville will have of seeing them, as they are now on their way to the United States. Their feats are marvellous. They are the only gymnasts that perform the wonderful feat of a somersalt from hands to hands in mid air, blindfold. Doors open at 7. performance to commence at 8.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—Last evening a most interesting and instructive lecture was delivered on the above subject in the Bridge Street W. M. Church, by Dr. Chas. Jewett, a celebrated lecturer and author from the United States. The subject was ably treated, and must have been the result of much experience and research. Being interspersed with numerous anecdotes, and a pleasant vein of humor running throughout whole, the vast audience were kept in rapt attention for upwards of two hours, and when the learned lecturer concluded his discourse he was enthusiastically applauded. This lecture must give the temperance work of the town a fresh impetus, and we hope it will be yet more successful.

The Exhibition.

The number of entries for the West Hastings Agricultural Exhibition thus far has been very large, and gives promise of one of the best shows ever seen in Belleville. The Skating Rink this afternoon presented a lively appearance. A considerable quantity of stuff for the Grain, Dairy, Vegetable, Fine Arts and other departments, was in the building early in the afternoon, and exhibitors were busily engaged in arranging it to the best advantage. The Rink will be open to the public this evening at 7:30 o'clock, and we hope to see a large attendance from the Town.

The School Board.

We occupy considerable space to-day with the report of the proceedings at the School Board last evening, and regret that we have not room to give the debate in full which took place at the meeting. The report of the Special Committee relating to the Superintendent's report is such a remarkable document that we give it in full, so that the public may have the benefit of the production of the wonderful genius who inspired it. We have not time now to discuss the questions involved in the report, but we venture to say there are not a dozen sensible men in the town, outside of those who voted for the adoption, but will characterize the reflection, upon the Superintendent as most uncharitable, unjust and ungentlemanly, and altogether unworthy the consideration of a deliberate body.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A terrible earthquake occurred in Peru on the 24th of August. The inhabitants of Callao and other places along the Pacific Coast are fleeing into the interior, and all valuable products are being removed in anticipation of the fulfilment of Professor Falks prophecy, that the whole coast would be sunk between the 24th Sept. and 5th of Oct,

The Prince in Belleville.

The largest crowd that was ever gathered together in Belleville, was at the Railway Station this afternoon to give a welcome to Prince Arthur and the Governor General. Belleville sent up nearly all its men, women and children, and from Trenton, Madoc, Shannonville, Stirling and other places in the county, came those who were anxious to see the Prince and to express their loyalty and attachment to the Throne, which his good mother the Queen has so long occupied. Considering the fact that the Prince was only to remain here a few moments, the manifestation of enthusiasm on the part of the people was remarkable.

Long before the train arrived the ground about the Station swarmed with people. They climbed on the freight sheds and locomotive shops, covered the tops of cars which were standing on the track, filled the garden plots, and close to the platform all around the fences were packed as close as human beings could be packed and live. The 15th Battalion, Col. Campbell, the Belleville Rifles, Capt. Hambly, the Grand Trunk Rifles, Capts. Nunn and Crowther, were present as a guard of honor, and lined the platform in front of the Station Building and made a passage to the steps leading to the platform.

On the arrival of the special train conveying His Royal Highness and the Governor General and suite, a Royal Salute was commenced, but owing to an unfortunate accident noticed in another place, was not concluded. Twenty-one fog signals were placed on the track which produced a loud report as the train came into the station. Accompanying the Prince were His Excellency the Governor General, Col. Elphinstone, Lt.-Gov. Howland, Sir John A. Macdonald, Mr. McMicken and others. Mr. Spicer and Mr. Stephenson, Superintendents of the Grand Trunk Railway, had charge of the train. The Mayor, with the Warden of the County, and members of the Town Council, members of Parliament for the County, the Judge of the County Court, the Police Magistrate, Principal of Albert College, several Clergymen and others, as a deputation met the Prince and party and accompanied them to the platform, where the following addresses were presented and replies received. A few presentations were then made to His Excellency and the Prince, but in consequence of being compelled to hurry off to reach Kingston in time, the Governor General expressed his regret to the Mayor that a larger number of presentations could not be made.

His Excellency expressed to the Mayor great satisfaction at the large turn-out of the volunteers, and the Prince expressed his great regret that he was not able to remain longer.

The party left the platform after a stay of only about ten minutes, and proceeded to the train amidst the heartiest cheers and loudest applause, which were ever heard in Belleville. After the party had got on the train, the Prince expressed a wish to see the commanding officer of the volunteers, and Lt.-Col. Campbell had the honor of a presentation to the Prince. As the train moved off, the Prince stood on the platform of the last car, and bowed repeatedly to the crowd who cheered lustily and continued cheering as long as the train was in sight.

The Band of the 49th Battalion, from Trenton, was present and took part in the military display.

The decorations about the Railway Station were profuse, and capitally arranged The platform where the ceremony of presenting the address was gone through with, was erected in the garden plot at the east end of the Station building, and with the approaches thereto, was covered with a handsome carpet. At each end of the building arches were erected which were tastefully decorated with evergreens. The one at the west end was surmounted with a Beaver and Maple Leaf, and that at the east end with a Crown and the letters V.R. Amongst the mottoes on the arches were "God bless the Prince," and "Welcome Sir John Young." The Station building and grounds were surrounded with a perfect forest of evergreens, and with the liberal display of flags and bunting, presented a very attractive appearance.

The following are the addresses to the Governor General and the Prince, with the replies:

To the Right Honorable Sir John Young, Baronet, K. C. B., G. C., M. G., Governor General of the Dominion of Canada.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY.

We, the Mayor and Corporation of Belleville, beg on behalf of the inhabitants to extend to you on the occasion of your first visit to our Town, a hearty welcome.

We gladly improve this opportunity sincerely to congratulate ourselves and the country at large upon the appointment by our beloved Queen of so distinguished a statesman to the Government of this Dominion; one who has, in other portions of the Empire, administered public affairs with such ability and success.

Your visit to this part of Ontario is a source of great enjoyment and gratification to all, and we earnestly pray that your Excellency may long be spared to enjoy the exalted position which you now occupy as the representative of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, in the Dominion of Canada.

We beg to express our sincere wish for the health and happiness of yourself and Lady Young.

ROBT. M. ROY, Town Clerk. P. D. CONGER, Mayor.

To the Mayor and Corporation of the Town of Belleville:

MR. MAYOR AND GENTLEMEN.

It is my pleasing duty to thank you for your loyal address of welcome on my arrival amongst you, as Her Majesty's representative.

The estimate which you have formed and expressed of my past services is only too flatter ing, but I can very truly assure you that no effort shall be wanting on my part to do all in my power to further earnestly and impartially the best interest of every section of the community.

Lady Young is most obliged by your good wishes, and I have pleasure in telling you that we have both been much gratified and interested in our tour through the prosperous Province of Ontario.

JOHN YOUNG.

To His Royal Highness Prince Arthur William Patrick Albert, K. G.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS.

We, the Mayor and Corporation of the Town of Belleville, beg to join heartily with our fellow subjects in this portion of the Empire, in expressing unfeigned joy at your presence among us, and to tender your Royal Highness a most sincere welcome.

We feel assured that the ardent and deep-seated attachment which the inhabitants of this Dominion entertain to your Royal Mother, her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria, will ensure for you loyal and enthusiastic greetings from all portions of this vast country.

We much regret that the present visit of your Royal Highness is too limited to permit you to receive the hospitality of our town, which we hope your Royal Highness may on some future occasion do us the honor to accept, and may enjoy the scenery of the Bay of Quinte, whose beautiful shores King George III, the benedcent and virtuous ancestor of your Royal Highness, gave to our fathers, the United Empire Loyalists, the self-sacrificing and heroic founders of British sovereignty in this Dominion of the North.

In the meantime, we join heartily in the prayer that under Divine Providence your stay in our Dominion may be pleasant to your Royal Highness and beneficial to our people.

ROBT. M. ROY, Town Clerk. P. D. CONGER, Mayor.

To the Mayor and Corporation of the Town of Belleville:

GENTLEMEN,

I can assure that any urging on your part is not needed to induce me to re-visit the Province of Ontario.

Its natural beauties afford sufficient reasons to render another visit most desirable, while the loyal and hearty welcome that has universally been accorded to me, increases my desire for a more intimate acquaintance with the people who have so generously entertained me.

Pray accept my sincere thanks for your kind offers of hospitality; and although other engagements prevent my accepting them, I nevertheless duly appreciate these acts of kindness as well as the truly loyal spirit and devotion to the Queen that calls them forth.

ARTHUR.

School Trustees.

TUESDAY, Oct. 5, 1869.

PRESENT.—F. McAnnany, Chairman; and Messrs. Shepard, Coleman, Sawyer, Tennant, Robertson, Sisson and Falkiner.

Applications for assistant teacher of School No. 4, were read from Miss Urquhart, Miss A. Canniff, Miss A. Kellogg, Miss R. Reynolds.

Mr. Sawyer moved, seconded by Mr. Shepard, That an assistant teacher for School No. 4 be appointed.—Carried.

Miss Urquhart was appointed.

A letter was read from the teachers of School No. 1, stating that they had collected $35 for a School Library, and wishing the Secretary to write to the Educational Department for necessary forms and catalogue of books; and asking for a book case. The request of the teachers was complied with, and the Committee for the School was empowered to procure the book case.

A letter was read from Ross, Bell & Holden, asking the Board if they desired further to contest the case of Smith vs. School Trustees, by an appeal to the Court of Error and Appeal.

Mr. Falkiner moved, seconded by Mr. Tennant, That Messrs Ross, Bell & Holden be requested to obtain the opinion of E. Blake, Q. C., as to the probable result of the suit of Smith vs School Trustees, if the Board decided to appeal.

Mr. Falkiner said the letter of Ross, Bell & Holden was very non commital, they should have given an opinion about the matter.

Mr. Shepard, Mr. Sawyer and the Chairman objected to spending another cent on this case. Nearly $1,000 of the people's money had already been frittere way in this suit, and they did not feel justified in thus squandering the public money.

The motion was carried on the following division:

YEAS.—Messrs.—Sisson, Falkiner, Tennant, Robertson and Coleman.

NAYS.—Messrs. Shepard, Sawyer and McAnnany.

Mr. G. R. Shepard resigned his position as Teacher of School No 5, to take effect on the 19th inst., and the Secretary was instructed to advertise for a Teacher to fill the vacancy.

A Report from Mr. Evans, Provincial Land Surveyor, respecting the drain at School No, 2, was read, and an account of $47 on account of repairs to the drain was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Quarterly Reports from the Superintendent and Teachers were read.

The Chairman laid on the table a copy of the decree of the Court of Chancery in the case of Smith vs School Trustees.

The following report from the Special Committee on the Superintendent's report was read.

To the Chairman and Board of School Trustees of the Town of Belleville.

"Your Committee to whom was referred the Quarterly Report of the Local Superintendent, beg to state that they have carefully read over said Report.

"It affords your Committee much pleasure to mark the well merited encomiums employed with respect to Mr. Macoun, and Miss Shanks, the Teachers in No. 1 School, for the great zeal and ability evinced by them, and the success attending their exertions and labor, labor it may well be styled, teaching in a building not well adopted for that purpose.

"Your Committee recommend that the Board grant a sum of money to be expended in judicious and necessary alterations in this building, to enable the Trustees to erect two galleries, thus assisting the teachers in School facilities, and give them a fair opportunity of competing with other schools who have these advantages, in a spirit of friendly rivalry. Mr. Macoun who has the great advantage of being trained at the Normal School, has long since pointed out the great benefit that would accrue to the cause of Common School education, by the building (No. 1) being adapted to the purpose for which it was intended, by their growing increased accommodations and facilities, which can be done at a comparatively small outlay, the walls of the building being in a sound condition.

"With respect to the remarks as to the services of Mr. Macoun and Miss Shanks, your Committee beg to say, that while they believe that this Board would receive with respect any suggestion or opinion which the Local Superintendent thought fit to offer, even outside his official duties, your Committee are of opinion that no such suggestion or opinion ought to be embodied in an official Report,

"The very satisfactory results of the examination held in School No. 2, must be a source of deep gratification to the Board, as in this Ward the Common School system was allowed a fair trial; no inauguration of new schemes, but simply the honestly carrying out of the system as approved of by the Board of Public Instruction and the Legislature of the country. The poorly constructed building built by former Trustees was thoroughly renovated; the building being small the expense had to be incurred of enlarging it, which was done nearly as possible under the circumstances, on the plan of the Ward Schools at Toronto. The additional Teachers required in consequence of the increase of pupils were procured, and the Board took the wise precaution of employing and selecting such teachers as had received their training at the Normal School, Toronto, and your Committee feel that the Board can with confidence appeal to the public and point to the results shewn at the examination held, as the best test of the progress made, and the efficiency of the pupils in the various branches of education taught in that School. That they consider that the teacher should have applied to the Trustees of the Ward, stating in writing her wants as to cards, &c., which no doubt would have been supplied, and thus have saved the trouble of their complaint being embodied in the Report.

"That they have much pleasure in further observing that the Local Superintendent has directed particular attention to the high average of attendance in School No. 2, by which it appears that the Teachers in this School strictly adhere to the Rules of the Board. This is a most important part of the Teachers' duty, the training of the child and the consequent enforcement of discipline. They trust that all the other teachers are equally alive to their duties, and do not and will not permit or suffer any infringement of the Rules.

"That they regret that the maps ordered some time ago by the Trustees of School No. 2, have not been supplied. The delay to some extent was caused by neglect in the Secretary not forwarding promptly the necessary requisition to Toronto.

"That they are not prepared to advise any change in the system of supplying the School requisites as the discretionary power vested in and exercised by the Trustees of each Ward is quite sufficient for ordinary purposes.

"That they remark that it is stated in Report that in Mr. Hughes' division there was no examination in Geography, the Teacher declaring that Maps had been applied for, &c., and were not furnished; yet in the same School Mr. Beatty's class was examined and reported in "Geography good." The same appliances were open to both Teachers. New maps, it is true, were ordered for the School as above referred to, but it was certainly expected that the old maps would be made use of until they were replaced by other and more perfect ones.

"That as to School No 3, they beg to refer the Board to the remarks as to the want of cards, &c., in School No 2, as equally applicable in this instance, and similar recommendations as applied to the necessary alterations in School No 1 will apply with equal force to this School. With pleasure they receive the testimony borne to the efficiency of the Teachers.

"That they have read the Report of the Local Superintendent as to the very unsatisfactory state and the working of Schools Nos. 4 and 5, and beg to advise that his recommendation should be carried out by the Board so far as it refers to a change being made in the management of those Schools, which, according to the Report, appears to be imperatively required; they therefore, with a view to meet the emergency would strongly recommend that Nos. 4 and 5 be made primary Schools, and that those pupils, as the Superintendent suggests, who can read in the 4th Book be drafted into Schools Nos 1, 2 and 3, as would be most convenient to the pupils; this arrangement being carried out would leave a primary class in each Ward (4 and 5) not too numerous to manage.

"That they note that part of the Report on the conditions and working of No 6 School intended exclusively for girls of the senior class, on examination the pupils appeared to have acquitted themselves, in all the departments, exceedingly well.

"That they admit that this School could be carried on to much better advantage in a building more adapted to the purpose, but they do not consider that the time has yet arrived to make or offer any suggestion or recommendation on that point.

"That they are much pleased with the high terms of commendation in which the Teachers of this School, (Miss Bonnar and Miss Leatch) are spoken of, and which they considered well deserved.

"With respect to the last paragraph of the Local Superintendent's Report, your Committee regret that the Local Superintendent should have thought it expedient in his official Report to give his advice and opinion respecting the enlargement of Schools and the extension or non-extension of the present School system as well as criticising the proceedings and condemning the acts of the Board whose officer he is, as previously intimated by your Committee; it will be well for the Superintendent to confine himself to what has been considered the duties of his office, especially in his official Reports, as the Board can at any time avail itself of his opinion and advice when they consider it expedient so to do."

All of which is respectfully submitted.

EDMUND J. SISSON.
C. L. COLEMAN.
N. B. FALKINER.

October 5th, 1869.

A lengthy discussion took place upon a motion to adopt the report, for which we have not room to day. Mr. Shepard characterized the report as most ungentlemanly and uncourteous towards the Superintendent, and wanted the report laid over, as it contained many matters which called for careful consideration. The Chairman said it was a most unnecessary and unjust attack upon the Superintendent, whose duty it was to perform the duties for which he was censured. Mr. Tennant opposed it as it constituted No. 4 a primary school, and they would be stultifying themselves by adopting it in face of the appointment of an assistant teacher for that School. Mr. Sawyer also opposed it most strenuously. It was adopted, however, on the following division:—

YEAS.—Messrs. Sisson, Falkiner, Tennant, Sawyer and Coleman.

NAYS.—Messrs. Shepard, Sawyer and McAnnany.

On motion of Mr. Falkiner, seconded by Mr. Coleman, Messrs. Tennant, Robertson, Coleman and Falkiner, were appointed a Standing Committee on repairs and improvements to Schools.

On motion of Mr. Falkiner, seconded by Mr. Robertson, the Secretary-Treasurer was required to produce his books of account at all regular meetings of the Board.

Mr. Shepard introduced the report of the Finance Committee, which was adopted.

Board adjourned.

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childlessladen proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squabble over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite. THE CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE remarks:—"The singular success which Mr. Epps obtained by his homœopathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." SPECIAL NOTICES.

SONG OF IRON.

I am mighty in the sabre,
Fiercely wielded by the brave;
Glorious on the stalwart steamer,
Laughing at the storm and wave,

Beauteous in the palace pillars,
Saving in the pointed rod,
As it brings the deadly lightning,
Quelled and harmless to the sod.

But there is a glorious essence,
Where I take my grandest power,
Giving to the RACE my surest,
Sweetest aid in danger's hour.

See! before me fly diseases!
See the darkest hydras bow!
See the rose of health and beauty
Take the palest cheek and brow.

Fly, dyspepsia! fly, consumption!
Yes, all ills are crushed at length,
For I give what human nature
Only ever needed—STRENGTH.

Shall I tell in what great essence
I can thus your spirits cheer up?
Pallid, trembling, dying sufferer,
Ask the famed "PERUVIAN SYRUP."

The PERUVIAN SYRUP is a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron, a new discovery in medicine that strikes at the root of disease by supplying the blood with its vital principle or element—Iron.

Had to Enlarge his STORE.
W. JOHNSON,

AT the close of his first four Months in Business would be unworthy of the extensive patronage he has received, did he not thus publicly express his gratitude for the extensive, and still extending support he has received. He hopes by still following the rules which he has laid down for his guidance, to merit a portion of your trade. He would again repeat his mottoes:

Reasonable Profits,
(He believes in the "Nimble Penny.")
ONE PRICE,

PLANTAGENET
MINERAL WATER,

CONTINUES to be the favourite with the people, in consequence of the quantity of Iodine, Iron, Magnesia, &c.,

it contains, as compared with other Springs, and its superior medicinal combination so providentially supplied. It is unsurpassed as a

Tonic, Alterative, Laxative and Diuretic.

As a beverage it is at once cooling and healing. When aerated it takes the place of Soda Water and Seltzer. It is of much service to ladies, and should be used by gentlemen of sedentary habits.

To get the genuine article from the Springs, now 50 years in use, ask for PLANTAGENET WATER, at Hotels and Druggists.

For sale by Charters & Webster, L. W. Yeomans & Co., J. H. Hambly, Apothecaries Hall, J. C. Holden & Co., and at the Dafoe House, Belleville.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a graceful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any which the public have hitherto tried it, more thatit cured them; those who have used it, more thatit cured them; those who have not, kno" thatit cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them overfresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such it will cure those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Principal Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the relief desired by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottle at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medicine than can be prepared in any other form for four times the amount of money.

Each package of Pain Killer contains testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, etc.

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as scrofula—tumors, scrofula, ring'worm, white swellings, tendency to pimples, blotches or troublesome sores, ulcers, fever sores, &c. It drives away all impurities from the blood, and by so doing it cures the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, thus restoring the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion, in all its various forms. As an appetizer, as a tonic, as a medicine it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corrector of torpid state patients; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a thorough cleanser of the blood; a sure remedy for nervousness, for sick headache, for biliousness, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from the cures many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were apparently for the time subdued by the scrofulous contamination until they were gaudily effective, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of the virtues of this great remedy.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of man. Often, when unsuspected, the fatal tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to lie dormant in the blood for years, when one day, from some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Before the medicinal use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is ad. visable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints cannot take this medicine too soon, or too long. Let, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA. Let St. Anthony's Fire, Sore or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Throat, and other manifestations of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterine affections and irregularities of the nervous system.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for enduring these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Ulcerations and Tumors, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield to it. Also in Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the morbific poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great reformer for the strength and virtue it imparts. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of debility, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of a people as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among all classes of society, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become more known. Its numberless cures of the most dangerous of the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. It is also adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, and at the approach of the changeable weather of spring can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a preventive against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family. Indeed, as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with a remedy for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and life saved, by the use of this balmy remedy. Cherry Pectoral so completely tones its mastery over the diseases of the lungs and throat, that the most inveterate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they quickly disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of those here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Strychnine, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is entirely safe under any circumstances. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, during the past and present generations, are beyond without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is great in the numerous testimonials we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

The Daily Intelligencer

WILL appear about five o'clock every afternoon (Sundays excepted) and will be furnished by Carriers at the rate of $5 a year if paid in advance, $6 otherwise. Mail subscribers $5 a year. $2 50 for 6 months; $1 50 for 3 months.

It will contain the latest telegraphic news up to the hour of going to press, including Cable despatches and the New York and Montreal Markets.

Arrangements have been made with RELIABLE CORRESPONDENTS in Madoc, Bridgewater, Marmora and other points, who will furnish us with early and full information respecting the Gold Regions, and of matters of general interest.

Special attention will be paid to reporting the proceedings of Courts of Law, Corporations, Public Meetings, &c., &c., and in short, neither pains nor expense will be spared to make the DAILY INTELLIGENCER worthy of public patronage.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of Universily Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original proprietor at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose order Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Casale, held at that place in 1868, is, without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served at the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Prepared and sold wholesale by the Proprietor,

A. M. F. GIANELLI,
175d 41w 26 Hospital Street, Montreal.

Father Hyacinthe.

THE MODERN SAVANOROLA AND THE PAPAL SEE—CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE—HIS LETTER OF RESIGNATION.

Father Hyacinthe has resigned his post as superior of the Carmelites in Paris. A few months since this Priest made an intelligent speech at a peace meeting in Paris, advocating in noble language the cause of religious toleration. This speech, it appears, gave offence at Rome, and Father Hyacinthe received a severe rebuke from the "general" of his order, the barefooted Carmelites. To this rebuke he has now replied through the Paris papers. The letter will cause no small sensation in clerical circles:

My Very Reverend Father,—During the five years of my ministry at Notre Dame de Paris, and in spite of the open attacks and whispered accusations of which I have been the object, the esteem and the confidence that you reposed in me have not ceased for a single moment. I have preserved many testimonials written by your own hand, and referring as much to my preaching as to myself.

To-day, however, by a sudden change, of which I trace the cause, not in your own heart, but in the menaces of an all-powerful party in Rome, you accuse me of doing that which you encouraged, you blame that which you approved, and you command me to use a language, or to preserve a silence, which would not be the complete and loyal expression of my conscience.

I do not hesitate an instant. With words made false in obedience to the commands of my superiors, or mutilated by misleading reticence, I cannot remount the Cathedral of Notre Dame. I express my regret to the intelligent and courageous archbishop who has opened that pulpit to me, and has maintained me there against the evil wishes of men, of whom I shall speak presently. I express my regret to the imposing audience which has encompassed me with its attention, its sympathy, and, I would almost add, its friendship. I should be worthy neither of the audience of the bishop, of my conscience, nor of God, if I could consent to play before them such a part.

At the same time, I quit the convent in which I have dwelt, and which, in the new circumstances of my position, has become to me a prison of the soul. In acting thus, I am not unfaithful to my vows; I have promised monastic obedience, but only within the limits prescribed by integrity and conscience, by the dignity of my own manhood and of my own sacred office. I have promised monastic obedience under the benefit of that superior law of justice and of "royal liberty" which is, according to the apostle James, the true Christian law.

It is the more perfect practice of that holy freedom that I have demanded in this cloister for a period of more than ten years in the fervour of an enthusiasm which has been free from every selfish calculation, although I cannot add that it has been free from every illusion of youth. If, in exchange for my sacrifices, I am to-day offered chains, it is not only my right, but my duty to reject them.

The present hour is solemn. The church is passing through one of the most violent, most obscure, and most decisive trials of her existence on this earth. For the first time during three hundred years an Œcumenical Council has not only been convoked but declared necessary; these are the expressions of the Holy See. It is not at such a moment that a preacher of the Gospel, even where he the least of all, could consent to remain silent, like the dumb dogs of Israel—unfaithful guardians whom the prophet reproaches with being unable to bark; Canes muti non valentes latrare.

The saints are never killed. Of those saints I am not one, but nevertheless, I belong to the same race—Alii sanctorum sumus—and I have always been ambitious to put my feet, my tears, and, if they should fail, my blood, in the traces which they have left.

I raise, then, before the Holy Father and the Council my protest, as a Christian and as a preacher, against those doctrines and those practices which are called Roman but are not Christian, and which, in their encroachments, always more audacious and more fatal, tend to change the constitution of the church, the basis as well as the form of instruction, and even the very spirit of piety. I protest against the divorce—impious as well as foolish—which is sought to be effected between the church, which is our mother for eternity, and the society of the nineteenth century, of which we are the children for the time, and towards which we owe duties and love.

I protest against that still more radical and frightful war with human nature, which finds the most indestructible and most holy aspirations assailed by false teachers. I protest, above all, against the sacrilegious perversion of the Gospel of the Son of God himself, of which the spirit and the letter are equally trodden under foot by the pharisaism of the new law.

My most profound conviction is, that if France particular, and the Latin races in general, are delivered up to anarchy—social, moral and religious—the principal cause of the calamity is certainly not in Catholicism itself, but in the manner in which Catholicism has for a long time been understood and practised.

I appeal to the Council which assembles to seek remedies for our evils, and to apply those remedies with as much force as mildness. But if fears, which I do not wish to share should be realized—if the august assembly should not have greater freedom in its deliberations that it has already had in its preparation—if, in a word, it should be deprived of the characteristic which essentially belong to an Œcumenical Council, I would appeal to God and to man for the summoning of another, truly united in the Holy Spirit, not in the spirit of parties really representing the Universal Church, not the silence of some and the oppression of others. "I suffer cruelly because of the suffering of the daughter of my people; I utter cries of sorrow, and terror has laid hold of me. Is there no balm in Gilead? and is there no physician there? Why, then, is not the wound of the daughter of my people closed. (Jeremiah viii.)

In short, I appeal to your tribunal, O Lord Jesus! Ad tuam, Domine Jesu, tribunal appello. It is in your presence that I write these lines; it is at your feet, after much reflection, much suffering and much attention, it is at your feet that I sign them. I have confidence in them; and if men condemn them on earth, you will approve of them in heaven. That suffices me for life and death.

FR. HYACINTHE, Superior of the Barefooted Carmelites of Paris.

Paris, Passy, Sept. 20, 1869.

Odds and Ends.

TOO TRUE.—As many marriages, by their unhappy terminations, would seem to have been planned by Satan, they may be looked upon in the light of "Lucifer matches."

An Irishman who was drinking the health of the bishop, gave the toast: 'May your reverence live to eat the old hen that crows over your grave.'

'John! John!' shouted an old gentleman to his son, 'get up; the sun is up before you.' 'Very well,' said John; 'he has further to go than we have.'

'If there is anybody under the canister of heaven that I have in utter excresence,' said Mrs. Partington, 'it is the slanderer, going about like a boa-constrictor, circulating his calomel upon honest folks.'

ELEGANT GENT:—'Well, on consideration, I suppose I can allow you a couple of thousand per annum for pocklankerchiefs; but be easy as you can, my dear, on gloves. How will a hundred and fifty dollars per month do?'

A Parisian editor pestered a prominent official with offers of newspaper assistance. The minister endured it for some time, but finally replied:—"My dear friend, you are mistaken. If geese did once save the capital, it was not with their quills."

Nature has written honest man on his face,' said a man to Jerrold, speaking of a person in whom Jerrold's faith was not altogether blind. 'Humph!' Jerrold replied; 'then the pen must have been a very bad one.'

And no wonder.—We learn with unmitigated satisfaction that as a sporting exquisite was exhibiting his pigeon-slaying prowess before a 'select company of ladies' (save the mark!) his gun—doubtless in disgust—'recoiled.'

An orator who had raised his audience to a great height by his lofty soarings, exclaimed, "I will now close in the beautiful and expressive language of the poet—I forget his name—and—and I forget what he said too."

TRUE POLITENESS.—If you carve a turkey, and it should be tough, and slip off the dish through your awkwardness, and it falls into a lady's lap, it is reckoned polite to make a bow, and say, "Please, ma'am, may I trouble you for that turkey again.'

CURIOUS.—Is it not strange that when a shipwrecked sailor talks about his having been 'washed on shore,' he seldom or never mentions what description of soap he found best adapted to his purpose? However, let's hope that some day other we may be to (well)ed.

ON THE LAKES.—A steamboat captain on one of the lakes was recently feeling his way along in the dark, when the look-out ahead cried out, "Schooner without a light!" It was a narrow escape, and as the steamer passed the schooner the captain demanded: "What are you doing here with your infernal schooner in the dark without a light?" To his dismay, the skipper, who was a Frenchman, answered, "Vat ze diable you do here viz your ole steamboat in three feet of water, eh?" and just then the steamer landed high and dry on a sand bank.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, OCT. 7.

RECOVERING.—We are glad to learn that Mr. Arthur Wensley, who was injured yesterday by the bursting of a cannon, is better to-day, and it is believed that he will recover.

TESTING THE FIRE ENGINE.—A deputation from the Town Council of Napanee came to Belleville yesterday for the purpose of seeing our Steam Fire Engine work. The engine was tested and the manner in which it performed its duty was very satisfactory. Napanee we believe contemplates the purchase of an Engine. They will be wise in doing so, for with good management it will pay for itself in one fire.

AN INCIDENT.—As His Royal Highness, Prince Arthur, was proceeding to the train from the platform, yesterday, he noticed amongst the crowd an old soldier named Blythman, who wore on his breast several medals. He presented him with a breast pin, and told him he would hear from him again. It is in such little courtesies as this, and the kindly bearing towards all with whom he comes in contact, that Prince Arthur has won for himself the esteem and good will of the entire community.

GREAT EARTHQUAKE.—A telegram from New York, Oct 6th, says: A Lima letter states that on August 21st and 24th there were tremendous shocks of earthquake in the lower provinces. On the latter day they were the heaviest. Walls and houses tumbled, and at Quiquae and Arica a tidal wave carried away many boats and other property. The inhabitants fled and are living in tents. All the goods in the custom houses were transferred to Tacana to escape any recurring wave. Pesaqua and other places also suffered. There have been earthquakes all through August in the whole southern portion of the country. Lima and Callao have not suffered as yet, but many people are leaving both places. Business is seriously impeded.

West Hastings Agricultural Society.

The annual exhibition of the West Hastings Agricultural Society has this year proved very successful. The number of entries has not only been greater than in any former year, but several circumstances have combined to render the exhibition superior in most every department. The wisdom of devoting two days to the show has been demonstrated by the increased interest taken in the horticultural, floricultural and fine arts departments, and by the large attendance at the evening exhibition on Wednesday. There is a keener spirit of rivalry and competition manifested, and there are evidences all about us that in Agriculture, Manufactures, Science and Arts, the County is making rapid progress. The weather both yesterday and to-day was delightful, which fact not only added to the number of exhibitors, but largely increased the number of visitors. We have had an unusual year in farming and gardening operations, and are in a position to exhibit a better article and class of produce than in ordinary years, and the spirit of rivalry to which we have referred, has brought into the field a larger number of competitors. Any one who has made a study of these County and Township Shows, and carefully noted the progress made from year to year, must be gratified to find that such rapid advancement is being made. It is only by comparison that we can form a correct estimate of the progress made, and it is only necessary to take any one article in any one department, and place the one shown in 1859 with that exhibited in 1869, to be convinced of the gradual improvement which has been made. Knowledge is required in Agriculture as much as in any other science, and the idea that "book-learning" is not necessary to make a good farmer has long since been exploded. A man now-a-days, to make a successful farmer or gardener or mechanic, must bring to his work an intelligent knowledge of that work. The age of ignorance is fast giving place to the age of intelligence, and although there are larger numbers of young men seeking positions in mercantile life and professional life, who could make more money and even better positions by sticking to their farms and workbenches, the day when a farmer's life was looked upon with disdain has long since passed. It is the noblest pursuit of life.

"Give fools their gold, and knaves their power;
Let fortune's bubbles rise and fall;
Who sows a field, or trains a flower,
Or plants a tree, is more than all."

But it is not our purpose now to write a homily upon the science of farming, but to attempt a brief description of what was seen last night and to-day at the Exhibition. First we will look in at the Skating and Curling Rinks, which have been specially fitted up for the Floricultural, Horticultural, Dairy, Fine Arts and Ladies' Departments, and admirably adapted they are for the purpose.

THE MERCHANTS' DEPARTMENT.

In the centre of the Rink a large stand extending nearly the whole length of the building, has been erected for the convenience of merchants who wished to display their goods. Although only a few took advantage of this excellent method of advertising, still a very creditable display was made.

Johnson, who fully appreciates the value of advertising, made an excellent exhibition of his goods, comprising hats, caps, and all kinds of furnishing goods which were arranged in a very tasteful manner.

Next came W. H. & I. B. Graham who displayed to excellent advantage a large quantity of carpets, table covers, curtain hangings, coats, &c.

Geo. Ritchie & Co. occupied considerable space with a show of elegant carpetings, rugs, piano covers, curtains, &c., which were handsomely arranged.

And not behind any of the others Geo. C. Holton & Co., made a magnificent display of carpetings, piano covers, rugets, &c. This department attracted universal attention, and the manner in which the goods were arranged reflected great credit upon those who had the supervision of it.

On the same range Mr. Dunbar exhibited a fine case of fishing tackle of his own manufacture, and a good model of the Great Eastern. Adjoining this was an excellent model of a coach house and stable, with a coach and horses standing outside the coach house door, and a man on horseback. It was a highly creditable piece of workmanship.

Mr. Alex. Morrice exhibited a lot of Boots and Shoes of his own make, which displayed excellent workmanship.

FRUIT.

On shelves placed on the platform at the south side of the Rink a very choice display of fruit was made, which presented a tempting appearance. Of apples there were no less than sixty different lots, from the smallest crab to the largest greening; and of pears there was a very good show. The display of plums was confined to one assortment of blue plums and green gages. Quite a number of fruit and pickles were shown on adjoining shelves. Only one specimen of Grapes was shown.

SEWING MACHINES.

Adjoining the Fruit Stand a place was enclosed for the Sewing Machine department, which was under the management of Mr. W. H. Vantassel, who is agent for Irwin & Co's, and Wheeler & Wilson's manufacture. A lively scene was presented here during the time the exhibition was opened to the public, and the manager was kept busy in explaining to on-lookers the working of the various machines he had in use. Some beautiful specimens of stitching were exhibited.

HARNESS AND HORSE SHOES.

We couple them together, because the articles in this department were in close proximity. Mr. J. Copeland showed a very fine single set of harness, and some single saddles, and a large travelling trunk. Major Gillum also exhibited a fine saddle.

We don't profess to know much about horse shoes, but those exhibited, we believe the manufacture of Mr. J. Turner, looked as if they were well made.

COBVALDIS, QUILTS, &C.

All along the railing on the balcony on the north side were ranged a most extensive assortment of domestic manufactures, consisting of Quilts, Shawls, Rag Carpets, comprising the best show in this department ever exhibited.

On shelves further back there was a fair show of flannels, full cloth, yarn, socks &c.

FURNITURE.

Messrs. Lacroix & Grant, a new firm in the Furniture business, made a magnificent show of parlor and bed room furniture.—The work was of the finest description and was much admired.

FLOWERS, PLANTS, &C.

A very fine variety of plants and flowers, forming a new and interesting feature in the exhibition, was shown. An Oleander plant in bloom, was particularly noticed for its symmetrical appearance and the beauty of its flower.

DAIRY DEPARTMENT.

It is very evident from the large display of cheese that we are making rapid progress in the manufacture of this most useful household necessity and important article of commerce. Not less than sixty different cheeses were shown, the greater part of which was factory make.

The show of butter was good, but not so large as we have seen at former exhibitions of this Society.

FINE ARTS.

Mr. Zablocki exhibited some beautiful specimens of pen and ink sketches and pencilling, which were much admired.—Some oil paintings and crayon sketches were also shown, but we did not learn who by.

Forrest made a very fine display of photographic pictures.

GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.

This department which was under the management of Miss Bonnan and Miss Leatch, Teachers of the Girls' High School, presented a very attractive appearance.—The articles on exhibition comprised a great variety of work in embroidery, tatting, raised work, pencil drawing, &c., which was executed in a manner reflecting the highest credit upon the girls connected with the school, and upon their efficient Teachers. It attracted universal admiration from the crowds who visited the show, and warm were the commendations bestowed upon the skill and handiwork of the pupils connected with the school.

THE LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

In this department there was a little of everything which the ingenuity and skill of woman can manufacture; such a variety indeed that we can only refer to it in general terms. The place occupied by this department was thronged by an admiring crowd, not only during the evening of Wednesday, but to-day after the doors were thrown open. A great deal of the work compares very favorably with the best shown at the Provincial Exhibition, and it is to be hoped that next year some of this work may be taken to Toronto, where we feel almost certain it will obtain prizes.

GRAIN.

In the Curling Rink adjoining the Skating Rink, the grain was exhibited.—There was a very good variety of grain and seed, but not so large as we have seen at former shows. The quality was excellent.

ROOTS, VEGETABLES, &C.

The excellent season we have had was demonstrated in the great variety and excellent quality of roots and vegetables exhibited. The beets and carrots, the mangel wurtzel and turnips, the potatoes and onions, the cabbage and cauliflower, the pumpkin and squash, the tomatoes and celery were about the finest that was ever shown at this Society's exhibition.

POULTRY.

This deparment was better represented than usual. There were some fine fowls, good ducks and geese and a few pretty good sized turkeys. Amongst the poultry deserving of particular mention was a pair of pure Embden geese, shown by Mr. Wm. Johnston, School Teacher, Front of Sidney. There was some other geese and a few lots of good fowls, but we did not learn the names of the exhibitors.

MANUFACTURES.

In the Curling Rink also we observed a fine lot of doors, sashes, blinds, &c., from the manufactory of Mr. A. N. Pringle, Belleville. The panelling of the doors showed superior workmanship, as in fact did all the articles he exhibited. A few specimens of excellent brick were also exhibited.

CARRIAGES.

The show of Carriages was exceedingly creditable to the manufacturers, the workmanship on which was equal to the best seen in the largest manufactories in the Dominion.

Mr. W. H. Vermilyea was the largest exhibitor, having several Carriages, Democrats, Buggies, and a Cutter, of the most improved construction, and finished in the finest style.

Mr. W. J. Baker, exhibited a covered Buggy, which was much admired for its style and the workmanship displayed on it.

From the manufactories of J. & E. Sprague and of Mr. Way, of Ameliasburg, there was a fine lot of Carriages and Buggies, and a physician's phaeton, which created considerable attraction.

STOVES.

The only exhibitors in this department were the firm of Messrs. G. & J. Brown, who showed a variety of their excellent Box, Parlor and Cooking Stoves.

OUTSIDE GROUNDS.

We will now go where the great crowd is gathered to see the Stock and Farming Implements on the exhibition grounds in rear and to the east of the Skating Rink.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

The display of Farming Implements is larger than last year, and we are glad to observe that our Foundries are giving their attention to the manufacture of those Implements which have hitherto been largely supplied by manufacturers abroad.

First on the ground we notice the implements of Mr. G. D. Armstrong, which comprise a fanning mill, cider mill, washing machine and horse rake, which are highly spoken of by those who use them.

Next comes the firm of J. M. Walker & Co., who occupy a large space with their various Implements. They show amongst other articles a magnificent thresher called the "Champion," which they say can do better work than the threshers from the famous Oshawa Manufactory; a field cultivator, ploughs of various patterns, corn cultivator, corn mill, straw cutter, and drag saw. The manufactures of this firm were much and deservedly admired.

Further to the north the firm of G. & J. Brown, whose machinery and implements are too well known to need special commendation, covered a large plot of ground with their manufactures, and where during the entire exhibition several employees belonging to the establishment were kept busy showing and explaining the various articles on exhibition. Amongst their manufactures, we may mention their celebrated clipper plough, gang and other ploughs, field cultivators, drags and a patent fastener for the teeth, straw cutters, sawing machines, threshing machines, &c.

Next comes the display from the Foundry of Mr. W. H. Wallbridge, the chief attraction of which was a magnificent Steam Engine, stationary, manufactured by himself, and is a splendid piece of workmanship. It was very much admired. In addition to this Mr. Wallbridge exhibited a Threshing Machine and some Ploughs.

Mr. Geo. Carr of Sidney was on the ground with his famous Harrows, which obtained the second prize at the London Exhibition, and which were the centre of considerable attraction.

There were some Reapers and Mowers on the ground, but as the owners were not present when our reporter was around, we do not know to whom they belonged.

In this department there is much to commend, and we have no doubt our manufacturers with the facilities at their command, will continue to make improvements in their implements, and add new ones to the list.

HORSES.

The show of horses was very good, better than some two or three years past. Of two and three year old colts the show was particularly good. There were a few brood mares with colts, some fine stallions, and a number of carriage and saddle beasts which for beauty of build and carriage could scarcely be excelled.

CATTLE.

The exhibition of Cattle was comparatively meagre, but what was on the ground was good. In milch cows, fat spring calves, and yearlings, it would be difficult to find a better lot than was on the show grounds to-day. A pair of twin-oxen, exhibited by Mr. Boardman, were much admired. The principal exhibitors in cattle were Sheriff Taylor, M. Boardmer, T. Powell, T. D. Farley, A. Gilbert, Major Gillum, W. A. Foster, G. & J. Boardman and D. Roblin. A yoke of fat oxen, owned by Mr. J. Vandervoort, of Rawdon, attracted considerable attention. While it is to be regretted that a larger number of cattle was not on the ground, it is gratifying to see a disposition on the part of so many farmers to improve their breed of stock.

PIGS.

There were only eight pigs entered and of these the only two lots which are worthy of special mention are the Boar and Yorkshire Sow shown by Mr. A. Anstee of Sidney, and a sow exhibited by Mr. David Roblin, of Sidney.

SHEEP.

Here, too, there was a great falling off as compared with former years, both as to number and quality. The principal exhibitors, so far as we could learn, were Mr. A. Anstee, who had a splendid Leicester Ram, Sheriff Taylor, who showed a number of fine lambs, and Mr. John Garbutt, who had a fine lot of Leicester sheep and lambs.

CLOSING UP.

Taking it altogether, the exhibition may be considered to have been more successful than last year, and great credit is due to the President and Directors of the Society, who were unremitting in their exertions to have everything go off as it should. Last evening the receipts at the door were some $47, which at ten cents each showed an attendance of nearly 500 persons. This afternoon the attendance was much greater, and the exhibition appeared to give the highest satisfaction to all those who witnessed it.

We have endeavored to make a note of everything that was worth seeing, but from the necessarily hurried manner in which we have had to make it, and from the fact that we could not learn the names of several of the exhibitors, we may have ommitted mentioning some articles which were really deserving of notice. If there be any such overlooked we shall only be too happy to supply the omission in a future number.

SPECIAL PRIZES FOR FACTORY CHEESE.—1st Port Hope; 2nd Thomasburg; 3rd Front of Sidney.

[The Judges beg to report that lot No.8, though the best quality of cheese on Exhibition, cannot be recommended for the first prize, the exhibitors not having conformed to the rules by which the Cheese are to be judged. The rule provided that the Cheese exhibited shall be one of the manufacture of "the last week of July, one made in each week in August, and one made during the first week of September; and lot No. 6 being of the manufacture as per dates upon said Cheese of "July 31, August 4, 10, 16, 24 and 30," and not of September, the judges felt they had no other course to pursue than rule them out.

The Judges have much pleasure to report further that the quality of all the Cheese on exhibition is a decided improvement upon that of former years for export purposes.]

[N. B.—Number six referred to above, represents the Union Factory of Canilton.]

The Wallace monument in Scotland has at last been inaugurated. A vast crowd of spectators were present at the inaugural ceremonies. It is a magnificent piece of architecture. A national monument to Robert Bruce is now talked of.

Said Lord John Russell to Mr. Hume at a social dinner, "What do you consider the object of legislation?" "The greatest good to the greatest number." "What do you consider the greatest number?" continued his interrogator. "Number one," was the commoner's prompt reply.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that two several Promissory Notes for $20 each, dated the 7th or 8th December, 1868, payable at nine and twelve months respectively, made by James Geddes, of the Township of Thurlow, to me the undersigned, have been either Lost or Stolen, and all persons are hereby forbidden negotiating the said Notes as payment has been stopped.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite.—THE CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE remarks: "The delicate nourishment afforded by Mr. Epps's latined by his homœpathic preparation of cocoa from the finest roasted nibs has very experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold by the Trade only in ½lb., ¼lb., and 1lb. tin lined packets, labelled—JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England. 91—6m-183

OPENING OF THE DIET—ROYAL SPEECH.

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—King William opened the diet to-day with a speech from the throne. He said an unavoidable deficit in the finances rendered an augmentation of taxes necessary. He announced that reforms would be introduced placing the eastern provinces on a basis of self government, and that new laws in regard to public education would be submitted. He alluded to the success of his efforts to preserve peace and friendly relations with foreign powers, and hoped he should have similar success in the future for the development of intercourse and for the maintenance of the independence of Germany.

THE SUPPOSED FENIAN DEASEY.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The person thought to be Kelly or Deasey, who was brought to King's College Hospital, badly injured a few days ago, died there yesterday. It transpired during the coroner's inquest that he was the Fenian Martin.

THE INSURRECTIONARY MOVEMENT.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—Official despatches from Madrid charge that Senor Paul, member of the Cortes, is in command of one of the republican bands of the South.

Communication between Madrid and Barcelona is interrupted.

The insurgents evacuated the town of Reus on the approach of the troops.

Salvoches has been captured.

Official reports assert that the insurrectionary movement is declining. No accounts of late occurrences have yet been received from the republicans.

THE LATEST.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—A missionary has arrived here from Zanzibar, who brings welcome intelligence that Mr. Kirk had received a letter from Dr. Livingstone, dated February, '69. The Doctor was then on Lake Tanganyiki, in good health but short of provisions.

It is thought the Government at Madrid will conceal the real state of affairs in the Provinces. The fact has come out that the insurgents evacuated Reus to avoid premature collision with the troops. Some Republican deputations left Madrid to raise the northern and central Provinces, and arrangements were to be made for a simultaneous rising in Santander, Tarquel, Haya, Lerida and Huesca, the Republicans, propose to raise the Provinces and then to attempt a coup de main against Madrid. Fresh bands have appeared in the Province of Saragossa. The Republic has been proclaimed in La Jutregera, and a rising is feared at Valladolia. Deputy Paul it is said was threatened with death if he did not join the insurgents. The latter are reported guilty of pillage in Vandalucia and assassination. The Cortes passed a bill to suspend Individual rights. The situation is bad, but if the army remains faithful it need not be considered desperate.

The International sculling match between Brown and Saddler is off. The former suffering from a wound, and being unable to row, will pay the forfeit.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 6.—The great powers have withdrawn from interference in the affairs of Egypt.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Consols for both 93¾; 5-20's for '62 94½; '65 old 83½; '67 82¾; Erie 24; I. C. 91¾; A. & G. W. 25¾.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 7.—Cotton dull; Orleans 12¾; Flour 24s; Red wheat 9s 3d; White wheat 10s 7d; European corn 30s; Oats 3s 6d; Peas 44s 6d; Pork 110s; Lard 79s.

American Despatches.

VIENNA, Oct. 6.—A large meeting was held at Gratz yesterday, to protest against clerical interference in questions affecting the workingmen. An address to the people of Austria, embodying the sentiments of the meeting, was voted by acclamation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The administration has determined to let the case of the 'Hornet' take its course before the commissioner at Washington first. Grant says it is now a question of law and not of feeling.

SONG OF IRON.

I am mighty in the sabre,
Fiercely wielded by the brave;
Glorious in the stalwart steamer,
Laughing at the storm and wave,

Beauteous in the palace pillars,
Saving in the pointed rod,
As it brings the deadly lightning,
Quelled and harmless to the sod.

But there is a glorious essence,
Where I take my grandest power,
Giving to the race my surest,
Sweetest aid in danger's hour.

See! before me fly diseases!
See the darkest hydras bow!
See the rose of health and beauty
Take the palest cheek and brow.

Fly, dyspepsia! fly, consumption!
Yes, all ills are crushed at length,
For I give what human nature
Only ever needed—STRENGTH.

Shall I tell in what great essence
I can thus your spirits cheer up?
Pallid, trembling, dying sufferer,
Tis the famed "PERUVIAN SYRUP."

The PERUVIAN SYRUP is a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron, a new discovery in medicine that strikes at the root of disease by supplying the blood with its vital principle or element—Iron.

Had to Enlarge his STORE.
W. JOHNSON,

AT the close of his first four Months in Business, would be unworthy of the extensive patronage he has received, did he not thus publicly express his gratitude for the extensive, and still extending support he has received. He hopes by still following the rules which he has laid down for his guidance, to merit a portion of your trade. He would again repeat his mottoes:

Reasonable Profits,
(He believes in the "Nimble Penny.")
ONE PRICE,
(Your child buys as well as Yourself.)
NO TICK,

A YEAR'S TRIAL.

To Montreal Tea Company: MONTREAL, 1868.

GENTS.—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea has in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap. Yours very truly,

F. DENNIE.

Montreal Tea Co: Montreal, April, 1868.—To the Montreal Tea Company, 6 Hospital Street, Montreal. We notice with pleasure the large amount of tea forwarded for you to different parts of the Dominion, and we are glad to find your business so rapidly increasing. We presume your Teas are giving general satisfaction, as out of the large amount forwarded we have only had occasion to return one box, which, we understand, was sent through a mistake.

G. CHENEY,
Manager Canadian Express Company.

Montreal Tea Company:

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue a customer.

Yours respectfully,
FRANCIS T. GHENE,

Sir John Franklin's Fate Discovered.

The New York papers publish the following telegram from New Bedford, Mass., dated the 26th:—

"Dr. C. F. Hall, the distinguished Arctic explorer, with Ebierburg and Tookoolita, two Esquimaux, and their daughters arrived at this port to-day, in the ship 'Ansil Gibbs,' from Repulse Bay, August 23. Dr. Hall brings, as amongst the results of his five years residence in the Arctic regions, the most interesting intelligence in regard to the death of Sir John Franklin and his companions, and conclusive proof that none of them ever reached Montreal Island. He saw natives who were the last to look upon Crozier and his party. The Doctor also brings with him the knowledge of a young man who belonged to that ill-fated band of explorers, and also various relics of the explorations. He has prepared a report addressed to his friend, Mr. Henry Grinnell of New York, which will soon be given to the public through the press." Dr. Hall is by no means tired of exploration, and proposes next spring to start anew, and push his journeying to the North Pole. He regards his experience of the last ten years as invaluable to him as a preparation and aid in the future. In the report alluded to he says:—'Wherever I found that Sir John Franklin's companions had died, I erected monuments, fired salutes, and waved the Star Spangled Banner over them in memory of the discoverers of the North-West passage.'

They also publish the following telegram from Norwich, Conn.:—

"The whaling schooner Cornelia, Captain Baker, has arrived at New London from Cumberland Inlet. She brings as passengers three men belonging to Dr. C. F. Hall's expedition in search of Sir John Franklin. Dr. Hall is a passenger on board the ship Ansil Gibbs, for New Bedford. He has a number of articles belonging to Sir John Franklin, including some spoons and a chronometer box. He was also successful in finding the skeletons of many of his men, and the remains of several of their boats. The skeletons and other relics were found at King William's Land. The Cornelia brought an anchor found at the extreme north, marked 'E 3, 1776,' which is supposed to have belonged to the first explorers. Dr. Hall found a native who claims to know all about the party. He says the ship was stove and the crew took to their boats and went ashore, where their provisions were exhausted and they died from starvation. The ice and snow prevented Dr. Hall from making full explorations. He will return next summer and still further prosecute the search. The Ansil Gibbs will arrive at New Bedford in a day or two."

The New York Times contains the following in regard to this news :—

"Dr. C. F. Hall, the Arctic explorer, whose arrival at New Bedford is announced to-day, and who has made, it is tated, important discoveries in regard to the fate of Sir John Franklin and his companions, sailed from New London, Conn, in the ship 'Monticello,' in the summer of 1864. He had been home but ten months from an exploring tour of two years and four months, passed in the Arctic regions and the discoveries then have rendered him anxious to return.

"The last expedition, from which he has just now returned, began as it was in the midst of our civil war, did not excite that attention which it otherwise would, but a number of gentlemen of science and wealth assisted in aiding his project, among them was Mr. Richard H. Chapel, of the firm of Williams and Havens, who gave him and a family of Esquimaux which he had with him home with him on a previous trip, a free passage on the 'Monticello,' and in addition carried his boats and entire outfit without charge. Over $1,000 was contributed by Captain Henry Robinson, of Newburg, and valuable instruments were provided by Professor Bache and Mr. Tagliabue, of this city. But the most liberal and earnest projector of the new undertaking was Mr. Henry Grinnell, of New York, who had already done so much for the cause of science and exploration in the Arctic seas, and it was under his patronage that the expedition sailed.

"Captain Hall sailed in the 'Monticello' the latter part of June, 1864, and with him no sailing vessel, but intending as he has done after leaving the ship and arriving on the scene of his labors, to trust entirely to his boats and sledges and the hospitality of the natives.

"The first intelligence of the expedition after its departure was received in New London by the arrival of a whaling vessel, which brought a letter written to Captain E. A. Chapel on the commander of the Monticello, and forwarded to Mr. Grinnell. It was written by Dr. Hall, at his winter quarters in Iglioo, latitude 64° 46' north, longitude 87° 20' west, and dated Dec. 10, 1864. In this letter, it will be remembered, he stated that he thought three of Franklin's companions might still be alive, and that he had made important discoveries in regard to the fate of the expedition. One of the survivors was Crozier, who succeeded Sir John Franklin after his death. This letter was published in the Times of Sept. 29 1864.

"The next account was brought by Capt. Morgan, of the steam whaling bark Prince which arrived at New London, Nov. 15, 1866. The Ship Ansel Gibbs, on which the explorer returned, had then arrived at Repulse Bay. The Pioneer was in the Bay in July of 1866, and finding Dr. Hall and his party there supplied them with provisions, and brought home the news of his further explorations. He then reported having obtained most interesting relics of Franklin's expedition, and among his other discoveries some important documents which he believed to have been written by Capt. Crozier. He was on the eve to start on a trip to find out concerning a boat which was reported buried beneath up, and under the remains of from seventeen to twenty five white men

"Since these reports reached us but little if anything has been found from the expedition. But the information which will be given to the public in the account which is to be published cannot fail to be of the most interesting nature, and tend to clear up many of the mysteries which surround the fate of the ill-fated Franklin expedition."

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands entirely shrunk and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently premature baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universal, or adopted into use in every country and among all classes, as this still better purgative Pill. The obvious reason is that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them, or they would not know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that when it does cure it does always —that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of these remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cases are known in every neighborhood, and need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither mineral or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them from all injury, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action —remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose to relieve the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, invigorates the system, and hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. Those who feels generally well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what we now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the genuineness of as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz :

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tumors, ulcers, boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it clears the liver, and promotes the healthy action of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe purgative, and possesses the delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the fevers has run their course; an excellent as well as mild appetizing and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an impaired digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 35 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6. OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, rheumatism, and nervous pain—in fact in many property be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which PAIN KILLER or LINIMENTS are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaint, &c., and is good always —that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by the Scrofulous affections and disorders which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in a few weeks by its use. The public are sick of the country that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt treasure-like taint lies in the blood, and undermines and hurries the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting any suspicion of its presence. Again it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, where cles may be sud denly developed in the lungs or heart, it throws terrible destruction in its path. Where its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally feel immediate relief, and a permanent cure by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions of visible forms of scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Pile, Epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, and the various Uterous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, and for them no other remedy is required, subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine but kindred power. The use of this medicine will free the constitution of Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are cured by its steady action relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by the decomposition of extraneous matter in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaint, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammations of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the same impurities in the blood. The SARSAPARILLA is a great remedy for the relief and cure of Kidney complaints. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, will find in it a remedy for the symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any one remedy been so widely and deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent preparation for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in public estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and purity of quality commend it to invalids of the lungs and throat, have made it always a reliable protection to the afflicted. While adapted to the mildest forms of disease, and to young children, it is at the same time the most powerful remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a pro found and speedy remedy for Croup, it should always be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all who have once used it for any of the above complaints, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although so universally known and thought incurable, still great numbers are completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the use of this remedy. Even when the disease has fastened over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most fearful symptoms would lead to a fatal ending else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they are subdued, and the patient saved.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from its use.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are the diseases of the throat known to be controlled by this remedy that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the University of Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparator at the National Exposition at Turin, Italy—of whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada held at Belleville in 1867, is offered to the public, without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imported to the leading Pharmacies of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Kennedy among the Mormons.

Previous to leaving Canada for Europe, Mr. Kennedy gave a farewell entertainment at Montreal, after which he gave an interesting account of his visit to the Mormons, at Salt Lake City. He said:—

I arrived at Salt Lake City on the first of July. On either side you come to it through a desert—a desert in the sense of land without grass. Fire had swept over it, and left it bare and dreary; no water anywhere on it. You come through this desert to a land of beauty, of verdure. The lake is of a deep blue indigo color, and sparkles in the sun like a fountain; it is thrice the saltness of the ocean. As you approach it you see little courses of water here and there, dividing the land and running down to the lake; springs bubble up everywhere, as if coming from an enormous fountain, and green trees are scattered over the whole plain. Beyond are the mountains, a mighty range of great height, but so clear is the atmosphere that they seem near at hand. On the plain the thermometer is at a 100 in the shade, and up there the snow-capped mountain looking upon us. The city is on a level plain, touching the lake on the one hand, and the mountain on the other. It is a city of suburbs; the houses are scattered, and each house has its garden and trees; the streets are wide and clean, water is flowing everywhere. The place has a quiet, nice, genteel air about it. In the middle of the city, the business part, there are one or two blocks. Some of these struck me strangely. Over the door was a large circular sign, with the words "Holiness unto the Lord." Beneath this was an eye painted, representing Omniscience, and below that these words, "Zion Co-operative Store." (Laughter). Some of these stores belong to the Gentiles, who do a good business, though they are not encouraged by Brigham. His gospel is "work hard, spend little, but what you spend spend it in our shops,—don't encourage the Gentiles." But if the Gentile store sells for two pence, and their own for three pence, the two-penny store is sure to get the custom. The hotels are managed as here, but they are not so large or so good. While I was there I was asked to go and see the President. I found him in his office seated, with a number of people talking to him. He is sorely troubled with visitors; they come by every train, and bother him with questions more pointed than polite. I sat there silent for a while, watching the man. He is under size, 240 lbs. in weight, seventy years old, or nearly so; seems well preserved, hardly a wrinkle in his face, no appearance of being over-worked, enjoys life abundantly. He seemed to me to be keen, shrewd, almost, I might say, crafty, well able to manage, capable of conducting any kind of business—run a hotel or a steamboat, command a regiment or a ship—do anything in fact that might be required of him. His eyes have a habit of blinking; you cannot see into them; he takes stock of you but you cannot take stock of him—like a man standing behind a Venetian blind he can see you but you cannot see him. He took me up to his house, having first sent a messenger before him to see that the way was clear. We (my daughter was with me) were shown into a large room, nicely furnished, a piano in it. Brigham said he had to go to a neighboring town on business—I learned he had wives there, too; in fact he has them scattered all over the country—and asked me to sing him a song. After the song's done opened and in came an elderly lady, with a dark pink dress and short apron, hands half dried, she had evidently come from kitchen duties. The President rose, and formally introduced Mrs. Young. It is the rule that the first wife is introduced on all occasions. "We are the bosses," said an old Scotch lady to me, she being the first of her husband's three wives. (Laughter.) Presently in came another lady, with a blue dress, narrow waist, black curls, which she shook in a coquettish sort of way. "Mrs. Young," again said the President. (Laughter.)—Then we had more songs, sad by and by by the door opened again, and in came a flock of children, plainly, but neatly dressed.—

"Mr. Kennedy," said the President, "these are not all my children." Then he went amongst them as among a flock of sheep, and laid his hand on their heads in a kind, fatherly, patriarchal way. "This is mine," said he "and this is mine"—and, feeling somewhat dubious, "yes, this is mine."—(Loud laughter.) Then says he, "as you've been singing me a song, I'll tell you a story. Tom Thumb is here just now. The other evening, it is said, a friend of ours, a very tall fellow, was standing close beside Tom. Tom says to him, I don't believe in this polygamy; I can't understand it. 'Well,' says the tall fellow, looking down on Tom, 'when I was your size I couldn't understand it either.'—(Laughter.) Then I was treated in the best possible way, and asked to go to several parties. I believe I had a better chance of seeing the social life of the people than nine-tenths of the visitors to Salt Lake. I found Scotch men and Scotch women there in abundance, and, and here, as every where, whatever their belief may be, their hearts are open to Scotch song.—Burns is the key to unlock every Scotchman's heart, wherever he may be. (Cheers.) I found plenty of Englishmen there, too; Irishmen are extremely rare, and there are no Americans, except two or three who run the machine. The Mormons do not like conversation avoid the subject of polygamy; on the contrary, they invite you to discuss it. The rule is that each man should have three wives; many have none, others only one, so that many have more than three. When a married man has formed a wish to have a second, or a third, or a fourth, or a fifth or a tenth wife (laughter), it is the duty of the oldest wife to see after all the arrangements, and, in fact, be the active agent of her husband in the matter. I told this to an old English lady, and says she, "I should like to see my husband dare to do such a thing."—(Laughter.) But they do it, and, strange as it may seem, the wives assist. Women go there from Scotland, and from England, and other parts of the world for the express purpose of getting married. For you must know the Mormons believe that a woman cannot go to heaven unless she is married. Suppose these women firmly impressed with that belief, and their condition is quite intelligible. I was invited to a Mormon's house. It was a beautiful house, a perfect pattern of the house of a man of wealth and taste. I was of course introduced to the ladies—"Mr. Kennedy, Mrs. So and So; another lady, Mrs. So and So; another lady, Mrs. So and So—all the same name. (Laughter.) They are all quiet and sedate; they seemed to me to be under restraint; they shake hands with you, but I never could get a Mormon lady to look me in the face; their eyes were always averted. See them in the street, they are never idly promenading, always walking; go to the house where they are at work; not a single one will turn about to see you; they go on with their work quietly and soberly, as if you were not there. They are all dressed in print gowns. The next evening, after the party to which I alluded, I was at another Mormon's house—a Scotchman's. He said to me, "we are not allowed to drink, but never mind; I have some good Scotch whiskey, and you must make the toddy, and all the blame will rest on you." I went there, and we had the toddy and enjoyed ourselves exceedingly well. A group of ladies were assembled in one corner; I raised a glass and advancing towards them said, "here's to the ladies—who wouldn't be a lady here!" One of them who was nearest to me said in a serious tone, "I wonder who would be a lady here!" That was all I heard from the fair sex on the subject; to me it was enough; It began to dawn on my mind that it was not all gold that glittered. I met at this house the three wives of my former host, and in their presence he was courting the daughter of our host for his fourth. (Laughter.) Our host had married six wives, one of them the daughter of Brigham Young, and Brigham Young's eldest son had married his daughter. I wonder what relation he was to his father-in-law to—(Renewed laughter). Brigham Young says, in effect: "Young men, take warning, if you don't marry the young ladies, we old fellows will; so look out." (More laughter.) Under this state of things, when a man had six, or seven, or ten wives, the children are apt to get mixed and lose their parentage as far as the mother is concerned. So, to avoid this difficulty they dress them differently—white, pink, blue and so on. The life of the Mormon is sober, steady, characterized with intense industry and economy, bordering on parsimony—work, work, work, everywhere. Still the people are fond of amusements, and came out to hear the Scotch songs. One old gentleman I found is an elder there. He had thirteen wives, and was wanting a fourteenth. (Laughter.) He had two wives, an old Scotch lady, says to me, "My man canna laugh now; all his front teeth are gone, and he wants to get a new wife, but he has no chance till he gets a new set of front teeth." (Loud laughter). So far as I could learn the people are enthusiastic believers in Mormonism; they sacrifice very much to go there. I happened to meet with a young man there who had come from Scotland. He told me he and his father and brother believed in Mormonism, but his mother did not, and so they left her to go to Salt Lake—sacrificed their dearest affections. Right or wrong, they believe what they profess. An old elder among them said to me, "I was sent to Scotland to preach Mormonism; I nearly starved there; went to England; lost track of my friends; could not get any person to help me, and was compelled to rise early in the morning and pick pieces of crusts from the sweeping of the streets.—That's what I did, and would do it again, if necessary." Obedience, absolute obedience, is the rule. I asked Brigham one day, "What will you do when the whole power of the United States is launched against you?" Says he, "You don't understand us; those who, like us, have implicit trust in God, do not fear the face of man." But I found out that it it comes to that they will take ship at San Francisco for one of the South Sea Islands, as their future and last home.

At the close of the entertainment, Mr. Kennedy bade the audience farewell. He said he intended going to Australia, but he hoped in the course of three or perhaps five years to return to America, and to Montreal, where he had met with so much kindness. "This City," said he, "gave the key note to the success that pursued me through my whole career in America, and Montreal will always sound to me like the name of my first love."

A "Card" from Mrs. Stowe.

HARTFORD, CONN., Oct. 6.—The Courant to-morrow morning will contain the following "Card" from Mrs. Stowe :—

"To the Editor of the Courant.

"Mrs. Stowe desires the friends of justice and fair dealing to publish for her this announcement—that she has kept silence heretofore in regard to the criticisms on her article on Lady Byron for two reasons—first, because she regarded the public mind as in too excited a state to consider the matter dispassionately; and second, because she has expected developments of additional proof in England, some of which, of great importance, have already come to hand. Mrs. Stowe is preparing a review of the whole matter with further facts and more documents, including several letters of Lady Byron to her attesting the vigor and soundness of her mind at the period referred to, and also Mrs. Stowe's own letters to Lady Byron at the same time, which were returned to her by the executors soon after that lady's death. She will also give the public a full account of the circumstances and reasons which led her to feel it to be her duty to make this disclosure as an obligation alike of justice, gratitude and personal friendship."

Sir George E. Cartier and the Red River Settlement.

One would think that Papal infallibility was a matter that could not have much in common with the settlement of the Red River country; but it the statement made in the l'Evenement be true, it has afforded Sir George Cartier a splendid example for exhibiting the firmness of his faith, and at the same time, for letting off an argumentum ad hominem, whose neatness and force it would be difficult to surpass. The case is this: We have now in this city a distinguished Prelate, the Bishop of St. Boniface, which in the name of the Diocese in which the Red River settlement is situated. Monseigneur Tache has resided a long time in the territory, and may be supposed, humanly speaking, to know something about it. His Lordship's experience, however, has not made him think so highly of our recent acquisition as many of our politicians, who have never seen it, affect to do. He has on several occasions, in past years, made public statements, which showed that he did not consider it much more of a Paradise than that Eden which Dickens has commemorated in the biography of the immortal Chuzzlewit. Just now, as we have said, His Lordship is in Montreal, and it is no secret that he has used his time to some extent in protesting against, what he thinks, the folly of promoting an extensive emigration to that land of promise. He does not, we believe, think the country so productive as it has been sometimes reported to be. At all events he represents that the plague of grasshoppers has made settlement there just now anything but desirable.

His Lordship, we understand, says that the contributions made last year on behalf of the sufferers by these insects, only partially relieved the wide-spread distress, and that the return of the same destructive hosts this year has reduced the country to a state of poverty which makes it the duty of all who can exert an influence rather to deter emigration thither than to promote it. These are the views which we here that His Lordship has been enforcing in private society, and it appears that he has written some statements of the same kind for Le Nouveau Monde. According to l'Evenement, his zeal had led him further than this—so far, indeed, as to induce him to appeal personally to Sir George Cartier to prevent the evil which he foresees, from an imprudent attempt at colonization in a country which he thinks is little adapted for that purpose. The reply of Sir George as we have it from the same source, was as follows:—"Permit me, my Lord, to prefer to your authority, which I nevertheless respect, the authority of Rome. You say that the Northwest territory is unfit for settlement, and without any promise of prosperity in the future. But the Court of Rome is not of that opinion. It has clearly foreseen the future which is in store for that country since it did not hesitate, long ago, to create three Dioceses there, one of which was deemed considerable enough to be confided to a man who possesses as much merit as your Lordship." That reply was the virtues of compactness, politeness, and addressed, as it was, to a Bishop, of very great force.—Montreal Herald.

English Railways.

The railroads of Great Britain do not exhibit as profitable a business this year as last. The Railway News says that the traffic receipts of the railways in the United Kingdom for the week ending September 17, 1869, upon a mileage of 12,936, amount £847,991, being equal to £60 18s. per mile. For the corresponding week of last year the receipts were £853,097, the number of miles open 13,542, or £63 1s. per mile. A comparison of the two weeks shows a decrease in the aggregate receipts of £5,106, and an increase in the number of miles open of 394. On the lines having termini in the metropolis the increase has been —on the Metropolitan, £2,251; Midland, £1,201; London, Chatham and Dover, £1,643; Great Western, £2,798; London and Northwestern, £366; and Southeastern £439. But there has been a decrease on the London and Brighton of £22; North London of £252; London and Southwestern, of £1,194; Great Northern of £6,881; and on the Great Eastern of £2,221. On the other principal lines in England and Wales there has been a decrease on the Lancashire and Yorkshire of £1,268; on the Manchester, Sheffield and Lincolnshire, of £3,761; on the Northeastern of £1,615, and in Scotland the Glasgow and Southwestern shows an increase of £339, but the Caledonian a decrease of £673, and the North British of £800.

From Red River.

Winnipeg dates are to the 13th ult. The signs of progress in the North West are very apparent just now. A fire department has been established in Winnipeg, and we perceive that the Nor' Wester is coming out in an enlarged form and a new dress. In fact new life seems to be infusing itself into the Territory. The editor of the Nor' Wester has been raising big potatoes, and claims to have beaten Ontario in that line. We add a few items.

A late and pleasant autumn is anticipated to make up for our unusually cold summer.

The weather continues very pleasant indeed, and Assiniboil has seldom had so favorable a season for getting in the harvest.

Emigrants from the eastern Provinces intending to come to Red River with property of any kind; should bear in mind that they must provide themselves with bonds proving that their property is not to broached upon the way, and that it is strictly intended to be brought through this Colony. Otherwise the United States collectors will be obliged to levy a duty of 20 per cent on all their goods. By bearing this in mind our emigrants will save themselves much trouble and annoyance. As soon as our Lake Superior road is finished the bonding will, of course, be avoided.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, OCT. 8.

COMPLIMENTARY.—M. BOWELL, Esq., M.P. will be entertained to a supper this evening, at Hamby's, by the members of Loyal Orange Lodge No. 274.

NO MONTREAL MARKETS.—A telegram from Montreal this afternoon says:—"No markets till Monday, on account of the Prince's visit. Quotations are unchanged."

CURLING MEETING.—Carlers are reminded that the adjourned meeting for the election of officers takes place this evening at the Rink at 7.30 o'clock. It is to be hoped there will be a large attendance.

THE "LEADER."—The Toronto Leader has donned a new dress, and made great improvements in the arrangement of its reading matter and advertisements. We are glad to notice this manifestation of enterprise in our cotemporary.

SIR FRANCIS HINCKS.—The Ottawa Times of yesterday says:—"Sir Francis Hincks arrived here yesterday morning. It is understood that he will be sworn into office as Finance Minister on the return of His Excellency the Governor General on Saturday next."

CHEESE MOVEMENT IN NEW YORK.—The receipts up to September 28th, compared with last year, are 200,000 boxes ahead, and the export for the year, to date, is nearly 12,000,000 lbs. in excess of last year's shipments for the same period. The receipts for the week were 61,140 boxes, 24,925 boxes last week. The exports for the week ending September 28, inclusive, were 1,803,000 lbs.

THE FAIR.—We are informed that some of the Horse Shoes on exhibition at the Fair yesterday were the manufacture of Mr. Henry McMinnich. The prize list shows that he obtained the first and second prizes. In the prize list it was stated that M. Rankin exhibited a game cock which was worthy of special notice. It should have read M. Adamson. Instead of Mr. W. A. Foster getting credit for a prize for a "Duck," it should have been for "Brick."

BURNED TO DEATH.—The Trenton Courier of Oct. 7th, says:—"A little daughter of Mr. H. Stanbury, Campbellford, was burned to death on Wednesday of last week. She was on a visit to her grandfather's in Hungerford, and the accident arose from her clothing taking fire while she was putting an iron upon the stove to iron her doll's clothes. She was between four and five years old, and a very promising child."

AGRICULTURE IN GREAT BRITAIN.—The Agricultural returns of Great Britain show that during the present year 3,695,090 acres have been under wheat, 2,256,177 under barley, 2,785,054 under oats, and 836,801 under potatoes. In the case of wheat, the increase over last year is 1·2 per cent.; in that of barley, 4·9 per cent.; in that of oats, 1·0 per cent.; and in that of potatoes, 8·3 per cent. During the present year the total number of cattle in Great Britain is 5,316,588, or a decrease of 2·0 per cent on the number of last year; sheep, 29,580,954, or a decrease of 3·7 per cent.; pigs, 1,931,887, or a decrease of 16·3 per cent. The diminution of live stock is remarkable.

—The 'girl of the period' will soon appear with huge iron or rubber rings 'ornamenting' the lower part of the waist and lapping over the skirt. The fashion has already reached Boston.

Railway to Madoc.

The Kingston Board of Trade have appointed a deputation to attend the Railway meeting at Madoc, on the 20th of October, and it is believed the City Council will also appoint a deputation for the same purpose.

Cobourg, too, wants to be heard at the meeting. The Star says: "Cobourg we imagine, would be the most advantageous connection for the Madoc people and a railway to the present line of the C. P. & M. Railway, would cost infinitely less than one to either Kingston or Belleville, and at the same time secure access to the best markets for the lumber and minerals of that region. We certainly think Cobourg ought to be represented at the meeting."

The national outlet for all this back country of course is Belleville, and any railway which hereafter is constructed, should have its terminus here. Whatever may have been the error of the past we have duties to perform for the future, and it should be the object of every man in Belleville and the County to use all legitimate efforts to secure this road. Kingston may try, and Cobourg may try, to obtain communication with the mineral region of the north, but the public men of those places know as well as we know that Belleville is the natural outlet for a Railway from either Marmora, Madoc or Bridgewater. We would like, however, to see the same interest taken in this proposed Railway by the public men of Belleville that is manifested by the people of Kingston and Cobourg. The Board of Trade and the Town Council should appoint deputations to attend the meeting, and it may be possible that some scheme will be adopted by which a Railway from Belleville to the back country can be built. The town of Belleville is more largely interested in having this Railway than any other locality, and it is of the highest importance that a strong delegation be sent to the meeting. There is no time to lose if it is intended to take any action, and we trust the Corporations referred to will do as Kingston and Cobourg propose to do, and appoint a large and influential deputation.

Prince Arthur's Movements.

Prince Arthur after visiting the Penitentiary and Public Institutions of Kingston, left yesterday, at noon, on board the Magnet for Montreal. The Bay of Quinte having a large crowd on board followed the Magnet as far as Gananoque. At Brockville an address was presented to the Governor and the Prince, to which replies were made. The steamer was to lay up at Dickenson's Landing until daylight this morning, so as to give the party an opportunity of running the rapids by daylight.

Excursion of Good Templars.

We learn by a telegram that the Good Templars of the city of Oswego are to enjoy an excursion to our town to-day, per steamer Rochester. They left that city at 9 o'clock, a. m., two hundred and fifty strong, and purpose being here at 5 o'clock, when they will be received by their Brethren of the Order in this town, and entertained to a tea at the Holbrook House, after which they will adjourn to Ontario Hall to listen to some choice speaking and music.

A meeting of the members of the Order as well as friends of Temperance generally, are requested to meet at Ontario Hall at 8 o'clock, to give a hearty welcome to their American friends.

Great Storm.

A telegram from St. John, N. B., says:—"The storm of Monday night was fearful. The tide rose to a tremendous height, carrying away and destroying an immense amount of property. The Anchor Line wharf was entirely destroyed, and nearly all damaged. At New River a ship was lost with all hands. Accounts coming in every hour show that the destruction is general and wide spread. Ships, houses, barns and cattle have been swept away.—The bridges on the E. and N. A. Railroad are destroyed. No trains from Monday morning for Portland. The steamer New York had a narrow escape. She lost both anchors and rudders, and was with great difficulty got into Eastport, where she is discharging."

A telegram from Sackville, N. B., Oct. 7th, says:—"On Monday night this place was visited by a tremendous gale and the highest tide ever known. The marshes were completely covered, and thousands of tons of hay destroyed, and thousands of cattle and sheep drowned. The dykes on the marshes are all gone, and the bridges all through the country are swept away.—The Eastern Extension Railway was torn up eight or ten miles, and the telegraphic line connecting with the cable and Halifax have been obliterated. As far as can be ascertained the tidal wave has caused great destruction on both sides of the Bay of Fundy. In and around St. Johns the tide rose to a great height, carrying away and destroying an immense amount of property. The wharf is ruined; ships, houses, barns, and cattle are swept away. The bridges of the European and North American Railway are destroyed. No through trains from Shediac to St. Johns since Monday. The steamer New York, which left St. Johns on Monday for Boston, narrowly escaped being wrecked. She arrived at Eastporte in a disabled condition. The amount of damage is incalculable. In this small parish alone the loss is estimated at over one million dollars. Accounts coming in every hour show the destruction to be wide-spread. This is the storm and high tide predicted by Lieut. Saxby, R. N., last December. The English papers called attention to it last month, giving necessary warning.

News Condensed.

—Barley is 65 cents in Hamilton.

—The N. Y. and Erie Railroad has commenced running again.

—The son of the King of Malabar has been put in jail in London for swindling. He was on the eve of marriage.

—The people of Pembroke are devising measures to have the Brockville and Ottawa Railway completed to that town.

—A Boston chemist advertises thus: 'The gentleman who left his stomach for analysis will please call and get it, together with the results.'

—The Prince has requested that no ball, dinner, or other entertainment, would be given in his honor in Montreal until some future day.

—Mr. Chas. Smith, city messenger, Hamilton, was presented by Prince Arthur with a sovereign, which is to go down to posterity as an heirloom.

—The number of distilleries in Prussia in 1868 was over 7,000, and they consumed 6,750,000 bushels of grain and 38,000,000 bushels of potatoes.

—The English papers announce that an interesting event in the family of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales may be expected about the latter end of November or beginning of December.

—Many farmers in the Counties of Lincoln and Welland have given up all hops of the potato crop, and will not dig them as the tubers are nearly all rotten in the ground, especially in low places.

—It is said that Carlotta Patti made one million two hundred thousand dollars during her European tour, and brought it over with her. As she is beautiful and sings like an angel, she will always be respected, even if she is rich.

—The failure of the Albert Life office is followed by that of the European Assurance Company. The liabilities are stated at £100,000 on policies, to meet which there is only £10,000 at the bankers and a trifle in the hands of the directors.

—Never To-let to mend—One of the latest additions to the social table, if we may credit an advertisement, possesses the admirable quality of "refreshing the memory"—no more suitable present could be made to young ladies—who bet.

—The Bishop of British Columbia recently delivered an address at Yarmouth, in England, on the position and prospects of British America. He said that he was very sanguine of the good results of Confederation, and that he did not believe there was any desire on the part of the inhabitants of British North America to separate from the Mother Country.

—A ludicrous incident is related of a captain of the 19th battalion, lately camped near St. Catharines. He is a heavy sleeper, and some of the volunteers pulled up his tent pegs one night and one of them went inside, shouldered the tent pole, and walked off with it. In a couple of hours the sleeper woke up with a cold chill, and was stupified with amazement. After a long search he found his tent in a distant part of the camp.

—It was the celebrated James Fisk, who controls the Erie Railway, that caused the terrible money panic in New York recently, but he is in a fair way of having to pay something for his folly. A suit has been entered against him to recover $270,000 damages for a breach of contract in agreeing to purchase $1,000,000 in gold at 160. Another suit has been brought for $135,000. Meanwhile an attachment has been issued against the Opera House owned by Mr. Fisk, for an amount sufficient to cover the claims preferred. The "Admiral," as he is called, will have some trouble in getting out of this difficulty, arising out of his recent money gambling freaks.

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relatives to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

THE ŒCUMENNICAL COUNCIL lately called at Rome is an instance of the solicitude of the Catholic Church for the well-being and prosperity of her Communicants. Large assemblies of this nature containing representatives from all parts of the world, should be of some benefit to our race. We hope this opinion will be as harmonious and unanimous as the verdict in favor of the Great Anglo-Saxon Remedy, for diseases of the lungs, blood, stomach, liver, &c. For sale by all druggists. 34-1m.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite. THE CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE remarks: —"The singular success which Mr. Epps has attained by his homœpathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold by the Trade only in ¼lb., ½lb., and 1lb. tin lined packets, labelled—JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England. 91—6m 1&8

PROPOSED ACTION OF THE OPPOSITION.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The 'Rappel' assures its readers to-day that the deputies of the Left will proceed on the 26th Oct. to the Bureaux of the Corps Legislatif and sign a protest declaring that the Emperor has violated the constitution, and that they consider themselves absolved from their oaths of fidelity to him. Deputy Keratry publicly announces that he will not go to the Legislatif Chamber on the 26th inst.

THE REPUBLICANS LEAVE THE CORTES.

MADRID, Oct. 7.—The Cortes yesterday passed the bill suspending constitutional guaranteed during the insurrection. The republican deputies refused to participate in any shape in the deliberations of the Chamber.

BATTLE WITH THE INSURGENTS.

The insurgents who retreated from Reus were defeated by Gen. Baldrick with a loss of 80 killed and 300 wounded and a number of prisoners. The troops lost 23 killed and wounded.

It is officially announced that combats have taken place between the national troops and republican insurgents in Catalonia, Arragon, Old Castile and Andalusia, and that so far the troops have been victorious.

THE REINFORCEMENTS FOR CUBA.

Reports in regard to the embarkation of troops for Cuba are contradictory; some say it continues notwithstanding the troubles at home, and others have it that orders have been received at Cadiz suspending for the present preparations for the departure of reinforcements.

THE LATEST.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Additional, though not later news, has been received of Dr. Livingstone. He was seen fourteen months ago by an Arab at Lake Tanganyika. The Arab says he was going towards the west and was probably endeavoring to reach Congo. There were no doubts of his safety at Zanzibar.

PRUSSIAN DIET.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—In the diet to-day the presiding officers of the last diet were re-elected.

RELATIONS BETWEEN PRUSSIA AND AUSTRIA.

A ministerial journal intimates that the visit of the Crown Prince to Vienna, is important as an indication of the extension of friendly relations between Prussia and Austria.

American Despatches.

A REVOLUTION IN POTOSI.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Despatches from Mexico City to September 23rd state that a revolution had broken out in Potosi and Col. Marcias had been defeated in an attack on the insurgents.—The governments of Coahuila and Nelveo Lein had presented governmental troops from entering their State in pursuit of the revolutionists.

ROMERO AND THE CABINET.

HAVANA, Oct. 7.—Advices received from the City of Mexico to the 30th ult. are to the following effect:

The rumors in circulation regarding the separation of Minister Romero from the Cabinet of Juraez were pronounced incorrect.

THE REVOLUTION GAINING GROUND.

The Pronunciamento in the State of San Luis Potosi was instigated by ex-Governor Buclamente, and according to reports the revolutionary movement was gaining ground. The Mexican government had a sufficient number of troops en route to San Luis Potosi to suppress the movement.

A VESSEL IN DISTRESS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The steamer 'Lafayette,' from Havre, spoke on the passage to the British brig, 'Doctor,' from Philadelphia, August 29, for Plymouth, England, who reported that during the heavy gale on Sept. 17, they lost nearly all the spars. The captain (Jones) and three men had been washed overboard and drowned. The mate and two men were all that remained. They intended to proceed on with the vessel.

TO BE TRIED FOR PIRACY.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Government has decided to prosecute the officers of the Cuban privateer 'Hornet,' for piracy, and it is intended to conduct the prosecution in the most earnest manner.

CORRECTION.

A correction in the London despatch last night relating to the Bank of England, alters the decrease of specie from £962,000 to £262,000.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS

INTELLIGENCER OFFICE,
Belleville, Oct. 8, 1869.

Owing to a serious break in the Erie Canal, which it is expected will take twelve days to repair, large accumulations have taken place at Oswego, with no sales. American buyers have taken advantage of this circumstance and knocked the price down 15c per bushel. The news was received here yesterday, and of course there was an immediate fall to correspond with the price paid in Oswego. Barley is therefore quoted at 65c to 70c, the latter price being paid for choice qualities.

Of course there is some speculation as to the future, but we may say it is the opinion of buyers that the price will not rule this season. The accumulations at Oswego for the next ten days must be enormous, and it is believed that prices will still further decline.

Receipts have been large during the past few days, yesterday's amounting to probably 15,000 bushels.

Rye has also declined to 55c @ 60.

We quote:

FALL WHEAT—85c to $1 00.
SPRING WHEAT—95c to $1 00.
BARLEY—65c. to 70c.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more effectual one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

GENTS.—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea has in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap. Yours very truly,
C. GENNIG.

Montreal Tea Co: Montreal, April, 1868.—To the Montreal Tea Company, 6 Hospital street, Montreal:

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue a customer.

Yours respectfully,
FRANCIS T. GHENE,

Hops and Other Crops in Wisconsin.

A correspondent writes from Sandusky, Sauk county, Wis., under date of August 18 giving interesting information on the subject of hops, &c. The writer is an experienced hop buyer, a merchant of good standing and thorough acquaintance with the country, and may be relied upon as good authority. He says:—

"The opinion of the people here is that there will not be more than one-quarter the hops this year that there were last year, though what there are look very healthy; more so than they ever have before. The lice have all left; not any to be seen. They will commence picking in about two weeks. I think there are a great many hops that will not be picked unless buyers come in and make some advance to enable the growers to procure food for pickers. Other crops are splendid here. Wheat and oats were never better. Corn was backward but the prospect is favorable now. We have had some very warm weather for a few days."

FOOD FOR HORSES.—A horse that is in the harness every day needs an abundance of food and the right kind. Oats make more muscle than corn, and should always form part of the food of a hard working horse. Corn gives plumpness and imparts warmth. The colder the weather, the more corn; the harder the work the more oats.

MANURE.—Rank manures produce the best results when applied early in the winter.—They can then be applied with safety, for the evaporation will be slight, the wash sinks into the soil, and the manure itself becoming finely dissolved and properly fitted for the nourishment of the tender plants in the spring The freezing and thawing, instead of injuring manure thus applied, benefits it by helping it to find its way into the earth, and among the grass roots, which feel and show its influence in the early spring by sending up a stronger and thicker growth.

SWINE.—Feed soft corn or that which is broken down, or old corn if on hand, ground and cooked; feed regularly, giving a few handfuls of fine charcoal as a regulator, about twice a week. A good supply of grass for breeding hogs is of great value. They should be put on pasture two or three weeks before breeding time, as it increases the milk greatly. Breeders, on a good supply of grass, with some corn, will not only retain their flesh, but grow continually, and be easily fattened in the fall or winter, while the pigs will be large and healthy, and their growth will not be checked during winter. If breeders, with their pigs, are confined in small yards during the summer, and fed on grain alone, it will take two of the former to make a shadow in the fall, while the latter will be small and poor, and go into winter quarters good subjects for disease.

"You say that you know a horse from a jackass when you see them?" asked a counsel of a rather dull looking witness. "Oh, ye-as, just so," drawled out the intended victim, gazing intently at his legal tormentor, "I knows the difference, and I'd never take you for a horse."

MORBID.—Old gentleman: "Where doth Aunt Jenny think her's goin' then?" Old lady: "Why, I be goin' so far as the Church; there's a weddin', they tell me; and since the hangin' in public have a-bin done away wi', marryin's a'most the only amusement o' the sort left."

THE ONLY LOCK.—"Can I induce you to invest in a lock?" smilingly inquired a travelling agent for an improved door fastening, of a plain looking old maid, whom he encountered sweeping the doorsteps.—"You might, sir," she replied, with a ghastly smile, eyeing him carefully for a moment from head to foot, "in wedlock!"

"Aunt Chloe, do you think you are a Christian?" "Yes, brudder, I specks I is?" "Do you believe in the Bible, aunty?" "Yes, brudder." "Do you know there is a passage in the Scriptures which declares that nothing unclean shall inherit the kingdom of heaven?" "Yes, I'e heard of it," "Well, Chloe, you smoke, and you cannot enter the kingdom of heaven, because there is nothing so unclean as the breath of a smoker. What do you say to that?" "Why, I spects to leave my breff behind me when I go to heaven."

THE VENERABLE ARCADEACON SCOTT, of Dunham, Canada East, says that he suffered from Dyspepsia more than twenty five years, but that three weeks use of the Peruvian Syrup (an Iron Tonic) has benefited him so wonderfully that he can hardly persuade himself of the reality, and people who know him are astonished at the change.

The important of rages from the Mediterranern, hides from Brazil, and other commodities from the tropics, is known to bring the germs of disease, chiefly fevers, which are sometimes very afflicting and fatal. Ayer's Ague Cure stimulates the Liver to excrete these germs from the system as effectually as it does the miasmatic poison of the ague districts. Consequently it affords invaluable protection to stevedores and others whose occupations expose them to these agents of infections; and we hope to render them a valuable service in giving them this information. [New York Despatch.]

The Illinois Central Railway Company, south of Chicago, are building eleven miles of Corn Cribs, the capacity of which will be three millions of Bushels; they are erecting these cribs to receive corn in payment for lands purchased of the Company, and the full Chicago price is to be paid for it there. Corn is the great agricultural staple of that country, and the "Canadian Pain Destroyer" is the best remedy in any country where a disordered condition of the stomach, liver and bowels, is combined with great debility, nervous weakness and intense melancholy its effects are most beneficial and wonderful, price 25 cts. per bottle. Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, a single dose will be decidedly taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageously taken where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of roots, herbs, barks and roots, and areas readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains the medical properties that can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

Then, if there is any one possessed of more wisdom as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thomson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, a leg sore, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. Invigorating the stomach and bowels, it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without leaving the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. THOMPSON'S Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. So perfect in its adaptation to spirit it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroborant for debilitated persons, a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the trains has been reduced by sickness, as cautiously used as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6. OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by cold, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called NATURE'S ALLIES, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female irregularities, and all disorders that may be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present method of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this extellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures. many of which are truly "marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated With corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that we scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofula is the most destructive and the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, the unseen and unfelt tenant of the system, developing in fearfulness, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of the presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tuberculous may be readily deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional or early effects of this Sarsaparilla is of vitalue, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Extreme ailments will be relieved, complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this. SARSAPARILLA. As St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Pain, Lethargy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterine affections of the mucular and nervous systems.

Syphilitic or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for the removal of the latter. Many who have been long confined to bed and laid up with Rheumatism and Gout, when urged by accumulations of worthless matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, when arising from this source, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Dyspeptic and Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fearfulness, and suffering from the depressing symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of the people as this unrivalled remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, during which the cases where it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Uniform in character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have rendered it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and local irritation, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for the cure of consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, and in the majority of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to perfect health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the diseases of the throat, lungs and chest, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure.

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Epidemic, or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, nor any mineral or poisonous substance, it is entirely harmless. No nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. No one who is troubled by this form of disease can be reasonably excused for not trying it, as it is guaranteed, by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected by obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unsurpassed for the relief and cure in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy action.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedies and Liver Complaints, it is remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padova, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Medal—and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Cordial ever offered to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite and, during the time of its being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval and recommendation.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 9, 1869. No. 136.

Written at my Mother's Grave.

BY GEORGE D. PRENTICE.

The trembling dew-drops fall
Upon the shattered flowers like souls at rest;
The stars shine gloriously, and all,
Save me, is Blest.

Mother, I love thy grave!
The violet, with its blossoms blue and mild,
Waves o'er thy head; when shall it wave
Above thy child.

'Tis a bright flower, yet must
Its bright leaves to the tempest bow;
Dear Mother, 'tis thine emblem, dust;
Dust is on thy brow.

And I could love to die,
To leave untasted life's dark bitter streams,
By thee, as first in childhood, lie,
And share thy dreams.

And must I linger here,
To stain the plumage of my sinless years,
And mourn the hopes of childhood dear,
With bitter tears?

Aye, must I linger here,
A lonely branch upon a blasted tree,
Whose last frail leaf, untimely sere,
Went down with thee?

Oft from life's withered bower,
In still communion with the past I turn,
And muse on thee, the only flower
In memory's urn.

And when the evening pale
Bows like a mourner on the dim blue wave,
I stray to hear the night winds wail
Around thy grave.

Where is thy spirit flown?
I gaze above; thy look is imaged there;
I listen, and thy gentle tone
Is on the air.

Oh, come, while I press
My brow upon thy grave, and in those mild
And thrilling tones of tenderness,
Bless, bless thy child.

Sunday Morning.

How many pleasant breakfast tables it looks down upon. No need to hurry away to office, or store, or counting room. Fathers come leisurely down in dressing gown and slippers, and sip their coffee without danger of choking. They have time to look round and see how tall the children are growing, and that nothing in this world is so beautiful as a rosy baby fresh from slumber. Mother too, has the old girlish smile that comes not often on a week day or if it does father has not time to notice it, and that, perhaps, after all, is the reason it comes so seldom. It is pleasant, after eggs and coffee, to sit comfortably down by the fire, the centre of a ring of happy faces, and hear the church bells chime. Time enough yet to go, for this is the first bell.

Church bells are not, to my ear, 'an imperfect nience.' One is a free agent. I am free to go, which I like to do; you are free to stay, if you prefer; though I may think you make a mistake. I don't say that I should go every Sunday to hear a man who was always binding doctrines together like bundles of dry sticks, and thrusting them at his yawning hearers. I want to hear a sermon that any poor soul who straggles into church, from any by lane or alley, can understand, and carry home with him to his cellar or garret; not a sermon that comes on chariot wheels, but afoot, and with a warm, life-like grasp for every honest—aye, and dishonest—hand in the assembly, defaulter or Magdalen; for who bade you slam Heaven's gate in their faces?

I want a human sermon. I don't care what Melchisedek, or Zerubbabel, or Ketenhappuk did ages ago; I want to know what I am to do, and I want somebody besides a theological book worm to tell me—somebody who is sometimes tempted and tried, and is not too dignified to own it; somebody like me, who is always sinning and repenting; somebody who is glad and sorry, and cries and laughs, and eats and drinks, and wants to fight when he is trodden on—and don't! That's the minister for me. I don't want a spiritual abstraction, with stony eyes and petrified fingers, and no blood to battle with. What credit is it to him to be proper? How can he understand me? Were there only such ministers in the pulpit, I wouldn't go to church either, because my impatient feet would only beat a tatoo on the pew floor till service was over; but thank God there are! and while they preach I shall go to hear them, and come home better and happier for having done it.

So I pray you don't abolish my Sunday whatever you may do with yours. Don't take away my blessed Sunday breakfast, when we all have time to love one another. Don't take away the Sabbath bells, which I so love to hear. Don't take away my human minister, whose god is no tyrant, and a better pleased to see us go smiling home from church, than bowing our heads like a bulrush, and groaning back to our dinners, till all you antiSabbatarians are made to abolish Sunday—and no wonder. Fanny Fern.

A man who gives his children a habit of industry provides for them better than by giving them a stock of money.

Fortitude is alone excited by exposure to those evils which are usually productive of the emotion of fear. This firmness of the mind resists dangers and sufferings and is founded on a resolution of the will to counteract or surmount those cowardly impressions which terrific objects will infallibly make upon inferior minds, and to meet boldly the greatest dangers to which it may be exposed.

No Sir!

Tom was invited to the room of a friend, where he found a party of young men.

"Will you smoke, Tom?" Tom did not smoke. He said he had given up smoking, and meant to stick to it.

"A little hot punch, Tom?"

"No, Sir,"—very decidedly.

"We are getting up a club, Tom, and want you, as one of the old Croquet club, to join the new one."

Tom still declined and when asked why, frankly told why. Members of the old Croquet club occasionally drank whiskey; and what assurance was there that they would not do the same thing again or worse? In clubs or associations of any kind bad habits of the few often drag the whole club down, and bring its members to disgrace; "So I must stay out," said Tom.

On his way home, Tom was joined by another of the company. "I was so glad to hear you say 'No,' Tom," said the young man, who wanted to, but not quite dare to, unless somebody else took the lead. Oh, how many thousand of young people, not quite strong enough to say "No" themselves, hail with joy the "No" of a companion. They need holding up. There is wonderful power in a clear, decided "No." It braces the person who says it; it braces every right-minded person who hears him. Oh, if the boys, and the girls too, would only be true to their conscience, to their convictions of right, to their Christian training, there would not be so many sad wrecks among us.

Envy.

The greatest flood is the soonest ebb; the sorest tempest the most sudden calm; the hottest love the coldest end; and from the deepest desire oftentimes ensues the deadliest hate. A wise man had rather be envied for providence than pitied for prodigality.—Revenge harketh only at the stars, and spite spurns at that she cannot reach. An envious man waxeth lean with the fatness of his neighbors. Envy is the daughter of pride, the author of murder and revenge, the beginner of secret sedition, and the perpetual tormentor of virtue. Envy is the filthy sediment of the soul; a venom, a poison, or quicksilver which consumeth the flesh, and drieth up the marrow of the bones.

The Adventures of this World an Example.—We see the man of adventure and of enterprise penetrating the most remote and inhospitable regions of the earth, exposing himself to unwholesome climates and untried oceans, encountering the dangers of rocks and tempests, of famine and disease, of treachery and violence from unrelenting savages; and all this in pursuit of knowledge or of emolument, which seldom answer his expectations, or of a visionary fame, which perhaps commences not, till he is gone "to that land where all things are forgotten."—These are instances of self-denial which we have every day before our eyes; and shall we then be deterred from the pursuit of our eternal interests, and of immortal glory, by the restraints and difficulties attending our Christian warfare, when we see men voluntarily and cheerfully encountering far greater hardships, and far severer trials, for the sake of acquiring what appears to them most valuable in this life, but which they find in the end to be delusive and unsatisfactory.—Bishop Porteus.

Why are hogs the most intelligent animals in the country? Because they nose everything.

What does a ship do on Sunday that contravenes the salute? Why, she 'pitches and tosses.'

A Scotchman who had hired himself to a farmer, had a cheese set down before him, that he might help himself. The master had occasion to remark some time afterward: "Sandy you take a long time to breakfast." "In troth, master, said he, 'a cheese o' this size is nae se soon eaten as ye may think."

"That's a good gun of yours, stranger; but Uncle Dave here has one that beats it." "Ah! how far will it kill a hawk with No. 6 shot?" I don't use shot or ball either,' answered Uncle Dave for himself. "Then what do you use, Uncle Dave?" "Shoot salt altogether; I kill my game so far with my gun that without salt the game would spile before I could get it.

Said a male advocate of woman's rights: "When I am in a crowded car, and a lady comes in, I think it is the duty of some other man to get up and give her his seat. I look around the car to see if any man in the crowd looks like making a move in that direction, and when I see them all keep their seats, I hide my face behind my newspaper, and blush for my sex."

"—'is you father at home?" inquired the man of the little girl who admitted him. "Is your name Bill?" some people call me so," he replied. "Then he is not at home, I heard him tell John that if any bill came in to say he is not at home."

Draining.—Should the season prove a dry one, no time is better than this to do good working at underdraining. The article, in How how to make the Farm pay, chapter first, is a guide. Use proper draining tools, dig as narrow trenches as possible, dress the bottom very evenly, lay tiles and not stone, cover the joints with leather scraps of tin, and pack dirt hard immediately above the drain.

Mark Twain on Mr. Beecher.

The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's private habits are the subject of Mark Twain's latest contribution to the Buffalo Express. The whole article is extremely funny, but that portion which relates to Mr. Beecher's farming experience, is in the humorist's most extravagant vein, and quite equal to his best efforts. It is as follows :

"Mr. Beecher's farm consists of thirty-six acres, and is carried on on strict scientific principles. He never puts in any part of a crop without consulting his book.—He plows and reaps and digs and sows according to the best authority—and the authorities cost more than the other farming implements do. As soon as the library is complete, the farm will begin to be a profitable investment. But book farming has its drawbacks. Upon one occasion, when it seemed morally certain that the hay ought to be cut, the hay book could not be found—and before it was found it was too late and the hay was all spoiled."

"Mr. Beecher raises some of the finest crops of wheat in the country, but the unfavorable difference between the cost of producing it and its market value after it is produced has interfered considerably with its success as a commercial enterprise. His special weakness is hogs, however.—He considers hogs the best game a farm produces. He buys the original pig for a dollar and a half, and feeds him forty dollars worth of corn, and sells him for about nine dollars. This is the only crop he ever makes any money on. He loses on the corn, but he makes seven dollars and a half on the hog. He does not mind this, because he never expects to make anything on corn, any way. And any way it turns out, he has the excitement of raising the hog anyhow, whether he gets the worth of him or not. His strawberries would be a comfortable success it the robins would eat turnips, but they won't and hence the difficulty."

"One of Mr. Beecher's most harrassing difficulties in his farming operations comes of the close resemblance of different sorts of seeds and plants to each other. Two years ago his far-sightedness warned him that there was going to be a great scarcity of water melons, and therefore he put in a crop of twenty-seven acres of that fruit.—But when they came up they turned out to be pumpkins, and a dead loss was the consequence. Sometimes a portion of his crop gets into the ground the most promising sweet potatoes, and came up the infernalist carrots—though I never heard him express it just in that way. When he bought his farm he found one egg in every hen's nest on the place. He said that here was just reason why so many farmers failed—they scatter their forces too much—concentration was the idea. So he gathered those eggs together and put them all under one experienced old hen. The hen roosted over that contract night and day for eleven weeks, under the anxious personal supervision of Mr. Beecher himself, but she could not 'phase' those eggs.—Why? Because they were those infamous porcelain things which are used by ingenious and fraudulent farmers as 'nest eggs.' But perhaps Mr. Beecher's most disastrous experience was the time he tried to raise an immense crop of dried apples. He planted fifteen hundred dollars' worth, but never one of them sprouted. He was never able to understand to this day what was the matter with those apples."

Mark Twain concludes his sketch with a glowing eulogy, in which humor gives place to genuine admiration. "He has set his mark upon his epoch," says Mr. Clemens," and years hence, when the people turn over the bales and bundles of this generation's idea, they will find 'H. W. B.' stencilled on a good many of them."

Stock Market.

The Montreal 'Gazette' quotes Stocks as follows :—

In the Stock Market there was a fair amount of business done during the week, but prices have been very irregular. To-day there was a firmer feeling, and all stocks close firmer.

BANK OF MONTREAL—Was depressed early in the week with small sales at 161, but has since rapidly advanced, closing with buyers at 162 to 162½, sellers asking 163.

BANK OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA—There were several sales at 105¼, but an advance on this price is now asked.

CITY BANK—Is in fair demand at 99, but holders ask 99 to 99½.

MOLSON'S BANK—No transactions to report. Quotations remain unchanged.

MERCHANTS' BANK—Was pressed for sale at 104 to 104¼, at which prices large transactions took place. It is still in demand at these rates, sellers now asking 104½.

MECHANICS' BANK—Is offering at 95, with buyers at 95.

BANQUE DU PEUPLE—Was sold to some extent at 105, and is still offering at that rate.

BANQUE JACQUES CARTIER—Small sales were made during the week at 108½. An advance on that price is now asked.

QUEBEC BANK—Nothing doing in this market.

BANQUE NATIONALE—Has declared a dividend of four per cent., payable on the 1st proximo.

UNION BANK—Is offered at 106, with buyers at 105½.

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS BANK—Buyers but no sellers at quotations.

ONTARIO BANK—There were large sales during the week at 96½ to 96¾ and 97, and is still procurable at the latter rate.

BANK OF TORONTO—Continues in demand, but there is no stock in market.

ÔRE BANK—56½ to 57 would be paid; no stock offering.

ROYAL CANADIAN BANK—Is decidedly firmer; buyers offering 61½ to 62, and sellers asking 62½ to 63.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE—There have been no transactions in this stock for some time from the absence of sellers; 107 would be paid.

MONTREAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY—Sold at 136½ and is still offered at 136½.

CANADIAN NAVIGATION COMPANY—Some small sales were made at 109, and it is still offered at that price.

RICHELIEU NAVIGATION COMPANY—Was dealt in at 120.

CANADA DEBENTURES—Sterling 6's are offering at 94 and sixes at 104, with buyers at 93 and 103 respectively. Dominion stock is offered at 106½, with no buyers over 105½.

EXCHANGE—Advanced early in the week to 9, but closed heavy with large amounts offering at 8¾ to 8½.

MONEY—Is rather easier, both at the banks and on the street, where the rates are 7 to 8 and 8 to 10 respectively.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 9.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.—We are requested to state that the Rev. Mr. Douglas of Lanark, will preach in the Congregational Church, on Sunday, the 10th inst., morning and evening.

RECEIPTS AT THE FAIR.—The receipts for attendance at the Exhibition Wednesday evening and on Thursday, at the West Hastings Agricultural Exhibition, were greater than ever received at any previous show, amounting to $171 13, representing an attendance of nearly 2,000 persons. This is very gratifying certainly, and affords another evidence of the wisdom of continuing the Show for two days.

A COINCIDENCE.—The Kingston News says : "The guard of honor at the Drill Shed on Wednesday was composed of men of the 47th Frontenac Battalion, under the command of Major Craig of Portsmouth. It is a singular and not uninteresting coincidence that Major Craig was on the guard of honor formed by the Scots Fusileer Guards at the grand ball at Buckingham Palace given in honor of Prince Arthur's christening."

FORREST'S GALLERY.—It will be observed by advertisement that Mr. Forrest, who has had a Gallery in Toronto for the last two years, has opened an establishment in Wallbridge's Block, Belleville. He has gone to considerable expense in fitting up his Gallery and Reception Rooms, which are equal to the best of the large cities, and in the arrangement of his light he has managed his apparatus so that he can obtain any shade of light desired. He gets up good pictures, as any one can see by visiting his gallery.

SCHOONER ASHORE.—The Oswego Advertiser says : "The schooner Mary Ann sailed from Oswego for Belleville, light, in charge of Capt. Gormly, of Amherst Island, the owner, and two boys. She was towed out, but soon after the tug let her go, the Capt. ascertained that he had not sufficient crew to make canvass, and he headed her for shore. With the aid of a stiff breeze he was successful in getting her well on the beach about one and a half miles below the pier. The Captain and boys then left "my Mary Ann" and "dug" for the city. The vessel will probably be a total loss, says the Advertiser."

COMPLIMENTARY SUPPER.—A pleasant party of Orangemen met at "Hambly's" last evening with Bro. M. Bowell, M. P., as their guest. The entertainment was to welcome him back again among his brethren, and to congratulate him upon the reception he as an individual and representative brother received from the Brethren in Ireland. The room was as full as could be for comfort, and old times and new times were talked over with cordiality, sympathy and interest which warm friends evince when conversing amongst themselves upon familiar and naturally interesting topics. Appropriate toast and speech, friendly joke and laugh sped swiftly the time away until about 1 a. m., when the happy party dispersed after singing "God Save the Queen." Of the toasts, "The Orangemen of Ireland," and "William Johnston, Esq., M. P., of Ballykilbeg," were right loyally received and responded to.—COM.

FARMING IN THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS.—Mr. C. Pierce, of Stanstead, is said to have one of the largest and best appointed farms in the Eastern Townships. It contains 2,250 acres, and his cattle consist of Durhams, 14 Holstein or Dutch, and 11 Jerseys. He also has 75 horses and colts, and many of them very fine, 400 sheep of choice varieties and about 500 hops of the best breeds. This year he harvested about 1,000 bushels of wheat, 4,000 to 5,000 bushels of oats, 2,500 bushels of barley, and about 250 tons of hay. Roots and vegetables of different kinds, too, in great abundance. His residence, known as 'Kilbourn Castle,' is located on the farm, with barns and outbuildings adjacent. The view towards Lake Memphremagog and across the lake to Joy's Peak, Owl Head, and the other mountains which rise beyond, is among the grandest and most picturesque.

IMPORTATION OF LIVE STOCK.—The importation of live animals into the British Islands, stimulated by high prices and by an abundance of herbage and other food for the Continental herbs and flocks, is said to be "rapidly recovering from the effect of the restrictions imposed by the Privy Council in consequence of the cattle plague." Taking the last issue of the Trade and Navigation Returns of the United Kingdom, we find that in the seven months of this year ending 31st July, 117,879, oxen, bulls and cows were brought into the country, against 51,384 in the corresponding period of 1868, and 84,769 in 1867.—Sheep importations, too, have much increased ; for in the seven months ending July, 1869, 478,291 animals were imported against 208,176 in the same period in 1868, and 337,182 in 1867.

Sabbath School Convention.

The arrangements are pretty much completed for the Sunday School Convention, which takes place in Belleville next week. The Convention, which will occupy the Bridge Street Methodist Church, is to be opened at half past two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, when it is to be expected the greater number of the delegates will be present. An evening sessi on will take place on the same day. Thereafter there will be morning, afternoon and evening sessions, all of which are open to the public.

Hon. Billa Flint, one of the oldest Sabbath School Superintendents of Canada, will be the President of the Convention.—A number of distinguished Sabbath School workers from the United States and the Maritime Provinces, have signified their intention of being here during the Convention.

The Reception Committee have succeeded in obtaining accommodation for about 200 persons, the number who are expected, and the other Committees have about completed the work with which they were entrusted. The gathering next week will be one of the most important ever held in Belleville, and the proceedings of the Convention will be most interesting to all who attend.

Good Templar's Excursion.

A large number of Good Templars from the City of Oswego, visited our town last evening. They were received at the wharf by R. H. Harper, Worthy Chief Templar of Moira Lodge, Belleville, the officers of Moira Lodge and many of our most prominent citizens. The deputation from Oswego was composed of the Worthy Chief Templar, the officers, and about two hundred and fifty of the members of Oswego Lodge. They were accompanied by a splendid brass band, the members of which are all Good Templars. After visiting the most interesting portions of our town, the deputation, together with the Good Templars of Moira Lodge, assembled in Ontario Hall, which was suitably decorated and draped with the flags of the respective nationalities.—After the meeting was properly organized by the opening ode and prayer, an address of welcome was presented by the W. C. T., R. H. Harper, to the Oswego Lodge, which was suitably received and acknowledged by the W. C. T. of Oswego Temple. Several enthusiastic speeches were made by the W. C. T. of Oswego Temple. Mrs. Spencer, (a Grand Officer of the Grand Lodge of the State of New York), whose winning manner captivated all, Mr. Williams, Mr. Benedict, Mr. Kent, Mr. Spencer and others, on the part of Oswego Temple, while the Rev. J. Wild, Dr. Relyea, John J. B. Flint, B. Fraelick and others, worthily represented Moira Lodge. The Choir of Moira Lodge gave some beautiful pieces, and choice songs were had from Miss Fanning, Misses Ross, Miss Smith and others, while Mr. Dean entranced all by his really wonderful performance on the flute. The Oswego Band also rendered many of the national airs most effectively ; closing a most delightful and harmonious evening by our much loved "God Save the Queen." The entire proceedings were conducted with the utmost harmony and good feeling. The Oswego and Moira Temples subsequently took tea together at the "Anglo," and at 11:30 the boat steamed from the wharf, the band playing sweetly "Home Sweet Home," all feeling sorry to part, happy to meet again.

The following Address and reply were read shortly after going into the Hall :

To the Officers and Members of Royal Banner Lodge of Good Templars.

We the Officers and Members of Moira Temple, No. 241, beg to extend to you, on the occasion of this, your first visit to our Temple, a hearty welcome. We hail your visit with feelings of deep gratification, and earnestly hope that it may tend to cement the spirit of cordiality subsisting between us. In you we recognize friends and co-operators in the advancement of the great and glorious cause of Temperance, and although we do not acknowledge the same form of political government, it is a great congratulation to us, to be so closely allied with you under the same banner in the warfare against King Alcohol.

We trust that this may be but the first of a number of such friendly visits, and earnestly hope that you have enjoyed, and may continue to enjoy yourselves, until you safely arrive at your respective homes.

Fraternally yours,
R. H. HARPER, W. C. T.
S. HUGHES, W. C.

Worthy Chief Templar and Members of Moira Lodge of Good Templars.

On behalf of the "Royal Banner" Lodge of Oswego, and the friends accompanying the same, permit me to thank you for your welcome on this occasion, and the handsome terms in which it was expressed. Taken entirely by surprise, I have no fitting language in which to express our gratitude for this generous and enthusiastic welcome to your enterprising town. You, Sir, were pleased to allude to the fact that we acknowledge allegiance to a different form of government. Theoretically, Sir, we are perhaps of a different nationality, but, Sir, practically, and in fact I feel, and the feeling which I see manifested, assures me that we are but one people, one in language, one in tradition, one instrument in the hands of a wise Providence in working out the great ends of a perfect Christian civilization.

Worthy Chief Templar, we to-day left our distant homes for a day's recreation, and to grasp for a moment the friendly hands of our Canadian friends enlisted under that glorious banner upon which is inscribed those golden words, Faith, Hope and Charity, and we are met not as strangers in a strange land, but as brothers and sisters engaged in the same great Holy work.

Not to detain you longer, Worthy Chief Templar and brothers and sisters here assembled, from the intellectual feast which I know to be in store for you and us, permit me again to return you the thanks which our language can but feebly express with the hope that at no distant day we may have in our own distant city an opportunity of expressing in other language than words the deep sense of our obligation.

A Brilliant Operation.

The last issue of the Monetary Times contains the following account of a brilliant operation by that eminent financier, E. H. King, of the Montreal Bank. It is certainly a most extraordinary proceeding on the part of one of our principal Banking institutions :—"Mr. E. H. King seems to have been a prominent actor in the drama played off so successfully on Friday week, in Wall Street. Those who ought to know, assign him a leading position in the clique which planned and executed the scheme to corner gold. We have no information as to the final result to Mr. King of the many brilliant operations he is supposed to have participated in on that occasion. Let us hope that he and his bank have not fallen in with the same kind of luck that has happened to most of the other leading spirits in that memorable "bull-and-bear" fight, which has made them pretty sick of the whole business."

"One transaction of Mr. King's in this connection is of interest to Canadian business men and ought to be placed on record. The facts are : A Canadian broker arranged with an agent of the Bank of Montreal on Friday for the use of $10,000 gold, in New York, for a large consideration, which, with $10,000, deposited in the agent's hands. The agent at once telegraphed the branch of the Montreal Bank in New York, to place to the credit of Mr. So-and-So $10,000 gold. No reply was obtained for some time ; finally, after much evasion, it was ascertained that the agent's order was dishonored—the bank substantially protesting its own draft—and thus the firm was deprived of the use of the money which it had paid for. And not until the following Tuesday, after a new arrangement had been made, was the $10,000 handed over. We happen to know that Mr. King is himself directly responsible for this little stroke of financiering. No other inference can be drawn from it than that the funds of the bank were locked up in Wall Street operations, and were not available. Such is Canadian banking, as interpreted by the Bank of Montreal."

Curling Club.

At a meeting of the Curling Club held last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year :—

An Eye Sore.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

DEAR SIR,—Your view of the Sabbath School Convention to be held here next week, would it not be well to have the rubbish and stones that lie in the streets opposite the Wesleyan Methodist Church removed.

Yours truly,
M.

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came ; the room was crowded with anxious expectants ; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

EPPS'S COCOA.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favorite. THE CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE remarks : —"The singular success which MR. EPPS attained by his homœopathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold by the Trade only in ½lb., ¼lb., and 1lb. tin lined packets, labelled—JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England. 94—6m 1&3

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

THE CARLISTS FIGHTING.

MADRID, Oct. 8.—The government troops had several encounters with the insurgents and have been uniformly victorious. The loss of the insurgents has been large. The Mayor of Tortosa has left his post and taken command of a band of republicans. Order has been restored in Valentia and Galicia. A state of seige will be declared wherever outbreaks occur. A conference was held yesterday by Gen. Prim and President Rivero and deputies Castellar and Figuers, at which an endeavor was made to effect a compromise with the republicans, but no result was reached.

THE MERCHANT MARINE.

A bill has been introduced in the Cortes to place the merchant marine of Spain and the Antilles on a footing with the shipping in the coasting trade.

INSURGENTS DEFEATED.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Official reports from Madrid represent that the Spanish insurgents are everywhere defeated.

PROPOSITION FOR THE ABOLITION OF CUBAN SLAVERY.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The French and English societies for the abolition of slavery have sent an address to Marshal Serrano, Regent of Spain, on the subject of human slavery. They ask him to use all his efforts to abolish slavery in Cuba, and refer him to his own speech wherein he said that slavery only exists in the civilized world as a Spanish institution.

THE CHURCH CONGRESS.

The sessions of the Church Congress opened at Liverpool on the 6th inst. Dean Chesler urged the importance of a large hearted and generous treatment of all nonconformists and Catholics. Several members of the congress absented themselves on account of a paper presented by Rev. Mr. Mackanochie.

BISHOP OF EXETER.

—The discovery of two new diamond fields —those of the Cape and of Victoria—has come in good time to meet the demand. The East Indian supply has long since declined and the markets have lately been dependent on Brazilian. On the whole, the fashion for diamonds has declined in Russia, Turkey, Spain, and Portugal, though a rise was created by the fashion in Paris under the Empire, and in the United States. Diamonds used to be, in disturbed countries, for the middle and higher classes, a resource for hoarding, in political troubles, which gold and silver furnished to the lower classes. The improved political condition of many countries has diminished both modes of hoarding. For small diamonds or diamond dust for trade purposes the want has increased, and the price sometime reaches £600 per ounce.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, MASS.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this time Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

A YEAR'S TRIAL.

MONTREAL, 1868.

To Montreal Tea Company:

GENTS.—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea has in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap. Yours very truly,

F. DENNIE.

Montreal Tea Co:

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue a customer.

Yours respectfully,
FRANCIS T. GRENE,
54 St. John Street,
Montreal.

Montreal, April, 1868.—To the Montreal Tea Company, 6 Hospital Street, Montreal: We beg to express the large amount of tea forwarded for you to different parts of the Dominion, and we are glad to find your business so rapidly increasing. We presume your Teas are giving general satisfaction, as out of the large amount forwarded we have only had occasion to return one box, which, we understand, was sent through a mistake.

Autumn.

Drift nearer, light of the Autumn days,
Through each morning's golden bar,
With the veiling mantle of purple haze
That broods o'er the hills afar.
On mellow light of the Autumn time,
Again we welcome thee here
And list to the summer bird's farewell chime
That tells of its passage year.

We know by the cricket's chirping tune
That sounds through the Autumn air,
That the forests will don their mantles soon,
With colors rich and rare;
And blossoms the hue of Autumn sky
That arches above to-day,
And plumes of gold as the wind sweeps by
On the hillsides bend and sway.

The sunbeams fall with a fairer glow,
And a richer, brighter gold,
On the myriad beauties spread below
That the Autumn days unfold;
With the fruitage fair of thy harvest days,
Bright bloom and breezes chime,
Drift near through the dreamy purple haze,
Oh, beautiful Autumn-time.

Fall Work.

Wheat.—Finish the preparation of your land for wheat, and sow as early in the month as possible. Select the seed by running it repeatedly through a fan mill; sook it in strong brine over night, and roll it in lime after it is drained. If the ground is suitable drill in the grain. One season often pays for a drill. If not able to sow the wheat this month we prefer to leave it for spring sowing. In this case give the land an extra ploughing and harrowing just before it freezes up, and sow in the spring as soon as the harrow can be got in two inches deep.

Rye.—Sow an acre or two after the wheat is in, the last of the month or in October. This grain, though it does not demand so good soil as wheat, is grateful for good culture, and is very remunerative, especially if the grain be consumed in the family. It is often desirable for long straw, if for nothing else. Hence always aim to sow at least sufficient rye for your own use.

Grass.—Sow alone on well prepared land, using plenty of seed. Clover may be sowed now or in the spring, the latter period being preferred usually. Grass seed may be sown, of course, with wheat or rye, but on well prepared land we prefer using it alone and in the spring. The grain detracts from its growth, and on all small patches it is much better to sow grass seed by itself. On land subject to heaving by frost a few oats may be sown as a mulch and winter protection. The land should be prepared with care, top-dressed with fine compost, guano, bone-dust, fish manure, or other similar fine fertilizer, thoroughly harrowed in, and a liberal variety of seeds should be used.

Grass land.—Do not feed off the aftermath before it is well grown, so that there will still remain as a winter protection to the roots a considerable portion trodden down, etc., which will not be eaten. In mowing late in the season, cut clover in blossom, but give time for a good third growth to start, or top dress liberally.

Meadows and pastures.—If pasturage is short, do not feed down the aftermath, before it is well grown, at any rate; if possible, rely upon green crops, sowed corn in particular. Top dressing of pasture grounds prove the best at this season.

Fodder.—If it will be necessary to purchase fodder, do so in early autumn. Many farmers are glad to sell straw at threshing time at a very low price, or will almost give it away. If wheat is cut as it should be when the stalk begins to turn yellow at both top and bottom, the straw will be relished by stock all winter equally with the best hay. Corn Stalks may often be bought very low, and if well cured, are worth nearly as much as good hay—that is, if cut up, soaked, and properly prepared for feeding.

Digging Potatoes.—Many farmers still continue the custom of planting potatoes in hills instead of drills, thereby greatly increasing the labor of digging them.—When planted in drills they are readily thrown out by the plow. Only every other row should be plowed out the first time, and after these are picked up, plow the intervening rows. Of course, two horses should be used, walking, one on each side the rows. Some simple machine for this purpose is very much needed.

Threshing.—The grain threshing should be done as early after the harvest as may be practicable, in order that advantage may be taken of the market, to sell when it is likely to bring the best price. Let special care be taken to guard against the many dangerous accidents which frequently occur in threshing. Let the platform for the driver be made perfectly secure, and see that the feeder runs in no danger of having his hands mangled by the teeth of the machine. The master's eye should give this work the closest inspection.

Animals.—Do not leave horses in the field by day to be tormented by flies and covered with bott's eggs, but in cool stables. Cows, that come in this fall, should be kept on good pasturage, but not allowed to go too fat. It is a good plan to let them have rock salt in the pasture; if not salt regularly once a week.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of shedding their hair with a paste ointment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

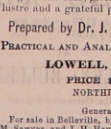

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white fabrics, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always unless it is from some fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For the Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, a dose should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants which grow, and are regularly prepared as tea and coffee?

Such a query of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession the highest testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines.

Vol. 1.

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as Scrofula, Scrofula, king's-evil, white swellings, tendency to consumption, weak eyes, humors of the skin. It regulates the stomach, or foul ulcer it cures the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a good substitute for all ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the fevers has been reduced by acids; an excellent as well as agreeable and wholesome sumulant, for general debility, and checking their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, rheumatism and fever, pain in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it is a powerful and safe remedy. It can also be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints, and in fact it can be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of mankind. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of fatal diseases, without existing a suspicion of its presence. Again, it reveals itself in hideous forms, as erysipelas, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, or foul ulcer attacks on some part of the body. Hence the necessity of the use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla in advance of disease, when you feel its insidious approach. Many persons daily use this powerful concentrated extract of vegetable remedies, for the purpose of keeping their systems generally free from impurities, and thereby escape the real suffering which others endure, from the want of this precaution.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Ulcerous Sore Throat, Ulcers, Tumors, Ulcerations of the Uterus and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and healing properties. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the system, yield to it. Also in Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and in the various forms of bilious disorders, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This is the BEST medicine that can be taken to develop the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Debilitated, and troubled with Dizziness, Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Scrofula, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind as has the excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among nearly all the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as its virtues became known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protection in all of them. While adapted to little children as well as the full grown, it is milder forms of disease and by young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand by every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for these.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patients restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the severest forms of the disease, and so thorough the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could relieve them, under the Cherry Pectoral they loosen and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers and great professional men find it just the

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is entirely free from any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the agueish districts, and its general good account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of ague medicines. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the relief and perfect cures of chronic diseases, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

The Beautiful River.

BY REV. E. TAYLOR.

Like a foundling in slumber the summer day lay;
On the crimsoning threshold of even.
And I thought that the glow through the azure-arched way
Was a glimpse of the coming of Heaven.
There together we sat by the beautiful stream,
We had nothing to do but to love and to dream,
In the days that have gone before.
These are not the same days though they bear the same name.
With the ones I shall welcome no more.

But it may be that angels are calling them o'er,
For a Sabbath and summer forever,
When the year shall forget the December they wore,
And the shroud shall be woven. No, never!
In a twilight like that, Jenny June for a bride,
Oh! what more of the world could one wish for beside,
As we gazed on the river unroll'd,
Till we heard or we fancied, its musical tide,
When it flowed through the gateway of gold.

"Jennie June," then I said, "let us linger no more
On the banks of the beautiful river;
Let the boat be unmoored, and be muffled the oar,
And we'll steal into Heaven together,
If the angel on duty their coming descries,
You have nothing to do but throw off the disguise
That you wore while you wandered with me,
And the sentry shall say, "Welcome back to the skies,
We have long been awaiting for thee."

Oh! how sweetly she spoke, are she uttered a word,
With that blush, partly her's, partly even's,
And the tone, like the dream of a song we once heard,
As she whispered, 'That way is not Heaven's,
For the river that runs by the realm of the blest,
Has no song on its ripple, no star on its breast;
Oh! that river is nothing like this,
For it glides on its shadow, beyond the world's west,
Till it breaks into beauty and bliss."

I am lingering yet, but I linger alone,
On the banks of the beautiful river;
'Tis the twin of that day but the wave where it shone,
Bears the willow tree's shadow forever.

"Lost Amid the Fogs."

SKETCHES OF LIFE IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

From the Quebec Chronicle.

One of the marked features of the literature of the present day, is its readableness. In speaking of literature, we except of course the trashy stuff floated upon the stream of life by the American press—an insult to the common sense of a reading public. We allude to the general style now in vogue, whether it be history, such as Macaulay, Motly, or Parkman; or travels such as Sir Samuel Bakers, or Lord Milton. In former years histories and travels were looked upon as dry reading, fit for grave or wise heads,—now we may place them among the light literature of the day, and gladly hail the time when they will not only supersede the trash often found on ladies' tables, but serve for relaxation to the tired evening hours of the merchant and weary student. We have been led to these remarks by having just closed a volume of the sort, called "Lost Amid the Fogs; Sketches of Life in Newfoundland," by Colonel McCres, R. A.,—a book one cannot read without feeling improved, amused and benefitted. We say the last word—benefitted—advisedly, for through the whole work, their runs a deep vein of earnest, christian, manly feeling, which makes one honor the writer, and feel proud to think that he is no uncommon type of the British soldier of his own generation. Col. McCres, as he says, has lived in "almost every colony of Her Majesty's vast domains, and yet, not even excepting dear old Corfu, have there happier years been spent than those in Newfoundland." So much for being "Lost Amid the Fogs."

Of these three years he tells his tale, beginning with a laughable hunt for information respecting the stations in England, and blending as he goes on, a pleasant history of this ancient colony, politically, socially and religiously, interspersed with lively anecdote, quaint sallies of humour and rich, lovely word pictures of scenery, such as one seldom meets with. In these last the Colonel excels. Our space forbids our making many extracts, yet we are tempted to treat our readers to a little taste of the dish, in the hope of giving them an appetite which will rest satisfied with nothing less than the whole. Speaking of a duel which had taken place some years before between two officers, the last duel happily in the colony, the Colonel describes the time and place of the affair in the following words:—

"Winding serpent-like among the meadows, across the slope of the hill, down to one of the bridges, and winding again up the opposite bank, on which, to this very day, a few scattered wind-blown pines stand sentinel over the landscape, we came to a little hollow, smoothly turfed and screened from observation by a copse and stream on one side, by cliff and hill upon the other. It was just the place of all others about the town, where the tender buds of the wild azaleas and calmias, protected from the biting north-easterly winds, peeped at first shyly, and then pleaded for life with the golden sun above. Just such a morning as this of which we write; a morning fragrant with loving answer from the King above, glorious with resurrection, restoration, beauty, life and health; a morning for sick creatures to throw open casements long sealed by winter's frost, and expand their lungs to the full with the soft southerly breeze; a morning for lovers to walk with linked arms through the shady fir groves, carpeted with the dead leaves of a hundred summers; for children to run wild with joy about the sprouting meadows; for old folks to stand and dream lazily over the misty memories of many by gone delights; but not a morning, of all mornings, for two men, brothers professionally as well, to stand opposite each other with deadly thoughts of blood and murder."

Our next and last extract we must preface with a few words. Our readers will perhaps remember that Col. McCres and his estimable wife lived about two years in Quebec—two years marked by much hospitality, much earnest effort in every good work, and much unobstructive charity towards its inhabitants, of which last the sufferers of the St. Sauveur fire could well testify. In urging, therefore, the reading of the Colonel's book here we do but a duty towards one who did his best for us, and may we think not unappropriately take as a graceful farewell to ourselves the words on a part of the closing leaf of the same.

"Alack! for pleasant friendships formed by a soldier in his varied service; alack, for the new faces he is ever meeting when he would willingly keep the old. Before the revolting cycle of the new year came round again, our order carried us suddenly away from scenes we had now learnt to love so well to begin another act in the great drama of life. The young man setting out on a military profession in the first burst of eager youth anticipates with joy all the friends he will make, all the countries he will visit, all the varied aspects of nature which will change before him. It is very pleasant for a few years; but as the fire of youth cools the pleasure palls, until at last, when sober manhood crowns the autumn, the order to resign is generally, even in a bad station, a signal for regret; pain to bid adieu to old familiar features and friends, pain to think of the irksomeness of removing those necessary duties elsewhere. * * * * *

"Brighter skies and brighter scenes may await us in the other lands: fruits and flower spread their choicest temptations before thirsty admiring eyes; but nowhere else can man grasp the hand of his fellowmen with greater trust, or with greater confidence in a hearty welcome eat his neighbor's bread. This it was which smoothed down every rough path for us, and lighted up the dreariest days of winter with gleams of gladness, towards which brighter suns or happier climes, by these unaided, might here wooed and charmed in vain."

The Japanese at Home.

In a late number of Harper's Magazine the Rev. Lyman Abbott thus chats about the Japanese:

Arriving as we did from China, the land of pug noses and yellow skins, we were at once struck with the fresh, ruddy complexions, and in many instances well-cut features of the Japanese. Besides the difference in their personal appearance, they offer a marked contrast to the Chinese in manner and bearing. In place of the cringing, abject demeanor of the latter, they carry themselves as becomes men, fearlessly and uprightly, look you straight in the face, and consider themselves inferior to none. The better class are a fine, bold set of men. Like knights of old, they are ever ready to avenge a wrong, or even to provoke a quarrel; and with their terrible, two-handed swords would be anything but contemptible antagonists in hand-to-hand fighting.

Their manners are polished in the extreme. As a rule they are exceedingly good-natured, and have a keen sense of the ridiculous, rather too much so; for we believe that if the most dutiful son, possessing the greatest filial piety, were to see his father dying, he could not repress a laugh if the old gentleman were to do so in at all a comical way. The Japanese ladies are almost as fair-skinned as their sisters of the West. Small, but neatly—nay, sometimes faultlessly shaped; their flowing robes displaying in its own greatness the model that nature has adopted, and which none of the meretricious deceptions of civilization can improve upon; with pretty, captivating manners, and a language musical and soft as Italian, the laughter-loving nymphs of Rising Sun have many and powerful charms. No one who has been in Japan will deny their claim to beauty.

Progress of the Intercolonial Railway.

The following is from the New Castle Union Advocate of the 30th ult :—

"In endeavoring to bring our rambles to a close as briefly as possible, we must retrace our steps a little, and see what has been and is now being done on section No. 6 of the Intercolonial railway. The section extends from Eel River, a little below Dalhousie, to Armstrong's Brook, a distance of 21 miles. Messrs. J. Jobin & Co. are the contractors. Between six and seven miles of grading has been done, and the whole of the clearing. At "Union Hill,' so called by the contractors, about two miles above the residence of A. C. DesBrisay, Esq., the first rails have been laid on the North Shore, but to be honest, not the permanent ones. Here a deep cut is being made, and the earth has to be drawn a considerable distance. Second-class stone in sufficient quantities can be procured all along the section, but a large quantity of the first article will in all probability be got from the Miramichi. At present, a quantity is being transported from Grand Anse, five schooners being employed for that purpose and five scows to load and land. The hands employed number nearly 300, with forty horses and carts. Fencing and a portion of the bridge work will be carried on during the winter months. Persons who have had some experience, and who should be good judges, say that the work on this as well as on the upper section is being thoroughly and creditably done.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 11.

QUEBEC LEGISLATURE.—The Quebec Legislature has been summoned to meet for the despatch of business on the 15th of November.

SWORN IN.—The announcement comes from Ottawa that Sir Francis Hincks has been sworn in Finance Minister of the Dominion. This indicates troublous times ahead.

PROMOTED.—The editorial control of the New York Times has been placed under Mr. George Shepard, formerly of the Toronto Globe and Quebec Mercury, one of the ablest writers in America.

INWARDS.—The steamship Nestorian passed Father Point, inwards, at 1:25 p. m., on Saturday, with 43 cabin and 274 steerage passengers. The steamer Ottawa also passed Father Point, inwards, in the morning, with 31 cabin and 38 steerage passengers.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS.—A telegram from Ottawa says :—"Several suspicious Fenians, who skedaddled from Ottawa after the McGee murder, have returned within the last few days. Rumor says that the authorities have reason to suspect that another raid is in contemplation by the Fenian organization.

NEW POST OFFICE.—Through the exertions of Mr. Bowell, member for North Hastings, a new Post Office has been established in the Township of Carlow, named "Boulter." This will be a great boon to the inhabitants of that section of the country, as by former mail arrangements, all their letters and papers took a circuitous route ruond by Renfrew, and up the Ottawa.

REST FOR THE WEARY.—To give an idea of what Prince Arthur has gone through with since he landed in Canada, let us give a brief summary of his journey. On the 21st of August he landed in Halifax. Since then he has received and replied to about 150 addresses in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario, attended 105 luncheons and dejeuners, and 39 balls; danced with 340 partners, received 1,700 bouquets, shaken 15,000 hands, shot 150 head of game, given 69 presents, travelled 4,500 miles, been elected an Indian chief, and has heard, or should have heard two million "God Bless Hims." Pretty severe toil for a Prince in the short space of seven weeks.—He is understood to be pretty well used by this time, has earned a good rest, and may well say, "Let us have Peace."

NORTH LANARK.—A Grit Convention met in North Lanark on the 9th, and nominated Mr. John Scott, of Almonte, as their candidate, who declared in his speech "that he had always been a Reformer, and had decided to be one on fifty years' experience—that his first experience was among Glasgow Radicals," and that "they never would have had the blessings of a free Government, had it not been for the Reformers"—denounced the Coalition, and asked until next Saturday to decide whether he would accept it. In case he declines, the nomination will fall upon the Hon. Malcolm Cameron, who pledged himself to abide by the decision of the Convention, and then modestly stated that "he had lately seen Mr. Alex. McKenzie, M. P., who had admitted that he (Mr. Cameron,) would be advantageous to the party if elected." Modest Malcolm!

—The military orders created considerable excitement in Montreal. Instructions have been given to the Volunteers to hold themselves in readiness.

The Fenian Scare.

The orders from the military authorities issued on Saturday evening, to have the volunteers in readiness for active service, and to have the arms distributed to the men, appear to have been made upon the belief that the Fenians contemplated another Raid. What information the Government is possessed of we do not know, but presume there must be some justification for taking these precautions. The orders were received here about 9 o'clock on Saturday evening, and as may well be imagined, created considerable excitement. Lt.-Col. Brown of the 49th, and Lt.-Col. Campbell of the 15th, promptly acted upon the orders, and were busy nearly all night seeing that their instructions were complied with. There is no news to-day of any movement of the Fenians, and we don't believe they will attempt to cross the lines.

When will it End?

9 o'clock Saturday evening, 9th October, 1869. Hark! the bugle sounding "the assemble." What can it mean? Hark again! The armory bell now adds its warning voice! What is the matter now? It was on a Saturday night three years ago last June, these two sounds were last heard together at such an unseasonable hour and then it was Fenians. Can it be Fenians now? Off we go to find out. Yes, it is the Fenians that again alarm the community in their peaceful homes after night has thrown her dark mantle over the quiet land.

The orders are, immediately to take the arms from the armory, distribute them amongst the men, and hold both Battalions ready at a moment's notice for active service.

The first part of the order must be satisfactory to every one who knows where the rifles were kept. Instead of being a source of strength as they should, they were of weakness. Instead of affording a feeling of security to the community they gave one of insecurity, because it was well known that any night any two or three men could take the whole lot, leave the volunteers without arms, and turn our own rifles against ourselves.

But why should this country be subjected to such alarms? Why should wives, and mothers' and sisters' cheeks pale at those sounds when they think of Ridgeway, and the gallant few who fell there, driving back the brutal marauders, and then that their husband, son or brother is now a volunteer, and that his duty may call him to the front to find a premature grave, leaving near and dear ones alone upon the cold mercies of the world? We repeat, why is this permitted? Permitted; we use the word advisedly, because we believe Fenianism, both at home, in the Empire, and abroad, could have been stamped out, eradicated long ago, and could now soon be so if our rulers were so minded.

The organization which shoots policemen in the streets of the great cities in England in broad day light, protestant landlords (because protestant) in Ireland from behind hedges, a distinguished member of Parliament in Canada who made himself obnoxious to it, and a Prince of the Royal blood in Australia, sufficiently show the deadly, cowardly, and wide-spread hatred of Britain and everything British which actuates it. To this add the continuous and armed organization existing openly in the neighbouring republic, which has once crossed the lines and spilt blood, has caused and is causing a large expenditure of public funds, and if a strong case is not made out for the sternest measures, then we do not know what would justify stern measures.

It must now be patent to every one that a great mistake was made when mild measures were adopted. We do not believe there is any one but believes that if every Fenian convicted had been punished as the law directed, Fenianism would long since have ceased to exist; most assuredly it would if the Imperial Government had taken a proper stand with the United States.

In that country, at peace with our own, an organization is allowed to exist for years, proclaiming in the most public and unmistakable language its hostile character and intent, electing Presidents and Secretaries, &c., nominating Generals and Colonels, raising, drilling, and equipping an army, and for what? To make war upon the British Empire; nay more, it actually does make war upon it, is driven back to the shelter of the flag which fosters it, not to die but to recuperate its destructive powers, to watch and pounce upon us at any unguarded moment and point. Now it is clear that this could not be if the Government of the United States were not willing, were not in fact aiders and abettors. But they make some show of good faith at the last moment by making a feint of stopping the raiders after a portion of the marauders have crossed, and after all of them should have crossed if they had been half active and wanted to, and then got thanked by the British Government. They may well laugh and think John Bull is afraid of Brother Jonathan.

We, in Canada, are then insultingly told that they saved us from extermination, and that to them we owe our existence on the face of the earth. We say to Uncle Sam, do not stop them again. British troops have nearly all left us. Let the Fenians cross and be joined by their brethren here, so that we may know them every one in a manner to justify our punishing them, and then let us settle this thing once for all. If we go under, well and good, better so than to live on sufferance. But we take it we have proved our metal, and we know right well that we should clear the land of the cut throat crew, and have peace.

As to the annexation aspect we have a few words to say. No one supposes for a moment that a raid upon Canada would free Ireland, or subvert the British throne. It might possibly create war between the two countries. But it would surely unsettle public feeling in and in reference to Canada to a greater or lesser extent; hence it is but a part of the game which our neighbors are constantly playing, so earnestly to bring about annexation. It is a fact known to every one who has conversed with Fenians, or their sympathizers, that they earnestly desire annexation.

They hate Great Britain and love the States. The States want us, and they want to help the States. Suppose we were part of the Republic, would we be troubled with a raid? Fenianism would exist no longer, its American mission would be fulfilled, and it having done the work for which it is supplied with life would die suddenly.

Will those to whose influence and exhortation, Sir John A. Macdonald in his despatch, releasing Father McMahon, says "is due that this nefarious conspiracy "made but little headway among us"—save us, and spare the government the necessity for exercising the pardoning power in future.

We have little fear of a raid, and have the greatest contempt for the Fenian organization. But in any point of view the thing should not be permitted. We here know how despicable it is, but do capitalists abroad who hear from a distance of these rumors take the trouble to comprehend the situation? Do the emigrants leaving for a new world inquire whether there is any thing to be feared or not? Certainly not. The rumor reaches them, the capitalist prefers investing his money at a lower rate where there is not even the rumor of disturbance, and the emigrant goes elsewhere for the same reason. And last but not least, our women who hearing from their servants what the Fenians would do if they could, and what they say they are going to do, remembering the past and dreading the worst through their affection for ourselves, are entitled to protection at our hands from even causeless fear.

The Madoc Railway.

A correspondent writes as follows:—

"At Madoc the feeling in favor of the railway to Kingston is very strong. They argue that Kingston is at the foot of navigation for the St. Lawrence trade, &c.

"While those in favor of Belleville argue that it is the nearest point on the water side, and it is a well-known fact that it is by far much cheaper to carry freight by water than by land, &c. Also that the length of the railway from Madoc to Belleville is but 28 or say 30 miles, which at $3,000 per mile would require only $90,000, while the Kingston railway will be at least 100 miles, requiring an outlay of $300,000, or more than three times the expense of building the Belleville railway. The Kingston people, however, offer $50,000. How much will Belleville offer?"

The Madoc Railway Meeting.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

MR. EDITOR.—While in the Township of Madoc last week, I had conversation with parties in reference to the Railway meeting to be held on the 20th inst., and I heard from reliable authority that the people of Kingston are wide awake, and will be represented at the meeting.

I also learned that from information received, there is every probability that Kingston will give a bonus of $50,000 to aid the work, and also that a good amount of Stock is to be taken in the Road if the terminus is made at Kingston.

Cobourg is also going to compete for it. What is Belleville going to do? Will they allow the only chance remaining to extend the business of the Town to slip through their fingers? I hope not.

I shall advocate a Road to Kingston if Belleville will not stir, as it is all important to our back country to change its mode of communication from waggon to Railway; without it our farmers and business men cannot successfully compete with those of the front.

I again repeat, what is Belleville going to do?

Yours, &c.,
BILLA FLINT.

Domestic Items.

TOMATO CATSUP.—For every two quarts of skinned tomatoes, add one large onion, six bird peppers chopped fine, one teacupful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of salt.—Boil about about half an hour, and just before you take from the fire put one quart of vinegar, one teaspoonful each of allspice, cloves, cinnamon, ginger and nutmeg for every two quarts of tomatoes before boiling; scald well together, bottle tight, and shake before using.

HOW TO MAKE CIDER VINEGAR.—A reader asks for a recipe for making cider vinegar. Take pure cider, 20 gallons; rain water, 10 gallons; put into an old vinegar barrel that don't leak; soak a small piece of bread in brewer's yeast, tie a string around it and drop it into the bung hole, the string being long enough to let the bread hang about the centre of the barrel; lay a loose cover over the bung hole, and put the barrel in a temperature of from 80 to 85 degrees for a month, and you will have a barrel of good vinegar.

OIL THE WHETSTONE.—Mechanics usually oil their whetstones, but farmers, often at least, only wet theirs when sharpening their tools. Whetstones give a much finer edge if oil is used than when only wet with water, and do not become glazed.

SERIOUS RIOTS.

Paris, Oct. 9.—The 'Journal Officiel' has the following news: A very formidable riot broke out among the miners employed by the Compagnie du Chemin de fer D'Orleans, near Orleans, on Thursday last. The rioters attempted to drown the chief engineer of the company in the neighboring river, but were frustrated by the efforts of the Prefect and the troops under the command of the vice-Prefect. Several persons were wounded in this melee. During the night of the 7th, the miners fired the general store-houses and other buildings of the company in that neighborhood, and by the next morning the riot had assumed alarming proportions. On the morning of the 8th the miners in large force attacked the forges of the company, but the military which had meanwhile arrived on the ground charged upon them and at the same time used their fire-arms. Ten of the rioters were killed outright and many others were wounded.

The mob then dispersed. Measures have been taken by the authorities to guard against any new outbreak.

THE LATEST.

INSURGENTS SURRENDERED.

Madrid, Oct. 9.—Nineteen hundred insurgents yesterday surrendered to Gen. Baldrick. The General refuses to pardon those who have committed assassination.

A BATTLE—SHARP FIGHT.

Intelligence from Grenada is to the effect that the Volunteers in that section had refused to disarm, and had escaped to the open country.

A body of Volunteers in Saragossa fired on the troops stationed there, and a sharp fight ensued. The disturbance was finally quelled, but not until much blood had been shed.

The insurgents in the neighborhood placed obstructions on the Andulusian Railway, which caused a train of cars filled with troops to run off the track. Four of the troops were killed and many wounded.

FROM RUSSIA.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 10.—Gen. Fleury, who arrived in the Russian capital as Ambassador of France just commissioned to this court, brought with him and has presented to the Emperor Napoleon's reply to the invitation of the Czar requesting him to attend the National Exhibition which is to be held here during the next year. The Emperor of France accepted the invitation, and promised to be present provided that the condition of his health at the moment, and the state of politics in Europe generally, permit him.

Dublin, Oct. 10.—A meeting and procession of those favoring amnesty to the Fenian prisoners was held to-day. The meeting was quiet and orderly.

EMPEROR JOSEPH.

Vienna, Oct. 10.—The Emperor Francis Joseph will start on his journey to the east on the 14th of October. He will meet the Empress Eugenie at Constantinople, and in company with Her Majesty and the Sultan will proceed by the way of Jaffa and Jerusalem to Suez, to attend the opening of the Canal. The French, Austrian and Turkish fleets, will accompany the Sovereigns on their voyage to the Isthmus.

MARTIN'S FUNERAL—A FENIAN MEETING.

London, Oct. 10.—The funeral of Martin, the Fenian who died at King's College Hospital, in this city, on the 5th inst., took place to-day, and was attended by 6,000 people. The father and mother and other relations of the deceased were present, wearing green scarfs and participated in the ceremonies. A meeting which was attended by not less than four thousand people was held at Nottingbill to-day, to advocate the extension of amnesty to Fenian prisoners. Inflammatory speeches were made, but the meeting was orderly.

HURRICANE.

Eastport, Oct. 4, via Bangor, Oct. 9—This town was visited by a fearful hurricane last night. Vessels, wharves, stores, and fish houses were smashed to atoms. Great quantities of fish and oil were destroyed. The steamer New York narrowly escaped loss with all on board. She was driven ashore, and lost both her anchors and her rudder. Twenty-seven vessels are ashore in Rumsey's Bay. The schooner Rio was lost in St. Andrew's Bay with all on board. A barque at New river was lost with all on board, 17 in number. Grand Menan was swept away with all the piers and smokehouses. The towns of Lubec, Pembroke, and Perry lose heavily. Houses and barns were blown down. This tornado is worse for Eastport than the great fire. All the smokehouses are down and the smoked herring and oil are lost. The loss cannot be less than $500,000. A large part of the town is a perfect wreck.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no one more favorite as a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From Benjamin Wheeler, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

Rain Storm in the States.

New York mails, delayed by the destructive freshets in the States since Monday last, have come too hand. The newspapers are filled with particulars of the disasters caused throughout the Central and Northeastern States by the unprecedented freshets which followed the storm of wind and rain on Saturday and Sunday last. From Albany and some distance westward on the Central Railroad trains were delayed and culverts washed away. The Mohawk River rose ten feet above low water mark, and several breaks in the Erie Canal occurred. On the Hudson River Railroad the water on the track lay a foot deep. In Connecticut, a dam and machine-shop at Pemberwick were carried away, and one man crushed to death, and nine or ten others seriously injured. The loss entailed is about $100,000. The Harlem Railroad track north of Millerton was washed away, and the bridge at Copake was badly damaged. The Delaware river was twenty feet higher last Sunday than on Friday, and a portion of the Erie Railroad track between Port Jarvis and Dupont was washed away. The greatest damage seems to have been done at and near Philadelphia, where the wharves were submerged by the swollen Schuykill; lumber, coal and even railroad cars were carried away, and stores flooded as high as the second story. The retorts in the gas works were submerged, and a short supply of gas for the city was threatened.

The experience of July in Baltimore put the store-keepers in the submerged streets on their guard, and the timely removal of their goods prevented much damage. In and about Washington considerable loss was sustained, and railroad trains were delayed several hours. Portions of the city were flooded and the inhabitants were rescued with considerable difficulty and not a little danger. As far east as Lewiston and Augusta, Me., the ravages of swollen rivers and streams have been experienced. At Broad Brook, Conn., a young man, woman and five children, were swept away with a house and drowned. In Manchester, Conn., not a bridge is left, and every water-wheel is still, from the destruction of the dams. The great dam on the Housatonic, at Birmingham, is among those swept away. A train on the Troy and Boston Railroad ran into a washed-out culvert and three persons were killed. In Columbia County, N. Y., the damage done was great, and two persons were drowned at Columbiaville in rescuing property from the flood. In New Jersey the loss of property is heavy. A lady and her niece were drowned at Belleville, in crossing a stream in a waggon. The southern limit of the storm seems to have been the District of Columbia, and the western boundary the Lehigh Valley in New York, while its eastward and northward course took in the southern end of Lake Champlain, a part of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine, and the other New England States. Even an approximation of the loss is at present impossible.

Teaching Thimblerigger.

Visiting a sick thimblerigger with a young missionary, I requested the latter to talk with him on religious subjects. He did so, detailing to him the fallen condition of mankind, the need of salvation, and the redemption of Christ, reading to the sick man, in proof of what he said, passages from the Gospel. The poor fellow listened and acquiesced. To every interrogation of the missionary he answered, "Certainly, sir." "In course, sir!" so that my companion was greatly encouraged. I saw, however, that it was all deception, and stepping forward, said, "Joe, my boy, the minister is very kind, and now I will ask you a few questions. "Do you know who Jesus Christ was?"

"Well, no," said he, after a pause, "I should say that's werry hard to tell."

"Do you know why He died on the cross?"

"No, that I don't."

"Can you tell me who the Trinity are?"

"No, sir."

"Are you a sinner?"

"O, certainly, sir. We are all sinners—miserable sinners."

"Have you ever done wrong?"

"Why, no; I don't consider as I ever have; not as I can remember."

"But do you not think, Joe, that you are a sinner?"

"O, certainly, sir; we are all sinners."

"What is a sinner, Joe?"

"Well, blest if I know. I never had no head piece."

And yet this man was among the shrewdest of criminals who had ever been admitted at Pentonville, and could both read and write."—Putnam's Magazine for August.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit, but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient, purgative Pill. The obvious reason is that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any cathartic yet known. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures those around them who have, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compounding. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints; but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills readily cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice, Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our cash and collect in debts, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains plain printed directions how to be prepared in any other form for four times the amount of money.

Now, I ask you, our physicians and doctors, if economics as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz.

Dr. Thomnson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as saltrheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the female system, so that it times the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, thereby reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. So convenient it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a good stomachic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the trains has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable appetizer—summon, for general debility, will diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds,such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it stands superior to all others. Those who have occasion for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, sour stomach, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. It may be used with great success as a liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply the whole amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, of curing more cases, many of which are truly marvellous, than moderate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in a great number in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of the virtues of this Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of mankind. Often lying dormant in the constitutenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and introduces the seeds of many fatal diseases, without existing a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, dyspepsia may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or the seeds of consumption be formed. Whatever it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advantageous, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA. St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and all the visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms of Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though in time its power will fail subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will root out the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Discontinues, and Female Diseases are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Nursing sore mouth in the child, yield to it, as also Liver Complaints, Sterility, Inflammation of Kidneys, Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising from the effects of the Scrofulous poison in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great reformer for the stomach and liver, when these are out of order. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any remedy won for itself so wide and world-wide a reputation as the CHERRY PECTORAL. Its excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints, Throughout every section of this country, and among most of the races of men it has taken the place of all others in their estimation, and the latest restored to sound health by the CHERRY PECTORAL, after all other means had failed, are numerous beyond computation. Throughout the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most skilful physicians resort to, when nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they are speedily overcome. Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient. The antidotes and remedies of its properties in the ague districts, are literally innumerable, and we believe it is without a parallel in the history of Ague medicines. Our principle has been to present the best that can be received at the radical cures affected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the University of Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparator at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Dr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without a question, the most pleasant, though salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

The New Brunswick Typhoon.

FRIGHTFUL DESTRUCTION—MAIL ACCOUNTS —WHARVES POUNCED INTO MATCHWOOD —THE EARTH TORN UP—SHIPS IN HARBOUR WRECKED, ETC., ETC.

It is our painful duty to-day, says the St. John Telegraph, to place before our readers some details of the ravages of the great storm of Monday night. The details of losses which have reached us are so extensive as to require all the space we can spare.

All around the shores of Courtenay Bay there are immense quantities of logs, poles and lumber of all kinds, drifted in by the storm on the western side. The greatest loser is Mr. John Wilson, foot of Queen Street, whose fishing establishment and gear, together with a large quantity of Gaspereaux and shad, have been swept away. All his summer's catch of fish, excepting the salmon, is thus entirely lost. His seines, nets, tubs, and other gear, have also been swept away, and his loss is probably between $2,000 and $3,000. Sulli's wharf is entirely swept away, and Mr. James Van Horn's family were forced to quit their house through fear of its being swept away. The wharves of Messrs. Holt and Nugent, that of Mr. Wright, and the ship yards of Messrs. Mahony, Nevius, King and John Stewart, are more or less damaged. Passing around from these to the westward, the shore to the ballast wharf was yesterday covered with wood and heavy logs, all floating and aground together representing a picture of desolation and destruction. The wooden mass reached to where the breakwater or more southerly portion of the ballast wharf was built, leaving the rocks which had kept it secure against ordinary storms, and carrying away to leeward the lighter material of which it was constructed, and the logs, now piled on the shore of the cove to leeward, are all that remain of what has cost the city thousands of dollars. Inside of this portion of the breakwater, and to the west of the cove, the logs and blocks are piled several feet high, forming a solid mass over the remains of Messrs. Fishers' schooner yacht Emma F., which, lying in the shelter of the breakwater, had shared its fate, and is now a total loss. Over the ballast wharf the sea made a clean breach, carrying surface, wood, seaweed and debris of all kinds with it, till reaching the north side, where it had recently been repaired, it made its way through the ground and the ballast beneath, leaving the surface gullied out and opening holes for its downward passage.

The waves did not have great force until the water had risen well up. Then the sea took hold of the timber and logs from the Messrs. Fisher's Shipyard, and they were driven like chips away before the blast. The bridge planking at the stern of their new ship was floated up and the outer stringers carried away, and the water getting over the street, poured into the shipyard and floated things around in the utmost confusion, washing out the wagon road through the yard and rendering it impassable to teams. The lighter clay on Charlotte Street Extension was all washed away. At the foot of Sheffield street, there is a great gap where the sea has undermined the ground where it joins the planked portion of Charlotte street at that point. Between this and the foot of Main street there were over a hundred heavy logs floated all over the street. The lower cove wharves suffered greatly and the loss of property in the district between Charlotte Street Extension and Reed's Point is greater than in any other portion of the City. On McAvity's wharf a large quantity of lumber kept there by Mr. Duffel was moved from its place some four feet, but this wharf received little damage except the washing away of some earth.—The water, however, beat forcibly against it and the heavy logs and spars which were piled against it where it joined Charlotte street, formed a barricade which protected it to a great extent. Moran's wharf was not damaged much, and only had some gravel washed away. The (Lower Cove) market slip and wharf, however, being more exposed, felt the strength of the storm, and the vessels in the slip were driven up on the shore. Among them was the 'Rolling Wave,' an American brigantine, which had been on the blocks nearly three months. Yesterday morning she was comparatively unharmed, but it required the united force of the tugs 'Relief,' and 'Hercules' to get her off. She was afterwards towed to the ballast wharf where she now lies completing repairs.—One of the "fashion" pieces is split and the copper on her bottom somewhat injured. The end of the Market Slip wharf is torn up and much of it floated away, and the ground is considerably washed out. Ran kin's wharf is greatly destroyed, and the piles, timbers and ballast of the outer end have settled down or been displaced. The L portion of it reaching to the west, is nothing now but a pile of ballast. The dock between it and where the foundry used to stand is crammed with hundreds of logs and all kinds of other wood, among which are the remains of Handcock's little wharf, of which nothing to mark where it stood is left.

Wishart's wharf is all destroyed at the outer end, and alongside of it lies the schooner 'Arrow,' belonging to Wm David son Esq. She is a total wreck, the stern being entirely worn off the "companion way" in the after part of the trunk, and the bow smashed in. Her planks are also strated where not smashed, and there is little of her worth saving except the spars, sails and rigging. She was laden with lumber.

Maxwell's lumber yard is considerably destroyed, and it was against this that the schooner 'S. C. Coonan' came ashore on foremost, when the captain and crew were taken out by means of a fast held by men on the surging lumber piles. At high tide yesterday she was towed off, without having received much damage, and is now lying at one of the wharves at Carleton.

Blizard's lumber wharf is a more complete wreck than any of the others, and the lumber from it is strewed away to the west as far as the Anchor Line wharf. More lumber, laths, and staves went adrift from this than any other place, and the loss is nearly $1,000.

Anchor Line wharf presents one of the greatest scenes of ruin in the harbor, and it will cost thousands of dollars to repair it Nearly the whole of the South side is swept away and the remainder fallen in, while the floor of the warehouse and the building itself is racked and displaced in such a manner as to require a long time and great outlay of money to put it in a state fit to receive freight. The tide rose over it some four feet, and the planking was floated up, a great portion being carried over the portion known as the middle abutment. This portion, or Reed's point wharf proper, does not seem to have suffered so much from the storm as even the part more to leeward, but the logging and spiles over the end are started, and on the South portion some six or seven tons of coal left by the International Life Company, was washed overboard. In the Company's warehouse no damage was done, though the water rose some 18 inches over the floor—this was because Captain Chisholm took the precaution to remove all the merchandise beyond the reach of the expected inundation. The South face of the Northern portion of the wharf is somewhat knocked in, but the whole fabric excepting the South part, withstood the storm well.—Along between Reed's Point Wharf and that of the Empress, there is little left but the remains of the wharves and piers upon which lumber, laths, and staves were piled. These have all been swept away, and now lie strewed about in the vicinity and jammed in the crevices and gullies made by the receding waters. The waves broke over Water street extension, and have left a gutter all along the lower side against the inside of the wooden facing of the abutment and the street itself, is dug out and scored all over with the marks of where the waters rushed about. On the Empress wharf the storm seems to have spent its fury. The whole of the outer end is carried away, and the planking beyond the warehouse is gone with it. The remainder with the warehouse has shifted across to the North, and it is a wonder that the whole establishment was not thrown on the deck of the schooner Katie, which lay along side. The warehouse itself is broken in two, and remains a perfect piece of destruction. Over the Custom House what few rose five feet, and the Barque Ansel and Twilight parted their fasts and went to leeward upon the ship Armanilla. The Ansel had her mizzen topmast broken off, and the bow planking and taffrail of the Twilight was considerably displaced and the fore channels much damaged by chafing. The gilt worked on the stern of the Armanilla was considerably damaged and defaced on the outer side, but beyond this she received no serious injury. Merritt's Wharf did not receive much considerably damage, excepting the floating up of planking and the ships Lammergier and Beacon Light, lying at it, escaped uninjured. From Johnston's Wharf a few logs are gone.

Walker's wharf is perhaps the only one uninjured, and its escape is owing to its great strength and the precautions taken beforehand by Captain Frith, who had it well blasted and spiked down. Yesterday morning it was covered with logs and cords of smaller wood. The barque Rialto was nearly chafed through at this wharf, and the brigantine 'L. L. Wadsworth,' of Eastport, had a hole chafed through her stern by breaking from Merritt's wharf and coming in contact with the corner of the South Market wharf.—Here the tide floated the planks some two feet above their place, while the stores remained firm on their foundations. The water rose in some of them two feet above the floors, and there was considerable damage done to the stock in them. Sugar, salt, dried fish, tea, tobacco, raisins, etc., were considerably damaged, and the books had to be removed from many of the safes. Men were busy during the night saving their goods and hoisting them to the upper stories, while, in many cases, the surging waters shook the buildings and drove the owners to their houses as they preferred losing their property to endangering their lives. The wharf planks and stringers rose nearly and the whole floated nearly level with the surface like a big raft.

The north market wharf received more damage than the south, as the waves had more rake upon it. The end was floated and torn up, and the planks drifted in upon the solid ground, of which large quantities were washed away and lost beneath the planking and amongst the ballasting of the wooden portion. The fence between Robertson's and Starr's wharves was driven down by the sea, and the top of the former wharf was covered with drift sea weed.

THE POLICE FORCE.—It was decided at the Council last evening to increase the police force by appointing an additional policeman, and to uniform the force.

TO BURN ARMORIES, &c.—A telegram from Ottawa, dated Oct. 11th says: With regard to the order from the Militia Department directing the volunteers to hold themselves in readiness, it is said the Government had information that Fenian emissaries were to burn the drill sheds and destroy the arms.

THE ŒCUMENICAL COUNCIL.—The following are said to be the subjects that will be discussed at the Œcumenical Council :—1. Pantheism, Naturalism and absolute Rationalism. 2. Modified Rationalism. 3. Indifferentism and Tolerance. 4. Socialism, Communion, Secret Societies, Bible Societies and Clerical Liberal Societies. 5. Errors with respect to the Church and her Rights. 6. Errors with respect to Civil Society in itself, and in its Relation to the Church. 7. Errors with respect to Natural and Christian Morals. 8. With respect to Christian Marriages. 9. With respect to the Sovereignty of the Roman Pope. 10. With respect to Modern Liberalism.

THE GREAT STORM.—On our first page will be found a description of the great storm which visited the shores of new Brunswick last week. Lieut Saxby predicts that another "high tide" will take place in the course of the month of November next. A cotemporary says that "Saxby made a similar prediction on floods to occur in December, 1862, and recalls now the fact that he was thanked by persons saved from loss for the timely warning. He says: I believe in the infallibility of my conclusions from many years of observation; and I have invariably found that when certain combinations occur, atmospheric disturbance results to a very great extent all over the world; and at these effects have always followed such (supposed) causes, my belief is that we are threatened with extraordinary atmospheric disturbances at the periods mentioned."

EARTHQUAKE AT ST. THOMAS.—A letter has been received in Washington stating on the 7th of September, the island of St. Thomas was visited by an earthquake, at ten minutes before 3 o'clock p. m., which shook the city of St. Thomas to its foundation. The shocks were so severe as to materially injure many of the buildings, shatter ing the walls of the Spanish and Union Hotels and other large structures, which caused a general panic among the inhabitants and the entire suspension of business. The day had been excessively hot without the slightest breeze, the thermometer indicating 92 degrees and the barometer 30 degrees, indicating fair weather. In the interval between the first shock and 11 o'clock p. m., nine distinct shocks occurred, producing widespread terror and dismay. There has been nothing like it since the great earthquake of 1867.

Apprentice Boys and Mr. Bowell, M. P.

The following we copy from the Londonderry Sentinel of the 28th September, which came out by the Nestorian :

"MAJOR MACKENZIE BOWELL AND APPRENTICE BOYS OF DERRY.—Major Mackenzie Bowell, Member of Parliament for North Hastings, Canada, has been honored by the Apprentice Boys of Derry. A deputation from the Derry Club waited upon that gentleman on Friday last, immediately before his departure for Canada, and presented him with a certificate of membership, a crimson sash, and several mementoes of the "Maiden City." He received the deputation on board the steamer Peruvian, where he was invested with the distinctive colour of the Apprentice Boys. The distinguished Canadian felt proud of the honor that had been conferred upon him, and expressed his great satisfaction at being thus identified with the descendants of the heroes of the Siege. He afterwards visited the Derry brethren at luncheon. Two or three appropriate toasts were proposed and responded to, after which the deputation wished the gallant Major and the friends who accompanied him a safe and pleasant voyage, and returned to the city in the evening. It is to be regretted that Major Bowell's engagements did not allow him to accept an invitation to a public demonstration in his honor. The men of Derry were prepared to give him a reception befitting their city and his exalted station. It is hoped, however, that he will again revisit this country, and that his brethren here will be afforded the opportunity they so much desire, of manifesting, through him, their brotherly feeling for the Orangemen of Canada, several of whom are members of the same Club to which he has now the honour to belong. The certificate was beautifully illuminated by Mr. Joseph Stafford, of this city, and the sash was somewhat similar to the one lately presented to William Johnson, Esq., M. P.

—Sir Francis Hincks, it is said, will run for Renfrew.

—Prince Arthur had a grand reception at Ottawa yesterday.

—Prince Arthur is going to visit the Upper Ottawa this week.

The Madoc Railway.

At a meeting of the Town Council held last evening Mr. Kelso strongly advocated some action being taken respecting the projected Railway from Madoc to the front, and introduced a resolution appointing a Deputation to attend the Railway Meeting to be held at Madoc, on Wednesday the 20th inst., said Deputation to consist of P. D. Conger, Esq., Mayor, Hon. Billa Flint, M. S., Hon. Robert Read, M. P., Hon. Lewis Walbridge, M. Bowell, Esq., M. P., James Brown, Esq., M. P., Henry Corby, Esq., M. P. P., K. Graham, Esq., M. P. P., and John Bell, Esq., and that carriages be furnished the Deputation. After an animated discussion the Council concluded that it would be better to have a public meeting of the inhabitants for the purpose of discussing the Railway question and appointing a Deputation. A Requisition is now in course of being signed and the Mayor in accordance with the wish of the Council and the requisitionists, will call a public meeting at an early day for that purpose.

Mr. Kelso stated at the Council that the Board of Trade would be all probability appoint a deputation, consisting of some of the leading merchants in Town to attend the meeting.

Mr. Kelso deserves the thanks of the people for taking the initiative in this matter, and we trust the public meeting which we understand will be held in Ontario Hall, will be attended by all the leading ratepayers and property holders in the Town, and that a strong deputation will be appointed to attend the proposed meeting.

An Explanation Wanted.

THE TREATMENT OF FENIAN PRISONERS IN THE PENITENTIARY.—Our readers will remember that accusations have appeared in a Fenian newspaper published at Buffalo, charging the prison authorities here with cruel treatment to the Fenian prisoners in the Penitentiary. Something occurred on Friday which shows that the authorities are not averse to the closest scrutiny on this head. Mr. McManes, President of the St. Patrick's Society of Montreal, and Mr. Boyle, the editor of the 'Irish Canadian' newspaper, published in Toronto, (a journal of which we have seen nothing, but which we know by reputation to be pretty closely akin to the Irish Nationalist newspapers published in the United States) called in company together at the Penitentiary gate and were admitted. Their object was to see the Fenian prisoners, and in this they were fully indulged, the rule forbidding conversation with prisoners being relaxed to facilitate their purpose. They were accompanied through the shops only by a subordinate official, who simply pointed out the Fenian convicts. The fact that the Fenian prisoners were being called on and conversed with by friendly strangers, naturally attracted attention within the prison, and the visit has become a topic of remark in the city. It is said that Boyle on leaving a Fenian pointed out to him would go up to the prisoner and say, "This is Mr. McNamee, President of the Montreal St. Patrick's Society. I'll introduce myself; I am Mr. Patrick Boyle, of Toronto, editor of the 'Irish Canadian.'" The prisoners, astonished at the accustomed silence being broken in this manner, would look askance at their visitors with a doubting or puzzled expression, and only recover themselves on being told that they might freely answer the questions that were put to them. Boyle had to gain the confidence of one convict by remarking that he nearly came being there himself, an admission which will provoke remark in Toronto and Ottawa, and wherever the antecedents of the man are known. The result however, was that all the Fenian prisoners declared themselves satisfied, and said they were treated in accordance with the rules of the prison, and not worsely treated than the rest. Doubtless we always have Mr. Patrick Boyle's own account of his interviews with his friends in the Penitentiary, and we can only hope that it will be sufficient to give the lie to the misguided Fenian outpourings of the Buffalo 'United Irishman.'

The above, which we copy from the Kingston News of Saturday evening, demands an explanation, and with a view to obtain it, probably the Penitentiary authorities and the Government will answer one or two questions which the public will naturally ask? Has the United States executive acted upon the demand made by the Fenians, and asked for an investigation into the treatment of the Fenian prisoners in the Penitentiary? Hate our Government recognized that demand and appointed the two worthies above named as a Commission to make that investigation? If not, why should the rules of the Institution have been relaxed to permit such men as Boyle to blaze forth his Fenian auditory that he was the editor of that treasonable sheet, the Toronto Irish Canadian? Why should an exception have been made in this particular case? The whole proceeding seems a very singular one, no matter in what light it is considered, and the public will anxiously await whatever explanation the authorities are disposed to give respecting it. The people feel that it is about time the country had stopped pandering to Fenianism.

Sabbath School Convention.

Owing to the Express train from the West being an hour and a half late, the Convention did not assemble this afternoon until about half-past three o'clock.—The chair was occupied by the President, D. W. Beadle, Esq., who called the Convention to order, after which the services were opened by singing, reading the Scriptures, by Rev. G. R. Sanderson, pastor of the Bridge street Wesleyan Methodist Church; and prayer by the Rev. J. C. Smith, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Belleville.

A Committee was then appointed on organization, to nominate a Business Committee, a Committee on Resolutions, and the new Board of Officers. The Committee retired to consult for this purpose. Devotional exercises were then resumed, the "Singing Pilgrim" leading off with his fine voice in the beautiful hymn; "Rock of Ages Cleft for Thee," in which the audience joined.

As we go to press at an early hour, we are obliged to cut short our report. Arrangements have been made by which we will give each evening a full synopsis of the proceedings of the Convention.

The fine far about 150 delegates have entered their names in the reception book. The remainder are expected by to-night's trains and boats. To-day the centre of the Church was pretty well filled with delegates, and a large number of our townspeople were present who appeared much interested in the proceedings. Above the pulpit is a large motto "Feed my Lambs," and on the sides of the galleries are the following mottoes: "Children for Jesus," and "Jesus for Children." In the basement some of the class rooms are set apart for the various Committees, over the doors of which are appropriate signs. The arrangements for the convenience and comfort of the Committees, as well, in fact of all the delegates, appear to be of the most admirable character.

The following is a complete list of the Delegates who reported that they would be present at the Convention :

THIS EVENING'S PROGRAMME.

The following is the programme for this evening's proceedings, and it may be well to state that the Sessions are open to the public :

7.00 P. M.—Devotional exercises to occupy 15 minutes. The address of the President elect. Address of welcome by Rev. W. McLaren. Report of Delegates to United States National S. S. Convention, by Rev. E. Ebbs. The lectimate province of the Sabbath School." Philip Phillips, Sabbath School Singing. Addresses of delegates from other bodies.

TO-MORROW'S PROGRAMME.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 13TH—THIRD SESSION.

9.00 A. M. TO NOON.—Devotional exercises, 15 minutes. Reports of Committees of Conferences. "Sabbath School Concerts," by the Rev. Dr Jennings. Simcoe Convention. Specimen teachers meeting. "Piety in the teacher, the secret of Sabbath School success," Rev. J. Alexander, followed by short addresses on the same. Rev. E. Eggleston, Chicago, on "Earnestness and Skill."

FOURTH SESSION.

2.00 P. M. TO 5.00 P. M.—The Convention to assemble in four sections, viz, Superintendents, Bible-class Teachers, Intermediate class Teachers, and Infant class Teachers, under suitable conductors in four different places, to consider how best to promote efficiency in each in respect to the School. The results to be reported to the entire Convention on Thursday morning.

FIFTH SESSION.

7.00 P. M.—Devotional exercises. Rev. Principal Castle, D. D., on "Sabbath Schools and the New Dominion." Reynolds, Esq., of Peoria, Ill., on "County and Township Conventions."

Railway to the Front.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

MADOC, Oct. 11th, 1869.

There was a meeting held in the Village on Saturday, preliminary to the one called by the Warden for the 20th inst., at which there was a very respectable attendance, and a great deal of interest in favor of a Railroad manifested.

The simple fact is that the people are waking up to the necessity of a Railroad, and fully understand it it is ever an accomplished fact it must be brought about by those interested putting their hands in their pockets and contributing bonus'.—Two years ago you could not have induced this municipality to have taken $100 in stock, to say nothing of a bonus. But the meeting on Saturday, after an earnest and intelligent discussion, voted unanimously for a bonus of $10,000 for a Railway to the front. And when you take into consideration that the meeting was composed of farmers and representative men, you will understand why I have no hesitation in saying that seven-eighths of the rate-payers will go with the meeting. The only thing on which the meeting differed, was with reference to the wording of the resolution agreeing to a bonus, a number wanting to have it set forth "$10,000 bonus for a Railroad to Kingston," but finally the resolution was carried for a "Railroad to the front."

I believe the people here are in earnest, and Kingston is acting as though she was fully alive to the importance of a road to that place.

I believe we shall have a Railroad from this place to some point on the front soon. If Interferers will build a road from Toronto to Grey and Bruce at the rate of a cost of a million and a quarter for a bonus of $300,000, what is to hinder us here of having a road that will cost—on the cheap plan—$200,000 to $250,000, when we offer a bonus of $100,000?

I don't intend in this communication to argue the question as to where it would be best for our interests that the terminus should be. I merely state the action that has been taken here, and leave the matter with your readers that are interested.

ENGLISH ASSURANCE OFFICES.

NATURALLY causing much anxiety in the minds of Assurers in all Companies, the Directors of the

"CANADA LIFE"

Have published a Report and net valuation of all its policy and annuity obligations, by an Actuary (duly commissioned with it, the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT, of Boston, late Insurance Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts.

It is believed that such a voluntary submission of the Company's position to an eminent and entirely independent Actuary of the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT'S well known high character and professional skill, will add to that public satisfaction and confidence which the "Canada Life Company" enjoys.

Copies of Mr. WRIGHT'S Report may be had at the Head Office, or at any of the Agencies throughout the Dominion.

Persons who may be assured in the Companies whose condition is unsatisfactory, desiring to join the "Canada Life," will be dealt with upon such terms as are reasonable and fair.

Had to Enlarge his STORE.

W. JOHNSON,

AT the close of his first four Months in Business, would be unworthy of the extensive patronage he has received, did he not thus publicly express his gratitude for the extensive, and still extending support he has received. He hopes by still following the rules which he has laid down for his guidance, to merit a portion of your trade. He would again repeat his mottoes :

Reasonable Profits,

(He believes in the "Nimble Penny.")

ONE PRICE,

(Your child buys as well as Yourself.)

NO TICK,

(Short Credits make long Friends.)

He has found it necessary to enlarge his Store, it will be found even more attractive than in the past, and his Windows will always contain an assortment of Goods to be found in Stock as well arranged as he can do it.

EXECUTION OF TWO INSURGENT CHIEFS.

MADRID, Oct. 11, evening.—Caberilla and Corbajal, two insurgent leaders, were captured to-day and taken to the town of Ibi, where they were shot. Arrogon is now reported to be quiet. Order has been restored in Saragossa. Many of the insurgents were killed wounded or taken prisoners.

ESCAPE OF GEN. PIERRAD.

MADRID, Oct. 11.—Gen. Pierrad, Revolutionist, who was recently arrested at Tarragona, and imprisoned, has escaped.

DEFEAT OF PUBLICANS.

PERPIGNAN, Oct. 11.—A band of Republican insurgents were defeated by National troops at Laxsaguara, in the northern part of Catalonia, yesterday. The Republicans retreated into French territory, where they were promptly arrested by the authorities.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—A demonstration by the Republicans is feared at Madrid. Great precautions have been taken by the Government to prevent any outbreak.

THE MINERS' STRIKE.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—Despatches from Aubin in the department of Aveyron, have been received up to a late hour last evening. No new outbreaks had occurred among the miners, but the strike still continues. Yesterday a large public meeting in the Arrondissement of Belleville was dispersed by force. Resistance was offered, and several rioters were wounded.

COTTON SUPPLY.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—There was a large meeting of cotton manufacturers of the city of Mulhausen, on Saturday, to consider the question of the American cotton supply, and other matters incidental to the trade. They denounced the commercial treaty just concluded, and urged the substitution of a customs tarif.

THE LATEST.

AMNESTY MEETINGS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 11.—Amnesty meetings have been held at Kantark and Bandon.

NEWMARKET RACES.

The Newmarket second October meeting commenced to-day. The plate of 100 Sovereigns for two year olds, was won by 'Fati,' and the maiden plate for two year olds by a brother of 'Stafford.'

A TREATY.

CARLSRUHE, Oct. 11.—Information has been received here that a treaty has been concluded between Wortenburg and the North-German Confederation, which allows the subjects of either country to serve in the army of the other.

INSURRECTION SPREADING—AN ATTACK ON MADRID FEARED.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—Advices from Republican sources represent that the insurrection is gaining ground. It is asserted that the Government strongly fears a general attack on Madrid.

DESPERATE FIGHTING IN SPAIN.

MADRID, Oct. 10.—Very desperate fighting between the Republican forces and Government troops which commenced at Valencia on the 8th inst., continues. Reinforcements have been despatched to the Government detachments. The troops beat the insurgents in every encounter between the contending parties in Andalusia and Aragon.

THREATENED ASSASSINATION.

A Republican Deputy to the Cortez Castero, having been threatened with assassination by the Partizans of the Government, has fled from the country and taken refuge in Portugal.

MORE RIOTING EXPECTED.

Further rioting is looked for and dreaded in Madrid, but the reports say there is every probability of its being quelled promptly should it occur.

COMMERCIAL.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Consols for both 93¾; 5-20's for '62 84¾; '65 old 84⅝; '67 83⅝; 10-40's 76¾; Erie 23¾; L. C. 94; A. & G. W. 25¾.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 12.—Cotton dull; Uplands 12¼ to 12⅝; Orleans 12¾ to 12⅞. Yarns and Fabrics at Manchester dull. Receipts of wheat for three days 20,000 quarters, including 10,000 American; Flour 25s 3d; Red wheat 9s 10; Winter wheat 9s 6d; White wheat 10s 4d; European corn 29s; Oats 3s 0d; Peas 44s 6d; Pork 110s; Lard 72s 6d.

American Despatches.

BATTLE IN CUBA.

HAVANA, Oct. 11.—An engagement occurred last week between a small detachment of troops and the Cubans near Puerto Principe. The insurgents lost 23 killed.

ADMIRAL FARRAGUT.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The condition of Admiral Farragut is improving. He is now considered to be entirely out of danger.

A CARD.

THE undersigned would respectfully call your attention to his new and beautifully arranged Photograph Gallery, next door to M. Sawyer's, which is now open to visitors. All may rely upon getting as good work as can be done in the Dominion. Having had City Experience, and taken the Principal Prizes at the Provincial Exhibition at Hamilton, he has every confidence in pleasing all.—The Gallery has been fitted up under his personal supervision, with every convenience that can be required,—sparing neither pains nor expense.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many remedies which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the medicinal gum of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. That has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

A YEAR'S TRIAL.

At Montreal Tea Company. MONTREAL, 1868.

GENTS,—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea has in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap. Yours very truly,

F. DENNIE.

Montreal Tea Co:

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue a customer.

Yours respectfully,
FRANCIS T. GRENE,
84 St. John Street,
Montreal.

Montreal, April, 1868.—To the Montreal Tea Company, 6 Hospital Street, Montreal: We notice with pleasure the large amount of tea forwarded for you to different parts of the Dominion, and we are glad to find your business so rapidly increasing. We presume your Teas are giving general satisfaction, as out of the large amount forwarded we have only had occasion to return one box, which, we understand, was sent through a mistake.

An Irish Row in Chicago.

The bloody and senseless frays between different factions, which for centuries past have been the disgrace of Ireland, where transferred with all their attending horrors, to the streets of Chicago last Friday evening. The affair was conducted on the most approved "auld sod" principle, and the participants were satisfied only after one man had been mortally and another dangerously wounded. Between six and seven o'clock, a party of Irishmen, apparently all the worse of liquor, entered into a maudlin conversation about Irish affairs. Some came from Ulster, others from Tipperary, and each faction claimed its county to be the Eden of Ireland; but a short time elapsed before the disputants were the farthest remove from any celestial region, and in close proximity in Pandemonium.—Shilelahs were improvised, stones hurled, and flats fell hard and promiscuously upon friend and foe. The combatants seemed to care little who was injured, and when clubs and stones failed, knives were brought into requisition, and blood flowed as freely as water. When the struggle came to a close, from sheer exhaustion, all were more or less injured, and when, on the approach of the police, the blood thirsty crew scattered, two of the victims remained bleeding; one about thirty five, named John Egan, had received a stab in the left breast, the knife passing through the lung—constituting a fatal wound—and the other, David Lyons, had received a cut in the left cheek, and a deep and dangerous gash in the back. The physicians expressed little hope for the recovery of Egan. Both of the wounded men are comparative strangers, having arrived together only three weeks ago. The men with whom they entered into combat were unknown to, them, and it is likely that not one of them will ever be identified or apprehended or brought to justice.—Chicago Tribune.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than has ever been known. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, ker that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that it does quick as it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compounders. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by any body. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one pill in general required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often all the sufferers where no serious derangement exists. One who feels himself well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and correcting effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Such is the case of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other medicine for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the genuineness of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:—

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, mercurial diseases, old sores, boils, tetter, roughness of the skin, ir regulates the stomach and bowels; it loses the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and indigestion. For obstiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe purgative and correct tonic for any intricate person; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful corrigent after the brains has been reduced by sickness, an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulus, for general debility, and diseases having for origin in an imperfect digestion of a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the head, in the back, neuralgia, rheumatism, &c. In fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which PAIN KILLER or Relief are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, colic, cramps, or bilious complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensation of Dr. Perry, on account of its simplicity, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by its Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofula is justly regarded as the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the sepulchre, undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or other vital organs, and thus rapidly develop into consumption, while in the former, or skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body, the same process is going on. A dose or bottle of this Sarsaparilla to a diseased scrofulous subject, will invariably show its virtues, and a few bottles will expel the disease entirely. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, in time, a perfect cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Spasms, Pits, Epilepsy, and the various Uterous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a longer time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by the purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by humors, neuralgia, rheumatic matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaint, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising from its effects. Even worms, insects, animalcules in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are languid, weak, and nervous, Debility, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything been offered to the people so entirely upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in the confidence of nations, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the most dangerous affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector from them. While assigned to a milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most faithful remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a progress advances, the paroxysms of Croup, it should be taken against the first symptoms of hoarseness. It should be kept on hand in every family, for colds and coughs, all are sometimes liable to, and for which no remedy should be provided with more confidence.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease was deemed hopeless, have completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. Where the complaint has fastened over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of human maladies do. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they soon disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than name the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Chills, Fever and Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth Zinc, nor any mineral nor vegetable poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of the cures it has made in districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicines. We are gratified to know that it has proved effective of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Chronic-limited persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the right—and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without a question, the most effective, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Prepared and sold wholesale by the Proprietor,

Let there be Harmony in things Essential—Liberality in things Not Essential—Charity in all.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 13, 1869. No. 139.

Why?

BY R. D. DAVENPORT.

Why wish me for the vanished past,
The dreams of years long gone?
Why sorrow for the thoughtless joys
Of life's elysian dawn?

The mystery of this human life,
Has not a stranger part,
Than this sweet sadness over dreams
Long vanished from the heart.

Far back—far back—the veils of years
Is lifted from our gaze;
We stand amid the hills of life,
In the light of other days.

For dreaming there a dimness comes
Before our tearful eyes:
A weird strange pain steals through the heart,
A shadow through the eyes.

Regret—regret—for something lost—
A something without name:
A subtle sense, a bloom of youth,
Unbought by wealth or fame!

Why mourn we for the vanished past?
Ah! couldst thou solve the spell
That hangs o'er all this change of life,
Then couldst thou do full well.

But years roll on, like tidal waves,
Upon life's rugged shore,
And still the heart dwells fondly on
Those sweet, dim dreams of yore.

Not sin, nor sorrow have the power
To hide those visions dear:
For the old, old days are a heaven lost,—
A heaven once so near!

Dr. Cummings and the Pope.

The decision of the Holy See on Dr. Cumming's application to be heard at the forthcoming Council has been pronounced. A letter has been addressed by the Pope himself to Archbishop Manning. His Holiness did not even wait to receive Dr. Cumming's letter. He had acquainted himself with the Doctor's intentions by means of the newspapers. Dr. Cumming is to be congratulated on having elicited so authoritive a reply. The letter contains a courteous but uncompromising rebuff.—The Roman Catholic Church, we are informed, cannot listen for a moment to discussions on points which she has once considered and decided. Once settled, they are settled for ever, and whoever wishes to approach her must commence by submitting himself absolutely to the decisions already pronounced, as were we to those which may yet be pronounced. In his letter to Protestants the Pope points out, he distinctly signified or assumed that "the primacy both of honour and of jurisdiction which was conferred upon Peter and his successors by the founder of the Church is placed beyond the hazard of disputation." In short, if Dr. Cumming would consider either the known claims of the Church to infallibility, or the language of the Pope's own letter with respect to the authority of St. Peter, "he would at once perceive that no room can be given at the Council for the defence of errors which have once been condemned, and that we could not have invited non-Catholics to a discussion." The Pope surely would not wish us to believe that St. Peter invented all the dogmas that have from time to time been grafted upon the Roman Church. We have said that Dr. Cumming is to be congratulated on having achieved the distinction of being made the subject of this epistle; but he is also to be thanked.

It is quite true, as the Pope says, that all this might have been understood before, both from his own language and from that of his Church. But a hope has lingered throughout the last three centuries that the footsteps planted during a period of excited controversy might at least be readjusted. The world has to thank Dr. Cumming for having for ever dissipated this illusion.—The Pope has now expressed himself with a plainness which must undeceive even the most sanguine. Dr. Pussy can hardly think it worth while, after the perusal of this letter, to publish any more "Eirenica," and if any Ritualists are still dreaming of finding an opening at Rome for fresh negotiations, they ought to be convinced, once for all, of the futility of such attempts. The Pope will yield nothing, and demands everything. He goes out of his way, by anticipating the letter addressed to him, to declare that his Church cannot so much as enter upon the consideration of any single point on which it has ever pronounced against the Protestants. If there can be no discussion, there can be no modification. Not a single anathema in the decrees of Trent can be withdrawn, not an expression softened to fall more gently on Anglican ears. The Roman Catholic Church is to advance in the strength of its "invincible vitality" to proclaim the personal infallibility of the Pope, and the Assumption of the Virgin Mary.

The controversy between the two Churches ought to be wonderfully abridged by this momentous declaration of the Pope. It is as if the battle which has for so long been indecisively waged over a wide field were at length concentrated on the critical point. The question is henceforth one, and one only. Can we acknowledge that an infallible authority to decide all questions of faith and morals has been committed to the Papacy? The question is that of the rights of conscience and of national, social, and individual freedom. When Luther said that "he could do no other" than act on his conscience, even if the Pope condemned him, he enunciated the essential principle of antagonism between the Papacy and other bodies of Christians.—The modern world may reply to the claim asserted in this letter in precisely similar language. "We can do no other" than we do. If the result of this great effort of the Roman Church be to proclaim an eternal separation from all "non Catholic" thought, the Pope will have conferred on the world an inestimable service, though in his opposite way to that which he expects. He will have convinced men, once and for all, that compromise or alliance with his Church is hopeless, and that the free thought of Protestantism, whether abstractedly desirable or not, is the only condition any longer possible.

A Queer People

The more we hear or see of the Chinese the more singular do they appear to us. In some respects they are favorable specimens of a high civilization; in others they are downright idiots. Their remedial process in cases of illness and their post mortem ceremonies are absurd to the last degree. We are told that when a Chinaman is ill one of his friends goes to the temple of the god of medicine, familiarly known as the "doctor," and having first tickled the idol's ears to secure its attention, proceeds to rub that portion of its bronze and wooden carcass corresponding to the afflicted part of the invalid. He then puts up in a red paper some ashes taken from a censor burning sick persons room, where they are worshipped daily until the latter recovers or "joins his ancestors." As it is supposed that his disease is caused by the enmity of some departed spirit, ten men are hired to become "security" for the patient. These ten bondsmen guarantee to the defended tenant of the land of shadows that the invalid shall do nothing further to offend him, in case he is permitted to recover. If he dies, the "ten kings of hell" are respectfully informed of his decease, with a view of propitiating their infernal majesties. In fact, coaxing, wheedling, bribing, and cheating the powers diabolical seems to be the principal object of all "celestial" devotees. They have an eye to economy, too, in their ceremonies for the benefit of the dead. Believing that the deceased may need funds and clothing in the other world, and that it will matter little in a future state whether his bank account is kept in redeemable money or the queer, whether his garments are silk or shoddy, they sacrifice at his shrine forged paper and mock raiment. This is treating both the departed and the gods rather shappily, but it saves expense, and is supposed to answer the desired end. The Chinese are so fond of trickery, that they take infinite pleasure in "shaving the ghosts of their friends, and all their deities and demons. Despite the disgusting absurdities of Buddhism and Taoism, the two principal religious creeds of the Chinese, we must not call them barbarians. They had printed literature when our progenitors roamed the wilderness clothed in the skins of beasts, and are said to have made gunpowder before the age of iron had commenced in Europe.

Rigor for Young Life.

Life is an earnest battle. It is no trifle to have a nature fearfully and wonderfully made—strong desires that must be regulated, enormous exposures that must be avoided, fatal proclivities that must be resisted and overcome. And therefore it is that we so much need that early training, that early discipline, which it is hard to see whether parents and governors are more slow to apply or children and youth more reluctant to receive. Let the fault lie where it will, it is a fatal fault. Success, usefulness, virtue, happiness, peace, salvation, heaven—all depend upon our entering life duly armed in suitable moral harness; with proper convictions as to what the exposures dangers and temptations of body and soul are, and with such settled rules, habits and principles, such a trained conscience, such an established reverence for God and duty, as must deprive the world of all its power to deceive and betray.

AIDS FOR WEAK MEMORY.—Heinrich Heine says that the houses in big Berlin are so much alike that you must keep the number in your head if you want to find your friend's residence. "I used to allot my friends some historical event whose date co-incided with the numbers of their houses, so that I could easily know the number by thinking of the date; and thus it happened that I never saw a friend without his suggesting some historical event. For instance, if I met my tailor, I immediately thought of the battle of Marathon; when I saw the well dressed banker, Gumpel, the destruction of Jerusalem appeared to me; when I met a certain insolvent Portuguese friend, I thought of the flight of Mahomed; when I saw the University Chancellor, a man whose severe integrity is well known, I remembered the death of Haman."

I. P. B. S. C. H.—The regular monthly meeting of this Society will be held in the Workingman's Temperance Hall this evening, at 8 o'clock.

FIRE.—A fire took place this morning in West Belleville, in a building occupied by a Mr. Moffatt. The fire was put out before much damage was done.

NORTH HASTINGS FAIR.—The account of the North Hastings Fair and Cattle Show, together with the Prize List, have, though in type, been crowded out, owing to the length of the Report of the Sabbath School Convention. They will appear to-morrow.

PERSONAL.—Amongst those present at the Sabbath School Convention, we notice Mr. Hutchison of the Daily News, Montreal, who is the official reporter of the Convention; and Mr. J. G. Buchanan of the Hamilton Evening Times.

LECTURE.—Our readers will please observe that Professor Bell's preliminary lecture will be delivered on Friday evening, instead of Thursday, as previously advertised, the closing meeting of the Sunday School Convention taking place on Thursday evening.

REV. J. WILD.—The Rev. J. Wild, of this town, has been engaged to give a series of lectures in the United States—two of which he gives in Farewell's Hall, Chicago, next week. He is also to preach and lecture in connection with the opening of a new church in Leavenworth, Kansas. We wish him success.

ALL PROVIDED FOR.—It is gratifying to know that the accommodation furnished by the inhabitants of Belleville has been most ample, that all the delegates to the Sabbath School Convention now in session in Belleville, have been provided for, and as was announced from the platform, "there is room to spare." While the Committees deserve great credit for the time and attention they have given, special mention must be made of the exertions of Mr. Wm. Johnson, Local Secretary, who has been most untiring in his efforts to have every thing connected with the Convention go off in a creditable manner.

THE MADOC RAILWAY.—The City Council of Kingston have supplemented the action of the Board of Trade of that City in appointing the Mayor, Mr. Alderman A. Livingstone, and Mr. Alderman Gildersleeve, as a deputation to attend the Railway meeting in Madoc. The Kingston News says: "These selection shows the earnestness of the public feeling of Kingston in regard to favoring a project that will put the city in improved communication with the rear townships. The greatest possible interest is being taken by the people in the prospect of obtaining this railway; and we are in strong hopes that the voice of the meeting on the 20th will carry the influence of North Hastings in favor of a terminus at Kingston."

49TH BATTALION CONCERT.—The Concert in aid of the Band Fund of the 49th Battalion, takes place in the Drill Shed, Trenton, on to-morrow (Thursday) evening. It is under the patronage of Lieut. Col. Brown and the officers of the Regiment. The Committee of management having been kindly promised the assistance of several distinguished Amateurs from Port Hope, Belleville, Stirling, Trenton, &c., an excellent programme may be expected. The proceeds of the Concert will be devoted to the purchase of new instruments, those at present in service having been in use for some 15 years, and are of a very inferior quality. Upon the occasion of the late annual drill of the Regiment, Col. Brown and the officers subscribed very handsomely towards the Band Fund, the amount of which subscription, and whether with the proceeds of the Concert to-morrow evening, we trust will secure to the Regiment, what the Queen's Regulations states is essential to the credit and appearance of every Regiment, namely, a good Band.

Belleville Board of Trade.

The regular meeting of the Board was held at the Secretary's Office last evening, and was more numerously attended than at any meeting held in the last eighteen months, in consequence of the question of a Railway to Madoc being under consideration. Thos. Kelso, Esq., in the Chair.

After the usual routine business of the Board was disposed of; the matter of the Madoc Railway came up for discussion, and the building of the same at as early a day as possible was warmly advocated by Messrs. Geo. Yarr, Geo. Richie, W. Sutherland, Jas. Robertson, Geo. D. Dickson and J. P. Thomas. It was believed by the meeting that at least $100,000 could be easily obtained, by Corporation and other subscription, in Belleville, to aid in the construction of the road.

After considerable discussion, on motion made and seconded, the following gentlemen were appointed a deputation from the Board to attend the meeting to be held at Madoc, on Wednesday next, the 20th inst., viz: Messrs. R. W. Hotton, Thomas Kelso, Geo. Ritchie, Geo. Yarr, J. C. Holden, William Sutherland, and James Robertson, and to represent at said meeting the views of this Board of Trade, and to urge the immediate building of the Road.

The Secretary read a communication from the Montreal Board of Trade, relative to rules for the guidance of Official Assignees appointed by them, and the rules adopted by the Montreal Board were ordered to be adopted by this Board, with some modifications necessary to avoid conflicting with the Statutes.

After some discussion as to matters connected with the Board, the meeting adjourned.

Sabbath School Association OF CANADA.

SIXTH PROVINCIAL CONVENTION.

FIRST DAY.

TUESDAY, Oct. 12, 1869.

Our report closed yesterday with the appointment of a Committee to nominate business and other Committees; while the Committee were preparing a report the Convention engaged in devotional exercises.

The Committee reported the office bearers for the ensuing year. After a brief discussion and some changes, the following list was adopted:

PRESIDENT.—Hon. Billa Flint.

VICE PRESIDENT.—D. W. Beadle, St. Catherines; J. G. Hodgins, Toronto; Dr. Mair, Kingston; Dr. R. Holden, Belleville; Rev. J. G. Bell, Clifton; R. J. Walker, Toronto; Rev. J. Dempsey, Port Hope; Principal Carman, Belleville; Rev. E. Ebbs, Ottawa; H. A. Nelson, Montreal; Rev. S. Jones, Belleville; Rev. G. Marling, Toronto.

BUSINESS COMMITTEE.—D. W. Shaw, Toronto; W. Johnston, Belleville; G. A. Young, Hamilton; Rev. Joel Briggs, Georgetown; J. G. Hodgins, Toronto; W. J. McCalla, St. Catherines; T. G. Grafton, Montreal; Rev. W. Millard, Toronto, and the Delegates from the United States.

TREASURER.—Hon. J. McMurrich, Toronto.

GENERAL SECRETARY.—Rev. W. Millard, Toronto.

MINUTE SECRETARIES.—Rev. W. Rowe, Toronto; Rev. W. Hall, Prescott; J. H. Roper, Cobourg.

The Committee on Resolutions to be named by the Business Committee.

MR. BEADLE, the retiring President, briefly addressed the meeting. The work of sending out Missionaries to establish new Schools had been taken from the Association during the year by a new organization of Christian friends. As there were some difference of opinion as to the advisability of the Association engaging in this work, it was a matter of congratulation that they could now devote their entire means and energies to the more appropriate work of the Association—in particular the promotion of Township and County organizations. The general establishment of these organizations throughout the country, would be the means of increasing the influence and interest of Provincial Conventions, and of promoting the cause of Sabbath Schools generally. Mr. Beadle concluded by speaking of the necessity of earnest prayer, without which all their efforts would be in vain.

Rev. W. MILLARD, general Secretary, read the Annual Report, of which we give a brief synopsis. The Sabbath School work generally, throughout the country, has progressed favorably during the year, many new County Conventions have been organized and new Schools established. The report contained extracts from the reports of the County Secretaries, which showed the state of the work throughout the country. On the whole the reports were very favorable.

On motion the report was adopted, and a vote of thanks tendered to the General Secretary.

The Convention then adjourned at 6 p. m. to 7.

EVENING SESSION.

On the re-opening of the Convention at 7 o'clock, the large Church was well filled with spectators. The first half hour was spent in devotional exercises.

HON. BILLA FLINT, President elect, then addressed the Convention, giving some reminiscences of his connection with the first Sabbath School in Upper Canada, being one started at Brockville some forty-five years ago. It was a matter of great pleasure to him to see the progress of the Sunday School work, and he hoped and believed that it would prosper even more in the future than it had in the past.

Rev. M. MILLARD, in the absence of the Treasurer, Hon. John McMurrich, read the Treasurer's report, showing a balance of cash on hand of $145 11.

Rev. Wm. MCLAREN, of Belleville, was then called on by the Chairman to deliver the address of welcome. On behalf of the people of Belleville, he welcomed the delegates for their own sake, for their works' sake, and for their Master's sake. It was with peculiar pleasure that he observed amongst them several teachers from the United States. These he rejoiced to welcome as co-workers in the same great cause, (Cheers.) He felt that in welcoming them amongst us they were welcoming brethren. We are all one in origin, one in race, one in literature, one in religion, and one in the influences which they were exerting in common for Christ and Christianity the world over. To these two great nations God had given to a very large extent the work of evangelizing the world, and it was well that they should come together on occasions like this, and receive instruction and encouragement the one from the other. There were those we would gladly see these two nations at variance with each other, but these are not the men who delight in Sabbath School Conventions. (Cheers.) The speaker referred to the vast and rapid extension of Sabbath School work as an evidence that it was blessed of God and that such a work was needed in the world, and he esteemed it an honor and a privilege to welcome the laborers in so great and important a work. He continued at some length to speak of the great importance of the work, and of the assistance in it which conventions of this kind would render. In entertaining the delegates they would be far more than compensated for their trouble by the good it would do to their own hearts, by the instruction they would receive, and by the satisfaction they would feel in the knowledge that they were doing something to help forward God's work in the land.

Rev. MR. MARLING, of Toronto, was then called on to report on behalf of the delegates to the United States National Sabbath School Convention, which was held at Newark, N. J. This Convention was composed of representatives from all parts of the Union, and the meetings were most enthusiastic. He would not attempt to describe them, but would endeavor to gather from their observations and experiences there, some lessons of value to us in Canada; but before doing so he would express the hope that ere long we shall be able to call together in this Dominion, a Canadian National Sunday School Convention, embracing within its members, representatives from all parts of British North America, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. (Cheers.) The arrangements for the National Convention at Newark were in most respects admirable, but he must do the Committee of Belleville the compliment, to say, that in regard to the reception of the delegates, their arrangements were somewhat better than those at Newark. In regard to the business management there was a great deal of prearrangement, much being left in the hands of Committees. The delegates were received with very great heartiness and cordiality; there were five of them, two from Toronto, one from Montreal, and two from Nova Scotia. Rev. Mr. Sutherland and himself were deputed to do the speaking for the Delegation, and there was one thing in this connection he would like to mention. The two Brethren from Halifax wished it to be intimated to the Convention that they wished it to be decidedly understood that they were included in the Dominion of Canada. (Loud Cheers.) Accordingly, in his Address he made this statement, but by some strange accident his remarks on that point did not find a place in their published report, though everything else he had said did. The fact was our friends at Newark felt that we had as strong as the rest of the citizens, of the Church's manifest destiny. However, they were received most cordially, and were honored with every distinction. On one occasion to express the gratitude which the Canadian Convention felt for the very valuable services rendered to them by Delegates from the United States, and he assured them that while upholding our loyalty to the Queen, and our satisfaction at being under her throne, and our faith in the future prospects of the dominion, we can still work hand in hand with them in this good work, that we could love our neighbor as ourselves, while at the same time we paddle our own canoe. (Loud Cheers.) The speaker then went on to speak in high terms of the tact and ability of the Chairman of the Convention, Rev. G. H. Stuart, of Philadelphia, and referred more in detail to the work of the Convention. Among other addresses they had one from Rev. Dr. Hall, formerly of Dublin, now of New York, who drew a comparison between the state of the Sunday School in Great Britain and the United States. The conclusion he came to was that there was more money expended in the work, more even of enthusiasm and excitement in regard to it in America, but for solid instructive work, the palm must be given to the other side of the Atlantic.—One feature of the Convention was particularly pleasing—there was no nonsense, no sensationalism about it—every one was deeply impressed with the solemnity and importance of the work in which they were engaged. Then they had an address from Mr. Trumble on the relations of the family to the Sunday School. He had studied the subject with great care, and examined an immense amount of statistics, and the conclusion he came to was that so far from the Sabbath School interfering with home instruction, it was a great aid to it. From Rev H. W. Beecher, they had a characteristic address, but though he could address the Convention with great power, many of these present could excel him in speaking to children. The spirit of the Convention was most harmonious; it was said at the close that they scarcely knew what denomination each belonged to. They received their inspiration from on high and he hoped that the results would follow from the meeting of this smaller Convention at Belleville.

The Chairman then introduced the following delegates from other bodies, who briefly addressed the Convention: Rev. John McKillican, Agent of the Canada Sunday School Union; Rev. Wm. Bee, representative of the Primitive Methodist Conference; and Rev. M. McGuire, Agent of the S. S. Missionary Union of Ontario.

Mr. Philip Phillips gave some illustrations of Sabbath School Singing, singing among other pieces, "Your Mission." Mr. Phillips has a fine voice, and completely electrified the audience in the manner with which he rendered his beautiful songs.

About ten o'clock the Convention adjourned until 9 o'clock the next morning.

SECOND DAY.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 13th, 1869.

The Convention opened this morning at 9 o'clock with the usual devotional exercises. The body of the Church was much better filled than at yesterday afternoon's session, a larger number of delegates having arrived by the night's and this morning's trains. A number of others are expected by to-day's trains. After 15 minutes had been spent in these services, Rev. E. Ebbs read an essay on "The legitimate province of the Sabbath School," which was listened to with great interest. The points advanced were ably and earnestly discussed, and left a deep impression upon his auditory.

The President stated that Mr. Hulett, Photographic Artist, Belleville, was desirous of taking a picture of the Convention immediately after its rising at noon, and on motion the request was granted.

The Secretary read a letter from Rev. E. Eggleston of Chicago, Illinois, regretting through illness in his family, his inability to attend the Convention.

A brief discussion then took place upon the topics introduced in the essay read by Rev E. Ebbs, which was taken part in by Rev. Mr. McKillican, agent of the Canada Sunday School Union, Montreal; Rev John Carroll, Wesleyan Methodist, Toronto; Mr. Robinson, Baptist, Port Peterboro; Mr. Warren Martin, of Chatham; and W. C. Ashdown, Toronto; Mr. A. Reid, Toronto; Mr. W. P. Lacey, Kingston; Mr. Laing, Galt; Mr. Thos. Kirk, Cavan; and Rev. Mr. Thos. Nixon, Toronto; and Rev. John Hunt, Aurora.

A half hour or more was spent in this way in the interchange of views upon the different points advanced in Mr. Gibbs' essay, which cannot but be of much value to the cause of Sabbath Schools. Of course there was a great variety of views expressed, but they were advocated by men who had very large experience as Sabbath School workers, and were consequently entitled to the most careful and prayerful consideration.

Mr. PHILLIPS then sang with much pathos and feeling, "Battling for the Lord," the audience joining in the chorus.

Rev. Dr. BURNS, of Chicago, was then introduced to the Convention, and after indulging in some pleasantry about the spread-eagleism of the irrepressible American Bird, the noble qualities of the British Lion and American Lion, he entered upon the discussion of the subject of "Earnestness and Skill." One of the most earnest, as well as most skillful workers, as well as the most blessed "pork-packers" in America, was his friend Mr. Reynolds, of Illinois, who he was glad to know would be present among them. The speaker then, with great earnestness and eloquence, discussed the question of earnestness and skillfulness in the office of a Sabbath School Teacher. Simplicity, engagetiveness, love to the Saviour and love to souls. Patience and perseverance and earnestness were the chief points touched upon. He closed his address by drawing a contrast between the earnestness of evildoers and those who were engaged in the cause of Christ, giving a striking illustration of the earnestness of the former as exhibited by the bulls and bears of Wall Street. He was listened to with much attention, and was loudly applauded on taking his seat.

Mr. PHILLIPS then favored the Convention with "Realms of the Blest," the audience joining in the chorus.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted, the audience standing during prayer by Rev. Dr. Burns.

Moved by Mr. D. MCLEAN, of Toronto, seconded by Rev. J. BRIGGS, of Georgetown.

Resolved—That the members of this Provincial Sunday School Convention, having heard with great regret of the domestic affliction in the family of our very highly esteemed Brother and co-laborer in the glorious Sabbath work, Rev. E. Eggleson, of Chicago, U. S., we hereby give expression of our heartfelt sympathies with our beloved brother, praying that God will speedily restore the afflicted one to health, and that a copy of the above resolution be sent to him.

The following Resolution, introduced by Rev. JOHN MCKILLICAN, Montreal, was unanimously adopted:

Resolved—That the members of this Convention, having heard with deep regret of the severe domestic affliction which has befallen the Rev. Mr. Millard, in the death of his beloved wife, herself a faithful and successful Sabbath School Worker, desire to express their heartfelt sympathy with their beloved friend and brother in his great loss, and they pray that he may richly enjoy the consolations wherewith our loving Father comforts his children in all their afflictions.

Mr. PHILLIPS then called upon the Convention to assist him in singing the appropriate hymn, "Calling us away," which was finely rendered.

The Secretary then announced the programme for the afternoon, which was that the Convention assemble in four sections at 3 o'clock, as follows:

Superintendent's Section to meet in the Bridge Street Wesleyan Church, Mr. W. Reynolds, of Peoria, presiding.

Bible Class Section to meet in John Street Presbyterian Church, Rev. Wm. Marling, presiding.

Intermediate Section to assemble at St. Andrew's church, Mr. S. S. Martin, of Toronto, presiding.

Infant Class Section to meet in the Congregational Church, Mr. W. P. Lacy, of Kingston, presiding.

Some topics will be taken up by the leaders of these different sections arranging their respective meetings, during which Mr. Phillips entertained the Convention with the beautiful hymn, "Our field is the World," the audience joining in the chorus.

The remaining portion of the forenoon session was taken up in discussing the subject of "Earnestness and Skill," several prominent members of the Convention taking part in the discussion, among whom was W. Reynolds, Esq., of Peoria, Illinois, whose remarks being of a practical character, giving examples and illustrations in his own experience of the effects of earnestness, were particularly interesting and most impressive. The earnestness exhibited by the speaker, the simplicity of his language, the manner of his address, the warm heartedness he displayed, showed that if you were not acquainted with his character, that he was a most zealous and efficient Sabbath School worker. It was said of him by one of the speakers last evening, that when not engaged in his business of "pork packing," (which only occupied his attention during a certain season of the year,) he was working in the cause of Sabbath Schools, gathering the little ragamuffins from the gutter, from the by-ways and lanes of the great cities, in fact spending his whole time and energies—and he was blessed largely with this world's goods—in promoting the cause of Sabbath Schools and neglected children. It was because he was such an earnest and successful worker in Sabbath Schools, that Dr. Burns spoke of him as one of the greatest Sabbath School men in the great West, and as a "blessed pork packer." Those who heard him to day will be glad to know that he is to be one of the speakers this evening.

The Convention adjourned about twelve o'clock to assemble in sections as above mentioned, and to meet again in the Church at 7 o'clock this evening.

It may be well to remind the public that the centre of the Church is reserved for the Delegates.

THIS EVENING'S PROGRAMME.

The following is the programme for this evening's proceedings, and it may be well to state that the Sessions are open to the public:

7.00 P. M.—Devotional exercises. Rev. Principal Nelles, D. D., on "Sabbath Schools and the New Dominion." Philip Phillips, Esq., on "Sabbath School songs, their proper character, and tendency to promote piety." Rev. Principal Carman, on "Religion in Childhood." Reynolds, Esq., of Peoria, Ill., on "County and Township Conventions."

TO-MORROW'S PROGRAMME.

THURSDAY, OCT. 14TH—SIXTH SESSION.

9.00 A. M. TO NOON.—Devotional exercises. Minutes and Report of Committees. Reports of Conductors of Sections. Specimen Infant Class teaching by Miss Dow, Normal School, Oswego. Mr. T. G. Grafton, on "Sabbath School Libraries, how to Select and Distribute." Rev. E. Eggleston, replies to "Question Drawer."

THE RECENT FAILURES

OF TWO OF THE LARGEST

ENGLISH ASSURANCE OFFICES,

NATURALLY causing much anxiety in the minds of Assurers in all Companies, the Directors of the

"CANADA LIFE"

Have published a Report and net valuation of all the policy and annuity obligations, by an Actuary today unconnected with it, the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT, of Boston, late Insurance Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts.

It is believed that such a voluntary submission of the Company's position to an eminent and entirely independent Actuary of the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT'S well known high character and professional skill, will add to that public satisfaction and confidence which the "Canada Life Company" enjoys.

Copies of Mr. WRIGHT'S Report may be had at the Head Office, or at any of the Agencies throughout the Dominion.

Persons may be assured in the Companies whose condition is unsatisfactory, desiring to join the "Canada Life," will be dealt with upon such terms as are reasonable and fair.

Had to Enlarge his STORE.

W. JOHNSON,

AT the close of his first four Months in Business, would be unworthy of the extensive patronage he has received, did he not thus publicly express his gratitude for the extensive, and still extending support he has received. He hopes by still following the rules which he has laid down for his guidance, to merit a portion of your trade. He would again repeat his motto:

Reasonable Profits,

(He believes in the "Nimble Penny.")

ONE PRICE,

(Your child buys as well as Yourself.)

NO TICK,

(Short Credits make long Friends.)

He has found it necessary to enlarge his Store, it will be found even more attractive than in the past, and his Windows will always contain an assortment of Goods to be found in Stock as well arranged as he can do it.

Look at his Windows.

His Stocks will be complete next week. To the following assortments he confines himself—

FURS,
HATS, CAPS, SHIRTS, GLOVES,
NECKTIES,

THE FENIAN AMNESTY MEETING.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The news to-day is unimportant. The 'Times' in an editorial on the Fenian amnesty meetings says, "The Crown is invited to pardon rebels who do not pretend to be penitent, not because the conspiracy is crushed, but because it is still formidable enough to rally sympathizers. No one doubts the right of the government to suppress with rigor outrages against law and order. Had the forbearance of the Crown been invoked in a becoming tone, with the recognition of its rights to protect peaceable and loyal citizens, an amnesty might be a message of peace. At present we see no presumption that it would be received in that spirit by the demanders, while it must operate as a discouragement to those who helped to crush the Fenian outbreaks. There can be no greater injustice or impolicy than such an act if Ireland is still Fenian at heart or hostile to the union. We believe a majority of the Irish people would rejoice at the suppression of Fenianism and some of them who sign the amnesty petitions would be thankful if the petitions were rejected."

U. S. FINANCIAL MATTERS.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The 'Times' has an editorial to-day on financial matters in the United States. The writer says, "There may be circumstances in the financial position of the United States authorising so glaring a departure from the sound rules of public economy, but it is difficult to deny that a mere struggle of gamblers by an act of the government is magnified into an event of national importance. If Mr. Boutwell had persevered more money would have changed hands, more fortunes would have been made or marred, other brokers gone mad, absconded or committed suicide, and the threat against Fisk might have been executed. It is not easy to decide whether this will be for good or evil."

FALL OF A BUILDING—TWO MEN KILLED, AND FIVE DANGEROUSLY WOUNDED.

NEW YORK, October 12.—This forenoon, the iron frame work of a new building in erection, at the foot of South and 10th street, Williamsburgh was suddenly and one man instantly killed, and five dangerously wounded.

AMERICAN ELECTIONS.

The World's Cleveland special says: There are enough returns to indicate the defeat of the Democratic ticket.

PHILADELPHIA, October 13, 2 a. m.—The Democrats concede that the State has gone for Geary, the Republican, by a small majority, while the Republicans claim he is elected by from six to ten thousand of a majority.

COLUMBUS, October 13.—The election is considered doubtful. The House is probably Democratic, and the Senate Republican.

ANOTHER BATTLE EXPECTED IN SPAIN.

NEW YORK, October 13.—The Herald's special, Madrid 11th, says: A considerable force of the Government troops was prepared for, and about to attack the position of the Republicans at Valencia, this morning. Yesterday active hostilities were suspended during a space of two hours, to allow time for the removing of the dead and wounded, on both sides. The inhabitants of the district, comprised within the suburbs of Valencia, have risen and effectually destroyed the railroad for a distance of seven leagues, so that the Government now receives the news from that part of the country by sea only.

During the recent battle at Saragossa, there were 250 men killed and wounded.

—Baraum, the great showman, has taken up his residence in Montreal. So says the 'News.'

A CARD,

THE undersigned would respectfully call your attention to his new and beautifully arranged Photograph Gallery, next door to M. Sawyer's, which is now open to visitors. All may rely upon getting as good work as can be done in the Dominion. Having had City Experience, and taken the Principal Prizes at the Provincial Exhibition at Hamilton, he has every confidence in pleasing all.—The Gallery has been fitted up under his personal supervision, with every convenience that can be required,—sparing neither pains nor expense.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1868 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

Epitaphs.

A writer in the London Scotsman has gathered a crop of epitaphs,several of which are quite fresh.

Here is one on a person named Chest:

"Here lies at rest, I do protest,
One Chest within another;
The one of them is very good,
Who says so of the other?"

On a very old man:

"He lived to 105 because he was strong,
100 to 5 you don't live as long."

On Martha Shiell:

"Poor Martha Shiell has gone away,
Her would if she could, but her couldn't stay,
Her had 2 bad legs and a baddish cough,
It was her 2 bad legs that carried her off."

Mr. Proctor's antipathy to medical men did not save him from the common fate of humanity:

"Here lies John Proctor,
Who lived and died without a doctor."

On Professor Walker,who wrote a treatise on English Particles:

"Here lies Walker's Particles."

On Dr. Fuller:

"Here lies Fuller's earth."

On a dustman:

"Cease to lament his change, ye just,
He's only gone from dust to dust."

Dr. Chard's medical practice seems to have been large, if not particularly successful:

"Here lies Dr. Chard,
Who filled the half of this churchyard."

The following is a quaint mixture of specific information and sentiment:

"Here lies two babes as dead as nits,
Who died of agonizing fits;
They were too good to live with we,
So God took them to live with He."

On another babe:

"Since I was so quickly done for,
I wonder what I was begun for."

The maker of the following epitaph is clearly of opinion that Mr. Jones' ruling passion will be strong after death. Its profanity spoils it:

"Here lies the bones of Joseph Jones,
Who ate while he was able;
But once o'er fed, he dropt down dead,
And fell beneath the table."

When from this tomb to meet his doom
He will rise with other sinners,
Since he must dwell in heaven or hell,
He'll choose where he'll get the best dinners."

On a woodman:

"In Kent so good I was lopping wood,
And down fell from a tree;
I met with a chick and broke my neck,
And so death lopped off me."

There is no evidence that Jonathan Pound was an Irishman, but his epitaph contains an unmistakeable bull:

"Here lies the body of Jonathan Pound,
Who was lost at sea and never was found."

FOOD FOR CHICKS.—I have kept fowl s and raised chickens for many years. For several years past I have fed chickens with corn meal prepared by mixing with boiling water and after standing thirty minutes it is ready to feed. I usually salt it slightly, sufficient to taste the salt, and believe that in so doing prevented gapes, as I have not lost a chick by that disease since I used salt, and, previously I did lose from gapes. Salt is destructive to worms. That the young chicks may have a variety, I also feed wheat screenings, and on these I pour boiling water, both to swell and soften the screenings, and wash out the dust and smut. Pour off the water, and pour on again if necessary to cleanse the screenings, and after standing a few hours, feed. I also give my fowls and chicks all scraps from the chandlers, chopped and broken fine. This they consume with great avidity. Pluck cut fine once a week, or oftener, is picked up very quickly. Clam shells and bones broken fine I also feed. Shells and bones are easily broken on a stone with a hatchet. To save stooping and to keep above the fowls, I have the stone on a box, on which is also a piece of oak plank, to cut the scraps and break the bones. I have no trouble with soft shelled eggs or gapes, and since my hen-house floor is of wood and coal ashes six inches deep, the lice have disappeared from my poultry. My chicken coops are stationary, and have a floor of ashes. Fresh ashes are supplied as often as is necessary.—Country Gentleman.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK ENDING OCT. 6.

The receipts during last week were large, but so far this week have been light, from the detention caused by the freshet. As canals are reported in bad condition,they will be small for the coming week. Sales were also large last week, and shipments active. This week, however, will be nearly lost, so far as shipments are concerned, as the high water will prevent anything being done for several days. Prices remain at previous quotations.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those injurious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

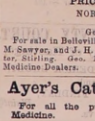

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally acquired by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all agree that it is the best pill they have ever known—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compositions. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

Their operation is mild, searching and thorough, exerting their powers on the internal viscera to purify the blood, and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the system, and cure disease. Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case requires the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery and Diarrhœa, but one dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists to take them, as they will benefit finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from the stimulant effect they exert upon the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in referencing to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

The Extract package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials in the hand-writing of, as well as published by, and from the use of, Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, We give a few:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tumors, ulcers, old sores, pimples on the face, worms of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it purifies the blood, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; as a tonic, and self-regulator and purifier of the vital organs perfect, a good alternative tonic for ordinary family purposes, a superior recipient after the yeast has been reduced by sickness, an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and sickness having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds,such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, sore throat, quinsy, &c. It has may property in called FAN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which FAN KILLER is now used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, tissue complaints or debilitation. It may also be used with great success as a vermifuge. Sold at 50 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to offer the present condensed style of putting up the medicines in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for the same price as former years.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been subdued and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country that they are scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofula is the most destructive and most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the system undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be and finally deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by erection on the skin, or by ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla in this country is valuable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this medicine: Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Pain, Pimples, Liver Complaint, Neuralgia, and the various Uterine affections of the human female system.

Syphilitic or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing them, as they do not readily yield to any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Tetterworm or White Swelling, Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield readily to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and the various forms in which it is often found. Even the ranking poisons in the blood, that in Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, find a restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who have suffered from Debility, Prostration, Sleeplessness, and trembled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, will find in it the elements of restoration. Weakness will flee before it, and the most unmistakable evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of all classes as has this extraordinary remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among every class of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become known, for its real intrinsic character and power to cure the various affections of the throat, lungs, and breast, and to relieve the irritable protector against them. While adapted to suffer forms of disease which the young endure, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for the insidious consumption, and the dangerous affections which fasten upon the lungs. As a revulsion against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family. Indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided against the fatality of these.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, there are many cases of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to health and vigor by this Cherry Pectoral. So complete in its mastery over all disorders of the throat and lungs, is it over the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish them here. Once or twice trying will then assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is entirely harmless on the system, however numerous and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are absolutely beyond question. Many have been cured by it who had suffered for years without a paroxysm after taking a few doses of it. For yellow fever, dumb ague, and bilious fever, it is recommended to the most implicit confidence in its power to cure, and where other remedies have failed, it will be found a perfect specific. Travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all around the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Ferri, Prof. of Chemistry, in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the Universal Exhibition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865. is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every occasion.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Prepared and sold wholesale by the Proprietor,

VOL. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 14, 1869. No. 140.

North Hastings Fair and Cattle Show.

The Fair and Cattle Show for the North Riding of this County, for 1869, was held at Garner's Hotel, Madoc Road, in Huntingdon, on Tuesday, the 12th inst. The morning gave indications of a wet day, but about 11 a. m. the rain ceased, and old Sol shone forth in all his glory, rendering every one pleased and happy. Notwithstanding the unpropitious state of the weather in the morning, the turn out of spectators and exhibitors was much more numerous than upon any former occasion, thus showing an increased interest in these annual exhibitions. Another pleasing feature was the fact, that every Township was well represented.

It was a matter of general remark that while the show was superior in many respects to those of former years, that it was utterly impossible to show any one class to advantage, for the want of proper arrangement, there being no room sufficiently large, if we except that used for the grain and roots, to place the articles on exhibition even together, so as to be seen to advantage. We hope to see this obviated in future.

On visiting the field the absence of Blood Cattle was somewhat conspicuous, a void which we hope ere another show is held, will be filled. Mr. Jas. Archibald exhibited among the grade a very fine two years heifer, which he brought from London.—The grades were well represented in large numbers and of good qualities. A few yoke of oxen were shown, which would be a credit to any part of the world.

The show in Horses was somewhat numerous, and some very fine young colts were exhibited among them; we could not help admiring one belonging to Mr. Killpatrick, of Huntingdon. It was really a fine animal and we refer to it because it was not awarded a prize.

In sheep we saw little improvement from last year, though there were many very good animals on the ground, shown by the same persons who have carried off prizes for a number of years past.

Some fine "Porkers" were on show. In addition to the fine Yorkshires, belonging to Mr. C. A. Jordison, that gentleman had a blooded Berkshire, a really handsome pig, which he brought from London, on show. This is a kind of pig, which we believe will become a favorite the more it is known, particularly if crossed with the larger breeds.

Domestic Manufactures were well represented, and gave evidence of a thorough knowledge of how to make articles which add to the happiness and comfort of every household. The cloths, flannels, quilts, stockings, mits, etc., were of a superior quality. Passing from this to the Dairy Department, every one must have been agreeably surprised at the marked improvement in butter over former years, showing that this important branch of industry is far from being neglected by our farmers.—There was also some very fine cheese from private dairies, and an excellent sample from the Moira Factory.

The show of grain gave evidence not only of a bountiful harvest, but of a good quality of grain. The competition was keen, the entries being numerous. Allied to this Department was that of Roots, and though North Hastings has always produced fine Roots of all descriptions, this year's show has exceeded all previous ones both in number of entries and quality of articles exhibited. In short, we have never seen a better display of carrots, parsnips, (in particular) mangles, turnips, etc. Nor was the garden produce at all behind that of the field. The apples and pears were particularly fine, proving conclusively that certain varieties can be grown to perfection in North Hastings, particularly in Huntingdon, where it will be seen by the names of the successful competitors the fruit grew.

The show in Farming Implements was not large, owing we suppose to the fact that there are not a great number of extensive factories in the North. Mr. Bristol of Madoc, exhibited a very fine Democrat Waggon; and some good sets of lumber harness were exhibited, together with a number of useful articles which are being gradually introduced to expedite work, and save labor.

In what is termed fancy work, there was not so large a show as in former years. We are not prepared to say, however, that this feature was a defect in the show, as it was sufficiently made up in the superiority of that which was useful as well as ornamental. There were, however, a number of very fine specimens of the handiwork of delicate fingers, giving evidence of skill and taste.

Taking the Show of 1869 altogether, it was a success, if we except the few drawbacks pointed out, which we hope to see remedied ere the next annual exhibition is held. The number of entries exceeded 1,000, and the attendance was larger by thousands than upon any similar occasion. The following is the SIR FRANCIS HINCKS.—A telegram from Pembroke, Oct. 13, says :—" Considerable excitement among local politicians here to-night, Rankin has resigned. Hincks has telegraphed his friends in Pembroke to prepare. Either Thomas Murray or Christopher O'Kelly will oppose him. Sir Francis' chances of election are very slim." It is to be hoped he will be defeated at the hustings, so that there will be no necessity for pitching him overboard when he meets the Commons.

Sabbath School Association OF CANADA.

SIXTH PROVINCIAL CONVENTION.

SECOND DAY—EVENING SESSION.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 13th, 1869.

The proceedings were opened by singing "Jesus Lover of my Soul," after which Rev R. Boyle, of Brampton, offered prayer.—" Shining Shore" was then sung, Mr. Phillips leading.

The Church was crowded throughout, every seat being filled, the aisles and every available spot in the body of the Church, as well as the galleries were occupied, and large numbers were turned away for want of accommodation.

After singing, the Chairman announced the programme for the evening, and called upon Rev. Dr. Nelles, Principal of Victoria College, to deliver his address.

Rev. PRINCIPAL NELLES, D. D., gave an address on "Sunday Schools and the New Dominion." He began by referring to the susceptibility of youth—to the ease with which habits good or bad are formed at that period of life, and to the difficulty, or almost impossibility of changing the habits and character in old age. Applying this principle to nations he pointed out that the history of the world furnished no example of national rejuvenation—not a single instance in which a nation that has grown old has renewed its youth and started again upon a career of moral and intellectual progress. Not even the glorious advent of the gospel from heaven arrested the progressive decay of the Roman Empire, which at that time embraced the whole civilized globe. All the efforts too, of modern times failed to restore Grecian nationality and Grecian progress, and so far from the government of that country being able to maintain order, the people had taken to plundering the government. In view of the facts, how important it was that this country—the youngest of the nations—the only nation born and established without the baptism of blood—should start on a right course. We were just now in a state of transition, and this was the time to see to it, that the principles of our holy religion were at the basis of all our institutions. There were then dangers before us, speaking particularly of the religious aspect of the question. First, there was the danger of the extinction of the Church. This was at least possible in view of the fearful fact that the Churches that once flourished on the shores of the Mediterranean were long ago extinct. Secondly, there was danger of the corruption of the Churches, and thirdly, the most imminent danger of all was the limitation of the spiritual power of the Churches so as to circumscribe their evangelizing influence within certain portions of the land and certain classes of the population.—We have only to look to the state of things in the most Christian nations of the earth to find that this danger is really imminent. In London, the great centre of Christian and benevolent enterprises, there was growing up side by side with Christianity a rampant heathenism which was spreading its deleterious influence over large classes of the population. An eminent man in London, whose entire sympathies were with Christianity stated that London was the most heathen city on the globe. In New York a similar state of things existed. Who would have thought many years ago that England would have come to that. The instructive part of it to us is that there was a time when all this might have been prevented, when a little more prayer on the part of the Churches, a little more zeal, a little more effort, a little more union, a little less contention about minor points of controversy, and a little more turning of the great energies of the Church's heart, the Church's intellect, and the Church's purse in the direction of practical righteousness would have prevented this sad state of things. The facts should arouse us who are just entering upon a national career, to put forth effort for evangelizing of every part of the country now. There was a time coming when our country would be as thickly populated as England is now, and unless the Church was fully alive to her great work, an appalling heathenism would overshadow portions of our population then, as in England, as now. There were two things important for us to do—first, we must aim at the extension of Sabbath School training, endeavor to induce young people to remain at the Sabbath School, and secondly we should see to it, that there are no outcast children, but that Sabbath Schools become as widespread over the land as Common Schools, and that all the children be gathered into them. With the constant prayerful Christian effort in these directions, our country might be saved from the heathenism that exists to so large an extent in the heart of other Christian lands.

The Rev. Doctor occupied all the time allotted to him, and also the time allowed for the three minute speeches by members of the Convention. The President said he was sure, from the rapt attention given to the speaker, he need not apologize to the audience for not calling him to time, and hoped those who contemplated addressing the Convention upon the topic would forego their intention.

MR. PHILLIPS then sang, with much fervor and beauty, "When the Days are Growing."

The PRESIDENT having temporarily vacated the Chair, Mr. Beadle took the Chair and called upon Rev. Professor Carman to address the Convention on the subject of "Religion in Childhood," stating at the same time that when the speaker's twenty minutes was up he would call him to time.

Prof. CARMAN rose and said he wanted fair play, and it he occupied ten minutes all right, if he finished his remarks in fifteen minutes, all right, if he required twenty or thirty minutes, he wanted it, and if the previous speaker was permitted to occupy fifty minutes he saw no reason why he should be confined to twenty.

A motion was adopted that as the previous speaker was allowed all the time he wanted, Professor Carman be permitted to have whatever time he required.

Rev. Principal CARMAN said he was happy to stand before so spirited a Convention, and felt thankful that they were all permitted to meet on such an auspicious occasion. He trusted that every one of those attending the Convention were pleased with the good old town of Belleville. He loved Belleville, and hoped some of the friends from a distance would come to love it too. It is not unlikely they may come to love somebody in Belleville. Such things had happened before, and it was not unlikely they should occur again. It was very hard to enumerate the good results which might grow out of the Convention meetings. In listening to the remarks of Dr. Nelles his mind was carried back to former days, when he was his pupil. Principal Carman then went on at some length to contrast the condition of our people with the ancient nations spoken of by the Professor, and said that he did not believe that they had a Philip Phillips going about from place to place singing the songs of Jesus; he (the speaker) was delighted with the singing of this "Singing Pilgrim," and stated that during the execution of some of his selections the tears were seen to flow down the cheeks of many in the audience whose hearts were touched; he considered that the heart was more effectually touched by this means than from the pulpit; there were other things which the ancient nations were not in possession of —the steam engine—he (Principal Carman) would sooner have one sunrising fire-brand than ten thousand Doctors of Divinity. The speaker then referred in affecting terms to the great influence of truths upon the mind of childhood. He had kissed more hope—in his little boy—before leaving home, and had learned more of the power of religion and hope of the glorious gospel from that child, than was inspired by all the preachers he ever heard. He then gave a little of his own personal experience, referring to his early childhood on the banks of the St. Lawrence. There was something in the human heart yet that was good, and he loved to see it developing itself in childhood. The responsibility of parents is great, and if they only did their duty, there would be little use for Sabbath Schools—in fact they might be swept from the land. The primary responsibility rests with parents, and if all would do their duty there would be less irreligion to conquer in the world. It is the wretched caricatures of religion that keep back the cause of Christ. Religion was not destined to make its possessor morose, sullen, or unhappy. It should be carried with light in the eye—a smile on the countenance, and a warmth in the heart. Some people thought it a sin to laugh, and would quote as an argument the passage, "Jesus wept." Why, he wept to make us glad; a lady missionary was passing along the road one day, looking sad and melancholy, and stopped a little lad who was carrying a basket upon his arm; she asked the boy "if he had got religion?" "No, m'am," "I've got potatoes," responded the boy. The boy was as happy with his potatoes, as the woman was with her melancholy religion. A boy was tugging away endeavoring to hold a calf, when the lord of the estate came along. He addressed the boy, "Don't you know me?" The lad replied "yes sir," "Then why did you not lift your hat to me?" "I will sir," said the lad, whose both hands were engaged, "if you will come and hold the calf." This was the way in regard to religion; it was a remedial economy designed to make our race happy. The speaker had no sympathy with those nations who killed fellow-men, in order to redeem their race. He said that the great trouble was, people were inclined to put old heads on young shoulders. Many a thing should be allowed in the religion of a child, that should not be tolerated in the religion of a grown person, and the speaker gave one or two appropriate anecdotes, illustrating the point. He closed his interesting address, by thanking the audience for having given him fair play. He regretted that such an occurrence should have transpired at the Convention, whose proceedings throughout had been of such an exceedingly harmonious character. The audience however, knew what it meant, and he was pleased that they had not allowed him to be "burked" by one or two persons who wished to have the immediate control of the proceedings.

Rev. Dr. NELLES said he kept within the limits agreed upon between himself and the Secretary, though he exceeded the time allotted by the programme.

Mr. BEADLE, temporary Chairman, said it had been his habit when presiding at Conventions to carry out the programme. He did not care personally whether Principal Carman occupied the whole evening if the Convention was willing.

Mr. FLINT, on resuming the chair, said that when he left Mr. Beadle in his place, on retiring from the meeting, he did not think that in his absence the time which Principal Carman or any other speakers should be allowed, but wished him merely to carry out the programme.

Mr. PHILLIPS then sang "God with us," in which the audience joined in the chorus.

A resolution was then adopted that in future the programme be carried out inflexibly, without fear, favor or affection.

Mr. PHILLIPS then occupied a few minutes in giving some specimens of Sabbath School singing. "The Rescue" was given by particular request, and was admirably rendered.

Rev. Dr. O'MARA, of Port Hope, was added to the list of Vice-Presidents.

The audience next sang "All Hail the Power of Jesus name," Mr. Phillips leading.

W. REYNOLDS, Esq., of Peoria, Ill., was the next speaker. He said he was happy to bring to them the salutations of the people of the State of Illinois. Ever since he became acquainted with the delegates when this convention sent to the National Convention, he was anxious to know more of Canada. He came to talk with them about the benefits of organization. He believed in organized effort. When he looked back to the career of those distinguished divines, Whitfield and Wesley, and contrasted the work of those two men, he saw the effect of organized effort. Wesley was an organizer, and he gave to the world that organized power with the delegates whom this convention sent to the National Convention, he was anxious to know more of Canada. He came to talk with them about the benefits of organization. He believed in organized effort. When he looked back to the career of those distinguished divines, Whitfield and Wesley, and contrasted the work of those two men, he saw the effect of organized effort. Wesley was an organizer, and he gave to the world that organized power with the delegates whom the Methodist Church. Whitfield's influence to a great extent is lost. Wesley's goes on with increased power. He felt no delicacy in saying this, not being a member of the Methodist Church. In Illinois they had a great many energetic and eloquent Sabbath School workers, and not long since they had one of the greatest Conventions ever held in the country, at which 3,000 delegates were present, and which was attended by 5,000 people. That convention, and that condition of the Sabbath School cause was obtained through the determined zeal and concerted effort of a few Sabbath School workers, and the men composing that convention had made up their minds not to rest until every child in the State was brought under the influence of Sabbath Schools. The way this work was first commenced was to raise a sum of $2,500, and send two Missionaries to travel through every part of the State. $5,000 was added to that, but it was found a paid agency did not work well. Seven business men pledged themselves to an organized effort, and gave from three to six months of their time for this purpose. The State was divided off into districts, and the district that fell to the speaker's lot was what was known as Egypt in Southern Illinois. He had just returned from a two month's tour in that district. Although it was the oldest part of the State it was the most benighted part. He had travelled 25 and 30 miles through old settled stations of that country and not found a single School house; he had visited three County Seats, in which there was not a single Church, though those towns had been settled for 45 years; and this condition of benighted heathenism existed in the bonsted State of Illinois. He found in one or two places churches built, and one in course of erection; the manner in which it was built was somewhat singular. He would tell them: During a Session of Congress a member for the district rose in his place in the House, and in reply to an attack made on a member for an adjoining district, thanked God that although he had not a good education, he had a Church in his neighborhood, which was more than the Member could say. The Member pleaded guilty to the charge, and was so much chagrined that he sent home $500 to help to build a Church, and it was now nearly completed. In one whole County there were only seven or eight Sabbath Schools, and those were closed in the Winter. He found a Minister of a certain sect, in one of those dark districts who opposed the movement for Sabbath Schools, and one Sabbath while he was there he preached a sermon founded on the text, "Thou art Peter, and on this rock will I build my Church, and the gates of Hell shall not prevail against it." The gates of Hell, said the Minister, had four pillars and those were The Bible Society; the Temperance Society; Sabbath Schools; and the fourth was the Republican party. (Great laughter.) That field, where so much ignorance and superstition existed was certainly a great mission field. The speaker would not have his audience understand that there were no christian men and women in that country. There were a few devoted, earnest christians who were sighing for light. These they got to attend the State Conventions; they found if they could be got there and got some enthusiasm into them a great work would be accomplished. It is at these Conventions we get the steam on, and then we go down to the Townships and work it off. The speaker went on at some length to show what great things had been accomplished through the organized efforts of their Township and County Conventions, and could warmly recommend the same system as a safe and efficient one everywhere where there are children to be saved from the gutters; where there are precious souls to be saved. He then made an earnest appeal to business men to give their energies and means to this noble work. What will all the riches you are gathering avail when you come to die? He came across a man in his travels who had made a great deal of money, but in talking with him one day about his soul he got interested and attended one of his meetings and made a speech. He said "Friends, I have been working forty years and have made $100,000, but I said to-night my life has been a failure. From henceforth I am determined to lay up treasures in Heaven." That man went to work, gathered thirty or forty round him, and in a few months had thoroughly canvassed the County, and one of the results was a Convention of 1500 persons; a revival of religion broke out in that neighborhood which was still spreading. That was the result of personal effort, not on the part of ministers of the Gospel, but of business men, friends and co-workers. Men are beginning to learn that there is something higher than mere earthly enjoyment or the riches of this world to live and work for. He had realized that the highest motive is not to accumulate riches, but to do his Master's will. Not long ago he was dining with a very rich man in Illinois, and after dinner he took him up to a balcony in his house and snowed me his immense estate. "Those farms," pointing in one direction, "are all mine," "and those," pointing in another, "are all mine." "Those horses and cattle and sheep are all mine." "How much land have you accumulated, Mr. Strawn ?" I asked. He replied," 40,000 acres." I thought I could not leave him without saying something to him about his soul, and took the liberty of saying: "Mr. Strawn, may I ask you a question?" Certainly, said he? "Well," said I, "you have gathered together a great deal of this world's goods, may I ask how much do you own up yonder?" pointing heavenward. He replied with tears coursing down his cheeks, "Oh, sir! I am poor up there. Don't talk to me about those things." I left him. One year afterwards I learned he had fallen dead on his door step. I shall not follow him to the other world. He is in the hands of a merciful God. But friends, how these things should cause us to lay up treasures in heaven, so that we may have a title clear to mansions in the skies. The speaker then contrasted the condition of that man who has made his millions and consequently made his mark in the eyes of the world, with him who went about doing good all the days of his life, and died not worth a cent, though he had made his mark in the better land, and would receive it when he landed on the shining shore. He closed an earnest and effective speech by appealing to Christian business men to be active, to be desperately in earnest, and do all they could to save sinners, and sat down amid loud applause.

The audience then sang "Battling for the Lord," Mr. Phillips leading.

Some announcements were made, after which a resolution was adopted authorizing the Executive Committee to organize Township and County Conventions in Quebec and Ontario as soon as possible.

The Business Committee announced that the Town of Galt had been chosen for the next Convention. Their recommendation was ratified by the Convention.

About ten o'clock the benediction was pronounced, and the meeting closed with a song by Mr. Phillips.

THIRD DAY.

THURSDAY, October 14th, 1869.

The Convention re-assembled at 8:30 this morning, and engaged in devotional exercises till 9:15, led by W. Reynolds, Esq., of Illinois. The minutes of previous meeting were read and confirmed.

Rev. Mr. McLEAN moved, seconded by Mr. J. J. WOODHOUSE, the following resolution:

That in the death of the Rev. Dr. Caldicott, this Convention, while bowing with reverent submission to our Heavenly Father, who doeth all things well, desire to express the high esteem with which they regard his memory, and to record their deep sense of loss in the removal of one of the first and most active promoters of this Association; and they would hereby convey to his afflicted family their sincerest condolence with them, in this bereavement.—Carried unanimously.

The Business Committee reported a list of 40 names as the Executive Committee for the ensuing year. After some discussion, the report was referred back to the Committee, with instructions to reduce the Committee to fifteen, including representatives of the different religious bodies engaged in the work of the Association.

The Committee subsequently reported the following to compose the Committee, which was adopted:

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—Messrs. D. McLean, J. J. Woodhouse, S. S. Martin, J. R. Macdonald, C. A. Morse, J. Harcourt, Thos. Nixon, Thomas Goodeve Lyman, Montreal; W. P. Lacy, Kingston; W. Johnston, Belleville; A. J. McKenzie, Hamilton; Chas. Rayaard, Guelph; Robt. McLean, Galt; Thos. Coldwell, London; Thos. Kirk, Galt.

Rev. John GEMLEY, of Toronto, Agent of the Upper Canada Bible Society, was then introduced, and briefly addressed the Convention. He asked for the hearty cooperation of the Association in the work of the Bible Society. The Directors of the Society had recently resolved to publish a paper, to be issued every month, entitled the "Upper Canada Bible Society Recorder." This paper would contain full and accurate information of the work of the Society in this country, and would be distributed gratuitously.

Mr. J. HODGINS, Honorary Secretary of the Society, gave an interesting account of the results of the Sunday School carried on in the Toronto jail, of which he was the Superintendent. A most excellent work was being done in that School, and many of the inmates were brought to a knowledge of the truth.

The Reports of the different sections that met yesterday, were then called for.

The reports are of a very interesting character, embracing as they do, the result of the careful deliberations of experienced workers in the Superintendent's, Bible Class, Intermediate and Infant Sections, but owing to their extreme length, we have not space to reproduce them to-day. They will appear in a subsequent issue. The 45 minutes remainder of the forenoon Session was occupied by the United States' "Question Drawer," the task devolving upon Mr. Reynolds, of Illinois. His answers were given with great readiness, showing a thorough knowledge of, and thorough acquaintance with the whole machinery of Sabbath Schools, exhibiting at the same time excellent judgment, and calculated to meet the unanimous approval of the Convention.

A vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Reynolds, as well as the other Delegates from the United States, after which the Convention adjourned until 2 p. m.

—Oshkosh, Wis., has thirty-two saw and shingle mill establishments, which consume on an average, 5,000,000 feet of logs each, during the season, making an aggregate of 160,000,000.

A little six year old car was walking with his father, and, passing a church, the child asked: 'What house is that? 'That's the Dutch church,' was the reply. People go there to be good, so that they may become angels.' 'Will they be dutch angels, pa?'

"CANADA LIFE"

Have published a Report and net valuation of all its policy and annuity obligations, by an Actuary totaly unconnected with it, the Hon. ELIZUS WRIGHT, of Boston, late INSURANCE Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts.

It is believed that such a voluntary submission of the Company's position to an eminent and entirely independent Actuary of the Hon. ELIZUS WRIGHT'S well known high character and professional skill, will add to that public satisfaction and confidence which the "Canada Life Company" enjoys.

Copies of Mr. WRIGHT'S Report may be had at the Head Office, or at any of the Agencies throughout the Dominion.

Persons who may be assured in the Companies whose condition is unsatisfactory, desiring to join the "Canada Life," will be dealt with upon such terms as are reasonable and fair.

Failure of the Club System in New York.

Fashionable clubs seem to have a hard time of it in this city. It is not long since the Athenæum and the Electri succumbed to the pressure of financial difficulties, and now it is rumored that the New York Club, which was once composed of the most gay and festive men in in metropolitan society, is also on the verge of bankruptcy and dissolution. To meet its enormous expenses, the principal part of which are occasioned by the restaurant department, new members have lately been admitted without that close scrutiny of characters and qualifications which was formerly practised, and driven out older and more fastidious men, prevented desirable ones from applying for admittance, and so destroyed the prestige of the club that it is seriously proposed to make no further effort to keep it up, but to form a new club out of the best members of the New York and Union Clubs respectively. A number of wealthy persons are said to be prepared to pay liberally toward the formation of this new institution; but the project, if carried out, would ultimately result in fresh disaster. New York, we are glad to say, does not contain enough idle men of education and ability to support a purely fashionable lounging place and we hope that it never will.

THE "TIMES" ON SPANISH AFFAIRS.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Times this morning has an editorial on Spanish affairs. The writer says he had little sympathy for, and less faith in, republicanism. The failure of the present government is owing to an unnecessary, prolongation of the provisional government and the attempt to close it up when it has become impossible. There is now no king forthcoming, and it is better to leave matters as they are, as a regency is the only possible scheme. When is understood that dangerous questions lie dormant a change in the government will be indefinitely adjourned. Some steps may now be made towards a conciliation of the two parties. Castellar, Figaras, and others, are not formidable as adversaries, and may be useful as friends. They are avowed Republicans, but men of order. We might easily regard the regency as a half-way house, less objectionable than a monarchy and less dangerous than a republic. Prim leans this way, and between him and Castellar a union is possible. A government in which Castellar would represent freedom, and Prim order and authority, might offer a sufficient guarantee of its honest views and tendencies to satisfy all reasonable people.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough gradually left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. That has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

As Montreal Tea Company: MONTREAL, 1868.

GENTS.—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea has in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap. Yours very truly,

F. DENNIE.

Montreal Tea Co:

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue a customer.

Yours respectfully,
FRANCIS T. GREEN,

MINERAL WATER,

CONTINUES to be the favourite with the people, in consequence of the quantity of Iodine, Iron, Magnesia, &c., it contains, as compared with other Springs, and its superior medicinal combination so providentially supplied. It is unsurpassed as a

Tonic, Alterative, Laxative and Diuretic.

As a beverage it is at once cooling and healing. When aerated it takes the place of Soda Water and Seltzer. It is of much service to ladies, and should be used by gentlemen of sedentary habits.

A Song.

I love the sea, the stormy sea,
Where billows break and winds blow free,
I love, I love the boiling foam;
The British sailor's darling home.

I love the tide, the rolling tide,
Where big 'white horses' madly ride,
While loud the piping breezes sing,
And gray gulls dip a wandering wing.

I love, oh! how I love the view
Which distance lends enchantment to!
I love the sea, as I said before,
But I love it best as it's seen from shore.

Treatment of Kicking Cows.

A writer in the New England Farmer recommends the following method for curing a cow of kicking:

Take a long strap long enough for the purpose, bend the foreleg so as to bring the foot up to the body. Then put the strap round the arm and small part of the leg, near the hoof, crossing between so as not to slip off over the knee, and buckle. In this condition it is an impossibility for a cow to kick; they may come to the knee a few times, but are soon quiet.

In confining the hind legs, either singly or together, there is danger of spoiling the animal. A spirited cow will struggle and sometimes is thrown, when the hip, stifle or some other part is injured, perhaps for life.

We have used this method occasionally in our own dairy for several years, and find it a very good way when kind treatment will not prevail. Long finger nails are a fruitful source of kicking cows. The udder and teats of some cows are extremely sensitive, and great care should be taken to handle them so as to cause no pain or uneasiness. Some milkers go to work as if they were operating on a piece of leather, wringing the teat and pressing their sharp finger-nails into it. Then if the cow attempts to relieve herself of the pain inflicted, she is straightway pounded and otherwise abused until she becomes a confirmed kicker. Generally cows that are treated kindly, and not hurt while milking will not kick; but occasionally a cow is found that, like some men, has a bad ungovernable temper that flies at mere imaginary offences. We once owned a cow of this kind that was extremely vicious, and would kick and attempt to hook those who were milking her, but by laying a rod upon her back she would stand perfectly quiet, chewing her cud and manifesting not the slightest uneasiness.

Milkers should study the temper of the cows they milk, and find out whether the cow kicks on account of pain or wilfulness. If it is from bad temper, the strap applied to the foot is a very good way to subdue her, but avoid whipping and beating in all cases.

A Gentlemanly Actor receives Fifteen Cents from a Negro.

As Mr. Stuart Robson, the popular comedian, was approaching the corner of Rollins and Washington street yesterday morning, he encountered a pompous-looking darkey, who was in charge of a comfortable family carriage and a span of sleek looking horses. As Mr. Robson neared him, the newly made American citizen patronizingly accosted him with:

'Young man!'

'Sir to you!' said Robson, pulling off his hat with mock politeness.

'If you are not in a hurry, would you oblige me by dropping into that store across the way and bring me a plug of tobocco? I can't leave my horses, and I'll do as much for you some day.'

For a moment the comedian's dignity seemed staggered, but he quickly recovered himself, and, with an ill-concealed smile playing on his comic countenance, replied:

'With pleasure, sir.'

The coachman handed him a twenty five cent note, which was received in the most respectful manner by Robson, who proceeded directly to the store indicated, and in a few moments returned with the tobacco in one hand, and fifteen cents change in the other, which he held out to the party who had given him so striking a proof of his confidence.

Mr. Darkey received tobacco with a slight 'thank you,' and waving his hand with the most self-satisfied importance, said:

"You can keep the charge young man!"

Mr. Robson's face has expressed many comical emotions in his professional capacity, but we doubt if he ever looked so quizzically ludicrous as when, fully realizing the amusing absurdity of his position —he pocketed his fee and walked briskly away.

THE GOLD COINAGE CONTROVERSY.—Lord Overstone has entered the list in the currency tournament. In opposition to Sir John Lubbock, he says :—The gold contained in a sovereign cannot be diminished without a violation of good faith, and therefore the cost of coinage must be defrayed either by the State as heretofore, or by a direct charge upon the owners of the bullion who may take it to be coined. If, too, the amount of gold in the sovereign be diminished, it will cease to be a legal tender (except to some very limited amount) because it will no longer contain the exact quantity of gold to which the creditor is entitled. Professor Leone Levi, writing on the same subject, points out that in almost all countries a mintage charge is levied. In France the entire quantity of gold taken into the mint is coined, but the mint is paid with part of the coin produced by it. In the United States and in Prussia the mintage charge is half per cent.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair whose the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

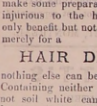

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so unreservedly adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, ask that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that a dose or two does always — that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of these remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which those Pills speedily cure:

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often all a sufferer needs to know no serious derangement exists. Those who feel miserably will often find that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and tonic effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost us?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the single extracts as herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical preparations than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

Each package is our possession unless it costs us to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as scald-head, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin, ringworm, erysipelas, blotches, and in fact all diseases that arise from impure blood. It tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For convivers use it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroborant for delicate persons; a good substitute for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and disposing to bring their origin in a imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chill fever, fever and ague, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called Pain Killer. It is also used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or irregularities. It may be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up his medicines in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been thoroughly cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous taint, contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or its power.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, before even a single symptom as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as scald-head, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin, ringworm, erysipelas, blotches, and in fact all diseases that arise from impure blood. It tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For convivers use it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroborant for delicate persons; a good substitute for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and disposing to bring their origin in a imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chill fever, fever and ague, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called Pain Killer. It is also used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or irregularities. It may be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up his medicines in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, before even a single symptom of disease appears, Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA. Lil. St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other manifestations of visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various forms of Rheumatic Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Uncleanness and Decay, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and other forms, when aided by, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and distressed with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Nervousness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so rapidly upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and many quarters of the globe, its merit has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted in milder forms of disease to subdue coughs, colds, in the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for the first stages of consumption, and the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else can relieve the dreadful Cough in Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to one of these terrible scourges, it should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the use of this remedy. To complete is its mastery over the disorders of the throat and lungs, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else can relieve the dreadful Cough in Croup, Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Bronchitis and Lung Affections find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we do not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marshy, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Mercury, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is entirely harmless upon the most tender and important of its cures in the ague districts, and the great protection it affords to all from it without a parallel in the history of Ague medicines. Our space will not allow of certificates of its wonderful cures, but we publish pamphlets containing the directions for use, and certificates of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, in which all other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or traveling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry, in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the International Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal, September, 1868, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Saloons of Roma immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 15, 1869. No. 144.

Sabbath School Association
OF CANADA.

SIXTH PROVINCIAL CONVENTION.

The following are the Reports of the Bible Class and Superintendent's Sections, presented and adopted at the Session of the Sabbath School Convention yesterday:

REPORT OF BIBLE CLASS SECTION.

The Bible Class; Section met in John St. Church at half-past two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, under the Presidency of the Rev. F. H. Marling. The proceedings were opened with singing, prayer, and the reading of the Holy Scriptures; after which the business was taken up in the form of question and answer, in substance, as follows:—

I. How many Bible Class Teachers are now present? Ans. 56, viz: 26 pastors, 10 ladies, 20 gentlemen.

II. Is your Bible Class taught in connection with the Sabbath School, or apart from it? Ans. 41, in connection with the Sabbath School, 26 adart from it.

III. Is your Bible Class taught on the Sabbath, or on a week day? Ans. 43 on Sabbath, 18 on week days.

IV. Do you take the same lesson as that which is taken in the Sabbath School? Do you use a Catechism? Ans. 21 take the same lesson as the Sabbath School 20 take a different lesson, 11 teach a Catechism.

V. What is the course of lessons in your Bible Class? Ans. The answers to this question were too various to admit of classification, being as diverse as the minds of the teachers themselves. A few had adopted the Edinborough scheme of lessons, a few the course of lessons furnished by the "National Sabbath School Teacher." Two used "Pinnock's Analysis," and one, the lessons published in the Sunday School Advocate; but the bulk of the teachers select and prepare their own lessons. The subjects named by the teachers, included "Bible History," "Leading doctrines of Christianity," "Prophecies of the Old and New Testament," "The Miracles of our Lord," "Life of the Saviour," "Life of St. Paul," and particular books, and parts of books, both in the Old and New Testament; the object being in every case, not merely to impart information, but to lead the scholars to the Saviour.

VI. What special difficulties do you find in teaching your Bible Class? Answer 1st. Getting a full and regular attendance of scholars. 2nd. Getting the scholars to prepare the lesson. 3rd. Want of interest on the part of scholars. 4th. Want of proper room and appurtenances. 5th. Want of time on Sabbath and inability to get the scholars to attend on a week day. 6th. Want of adaptation to the work of teaching. 7th. Difficulty of getting the scholars to answer questions. 8th. Several teachers said they found the chief difficulty to be in themselves, in their want of zeal, industry and faithfulness especially in making a personal application of the truth to the conscience of the scholars, in private as well as in the class room.

VII. How can these difficulties be most effectually overcome? Answer. 1st. Visiting scholars at their homes. 2nd. Conducting ourselves so as to make them feel that we love their Saviour and love their souls. 3rd Cultivating a deeper sympathy with the young. 4th. Treating them with greater respect and affection; treating them as men and women, and not as children; showing proper respect for their opinions and feelings, and carefully avoiding everything that would wound their self respect. 5th. Setting the scholars at work as soon as possible. 6th. By a more thorough and prayerful preparation of the lesson. 7th. Adopting the conversational style in teaching, and encourage them to ask questions as well as to give their own opinions.

On this point, at the request of the Chairman, the Rev. Dr. Burns, of Chicago, briefly addressed the Section, giving some valuable hints drawn from his own experience and observation. There were so many things to attract and engage the attention of the young, in addition to their own disinclination to acquaint themselves with the truth, and avers ion to that which is good, he had found it difficult to reach the ear of the young, and when he did get it he found it difficult to get them to say anything in response to what was said to them. The effect was that what ought to be a conversation was apt to degenerate into a monologue, or lecture. He had succeeded in overcoming this difficulty in part, by cultivating a more intimate acquaintance with the young people of his Congregation. He had organized a Mutual Improvement Society among them, of which he was President; he availed himself of the opportunities acquired in this way, and the social gatherings in which he met them from time to time, to make them feel that he was their friend, and to make them feel at ease in their intercourse with him. Other means which he found most efficient were the careful preparation of the lesson—studying it upon his knees, and aiming directly at the conversion of his scholars.

The Rev. JOEL BRIGGS of Georgetown gave an interesting account of a Palestine Class which he had formed, following in the main the course suggested by the Rev. J. H. Vincent in his valuable little work "Little foot paths in Bible Lands." He mentioned other works which he had found to be valuable aids in the study of Sacred Geography, prominent among which were the works of Dr. Kitto and Dr. Thompson's "Land and the Book."

VIII. What are the chief encouragements you have met with in this work? Ans. 1st. It has been found a blessed means of self-improvement, prompting to the more diligent and careful study of the Scriptures, leading to a closer walk with God, promoting a more devotional spirit, stronger faith in God, and more generous and self-denying sympathy with the perishing souls of men. 2nd. The pleasure felt in the work itself. 3rd. The respect and affections of Scholars. 4th. The improvement and Salvation of Scholars. 5th. Meeting former Scholars in positions of influence and usefulness in the Church of God. 6th. The approval of God and the confidence that no sincere honest effort to do good will be entirely successful or fail to receive its reward.

Several very interesting and encouraging feats were related in the course of the conversation tending to illustrate the great value of these institutions. It was stated that from the Bible Classes of the Wesleyan Sabbath Schools in Peterboro, fifteen or sixteen young men had gone into the Christian Ministry. The case of a Roman Catholic boy was given, who went into a Bible class where he heard the truth by which he was led to the Saviour, and ngt only continues faithful but has been the means of the conversion of several members of his family. The conclusion was that though there were serious difficulties and discouragements to be encountered, they were nothing when compared with the advantages which they conferred. It was accordingly

Moved by the Rev. JAMES HARRIS, seconded by the Rev. EDWARD BARRASS, and unanimously resolved,—"That notwithstanding the difficulties connected with establishing and conducting Bible Classes, in view of the good that they have already accomplished, and the immense good which they are capable of accomplishing, we hereby pledge ourselves to use our utmost endeavours to conduct them as far as possible in connection with all our congregations and schools."

IX. What is your mode of teaching a Bible Class? In answer to this question, at the special request of the Section, the Rev. the Chairman gave a deeply interesting account of his own experience. He gratefully acknowledged his indebtedness to those Sabbath School Conventions for many valuable hints, without which he was certain that he would never have succeeded to the extent that he had done.

W. S. BLACKSTOCK, Secretary.

SUPERINTENDENT'S SECTION.

This section met according to appointment, and after praise and prayer the Chairman, W. Reynolds, Esq., suggested several questions as deserving the most serious attention at the hands of those entrusted with Sabbath School supervision.

The time allotted by the Convention was sufficient for the discussion only of the following three, viz:

1. Superintendent's qualifications and duties.
2. Opening and Closing Exercises.
3. Order and how to obtain it.

Each of these topics elicited frank and free expression for about thirty minutes, and the following is submitted to the Convention as conveying the general opinion of the section upon the points specified. On the one first named:

1. That the grand fundamental qualifications in the Superintendent is a living personal acquaintance with saving truth. That in addition to this essential preparation of grace there should be a courtly and careful self-culture. That mere goodness of heart and purity of life if not associated with a very considerable degree of practical wisdom, knowledge of human nature and common sense, constitute but a poor recommendation for the office of Superintendent. That it is of the greatest possible importance since it is from this officer that the whole School receives its tone, that he give to the subject of the lesson the closest, the most intelligent and prayerful previous study. And that the subject itself should agree in its general bearing with all the exercises of the day, devotional and otherwise, that the Superintendent should have gentleness to win the affections, and firmness to suppress in subordination.

2. On the point of Opening and Closing exercises.

That it is a mistake to occupy longer than about five minutes with singing and prayer.

That simplicity in the language of prayer used should be carefully studied, the prayer itself should not exceed two or three minutes.

That there is a danger in following up too slavishly a stereotyped method of instruction, and that a new feature may now and then be introduced with advantage to the School.

That nothing should be allowed to interrupt the intercourse between the Teacher and his class during the School hour.

That every Sabbath School should be systematically trained to the grace of giving, and that with this in view a collection be taken up every Lord's day.

That by way of summary a few pointed and practical remarks should be made on the subject of the day's lesson, either by the Superintendent himself, or some one expressly approved of by him. That praise and prayer should close as well as open the proceedings, and that care should be taken that order and decorum prevail during the dismissal of the School.

3. The question of Order, and how to obtain it was then taken up and discussed. The following is in substance the Section's opinion on this point.

That the secret of order in the School is that order be manifested as a constituent element in the character of Superintendent and Teachers themselves. That when visitors visit the School all should be invited to take part in the exercises on hand, and that no visitors as such should be allowed to remain in the School.—That no business should be transacted until the most perfect stillness and attention prevail throughout the entire School.

Some questions were then put by the Chairman, and answered by the meeting and reverse, upon which it appeared to be the conviction of the Section :—

That the School should continue in Session not less than one hour, and not more than an hour and a half.

That weekly Teachers' meetings are of the most vital consequence.

A show of hands, however, was called for by the Chairman, as a test of how far actual practice went in this matter, when only nine held up their hands. That these meetings should be held regularly and universally, those in rural districts might be held either before or after the Sabbath School on the Lord's day.

That no School should be closed during any portion of the year.

That the Superintendent should have the right of filling up temporarily any vacancy that may occur in the teaching staff, subject to approval of the first subsequent Teachers' meeting.

That individual teachers should be held responsible for the behavior of their class while in school.

That the Catechism should be taught in Denominational Schools every Lords' day, simultaneously with a lesson taken directly from the word of God.

The use of the Blackboard did not seem to meet with general favor, only about thirty signified their actual employment of this method of instruction. It was deemed advisable, that the Secretary duly appointed should call the roll, and announce the attendance, &c., every Sabbath day.

Submitted in name of the Superintendent's Section, by

JAMES C. SMITH,
Secretary.

The following are the reports of the Junior and Infant Class Sections presented and adopted by the Convention yesterday :—

SECTION OF JUNIOR CLASS.

Chairman—Mr. S. S. Martin, of Toronto. Secretary—Mr. F. E. Grafton, of Montreal.

After prayer the Chairman suggested that the object of the meeting might be best attained by considering a series of questions. These were as follows :

I. What is the great end of Sunday School Teaching? 1. The immediate conversion of the young. 2. The religious instruction of children.

II. What are some of our difficulties? 1. The apathy of parents. 2. The children not learning their verses at home. 3. Irregular attendance of Scholars. 4. Disorder in the class. 5. Disobedience and insubordination.

III. How are these difficulties to be met? 1. By making the lesson interesting. 2. By the Teachers being earnest and prayerful. 3. By requiring implicit obedience. 4. By manifesting our love to the children. 5. By dealing with unruly children by private conversation and prayer.

IV. Is individual preparation on the part of Teachers necessary? 1st. It is absolutely necessary to success in teaching.

V. Are Teachers' meetings for the study of lessons desirable? How should they be conducted and by whom? 1st. They are desirable as an excellent means of promoting the efficiency of Teachers. 2nd. The meetings might be presided over by the Superintendent, or Teachers might preside in rotation. 3rd. Teachers' classes might be in the form of a mental Bible Class, or topics might be allotted to each Teacher.

VI. Would you advise the adoption of one lesson for the whole school? 1st. Yes; we strongly recommend it.

VII. What system of absentee visitation would you recommend? 1st. The Teachers should visit their scholars if possible. 2nd. Where that is not practicable a Committee of ladies has been found to be the most efficient.

VIII. Are Library Books popular with scholars? 1st. They are.

IX. Would you recommend Teachers to use pocket blackboards, slates, pictures, and maps in the classes. 1st. They help to secure the attention of the children. 2nd. You convey through the eye instruction which you could not so well communicate through the ear. 3rd. Their use compels the Teacher to study his lessons.

X. Is it desirable that Teachers use lesson papers or question books while teaching? No.

XI. What means can be adopted (dependent upon God,) to secure the immediate conversion of children. 1st. Teachers must realize their responsibility. 2nd. They must earnestly present before the children their need, danger, and God's abundant willingness to save them through faith in Jesus. 3rd. They must suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.

S. S. MARTIN,
Chairman.
F. E. GRAFTON,
Secretary.

INFANT CLASS SECTION.

The business commenced by asking the following question :

1. What would be the more immediate object of infant class teaching?

Several gentleman gave it as their conviction that in many parts of the country great errors were committed by the Teachers not being fully alive to the fact that the capacities of little children were of such an order that they could be taught the love of Christ. As a consequence the exercises of their classes were in many cases only intended to furnish mere amusements. Illustrations were given by several of the teachers.

2nd, The second question was upon the methods which had been found best adapted to accomplish the end or object, teaching the love of Christ to Children. Mr. Chester, of Toronto, and a number of children and gave an interesting infant class exercise.

Amongst the suggestions made, it was recommended that infant classes should be taught in separate rooms ; making their exercises brief ; variety of exercise in order to keep attention and interest ; employing object lessons on cards or blackboards.

3. It was found as the result of the experience of all teachers that there is danger of attempting too much at one time with a child. One Bible thought is sufficient for a lesson, for the illustration of which every part of the exercises should contribute a portion of information. Repetition of the Lord's prayer by all the children was recommended, and it was strongly urged that more attention be given to this department, and it required to be supplied with inventive, genial and loving teachers, and that suitable conveniences, such as pictures, blackboards, &c., are almost indispensable.

Much profit is anticipated by the adoption of this plan of meeting in sections, and the report recommends that in future gentlemen be specially appointed to take charge of this section previous to the assembling of the Convention.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, OCT. 15.

ONTARIO HALL.—Remember Professor Bell's Lecture to night.

CABINET CHANGES.—The Leader, which assumes to be the organ of the Government, says : "It is quite possible that M. Langevin will leave the Department of Secretary of State for that of Public Works, rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. Macdougall ; and, although it is not quite so certain, there is a strong probability that Mr. Howe will surrender the Presidency of the Council for the office to be vacated by M. Langevin."

HEARTH AND HOME.—This exceedingly popular domestic periodical, in entering on its second year of publication, offers very liberal terms to subscribers for the next twelve months. Those who send in their names before January next, with a year's subscription, will have Hearth and Home sent them for the remainder of this year free, their subscription expiring on the 1st of January 1871. The terms for 1870 are also reduced. Single copies, $5 , in clubs of three $9 ; in clubs of five, $12. The subscription price to clubs of five will therefore be but $2.40—a remarkably low figure for a journal of the standard of Hearth and Home. We hope to see the subscription list largely increased during the next two months, as the paper is deserving of the support of the public generally, and of the farmers particularly.

THE FENIANS.—The Kingston News says :—" We have received the following from a reliable source as the cause of the present precautionary measures against the Fenians. The Fenian leader, O'Neil, has so often assured his followers that he would lead them into Canada, that they are becoming impatient and not a little disgusted with his oft repeated promises, and he sees that his sovereignty can only rest on the total disorganization of the order. It therefore appears probable that the Fenian leader will endeavour to effect a landing in Canada at some point, east or west, where our troops would be unable to reach him for one or two days. Should he, upon landing, be joined by large numbers of Canadian sympathisers, a most improbable supposition, he will be obliged to stand and show fight for it. But if on the contrary he receives no sympathy, he will return at once and will be able to say with good grace to his followers that he had redeemed his promise to them, and that the unsuccessful result was no fault of his, but to be attributed to a lack of sympathy for the cause on the part of Canadians. It is supposed that the attempt will be made, if at all, during the present month, or ensuing spring.

Sir Francis Hincks.

Mr. Rankin has resigned his seat in the Commons, for North Renfrew, and Sir Francis Hincks has issued his address to the electors. He recapitulates his former career, and says he makes great personal sacrifice in accepting the office of Finance Minister ; was unemployed at the time, but there was a fair prospect of re-employment in the Imperial service ; approves of Sir John A's government ; could not refuse to aid him ; says that such sacrifices as Mr. Rankin has made in resigning his seat, must occasionally be made under our system of Government. The profession of " personal sacrifices " by the new Finance Minister, sounds strangely in the ears of those who know the man and have not forgotten his antecedents. Let us hope for the sake of the Dominion, that during his residence abroad, he has learned the virtue of " personal sacrifice " for the public good. We know that men may, and should reform, but are not willing to accept mere professions, and shall wait with patience to see evidence of this virtue in Sir Francis Hincks.

Freight Train off the Track—Some Cars Smashed.

By Special Telegraph to the Intelligencer.

KINGSTON, October 15.—About two o'clock this morning, the freight train going West ran off the track about 9 miles west of this place, while passing over a bridge. The train consisted of 10 empty cars, eight are off the track ; two rolled down the embankment and are badly smashed. The wood work of the bridge is in ruins, but the iron girdles remain uninjured. Two cars remain on the bridge. The express train from the west came to the place about 4.30 o'clock with a large number of delegates from the Belleville Sunday School Convention ; about the same time the train from the east came up, and after a delay of some hours the passengers changed trains, and the baggage was carried over the creek. A large gang of workmen are now engaged in clearing the track, which in some places is torn up.

—Ohio, Pennsylvania and Iowa have gone largely Republican.

Sabbath School Association OF CANADA.

SIXTH PROVINCIAL CONVENTION.

THIRD DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION.

THURSDAY, Oct. 14th, 1869.

The afternoon Session was opened with the usual devotional exercises, after which routine business was proceeded with.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a heavy rain falling nearly all day, before the hour appointed for the Mass Meeting of the Sabbath School scholars, the Church was crowded throughout. The body of the Church was reserved for the children with their Teachers and Superintendents, and it was found that to accommodate the vast number who attended, a number of temporary seats had to be provided. The galleries were filled with delegates and inhabitants of the town.

The proceedings were opened with devotional exercises, and singing by Mr. Phillips. Interesting addresses were delivered by Mr. Reynolds, of Illinois, Rev. W. Hall, of Brantford, Mr. Fraser, and Rev. Dr. Burns, of Chicago. An hour and a-half was spent in a most pleasant and agreeable manner. The children as well as the teachers and spectators will not soon forget the entertainment which was furnished them, not only by Mr. Phillips' soul stirring and beautiful songs, but by the speakers, whose addresses to the children were of a most interesting character.

The assembly broke up about half-past four o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

THURSDAY, Oct. 14, 1869.

There was some doubt, owing to the severe storm that prevailed, whether there would be a good attendance at this, the last Session of this most interesting gathering of Sabbath School workers. About half-past six the storm passed away, the moon shone out brightly in a cloudless sky, and soon the sidewalks were alive with people wending their way to the Church. By the time the proceedings opened the crowd was as great as upon last evening. Every available space was occupied, and the same lively interest was manifested by the people of Belleville which has been exhibited from the first. The people of Belleville opened wide their doors and wide their hearts to welcome the men and women who came to talk about the great work of saving children, and to form plans for future usefulness, and they came out in much larger numbers to give them the parting hand and bid them God speed in their great mission of evangelization. The large attendance at each Session of the Convention, the warm and unflagging interest taken in the proceedings by the people of this town, must not only have been gratifying to the members composing the Convention, but is a source of pardonable pride to the people.

At seven o'clock the last Session was opened by singing " All hail the power of Jesus' name," and prayer by Rev. S. Jones. The Secretary next read the programme of the evening, and after a song by Mr. Phillips, the President called upon the first speaker,

Mr. A. REEVE, of Toronto, who delivered a short essay on " Concerted Scripture exercises," which contained much that was suggestive and instructive, and which was listened to with great interest.

Mr. PHILLIPS sang with great feeling and effect that old, old song which we heard in our childhood days, of the mother who wandered with her child on a cold, stormy night to get away from her drunken husband, and who was found dead the next morning in a snow bank. The mantle was lifted from her breast, " The babe looked up and sweetly smiled."

Mr. J. F. GRAFTON next addressed the Convention on " Sabbath School Libraries, how to select and distribute." The speaker took strong ground against the introduction of flashy, sensational books, into the Sabbath Schools, books containing weak, silly stories, which are too often found in Sabbath School Libraries ; he enumerated the different classes of books which compose the Libraries of Sabbath Schools, and the class which should be excluded, and strongly urged Teachers to examine carefully every volume before putting them into the hands of children.

Rev. Mr. BOIS offered prayer.

Mr. PHILLIPS in introducing the next song, " Singing for Jesus," briefly referred to the influence of music upon the human mind, and urged its application to improving and elevating the mind, and fitting man for engaging in more rapturous songs when he reaches the shining shore, instead of its being used as an agency to gild vice or add to the pageantry of the devil.

"There is a fountain filled with blood" was next sung, in which the audience heartily and enthusiastically joined.

Rev. DR. BURNS, of Chicago, was next called upon, and for a half hour held the audience spell-bound with one of the most eloquent speeches delivered at the Convention. It was a beautiful picture when he drew the veil aside and gave his audience a vision of the shining hosts in the better land, where " around the throne of God, in Heaven, ten thousand children stand." These were the fruits of the glorious enterprise which this Convention was engaged in promoting. He said these Conventions were a great uniter of countries, and a great uniter of denominations, and gave some happy illustrations of the results of burying the hatchet of strife at the foot of the Cross. When they went down to the sea when the tide was low, a number of small pools were found, but when you go down when the tide is high the pools are all lost in the great ocean.—The Churches were like these pools. The Sabbath School was a great nursery of the Church, a great feeder of the Ministry, and a great developer of the Church. He referred to the building of that great work, Suez Canal, and stated that the contractor had proposed to cut another canal, 75 miles in length, by which the centre of Africa could be flooded, and that vast country be made a perfect garden, and made habitable for millions. God was cutting out a Canal which would deluge the great moral desert, and make the wilderness blossom like the rose. The Sabbath School was putting a lock in this Canal, and it was the duty of every worker to put in his spade and shovel, and help to build this lock, so that the great work of salvation may go on. It would be impossible to do justice to this speech without a verbatim report, and we shall not attempt to mangle it. He closed with an earnest appeal to every Christian man and woman to work while it was day, for every for the night cometh when no man can work, and resumed his seat amidst loud applause.

The SECRETARY then read a resolution, which was adopted at a meeting of the delegates who went West while waiting for the train, and wished it embodied in the proceedings of the Convention.

The resolution was moved by Mr. Reynolds, of Illinois, the substance of which was that the thanks of the meeting be given to the people of the town of Belleville for the hospitable manner in which the delegates had been received.

The resolution was ordered to be engrossed on the Minutes of the Convention.

The following additional resolutions were submitted by the Business Committee, and adopted by the Convention.

1st. That this Committee has welcomed with peculiar pleasure the visitors who have come at our invitation from the United States, as representatives of the Christian Laymen and Volunteer Sabbath School Missionaries of the State of Illinois. We wish them, and all similar workers throughout the United States, God speed in their work at home, and trust that some like-minded helpers will always be present at our Annual Conventions.

2nd. That the thanks of this Convention are hereby tendered to the following individuals and companies :

1. To the Christian people of Belleville of various denominations for their large and generous hospitality during the past days, who will ever look back with gratitude and pleasure to their visit to this place.

2. To the Trustees of the Wesleyan Methodist Church for this place for the use of their place of Worship ; also to the other Churches who granted their places of Worship for the meeting of the Sections.

3. To the general Secretary and Treasurer for their valuable services to the Association.

4. To the Railway and Steamboat Companies who have granted reductions of fares to ministers and delegates attending the Convention.

5. To the Local Committee, and especially to Wm. Johnson, Esq., their Secretary, for the thorough and complete arrangements which they displayed so much to the efficiency of the Convention.

6. To those gentlemen who cheerfully responded to the call of the Executive Committee and of the Convention itself to take a prominent part in the proceedings.

That in view of the vast and increasing interest attaching to the Sabbath School work, and the fact that this work is becoming year by year a still greater power in the Church, and the country, the Convention urge on all concerned, the following :—

1. To feel more deeply that the legitimate province of the Sabbath School is to teach the living word of God for bringing souls to Jesus, and then training them up in the Divine life.

2. To exercise great care in the selection of hymns for Sunday School uses, and that an improvement in the style of music be aimed at, in order that the highest standard of praise in our Schools may tend more to prove a means of grace to the scholars.

3. To use all suitable means by prayer, careful study and search into the Bible, and a prudent and cautious use of improved apparatus and modes of teaching in order to increase the efficiency of the Sabbath Schools.

4. To establish and conduct weekly Teachers' Meetings' forstudying the Lesson and conferring on the spiritual state of the School.

5. To use all legitimate efforts to produce an increased interest in the Churches of our land in behalf of this important part of the Churches' work, and to induce more persons of piety, skill, and diligent bible study to take the position of Superintendents and Teachers.

4th. That in view of the grand career of growth in wealth and population so evidently before the people of our New Dominion, the foremost place in prayers and exertions of the Church should be given to the religious training of our youth, in order that our spiritual growth may not outstrip, rather than fall behind, our material progress, and so the moral evils incident to great earthly prosperity be averted, and that rightfully brought in, which alone exalteth a nation.

5th. That inasmuch as children are more easily impressed by divine truth than those of more advanced years, the friends of this Convention hereby solemnly pledge themselves to renewed, and if possible, increased efforts to bring the children to Jesus believing they are exposed to the temptations of more mature years.

Rev. Mr. BRIGGS was called upon to make the financial statement. It was very brief, merely stating that the Executive Committee in order to carry out the desires of the Convention needed at least $600 in addition to the funds already collected, and made an appeal to the audience to contribute the amount. The appeal was so successful that by private subscriptions, and subscriptions from Sabbath Schools, the handsome sum of $723 was realized.

The Chairman of the Business Committee said that the sum was highly creditable to the Town of Belleville. The sum raised was :

Subscriptions at this Meeting,	$723
Collections	202
Other subscriptions, per Local Committee	207
Total	$1,132

Mr. PHILLIPS then favored the audience with singing " Too Late," one of his favorite songs, and in which his peculiar musical powers were displayed to a charm.

On motion the Executive Committee were empowered to have the Report of the proceedings printed in large type, and the price of the report was fixed at 20 cents a number and five for one dollar.

The President stated that Mr. Phillips had been engaged to come to this Convention to sing. The Local Committee in addition to paying his expenses determined to pay him the sum of $50. This sum was offered to Mr. Phillips, but he declined to take it, saying that he would not receive more than what would pay his expenses. He felt it due to the audience as well as to Mr. Phillips who had so charmed us with his songs, and who had added so much interest to the Convention, to make this statement, and he moved that the amount be placed to Mr. Phillips's credit on the subscription list. The motion was carried amidst loud applause.

A motion was then passed that the next Convention be held in the month of October.

A motion was also passed that Mr Phillips be engaged to sing at the next Convention.

The remaining portion of the evening Session was taken up with farewell addresses of five minutes each from the following gentlemen ; Rev. G. R. Sanderson, Rev. J. R. Smith, Rev. S. Jones, Mr. Cuthbertson, and Rev. W. Marling. The addresses were delivered with much feeling, contained much that was suggestive, and were received with great satisfaction by the audience. The last speaker in the course of his remarks said that this Convention was the most successful that had yet been held, and paid a high compliment to the hospitality and hospitality of the people. The benediction was then pronounced, the song " Blest be the tie that binds," was sung heartily by the vast audience, and thus closed one of the most important and interesting gatherings that has ever been held in Belleville.

—A Mr. Murray, of Pembroke, it is said, will oppose Sir Francis Hincks for North Renfrew.

—The procession at the great Southern Commercial Convention held at Louisville, Ky., is said to have been 9 miles long. 100,000 persons were in the streets.

"CANADA LIFE"

Have published a Report and net valuation of all its policy and annuity obligations, by an Actuary totaly unconnected with it, the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT, of Boston, late Insurance Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts.

It is believed that such a voluntary submission of the Company's position to an eminent and entirely independent Actuary of the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT'S well known high character and professional skill, will add to that public satisfaction and confidence which the "Canada Life Company" enjoys.

Copies of Mr. WRIGHT'S Report may be had at the Head Office, or at any of the Agencies throughout the Dominion.

Persons who may be assured in the Companies whose condition is unsatisfactory, desiring to join the "Canada Life," will be dealt with upon such terms as are reasonable and fair.

A LETTER FROM DR. LIVINGSTONE. HE IS ALIVE AND WELL.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The following despatch was received here yesterday under date of Bombay, Oct. 6th:

"A letter has just been received here from Dr. Livingstone, the great African traveller. He was at Lake Bangiewo at the time of writing in July, 1868, and was in excellent health and spirits. He mentions incidentally that he believed he had found the true source of the Nile."

BOMBAY via LONDON, Oct. 14.—Mr. Kirke in a despatch to the Government here says:

"A caravan has arrived at Zanzibar. It brings the welcome news that Dr. Livingstone had arrived at Niyi alive and well. He was on his way to the coast, the road to which was open and safe. Another caravan is expected here which will give later information of the Doctor's progress."

THE INSURRECTION ALMOST ENDED.

MADRID, Oct. 14.—According to the official reports made public by the government authorities the insurrection has been reduced to a small group of insurgents, who are doing their utmost to avoid the national troops.

The town of Bijar, 45 miles south of Salamanca, has revolted and the inhabitants are flying from the place. A detachment of troops has been sent there to restore order. Six thousand rebels have submitted to the government officers of Tarragona and Barcelona and vicinity.

REPUBLICANS DISPERSED.

The republican leaders, Paul and Salvercheo, abandoned by their followers, have fled to Gibraltar. It is stated that the latter, after leaving Saragossa, was defeated while retiring through Andalusia. Seventy of his men were killed and the remainder dispersed.

A number of republican journals published in the provinces have been suppressed by the local authorities for inciting rebellion.

THE LATEST.

DEFEAT OF THE REPUBLICANS IN SPAIN.

VALENCIA, Oct. 14.—The Government is making still more vigorous efforts for the suppression of the Republican insurrectionary movement. 12,000 men of the regular army with 40 pieces of cannon are in position before the city to-day. The insurgents, aware of the power of this force, asked permission to capitulate, but the official authorities as well as the officers commanding for the Executive demanded an unconditional surrender. The Government in Madrid has resolved to disarm the Republican volunteers and dismiss all Republican officials and municipal councillors from office.

GREAT FIRE.

GLASGOW, Oct. 15.—A great fire is now raging here. The Vulcan Oil Works and the Eagle Iron Works are burning. The loss will be immense.

SPAIN.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The 'Times' money article to-day, states that confidence in the ability of Spain to soon repress the Republican insurrection is increasing in commercial circles.

COMMERCIAL.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Consols for money 93¾; Account 93⅝; 5-20's for '62, 82 ex-Interest '65 old 84¾; ex-interests for '67 83½; 10-40's 70; Erie 23; I. C. 94; A. & G. W. 20½.

PARIS, October 15.—Bourse firm; rentes 71f 37c.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 15.—Cotton steady and more active; Corn 28s 9d.; Red winter wheat 9s 6d; Receipts of wheat for 3 days, 17,000 quarters, of which 12,000 are American; Cheese 60s 0d.

American Despatches.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The 'Herald's' Richmond special says, "In the question of the Virginia senatorship, the name of Gen. Williams, a Walker Republican, is looming up rather conspicuously."

THE GOLD MARKET.

The New York Gold Exchange yesterday adopted the plan for a new clearing house.

A BATTLE. DEFEAT OF THE SPANIARDS.

Letters from Havana state that on the 9th inst., a battle was fought near Guaymora between the Spanish forces and two divisions of insurgents under Jordan and Quesada, which resulted in the defeat of the Spaniards.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many preparations which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. This has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

The Montreal Tea Company: MONTREAL, 1868.

GENTS.—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea has in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap. Yours very truly,

F. DENNE.

Montreal Tea Co's: Montreal, April, 1868.—To the Montreal Tea Company, 6 Hospital Street, Montreal: We notice with pleasure the large amount of tea forwarded for you to different parts of the Dominion, and we are glad to find your business so rapidly increasing. We presume your Teas are giving general satisfaction, as one of the large amount forwarded we have only had occasion to return one box, which, we understand, was sent through a mistake.

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continues customer.

London and Paris Pattern Bonnets and Mantles will be shown on TUESDAY, 5th OCTOBER.

GEO. RITCHIE & Co.

Belleville, Sept. 30th, 1869.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor are only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every community and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know what it does once it does always; hence it never fails when any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of the remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Langour and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally sufficient.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, these Cathartic Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. Those who feel tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our teas and coffee in bottles at an expense of a dollar at times when they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We desire, in our opinion, that these preparations as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Causes all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, as all scrofulous affections, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to cancer, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. Irregularities of the stomach and bowels; it opens the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and indigestion. For convalescents it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroborant for delicate persons; a good alterative and tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the trains has been reduced by sickness, as excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an impaired digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cool chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pain—in fact it may properly be called a PAIN KILLER. To be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female weaknesses or suppressions, and is the seed with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicines in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its virtues, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in a short number in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this summer and autumn, a tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of infectious or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to lie dormant throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly developed in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcer arises on some part. The first symptom of the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is unbroken, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints, generally find immediate relief, and in most cases, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA : Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears. For obstinate, humors or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterine affections, as well as ataxic and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and tonic action. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism, and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it. So also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the liver, and Jaundice, which arises when the liver often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless and Apprehensive, Nervous or Trembling of Fears, or any of the affections sympathetic of a deranged state of the blood, receive relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption,

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of the community, as this cherry remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and for young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for peoples of consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept by every family to be used at the first symptom that its use is necessary. Travellers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is wholly vegetable and harmless. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond all count, and we believe without a parallel in the history of ague medicine. Our pride is great in the success of the acknowledgement we receive of the radical cures performed by this antidote, and every other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the Great Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Prepared and sold wholesale by the Proprietor,

Maple Leaves.

BY MRS. A. CAMPBELL.

Beautiful leaves! maple leaves,
Rich and bright are they,
As they flutter down
A golden brown,
Chasing each other in play,
Those beautiful maple leaves!

Beautiful leaves! maple leaves,
Gems of the forest are they;
Things ever so bright,
They gladden our sight,
On a sad, shining Autumn day,
Those brilliant maple leaves!

Beautiful leaves! memory waves
In the home across the sea,
Chaplets of green,
Fair to be seen;
But none so fair as thee,
Beautiful maple leaves.

Beautiful leaves! maple leaves,
Child of the dear new world,
Emblem of right!
May you lead in the flight,
When you float on the banner unfurled,
Wreath of bright maple leaves!

Beautiful leaves! maple leaves,
Blushing at Autumn's breath,
Floating around,
Soft carpet the ground,
And pale at the touch of death,
Beautiful skeleton leaves!

Beautiful leaves! maple leaves,
Breathing a requiem o'er
The summer past,
And shadows cast
By what will return no more,
Beautiful fading leaves!

Beautiful leaves! maple leaves,
Brightest at wane of life,
Shedding thy flowers
O'er dying hours,
Conqueror in the strife,
Beautiful maple leaves!

Beautiful leaves! maple leaves,
Teaching us lessons of trust,
Casting no gloom
Around the tomb,
Brightest when nearest the dust,
Beautiful maple leaves!

"Put a Ring on his Finger."

This may seem a small thing for Jesus to mention, in so thrilling a description of the welcome home of the wayward but penitent son. And if it were to be esteemed merely as it is used for ornament, by its costly jewels and cunning workmanship, it would be trifling with a solemn occasion. But the ring, from time immemorial, has been employed as a signal or token of precious things. Did you ever have a wife or sister die, and as she passed away take a ring from her finger and give it to you, saying, "Wear that for me." It so, you have some appreciation of its value.

Gen. Price related, shortly before he fell on the battle field, the following touching incident:—They had been sometime resting in camp, where they had a large prayer meeting tent, under which they were accustomed to meet for worship. Among those who were active in that prayer meeting, and whom the general frequently met around the throne, was an orderly sergeant. Then they were ordered into action; and when the battle was over, the general rode over the field to see whom he could relieve. Among the wounded he found his orderly. He dismounted and went up to him, and found him bleeding to death. 'Sergeant,' said he,' you will soon go into bivouac.'

'How! shall we camp so soon?'

'Yes, you will soon pitch your tent.'

Then he began to comprehend the general.

'Do you mean that I am about to die?'

'Yes, you have but a few hours to live.'

His eyes kindled with a heavenly smile.

'Well,' said he,' thank God, I am ready to die, and I am glad to die for my country.'

Then he drew a ring from his finger, and kissed it, and handed it to the general, saying, "I wish you would take that, and send it to my mother, and tell her that her son blessed her memory in dying.' Then he drew another ring from his finger and kissed it, and handed it to the general: 'Take this and send it to her to whom my heart was betrothed, and tell her to come to me in heaven,' and he sank in death.

'Put a ring on his finger,' says Jesus.—Let him know that he is not only forgiven, but loved. So with the forgiven sinner, all that ever has been symbolized by the ring is given to him. It is the emblem of an inviolable covenant of love. So God declares, 'I have made an everlasting covenant with you. I have loved you with an everlasting love.' If the poor self-condemned sinners ever doubts the love of God, let him think of the ring on his hand.

It is also an emblem of delegated power and protection. When Joseph interpreted the dreams of the Egyptian king, and was appointed his deputy, Pharaoh drew a ring from his finger, and placed it on Joseph's finger, then whatever touched Joseph touched Pharaoh. So with Ahasuerus and Mordecai. So with Jesus: 'Whose receiveth you receiveth me, and whose rejecteth you rejecteth me.' The ring of divine protection is on the finger.

It is, too, the emblem of the marriage covenant and conjugal fidelity. So Jesus: 'I am married unto you.' 'Come hither, and let me show you the bride, the Lamb's wife.' Look at the ring on her hand.

And let us beware lest we lose the ring. One at least of England's nobility suffered ignominious death because the ring, pledge of his sovereign's protection, was lost.

Let us wear it ever in remembrance of Him.

About Silent Lies.

There were prizes to be given in Willie's school, and he was very anxious to merit one of them. As Willie was young, and had never had much chance to learn, he was behind the other boys in all his studies except writing. As he had no hope to excel in anything but writing, he made up his mind to try for the special prize for that with all his might. And he did try so that his copy-book would have done honor to a boy twice his age. When the prizes were awarded, the chairman of the committee held up two copy-books, and said: "It would be difficult to say which of these two books is better than the other but for one copy in Willie's which is not only superior to Charlie's but to every copy in the same book. This copy therefore, gains the prize."

Willie's heart beat high with hope which was not unmixed with fear. Blushing to his temples, he said: "Please, sir, may I see that copy?"

"Certainly," replied the Chairman, looking somewhat surprised.

Willie glanced at the copy, and then handing the book back, said, "Please, sir, that is not my writing. It was written by an upper class boy, who took my book by mistake one day instead of his own."

"Oh, oh," said the chairman, "that may alter the case." The two books went back to the committee, who, after comparing them carefully, awarded the prize to Charlie. The boys laughed at Willie. One said he was silly to say anything about the mistake.

"I wouldn't have told," said another.

"Nor I," added a third boy laughing. "The copy was in your book and you had a right to enjoy the benefit of it."

But in spite of all their quizzing Willie felt that he was right. "It would not have been the truth," he replied, "if I had not told who wrote the copy. I would rather hold fast the truth than have a prize, for truth is better than gold."

"Hurrah for Willie!" "Three cheers for Willie! Well done, Willie!" shouted the boys and Willie went home to his work happier than he could have done if by means of a silent lie he had won a prize.—Children's Friend.

Father Hyacinthe's Correspondence with Bishop Dupanloup.

The Bishop of Orleans has sent the following letter to Father Hyacinthe:

ORLEANS, Sept. 25.

My Dear Colleague: The very moment I learnt from Paris what you were upon the point of doing, I endeavored, as you know, to save you a great fault and a great misfortune, as well as a profound sorrow for the Church; that very moment, at night, I sent your old schoolfellow and friend, to stop you if possible. But it was too late; the scandal had been consummated, and henceforth you can measure by the grief of all the friends of the Church, and the joy of all her enemies, the evil you have done. I can only pray to God now and implore you to stop upon the brink you have reached, which leads to abysses the troubled eye of your soul has not seen. You have suffered, I know it; but allow me to say it, Father Lacordaire and Father Ravignan suffered, I know, more than you, and they rose higher in patience and strength, through love of the Church and of Jesus Christ. How was it you did not feel the wrong you were doing the Church, your mother, by these accusations, and the wrong you are doing to Jesus Christ by placing yourself as you do alone before Him in contempt of His Church? But I would fain hope, and I do hope, that it will only be a momentary aberration. Return among us; after causing the Catholic world this sorrow, give it a great consolation and a great example. Go and throw yourself at the feet of the Holy Father.—His arms will be open to you, and in clasping you to his paternal heart he will restore to you the peace of your conscience and the honour of your life. Accept from him who was your Bishop, and who will never cease to love you, this testimony and these counsels of a true and religious affection.

FELIX,
Bishop of Orleans.

The Father's reply read as follows:

Monseigneur: I am profoundly sensible of the feelings which dictated the letter you have done me the honor of writing, and I am most grateful for the prayers which you are kind enough to offer up in my behalf; but I can neither accept the reproaches nor the counsels your address to me. What you denominate as a great fault committed, I designate as a great duty fulfilled. Accept, Monseigneur, the homage of the respectful sentiments with which I remain in Jesus Christ and in His Church.

Yours, &c.,
FATHER HYACINTHE.

A New Paper.

We publish the following prospectus as decidedly rich :—

I propose to start a religious paper on the gift enterprise plan. It will be devoted to sanctity and sewing machines, politics and patent medicines.

Subscribers for one copy of the Church Cancer will be presented with a box of petroleum blacking. This is a very superior article; it will black boots, or stoves, and may be used as a hair dye.

Subscribers for ten copies will be presented with a pair of iron clad spectacles with glass eyes, warranted to suit one age as well as another.

Subscribers for twenty-five copies will receive a tilting hoop skirt, and a marble bureau with a mahogany top.

Subscribers for five hundred copies will receive a nomination for Congress with a library, consisting of a bottle of whisky and a pack of cards.

Subscribers for a thousand copies will be presented with a farm in New Jersey, fenced in and mortgaged.

Clergymen acting as agents for the Cancer will be presented with one pair of brass knuckles, and an acre of court plaster.

Stock Market.

The Montreal 'Gazette' of yesterday quotes Stocks as follows :—

With easier money market there has been a much better demand for all classes of securities and considerable purchases have been made both for investment and speculation. Some investors have however delayed purchasing till the December dividends are declared, fearing that the usual rates will not in all cases be paid.

Bank of Montreal.—There has been a rapid advance of three per cent. in this stock with large sales at 165.

Bank of British North America.—Has been in good demand throughout the week with sales to some extent at 100 to 100½.

City Bank.—Has been dealt in to a moderate extent at 90 to 91.

Molson's Bank.—Sold early in the week at 101½, closing heavy but unchanged.

Merchants' Bank.—Sales were made during the week at 104, 104¼ and 104½, closing firm with buyers at 104¼ and sellers at 104½.

Mechanics' Bank.—A dividend of four per cent. has been declared payable on first prox. The stock continues heavy at 93 to 94.

Banque du Peuple.—A considerable amount of this stock was sold at 103 and 104¼ and is still procurable at these prices.

Banque Jacques Cartier.—Was dealt in at 108½, which price would still be paid.

Quebec Bank.—No stock in market. There are buyers at 102½ to 103.

Banque Nationale.—Is offered at 109, which is above the views of buyers.

Union Bank.—Only one sale reported at 106.

Eastern Townships Bank.—There are buyers at 100 but no sellers.

Ontario Bank.—Ruled steady with sales at 96½, 97 and 97¼.

Bank of Toronto.—There are buyers but no sellers at 124½ to 125.

Gore Bank.—There has been none of this stock in market for some time. Buyers would give 56½ to 57.

Royal Canadian Bank.—Sold at 62 and is still procurable at that price.

Canadian Bank of Commerce.—Is in demand at 107½ to 108. No stock in market.

Montreal Telegraph Company.—Has been dealt in at 135¼, sellers now asking 136.

Canadian Navigation Company.—Limited amounts have been placed at 108.

Richelieu Navigation Company.— There has been a steady demand for this stock, but no sellers under 123, which is above the views of buyers.

Canada Debentures.—There has been more enquiry for both fives and sixes, which has been dealt in to some extent at quotations.

Exchange.—Is firmer but without change in price. Bankers' 60 day bills have been largely dealt in at 8¾ to 8¾. In New York the rate for prime bills is 9 to 9¼.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 16.

Prize Organ.—It will be seen by an advertisement in this evening's paper, that the Organ which took the first prize at the Provincial Show held in London, Canada, is offered for sale. We are assured it is a splendid instrument.

Royal Canadian Rifles.—The following is from the Army and Navy Gazette of the 2nd inst., "We believe that the flat will shortly go forth for the disbanding of the Royal Canadian Rifles and the Cape Mounted Riflemen, both of which corps will disappear from the Army List at the commencement of the next financial year."

Another Atlantic Cable.—Another Atlantic Cable is to be laid, under the auspices of the "Oceanic Telegraph Company." It will be laid in a direct line from the southwest coast of Ireland to Sable Island and Halifax. When completed, messages will be sent at one-half the present rates. The capital of the Company is £600,000.

Figures not Correct.—The Belleville correspondent of the Globe in his account of the Sabbath School Convention, says that "Belleville is not more than half the size of "St. Catherines." We don't know where the correspondent got his statistics, but if he will refer to the census of 1861, he will find that St. Catharines had then a population of 6,284, and Belleville 6,377, just seven more than this town. Since that period Belleville, we believe, has made more rapid progress than even the lively, spirited town of St. Catherines, and at the next census will stand the first Town in population, as well as in all that constitutes material wealth.

Honesty Rewarded.—The Hamilton Spectator says :—"A gentleman (?) walking along Bay street yesterday, while drawing his handkerchief from his pocket, pulled his purse out too. The purse had some $300 in it. A small ragged urchin picked it up and delivered it to its owner, who promptly rewarded the finder with the magnificent sum of five cents."

The Railway.

In compliance with a requisition the Mayor has called a public meeting of the inhabitants to consider the question of building a Railway to the mineral regions of the back country. The meeting is to take place in Ontario Hall, and as it is a very important question—a question, in fact, so far as the future of Belleville is concerned, the most important which has occupied the attention of its inhabitants, and we hope there will be a large attendance of the rate-payers and property holders of the Town present.

Kingston is making a big bid to become the terminus of this railway, and to counteract the influence which will be brought to bear from that city, it will be necessary for Belleville to do something besides mere talking. If Kingston should succeed Belleville would go down hill very fast ; the property of the town would be greatly depreciated, and instead of being the great commercial centre of Central Ontario, as it should be and can be if the men who own property and money so will it, Belleville would very soon become a one horse town. Some men pooh-pooh the idea of Kingston ever building this Railway. They never made a greater mistake. Kingston is terribly in earnest, and unless Belleville exhibits something of a similar spirit, that city will be the terminus of the Railway.

We urge, therefore, a large meeting, so that the question may be fully and thoroughly discussed, and some practical measures adopted by which Belleville may become the terminus of a railway which will open up and develop the vast mineral resources of the back country. Let the Hall be filled.

The following fact, advanced by a correspondent of the Kingston News, is worthy the consideration of every property-holder and inhabitant of the town :

"In speaking of this project we must not only consider what would come into the city, but also what would go out.—Kingston would become the distributing point for all central Canada, and Madoc deriving its merchandise from here, would rival and undersell Belleville in all the back country.

Railway Depot Meetings.

The Delegates returning from the Sabbath School Convention, have generally found on arrival at the Depot that the train was behind time, and to their practical minds the first thought which presented itself was, how could they best improve the time. There was but one opinion on that subject, all seemed agreed that a continuation of the meetings which they had been enjoying, would be desirable ; acting upon this suggestion, meetings for prayer, praise, and mutual counsel, have been held at our Depot, at the departure of all the trains.

The first was held on Thursday evening, presided over by Wm. Reynolds, Esq., of Peoria, Ill. It was opened by singing the hymn, "All Hail the power of Jesus name," prayer, praise, and exhortation followed in rapid succession, and very quickly flew the forty five minutes the train was late.

Resolutions were passed, expressive of the delegates' feelingtowards the people of Belleville, and thanking them for their generous hospitality ; also to the Local Secretary, for the attention paid to their individual, wants, enquiries, and comforts. This meeting broke up just as the train was coming in, by singing with hands grasped in each other's, "Blest be the tie that binds."

The Delegates returning by the night train, also held a meeting, as did also those returning yesterday morning and noon.

Whilst referring to the Railway, we cannot allow this opportunity to pass, without expressing the thanks of the people of Belleville, and the thanks of the Delegates to Mr. Nunn, the Agent here, who was up night and day attending to their comforts, had extra cars provided for them, and when he learned yesterday morning of the accident near Ernestown, immediately despatched a special train with the Delegates going West. Such attentions as these deserve to be remembered.

Whilst some grumble at the Grand Trunk, as they do at every thing else, its liberality to parties attending such meetings as we have had here, is in pleasing contrast to that of some other Canadian Companies.—To all our religious and philanthrophic meetings it issues free return tickets.

—Dr. Abram Steele, of Picton, was killed on the 14th inst., by being thrown from his carriage near Point Traverse.

—Considerable sickness exists in Picton, and as a consequence the Board of Health have had a meeting, and directed the enforcement of sanitary regulations.

—The officers of the 14th or Prince of Wales' Own Rifles, Kingston, presented Lt.-Colonel Paton, a handsome silver cup, on his departure from Kingston for New York, in token of their esteem.

—A man named Drew, a Dover lumber dealer, tried to smuggle $3,000 worth of lumber into the United States, and was caught, subjecting himself to a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment for two years.

The Railway.

For the Intelligencer.

The action of the Belleville Board of Trade, reported in a late evening's issue, is significant of the feeling of this community. Composed as the Board is of the business men and property holders of the town, it speaks, we hope, the voice of the community, and when we find it is the opinion of the members that $100,000 can "easily" be raised here to assist in building a Railroad to Madoc, we are led to the conclusion that they are in earnest.

We are glad that our Kingston friends have taken hold of this matter so earnestly. It will act as an incentive and spur to us, and unite us in the matter. We can understand their earnestness upon the same principle or reason that a dying man will make an effort to grasp something beyond his reach, but which if gained will give them fresh life and vigor. This is Kingston's only hope, and however hopeless the effort may be, yet she must hope against hope. One great dependence of the work will be the mineral deposits—principally iron the back townships, and the trade which their developments will raise. Those deposits in the ore or smelted must come to the front to find a market, and it is clear that the shortest and quickest route to that front is the cheapest, and therefore the best.—Hence it is that to us it seems nonsense to talk of building the road to Kingston or Cobourg. Again, the people of Madoc, when the road is built will want to use it more or less in coming to the front. If that front were Kingston it would take them about four hours from Madoc village, (because of the circuitous route and stoppages proposed, it could not well be less,) nearly sufficient to drive to Belleville with a heavy load. Again, the fares for both freight and travel must be higher over the long road So also is the cost of building, keeping in repair, and running greater for the longer. The chances of accident are also proportionately increased ; in short, it is idle enumerating the advantages of a shorter road to do the same work. True, there would be more passenger traffic over the longer road, simply because it would run through more country. But the average per mile would be no greater but rather less, because there would be the same through or foreign passenger traffic, and the local traffic, mile for mile, would be as great over the shorter as the longer. The truth is, Kingston is trying to draw the life of the back Townships to resuscitate her dying frame and to gain her selfish ends, she cares not who she slanders or cajoles. The North and the South Ridings, the front and the rear of this County are united in interest, sympathy and friendship, and the effort Kingston is putting forth to get the handling of our ores is not because she loves Madoc, but because she loves herself. Of course the expenditure of the money in the construction of the road would benefit each section of the County through which the road runs, but after that what real benefit would a road to Kingston be to the inhabitants of Madoc in comparison to what one to Belleville would. Belleville would still (even if the road was built to Kingston) be the point and outlet, because the farmers could drive here in less time than they could ride there, and come and go with their own conveyance, starting from and for home whenever they liked. Again, having to drive to the Station at Madoc anyway, they might as well use their teams to bring them to Belleville sooner than they could get to Kingston by rail, or have them all day under expense in the Village of Madoc.

It will surprise our readers who know so well the oneness of feeling and interest of the North and South Ridings to hear that it is alleged that we in the front don't care for them in the rear, and have no interest in common with them—surprising because not true—never thought of because it is not and never was the case. We in the front have always been ready and willing to assist our brothers in the rear, for we have always been as one family and never knew we had any diverse interests, and very many of us in the front, besides our business interests, hold landed property in the back Townships. For years the Wardens of the County have been elected from the back Townships with entire concurrence and approval of the front ; not because they came from the north, but because they were the most deserving men.

There is no diversity of interest between us—there cannot be. What affects one part of the County must affect the other. Had the gold excitement proved a success both front and rear would alike have benefitted ; and where did the money come from that was spent in endeavoring to develope this source of wealth ? Did Kingston or Cobourg supply it ? Did not Belleville supply $1,090 for every $1 they combined gave ? And who are they that are still prosecuting this gold matter ; are they from Montenac or Northumberland ? No, they are every one from this County ; and should this resource prove profitable (as we do not despair of its doing) will it not be largely, nay, almost entirely due to the capital and perseverance of Belleville and the front Townships of this County. It is such a novelty to be told that the interests of two brothers who have long lived and worked together and never knew a diverse or selfish thought, the one from the other—are hostile, that we scarcely know how to treat it. But when we find that the volunteer informant is trying to make capital out of our disunion if he can bring it about, we catch hold of each other's hands with a firmer grasp and laugh at his ignorance. Cobourg, too, is trying to play the role of the disinterested friend. Well, she is a fit mate for our Eastern friend, a more sickly team couldn't be hitched together. No doubt each one will send her best talkers, her most persuasive speakers to convince the ignorant inhabitants of the County of Hastings that they don't know their own interests, and that they, the disinterested friends, have suddenly been struck with an electric flash of friendship for them.—Save us, ye Gods, from such friends.

The Madoc Railroad.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

Sir.—The project of a railway from Madoc to Belleville or Kingston, lately mooted in your columns, is by no means a utopian scheme, but one that is quite within the means of accomplishment. The "to be or not to be" of the case rests with the Government of Ontario. All they have to do is to abolish that baneful system of timber licenses, by which the whole public domain open to sale at one dollar an acre, without any reservations, and within six months there would be capital enough invested in the country for the timber to make a railway from some point on the lake shore into the pine regions an absolute necessity. About one year ago, in conversing with one of the principal lumbermen of the country, he assured me that if the land were thrown open, without any restrictions or reservations, he and his brother lumbermen would buy up every acre that had timber growing on it. And we know what a rush of enterprise would be over here to purchase timber lands, and with their usual energy would erect saw mills, shingle factories, &c., for the supply of their own markets. In travelling through Northern Michigan three years ago I found a Cincinnati Company just going to work to extend the Detroit and Saginaw Railroad up into the Northern peninsula, about two hundred miles into the wilderness, just for the timber that grew there, for the land is worthless, being a barren, sandy desert, without minerals, and unfit for cultivation, but the timber that grew there, although far inferior to ours, was a sufficient object to induce the outlay. People in Canada are not aware of the scarcity of pine timber in the States, and the rapidly increasing demand for it there. If our Crown Land Department would only adopt the American Land Office system and sell out the land without any of their miserable drawbacks, we should soon have an American Company pushing a railway through our country without costing us a dollar. By the present ruinous system of licenses the country is becoming rapidly disforested, and I am within the mark when I say that for every tree that is accounted for and turned to a useful purpose, half-a-dozen are destroyed. The holder of a license has no interest in the country except to hack and cull out the best trees, and leave the rest to destruction. The same man, if he owned the land, would take proper steps to protect it, and would work up every log that could be turned to account.—This too would lead to the Agricultural settlement, and both would lead to the discovery of mines that would make a permanent source of business for railways, and of revenues to the country through all future time. We know that nothing will be done by the present men in power, for they know their day of power will be brief, indeed few of them expect to survive the next general election, and their maxim is to "make hay while the sun shines," caring little for the future of our country.—But the people of the lumbering districts have a deeper interest at stake than a few truckling, time-serving politicians, and if we are true to ourselves and our country no time should be lost in taking a united and energectic action that will bring a pressure to bear on the Government in the ensuing Session of Parliament, and compel them to adopt a course pregnant with such important results.

Business Notices.

Mr. C. B. Howard, who performed here with the Broadway Theatre Company, is in our Town getting up something new in the way of an Advertising Card. It gives the time of the departure of the R. R. trains leaving Belleville, arranged the same as a dial of a clock with moveable hands, so in case the time of the leaving of the trains are changed, all that is to be done is to move the hands to the correct time. They are to be put up in the public places of Belleville.

THE FENIAN AMNESTY MOVEMENT.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Mr. Daniel O'Donoghue, member of Parliament for Kerry, Tralee, writes to the Dublin amnesty committee on the course of the government towards political prisoners. He states that the government collectively and individually commiserate the Fenian prisoners and are anxious to liberate them if it can be done consistently with the duty to the State, but he is convinced that the government cannot, without degrading its functions and betraying its trusts, yield anything to the faintest semblance of unconstitutional pressure.

FIRST ARRIVAL OF TEA FROM CHINA.

The ship "Sir Lancelot," which sailed from Foo Chow Foo, China, on July 19th, with a cargo of tea, has arrived in the Thames, and is winner of the race for the tea ships.

ARREST OF REPUBLICAN DEPUTIES RECOMMENDED.

MADRID, Oct. 15, evening.—The special committee appointed by the Cortes to investigate the conduct of the republican deputies in their report recommend the arrest of General Pierrad by the Government for his seditious conduct at Tarragona.

NEWSPAPERS SUPPRESSED.

Three republican papers published in Madrid have been suppressed, and two others are under prosecution.

ARREST OF CITIZENS.

Several citizens prominent in the republican party have been arrested here.

A CITY FIRED BY INSURGENTS.

It is reported that the insurgent leaders Raul and Salvoches, have fired the city of Carthagena.

FRENCH CORPS OF OBSERVATION.

MADRID, Oct. 15.—Rumors are abroad that the Emperor Napoleon intends to establish a corps of observation on the frontier, and much excitement is caused thereby.

REFORMS PROMISED FOR CUBA.

During the debate in the Cortes yesterday on a resolution thanking the defenders of Spanish authority in Cuba, General Prim declared that the Home Government only awaited a favorable result of the conflict there to accord all reforms and liberties required by the colony.

NEGOTIATIONS AT VALENCIA PROGRESSING.

The negotiations with the rebels at Valencia are progressing. A brief delay has been granted and a certain time fixed within which they may submit and receive full pardon, but should they hold out after the time has expired, then their lives will be forfeited.

WATERS OF THE NILE SUBSIDING.

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 15.—The waters of the Nile are subsiding and there is no longer any apprehension of serious damage to the cotton crop. The losses by the flood will not exceed in the aggregate 500 bales.

THE SUEZ CANAL.

A dam of the Suez canal gave way, but did no great harm to the works, though a larger quantity of material was destroyed. It is feared the canal must be deepened before it can be of any practical use.

THE LATEST.

A PARLEY WITH THE INSURGENTS—UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER.

MADRID, Oct. 15.—The Archbishop of Valencia, attended by an influential deputation, acting on behalf of the insurgents lately and still in arms in that city and within the limits of the Episcopal See, has just sought an interview with the officer in command of the Government troops operating in the district. The Archbishop interceded in behalf of the insurgents and in support of the authorities making terms with leniency towards them. When the deputation retired, a general military council was held at which the subject was debated. It was finally decided that the insurgents must all surrender at discretion.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE GOLD BOARD.

WASHINGTON, October 15.—Mr. Robt. Bonner has written to Gen. Grant, asking him to make a brief denial over his own signature, of all fore-knowledge of the late gold combination, in order to relieve himself entirely from all responsibility for the acts of others.

The President replied in the following letter:

WASHINGTON, October 13.—To Robt. Bonner: Your favor is received, I have never thought of contradicting statements or insinuations made against me by irresponsible parties, such as these alluded to in your letter, but as you have written to me on the subject in so kind a spirit, I will say that I had no more to do with the late gold excitement in New York than yourself or any other innocent party, except that I ordered the sale of gold to break the ring, engaged as I thought in a most disreputable transaction. If the speculators had been successful, you would never have heard of one connected with the administration as being connected with the transaction.

Yours truly,
U. S. GRANT.

P. S.—I have written this in great haste, and without exercising judgment as to the propriety of writing it, but I submit it to your judgment.

"CANADA LIFE"

Have published a Report and net valuation of all its policy and annuity obligations, by an Actuary totally unconnected with it, the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT, of Boston, late Insurance Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts.

It is believed that such a voluntary submission of the Company's position to an eminent and entirely independent Actuary of the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT'S well known high character and professional skill, will add to that public satisfaction and confidence which the "Canada Life Company" enjoys.

Copies of Mr. WRIGHT'S Report may be had at the Head Office, or at any of the Agencies throughout the Dominion.

Persons who may be assured in the Companies whose condition is unsatisfactory, desiring to join the "Canada Life," will be dealt with upon such terms as are reasonable and fair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual purgative than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that as a family physician it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compositions. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, and such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and constitutions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting whatever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, when their use should be continued, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it precludes the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it often affords a most agreeable relief from the sufferings of those who feel habitually unwell, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and purifying effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs growing all round us, and so easily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form, for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the genuineness of, as well as the medicines, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without a single assumption of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence in eruptions on the skin, or other alterations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, and Spasms; and the various Uterous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis, Gonorrhœa and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for polluted blood to become entirely free from impurities. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by vitiated humors or extraneous matter in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and the various forms in which it is they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Hence it is unequaled as a remedy for Debility, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the nameless dyspeptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any remedy gained such a unbounded hold upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has proved its superiority to all other medicines, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power in the various diseases of the throat, and lungs, have made it known as a reliable protector against disease, when adapted to the milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for the cure of the severest cases. Where dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, as indeed as all who have once used it for their children and friends, should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease was thought to be settled, completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the use of this remedy. For colds, coughs, and all disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the climate engenders, it is a sure cure. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they speedily disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection in its use.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been equally cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofula is the poison for four times the amount of money. most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism of a child is the sole inheritance. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence in eruptions on the skin, or other alterations on some part of the body. OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Receipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salutrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, MONDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 18, 1869. No. 143.

Hope for Better Days Again.

Though to-day be gloomy seeming,
And obscured the sun's bright ray,
Soon his lustre will be beaming,
All the clouds will pass away.

So, however sad your lot be,
Pressing on with heart and brain,
You may yet a brighter change see;
Hope for better days again.

Sit not down the whole day grieving,
Life is worth a struggle still;
Never cease to be believing.
Much we can do if we will.

So, however sad your lot be,
Pressing hard on heart and brain,
You may yet a brighter change see;
Hope for better times again.

The Recent Hurricane.

FURTHER DETAILS.

The following further details are from the St. Johns Journal & Telegraph :—

As far as heard from, the storm seems to have extended as far south on the Atlantic coast as Washington, and as far north as northern New York, central Maine and strange to say, the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the north shore not included in its course. The whole of the Bay of Fundy both on the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia coast was devastated, the tide rolling up to an extent unprecedented in the history of the country. At Moncton—as already detailed in this journal—the tempest was most disastrous in its consequences, while at Shediac on the Gulf, not eighteen miles across, no damage of any description was done.

THE INDIAN VILLAGE,

ten miles above Fredericton, was not forgotten in the general devastation. The numerous bark canoes of the Indians were lying on the bank of the river as their owners supposed perfectly safe. But the wind seized them; they ascended into the air,-and were blown entirely across the river, and several hundred feet up an ascent to the top of the hill.

THE STORM AT LINCOLN.

Although we have made some reference to the damage done by the storm at Lincoln, Sunbury Co., "the half was not told." The tempest seems to have fallen upon this place with extraordinary fury. Men who turned out to watch their property were thrown down on the ground, rolled over and over and their lives jeopardised. Orchards were treated as if they had no power of resistance, fruit trees, on which great pains and expense had been lavished, being bent and injured beyond hope of any ultimate recovery. The logs in the booms felt the full force of the gale, the river having suddenly risen three feet—considerable advance for that locality ; 400 joints of logs were broken up and carried up to Fredericton. Senator Glasier suffered severely; the chimnies of his house were all blown down, his barns, sheds and other out-buildings, fearfully damaged ; two miles of his fences thrown down, and besides the injury to logs in the large booms one of his rafts was broken up at Gagetown, and scattered. Mr. Duncan Glasier had the roof carried off a large barn bodily, and borne a distance of 500 feet. Senator Wilmot, of Belmont, had his barns and fences damaged to the extent of $600 to $800. Besides the serious injuries to the barns of Mr. Nevers, Mr. James Mitchell and Mr. David Mitchell, Mr. Edmond Simmonds suffered severely in his barns, sheds and fences. Hay-stacks were levelled and hay scattered in every direction, only to be collected again at comparatively enormous expense. The fine brick chimney of Mr. Carman's steam mill was thrown down. Senator Glasier has to lament with others great destruction in his orchard. All parties who witnessed the storm and its effects in that quarter, say the country has never seen anything so terrific and overwhelming since the first white man settled there.

DISTRESSING DETAILS FROM CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

The following is an extract from a letter from Minudie, dated Oct. 5 :—

Last night the tide rose to an uncommon height—fully six feet higher than ever it rose before—doing immense damage. The dykes of the whole country are swept away and all the hay has floated off into the bay. Over 2,000 tons of hay in stacks on our marsh has gone to the sea. Many persons in this place who had from 40 to 80 tons of hay are left with large stocks of cattle without a fork full. On the Amherst marshes, we could see yesterday hundreds of stacks of hay not one is to be seen this morning in fact all the marshes in the country are inundated, and the hay destroyed or gone to sea. It is supposed hundreds of cattle, horses and sheep are drowned. The total destruction of hay will necessitate the killing of all the cattle that are fit to kill.

News have just come in that 9 horses and 15 head of oxen have been found, in one place, drowned, and it is supposed a man was drowned on the marsh last night. This is the greatest calamity that has ever happened to this country. Barns—6 or 8 of them full of hay on our marshes have gone adrift and some of them washed down. It looks dismal around here this morning.

Another man has just come in with news of more horses, sheep and cattle drowned. River Hebert Bridge—quite a large one—is floating past.

FUTHER FROM ALBERT COUNTY.

Hon. A. R. McClelan writes us from Riverside, Hopewell, A. C., 7th inst. We trust the inspector of Post Offices will endeavor to meet the wishes of the many in Albert who will be benefited by the proposed postal change. Mr. McClelan furnishes some facts relative to the storm in that quarter :—

"The great flood has carried away all the principal bridges in this County including that one in Moncton, so that no mail has arrived here since from Moncton.—Please send my papers via Slisbury, as we have a mail twice a week, thence to this place, which has not been interrupted. The P. O. Department would perhaps do well to order a daily mail from Salisbury to Harvey via Caledonia, which would supply all the western parishes of Hopewell, Harvey and Alma, and a portion of Hillsboro ; also a daily from Salisbury to Hillsboro and Hopewell Cape, until bridges can be restored.

The aggregate of private losses in this County may be estimated at half a million of dollars. If the favorable weather continues a good deal of hay may be saved in an injured condition. Every stack and barn on the marshes floated off.

From the North-West

The Nor' Wester of the 21st ult. contains the following interesting item. Colonel Dennis' observation effectually settles what might have been another cause for an international quarrel :—

"We hear that the boundary post of Pembina, about which so much has been said by many in this settlement, is found by Col. Dennis to be very little out of the true position as making the 49° of lat.—We remember to have heard it stated that the boundary was marked some 100 miles too far south, and that the true measurements would take in the whole of Red River. No doubt our cousins would like it to be so, and they can easily make it so by raising the north pole of the earth a degree or two above the polar star. As this is the only difficulty in the way to prevent them claiming as far north as they like, we shall expect to see some ingenious Yankee invent a block and tackle to veer the planet around to suit the purpose.

The Nor' Wester also contains the following :—

We would draw the attention of the Canadian lumber dealers to the fact, that if a company be formed, with from $10,000 to $12,000 capital, for the purpose of manufacturing lumber in this neighborhood for the supply of the settlement, a large and paying business can be done. Lumber is now selling at $40 per 1,000 feet, and any company who will manufacture lumber upon the eastern shore of Lake Winnipeg and sell it here for any reasonable per centage below that price, will command a ready sale for any amount they may produce. The most part of the lumber now sold here, is made in that locality and brought in a schooner to the settlement. It is sawn by steam power. Good timber can also be found in other localities, and good water-power can be found on the eastern shore of the lake. Even the present limited demand cannot be supplied under present circumstances, and we trust that this notice will meet the eyes of some men with enterprise enough to embark in a business not only so necessary for the growth of this place, but so remunerative to themselves.

DONKEYS AT DONCASTER.—The Doncaster St. Leger is not, as its locality might suggest to the ignorant, a donkey race wherein the hindmost quadruped wins, though the favorite may come in last. It is no more a donkey race than the Derby or any other race which horses run that donkeys bet upon.

A literary undertaking of vast extent has been projected by a society of savants in Paris, having for its object the reproduction of all the masterpieces of literature which have appeared in ancient and modern times. The title of the work is the "Bibliotheque Internationale Universelle," and it is to consist of some 200 volumes in large octavo, to be issued at the rate of two volumes each month, at an unprecedentedly low price to subscribers. The works reprinted are to be in the best French translations, and are to appear on a prescribed plan in order to show how primitive ideas have been developed into organized forms, and how these have undergone transformations and produced reactions upon spheres beyond their own. The French Government has recognized the importance of the work, and has approved of its publication, and many eminent men have promised their co-operation.

POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANK.—The statement of the Post Office Saving's Bank account for September shows that the deposits for that month increased from $960.163 to $991,560. The amount withdrawn in September was $49,993.

FENIAN RAID.—A telegram from Ottawa, Oct. 16th, says :—"Further rumors are flying about with regard to a Fenian raid, which, it is reported, will be made within ten days, but the government is ready for any contingency."

NORTH LANARK.—Mr. Scott, who was nominated by the Reform Convention as the candidate for this constituency, having declined, the Hon. Malcolm Cameron is therefore the Reform candidate ; but as the Hon. Wm. McDougall has not yet resigned, it may be some time ere modest Malcolm has a seat in Parliament.

A POWERFUL PREACHER.—While an Eastern priest was preaching in a mosque, one of the hearers seemed greatly affected. Proud of the circumstance, the preacher asked the man how his discourse had affected him so much. "Oh, sir," said he, "It is not that : but your long beard put me so much in mind of a favourite goat I lost, that I could not help crying."

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Sunday last a person of the name of Rogers, of the fifth concession of Sidney, while hunting, stopped to eat some grapes which looked inviting, and in attempting to pull down one of the branches with the gun, it went off, the charge entering the lower part of the body and left leg. Dr. Willson, of Stirling, who is in attendance, pronounced the wound serious if not fatal.

THANKS TO THE VOLUNTEER FORCE.—The following general order is published : "The Governor-General takes the earliest opportunity of conveying his thanks, and, by special desire, those of H. R. H. Prince Arthur to the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the volunteer militia of the Dominion of Canada who have recently turned out within Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario with such promptitude and good spirit to welcome Prince Arthur, as well as his Excellency. The soldier like appearance of the force at all places was most creditable."

THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.—Herepath's Railway Journal (England) of Oct. 2nd says : Mr. Potter, the President, has arrived in Canada, and is hard at work inspecting the line and its management. From accounts which reach us from various quarters we fully expect Mr. Potter will be enabled to give a much better account of the position of affairs than most proprietors imagine is the case. We believe that very great progress has been made in the renewals of the way and the improvement of the rolling stock. We also believe it will turn out, as by a happy fluke, that the route chosen for the Intercolonial railway is the very best for traffic, but of this more anon.

ORANGEISM IN THE UNITED STATES.—The Kingston Whig says :—A few weeks ago a movement was proposed in New York to organize an Independent American Orange Association, which should not owe allegiance to British Lodges as the present organization does. This association was inaugurated last Saturday evening in Jersey City, by one hundred delegates, representing lodges in New York, Brooklyn, Jersey, Newburgh, Paterson, Elizabethport, and other cities. There was read a communication from Bro. W. H. Torriano, Grand Secretary of England, giving the consent of the Grand Lodge of Great Britain to the separation, and their best wishes for their future prosperity. A vote was taken upon organizing the "Independent Order of Orangemen of the United States of America," and carried unanimously. The Grand Lodge was then formed and the officers duly elected and installed.

HONOR TO AN EDITOR.—We observe at a Reform Pic-Nic held in the County of Wentworth, on Friday, that Mr. Somerville, editor and proprietor of the Dundas True Banner, was presented with a splendid gold watch and chain, which cost $250 at wholesale price The watch was made by Lewill, of Liverpool and was purchased from Messrs. J. G. Joseph & Son, Toronto, who made the chain to order. The watch bears the following inscription : "Presented to James Somerville, Esq., by the Reformers of Wentworth, North and South, Oct. 15, 1869." The presentation was made by Mr. James McQueen, of Beverly, an address being read by the chairman, and suitably replied to by Mr. Somerville. We heartily endorse the sentiment of the Hamilton Spectator that, although differing politically from Mr. Somerville, we heartily congratulate him upon this recognition of his services by his friends in Wentworth. He has fought earnestly for the interest of his political principles and the success of his party, and richly merited the valuable compliment that has been paid him.

The Railway Meeting.

We again remind the people of Belleville of the public meeting to be held this evening in Ontario Hall. There is a very strong feeling in the Township of Madoc in favor of a Railway to the front, and an evident desire on the part of some of the leading inhabitants of that Township, to have the terminus at Kingston, on the ground that Belleville has not hitherto acted fairly towards them, and that Kingston is a better market than Belleville. We have good reason to believe that the Belleville market is as good for the producer as the Kingston market, that the average price paid for all leading articles is as high in Belleville as in Kingston. While we believe this to be the fact, it will not do for the people of Belleville to trifle with this Railway question. Kingston, without doubt, is in earnest, and will do everything in its power to obtain this Railway. As a Corporation we are assured it will make a good and substantial offer, and there are individual capitalists who will subscribe for a considerable amount of stock. Kingston realizes the fact that a Railway, opening up the back country and developing the vast mineral resources of that country, will largely augment the trade of that city, making it the great commercial centre of Central Ontario, rapidly increasing the population, and adding materially to its wealth and prosperity. Madoc, Elziver and the other rear Townships are in earnest, and feel very properly that if they are to prosper and the mineral wealth of that section of country is to be developed, there must be a Railway. The wealth is there, but there is no means of getting it to a market. If Belleville is to profit by this wealth, if we are to be the distributing depot for the iron and other metals of that country, if we are to have the advantage of extensive smelting works and other manufactories erected, we must take immediate and practical steps towards securing the terminus of the Railway here. We trust, therefore, that the property-interest of this Town will be largely represented at the meeting to-night, that some tangible and practical scheme will be adopted, and that a strong and influential deputation be sent to Madoc to attend the meeting on Wednesday.

A Pill for the Doctors.

It has often been alleged that Lawyers when chosen legislators, are sure to frame laws in the administration of which will tend to their own benefit, pecuniarily and otherwise. Such certainly cannot be said of the Doctors who tried their hand at law-making to regulate their own Profession. During the last session of the Ontario Parliament they asked for "An Act to amend "and consolidate the Acts relating to the "Profession of Medicine and Surgery," and succeeded in getting one passed into law, in which the following extraordinary clause is to be found, to which we ask the careful attention of our medical friends :

"Any person who shall wilfully and falsely pretend to be a physician, doctor of medicine, licentiate in medicine or surgery, master of surgery, bachelor of medicine, surgeon or general practitioner, or shall practice medicine, surgery or midwifery for hire, gain, or hope of reward, or shall falsely take or use any name, title, addition or description, implying, or calculated to lead people to infer that he is registered under this Act, or that he is recognized by law as a physician, surgeon or accoucheur, or a licentiate in medicine, surgery, or midwifery, or a practitioner in medicine, shall, upon a summary conviction before any Justice of the Peace, for any such offence, pay a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, nor less than twenty five dollars.

By reading those portions which are italicised and omitting the rest, the clause will be more readily comprehended. Certainly the Doctors never intended to enact a law which debar them from practicing their profession without fee or reward; yet such is the reading of the law. Will the lawyers follow the example of their professional brethren, and so amend the law as to make it punishable by fine and imprisonment to practice law "for hire gain, or hope of reward !"

Seriously, we have no doubt the courts would construe the Act to mean "any unregistered person who shall practice," &c. This the context shows is the meaning of the clause, but the omission of this one qualifying word makes the clause not only ridiculous but "hard upon the doctors."

The School Trustees and the Local Superintendent.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

My own attention and your columns have been so much more pleasantly engaged for the last few days with the proceedings of the Sunday School Convention, that I had almost forgotten some strictures which I had intended to make upon the report of the Committee of the Board of School Trustees, to whom was referred the quarterly report of the Local Superintendent ; but so uncommon a production should not be allowed to pass into the limbo of "rejected addresses" without special remark. As to the style of the report I shall say nothing ; men are not bound to write English, even if they are School Trustees ; but they are bound, at least in their official utterances, to courteous and gentlemanly sentiments ; and no man of correct feeling would use an official position to snub another who had not given great provocation.

A Board of School Trustees, no doubt, appoint the Local Superintendent, but he does not, by accepting such appointment, become their servile servant, or cease to be a gentleman ; if they so far forget their good manners as to "blow up" the janitor, it is to be expected in the nature of things that he will submit ; he knows, to use the courteous language of this Report, that "it will be well for him" to pocket the insult, and his fees at the same time ; but that such language should be used towards a scholar and gentleman whom they consider fit for Superintendent of Schools, is, to my mind, incomprehensible, and my first thought was "the Superintendent must have been guilty of some impropriety towards the Board," so I went back over the Report carefully, and here, in their own language, is his offence :

"With respect to the remarks as to the services of Mr. Macoun and Miss Shanks, your Committee beg to say, that while they believe that this Board would receive with respect any suggestion or opinion which the Local Superintendent thought fit to offer, even outside his official duties, your Committee are of opinion that no such suggestions ought to be embodied in an official Report.

"With respect to the last paragraph of the Local Superintendent's Report your Committee regret that the Local Superintendent should have thought it expedient in his official Report to give his advice and opinion respecting the enlargement of Schools, and the extension or non-extension of the present School system as well as criticising the proceedings and condemning the acts of the Board whose officer he is, as previously intimated by your committee ; it will be for the Superintendent to confine himself to what has been considered the duties of his office, especially in his official Reports, as the Board can at any time avail itself of his opinion and advice when they consider it expedient so to do."

Now one would have thought that just this sort of thing was one of the primary duties of the Superintendent; he goes often to the Schools, he notes their wants, he sees the defects of the School houses, he knows what Schools want "enlargement," he can speak intelligently on "the extension or non-extension of the present School system."—The Trustees are not expected to look closely after these things, though they may visit the Schools occasionally, he does it for "the Board whose officer he is," more than many, save in their knowledge, would be glad of suggestions from those who know a given state of facts better than themselves ; but this magnanimous Committee instead of receiving them with common politeness, not to say thankfulness, turn upon, and snub the man who has only done his duty, and has done it courteously and well : Listen to their language—"it will be well for the Superintendent" ent to confine himself to what has been considered the duties of his office, especially "in his official reports, as the Board can at "any time avail itself of his opinion and "advice, when they consider it expedient so "to do." Whether Mr. Jones will consider it "expedient" to remain their "officer" any longer I cannot say, but the Town would think his resignation more than justifiable under the circumstances. But this Committee has not only shown themselves regardless of first principles of good breeding ; they are also ignorant or regardless of the by-laws which their own Board has passed on this subject : Former Trustees, as if anticipating such successors, have by solemn by-law pointed out, and defined the duties of the Local Superintendent. Hear what his duties are, as defined by by-law :

"The Board of School Trustees of the Town of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, enacts that the following shall be the duties of the Local Superintendent of education for the Town of Belleville, in addition to such others as may be set forth in the Statutes :

"3. To examine at each quarterly visit the condition of each School, &c., the character and condition of the Buildings and premises, whether the Rules laid down by this Board for the regulation of the Schools are fully or partially carried out, and if not partially, that part omitted to offer such advice as he may deem proper and expedient to the same to the Board."

If this brilliant Committee had had this by-law lying before them, they could not have more cleverly contravened its provisions, they could not have more pointedly condemned Mr. Jones for obeying it—if the by-law read it shall not be the duty of the Local Superintendent to report, &c., then the by-law and the Committee would be agreed

What shall we think of the honesty or capability of men who in the face of the good sense, good manners and the written law, insult a public servant because he does his plain duty, or can we regard the most important interests of the community as safe in their hands ?

ONE INTERESTED.

Belleville, Oct. 16th, 1869.

Model Retraction !

The Globe of the 14th has the following paragraph :—

"Mr. W. H. Griffin, Deputy Postmaster General, states that the report current in Ottawa of a deficiency in the Post Office Savings' Bank, is entirely without foundation."

Commend us to the Globe as an example of unparalleled assurance ! The Deputy Postmaster General is misrepresented : he did not contradict "the report current in Ottawa," but he did emphatically deny the truth of the Globe's statement, as his telegram (which we repeat) will show :—

"OTTAWA, Oct. 13.

"There is no truth whatever, in the Toronto Globe's statement of yesterday, of deficiency in Post Office Savings' Bank. The story is utterly without foundation. W. H. GRIFFIN."

A very shabby creep out, indeed, for the Globe. Let us recall the facts. In Tuesday's Globe appears the following paragraph, telegraphed from Ottawa by its own correspondent :—

"It is reported that there is a considerable deficit in the deposits of the Post Office Savings' Bank. The amount is stated to be as high as $15,000. After the departmental mismanagement demonstrated by the Reiffenstein affair, it is not surprising to hear of irregularities in the departments."

Now, who made and circulated this mischievous and untruthful report ? The Globe and its Ottawa correspondent together ! This is a pretty specimen, truly, of the veracity of the Globe's Ottawa intelligence. There was no "report current in Ottawa" till the paragraph which appeared in the Globe was palmed upon the public.—London Free Press.

—Tenders for the new Intercolonial Railway contracts are to be received up to Tuesday evening. About fifty have already been put in.

—The first sod of the Toronto and Nipissing Railway was turned at Cannington, in the Township of Brock, on Friday, by Attorney-General Sandfield McDonald.

—The Helena 'Herald' records the casting of a $30,000 gold brick for Messrs. Bohm & Auh, the largest that was ever run in the United States. Mr. Bohm has offered to make a present of this brick to any one who will 'shoulder' it and walk one mile without stopping. It weighs 270 pounds.

—Some people don't believe in advertising because they say 'nobody reads the papers.' But let them get into a scrape, and you will find them running around to the newspaper offices with the request, 'please don't mention that little affair, it's a mistake ; I don't want my name published all over the country.'

—A carpenter was once at a trial as a witness, and being asked by the defendant's counsel, who was very fond of bullying the witnesses, how far he was from the defendant when he saw him strike the plaintiff, said "Just five feet four inches." "Zounds !"—bawled the counsel, how could you tell so exact ?" "Why, sir," said the witness, "I thought some one would ask me, so I measured it."

—A despatch from Kincardine Oct 15th says : "The steamer Bonnie, from Goderich to Southampton, went ashore at this place at seven o'clock last night as she was entering the harbor. Her rudder chain broke and the wind blowing a perfect gale at the time, she drifted past the north pier into the breakers and was driven ashore. She had a large quantity of goods on board and five passengers. The passengers and books of the boat were saved. She is fast breaking up and the goods are being washed ashore."

'Mother want's to know if you won't please to lend her your preserving-kettle ; 'cause she wants to do up some apple-sarce. 'I would with pleasure, boy, but the truth is, the last time we lent it to your mother she preserved it so effectually that we have not seen it since.' 'Well, you needn't be sassy about your old kettle. Guess it was full of holes when we borrowed it, and mother wouldn't have troubled you again, only we see'd you bring home a new one.'

—A young man went from New York to Jersey the other evening to visit his intended, and as it was late and dark when he left the house to return to the ferry, she insisted on his taking a lantern with him, and gave him a red paper one, a la Chinese. The youth had a long distance to walk to the depot and took the railroad track as the shortest route. He walked along paying very little attention to anything, being somewhat abstracted with the thoughts of his lady love ; but the reverie was suddenly brought to an end by some one from the rear, who gave the Chinese lantern a kick that sent it flying. "Confound you !" said the person from behind, "here I have been slowing my train for the last two miles on account of that red light." And indeed it was true, for not far behind him the young gentleman saw a freight train, and it was the engineer who had kicked the light. The young man now goes among his chums by the name of "Red Light Bill."

CHOLERA IN CHINA.—The Delhi Gazette of Aug. 14 says :—Cholera had by the end of last week spread in a very malignant form over nearly the whole town of Umritsur, carrying off no fewer than between 70 and 90 victims per day. Considerable alarm naturally prevailed amongst the inhabitants as the disease had found its way into quarters hitherto free, and into the houses of the richer class of the inhabitants, many of whom are thinking and even talking of emigrating. A telegram from Umritsus, of latter date, informs the Delhi Gazette that the deaths from cholera there were 104 on the 13th, 108 on the 14th, and 96 on the 15th August. A correspondent writing from Morar, on the 12th August says :—"I am sorry to say cholera is again prevalent here and in the fortress of Gwalior. The wife of Lieutenant Stoddart succumbed last night, and Dr. Hales, whose exertions have been most unremitting, is dangerously ill. These cases occurred in the fortress. At headquarters two companies are in camp."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restorative which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, its effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

A YEAR'S TRIAL.

To Montreal Tea Company:

GENTS.—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea has in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap. Yours very truly,

MONTREAL, 1868. F. GENNIE.

Montreal Tea Co:

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue a customer

Yours respectfully,
FRANCIS T. GREENE,
84 St. John Street,
Montreal.

Montreal, April, 1865.—To the Montreal Tea Company, 6 Hospital street, Montreal: We have much pleasure the large amount of tea forwarded for you to different parts of the Dominion, and we are glad to find your business so rapidly increasing. We presume your Teas are giving general satisfaction, as out of the large amount forwarded we have only had occasion to return one box, which, we understand, was sent through a mistake.

"CANADA LIFE"

Have published a Report and net valuation of all its policy and annuity obligations, by an Actuary totally unconnected with it, the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT, of Boston, late Insurance Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts.

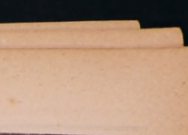

It is believed that such a voluntary submission of the Company's position to an eminent and independent Actuary of the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT'S well known high character and professional skill, will add to that public satisfaction and confidence which the "Canada Life Company" enjoys.

Copies of Mr. WRIGHT'S Report may be had at the Head Office, or at any of the Agencies throughout the Dominion.

Persons who may be assured in the Companies whose condition is unsatisfactory, desiring to join the "Canada Life," will be dealt with upon such terms as are reasonable and fair.

BILL HEADS,

AND all other kind of JOB PRINTING, executed with neatness and despatch at the INTELLIGENCER Office Front Street Belleville.

The Charge of the London Alderman.

Twenty-five! twenty-five
Twenty-five dollars
For thirty minutes drive :—
It should be a hundred !
"Charge all you can," he said,
"Let us not be dismayed,
A big bill shall be made—
Twenty-five hundred!"

Charges to right of them,
Charges to left of them,
Charges in front of them
Made by Glackmeyer;
Oh ! 'tis the town had thought
It would so much have cost,
They'd rather the visit lost
Of the Prince Arthur.

No'er shall the glory fade,
Of the great charge he made,
When the town stood dismayed
In great consternation ;
Honor the check of him !
Let not his fame grow dim !
Make an M. P. of him :—
That's his vocation. —Diogenes.

PLEASANT.—It must be a pleasant reflection for a faded belle, when coloring up her faded cheeks, that the colouring matter which she is applying is obtained from the body of a species of lice. The name of this insect is the coccus. It lives and thrives on a spiecess of cactus, common in different parts of Mexico; and the colouring matter is obtained by digesting the insects in ether and dissolving the residue in water, to which acetate of lead is added to precipitate the colouring matter. It then undergoes sundry other manipulations and comes forth a fine lake, which,after having been extensively adulterated with poisonous salts and vermillion, is used for painting haggard faces, dyeing, colouring, painting, and in confectionary.

DELICACY.—Delicacy respects the feelings of everybody. It not only abstains from wounding the sensibilities of a modest woman, but even from trifling with the fancies of a nervous hypochondriac. Human life is full of so many grossnesses, each of which gives fresh wound to delicacy, that at length she expires under repeated blows. At fifteen our feelings are in their most sensitive state ; at thirty, we regard with indifference things which, in younger and purer years, would have annoyed us exceedingly ; at fifty, our beauty and our delicacy are both withering together—it is but paint for the former, and affection for the latter ; and in old age, to find those emotions of the soul would be as wonderful as to meet a smooth and rosy complexion. To a certain degree, delicacy is a virtue ; let it get a step beyond, and it becomes the most childish imbecility.

A WESTERN STORY.—A good western story is thus told by the Fort Scott Post: We heard a good joke the other day on one of the young bloods of this city who went down to the edge of Arkansas on business. While down there he went to a party, and while at the party danced with one of the settlers' wives. Rackenshake stood it as long as he could, but finally became enraged he went up to the blood and says : "Look here, Mister, that is my wife you are dancing with.' 'Well, what of it?' said the blood. 'Why, this : you dance with her again ; you speak to her ; you even look at her again, and I'll blow the top of your head off !' 'Now, look here,' said the blood coolly : 'do you see that umbrella setting that ?' 'Well, suppose I do?' 'Well, you handle that umbrella : you touch that umbrella, and I'll ram it down your throat and I'll spread it.'—Rackenshake scooted.

THE ŒCUMENICAL COUNCIL lately called at Rome is an instance of the solicitude of the Catholic Church for the welfare and prosperity of her Communicants. Large assemblies of this nature calculating representatives from all parts of the world, should be of some benefit to our race. We hope this opinion will be as harmonious and unanimous as the verdict in favor of the Great Shoshonese Remedy, for diseases of the lungs, blood, stomach, liver, &c. For sale by all druggists. 34-1m.

IRISH CHURCH.—The Bishops of the Irish Church are making an honest endevor to accommodate themselves and their flocks to the altered state of their circumstances. No doubt the voluntary system will infuse new life and vigor into the body ecclesiastic and act upon all branches of the church with that invigorating effect so remarkable in the action of the first Shoshonese Remedy on those affected with consumption, chronic dyspepsia, bronchitis &c. For sale by all Druggists.

The human family is so numerous that a birth and a death occur every moment. Every second a child is born ; every second some one dies. The prevalence of sickness in the world may be realized in Dr. J. C Ayer's Laboratory, where medicines are made for all mankind. It would scarcely seem that there are threats enough to swallow the doses he issues daily.—Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Ague Cure, and Cherry Pectoral by the thousand gallons and Ayer's Pills literally by the ton. But they must all be wanted or he could not make such quantities for so many years. [Northfield Telegraph.]

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such a remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. It wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

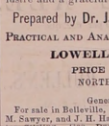

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reasons is, that it is a more reliable, and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that it does once & for all it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compositions. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of the remarkable cures of the following complaints, but cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and constitutions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure :—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice, Nausea, Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case to correct the disordered action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a powerful purgative.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, they are unequaled. Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who finds himself "out of sorts," feels that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from the sensible effect of their healthful and energetic operations.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost us?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are but the extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee ?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more active principle than is prepared in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the genuinity of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz :

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tumors, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. Irregulates the stomach and bowels ; cures all liver and pulmonary complaints ; purifies the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For convyenence it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and cures most cases of delicate parents ; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes ; a powerful reorganant after the frame has been reduced by sickness ; as excellent as well as an agreeable appetizer and restorative for persons of sedentary, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds,such as cold chills, chills and fever, pleurisy, pains in the side or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, all sores and sores, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success with Dr. Thompson's No. 6 tonic powder package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply a better article of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Obstinate affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the speedy approach of fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed disease throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be and lately deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. For scrofulous complaints, the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, in most cases, by the use of this Sarsaparilla: Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sores, Blotches, Sore Eyes, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofula. Also in the more concealed forms of Scrofula, such as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterine ailments to which the female is liable, and nervous systems.

Many forms of Liver and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for substantial or obstinate maladies to yield to its medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield to it. Only give it a fair trial. Also Liver Complaint, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Debility, that most distressing of complaints, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions, or fearful anticipations, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any remedy been so universally relied upon with confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Throughout the extent of country, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the most dangerous affections of the throat and lungs, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While admitted to the highest forms of efficacy as a remedy for children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for the deceitful consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks, it should always be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes liable to colds and coughs, it should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed actually to have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral, prove that its use may save even the last extremity of the lungs and Throat, that ever the most obstinate of them yield to it. When the disease has become seated under the Cherry Pectoral they subdue it and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure.

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill and Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any mineral substance, or poisonous drug whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and variety of cases in the agueish districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of the world.

Our mail is loaded by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected by these pills, and by the urgent appeals for them which are wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation, for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Receipt, and was awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without a question the best Tonic, Stimulant and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years in Italy it has been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, TUESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 19, 1869. No. 144.

East [H]astings Agricultural Fair and Cattle Show.

Thursday the 14th inst. did not prove at all propitious for the farmers and artizans of the East Riding of the County. At an early hour rain began to fall, and continued without intermission during the whole day; notwithstanding this the Fair held at Roslin was by no means a failure; on the contrary, the attendance was very large, the number of entries exceeded that of former years, and the quality of the articles exhibited equal to, and in some respects superior to those shown at former Fairs, so that taken altogether the Society had no cause to complain.

In Blood Cattle, our Farmers, we regret, do not keep pace with the times, and though there were some good cattle upon the ground; shown by those who took prizes, we are not prepared to pronounce them as full blooded as they should be to come under the class of "Blood Cattle." We believe, however, that a cross between our native stock and full bloods, are as profitable, and probably more so, than the "full bloods," but it must be borne in mind that in order to prevent the stock running down new importations should be made every year or two. We do not throw out this hint because East Hastings is behind any of the other Ridings of the County, on the contrary, its show of cattle was equal, and on the whole, superior to any of them, but to urge upon our Farmers and Breeders the importance of not allowing their stock to run down, and the necessity of Agricultural Societies offering greater inducements to those who will invest their money in importing stock. The grade cattle, consisting of a large admixture of the Durham, were above the average, showing conclusively the advantage of pursuing the course of crossing the breeds. Horses were well represented, though we do not observe any great improvement in this department for some years past. Some very good sheep were exhibited by Mr. Garbutt, and Mr. Palmer, while the commoner breeds were well represented by other exhibitors. Mr. Thomas Martin had on exhibition a good boar of the Yorkshire breed; and Mr. H. Campbell had another of the same breed. Mr. John Wilson, jr., exhibited a very pretty Suffolk pig. The Seeds department gave evidence of a bountiful harvest; the competitors being numerous, and the samples good. While the show in Farming Implements was not large; there were some good ploughs exhibited by Mr. John White, and other articles of the latest patterns, and most useful to the Agriculturalists, by others. In Domestic Manufactures, and what is termed the Ladies' Department, there was much to admire and commend, though the show in this respect fell behind that in North Hastings. There were a few samples of leather on show, and some good and well made boots by Mr. Carnihan. The samples of Dairy Cheese were not numerous, but the factories showed cheese of excellent quality. In Butter, the Dairy was very well represented, both in quality and number of competitors. Roots, Vegetables and Fruit, could not be excelled. The apples were particularly fine, as were also some samples of pears.—Root crops have scarcely ever been better than this year, as evidenced by the samples shown at all the Fairs, and the time is not far distant when the roots of all kinds, will, we hope, be more extensively cultivated for feeding purposes.

The Directors of this Society deserve credit for the energy displayed in erecting a building for the purpose of exhibiting their articles, and though not as large as we should like to have seen it, it will prove of great advantage to the Society. Let us hope other Ridings will follow the example set them.

After the judges had performed their difficult task of deciding upon the relative merits of the various articles brought to the Fair, they were entertained by the Society at a capital dinner provided by Mr Martin, J. J. Farley, Esq., President of the East Riding Society, in the Chair.

The following is the Premium List:—

Fenian Movements.

We understand that important Fenian movements are on foot, which may necessitate the calling out of the Volunteer force at once. Already rations have been served out to certain sections of the force, in some parts of the Dominion. The Gunboat Prince Alfred has been put into active service on the Lakes, and other extraordinary precautions have been taken.

These precautions are made, in consequence of information that the Fenians have a gunboat on the upper Lakes well armed, and that a force in the West is to act in a co-operated movement with a force in the East.

We see by the Toronto Telegraph to-day that the Toronto Battery has been ordered to Goderich to man the gunboat 'Prince Alfred.' The force with their guns were despatched this morning. The Telegraph says: "It is believed that the Fenian madcaps, in their efforts to get a scare, will attempt to give trouble on the eastern part of Canada at the boundary line, while the expedition above spoken of will create a stir on the upper lakes. The whole affair was originated and discussed at the late Fenian Congress and decided on by nearly a unanimous vote of all present with the exception of one representative from Canada, whom it is said voted against and was strongly opposed to any movement on Canada. Our authorities claim that the orders given last week were on most authentic information, and that the Fenians are determined before the end of this month to give the poor servant girls they robbed of their hard earnings, some satisfaction for the money that they have paid into the Fenian Treasury.

INQUEST.—An inquest was held this afternoon before Coroner John P McDonald on the body of J. Beswick, a well known piano tuner, who has been in Belleville for a number of years. The unfortunate man, who had been drinking heavily for some time past, came last evening to one of the Constables, apparently in a state of delirium, stating that there was a party following him to kill him. The Constables put him in the cells for protection during the night. At ten o'clock this morning, having known the man for several years, and hearing that he was in the cells, Mr. R. M. Roy went to see him, and conversed with him for a moment or two. Shortly afterwards Mr. Rankin went up into the Police Court and told Mr. Roy that Beswick had hanged himself. Mr. Roy and Mr. Rankin went down and found him hanging by the neck to an iron pin. He had taken off his brace, tied it to an iron pin, fastened it around his neck, and bending his knees, deliberately strangled himself. He was immediately cut down, but life was found to be extinct. Dr. Burdett was called, and endeavored to resuscitate him, but without effect. Deceased was about forty years of age.

LEGGOTYPING.—This is a new process for reproducing as surface printing types, any photograph, mezzotint, crayon, brush or pencil drawing, any impression from steel, copperplate, woodcut, electrotype, stone or zinc. It is the invention of Mr. Leggo, of Montreal, and after a number of years' experiments, has been brought to great perfection. The method links together two arts, Photography and Electro-Metallurgy. A photograph is taken of the print, or object of which a type is required, and after intermediate processes, which constitutes the invention, obtain by the Galvanic Battery an electrotype capable of yielding an unlimited number of reprints of the original. Thus is reproduced in a few hours which has taken weeks, sometimes months, and often years of hard labor to originate. This art in fact is adapted to most branches where woodcut, steel engravings and lithographs are now occasionally employed, with this difference, that the latter are very costly, the mere cutting outbalancing in cost the designing and drawing, whereas the method renders the engraving altogether a matter of minor importance. We have received from Messrs. Leggo & Co., a large number of specimens of their work both in maps, and fine engravings, which are really very fine, and as these are produced at much less cost than by any other process, there will soon be a great demand for this description of work. Specimens can be seen at this office.

The Railway Meeting.

The meeting in Ontario Hall last night was largely attended. Between three and four hundred persons were present, among whom were some of our largest property holders and wealthiest men.

The Mayor, P. D. CONGER, Esq., called the meeting to order and briefly stated the object. The Railway could not be built without a great deal of talk and fuss and agitation, and it might be as well to commence the agitation now. This was an age of Railways; it was a year of Railways, and indeed it might be called a month of Railways, for during this month the sod of no less than three Railways has been turned. If prompt action were taken the Madoc Railway would be the fourth.

On motion, THOS. WILLS, Esq., was chosen Secretary. A number of gentlemen were invited to seats on the platform among whom were HENRY CORBY, Esq., M. P. P., JAS. BROWN, Esq., M. P., M. BOWELL, Esq., M. P., THOS. KELSO, Esq., GEO. NEILSON, Esq., A. DIAMOND, Esq., and W. W. DEAN, Esq.

GEO. NEILSON, Esq., in order to bring the question fairly before the meeting submitted the following resolution, seconded by A. DIAMOND, Esq.

"That it is of the most vital importance to the prosperity of Belleville, that every possible means of inter-communication with the rear Townships should be opened up that will tend to the development of the products of those Townships, whether of agriculture, the mine, or the forest, and that the most effective means of developing these sources of wealth would be the construction of a cheap Railway to some central point in those Townships."

HENRY CORBY Esq., M. P. P., said in the present state of affairs he did not see what action this meeting could take. Let us first see what course Madoc is going to take. He was in favor of a Railway but as the time had elapsed for giving notice to the Legislature for a Charter, there was no use in hurrying it. It has been said that Kingston was desirous of taking stock in this contemplated road; he did not believe they were in earnest. Belleville is so situated that she is the natural outlet for a Railway from the back country, and in his opinion there was no likelihood of the road being built to Kingston. It was also said that Cobourg was trying to obtain it. There were a great many obstacles to Cobourg being the outlet for the road, not the least of which was the expense and trouble of transhipment. We had nothing to fear from Cobourg. He advocated being cautious, at the same time he would favor the appointment of a deputation to attend the meeting at Madoc, and have the matter talked over.

GEO. NEILSON, Esq., said it was of the highest importance that some action be taken by this meeting to-night. Kingston would send a strong delegation to the Madoc meeting, and he believed the people there were in earnest. If a road was built to Kingston it would go through the rear portions of the townships, cut off the trade from the front and take it into Kingston. Madoc, he was confident, was also in earnest, and if the people of that Township did not find any sympathy in Belleville, they would obtain it in Kingston.

A. DIAMOND, Esq., had not fully made up his mind with regard to the manner of constructing this Railway, and he was not consequently committed to any particular scheme. But he was in favor of a Railway, and he presumed every property-holder in the Town was disposed to favor the construction of some kind of a Railway to the back country. With regard to the proposed meeting he saw no difficulty in sending delegates. These delegates cannot tax us without our consent, and they could take no action which would commit the Town to a large expenditure without a vote by the people. No doubt they would all be glad to have the road built if it did not cost anything. The question to consider was whether the cost of the road would be greater than the benefits to be derived from its construction. His own opinion was that the advantages would be greater, and would far counterbalance the expense. A Railway contractor of experience, character and ability, desired the speaker to state that he was prepared to construct a Narrow Guage Iron Railway from here to Madoc or beyond, via the valley of the River Moira, for $6,000 per mile. This was to include all expenses, engineering, right of way, construction, material, rolling stock, station houses, &c., complete. He was also, after the road was built, prepared to lease the same for a term of years at 4 per cent on the whole cost of construction. The speaker then went on to show the cost of the road to Kingston, and that to Belleville. The former, though only 25 miles further, would cost $550,000, while the latter could be built for $300,000. It might be well to consider the financial position of those places which were bidding for this road. The liabilities of Kingston were $360,443; the assessed value of real estate and personal property was $4,965,150, for every $13 50 Kingston owed $1.00. The liabilities of Belleville were $53,323; assessed value $2,475,066, for every $46.59 Belleville owed $1.00. The liabilities of Cobourg were $220,315; assessed value $1,315,483; and for every $5.75 Cobourg owed $1.00. Port Hope was $700,000 worse than nothing. The people, if they want this Railway, must show their earnestness by taking stock in the Road. He was opposed to Municipalities paying bonuses, but was in favor of taking stock, because if bonuses were given, those who had given them would have no voice in the management of the road, but if they took stock, though it might never pay a dividend, it would give the municipalities so interested a voice in the management of the road, and they would exert themselves to secure its prosperity, and he believed from the proposition made by the railway contractor, to whom he referred, that there would be but little difficulty in getting the stock subscribed. The above figures the speaker said, were obtained from the Municipal returns of 1866. He also desired to say in order to show that Kingston could not compete with Belleville in the construction of the road, that it the latter would subscribe $50,000, Kingston would be obliged to raise $300,000 to be even with us, because the road to Kingston would cost $250,000 more than it would to Belleville.

JACOB CRONK, Esq., said the last speaker had shown that Cobourg and Port Hope became bankrupt by railways, and if we go into it we will be bankrupt also. He had no objection to individuals subscribing for stock, but he had objection to be taxed for the Railway. We had gone to great expense to build macadamised roads, and now we wanted to build a road to shut them up. If you leave the road to be built by private stock it will never be built, for those who had money generally have wit, and there is no danger of them fooling it away.

W. W. DEAN, Esq., referred to the former efforts to secure a Railway, and reminded those who advocated going to Marmora to tap the Iron Mountain there, that that was private property, and we could not touch it. Besides the parties who owned it believed they had good value. Whatever might be said about the difficulties of transhipment, he would state to the meeting a fact that by the 20 miles of communication on the shipping rate was less, including the transhipment, than it was by the 20 miles of Railway, besides the wear and tear was a great deal less.—There was in fact every facility for getting out to the shipping port with the ore, and there was no use in talking about tapping the Marmora Iron. As to Kingston, it must be remembered that in one of the rear Townships, Hinchinbrook, which is on a line with Madoc and Elzevir, a number of capitalists of that city are largely interested in a valuable lead mine, and they want additional facilities to get this ore to the front. The proposed road would touch that lead mine which would be an additional inducement for the capitalists to desire and invest in the road. The people must not forget this fact also, that by the present wagon road, it costs the Madoc farmers 12c a bushel to bring his grain to Belleville. With a railway to Kingston, grain could be shipped for 2c, thus saving 10c for every bushel. Madoc is able and willing to give a bonus of $10,000, and he believed the people there were in earnest, and he believed the people of Kingston were terribly in earnest. We would be very foolish if we want the trade of those back Townships not to make an effort to build this Railway.

C. V. BOGART, Esq., was opposed to a Railway. If we wanted to keep Belleville what it is, don't build the Railway. Look at those places which have built Railways; they are all bankrupt. He would not give the oil to grease the car wheels with for all the benefit the road would be to Belleville. The teams that come here now would all be gone, and we would not see the grain that comes in; it would be immediately put on board the cars or boat. He would not have a Railway even if the Government would build it, for it would prove our ruin.

GEO. NEILSON, Esq. was surprised to hear men like Mr. Bogart and Mr. Cronk advocate a stand-still policy. The idea of Railways not being an advantage to a community was absurd. He lived in a progressive policy, such as was pursued on the South side of the line. We would never progress if we sat down with our hands by our side. We should be a progressive community, and it would be perfect madness to sit down and allow Kingston to carry away the trade which should come to Belleville.

The motion was then put and carried with but two or three dissentients.

The following deputation was then appointed:—

Geo. Neilson, Esq., Henry Corby, Esq., M. P. P., Jas. Brown, Esq., M. P., M. Bowell, Esq., M. P., Hon. B. Flint, P. D. Conger, Esq., Francis McAnnany, Esq., Thos. Holden, Esq., and Alex. Roberts, Esq.

M. BOWELL, Esq., M. P., said when it comes to the question of retaining the trade of the back Townships to Belleville, he considered it a question of very vital importance, and if the people of Belleville are so blind to their own interests as to advocate a stand still policy, if they will not take some steps by which to secure a continuance of the trade of the north, for his part he would advocate an outlet by some means, so that the farmers of the back country can get to market. He had no objection to act with the deputation, and he was decidedly in favor of taking some practical steps towards building a railway to open up and develop the resources of the back country; unless something is done and that at once, he believed the trade of that country would be taken to Kingston. He repeated if the Town was determined not to do something, he would consider it his duty to do all he could to give the farmers of that country the advantages of an outlet to the front by means of a Railway to some point.

THOS. HOLDEN, Esq., said suppose the Kingston deputation were prepared to offer $50,000, what position would the Belleville deputation be in?

MR. BOWELL said the question of Mr. Holden was a pertinent one. The Belleville deputation had received no instructions. It would be out of this meeting gave some authority to the deputation. What shall we say to the people of Madoc? The people there were alive to this matter, and it would not do to pooh-pooh the idea of a Railway. What is the position of the Belleville delegation? What is Belleville prepared to do?

MR. DIAMOND said the position of the delegates so far as he understood it, was precisely the position of the Kingston delegates. They could not do more than we can. If we or they should offer $50,000 or $100,000, the people must ratify it.

THOS. HOLDEN Esq., said the mere appointment of delegates was of importance, but he considered it also important to know what power this meeting gives to the delegation. From what he had heard, and from what he had seen in the papers, the Kingston delegation would be prepared to say how much stock they would take in the Railway. If Kingston shows a stock book with $50,000 of stock subscribed, Madoc would very properly say to us, show us a definite line of action. Will Madoc take the statement which we might make, that we were prepared to outbid Kingston? It was a matter of considerable importance, and for his part, if he went there as a delegate he would like to be authorised to make some tangible offer.

MR. DIAMOND said the delegation was simply appointed to watch the interests of Belleville, and he did not believe the Kingston delegation would be in any other position.—It was simply a bluff game on the part of Kingston, and there was no likelihood of the road ever going going there. The delegates go out and discuss the question, see what Madoc and the other Townships are prepared to do, and then report to another public meeting when some definite action can be taken.

The meeting then broke up about ten o'clock.

Professor Bell's Lecture.

MR. JAMES THOMPSON BELL, Professor of Agricultural, Chemistry and Mineralogy, in Albert College, delivered the first of a series of Lectures proposed to be delivered by the Professors of that Institution during the coming winter, in Ontario Hall, on Friday evening, last, subject, "Agriculture and Mining." His Worship the Mayor in the Chair, who, in introducing the Lecturer, called attention to the importance of the subject upon which he was to treat, and regretted that the audience was not larger, but when it was considered that peoples' attention had been so completely absorbed during the whole week in connection with the Sunday School Convention, it could hardly be expected that there would be a large audience. Mr. Bell then came forward and delivered an eloquent and highly instructive lecture, taking over an hour to deliver, in which he pointed out numerous facts which it would be beneficial for all to know. We cannot at present give the whole Lecture, and must, therefore, content ourselves with a report of the introductory remarks, showing as they do the reasons which suggested this course of Lectures, and the purposes to which the proceeds are to be applied. He commenced with:—

"Now, what I want is facts. Teach these boys and girls nothing but facts. Facts alone are wanted in life. Plant nothing else, and root out everything else. You can only form the minds of reasoning animals upon facts; nothing else will ever be of any service to them. In this life we want nothing but facts, sir, nothing but facts.'

"This is the dictum," continued the lecturer, "Charles Dickens puts into the mouth of Mr. Thomas Gradgrind, one of the principal characters in his affecting tale of 'Hard Times.' In this, however, Mr. Thomas Gradgrind and the school of philosophers of which he stands the type, are wrong. Facts are, no doubt, the basis of all human knowledge, and the correct application of facts constitutes what we call 'truth.' But a mere acquaintance with any number of isolated and barren facts is of no practical value whatever. To make facts truly valuable, they must be classed and grouped into sequences, their connection with and relation to each other ascertained, and such deductions made from them as their nature and order may warrant. The application of this process constitutes the philosopher, and its recorded result is 'Science.' It is the intention of the individuals who propose, God willing, to deliver the series of lectures to which the present is the introduction, to present to their audiences some of the most interesting facts relating to the subjects on which they treat respectively, with such deductions and comments as the researches of others have established, or their own investigations have discovered, and I trust that these lectures may be found as interesting as the lighter and more ephemeral entertainments which are offered to the public, while they are satisfied that they will be more profitable. The design of those lectures originated in this wise. I had for some time observed with regret the want of sympathy which existed between the Town and the College, and when the County Council of Hastings did me the honor to nominate me to fill the chair of Mines and Agriculture, which with a wise liberality they endowed, I began to consider seriously whether some means might be adopted by which the Town and the College might be brought more into contact, so that by a more intimate knowledge a better understanding might arise between them. As the College possesses a considerable amount of knowledge, of which it might benefit the Town to partake, and as the Town possesses a considerable amount of money, a portion of which would much increase the power of the College for good; it occurred to me that such a series of lectures as the one proposed might be a good way of bringing the two together. On communicating the idea to the gentlemen whom I am proud to call my colleagues, they entirely approved and heartily entered into the project. We hope that the inhabitants of the town will attend in their numbers, that they will appreciate the intention, and kindly condone any defects they may observe in the execution. The proceeds will be devoted to purchasing such chemical and philosophical apparatus, and we trust that the success of this season's experiment may be such as to enable us to come before you on some future occasion, prepared to give a course of chemical and philosophical lectures, illustrated and exemplified by a series of striking and interesting experiments, for which our present means are wholly inadequate."

He then proceeded to deal with the subject of the Lecture, which he handled in a most masterly manner. We regret exceedingly there were not more persons present to profit by it. We understand Mr. Bell intends to deliver the same lecture in different parts of the County during the coming winter when we bespeak for him large and attentive audiences.

Fenianism.

The Fenian leaders in this city are very busy at present, and open and secret meetings of the different circles are being held every night. Rusty guns, moreover, are being burnished, and brasses lightened of the verdigris that has dimmed their luster for years. The Legion of St. Patrick, an armed organization, pledged to do it necessary for Ireland's freedom, is getting to be a really formidable military body. Its semi-weekly and weekly parades and drills are held quietly and unobstrusively, and its members are far from counting the notoriety destructive to their former attempts. That an early and decided movement is on the tapis cannot be doubted, though the particular direction in which it will be made has not been ascertained, on account of the darkness in which the leaders shroud their counsels.—N. Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and sizable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the irrepressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Arabian Bitters.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite. THE CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE remarks.—"The singular success which Mr. Epps attained by his homœopathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." COTTON FACTORIES.

The proprietor of a Cotton Factory near Stockholm, Sweden, has purchased a large tract of land in South East Missouri, where he intends establishing colonies of his countrymen and to build factories, &c.

A beautiful young lady was kissing and caressing her lap-dog: 'Ah, Maria, 'exclaimed her foppish admirer, 'why not grant me the favor you are wasting on Fido?' 'I don't kiss every puppy,' replied the pouting fair one.

VICTORIA GOLD.—Since the discovery of gold in Victoria there have been shipped thence, up to December 31st, 1868, the total of $6,835,691 ounces of the precious metal, valued at 147,842,767£, or about $700,000,000 in coin. These are large figures, and the value given seems to be more per ounce than the ordinary yield of gold in this form, but they are taken from a trustworthy source as the transcript of the official record.

SMART WORK.—During the recent cruise of H. M. S. Blanche, when under full steam at full speed, the sudden alarm of "a man overboard," called every one to their stations. A boy had fallen from the rigging. The life-buoy was promptly let go, engines stopped and reversed, lifeboat lowered, the first lieutenant, boatswain, and the boy picked up, boat hoisted up, and the ship going at full speed again in 19 minutes and 5 seconds. This we may call smart work. Lieutenant Markham and the boatswain had both jumped overboard to save the youngster,

TOO MUCH TURKEY.—Friend 'Jerry' is a good-natured, civil fellow, who attends to his business and provides well for his family, but he has got one little failing in this, that when he goes to his house in the suburbs at night he is usually more or less under the influence of contraband fluid. One night a little after dark, he started for home with a nice turkey, safely done up in a strong wrapping paper under his arm. 'Jerry' found the road from the station to his pretty village, some half mile distant, uncommonly rough that night. He several times stumbled and fell over all sorts of obstructions in the path. Each time he fell he dropped his turkey, but contrived to pick it up again. On entering his house he steadied himself as well as he was able and said to his wife, 'Here, wifey, I've got leven turkies for you.' 'Eleven turkeys, Jerry! what do you mean? there's only one.' 'There must be leven turkies, wifey, for I fell down 'leven times, and every time I found a turkey. There must be 'leven turkies.'

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying several old nos to purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, its effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and in fact I soon attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

Lorenzo Dow's Stratagem.

It is said that one time, when Lorenzo Dow preached under a spruce pine in South Caroline, he announced another appointment for preaching in the same place on that day, twelve months. The year passed and as Lorenzo was entering the neighborhood the evening preceding his appointment, he overtook a colored man blowing a tin horn, and could send forth a blast with rise and swell and cadence, which waked the echoes of the distant hills.

Calling aside the blower, Dow said to him, 'What is your name?'

'My name? Gabriel, sah!' replied the brother in ebony.

'Well Gabriel, have you been to Church Hill?'

'Yes, massa; I'se been dare many a time.

'Do you remember a big spruce pine tree on that hill?'

'Oh, yes, marsa, I knows dat pine.'

Did you know that Lorenzo Dow had an appointment to preach under that tree to-morrow?'

'Oh, yes, massa, everybody know dat.'

'Well, Gabriel, I am Lorenzo Dow; and if you'll take your horn and go to-morrow morning and climb up into that pine tree and hide among the branches before the people begin to assemble, and wait there till I call your name, and then blow such a blast with your horn as I heard you blow a minute ago, I'll give you a dollar. Will you do it Gabriel?'

'Yes, massa, I takes dat dollar.'

Gabriel, like Zaccheus, was hid away in the tree top, in good time. An immense concourse of people, of all sizes and colors, assembled at the appointed hour, and Dow preached on the judgment of the last day. By his power of description he wrought the multitude up to the opening of the scenes of the resurrection and grand assize at the call of the trumpet angel. Such were to awake the nations. 'Then,' said he, 'suppose, my dear friends, that this should be the hour! Suppose you should hear, this moment, the sound of Gabriel's trumpet!' Sure enough, at that moment the trumpet of Gabriel sounded. The women shrieked and many fainted; the men sprang up and stood aghast; some ran; others fell, and called for mercy; and all felt, for a time, that the judgment was set, and the books were opened! Dow stood and watched the driving storm till the fright subsided, and some of those discovered the colored angel who had caused the alarm, quietly perched on a limb of the old spruce, and wanted to get him down and whip him, and then resumed his theme, saying, 'I forbid all persons touching that boy up there. If a colored boy, with a tin horn, can frighten you almost out of your wits, what will ye do when ye shall hear the trumpet thunder of the archangel? How will ye be able to stand in the great day of the wrath of God! He made a very effective application.

Hands and Feet.

I went into a shop the other day to buy what the drapers call 'gent's hose'. A smiling young lady was behind the counter, and when I made an appeal to her to show me some socks, I was somewhat doubtful what course of action I ought to pursue in order to demonstrate to her the length of my foot. As I am not a burlesque writer, it was clear that I could not lay my boot on the counter and say 'with all my sole;' nor could I paraphrase Dibdin's Jack Tar, when he spoke of the dancer who 'so daintily handled her feet' The little woman, however speedily removed my first perplexity, though only to plunge me into another.

'Will you please to double up your fist and lay it on the counter?'

I replied that I did not want gloves but socks.

'And I want to take your measure,' she replied.

'But,' I urged, 'it is the measure of my foot that you require.'

'Yes,' she replied, 'and I can get it equally as well from your hand. Once round your clenched fist at the knuckles is the length of your foot.'

And she took the measure of my fist, and I took the socks on the faith of the above representation; and, in due course, I found that it was quite right and fitted me to a nicety. —Curiosities of Shopping.

HAPPY MAN.—Among the advertisements in a London paper, for lodgers, we find one which says that a single gentleman may have "partial board in a house kept by a lady and her daughter. "Buses and boats convenient." We only wish we were a single gentleman.

SYDNEY DOBSON.—Mrs. Malsprop, who has read that the bishops attending the Pope's great council at Rome are to receive an allowance, "varying between 6s. 8d. and 10s. a day," says that she now understands why it is called the "Economical" Council. She is thankful to think (Mrs. M. is an exemplary member of the Established Church), that our bishops are better paid.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by its employment. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations of dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

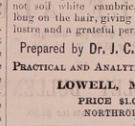

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally and confidently adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it does; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cases are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice, Sour Stomach, Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. Those who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

How much longer should our system interfere to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs of grains and fruits, and already fully prepared as tea and coffee?

Dr. Thomson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have on our possession numerous testimonials to the unfailing benefits of several hundreds daily received from use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicine, viz:

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tender foot, ulcers, fever sores, or rough-ness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; is a sure cure for piles, and promotes a healthy state of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For convenience it has no equal; it is a mild but safe invigorant and corrective for delicate persons, a good alterative tonic or culinary luxury purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frantic has been reduced by sickness, an excellent as well as agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debilitated conditions from young to old; an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds,such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the limbs at times, nausea, rheumatism, neuralgia, &c., and may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which PAIN KILLER or Relief are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, tender feet, and no obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a liniment. Sold at 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for about the original price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, has been earned from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers as to defy question of the cures and that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or name.

Scrofula is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the body lies dormant for years in the constitution, and invites the attack of infecting or fatal diseases, without suspecting the treachery of its previous ally. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or ulcerations formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on any part of the body. Having the consciousness of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is an antidote, a positive safeguard against all of these diseases. Personsafflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, in time, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or similar forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more connected forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Tits, Neuralgia, Scrofulous and the various Uterous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilitic or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases have found in this compound a sure antidote, rapidly eradicating Rheumatism and Gout, when these complaints arise from a humor in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaint and its various forms of Biliousness, Jaundice, when arising from Bile or Gall Stones, and other derangements of the liver.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine has any remedy been so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for coughs, colds, and lung complaints. For a series of years, and among most of the races of men it has been in constant use, it has not only maintained, as it has become better known, its uniform character of excellence in the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. When a neglected or milder forms of disease add to young children, it is needful to observe the most efficient means that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous symptoms of croup yield to it. When nature, in her vision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every house, as the fearful symptoms sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the seeds of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable specific against them. When a neglected or milder forms of disease add to young children, it is needful to observe the most efficient means that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous symptoms of croup yield to it. When nature, in her vision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every house, as the fearful symptoms sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from its use.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish them here, or to inform those who have used them, that assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Mercury, Zinc, nor any mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is in no sense injurious to the patient. The number of cases in which it has cured the most inveterate forms of disease, after the failure of all other remedies, is literally beyond account, and we believe there is scarcely a hamlet in the history of Ague-stricken districts, where it has not made some wonderful cures. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgements we receive of the cures effected in our own and adjoining cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Unacclimated persons, either residents in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore E. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry, in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS celebrated Preparation—which has received a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1868, to which it was entered by the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Druggists of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

Indian Summer.

Just after the death of the flowers,
And before they are buried in snow,
There comes a festival season,
When nature is all aglow;
Aglow with a mystical splendour
That rivals the brightness of Spring;
Aglow with a beauty more tender
Than aught which fair Summer could bring.

Some spirit akin to the rainbow,
That borrows its magical dyes,
And mantles the far spreading landscape
In hues that bewilder the eyes.
The Sun from his cloud-pillowed chamber
Smiles soft on a vision so gay,
And dreams that his favorite children,
The flowers, have not yet passed away.

There's a luminous mist on the mountains,
A light, azure haze in the air,
As if angels, while heavenward soaring,
Had left their bright robes floating there.
The breeze seems so soft, so caressing,
It seems a bright token of love,
And floats to the heart like a blessing,
From some happy spirit above.

These days, so serene and so charming,
Awaken a dreamy delight,
A tremulous, tearful enjoyment,
Like soft strains of music at night;
We know they're fading and fleeting,
That quickly, too quickly, they'll end,
And we watch them with a yearning affection,
As at parting we watch a dear friend.

Oh! beautiful Indian Summer!
Thou favorite child of the year,
Thou darling, whom nature enriches
With gifts and adornments so dear!
How fain would we woo thee to linger
On meadow and mountain awhile,
For our hearts, like the sweet haunts of Nature,
Rejoice and grow young in thy smile.

Not alone to the sad fields of Autumn
Dost thou a lost brightness restore,
But thou bringest a world-weary spirit
Sweet dreams of its childhood once more;
Thy loveliness fills us with memories
Of all that was brightest and best;
Thy peace and serenity offer
A foretaste of heavenly rest.

The Fenian Gathering in London.

A London contemporary gives the following description of the Trafalgar square amnesty meeting, presided over by Mr. G H. Moore, M. P., of which we have already published an account.—

It being understood that a procession would come upon the spot at seven o'clock, a large crowd gathered on the broad flagged space between the two basins, and close to that side of the Nelson column which faces the National Gallery, where they patiently awaited the advent of the speakers and the opening of the debate.—The base of the monument was the chosen platform, and it was lighted in front by four flaring streams of gas, fed by the portable apparatus in general use by the proprietors of street barrows. The lions, too, those vexed questions of Sir Edwin Landseer's capability as a sculptor, were sat upon by juries of street lads, who had every reason to agree with those critics by whom the animals were pronounced to be "tame." The crowd might fairly be estimated to number three thousand, but certainly not more. Throughout the proceedings, a row of curious passers by leant upon the stone parapet or balustrade of the raised footway, in a line with Pall Mall.—It was apparent from the demeanour of these outsiders, and of many who hung on the outskirts of the crowd below, that any deep and earnest feeling of interest that might have drawn the meeting together was confined within certain limits, which did not reach beyond certain convenient earshot of the orators: and even inside this range some dissentient voices were occasionally heard.

Several uncomplimentary comments on the utterances of the principal speakers—such as 'Bosh!' 'Rubbish!' 'Clerkenwell!' 'Go home!' and other less publishable words and phrases, which, being coarse, are generally assumed by vague philologists to the 'Saxon,' were allowed to pass without the reapplication of a broken head or the rejoinder of a black eye. The chairman of the evening, Mr. Moore, M. P., opened the business before the expected procession came upon the scene. He was in the full tide of his fervid oratory, and was laying epithets pretty thick upon his opponents in the public prints, while the demonstrative bodies of Fenian sympathisers who had joined together were marching along the Strand, with three brass bands, and with all manner of revolutionary signs and tokens. An advanced guard—self constituted, it may be presumed—of London gamins, to the number of at least a couple of hundred, came marching first, and these, "little vulgar boys" supplemented the leading band by singing in chorus. Their shrill voices told with excellent effect in the popular music hall ditty, 'And the bell's go a ringing for Sal rah,' which was the tune played between Somerset house and the Charing cross station.—Here, however, a sudden change from 'Sal rah, Sal rah,' to the more memorable and significant 'Marseillaise' puzzled the juvenile choristers, and threw them out of time and tune. That stirring beautiful melody lost nothing of its intended effect for want of the visible association, the Red Republican flag and cap of liberty. This word, and its fellows in the language of revolution—Equality and Fraternity—adorned the first of the red flags, on the high staff of which was stuck the "bonnet rouge;" and after it was borne a green drapery, tinselled with Irish emblems.

The second band, which followed the green flag, seemed also to be Irish; at all events, it was quite at home with the national melodies, playing them with spirit and not without skill. As we have said, there were three musical bands; and, as they all played different tunes at the same time, it may be judged that the procession was of some length, to afford such distance as was needed to make each tune distinguishable. There were many repetitions of the red and the green flags; and a pair of rather dingy actors carried faces which were so close an accidental resemblance to the machines in modern use for sweeping chimneys, that a few mistakes among the spectators might have been pardoned. The rear of the procession was brought up by a banner, bearing the inscription: "Put your trust in God, but"—the But was of emphatic size—"keep your powder dry." When the procession entered Trafalgar square it was received with great cheering, and loud cries of "Ireland forever." The chairman stopped in his address while the flags were being ranged in front of the Nelson column, and while the new comers who were to take part in the speech-making found convenient places.

Saving Money with Sewing Machines.

(From Country Homes, and How to Make Money.)

My advice is to every young lady who has only a dollar in money, to expend fifty cents for a Bible and the remainder towards a good Sewing Machine. Young men and young ladies, who are just sipping the sweets of connubial felicity, before you get a bedstead, purchase a Sewing Machine. If you can't have both, sleep on the floor until you can earn enough with your Sewing Machine to pay for a bedstead. Saw off a half dozen pieces of maple boards for dinner plates, rather than purchase a set of china before you have money enough to purchase a Sewing Machine. Saw off a lot of small logs for seats, rather than purchase chairs before you are able to get a Sewing Machine. Do not entertain the thought for a moment of getting a carpet, a dinner table, or a looking-glass, until you have secured a good Sewing Machine. I will not stop to enumerate the ways in which both husband and wife can save money by getting a Sewing Machine; but beware of those which make a stitch that will unravel faster than a machine can sew it. We were once swindled amazingly in a Sewing Machine which made a chain stitch. If a man, in climbing over a fence, happened to break a thread on a sliver, he is in danger of losing his pants; and if a lady chanced to break a thread in the skirt of her dress, she must seize every breadth, or the wind might blow it away. I have seen those—and they are numerous—which make such an unsatisfactory stitch, that I would not accept a score of them as a gift.

I know a young dressmaker who persuaded a neighbor to lend her money enough to purchase a Sewing Machine. She found all the dressmaking she could attend to, at double her usual price per day, and in a few months the Machine was hers, and she began to save money.

Your wife may not be able to do much housework, but she can run a Sewing Machine with great ease. Employ a stout woman in the kitchen and let your wife do sewing. In a few months she will save enough to pay the domestic for her services, and pay for the Sewing Machine also. If your wife has a good Sewing Machine she can make all your pants, coats and vests, and thus save enough in clothes to pay for the Machine in a few months.—People who hire a Sewing Machine soon find out enough to purchase one. An active girl and a Sewing Machine will save enough in one day to pay a woman for a week's labour in the kitchen.

I have in mind a farmer who has no taste for reading, who despises loafers, sitters and smokers, but who runs his wife's Sewing Machine after his labors in the fields are closed. Any man or woman, with ordinary gumption, can cut a pattern of a vest, pants or coat, after a garment has been cut out, can cut out other garments by the patterns, and make them in the most satisfactory manner, if he or she has learned to run a good Sewing Machine, and thus save money to buy a home before old age comes on.

—A negro who outraged a young lady at Fort Washington, about sixteen miles from Washington city, was seized by a gang of men dressed only in their shirts and drawers, and having masks on their faces, and hanged to an oak tree on Tuesday. The noose in the rope slipped and the negro's feet barely touched the ground, whereupon one of the maskers jumped on his shoulders and the rest pushed the body to and fro. On withdrawing the whole party fired a volley into the body.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 20.

Latest from Goderich.

By Special Telegraph to the Intelligencer.

GODERICH, Oct. 20.

There is no excitement here. The gun boat Prince Alfred is quietly taking in coal and will be ready to proceed on a cruise to-night. The first port she will call at is Sarnia.

The Toronto field battery and Goderich battery are on board. The men are in good spirits and quite comfortable.

RECOVERED.—The many friends of Mr. R P. JELLEY, who had his leg amputated a few weeks ago, will be glad to learn that he has so far recovered as to be able to attend to business.

SNOW.—A heavy snow storm prevailed yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of the Oak Hills. A person who came in last evening, said the snow fell to the depth of an inch and a half.

AUCTION SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY.—The attention of the reader is directed to the postponed sale of valuable building lots on Taylor's Hill, which takes place to-morrow afternoon, at three o'clock, at Neilson's Hall. This will be a fine opportunity for those who want to purchase a building lot cheap.

SUICIDE.—We regret to learn that Mrs. Morton, wife of Mr. Alexander Morton, of Huntingdon, committed suicide yesterday by hanging herself. She had been slightly deranged for some time past, but had not manifested, so far as we can learn, any disposition to destroy herself. She had been out of the house about half an hour when missed; her husband went in search and found her hanging by a halter round her neck in the granary. She had been dead some minutes. Mrs. Morton was about thirty-five years of age, and leaves an infant child.

Literary Charlatans.

There are charlatans in every vocation and sphere of life, but of all despicable creatures in the civilized or uncivilized world, so far as known, the literary charlatan exceeds them all. He pawns upon the reading community sentiments with an air of sanctity and honesty, which are dictated by political hatred and venom. Truth, when falsehood will answer his purpose better, is never regarded. The vilest falsehoods are promulgated with as little compunction of conscience as the food which sustains life is taken into the body. Prevarication, deception and misrepresentation, are the characteristics of these pests of Society, who imperceptibly creep into the confidence of the less discerning portion of the people, and then endeavor by means which would disgrace the penny-a-liner who grovels in the slums of Society, to gather food for the vitiated tastes of his readers to write away the characters of their neighbors. Were we to compare such scavengers of the profession to those who are under the direction of the editor in chief of the Toronto Globe, an injustice would be done them. The former are known—they make no pretensions to respectability, and therefore deceive no one, but the latter put on the habiliments of sanctity, and then revel in the slough of deception and falsehood; mount the top of a hackney coach where not known, in a beastly state of intoxication, and amuse themselves by shooting peas through a tin tube at the apple women along the road, and then return to their homes and write homilies upon the intemperate habits of public men who do not agree with them in politics; publish day after day statements which had been dented by those in authority, with an additional asservation that they are correct. Such is the character of, and such the depths of degradation to which a paper called the Toronto Globe is prostituted. Fortunately the true character of that journal has long been known; hence its poison is innocuous. No person or journal who will not fall at the feet of this controller of a public journal, is safe from its arrows which are sent flying about the country every morning. It is well known that THE INTELLIGENCER has never bowed the knee to this empiric of the political arena of Canada, hence the attention which it has received of late from the literary charlatan who controls the Globe. "It would "be interesting to know what the gentle- "men who edit the Hamilton Spectator and "the Belleville Intelligencer conceive to be "the duty of an honest journalist, or wheth- "er they imagine such a one to have no "duty at all except to accord obedience to "the leader of the party they support," says the Globe in its issue of the 19th. If these editors followed in the wake of, and acted upon the principles laid down by the Hon. George Brown, they could know no higher principle or duty than to follow without question the dicta of the leader of the party they support, for this same gentleman in a speech to the electors of Haldimand "in 1851, said:

"Gentlemen, the one great charge brought against me in this election contest is, that I 'go through thick and thin' for the present ministry—that 'I defend them on all occasions,' and am their 'obedient tool.' I think that this very cry should be my passport to the confidence of every true Reformer."

But having some conception of the duty of an honest journalist they refuse to follow such a course, having regard to principle rather than men, hence the reason for the venom of such politicians as control that journal.

What was the head and front of our offending at the present moment, to call down the ire of the Globe upon our head? Simply that we expressed a hope that Sir Francis Hincks "had during his residence "abroad, learned the virtue of 'personal "sacrifice' for the public good," and that he had "reformed." This is declared a glide "from a lofty virtue to the level of some other Conservative papers." The very expression of a hope that a man to whom the Globe is opposed should reform, is gall and wormwood to the editor and chief of the Globe. Rather than lose an opportunity of attack upon an opponent, and the prospect of a return to power, the Globe's editor would revel in the hope that moral or political degradation might be the lot of his political antagonists. The fear that such might not possibly be the case with his present object of attack, and a hope on the part of another that he had reformed, was quite sufficient to put this model literary charlatan in a frenzy, and consequently a column of abuse of the INTELLIGENCER for daring to utter such a wish, which is twisted into a retraction of our opposition to the selection of Sir Francis Hincks for the office of Finance Minister of Canada. It was not enough for the Globe, that we should on the 14th inst., when commenting upon the Renfrew election, have said: "It is to be hoped he will "be defeated at the hustings, so that there "will be no necessity for pitching him over- "board when he meets the Commons." And again on the 15th, when giving a synopsis of Sir Francis Hincks' address to the electors, to remark that "the profession of "'personal sacrifices' by the new Finance "Minister, sounded strangely in the ears of "those who know the man and had not for- "gotten his antecedents;" and that we were "not willing to accept mere professions" of such a virtue, but should wait "with patience" to see an evidence of it. This was not sufficiently strong to be appreciated by such a paper as the Globe, and therefore with the air of a paragon of political honesty, wants to know if the editor of THE INTELLIGENCER knows what the duty of an "honest journalist" is. Were we to look for an example, we certainly should never look to the Globe for it, for there is not a question of any moment that has agitated the public mind, that that journal has not at some period of its existence been on both sides; nor is there a public man in the Province of any note, that it has not besmeared with praise, and condemned as the vilest of the vile, as it suited the purposes or whims of the editor, nor does it wait even a respectable time to turn turk upon itself. It is but a few weeks since its columns were filled day after day with arguments condemning the principle of dual representation, and yet with the same breath, it supported with all its force, the election of Mr. McDougall for South Renfrew, though he already held a seat in the Local House. The Hon. Malcolm Cameron was then condemned in unmeasured terms, but is now patted on the back, and recommended to the electors of North Lanark as a valuable adjunct to the opposition. Truly it is the height of impertinence and presumption for such an editor to prate of "honest journalism." The very word when used by such a man is "enough to sicken a horse." Verily the Globe is sinking lower in its own mire every day.

The Late Convention.

We have much pleasure in publishing the following resolution passed at a meeting of the Local Committee of the Sixth Provincial Sabbath School Convention.

Moved by J. Forin, Esq., seconded by Rev. W. McLaren, and unanimously

Resolved,—That the best thanks of this Committee are due, and are hereby tendered to Mr. Nunan, Agent of the Grand Trunk Railway at this Station, for his unwearied attentions by night and day to the delegates attending the late Convention, for his anxiety to provide abundant accommodation for them and for the numerous others, who did not forgotten attention to individual wants and comforts."

At this meeting the following interesting statistics of the late Convention were read by the Local Secretary:—

School Trustees.

TUESDAY, Oct. 19, 1869.

PRESENT.—F. McAnnany, Chairman; and Messrs. Shepard, Coleman, Tennant, Robertson, Falkiner and Sawyer.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Applications for the office of Teacher of School No. 5, were read from Messrs. John Irwin, J. McIntosh, and G. French.

A letter from Mr. S. G. Beatty, resigning his situation as head teacher of School No. 2, was read.

Application was made from Mr. Samuel Hughes for the position vacated by Mr. Beatty.

A letter was read from Ross, Bell & Holden, asking if any action had been taken with respect to their account presented in July last, or if there was any likelihood of its being done.

Mr. Shepard, Chairman of the Finance Committee, said he had not yet seen the account, although he had asked for it repeatedly. He moved that it be referred to the Finance Committe.—Carried.

A letter from Wm. Anderson, Esq., of Amelisburgh, was read, asking that his daughter be admitted into the Girl's School, and a meeting that he was a property owner and tax-payer in the Town.

After some discussion the application was laid over until the next meeting of the Board.

The following letter from Rev. S. Jones, resigning his situation as Local Superintendent, was read:

To the Chairman of the Board of Common School Trustees, Belleville.

DEAR SIR.—My attention has been drawn in the public prints to a report brought in by a special Committee at the last meeting of the Common School Board. In this report I find language employed respecting myself, which it would seem improper to leave unnoticed.

Passing over, for brevity's sake, various clauses to which grave exception might be taken, I would call your attention to the concluding paragraph, which reads as follows:

"With respect to the last paragraph of the "Local Superintendent's Report, your Committee "regret that the Local Superintendent should "have thought it expedient in his official re- "port, to give his advice and opinion respect- "ing the enlargement of Schools, and the "extension or non-extension of the present "School system, as well as criticising the pro- "ceedings, and condemning the acts of the "Board whose officer he is, as previously in- "timated by your Committee. It will be well "for the Superintendent to confine himself to "what has been considered the duties of his "office, especially in his official Report, as the "Board can at any time avail itself of his "opinion and advice when they consider it "expedient so to do."

It will be here observed that the Committee "regret that the Local Superintendent should have thought it expedient in his official report to give his advice and opinion respecting the enlargement of Schools, and the extension or non-extension of the present School system."

In answer, I would say that this is precisely one of those subjects upon which I should have conceived it to be my duty to offer my "opinion" and "advice" to the Board, even had nothing been specifically laid down upon the point, much more when the very By-law of the Board under which I act, distinctly states that the Local Superintendent is "to examine at each quarterly visit the condition of each School, the character and condition of the buildings, and to offer such advice as he may deem proper, and report the same to the Board."

This is precisely what the Local Superintendent has done and what you have censured him for doing.

But the Local Superintendent is also charged with "criticising the proceedings and condemning the acts of the Board whose officer he is."

The expressions are vague, but I suppose them to allude to the enunciation of my views as to the system of School-house building which has been inaugurated, and to my suggestion of the expediency of some modification of the present system of appointing particular Trustees by the Board to manage each Ward School.

With regard to the scheme of patching and enlarging the present Ward Schools, thereby providing two large and expensive for Ward Schools, and not large enough to reap the advantage in economy and efficiency accruing from proper centralization, I am so deeply impressed from reading, study and experience, with the soundness of the principle, and the ultimate, though perhaps too tardy repentance which it must entail upon the tax payers, that I should consider myself recreant to my duty, did I not lift a warning voice in the prospect of its further extension.

As to the present mode of providing for the wants of each School, I would remark, that the degree to which the Schools have suffered from the lack of some more prompt and central mode of action is notorious to all who are intimately acquainted with their practical working.

The trustees in town having in general the business of all the schools to transact, do not, as a rule, give much time to visiting each separate ward. The consequence is that the efficiency of the school is often impaired by the lack of some one or more requisites. The teacher reports to the trustees and no action is taken. The Local Superintendent asking the cause of the backsliding, is informed by the teacher, and embodies it in his report to the Board.—The Board refers the matter back again to the same special trustees, and so goes on this weary round from month to month, and from quarter to quarter, and is forgotten. Witness the want of seats in schools Nos. 2 and 6, of maps and cards, &c., in various schools, and the startling fact that one division of School No. 2, in Coleman Ward, was the whole of last term (with the exception of the last week) without a teacher.

It is impossible for a Local Superintendent who has any heart in his work not to grieve over such things, and respectfully reported that the present arrangements failed to reach the end aimed at. I did not reflect upon the individual trustees, but simply suggested some modification of the system.

In this again I supposed that I was doing my duty, but for this also, I find that the Local Superintendent is censured.

If the Local Superintendent, whose special office it is to study these matters, discovers practical defects in any existing system, and suggests the means of improvement, it is certainly not fair to characterize this as "criticising the proceedings, and condemning the acts of the Board."

He should of course express himself courteously, and this I am in the habit of endeavoring to do. How far this courtesy is reciprocated in the tone of the report adopted by a majority of the Board, especially in the closing paragraph, I am willing to leave it to the public to determine.

The duties of the Local Superintendent are heavy and oftentimes invidious, and nothing could sustain one in this labor but the prospect of being useful, and the courteous consideration and cordial co-operation of the Board.

Under these circumstances, therefore, I feel it due to myself (although this is a secondary consideration) and due especially to the honorable office of Local Superintendent which I hold, to repudiate such language as has been adopted in this report, as I conceive it to be of the highest importance to the interests of our Common Schools that the Local Superintendent should be no mere echo, that while he is bound so long as he occupies the office, to carry out, as I have striven to do, the regulations of the Board, he is nevertheless, at liberty to form his own opinions as to what will promote the welfare of the Schools, and report the same to the Board; and moreover that he should be protected by the tribunal of enlightened public opinion against official discourtesy and disrespect in the performance of his duty.

I need scarcely add that I shall not wish under present circumstances, to continue to occupy the position of Local Superintendent, although I shall be willing to discharge its duties until my successor is appointed. Hereby tendering you my resignation, I remain,

Your obedient servant,
SEPTIMUS JONES, L. S.

Belleville, Oct. 19th, 1869.

Mr. Falkiner moved, seconded by Mr. Robertson, That a Teacher be appointed for School No. 5.—Carried.

Mr. Falkiner moved, seconded by Mr. Robertson, That Mr. J. McIntosh be appointed Teacher of School No. 5.

Mr. Coleman moved, seconded by Mr. Shepard, That Mr. John Irwin be appointed Teacher of School No. 5.

Mr. Tennant moved that Mr. French be appointed.

The motion to appoint Mr. McIntosh was lost.

The motion to appoint Mr. Irwin was carried.

On motion of Mr. Falkiner, seconded by Mr. Sawyer, the resignation of Mr. S. G. Beatty was accepted.

On motion of Mr. Sawyer, seconded by Mr. Robertson, the Secretary was directed to advertise for a Head Teacher for School No. 2.

Mr. Shepard moved, seconded by Mr. Sawyer, That the resignation of Rev. S. Jones be accepted, and this Board expresses its regret that the Superintendent should have had occasion to leave a position which he has filled with so much credit to himself and honor to the Town.

Mr. Coleman moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Falkiner, that the resignation of Rev. S. Jones be laid over until the next meeting of the Board.

The amendment was carried, and the Board adjourned.

Military Preparations.

No further news has been received of any movement of the Fenians but there are a great many rumors afloat. The Globe says:—"There are two bodies of so called officers of the Fenian brotherhood; one settled at Buffalo and in the neighborhood, and the other in Chicago and the neighborhood. Both have been actively engaged in holding private meetings during the summer, notably since since last July, with the avowed object of organizing a raiding expedition into Canada. Holding meetings has, however, been hitherto about the only practical result springing from those efforts, and O'Neil, "General" of that name has announced over and over again, to his faithful followers and dupes, the immediate irruption of the green coated legions of the fraternity into Canada, and just as often announced the postponement, "from circumstances beyond control," of the forward movement. So it has happened that the oft-threatened invasion of our country, the oft-repeated promise of the Fenian Chief to lead their heroic band on to victory have up to this time, resulted in what first induced them, tail tale. It was felt lately that if a movement was to be made, and the Fenians quieted at all, a fitting time to would be September, but September passed and with the falling leaves fell also the hopes of the party. The raid was promised for October, the second week of October—"And in ten days, h—hoys, Canada will be ours." The United States Government was probably informed of all this, and our Government certainly was; so with October came orders to hold all the Volunteers of the country in readiness for action at a few hours' notice.

As to the cause of this movement, it is merely precautionary. It is said that Gen. O'Neil is now in the neighbourhood of Buffalo, doing his very best to get up a Fenian raid into Canada; but that, hitherto, his efforts have been totally without success.

The Kingston Whig of this morning says "By order from headquarters the gunboat Rescue, which has been lying idle and dismantled at H. M. Dockyard since last summer, has been fitted up, and made ready for active service if need be from yesterday steam was got up, and the Rescue moved over to the St Lawrence Wharf, where she coaled. At present she is manned only by a few experienced lake sailors and officers, but if occasion required, the Government would not have to make a second call for seamen to man her properly. At present all remains like the Volunteers in readiness for "something to turn up."

GODERICH, Oct. 19.

The staunch gunboat "Prince Alfred," now lying at this port, is being fitted for active service with all speed. The orders came from headquarters last evening, and she is now coaled, supplied with provisions, sailing crew, &c. She is manned by 25 men from the Goderich Garrison Battery of Artillery, and the same number from the Toronto Field Battery. The latter with two guns and ammunition, have just arrived. Our boys are delighted with the idea of this naval service. No appearance of Fenians in this section yet, although the vague rumours flying about here, caused considerable excitement.

News Condensed.

—Saratoga has a burglar who, when discovered, 'turns it off' by saying, 'Would yis plase allow me the plisure of lightin' me pipe at yer ga-a-as light?'

—A number of families in the upper part of New York have recently been robbed by a young man who has visited their houses dressed as a plumber, and represented that he had been sent by the owner to make some repairs to the water pipes. He thus obtained access to the apartments, which he ransacked at his leisure, taking away all the light articles he could lay his hands on.

—The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph says: "The food prospects in Georgia were never darker, even during the war, than they are now. If left to her own resources, half the population of Georgia would probably starve before another crop is produced. More than one half the food we shall consume before next fall must come from abroad, and come from a land of scanty crops and scarce supplies. Already forage and corn are so scarce in the West that stock is sacrificed to prevent wintering; and when we come to buy food in those regions and bring it here, we shall suffer in the pockets."

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

A DEMAND FOR MONEY REFUSED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The 'Tribune' says, 'By private advices from Madrid we learn that the Captain General of Cuba lately sent an urgent demand to the Madrid government for $2,000,000, but was informed in reply that the Spanish treasury was empty, and that hereafter he must raise in Cuba itself the money he required for military and political purposes.'

FILLIBUSTERING VESSELS SURRENDERED

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 19.—Commodore Higgins to-day surrendered the 'Cuba' to Lieut. Commander Patterson and himself as a prisoner of war, to the navy of the United States. The Cuban flag was then hauled down by the United States authorities, and the entire crew was sent ashore.

STILL FIGHTING IN VALENCIA.

A special Madrid exhale despatch says that the insurrectionary movement in the city of Valencia was commenced by the revolutionists when the Government troops proceeded to enter the town. After the capitulation the soldiers were received, on marching into the place, with a volley of musketry, and fire being returned, hostilities were renewed. At the latest advices fighting continued with unabated violence.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

Montreal Tea Co: Montreal, April, 1869.—To the Montreal Tea Company 6 Hospital street, Montreal;—We notice with pleasure the large amount of tea forwarded for you to different parts of the Dominion, and we are glad to find your interest so rapidly increasing. We presume your Teas are giving general satisfaction, as out of the large amount forwarded we have had on all occasion to return one box, which, we understand, was sent through a mistake.

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue a customer

October Song.

No clouds are in the morning sky,
The waters hug the shore,
Who says that life and love can die
In all this northern gleam?
At every turn the maples burn,
The quail is whistling free,
The partridge whirs and the frosted burrs
Are dropping for you and me.
Ho! hilly ho! heigh O!
Hilly ho!
In the clear October morning.

Along our path the woods are bold
And glow with ripe desire;
The yellow chestnut showers its gold,
The sumachs spread their fire:
The breezes feel as crisp steel,
The buckwheat tops are red;
Then down the lane, love, scurry again,
And over the stubble tread!
Ho! hilly ho! heigh O!
Hilly ho!
In the clear October morning.

Wit and Humor.

Where is money mentioned in the Bible? Where the dove brought the green Back to Noah.

Artemus Ward said that the man who wrote 'I'm saddest when I sing' was a fool to sing much.

'There now,' exclaimed a little girl, who was rumaging a drawer in the bureau, 'grandpa has gone to heaven without his spectacles.'

'Have you ever broken a horse?' inquired a horse jocky. 'No, not exactly, but I have broken three or four waggons.'

'Do you seek consolation for your sorrows in drink?' asked a pious old lady of an intemperate fellow, who was someting of a wag. 'Yes, in a horn,' was the laconic reply.

A young fellow, very fond of talking said, 'I am no prophet.' 'True, replied a lady present, 'no profit to yourself nor any one else.'

Seeing a cellar nearly finished, a waggish author remarked that it was an excellent foundation for a story.

Why are young ladies at the breaking up of a party like arrows? Because they can't go off without a beau and are in a quiver until they get one.

Blessed are they that are ignorant, for they are happy in thinking they know everything. Blessed are the orphan children, for they have no mother to spank them. Blessed are they that do not advertise, for they are not bothered with customers.

We overheard the other day, a youth of tender years and of the male persuasion, make a proposition to several companions on the street, which struck us as rather ingenious. He said, 'Boys, I'll tell you what let's do; let's go down to our house and play carry in coal. We got a halt a ton this morning.

Bald headed husband—'Just take a magnifying glass, ducky, and see if there's any young hairs a sprouting. I've finished the seventh bottle of restorative, and worn out three hairbrushes rubbing it in.' Wife—'Goodness gracious. Nicodemus, there ain't no more hair on your head than there is on the cover of our old copper teakettle.'

—The Sun, describing a new hotel in the Fifth avenue, New York, says: "The waiters are of ineffable elegance, and of an intellectual cast of countenance. They look like graduates of Harvard. They wear two clean shirts and two white chokers a day, and change their aprons three times an hour. A spot on a bosom or a crease in a tie involves instant dismissal."

'That's a good gun of yours, stranger; but Uncle Dave here has one that beats it.' 'Ah! how far will it kill a kawk with No. 6 shot?' 'I don't use shot or ball either,' answered Uncle Dave for himself. 'Then what do you use, Uncle Dave?' 'I shoot salt altogether. I kill my game so far with my gun, that without salt the game would spile before I could get it.'

'Gentleman of the jury,' said a western lawyer, I, don't mean to insinuate that this man is a covetous person, but I will bet five to one that if you should built a steel trap with a new three cent piece, and place it within six inches of his mouth, you would catch his soul. I would not for a moment intimate that he'll steal, but may it please the court and gentlemen of the jury, I wouldn't trust him in a room with red hot mill-stones, and the angel Gabriel to watch 'em.'

THE RULING PASSION.—Wife—'Now George, do try and see the editor of the ——— Journal, and tell him my dress is a peach-blossom; the last time, he called it mauve. Everybody wears mauve.' Husband—'Yes, love? If you see him before I do, tell him he forgot to mention my new dress coat the last time, and, to make amends, to announce I have on a new pair of drawers to-night—red flannel!'

CRAWLED UP.—Once upon a time, a gentleman found in his henroost, a simple-minded soul who lived without visible means of support.

'What are you doing here, you rascal?' Stealing my chickens?'

'No sir,' was the response; I ain't thought of doin' nuthin' of the sort.'

It unfortunately happened that the simple minded individual wore a high straw hat of the dimensions of a bee-hive and the crown thereof was dilapidated to a acri cus extent. Just as he put in his denial, the head of a half grown pullet was seen to protrude from the aperture.

'See there,' said the gentleman; 'how did that chicken get in your hat?'

'Well,' he exclaimed, with an air of honest surprise and embarrassment, 'that is the strangest thing that ever happened to me. I suppose the durn'd critter must have crawled up my trouserslog.'

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands entirely shrivelled and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Those who suffer from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other, with which we have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, ka*. that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what they are they does always. It never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken safely by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, which should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, when should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the disordered action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, when a cure would be manifested by taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such variations to meet those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a hydrogogue purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels himself sluggish, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and purifying effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles at an expense of at least four times what they now cost us?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to its practicability or, as to use the homely phrase, from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tumors, cancers, humors, and all diseases likeness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the gastric juice of the system, without robbing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For convenience it has no equal; it is a mild and safe purgative and corrective for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful cathartic after the yeast has been reduced by sickness; as excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and disease having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the back and limbs, soreness throughout the system; in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which PAIN KILLER or Relief are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, flooding, and other complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a wash for old sores. Sold at 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply the same quantity of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by its Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been readily cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues in order to procure it. Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the system undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. The occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advised, even when no positive symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, general Debility, Pain in the Back, and the various Uterine affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are readily subdued by a long time tested but fast subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Hemorrhages, Irregularities, Prolapsus, or falling of the womb, Ovarian and Kidney complaints are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each of the foregoing forms of complaint, will be found in our pamphlet, which we furnish gratis to all who call for it.

Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by the presence of calculous concretions deposited in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising from this cause. Tetter, Erysipelas, or poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great remedy for, and the only one we can recommend to, those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and who have the horrors of Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughing Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind as the subject of this remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character for virtue, and the benefits it has wrought in the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protection, as well as a cure, for colds, and a milder forms of disease not to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous symptoms which precede that fatal disease. A single trial will show its superior claims to every community. Throughout the land it is known to have cured, where all other remedies have failed, and where the public abode of men are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the first symptoms were considered settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to a sound and healthy state by Cherry Pectoral; no complete is its mastery over the diseases of the lungs and throat, that even the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could relieve, a few doses of the Cherry Pectoral would subdue and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does it well. Containing neither Arsenic, Mercury, Iodine, or Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is entirely vegetable and perfect. The number and importance of its cures in the localities of fits, are literally legion. Wherever known it has no parallel in the history of Ague medicines. Our people is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of its wonderful effects in curing fever and ague cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Intermittent Fevers, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Vern, Prof. of Chemistry in the U. of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Turino, Italy, and for Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without a doubt, the most delicious and salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For over seventy years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no fees of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Mormonism Rampant.

From the Denver (Col.) News.

The Salt Lake Telegraph, Brigham Young's organ, has an article bullying the U. S. Judges, and in substance threatening that unless they administer the laws to suit the Mormons they must quit the Territory. The particular point labored upon is that some previous Judges have refused naturalization papers to those who would not say, when questioned, that they were not polygamists, or not in favor of the system. If the candidate for naturalization refused to answer questions on this subject the Telegraph complains, it was immediately assumed that he was guilty and naturalization papers were refused him. The assumption that a Mormon practices or encourages polygamy is not a very violent one, and the only question is as to the right of the judges to refuse naturalization on this ground. The law requires in addition to other conditions, that the candidate shall show to the satisfaction of the judges "that he has behaved as a man of good moral character attached to the principals of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same." The Mormon who sets the law at defiance, and sustains others in doing it, cannot stand this test, and cannot complain that he is wronged by exclusion from citizenship. Whether the judges have authority to supply this test is another question, but it is a just and proper test.

Summary Report of Progress in Geological Investigations.

Geological Survey Office.
Montreal, 1st May, 1869.

To the Hon. H. L. Langevin, C. B., Secretary of State, Ottawa, Ontario.

Sir,—The survey instituted by the Government of Eastern and Western Canada for the geological examination of the area comprised within those two Provinces, having by an Act passed last Session of Parliament been extended to all the Provinces of the Dominion, and the wider investigation having been commenced last summer, it becomes my duty to place before you for the information of His Excellency the Governor General, a summary of the progress which has been made in the work.

* * * * * *

For the last three seasons, the attention of Mr. H. V. Vennor, has been bestowed upon the investigation of various rocks, which are spread out in the counties of Addington, Hastings and Peterboro, in the Province of Ontario, and which have been more than once mentioned in previous reports. Their lithological characters and economic contents were given in some detail in the report of Mr. Thos. McFarlane for 1866. Iron, lead, copper and antimony, were then known to be the metals by the ores of which they were characterised, to which have since been added gold, silver and bismuth. After much research in tracing out the distribution of these rocks, Mr. Vennor has been able to determine the geological structure of the district and the stratigraphical relations of the iron and gold.

The series consists in descending order of the following general divisions:—

1. Calc-chists, dolomite, mica slates and siliceous slates, the latter, too, characterized by extensive lenticular masses of conglomerate, with pebbles of quartzite, gneiss and green stone at the base of which there appears to be an auriferous band.

2. Hornblendic, proxenic and chloritic slates, characterized at the bottom by passing occasionally into beds of magnetic iron ore of commercial importance, and succeeded in some places by grey and red granitic gneiss, and hornblendic schist, interstratified with bands of crystalline limestone.

3. Syenitic rock varying in color from flesh red to brick red, and forming the base on which the rocks appear to rest throughout the district.

This series lies in a general synclinal form between the counties of Addington and Peterboro' with a breadth of about thirty-five miles, which has been traced to the north-east ward from the position where it emerges from beneath the overlying Lower Silurian rocks on the south-west, to within half a mile of the York Branch of the Madawaska River, a distance of about forty-five miles. Many subordinate undulations striking to the north-east, and affected by traverse geological depressions and elevations, cause the distribution to assume a very complicated figure presenting a number of basins in the upper division, more or less united with one another, the intricate outline of which can only be made intelligible by being represented on a map.

The iron ore beds of Belmont, Marmora and Madoc, which have often been separately described, are found to be on the same horizon with one another, at the base of the upper division, while the localities in which gold has been discovered, appear to place an auriferous zone at a short distance above the iron belt, the separation between the two being seldom more than the breadth of a lot or between three and four acres.

The calc schists are in one or two places marked by the presence of Eozoon Canadense, and anorthosite rocks have been found rising above the upper division in isolated masses; but from the difficulty of finding any marks of stratification in them, it can scarcely be decided wether or not they are conformable, and before the question whether the Hastings series belongs to the Upper or Lower Laurentian can be satisfactorily determined, further investigation will be required. Provisionally the series is classed with the Lower Laurentian.

Jerusalem.

According to the Austrian newspapers, a strange story is now current among the Jews. The story is that a column of fire was seen near Solomon's Temple, and that a strong voice was heard, which addressed itself to an Israelite who was worshipping there at the time. The voice warned the devotee of the coming, this year, of the Messiah, and declared that the Israelites should repent, and be more observant of the religion of their fathers. The Jew so spoken to went into the city and told his wonderful tale. The people, however, treated him as an imposter, and some even went so far as to seek to take his life, but he, as if miraculous endowed with more than human strength, fought hundreds of his assailants, and when, afterwards, a battalion of soldiers were sent to arrest him, baffled them in their efforts to capture him. Two Israelites have been commissioned to visit Jerusalem and to enquire into the facts. It gives one a strange sensation to hear of people believing in the coming of a new Christ in this year of our Lord 1869.

The Canadian Pacific Railroad.

The adherents of the Canadian Pacific Railroad scheme are constantly increasing in number. Its advocates are not alone railway contractors, who have a personal interest to serve, and who may have none other, but also men who are moved with strong national and patriotic feelings, whose only interest is to see the spread of British civilization on the American Continent. Such a person is the Bishop of British Columbia who has been lecturing his old parishioners in England on the glorious work the English people ought to undertake. The Bishop tells his hearers of the advantages of the Canada Pacific Line over all others. It will pass through no sterile plains, it will have abundance of water and fuel, and it will shorten the journey to China by fifteen hundred miles. Speaking of population the Bishop predicts that the 4 or 5,000,000 inhabitants of Canada may be 30 or 40 millions in half a century. This is the true way of looking at the future of British North America, instead of whining about the short summers, and the cold, and the want of markets, and the difficulties attending agricultural pursuits. Difficulties are made to be overcome, and those we have are not more insurmountable than those of any other people in the world. The key to the success of the people of the United States is their self-reliance. If we could only imitate them in that we could very easily afford to overlook their teachings in other respects.

The Harvest in Europe.

By mail from Europe we have the following resume of the harvest prospects prevailing at the great food supply centres on the 1st of October, as reported in Paris:

The accounts of the harvest in Germany are very unequal, varying in different districts from good to far below the average yield. On the whole, the grain harvest of middle Germany was below the average; that of the Southern States was far better. From Austria we hear that the yield of corn is considerably smaller than in the last two years; the same is true of Roumania. The Russian harvest is stated to have been good, and the crops have nowhere failed so completely as in some places last year. The fodder is everywhere poor, with the exception of a few mountainous districts. There has been very little clover, and both the hay and surrogate have been much injured by the unfavorable weather. On the other hand there has been a good deal of straw. Both potatoes and beet have suffered from the heat and drought of July and the rain of August. The disease has also appeared with more or less virulence in some parts. The hopes entertained for the potatoe harvest are not, therefore, high; but it is said that the beet is improving. The hops are said to be in a very poor condition, partly on account of the weather and partly from the insects and the disease, which have appeared in many gardens. Scarcely a quarter of the usual yield is expected.—But little fruit has been gathered, and even what was is poor in quality. This is particularly the case with apples and plums.

Nor will 1869 be numbered among the select vintages, as the quantity of grapes is small and their quality inferior.

The Secret of Getting Rich.

AS DISCLOSED BY SEVERAL MILLIONAIRES.

(From the New York Tribune.)

Two or three of the richest men in this country have recently given, in sententious language, the secret of their worldly success and fortune. "There is no secret about it," said Commodore Vanderbilt; "all you have to do is to attend to your business and go ahead—except one thing" added the Commodore, "and that is, never to tell what you are going to do until you have done it." The millionaire Democrat who has been running for Governor of Pennsylvania, and who has no views whatever on political subjects, recently gave his idea on the way to get rich in the remark: "Economy and safe investment are about the best means of attaining financial prosperity." George Law, also, who is a tolerable rich man, though not, we suppose, quite so rich as Vanderbilt or Asa Packer, remarked in conversation a few days ago: "There is nothing so easy as making money when you have money to make it with; the only thing is to see the crisis and take it at its flood;" and, when further pressed to tell the secret of its own success, he quickly responded: "Determination to work, and working." These opinions are certainly worth something, and will doubtless be eagerly studied by young men ambitious of wealth. But they are incomplete without a remark from A. T. Stewart, who is richer than either Vanderbilt or Asa Packer, and who told an anxious inquirer a short time ago that he "considered honesty and truth great aids in the gaining of fortune."

The Coolie Slave Trade.

Another sensation has disturbed the usual quiet of Honolulu, no less than the arrival at that port of a veritable slaver. On Sunday, the 15th Aug., a ship appeared in the offing flying a flag which seemed to be a parody on the Stars and Stripes. The stripes were blue and white and the stars were set in a red field. The vessel was evidently of American build. On being boarded the Captain stated that it was the San Salvador ship Callao, from Macao, China, with emigrants, bound to Callao.—A writer who went on board describes the vessel. There was a barricade, or iron railing, about seven feet high, at the break of the deck, and separating the forward part of the ship from aft. At each of the two gates in this barricade stood a guard with a bayonet in his hand, who fastened the gate immediately when any one passed through. One of them may have had a cutlass. On each side of the deck a gun, about a 6-pounder was pointed forward. I entered into conversation with one of the guards who could speak some English. He could not tell me the name of the captain, and said ship's name was Number One. The carpenter, Swede, also told me the same subsequently. The guard said the flag was Central American; said that they had 650 coolies on board; that they mutinied when about a week at sea, about noon, and that the ringleader was killed and several others wounded. Fourteen were in irons at the present time. Breakfast was served out to the coolies between ten and eleven o'clock. There were about sixty baskets of good white rice, and with each basket a dish of greens and a dish of potatoes and meat. This was sent below. There were iron gratings over the hatchways. Between twelve and twenty Chinese were provided with short double pieces of rope. They acted as police. Saw several persons struck. After breakfast about one third of the coolies came up on deck. The prisoners chained two and two by the ankles, were marched backward and forward about an hour before I left the ship. At least two of them showed their uncovered buttocks —the whole surface perfectly raw. I was told they had been flogged. How many lashes? "Oh, one or two hundred." I did not ask how many had been flogged. A large gang were set to scouring the ship's brass, all along inside the rail. I went below and found tolerably clean quarters. The coolies were most of them nearly naked. None that I saw had any cues. Some looked quite skeleton-like; others were in good condition. There were not many sick. There had been seven deaths, including the one killed. The chained leaders appeared to be of a different race, taller, blacker and of a commanding carriage of body. The carpenter could talk some English, corroborated what the guard told me. The passageway leading to the cabin was well provided with lances and cutlasses. I did not go astern to see if any name was painted on the ship. This statement proves clearly as to the character of the traffic in which the ship was engaged.

Double Murder in London.

A terrible murder has been committed in London by a jealous husband. The London Times gives the following account of the crime: "A man named Eson has for some time past lived in a cottage in the Truro road, Wood Green, immediately adjoining which is a villa known as Elder Cottage, which fronts the Colney Hatch road, and was occupied by a Mr. Boyd, a gentleman who had not long returned from Japan, and who had a business in the city in the wine trade. Mr. Boyd left home yesterday afternoon about three o'clock, and he returned to Wood Green by railway, by a train which arrived at that station at five o'clock. Eson's wife came by the same, and it is said that she and Mr. Boyd were together. The man Eson was at the station, evidently expecting to meet them, and he made a determined attack upon Mr. Boyd just outside the station. Some bystanders went to Mr. Boyd's assistance, and Eson then went home with his wife. Directly they got inside their cottage Eson took down a gun which was loaded, and shot his wife in the breast, causing immediate death. After he had shot the poor woman he beat her head in with the stock of his gun. He then taking with him the weapon with which he had already killed his wife, went in search of Mr. Boyd, whom he found in his stable, and without saying a word struck the unfortunate gentleman a tremendous blow on the temple with the barrels of the gun, and killed him on the spot. The murderer then inflicted a cut on his own throat, but not a severe one, and an alarm having been given some police constables arrived from the police station, which is close by, and the murderer was taken into custody and lodged in the police station."

Red River Items.

(From the Fort Garry Nor' Wester, 8-pt. 28.)

We had rather a severe visitation of Jack Frost on Saturday night last.

The sidewalk on the western side of our main street is in active course of construction under the superintendence of Mr. Ellwood.

The Garret House is nearly done, and will be opened to the public in the course of a month.

They are building a Presbyterian Church at High Bluff, on the Assiniboine.

Fine weather has once more set in, and we trust it will continue for some time.—The late 'wet spell' has been very unfavorable for many of the farmers between this and Portage la Prairie, in getting in their wheat crop.

The missionaries, of all denominations, established in this territory, are indefatigable in their labors, and penetrate far and wide throughout the wilderness from the boundary line to Yoncon river in the late Russian possessions.

It is well to be warned in time. The small pox is now said to be prevailing among the Indian tribes near the frontier to the west of this Colony, and immediate steps should be taken by our people to have their children vaccinated; and as some eminent physicians contend that vaccination only guards the system against the virulent type of small pox for seven years, it would be well for many or all who have had the operation performed on them to try again. If the virus takes again you may feel pretty sure that you are safe, and if it does not take you are safe; the system being still guarded by the first operation. We need not dwell upon the ravages of this terrible disease among the Indians in former times, nor need we dwell upon its frightful effect among a civilized people.—It is enough for us to know that it is said to be among the Indians to the southwest, and may be brought into the Settlement within a twelvemonth in a pack of buffalo robes or any other article of Indian traffic. Guard yourselves in time.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, OCT. 21.

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY.—The number of tenders for the sections of the Intercolonial Railway from 8 to 12, was two hundred and sixteen.

PENITENTIARY DIRECTOR.—Mr. James W. King, of Nova Scotia, has been appointed a Director of Penitentiaries in the place of Mr. James Moir Ferres, lately appointed Warden of Penitentiary at Kingston.

NORTH RENFREW.—The nomination in North Renfrew has been fixed for the 2nd November, and the polling for the 8th and 9th. Sir Francis Hincks and Messrs. Finlay and Murray are the candidates in the field, and are stumping the county in company.

MORE ROLLING STOCK.—On the evening of the 19th inst., Mr, Potter, in the course of his remarks at the special meeting of the Grand Trunk Employees mentioned that he had been successful while in Canada in getting a considerable portion of new stock taken up which would enable the Company to make a large increase to the rolling stock, and add efficiency to the road. He also mentioned that of the fifteen millions of stock of the road, twelve millions are held in England and three in Canada.

—The Queen of Prussia gives five hundred dollars to every woman in the kingdom who has given birth to twelve children.

—Two horse thieves were arrested at Cornwall on October 19th, and lodged in gaol. On Tuesday last, just one week after their arrest, they escaped.

—Inspectors Davis of Toronto and Bellemare of Montreal have seized an extensive illicit distillery in the County of Yamaska, about 18 miles south of Three Rivers.

Railway Meeting in Madoc.

The meeting called upon requisition by the Warden of the County, to consider the question of a Railway from Madoc to some point on the front, was held in the Town Hall, Madoc, on Wednesday, 20th inst.—The Hall was crowded to suffocation, all taking a deep interest in the question.

The following delegates from different sections of the country reported themselves:

KINGSTON.—Wm. Robertson, Esq., Mayor; and Messrs. Charles Gildersleeve, A. D. W. Livingston, Cunningham, Borden and Allan.

BELLEVILLE.—Hon. B. Flint; Messrs. Kelso, Bowell, Neilson, Thos. Holden, Sutherland, Vair and Brown.

FRONTENAC.—S. Shibley, Esq., Warden.

PORTLAND.—George Lott, Esq., Deputy Reeve.

CAMDEN.—George Lake, Esq., Reeve.

NEWBURGH.—John D. Ham, Esq.

A. F. WOOD, Esq., Warden of the County of Hastings, called the meeting to order, and Charles Gream, Esq., was chosen Secretary.

We shall have to content ourselves with this notice to-day, but will endeavor to give a synopsis of the proceedings to-morrow. Resolutions were unanimously passed in favor of a Railway, and when the question was put as to the route to be selected, there was but one hand held up in favor of Belleville, the whole meeting declaring for Kingston as the eastern terminus of the road.

News Condensed.

—Prince Arthur is on his way to Montreal.

—Kingston Fall Assizes opened on the 20th.

—Sandford Fleming, Chief Engineer of the Intercolonial, is in Ottawa.

—Three inches of snow fell at the head waters of the Desmonie on the 26th.

—Jefferson Davis arrived in Baltimore last week.

—Lord Derby is again unconscious, and is sinking slowly.

—Mr. John Lemesureu, Mayor of Quebec, has failed. Liabilities $100,000.

—Prince Arthur killed a deer at Plantagaret, yesterday.

—Montreal shoemakers are again on the strike.

—John Bell, Esq., Q.C., conducts the Crown business at the Kingston Assizes.

—Genest has been elected member of the Quebec Legislature for Three Rivers.

—Cotton crop of the South is this year estimated at $240,000,000.

—The Ontario Legislature meets on Wednesday, the 3rd November.

—The Township of Brighton passed the Dunkin Bill by a majority of 122.

—Whiskey-Detective Mason was found guilty of perjury at the Toronto Assizes yesterday.

—A diamond wedding, to cost several hundred thousand dollars, is announced in Chicago.

—It requires one hundred ounces of quinine a week to combat the shakes in Frankford, Ind.

—At Austin, Minn., the other day, a man was fined by a justice $13, for squeezing a woman's hand.

—Heavy rains in Quebec are doing much damage to the grain still out, and the potatoe crop.

—Notman, the abortionist, is to be brought before the Court of Queen's Bench, Montreal, to-day.

—The 'Girl of the Period' in Arkansas is described as 13 years old, shoeless, stockingless, bonnetless, and with the sheriff after her for stealing a horse.

—Worth, the man milliner of Paris, was asked recently what trimming he should put on a dress just finished. He answered, turning up his nose as he spoke, 'None whatever, it is only an 800f. dress.'

—Many tourists to Niagara Falls will agree with Mark Twain, who said that the first time he was there the hack fares were so much higher than the falls that the falls appeared insignificant.

—In the University Lying-in Hospital, Montreal, during the year ending Oct. 17, 1869, there were 145 patients, of whom 41 were married and 104 unmarried, 80 were Roman Catholics, and 65 were Protestants.

The New York Mail says: 'Low necked shirts are pronounced the latest 'style' for nice young men. Let our readers imagine a sweet looking youth, with his hair parted in the middle, with a bottle of grease poured upon it to keep the hair in position, a brass headed cane, and a low necked shirt. Oh, you dear little creature!'

—The Chicago Republican is quite complimentary to G. Francis Train. This is the way it does it: "A peripatetic dispenser of gas known among women as George Francis Train, delivered a couple of harangues, in Chicago, recently, of which the press of the city made no report. If respectable journals elsewhere will ignore this bombastic ass in the same manner, the public will soon cease to be troubled with the nuisance. In the name of common sense, let this insufferable gas bag hereafter distil his noisomeness amid the silence of the newspapers. We have probably had the last of him in Chicago.

Fenian Interview with General Grant.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—John Moriarty, President of the Irish Republican Association of Philadelphia, had an interview with Grant, and Secretary Fish to day in behalf of American citizens of Irish birth now in British prisons. Moriarty stated that these men had been convicted, not for expressions or any overt act in England, but for sentiments uttered in the United States; and that as Mr. Gladstone had refused to liberate them, he thought it was the duty of this government to insist that the prisoners should be set at liberty.

The President remarked that several delegations had called upon him in relation to the same subject. His sympathies were with these prisoners, and therefore he should be gratified at their release. He had placed the matter in the hands of Secretary Fish.—Subsequently Mr. Fish informed Moriarty that he had already exerted his influence to secure the object of his visit and would persevere to that end, and he gave assurances that the Government would adopt every means in its power to protect all American citizens, both at home and abroad in all their rights.

Sabbath School Convention.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

MR. EDITOR,—I am sure that all who attended the Sabbath School Convention of last week, will agree with me that it was a season of much profit, as well intellectual as spiritual. If I am to judge from the remarks made by many of those that attended from Session to Session, the exercises surpassed their expectation, and even those who have attended former Conventions stated that the one held in Belleville was the best of all that had yet been held in Canada.

One pleasurable part of the proceedings was the attendance of Messrs Reynolds and Phillips from the States; I do not include Dr. Burns, who resides at Chicago, as we will not yet give him up as lost to the Dominion; may his return to Canada soon become an accomplished fact. Messrs. Reynolds and Phillips won golden opinions while amongst us, and I trust at the next year's Convention at Galt, both those gentlemen will be present, and might I not say many more of the same stamp, and might I say I have a hope that Belleville will be visited before many months by Mr. Phillips, "the sweet singer of the songs of Zion." Should he come, won't we give him a hearty welcome.

I shall not individualize as to those of our own Canada, who attended on that occasion, I believe all tried to do the best, whether working, speaking or hearing, to make the Convention a decided success.

From the large attendance of Delegates, visitors and our fellow Town's people, it could not be, but that the interest in the great cause of Sabbath Schools would be advanced, and I trust that while we look back upon the Convention as one of the things that has passed and gone, that we will also look forward to the formation of Town, Township and County Conventions for Hastings, let not the fall pass without making a commencement, and as soon as the roads become good, let every Township be organized, and then the County Convention. Surely after the delightful meeting we have had, made up as the Convention was of nearly, if not all the denominations of professing Protestant Christians from all parts of the country, showing a harmony of feeling and a oneness of purpose in reference to the great work of Sabbath School teaching, and the evangelization of the youth of our noble country, we ought not to let the opportunity pass by, but organize in Belleville as soon as possible, and from our organization send forth to Town and Township helps to push on the work until finally completed by a direct County Convention.

Who will begin, let them speak out?

I cannot close this without giving an extract from a letter received from one of the delegates on his return home. He says: "While waiting (at the Station in the morning) we had a blessed prayer meeting, interspersed with short addresses. Special prayer was offered for the good people of Belleville; for our kind hosts and their families, and especially for any unsaved members of their families. It was a delightful time, Presbyterians, Baptists, Methodists and Congregationalists, all engaged, and that right heartily. We had short prayer meetings occasionally on the journey up, and under God's blessing reached home safely."

Those who went before, and those who followed after no doubt did not forget to pray for us as a people; may their prayers be speedily answered.

Yours, &c., &c.,
BILLA FLINT.

The Parsnip.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

MR. EDITOR, SIR,—Many persons are deterred from cultivating this excellent root through fear of the seed of the wild or poison kind getting into the beds through the agency of birds and strong winds, &c. Now, if some of your many readers can define how to determine which is good or bad, it would confer a favour on many who are particularly fond of this vegetable, but dare not use for fear of accident. It could be cultivated successfully for stock, as it contains more nutriment than the other roots raised for feeding; it can be left out all winter and thus supply a want much felt in this country, feed for spring use.

Yours very truly,
J. M.

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squabble over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

LOST.

LOST THIS MORNING, between the residence of Mrs. B. F. Davy and the Market, a SILVER HUNTING CASE WATCH. Any person returning it to the undersigned will be suitably rewarded.

OMAHA, Oct. 20.—There is no further doubt that the surveying party of twelve men under Nelson Buck were murdered by the Indians on Republican River, in the latter part of August or early in September.

MAIL COACH, ATTACKED BY INDIANS.

A letter from Apache Pass, of Oct. 9th, reports that about SIXTY Apaches, led by a chief named Cochise, attacked the mail coach on the 5th, killing the driver, Col. Stone and four soldiers of the 21st Infantry. They left the bodies of the murdered men naked and horribly mutilated, and carried off the coach and mules. They also captured 300 cattle. Lieut. Facter and twenty-seven men of the 1st cavalry started in pursuit and come upon the Indians 90 miles south of Apache Passion Friday forenoon. A fight ensued, and twelve Indians were killed; the others escaped. The troops recaptured the mail coach, mules and stock, thirty horses and a large quantity of supplies owned by the Indians.

FEW PEOPLE unacquainted with physiological chemistry are aware of the quantity or iron in the blood, but all should know the importance of keeping up the supply for debility, disease and death are sure to follow when the quantity becomes too much reduced. BELLEVILLE MARKETS

[INTELLIGENCER OFFICE,
Belleville, Oct. 21, 1869.

The Grain market took another tumble this morning in consequence of unfavorable advices from Oswego. Prices had gone down there to $1 28 for Barley, and had still a downward tendency. Rye was also quoted lower. In consequence of the large receipts.

Barley opened here this morning at 75 cents, but upon the receipt of udfavorable news it went down to 70; 71 and 72 cents were paid during the forenoon for choice samples.

Rye was sold at 55 to 57 cents.

The receipts of grain during the past week have been very large, averaging 12,000 bushels per day.

Shipping is active, but there are not sufficient vessels to take the grain away.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.,

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a deplorable state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this crisis I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats departed, and there soon followed many of my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has others, proved most generous conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

GENTS.—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea was in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap. Yours very truly,

F. DENNIE.

Montreal Tea Co:

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of its very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue a customer. Yours respectfully,

Eight Days Without Food at Sea.

Captain Rousseville, of the whaling schooner S. N. Smith, reports the loss of of his vessel in a hurricane on the 27th and 28th of August. While the captain was cutting away the foremast the water being even with the hatchways, the schooner was blown over on her side, her masts in the water, and the captain was washed away. After being knocked around for a few minutes, he got to the main rigging, and endeavoured to get to the cabin, but a heavy sea came and washed all on deck away. He got hold of the crosstrees on the mainmast, and held on the sea breaking completely over him. After daybreak the gale moderated, and he remained until 2 P. M., and then got to the vessel. One man who was with him was washed off and drowned, and the ship-keeper, after getting on board, sat down and died. The captain did not see his wife and children after the vessel capsized. After remaining on the wreck, in a space of 8 feet, for eight days and nights, during which time they were without food or water, the captain and four of the crew were taken off by the British bark Flat-worth, and taken into London.

The Preserving Boy.

"Sir," said a boy, addressing a man, "do you want a boy to work for you ?"

"No," answered the man, "I have no such want."

The boy looked disappointed ; at least the man thought so, and he asked, "Don't you succeed in getting a place ?"

"I have asked at a good many places," said the boy. "A woman told me you had been after a boy, but it is not so, I find."

"Don't be discouraged," said the man, in a friendly tone.

"O, no, sir," said the boy cheerfully, "because this is a very big world, and I feel certain that God has something for me to do in it."

"Just so, just so," said a gentleman who overheard the talk. "Come with me, my boy ; I am in want of somebody like you." He was a doctor ; and the doctor thought any boy so anxious to find his work would be likely to do it faithfully when he found it ; so he took the boy in his employment and found him all that he desired.

Yes ! God has something for everybody to do in this world. It's a very big world, and there's room enough for all. As long as our young readers live, too, there will be enough to do in overcoming the evil there is in the world, and therefore room enough for work in making the world better. Whoever has "a mind to work" can hardly lack for a place to work.

What a blushing of faces there would be in many houses if the house were suddenly turned around, with its back yard, in all its filth and disorder,open to the view of the passers by ! But the out-look from the rear windows of a home should be as gratifying as from the front. Vines should clamber over out-houses, and all uncouth objects that cannot be removed, even though the vines be nothing but hop or wood bine, and tidiness should character-ize its keeping.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.—An English letter writer mentions as a curious fact, that none of the leading woman's rights reformers in that country are mothers or fathers. He adds :—A few are married, but those who are married have not been blessed with offsprings. I do not wish to deduce anything ; I only state a curious detail. The leaders of the woman's rights movement in England, men and women, are childless. Five out of six are married, and not one of the six is a mother or a father. All survey mankind from the pure ideal point, so far as this fraction of nature is concerned."

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of loading the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country,among all classes, as this pill ; but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them ; those who have not, feel, that if cured their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always —that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates ; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action by health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills readily cure :—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Langnor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the derangement that causes it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, by their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive organs.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, as we do those of least four times what they now cost ?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of the plants and roots, and are so readily prepared as tea and coffee ?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than are disposed in any other form for four times the amount of money.

Dr. Thomson's Botanic Medicines are the nearest to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines.

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the secretions, and how-ever it tones the liver, and promotes the genuine vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint or Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons ; aged and sickly ; a sure and speedy purgative ; a powerful recuperant after the fevers, having been reduced by sickness, as excellent as well as agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds,such as acute chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may be used with safety in all cases where it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, cholic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or disfunctions. It can be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up his medicines in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, and the cures it performs in cases of Scrofulous disease,are known to all. It seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders,which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues in detail.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of man. It fastens its concealed and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of insidious or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again it seems to be developed into active power by other, and often favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of the hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited on the lungs, while heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by ulcers on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this medicine, as far as it is available, even when no active symptoms of disease appear, forms a sufficient safeguard with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA, Tell St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Lips, Pimples on the Face, and other symptoms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed and dangerous forms of Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterous affections, in the leucorher and nervous systems.

Syphilitic or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterous Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Dyspepsia and Gen. Debility, often caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, will find relief in it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, Jaundice, Biliousness, when nothing else will often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. The Sarsaparilla is a great tonic, restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are afflicted with Asthma, Consumption, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, will find relief from the symptomsin of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so firmly upon the confidence of mankind, as the excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Though a long series of years has passed among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in the estimation of all who have known its virtues. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs have won for it a fame and a use unparallelled by any medicine now known to man. While adapted, in milder forms, to the relief of children, it has at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for the most desperate cases, and for the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a pronounced consumption yields to the Cherry Pectoral, it should be kept on hand in every family, as it indeed is all the consumptive sufferer's best friend, and no one should be provided with the antidote for them.

Although settled consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease evidently existed, have been cured by this agent, and the patient restored to sound health by the use of this remedy. It counteracts the tendency over the disorders of the Lungs and throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to its power. No one who could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they need have no fear of consumption.

Neuralgic and Rheumatic Sufferers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are these complaints known to need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure.

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c. The Shaking Fever, Chill Fever, Autumnal Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c. and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures, but leaves the system entirely free from the effects of the same. Its virtues are literally beyond encomium, and we believe no properly cured by this steamer, when shipped or landed at Prince Wm. Wharf.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to its original discoverer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Bitters ever offered to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 22, 1869. No. 147.

County Council.

THURSDAY, Oct. 21, 1869.

The Council met this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

PRESENT.—A. F. Wood, Esq., Warden; and Messrs. Appleby, Daly, Rose, Anderson, Armstrong, Dacey, Rowe, Walker, Conley, Jones, Stokes, Gabourie, Finley, Emo, Farley, Clapp, Cross, Caldwell, and Chard.

The minutes of former meeting were read and approved.

The Warden then addressed the Council as follows:

GENTLEMEN.—Your meeting at this time is for the dispatch of general business, and it is very gratifying to me to be able to state that at no time during my acquaintance with the Municipal affairs of this County, have they been in a more prosperous condition. The repairs of the gravel roads are proceeding satisfactorily. Since the last meeting of the Council I have driven over the principal gravelled roads, for the purpose of seeing and noticing for myself, the state they were in. The result of my inspection has been to satisfy me thoroughly on two points. 1st. That we have the best gravelled roads in the Province. 2nd. That our present system of keeping them in repair is eminently superior to any other that can be adopted. The Fermers are becoming more experienced in the management of men, and the application of labor to the best advantage. Mr. Farnham particularly, is one of the most efficient foremen ever employed by the County. The work done this year, in my opinion, far exceeds that of any previous year in proportion to the cost.

The building of the bridge at Frankford was awarded by the Committee to John Meath, his being the lowest tender, but he failing, we did the next two above him—Sweetman and Vannorman, it was finally given to Patrick Turley for the sum of $3,899. Mr. Turley at once commenced the work, and has pushed it on with a great deal of energy. I visited the bridge in the month of September, and found the timber of a very superior quality, and everything in connection with it of the most satisfactory kind. The County surveyor has written to me from time to time, since, with reference to it, and reports the bridge as progressing to his entire satisfaction.

A deputation composed of Mr. Armstrong, Deputy Reeve of Sidney, Mr. Emo, Reeve of Huntingdon, with Mr. Francis and Mr. Turley, called upon me requesting some action on my part with reference to keeping the way open for public travel across the bridge during the erection of the new one. I also received a letter from Mr. Rowe, Deputy Reeve of Sidney, to the same effect. After consideration I made the following proposition to Mr. Turley, that I would give on behalf of the County Corporation $100, providing that Sidney and Trenton made up the balance of whatever sum might be required for the purpose of keeping the bridge open. I understand a passage has been kept open across the bridge.

A petition has been sent to me which will be laid before you from the inhabitants of Carlow and Mayo, in the rear of this County, asking to be erected into a municipality. I have also received letters from parties, resident in those Townships, urgently asking your attention to it.

I have also received a communication in the form of a circular from the Warden of Brant, asking your Corporation to assist in the advocacy of certain changes in the assessment Law. It will be laid before you for your consideration.

A communication from the Ontario Rifle Association has been received, calling your attention to an application for a grant to the funds of said Society, last year. I am not aware that any application was made, but you can take the matter now into consideration and dispose of it as you shall deem best.

A copy of the Prison Inspector's report has been forwarded to me by the Sheriff, by direction of the Inspector. The Inspector recommends certain changes in the gaol that I cannot recommend the Council to carry out. So far as comfort and convenience of the jail is concerned I don't think this County is required in justice at the present to make any changes. With reference to the safety of prisoners, it is my opinion that if due diligence is used by the prison officials there is no reason why a prisoner should escape from custody. The report will be laid before you. And while on matters connected with the gaol, I may state that my attention has been called to the necessity of matting for the Court House floor. The presiding Judges complaining that the noise occasioned by the want of it causes a serious obstruction to the business of the courts.

The Crown Timber Agent, J. F. Way, Esq., addressed us a communication calling my attention to the necessity of a survey of the river near Chisholm's Rapids for the purpose of laying before the Department an application for right of way, and assistance in constructing the bridge. I have directed the surveyor to attend to the matter, and he will no doubt be prepared to report as to what action he has taken.

In accordance with the instructions of the Council, I submitted the matter of arbitration with the town to the County Solicitor. After some communications with the Mayor the matter was left with the Chairman of the Town Finance Committee, and a Committee was appointed to meet the Committee appointed by the County Council. I have not been able, as yet, to notify the committee of a meeting, but will do so soon, and anticipate a settlement without a reference beyond the Joint Committee.

The County Treasurer has had considerable difficulty lately with the Government of Ontario, with reference to the expenses of the Administration of Criminal Justice, etc. He referred the matter to me, and I have had several communications from the Provincial Treasurer with reference to it. The items of account to which objection was taken, was the purchase of wood and indigent witnesses' account. The Department wanted vouchers that the wood had been consumed during 1868, and utterly refuses to pay indigent witnesses' by instructions, the Treasurer states, of the Attorney General who says there is no law to compel them. This may be the case, but it has been paid by all previous Governments and should unquestionably be paid by the Government of Ontario. Indigent witnesses are witnesses called by the Crown, who are unable to pay their own expenses and are ordered to be paid by the Judge.

The wood account will be paid, but this matter of indigent witnesses is positively refused. The Council should not permit this to pass, and if an appeal should have to be made to the Legislature.

The County Surveyor will lay his report before you; and while, with the exception of Frankford Bridge, there is no work of great expense going on, at the same time, there has been a large amount of labor performed by him. Bridges being repaired, culverts giving way, surveys to make, &c., &c., and at the same time he has scarcely omitted a day in his oversight of the Frankford Bridge, a work that he has determined shall be a model for other bridges that the County may determine to build.

The people of the northern part of this County are waking up to the necessity of a railroad to the front. Meetings are being held in different places, and the question is being eagerly discussed by farmers, mechanics, merchants and property owners. The new plan of wooden rails promises to be a success and will reduce the expense to one quarter of the cost of Narrow Gauge Iron Railways.

The people of Madoc propose to give a bonus of $10,000, this shows that they are in earnest, and from negotiations already opened there is a reasonable ground to expect that so desirable a project in the northern part of the County will soon be all-at. Wherever the terminus may be, and there is a strong feeling in the back part of the County just now, in favor of Kingston; it will materially increase the value of property by opening up and developing the mineral interests; bringing markets nearer to the farmers, and infusing new life into all kinds of trade. I have not mentioned this for the purpose of advocating action on the part of the County Council at this session. Let the Municipalities that will be benefited act in the matter. But I have called your attention to it, knowing that you are interested in the material prosperity of every part of the County, and to give you an opportunity to consider how far you should aid the project.

An abundant harvest has not only given us great reason for thankfulness to the Great Giver of every good, but placed within the reach of every minor Municipality, means by which they can secure prompt payment of taxes, and I trust that the Municipal authorities of every Township and incorporated village will make strenuous efforts to have the amount apportioned them paid into the County Treasurer at as early a date as possible, having it fully completed as the law requires, not later than the 14th December. By this we will save interest and maintain our credit, which now as a County is second to none in the Province.

The question of interest on the old debt of Thurlow is one that should have your attention. Settle definitely what you as a Council wish me to do in the matter. There is an opinion held by some of the Councillors that Thurlow should not pay it, for the reason that they did not understand that it was to be included in the amount to which they agreed to pay. Be this as it may, it is necessary that you should settle the matter at this session.

The late visit of His Excellency Sir John Young and His Royal Highness Prince Arthur to this Province is the source of much congratulation. The outspoken feelings of loyalty to the Queen which met them at every point, the satisfaction expressed in every address with our relationship to the mother country, and the evident indications of prosperity and contentment that exhibited themselves along the whole line of their route, cannot fail to do much towards neutralising the efforts of certain men and papers of questionable loyalty, who are endeavoring to sow the seeds of discontent by talking and writing up Independence and Annexation. We have all the benefits of a Limited Monarchy, and more freedom than the freest of Republican Governments, and I am satisfied the people of Canada seek no change, and least of all such change as Independence or Annexation would bring us.

THE SCHOOL LAW.

The WARDEN read a memorial from the County Council of Simcoe to the Legislature of Ontario, respecting certain suggestions as to alteration of School Bill introduced at the last session of the Legislature.

Also a communication from a special Committee of the Counties of Stormont and Glengary, on the same subject.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

The WARDEN read a letter informing the Council that the Town Council of Belleville had appointed a Committee consisting of Messrs. G. E. Henderson, Thos. Kelso, J. J. B. Flint, Alex. Robertson and Geo. Vair, to consider the financial affairs of the Town and County.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

A communication was read from the Ontario Rifle Association, respecting funds voted by different Councils in aid of the Association.

PRISON IMPROVEMENTS.

The report of the Prison Inspector, who visited the gaol on August last, was read. He called the attention of the Council to some improvements required in the gaol.

ASSESSMENT ACT.

A communication was read from the County Council of Brant enclosing a memorial to the Legislature, respecting certain proposed amendments to the Assessment Act.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, OCT. 22.

CHANGE IN THE BANK OF MONTREAL.—Mr. E. H. King has tendered his resignation of the office of General Manager of the Bank of Montreal, which has been accepted, to take effect from the 31st inst. He is to be appointed President of the Board of Directors.

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY.—A telegram from Ottawa says that the following tenders for the construction of 8, and 10 of the Intercolonial railroad have been accepted. No. 8 has been let to Mr. Duncan Mcdonald, of Montreal, at $100,000, or $4,- per mile; No 10 to Andrew Elliott & Co., of Petrolia, at $309,395, or $14,410 per mile. The other tenders for these sections range in price from $81,000 to $9,000 for section 8, and from $18,000 to $27,000 for section 10.

DEATH OF EX SHERIFF MOODIE.—We regret to learn of the death of JOHN WEDDERBURN DUNBAR MOODIE, formerly Sheriff of this county, and one of the oldest residents of this section of country. Mr. Moodie was the fourth son of Major James Moodie, of Meiseter, in the Orkney Islands, was born Sept. 7, 1797; he entered the army as Second Lieutenant of the 21st Regiment of Foot, in 1813, was present at the night attack on Bergen-op-Zoom on the 8th of March, 1814, where he was wounded by a musket ball in his left wrist; in 1819 he emigrated to South Africa, returning to England in 1829. In 1832 he emigrated to Canada, served in the rebellion of 1837; in 1838 was appointed Captain and Paymaster to sixteen companies of Militia distributed along the shores of Lake Ontario and Bay of Quinte. In 1839 he was appointed Sheriff of the County of Hastings, which office he held until the year 1863, when he resigned. In 1861, Mr. Moodie had a severe fall, by which he broke his left knee pan, which produced paralysis, from which he never fully recovered. He died this morning suddenly, though from the low state of his health for some time past his death was not unexpected. Mr. Moodie was a man of warm social affections, had a great many personal friends, and died very generally regretted.

Railway Meeting in Madoc.

The meeting called upon requisition by the Warden of the County, to consider the question of a Railway from Madoc to some point on the front, was held in the Town Hall, Madoc, on Wednesday, 20th inst.—The Hall was crowded to suffocation, all taking a deep interest in the question.

The following delegates from different sections of the country reported themselves:

KINGSTON.—Wm. Robertson, Esq., Mayor; and Messrs. Charles Gildersleeve, A. D. W. Livingston, Cunningham, Borden and Allan.

BELLEVILLE.—Hon. B. Flint; Messrs. Kelso, Bowell, Neilson, Thos. Holden, Sutherland, Vair and Brown.

FRONTENAC.—S. Shibley, Esq., Warden.

PORTLAND.—George Lott, Esq., Deputy Reeve.

CAMDEN.—George Lake, Esq., Reeve.

NEWBURGH.—John D. Ham, Esq.

A. F. WOOD, Esq., Warden of the County of Hastings, called the meeting to order, and Charles Gream, Esq., was chosen Secretary.

THE WARDEN then said he had been called upon to convene this meeting by a large number of ratepayers, and was glad to see so many present. They began to think of late there would never be a Railroad to the back Townships; but looking westwards they found roads running in all directions from Toronto through sections of country not more wealthy than they were and now that Wooden Railroads have come into use he thought they would not have to give up all hopes. The people had been aroused, and now call for a cheap line, and as such roads had been built in England which were paying 12 per cent interest, he considered the project quite feasible, and was glad to see so many promiuent men present, which showed they meant work. He could assure the delegates from Belleville and Kingston that they did not intend to pit one town against the other, for they know how much outside help was worth, and being willing to help themselves they expected to get assistance from others. He then referred to the great saving it would be to the farmers to have the Railroad instead of having to cart their grain so great a distance. He contended that if they wished to keep their young men in the country they must develop the resources of the country. He then cited the case of one farmer in the Township of Madoc whose taxes would be increased $5 dollars per year for a bonus of $10,000 to the road, who now stated he paid $50 to team his grain to Belleville. In conclusion he added that he would like to have the scheme prove a success, and a Railroad built to some place no the front, at as early a day as possible.

Moved by Hon. B. FLINT, seconded by M. BOWELL, Esq., M. P., and

Resolved,—That in the opinion of this meeting, it is essential to the prosperity of North Hastings and of the Townships on the leading lines of the colonization roads in Townships in the Central part of Ontario, that there should be increased facilities for exportation by means of a cheap Railway.

In making the motion he said he considered the project of a Railway one of vital importance to the back Townships, and to every farmer, mechanic and merchant, for if a railway were constructed it would place the farmers in as good a position as those now living on the front; and so it should, for they were the people from whom the wealth of the country was derived, and he would like to see them occupy the position that they should occupy, and the best way he could see to benefit them would be to give them a cheap way to export their grain, having always been crippled by the amount they had to pay to draw their grain to market. The farmers in the front sell their grain when it is highest, which those in the rear could not do, for by the time they get their grain to market the price has gone down and they left at the mercy of the grain buyers. For his part he was in favor of Belleville; but if the people of Belleville would not do their duty, he would cut them off and support a Railway to Kingston. (Great Applause). When the men in the front found the market was going up they drew in their 200 bushels per day; and when the farmers in the back Townships heard of the rise, he would draw but his 20 bushels into town. (A voice—And then it would be down.) But should they in the rear get the road, then he could move to the rear and still be on the front. (Cheers). Looking at the Grand Trunk Railway where millions of money had been wasted, he would ask the audience if one of them would now be without it, even if they got their money back. (Several voices, No). Should the road be built either from Belleville or Kingston, he would be glad to see it extended to the Georgian Bay. He then cited Brockville which, after finding its trade had been taken from them by the Rideau Canal, were glad to give $400,000 towards a Railway to the rear, in order to reasscitate their lost trade. (Applause.)

M. BOWELL, Esq., M. P., in seconding the motion, stated that the question had been so ably handled by the last speaker, and the Warden in his opening speech, that he would not go into detail; but agreed with his friend, Mr. Flint, that farmers did not occupy that position, socially and otherwise they deserved to occupy as the proprietors of the soil. He had found when travelling in England that the tenant as well as proprietor, farmers occupied a far higher position socially, than the owners of the soil do here, but the time was coming, when with the advantages of our school system, they would assume it. He would not attempt to dictate to or advise them, when direct taxation was the question to be considered, they should be the best judges of their ability to pay, and the advantages to be derived from such taxation, but if they were prepared to tax themselves for a road they should have his assistance to get it no matter where it reached the front. He believed Belleville to be the point they should seek to reach, as the nearest market and consequently the cheapest route; but did not hesitate to say, that if they thought Belleville would not assist them in the undertaking, and Kingston did, he would assist them in taking it to Kingston, (cheers) as he was in favor of a railway to some point on the front, and would do all in his power officially and otherwise to assist them in building a road. (Applause.) He was in conversation with Mr. Joly, member for Lotbinière, while in Ottawa, upon the subject of wooden railways, and that gentleman expressed himself so much in favor of them, that he had not only organized a company to contract a road from Quebec to Gosford, but had gone into the scheme with the aid of his purse. In conclusion he would say if the people were prepared to go ahead with the scheme, and assist in this, he was prepared to help them in any way he could. (Cheers.)

DR. BOULTER, M. P. P., in supporting the resolution would say, that although he had said he was not in favor of taxation to build a railroad; times had somewhat changed, and if those most interested were prepared to tax themselves, he was willing to help them to the extent of his power, and hoped if a railroad was built that the mineral lands would be turned to good account. If he could do anything in the Ontario Legislature to further their interest, he would be glad to do so, and should press upon the Government the necessity of aiding such works, as the best means of developing the resources of the country. The motion was then carried unanimously.

Moved by T. S. AGAR, Esq., seconded by JAMES REID, Esq., and

Resolved,—That it is expedient that the principle of granting bonuses by the municipalities interested in aid of the Company which may be formed to build a Railway now generally adopted with reference to the Toronto Narrow Guage Railways, should be carried out in the case of the Railway now under consideration.

In making the motion he would state that the question under consideration was, what the different municipalities would give as bonuses to the undertaking, as it was no doubt to the interest of the north that a Railroad should be built; but this could not be done unless the different municipalities interested gave good encouragement in the shape of bonuses, therefore if they wanted the road built they must come forward and give money encouragement to some company, as the farmers were the men that would reap the benefits.

JAMES REID, Esq., of Tweed, seconded the resolution, and said, that at a meeting of the electors in Hungerford last week the meeting carried a motion unanimously that they would give $10,000 or even $15,- 000 as a bonus to any one who would build a Railway. They were in favor of Belleville, but if they could not get a road to Belleville then they would go for Kingston, provided they got a station at Tweed.

A. SMALLFIELD, Esq., Madoc, in supporting the resolution stated that he was in favor of giving a bonus of $10,000 to the road, but he thought that $25,000 should be given rather than lose it, for his part he was in favor of the Kingston route.—(Applause.) He had seen it stated in THE INTELLIGENCER, that the Board of Trade expressed the belief that $100,000 could be raised in that Town in aid of the road, but they had from Kingston want was of much more value to them, the assurance of their hearty co-operation in this matter.

GEO. NEILSON, Esq., Belleville, was glad to see the meeting so much in favor of a good communication to the front, and thought that a Railway could be constructed that would pay. He had years ago advocated a Narrow Guage Road to the back country, and cited the action of the Townships around Toronto in aid of their Railway as an incentive to the farmers of Madoc. He then argued in favor of such a road, showing the advantages it would be to the country and to the farmers in particular.

The motion was then carried unanimously.

Moved by J. R. KETCHESON, Esq., seconded by W. H. TUMELTY, Esq., and

Resolved,—That the Rate-payers of the Township of Madoc now present, endorse the resolution passed at the preliminary meeting held in the Town Hall, on the 9th inst., for granting a bonus of $10,000 in aid of the Railway.

He stated that he thought the north was placed in a position inferior to those parts of Ontario which had a Railway at their door; for his part, rather than have no Railway he would be willing to give a bonus of $20,000, as he had to draw his produce 25 miles. He was in favor of a road to Kingston. (Applause).

W. H. TUMELTY, Esq., Madoc, on seconding the resolution, said that to send to Belleville what grain he had already forwarded had cost him $45, whilst his taxation for the whole road would be only $5 per year for a bonus of $10,000, and having lived near Kingston he had always found it a first rate market. He was also in favor of Kingston. (Applause).

S. HART, Esq., Madoc, in supporting the resolution, stated that formerly he was not in favor of any road, but after travelling up west he found that he had been keeping a penny over his eye, which, when pulled aside, he could see a pound.

The motion was then carried.

Messrs. FLINT and Mr. NEILSON stated that having land in Madoc they were happy to supplument the vote.

Mr. FOSTER, who had brought with him a plan of a Wooden Railway which he had invented, stated that he considered a light iron road, after having built them in Moscow, not suitable to our cold climate. The iron was not worn out but hammered to pieces in winter when there was no elasticity in the ground, and therefore he was now engaged to build a road in the west the coming season. The plan he proposed was a Wooden Railway, three inches wide and five inches deep, which would carry engines of 18 tons, and run six times daily at the rate of 15 miles per hour at the cost for, besides grading, of $1,760 per mile, built as it would be here, through a wooded country. He also contended that an iron road could not be made with a grading of over 100 feet to the mile, while he would construct a road on his plan for $3000 per mile, including grading. He went on at some length to explain the advantages of his over other systems.

WM. ROBERTSON, Mayor of Kingston, stated that before leaving he would like to hear the feelings of the present meeting as to which route they would desire, and they would find the people of Kingston in earnest to help them. (Applause.) He was glad to see the people of Madoc in earnest, as he would guarantee for every dollar Madoc would give, Kingston would give five, and as grain always sought the ocean, they would be nearer the ocean at Kingston than they would be at Belleville, and considered that produce could be sold to better advantage in Kingston than in any other place in Canada, and was sure Kingston would take $50,000 in stock as well, as well as give $50,000 as a bonus.—Kingston had no personal interest in the matter, (hear, hear,) further than the general prosperity of the city.

Mr. LIVINGST N, Kingston, then gave the prices of produce in Kingston.

Mr. FLINT was sure the price for produce in Belleville was as high as it is in Kingston, at any time of the year.

Mr. CUNNINGHAM, of Kingston, was delighted to be present at such a large meeting, and thought the time had come that the county should have a cheap railroad, and that nine-tenth's of the merchants of Kingston were in favor of the road, and when the time would come to speak, they would speak financially, so as to please the people of Madoc. The most influential men in Kingston had come with them to the boat, and pledged themselves to aid liberally in this undertaking, so deeply did they feel an interest in the road.

Mr. T. HOLDEN stated that this was the third Railroad meeting he had attended in the same hall, and, although he was not able to make them a proposition, he was prepared to say that Belleville stood on the same footing as Kingston. He was sorry to see the feeling that was manifested against Belleville, (a voice—You deserve it), and hoped they would give them fair play. He would like to know what had caused the feeling against Belleville, as Belleville had long been in favor of a Railway; but if any man had come from Belleville a very short time since, and advocate as you do to-night, taxation to build a road he would be hooted out of the Township. Then why blame Belleville for not advocating what the people of Madoc did not want and would not listen to? Though he had long known the prosperity of the back Townships depended on a Railway, never before would Madoc consent to be taxed for it, and he would not blame them if they could not get it to one place to try another. It was Belleville that taxed itself for the survey already made, and why was not Madoc willing then to tax themselves for the road? It was because the people that are rich now had that year to get an Act of Parliament passed to furnish them seed grain. (A voice, but we paid for it). Had Kingston done more towards building the Road? As far as he was concerned he would advise them to build it to the place that it would pay best, as it would be to the interest of all to do so. The Belleville Board of Trade had said that there would be no trouble to raise $100,000 in aid of the road to Belleville, and all that he asked was fair play and not for them to be led away by blind prejudices, but see first what Belleville would give before committing themselves.

Mr. GILDERSLEEVE, of Kingston, would like to know which road would suit the people of Madoc best, and would like to argue the question fairly. Kingston was nearest to both the Montreal and the United States markets; he thought Kingston was the best market, as freight could be had west for less money than from any port in Canada, and that affected the farmers materially, as the less freight stuff can be carried for, the more farmers will receive for all kinds of their products. He then referred to the vast mineral resources of this part of the country, which could be carried to the west at a saving of fifty cents per mile less than from any other port, for if it pays to ship iron ore from Arnprior to Kingston at 75 cents per ton more than it would cost to ship it from Brockville, it would surely pay to send it from Madoc to Kingston. He thought the people in Belleville never in their heart wanted the road, because the stores in the north would tap their stores in the front, but Kingston would not suffer in that way, as she never did receive any trade from Madoc, and thought that if a short road paid, a long road would pay better, and therefore Kingston should be the place. (Applause.) He then proceeded to argue that as apples were bought in and about Bowmanville for the American market, a large carrying trade could be cultivated in this article to Kingston from the northern townships, because Kingston was nearest the American market.

Mr. NEILSON contended that an air line from Madoc to Kingston would run parallel with the Grand Trunk Railway, and that on account of the greater length of the route taxation would have to be increased and larger bounties given.

Mr. LAKE stated that at a meeting of their County Council a committee had been appointed to devise means to make the same kind of road as proposed, from Napanee to the rear Townships, and if Belleville got this road they would not at all be put out. Camden, in the event of this road running to Kingston, would give as large a bonus, if not larger than any Township on the line, (applause), as they feel anxious to have the rear of the Townships developed, and suggested a committee to provide for a survey immediately, and they would stand their share of the expense.

JAS. BROWN, M. P., of Belleville, stated that he had been called on by the people of the Village of Trenton to state that Trenton was the nearest market, and to advocate Trenton strongly. He thought the road should be an iron road, being the most durable and the cheapest, and thought they should see which place would do most towards the road, for he knew Trenton was liberal.

Mr. SHIBLEY, Warden of Frontenac, thought a road was desirable but as the matter had been properly ventilated he would not argue it, but he thought Kingston most desirable as a terminus, as stuff sent to Kingston in winter, would have longer to ship it than at Belleville. He also thought the longer the route the better it would pay.

Mr. BOWDES was glad to see the Belleville delegates so earnest in the matter; and thought the longer road the better, as it would accommodate a larger section of the country. A great deal has been said about the indebtedness of Kingston but he could tell them the debt was covered by a sinking fund. He wished to act in unison with the farmers of North Hastings to carry out the scheme, as they would have by going to Kingston the trade of North Hastings, Addington and Frontenac, and by throwing a larger amount of grain together at Kingston they would obtain a better price, as it is shipped from Kingston to foreign parts at less freight. The price of grain would thereby be increased.

Mr. HAM did not come to lecture people upon a change of sentiments, but would say that he represented the village of Newburg where they had held a meeting and almost unanimously agreed to give their share towards the road, if it came that way. He would like to hear an expression of the meeting on the matter as he did not consider that the people of Belleville wished a road under any circumstances.

Mr. LOTT came to hear what was to be said. He considered all roads that run the longest route paid the best, and that all the Townships from here to Kingston would give from 10 to 20,000 dollars bonus each.

ALD. ALLEN stated that if he thought the road would do stop at Madoc, he would not be willing to vote a penny for it, but he thought it should be extended westward, when every Alderman in their Council would vote for an appropriation.

It was then moved by Mr. SMALLFIELD, and seconded by G. W. Rose, and

Resolved,—That the following gentlemen be a committee to confer with the different municipalities relative to a preliminary survey, and the amounts they would contribute towards it. Messrs. Ketcheson, Dr. Elmer, Thos. Cross, W. H. Jones, W. H. Tumelty, A. D. Ross, A. Smallfield, A. F. Wood, and P. Seymour.

The question of route was then put to the meeting, when it was decided amid great applause that Kingston should be the eastern terminus, only one person holding up his hand in favor of Belleville.

The thanks of the meeting was then given to the chairman for his conduct in the chair, and the assemblage separated at 6.30 p. m.

At half past seven, the Delegates from all sections of the country, were entertained at an excellent supper provided by Mrs Moon, by the people of Madoc. The Warden, A. F. Wood, Esq., in the chair, and Messrs. A. B. Ross, and John White in the vice chairs. The usual loyal toasts were drank and responded to, and the Delegates left at an early hour having to reach Belleville in time to catch the train, well pleased with the reception they had received from the people of Madoc.

FENIAN PRISONERS NOT TO BE RELEASED.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Mr. Gladstone has written a letter to the President of the Limerick Amnesty Association on the subject of the course of the government towards the imprisoned Fenians. He says the members of the government have carefully considered the many memorials for the release of the political prisoners which have been presented from time to time, and have unanimously decided that such release would be contrary to their duty as guardians of the public security and peace.

American Despatches.

DUKE OF EDINBURGH AT YOKOHAMA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—The steamer 'America,' which arrived here yesterday, brought the following general news:—

The reception of the Duke of Edinburgh at Yokohama was very cordial. The British residents presented addresses, to which the Prince replied appropriately.

JAPANESE WAR VESSELS.

A fleet of Japanese war vessels were at Yeddo.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

An attempt to assassinate the British Minister at Yeddo was frustrated.

MURDER OF MR. PRINCE.

Mr. Prince was a staunch ally of the Tycoon, and his murder was on account of some political differences.

FEARS FOR THE SAFETY OF A STEAMSHIP.

The ship America, from Hong Kong, brings no news of the ship 'Flying Scud,' which left Yokohama on the 17th August last. It is known that she encountered a typhoon. It is feared the ship and all hands are lost.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 21.—The Legislature balloted four times to-day for U. S. Senator. The last ballot stood, Johnson, 43; Netherrige, 31; Scattering, 24. Johnson wanted but four votes to elect him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A special to the 'Post' from Washington says, "Measures are to be taken at once by Government authorities to obtain the release of six American citizens incarcerated in British prisons for alleged complicity in Fenian movements. Some correspondence has already taken place between Secretary Fish and Gladstone in relation to this question, but as yet no formal request has been made for the release of the prisoners. During an interview last evening, the President said to Moriarty that the course which the British Government had pursued was not complimentary or courteous to us, but he believed that when they understood that this Government intends to insist upon protecting all its citizens, a more liberal spirit would prevail, and those now held in confinement would be released."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—President Grant specially ordered the seizure of the privateer 'Cuba,' at Wilmington, being determined to stand up strictly to the letter and spirit of the neutrality laws. The trial of the case, however, will go on as if no seizure had taken place.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a deplorable state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, health once more stalin that depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has since remarked by person conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil the whitest linen, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it operates upon those who have not, for that it cures their neighbors and friends, and is not that which induces one to do always what—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compounders. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills speedily cure:

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Lassitude and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the disordered action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. No one who once gives these Pills a trial will hereafter be without them. Every body will find that a few of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from the cleansing, healing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, as experts at medicine? Or unless when they now come?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are daily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the genuineness of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, ulcerated sore throat, sores, pimples or boils, tetter or ringworm, cancer, erysipelas, blotches on the skin, all diseases arising from an impure state of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and all diseases of the stomach. It is an equal in a mild and safe purgative and corrective for ordinary purposes; a powerful purgative after the system has been rendered weak and nervous by the use of mercurial or other severe medicines, for general debility, for disease arising from an imperfect or vitiated or deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases of a low type, such as cold chills, chills and fever, remittents, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, &c., and may properly be called Pain Killer, as it may be used for the purpose for which Pain Killers or Relieves are used, such as cramp or pain in the stomach, sour stomach, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, tetanus or lockjaw. Should be used in time of need. It will give great success as a Liniment. Sold at 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present conclusive style of putting up the medicines in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine at the former price of similar proprietary preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures. Its virtues are strikingly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been expelled and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the serofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that we scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous humors is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of decaying tissues undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed luxuriously throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may form in the lungs, ulcers in the liver, or tumors in the bowels, stomach, or glands. Again, it may manifest itself in the form of boils, pimples, blotches, or some such parts of the body. Hence the occasional use of a good blood purifier, Sarsaparilla is the best available, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this medicine: Ulcerative Affections, Tumors, Boils, Pimples, Blotches, Blood Poisons, Pustular Eruptions, Scrofulous Sores, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Tetter, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various painful maladies ascribed to nervous derangements.

Syphilis, Ulcerative Sore Throat and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our pamphlet, published gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield kindly to it; but in the Chronic Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, in which it is generally inert, as they often do, from the resulting poisons in the blood, Ayer's SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are languishing from Nervous Depression, Sleeplessness, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, will find in it the great Invigoratnatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and strengthening evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine has any remedy won so wide and strong a reputation in the cure of troubles of the throat and lungs, as the excellent CHERRY PECTORAL. It has stood the test of a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has proved itself higher and higher in estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character, its power to cure the most distressing of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable antidote for pulmonary disease, and hence as a soldier forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the safest and most effectual remedy to be given for incipient consumption, and the only one procurable that can be depended on. As a preventive against insidious attacks of croup, it should be kept in every house. Many of the most eminent clergymen are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all of which, if not cured, are liable to end in fatal throat disease.

Although settled consumption is thought incurable, still many dangerous affections of the throat and lungs, considered consumption, have been completely cured, and the patients restored to sound health and vigor by Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the throat and lungs, that few of the severe cases of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, either the Cherry Pectoral they would yield kindly to it.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral according to directions.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish certificates of them here. It is enough that we assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure.

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Mercury, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient.

Those who reside in districts, or attempt to visit districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel, in the history of American Ague. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the wonderful cures effected by obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Undetermined diseases, either resident to, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all round the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe—has received a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1868, is without exception, the most valuable, safe, serious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unanimous approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Prepared and sold wholesale by the Proprietor,

Castle-Building.

My childhood mimic castles wrought,
Of fable-fore from off-land brought;
Who does not, when a child,
Build castles of the widest scope,
Through which child-fancies dimly grope,
Enchanting, how'er wild?

Each bell-flower, with its spreading dome,
Was model of a fairy home,
Where I would a princess be;
Each rolling cloud a chariot wheel,
With glowing colors to reveal
My wealth of royalty.

Then girlhood clearer visions woke,
Through wand'ring of hope, with bolder stroke;
This time the castle wall
Was hewn from granite stores of earth,
By knightly hand of regal birth,
Whom love crowned lord of all.

No venture seemed too large or bold
For love's transmuting into gold;
With love I walked, a queen,
Through envied halls of social pride,
Wherein no evil could betide,
Nor shadow be foreseen.

The earth seemed only made for such
As we to fashion to our touch!
That God had other way,
To differ wide from that we planned,
Or by our finite wisdom scanned,
He did not then betray.

But steadily He overthrew
Each castle as it proudly grew;
Each venture on the sea,
By wind or storm in turn He wrecked,
Till not a gleam the vista flecked
Of sails launched joyously.

No gilded palace now I tread,
No Midas-king is he I've wed;
But better far to me,
The generous home I've learned to prize,
Within his heart, beneath his eyes,
Whose light beams tenderly.

No silken curtains richly fall
O'er diamond panes from pictured wall;
But never storm or sun
Beats on me harshly, for a veil
Of love, whose colors never pale,
He weaves till day be done.

Within its roseate folds I dwell,
Nor fear the earth beneath its spell;
A loved and trusted wife
Of one subdued to lighter will,
Has joy beyond her hope to fill
The golden bowl of life.

The mimic structure of the child,
'Mid tangled tore and rose and wild,
Or dream of maidenhood,
Floating adown the coming years,
In gilded barge her lover steers,
Is faint to later good.

Of love and light restrained to pray
For that mysterious better way
Than ours, our once delight;
Truer the winds that fill our sail,
Clearer the skies which now prevail,
When steered by faith, not sight.

Faith that a Will encircles us,
All-perfect, though mysterious;
That if to it we yield,
It compasses our restless way,
Leading to rest and peace alway,
And treasures, Faith-revealed.

—Hours at Home.

A Lion in the Way.

Every person who aims at doing good finds obstructions lying directly across his path. Natural indolence is one. Doing good is up hill work. It calls for effort and self-denial. It sometimes demands all the energy a man can summon. The listless, lazy, selfish disposition says: 'It's asking too much of me.' It is easy thus to give Christian duty the go-by, and leave its discharge to more heroic spirits.

Another impediment is a belief that it's of no use. We decide thus ere an attempt is made. We give the devil credit for more strength than is possessed by Almighty God. The strong man armed is in our view capable of holding the citadel against the strongest party in the universe. So we sit down and do nothing, under a conviction that it's of no use to try. By an intimidating unbelief we suffer the devil to have things all his own way.

Again, we dread opposition. Knowing that men are not in favor of religion—that sometimes they are bitterly opposed—we retreat behind this cowardly idea, and sit still in inaction. 'It will do more harm than good,' says one. How do you know that? Perhaps you are mistaken. The enemy of all good may have sent this lion across your path to frighten you back from duty. Go forward and see if the lion isn't muzzled.

Another barrier to Christian usefulness is the belief that we are not adapted to do good in certain directions. It may be so. But how can we know until we have tried? Let us, in God's strength, go to work; and if we fail the responsibility will not lie at our door. God accomplishes some of His mightiest works by the weakest instruments.

The Power of Prayer.

John B ——— was a drunkard; for more than twenty years he had been addicted to the use of the intoxicating cup and as a natural consequence, divided most of his time between the dram shop and the jail. 'There goes old B ———, drunk, as usual,' was a common expression. Tears, prayers, expostulations, all seemed to be in vain.

The evil spirit seemed to have absolute control of this poor wretch of humanity. The wife's pleadings were hushed by blasphemous oaths; the children's cry for bread by cruel blows, until both wife and children learned to shudder at the approach of him who should have been the comfort and support of the little household. All seemed dark, very dark, in that desolate home; yet God's spirit was working there, and he was about to shed peace and joy around the family hearth stone.

John came home from his carousal one night looking more sober than usual.—After sitting silent for awhile he spoke: 'Wife, Mary, I'm going to take the pledge, and be a better man, husband and father. Will you pray with me, Mary?' Mary did pray, a fervent, effectual prayer, and John did take the pledge, and keep it too. Better still than this, he took the Saviour to his heart, and found that peace the world cannot give or take away. When asked on one occasion—

'Mr. B ———, how came you to turn about so suddenly? It really seems a miracle that a man who drank as you did should have strength of mind enough to break off so.' Mr. B ——— replied,—

'I have made resolutions to reform before; yes, time and again, but they all amounted to nothing, they were made in my own strength. But this time I asked God to help me, and promised, if he would, to devote the rest of my life to His service. He has helped me; it's his strength, not mine, that enables me to stand firm.'

Mr. B ——— is now an honorable, upright Christian man, and a living witness of the power of prayer.—Watchman.

An Awful Story.

There was once an awful little girl who had an awful way of saying "awful" to everything. She lived in an awful house, in an awful street, in an awful village which was an awful distance from every other awful place. She went to an awful school, where she had an awful teacher, who gave her awful lessons out of awful books. Every day she was so awful hungry that she ate an awful amount of food, so that she looked awful healthy. Her hat was awful small, and her feet awful large. She went to an awful Church, and her minister was an awful preacher. When she took an awful walk she climbed awful hills, and when she got awful tired she sat down under an awful tree to rest herself. In summer she found the weather awful hot, and in winter awful cold. When it didn't rain there was an awful drought, and when the awful drought was over, there was an awful rain. So that this awful girl was all the time in an awful state, and if she don't get over saying "awful" about everything, I am afraid she will, by and by, come to an awful end.

Suicide of the Lord Justice Clerk of Scotland.

The telegrams recently announced that Mr. Patton, Lord Justice Clerk of Scotland, had been murdered, and his body thrown into the Almond. It now appears that Mr. Patton came to his death by his own hand, and the act is ascribed to the "dread of revelations of the Bridgewater Bribery Commission.' An English contemporary contains the following tragic narrative:

The introduction of the Judge's name into the proceedings at Bridgewater had occurred but a few days before; and it is related the Sunday morning before this disappearance he received letters referring to the inquiry, which troubled him so greatly that his restless conduct in Monzie Church was generally observed. The rest of the story is a tragedy so terrible that it cannot fail to make a powerful impression upon the political conscience of the community. Tortured with the knowledge that the ermine which he wore must soon be spoiled—exaggerating, no doubt, his ancient offence, in the keen sensitiveness of an awakened moral feeling, and the intolerable apprehension of having his social and judicial honor degraded, the hapless gentleman determined to die.

It appears to be quite clear that he rose from his bed early on Monday morning with the resolve firmly fixed and with the plan of the fatal deed arranged. Taking his razor-case, he stole across the lawn of mansion to a spot upon the Almond, where the stream tumbles impetuously over boulders and jutting rocks into a deep chasm. Here he began to cut his throat, but, finding his neck-tie in the way, loosened it and flung it down; after which he deeply gashed his windpipe, and then swung himself into the flood by means of an ash-sapling over hanging the water, upon which he left the marks of his blood-stained fingers. The rushing "linn" carried him over the ledge and dashed him among the stones, depositing the corpse at last in a pool a hundred yards below the fall. Dragging the river yard by yard, the searchers on Friday found the Lord Justice's body. The book caught the dead man by the right hand, and lifted him to the surface; the horrid gash upon his throat still gaping and red. Thus, the figure of the first Scotch criminal Judge, fished from the waters of his own estate, with the signs upon him of his desperate twofold suicide, would appear to furnish a frightful pendent to the Bribery Commissions.

Injury to the Atlantic Cable.

A fresh injury is reported to have happened to one of the cables of the Atlantic Telegraph Company. The accident, which has caused the parting of the cable, occurred about seventy miles from Hearts' Content, near the locality of the former fractures of the line. The injured cable is the one laid in 1866, and which has alone suffered from the casualities. The present is the fourth fracture that has occurred to the 1866 cable on the Newfoundland side! About six weeks since a fault was also discovered in the same cable a short distance from Valentia. A steamer has been for some time lying off the harbor, waiting for fair weather to proceed to the spot where the fault exists, to repair the damage. The causes of these fractures has not yet been distinctly stated, but there is reason to believe that the course taken in laying the cable—the latter portion having been laid in a heavy log—was over rough sunken rocks, and that the cable has been injured by the chafing upon them. The first injury to the cable off Heart's Content had every appearance of being caused by an iceberg settling down upon it. The second injury bore traces of wilful damage, and suspicion attaches to a strange craft, which, during the time of the excitement about the Fenians, was seen hovering about the spot where the rupture took place. The 1865 cable remains perfectly safe, as it was laid in a channel that was carefully surveyed. This is the cable which was lost in the attempt to lay it by the original Atlantic Telegraph Company.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 23.

FINE PEARS.—Mr. Wm. McD. Cook, of Thurlow, has laid upon our table a fine specimen of Pears, grown by him, one weighing eleven ounces. It is gratifying to see that this delicious fruit is being grown more extensively in our county.

HYPERBOREAN.—A violent snow storm set in at St. Louis on Tuesday morning, and continued until noon. The storm came from the north, and has prevailed in Illinois, Missouri, and Kansas. What a country! Say nothing about Canada after that.

POLITICAL CHANGES.—The Toronto Leader, not always good authority it may be premised, says:—"Information in our possession leads us to believe that Mr. Alexander Mackenzie is going to resign his seat for Lambton, in consequence of ill health, and that Mr. George Brown will run for that constituency, with a view to having a seat in the House of Commons next session."

THE INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY.—A despatch from Ottawa says: "The following tenders for sections 9 and 12 of the Intercolonial railroad have been accepted by the Commissioners and approved of by the Privy Council to-day:—Section 9: J. B. Bertrand & Co., of Quebec, $354,897, being at the rate of $16,899 per mile; section 12: Sumner & Somers, of Monckton, $507,600, being at the rate of $24,318 per mile.

"FENIANS AT BELLEVILLE."—Such is the heading of a paragraph in the Kingston Whig, followed by the following:—"One "worthy city father contributed the intelli- "gence that the Fenians were at Belleville, "and were intent upon destroying that pretty "town, and sacking THE INTELLIGENCER "office and burning its editors—who are "Orangemen." What a consoling reflection it must be to the Whig to know that there is no body of men in existence that considers it of sufficient importance to either sack the office or burn the editors, knowing that both can be rendered at any moment as harmless as sucking doves.

THE INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY CONTRACTS. We notice by the telegraphic reports from Ottawa to the Globe, that the same fault finding with the Commissioners is continued. The cry of the Globe and its correspondent heretofore, has been that extravagance and all kinds of corruption, were the characteristics of the Commissioners and Government. Now, however, they are day after day denounced because they have given the contracts to the lowest tenders, a proceeding which the country will not condemn. The course pursued by the Commissioners is the only correct one they could pursue. Did they do otherwise, no paper in Canada would teem with more abuse of them than the Globe. To us it appears that the men who have taken these contracts are those who would have been the sub-contractors, had the work been given out at a large sum to large and wealthy firms, whose profits are now cut off.

THE QUICKEST PASSAGE ON RECORD.—The steamship Pereire, Captain Duchesne, of the Havre line, arrived at New York on Monday, from Europe, having made the quickest passage across the Atlantic on record. She left Havre on the 9th inst., at four, p. m., and passed Sandy Hook on Monday morning at eight o'clock, making the entire distance of over 3,000 miles, in eight days and sixteen hours. Her officers report that she would have been in five hours earlier, had it not been for the strong head wind encountered on the last two days of the passage. The Pereire has made a number of very quick voyages. In November last, she made a remarkable voyage and her last trip preceding this was also a very quick one.

The North Renfrew Election.

Sir Francis Hincks has managed to get one of his opponents out of the way, and now no doubt has a much better chance of election. The organ of Sir Francis, the Toronto Leader, says that Mr. Supple, the member for the Local Legislature, has resigned; that Mr. Murray, who has been in the field opposing Sir Francis, has also resigned and will run for the Local, thus leaving but two candidates for the Commons, Sir Francis Hincks and Mr. Findlay, the Grit candidate. Had the Grits given their support to Mr. Murray, the chances are that Sir Francis would have been beaten. But the Grits were never known to make any self-sacrifice in a case of this kind; and although Murray was a much stronger man than Findlay, and had claims which Mr. Findlay and the Grits should have recognised, he does not evidently preferred the election of Hincks to Yielding. All we can do now is to hope that both Murray and Hincks may be beaten.

Kingston and the Railway.

The vote in Madoc a few days since in favor of making Kingston the terminus of a Northern Railway, has had its effect already upon the value of real estate in that city. We recommend the following from the Daily News of the 22nd inst., to the special notice of some of our town fogies who are opposed to all Railways:—

"The selection of Kingston as the terminus of the Madoc Railway is having a very good effect. People feel that the prospects of the city are much bettered; and there can be no question, the value of city property has improved thereby. One gentleman avowed that he felt himself richer by several thousand dollars for the decision. Another on being asked about the value of his property answered that he felt less inclined to sell now than he did last week. All are sanguine that the construction of this Railway will be one of the best possible things for Kingston, better than any project that has been devised within the recollection of the present generation. It has been computed that were the value of property to increase only twenty-five per cent. the addition to the wealth of Kingston would be upwards of a million of dollars, so that it would pay us if the whole cost of the line were to fall on this city. The property of the rear townships, and particularly of the townships through which the line will pass, will also be greatly enhanced in value.—An agent for the sale of land in Hinchinbrooke has doubled his price in the expectation of easily obtaining it, and we suppose he will not be disappointed."

News Condensed.

—The Erie Railway men are still on strike.

—A large Lynx was killed in Waterloo last week. It weighed 41 lbs.

—Prince Arthur arrived in Montreal on the 22nd last.

—The gunboat "Rescue" is lying at Kingston dock waiting for something to turn up.

—Kingston is going to have a mass meeting about the railway.

—Kingston papers are in ecstacies over the result of the Madoc meeting.

—A Theological Chair is to be established in connection with Victoria College.

—Barley sold as low in Toronto yesterday, as 50 cents, and as high as 74 cts.

—The earthquake yesterday morning, was generally felt in the New England States.

—A number of prisoners who escaped from the Cornwall gaol a few days ago, were re-taken.

—The Indians had a great feast at Brantford on the 19th inst., when the ox given them by Prince Arthur was roasted. About 500 of the dusky tribe was present.

—The propeller 'Avon' was beached near Forty-mile Point, Lake Huron, on the 14th. She was loaded with grain and flour, which will be a total loss.

—In St. Louis, on the 19th, a violent storm lasted five hours. The ground was covered with three inches of snow. Talk about "Hyperborean" Canada after that.

—A disastrous flood is again reported in the upper settlements of the Saguenay. Bridges have been carried away in every direction, and in many places the roads are impassable. The loss will fall on the Local Government.

—A wisconsin paper alleges that the secret of the success of Chicago newspapers lies in the fact that every man and woman in the town takes every paper, for fear a divorce notice in which they are interested may be published and they not find it out.

—A new kind of confidence dodge is practised at Middletown. When the train arrives a nice young man jumps off and kisses the best looking girl at the depot, under the mistake, as he says, that she is his sister. He apologizes so nicely that the girls are getting so they look for him regular.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

DEAR SIR,—Among other incidents worthy of notice in connection with our late memorable Sabbath School Convention, there is one more which ought not, I think, to be allowed to pass by without remark, viz: the fulness and promptitude with which the programme of the proceedings of the Convention were reported in the Daily Intelligencer. It was certainly a degree of enterprise and public spirit on the part of your journal which is highly worthy of recognition, and brought home very forcibly to us the great privilege of having so ably a conducted daily newspaper published among us.

S. S. DELEGATE.

Belleville, Oct. 21, 1869.

A kind physician wishing to smooth the last hours of a poor woman, asked her if there was anything he could do for her. Looking up she replied: "Doctor, I have always thought that I would like to have a glass butter-dish before I died."

County Council.

CARLOW AND MAYO.

A petition from a large number of the inhabitants of Carlow and Mayo, representing that they had a sufficient number of inhabitants to form themselves into a separate Municipality; that they did not wish to be annexed to any other Township, but prayed the Council to establish them as a distinct municipality.

BAD ROADS.

A communication from W. H. Carpenter was read, claiming $25 compensation for loss of time to teams from breakage on account of the bad state of the roads.

Mr. JONES handed in a petition from a number of inhabitants of Marmora, praying for a sum of money to repair the road from Marmora hill to Boyd's.—Referred to Committee on Roads and Bridges.

A letter was read from Dr. C. S. Hamilton, calling attention to the bad state of a road in the northern part of Tyendinaga.

LANDS SOLD FOR TAXES.

Mr. APPLEBY handed in a petition from J. J. Hazlett, representing that he had purchased Lot No. 3 in the 4th concession of Marmora at Sheriff's Sale of Taxes, that he had been notified by Messrs. Morris & Sampson, of Toronto, that the lot in question belonged to the University of Toronto; he therefore wished the amount he had paid thereon refunded.

The WARDEN said Mr. Hazlett ought to send his letter to the Council of Marmora.

RIFLE BUTT.

A communication from Lt.-Col. A. A. Campbell and other officers of the Hastings Rifle Association, calling attention to the destruction by fire of their Rifle butt, and praying the Council to offer a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the incendiary.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

The County Treasurer's Report was read, and referred to Committee on Gravel Roads.

FRANKFORD BRIDGE.

Mr. Emo said there was great dissatisfaction about the contract for the Frankford Bridge. He did not think the Committee had been consulted on the matter. As a member of the Gravel Road Committee, he had been asked about the matter, but could give no information.

The WARDEN said the contract was given out by the Gravel Road Committee, and if all the members did not meet it was their own fault.

Mr. EMO did not know when the Committee was to meet. He had not been notified.

Mr. CONLEY said he had not been notified.

The WARDEN said that at the meeting of the Council it was understood that the Committee would meet [illegible] and were ready to open the tenders for the Bridge.

Mr. DALEY said he so understood it, and came in for the special purpose of attending the meeting. He felt annoyed that the other members of the Committee were not present.

The WARDEN repeated that at the last meeting of the Council it was understood what time the Committee was to meet.

Mr. EMO said he did not understand it so, and he wanted some other authority than the Warden's.

The WARDEN did not care whether Mr. Emo was satisfied or not. Mr. Emo had the same notice that other members of the Committee had, and he had no right to censure him.

Mr. EMO considered it an act of discourtesy to the Committee. He was not the only one dissatisfied.

Mr. Rowe said he had not been notified, and he did not remember of any understanding at the meeting of the Council.

Mr. APPLEBY could not say whether he remembered it or not.

Mr. EMO—Where is the resolution appointing the meeting?

The CLERK read a resolution that the County Surveyor be instructed to advertise for tenders for the Frankford Bridge, such tenders to be received by the Gravel Road Committee on the 15th day of May.

The WARDEN—In the face of that resolution is it right that I should be censured in the manner I have been? When members of the Committee did not attend there was no alternative but for those who were present to do what work was to be done.

Mr. EMO—You take the whole responsibility of the Road Committee, and we have been treated very discourteously. It is not satisfactory that you should have the whole management of the road. You employ men and dismiss them when you choose.

The WARDEN was responsible to the Council, and was perfectly willing to have his conduct investigated in every act connected with his public position. He felt it most unfair and unjust that he should be subjected to these unfounded charges, particularly when he had spent so much time and taken so much trouble with these matters. If members of the Committee did not attend to their duties it was not his fault. He denied that he employed men without the sanction of the Committee, and the Council well knew that the Committee made detailed reports of the work done, money paid out, &c.

Mr. DALY felt that no fault should be found with the Warden. Full details of all work done, and what was required to be done, were always submitted to the Council. If the Warden had taken the whole responsibility it had been forced upon him by the Committee. It came with very bad grace from members of the Committee who did not attend to their duties to censure the Warden for having simply done his duty.

Mr. FARLEY regretted that any difference should arise like this. It would have been better had notice been given to each member of the Committee.

Mr. EMO said with all Mr. Daly's polishing, it did not make the matter any better.

The WARDEN wished it distinctly understood that not a cent of the money expended on the gravel roads comes into his hands. It is paid to the foreman, who pay it to the men.

Mr. EMO had no desire to make any charge against the Warden, but he felt that as a member of the Committee he had been slighted, and he was not alone. He had been asked about the contract of the Frankford Bridge, and although a member of the Committee, was not able to give any information.

After some further discussion of the same sort, the matter dropped.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Council went into Committee on Roads and Bridges, Mr. Appleby in the Chair.

The Report of the County Surveyor was read, and afterwards considered clause by clause.

TOLL ON FRANKFORD BRIDGE.

Mr. CHARD wished to know if the contractor of Frankford Bridge was charging toll for crossing the Bridge.

The WARDEN was not aware of it. Of course the contractor could stop any one crossing while it was being built.

Mr. FRANCIS said there were some boys whom Mr. Turley allowed to put down and take up planks, so that teams could cross, and the boys got what they could. Mr. Turley did not put a cent into his own pocket.

Mr. ROWE said it was a fact that Mr. Turley was taking toll. A man in his employ, told him he had to pay Turley 20 cts. for crossing to the mill. Of course it was a great inconvenience to the contractor to allow people to cross.

Mr. FRANCIS said Trenton paid Mr. Turley a certain amount, to allow parties going to that village to cross. Sidney would not pay anything, and Mr. Turley would not allow the people of Sidney to cross.

Mr. ROWE.—Mr. Turley did not ask the Sidney Council for anything. He knew Mr. Turley stopped Sidney people from crossing. He was in Frankford the other day, and when he was going to cross the bridge, a bar was put up, and he was compelled to go round by Trenton.

Mr. ROSE said Mr. Turley sent word to him, that if Sidney would give $90 or $100 he would allow the people to cross, but the inhabitants had not expressed a desire to pay him, and the Council had taken no action.—He thought if the inhabitants wanted the bridge kept open, they should have petitioned the Council. Mr. Turley never prevented him from crossing, though he said he would not allow him as Reeve to cross. He does not charge those going to Trenton with grain, but parties coming from Murray to Belleville, he has charged as high as 25 cts. each.

Mr. ARMSTRONG called attention to the manner in which the bridge was covered.—The simple roof was not sufficient protection from the storm; the bridge should have been sided up like the Trenton bridge.

The Committee rose and reported progress.

THE SURVEYOR'S CHARGES.

Mr. DACY wished before the Council adjourned to refer to some charges against him, made in the County Surveyor's report, which were untrue. He regretted to see a man at Mr. Francis' time of life append his name to such a document. With regard to the manner in which he had acquired his property, he might say it was in a more honest way than could be said of the manner in which some of Mr. Francis' employes got theirs.—He referred to the Lonsdale Bridge, and said he understood in conversation with the Warden who visited the place with him, that it would be tendered for, so that the people in that vicinity would have a chance.

The WARDEN said after visiting the bridge and talking the matter over with Mr. Dacy and Mr. Appleby, we determined to have the job given out by tender. When he got home he telegraphed to Mr. Francis, and at his earliest convenience, wrote to him, instructing him to advertise for tenders for bridge. He received in reply from Mr. Francis that he had already made arrangements to go on with the work, had got timber ready, &c., and had commenced the work. He considered at the time that the explanation was satisfactory.

Mr. DACY then explained that after that understanding he was surprised to see Mr. Francis' son at work at the bridge, particularly after he had told his neighbors they would have a chance to tender for the work. He went and examined the bridge and found fault with the manner in which some of the work was done, and found fault because timber had been brought from Trenton, when there was some excellent cedar timber, all ready got out, in the vicinity of the bridge. He characterized the attack upon him as unworthy a public officer, and he took this occasion to deny the truthfulness of the sentiments made in the Surveyor's report respecting himself.

The Council then adjourned until Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and sadly increased prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—The following letter of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite. THE CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE remarks. —"The singular success which Mr. Epps attained by his homœpathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any chemist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold by the Trade only in ½lb., ¼lb., and 1lb. tin lined packets, labelled—JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England. 91—6m[illegible]

CHURCH MEETING IN DUBLIN.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—A large meeting of the clergy was held at Dublin yesterday. Archbishop Trench presiding. It is decided by a large majority that the laity have the right to decide upon matters of doctrine and discipline.

THE HORNET CASE.

The Standard, referring to the action of the United States in preventing the departure of filibustering expeditions for Cuba, argues that however excellent the conduct of the Americans may be in detaining the steamer Hornet, it cannot be a practical example of the future. still less a cause of reproach on the past. The whole basis on which the case of the Alabama rests is that she was not such a vessel as the Hornet, and they could not have proceeded as the Americans have against the Cuban pirate.

PROPERTY OF THE ORLEANS PRINCES.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—It is asserted that a number of deputies propose to introduce a law at the next session of the Corps Legislatif to annul the decree of '52 confiscating the property of the Orleans princes.

THE ANTICIPATED DEMONSTRATION IN PARIS.

The Patrie reports that the ultra radicals are visiting the workshops and urging the men to take part in the demonstration on the 28th inst.

The Presse says that the revolutionary committee in Paris has warned the workmen in the provinces that on the 28th of the present month there will be a general uprising in the city.

The radical journals do not approve of the proposed demonstration.

A DUEL.

A duel was fought to-day between Count De Beaumont and the Duke De Frigiamos. The latter was dangerously wounded.

THE THRONE OF SPAIN.

MADRID, Oct. 22.—Indications now are that the Duke of Montpensier will be the successful candidate for the throne of Spain.

REPUBLICAN LEADER ARRESTED.

The country generally is tranquil. Senor Ozense, the celebrated republican leader in the Cortes, has been arrested.

THE ELECTION OF A KING.

The Press strongly urges the immediate election of a King, and suggests the election of Espartero to the throne for life, and the designation of the Duke of Genoa as his successor.

THE INSURECTION AT DALMATIA.

TRIESTE, Oct. 22.—The insurrection at Cattaro in Dalmatia has been suppressed, but not without bloodshed. A conflict took place on the arrival of the troops. The insurgents made a desperate resistance, but were totally defeated. Order is now completely restored.

EARTHQUAKE.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 22.—About five o'clock this morning a distinct shock of earthquake was experienced in this city. It lasted about three seconds.

TO RESIGN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The Times Washington special says: It is probable that Gen. Butterfield's resignation will be received to-morrow. If he does not resign there is the best authority for saying that he will be removed in any event.

A change will be made in the office of Assistant Treasurer in New York, within a short time.

A FAILURE.

The Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Directors left the city on Wednesday for Cleveland, with Lord and Lockwood. It is currently rumored that the House of Lockwood & Co., will be placed in a condition to resume business, as a settlement with the L. S. & M. S. Road is about to be consummated.

VESSEL ARRESTED.

Mail advices from Nassau state that the steamer 'Lillian,' which sailed with an expeditionary force from Florida for Cuba, had been captured by the British gunboat 'Lapwing' and taken into Nassau where she was released by the authorities under the ruling of the Attorney General that she could not legally be held.

COOPER ELECTED SENATOR.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 22.—The election of Senator to-day gives satisfaction to all but Johnson's most ardent friends. Mr. Cooper, the Senator elect, is one of the ablest lawyers in Tennessee; he was one of the military governors of Johnson's appointees to the judiciary, and was commended for integrity as an officer by Gen. Brownlow in a message to the Legislature.

FIRE—LOSS OF LIFE.

ALBANY, Oct. 22.—The Crockery warehouse of Van Heresen, Charles & Co., was burned last night. Loss $30,000. Several persons were in the upper part of the building, some of them escaping, while the rest of others were cut off. One man named John Pruyn, leaped from the front window and was killed. It is reported that others perished in the flames.

Stock Market.

The Montreal 'Gazette' of yesterday quotes Stocks as follows :—

The improvement noticed last week still continues, and all stocks have been in good demand. Prices are firm, and in some cases a decided advance has been established.

BANK OF MONTREAL—After selling down to 163½ has rapidly advanced, and closes very firm with large sales at 165 to 165½.

BANK OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA—The demand for this stock continues, and during the week large amounts were sold at 106 to 106½, holders now asking 106½.

CITY BANK—Has been in rather better demand with sales at 99½, 99¾, and 99¾.

MOLSON'S BANK—Is without change; considerable amounts are placed at 102, but there were to-day no buyers over 101.

MERCHANTS' BANK—There was a steady demand for this stock, and very large amounts were placed at 104¼ and 104½. To-day an advance of two per cent. was obtained.

MECHANICS' BANK—Books closed.

BANQUE DU PEUPLE—Was sold during the week at 104½ to 105. There are still buyers at the latter price.

BANQUE JACQUES CARTIER—There are buyers but no sellers at quotations.

QUEBEC BANK—Is asked for at 103.

BANQUE NATIONALE—Transfer books closed.

UNION BANK—There are buyers at 103½ to 106, and sellers at 106¼ to 106½.

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS BANK—Remains unchanged; no transactions reported.

ONTARIO BANK—Buyers now offer 98, and sellers ask 99.

GORE BANK—Buyers at 37½. No stock in market.

ROYAL CANADIAN BANK—After selling at 62 and 64½, closes weak with no buyers over 61.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE—Has advanced, there being to-day buyers at 104½.

MONTREAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY—Ruled steady throughout the week with small sales at 136, which price would still be paid.

CANADIAN NAVIGATION COMPANY—Continues heavy, but without change in price.

RICHELIEU NAVIGATION COMPANY—Has been in good demand, and 122½ to 123 would be paid. No stock in market.

CANADA DEBENTURES—Have been in active demand throughout the week both for fives and sixes, both currency and sterling. Stock has been dealt in at 106½ and is still offering at that price.

EXCHANGE—There was a fair amount of business done at 8⅛ to 9 for bankers' 60 day bills, but the price in New York having advanced, the rate is to-day firm at 9¼ to 9½.

MONEY—Continues easier, and there is no difficulty in discounting good paper at seven per cent.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no one so favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affections, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of affairs I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been done by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

"CANADA LIFE"

Have published a Report and net valuation of all its policy and annuity obligations, by an Actuary totally unconnected with it, the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT, of Boston, late Insurance Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts.

It is believed that such a voluntary submission of the Company's position to an eminent and entirely independent Actuary of the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT'S well known high character and professional skill, will add to that public satisfaction and confidence which the "Canada Life Company" enjoys.

Copies of Mr. WRIGHT'S Report may be had at the Head Office or at any of the Agencies throughout the Dominion.

Persons who may be assured in the Companies whose condition is unsatisfactory, desiring to join the "Canada Life," will be dealt with upon such terms as are reasonable and fair.

My Little Wife.

The following exquisite love story is by a new poet, celebrated in the July number of Blackwood—David Wingate, a collier from his ninth year:—

My little wife often round the church hill,
Sweet little, dear little, neat-footed Jane,
Walked slowly, and lonely; and thoughtful, until
The afternoon bell chimed its call o'er the plain;
And nothing seemed sweeter
To me than to meet her
And tell her what weather 'twas likely to be,
My heart, the while glowing,
The selfish wish growing,
That all her affections were centered to me.

My life once ('tis strange, but 'tis true),
Sweet little, dear little, love-troubled Jane,
So deeply absorbed in her day-dreaming grew,
The bell chimed and ceased, though she heard not (is strule)
And I, walking near her
(May love ever cheer her
Who thinks all such wandering of sin void and free),
Strove hard to persuade her
That He who made her
Had destined her heart-love for no one but me.

My little wife—well, perhaps this was wrong—
Sweet little, dear little, warm-hearted Jane,
Sat on the hill-side till her shadow grew long,
Nor tired of the preacher that thus could detain,
I argued so neatly,
And proved so completely,
That none but dear Andrew her husband could be,
She smiled when I blessed,
And blushed when I kissed her,
And owned that she loved and would wed none but me.

A Moving Sermon.

We have the subjoined discourse, delivered by a Southern divine, who had removed to a new field of labor. To his new flock on the first day of his ministration, he gave some reminiscences of his former charge, as follows:

"My beloved brethering, before I take my text, I must tell you about my parting with my old congregation. On the morning of last sabbath I went into the meeting house to preach my farewell discourse. Just in front of me sot the old fathers and mothers in Isreal; the tears coursed down their furrowed cheeks; their tottering forms and quivering lips breathed out a sad fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah! Behind them sot the middle aged men and matrons; health and vigor beamed from every countenance; and as they looked up I could see in their dreamy eyes—fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah! Behind them sot the boys and girls that I had baptized and gathered into the Sabbath School. Many times had they been rude and boisterous, but now their merry laugh was hushed, and in the silence I could hear—fare ye well, Brother Watkins,—ah! Around, on the back seats, and in the aisles, stood and sot the colored brethering with their black faces and honest hearts, and as I looked upon them I could see a—fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah! When I had finished my discourse and shaken hands with the brethering—ah! I passed out to take a last look at the old church—ah! The broken steps, the flopping blinds and moss covered roof, suggested only—fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah! I mounted my old gray mare, with my earthly possessions in my saddle-bags, and as I passed down the street the servant-girls stood in the doors, and with their brooms waved me a—fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah! As I passed out of the village the low wind blew softly through the wavering branches of the trees, and moan ed—fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah! I came down to the creek, and as the old mare stopped to drink I could hear the water rippling over the pebbles a—fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah! And even the little fishes, as their bright fins glistened in the sunlight, I thought, gathered around to say, as best they could—fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah! I was slowly passing up the hill, meditating upon the sad vicissitudes and mutations of life, when suddenly out bounded a big hog from a fence corner with about about and I came to the ground with my saddle-bags by my side. As I lay in the dust of the road my old gray mare ran up the hill, and as she reached the top she waved her tail back at me seemingly to say—fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah! I tell you my brethering, it is affecting times to part with a congregation you have been with for thirty years—ah!"

EDIT R'S DRAWER, in Harper's Magazine for November.

A lawyer once asked a Dutchman, concerning a pig, in a court: "What ear-marks had he?" Well, yea I first became acquainted mit de hock, he had no ear-marks except a very short tail."

Said Jarvey to Jehu, at the first sight of a velocipede: "Vy, if there isn't a cove as has been condemned to transportation on a hitinerary treadmill." "No," replied Jehu, "no, my old 'oneycomb, it's only the latest fashion in donkey carts, and the donkey has run away with itself—that's all."

A lady, out with her little boy and girl, bought the boy a rubber balloon, which escaped him, and flew up in the air. The girl seeing tears in his eyes, said: "Never mind, Neddy; when you die and go to heaven you'll dit it."

A Chicago physician, much devoted to real estate speculations, and rather absent-minded, replied to the question of a lady how his prescription was to be taken:—'One quarter down; balance in one, two, and three years."

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

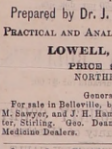

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by every body as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use. In every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable but far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compound. Hence we have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, some of which are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore it healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the disordered action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often all sufficient where no serious derangement exists. One who feels himself well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles at an expense of at least four times what they now cost us?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have once for all presented our testimonials as to the practicability of as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz.:

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as scrofula, sorofula, erysipelas, boils, sore swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. Irregularities in the blood are broken; it tones the nerve, and promotes the genuine vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. THOMPSON'S Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Complaint, and Indigestion. For convenience it has no equal; as a mild and safe corrective and tonic and natural and safe purgative stomach, a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes, a powerful invigorant after the brain has been reduced by sickness, an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for a general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a frequent acute of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, fevers and fever, lung fever, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killer or Relief are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, and all bowel or stomach complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success in Scarlet Fever. Sold at 50 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to furnish the same kind of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. In severe cases of Scrofula, as disease, where the system seems saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were positively afflicting, have been radically cured in a manner which astonishes every portion of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or its cures.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of man. It undermines the vital and vivifying principle of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting the suspicion of its presence. Again, it spreads its breed infection throughout the body, and then, in some favorable occasion, rapidly develops its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulceration of some internal organ. The deep-seated source of a host of this Sarsaparilla is adequate, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, in length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: Tic, St. Anthony's Fire, Tetter or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and such other symptoms or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms of Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Pits, Epilepsy, or Falling Sickness, and the various Uterine affections of the muscular system.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine But long-continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Irritable Diseases, are promptly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of uric acid or chalky deposit in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaint, Torpidity, Congestion, and Engorgement of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising from that cause. In short, this SARSAPARILLA is capable of expelling from the system every vitiated humor in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great remedy, and its great strength renders it the cheapest. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Nervousness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Colds, Coughs, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind as the Cherry Pectoral. Its reputation for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become known. Accurate in its character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protection in the midst of the changeful climate of disease and to young children, it is at the same time so pleasant that it can be and is given for indolent consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every house. Clergymen, actors and public speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure.

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Mercury, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is perfectly safe under any patient. A number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond computation. Such a thing without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is great, and we have the satisfaction to receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where all other remedies had failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all around the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry and Member of the Academy of Medicine, Turin, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition of Turin, Italy, by which Dr. Stansilli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Prepared and sold wholesale by the Proprietor,

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, MONDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 25, 1869. No. 149.

For the Intelligencer.

The Tried and Tempted Soul, and its Aspirations.

Lord Jesus, wilt thou leave me here,
Unnoticed and unknown?
Or wilt thou call me soon to share
Thy kingdom and thy throne?

My time is running all to waste,
Mine earthly hopes are fled,
My dreams of earthly bliss are past;
All numbered with the dead.

Mine every thought is mixed with sin,
With grief and toil and care;
All things without, and all within,
My weary soul ensnare.

This hateful strife within my breast;
When will the conflict cease?
When will thou bring the promised rest,
The reign of perfect peace?

The visitations of thy wrath,
Thou wilt them all improve;
The thousand thistles in my path,
In thine own time remove.

The world, the devil, and the flesh,
My tempted soul engage;
Grant, Lord, that I may feel afresh,
Secure from all their rage.

My faith is fixed upon thy Cross,
My hope upon thy Crown,
Eternal gain springs from thy loss,
And fame from thy renown.

The great Redemption thou hast wrought,
And sealed with blood divine.
The great Salvation thou hast bought,
Shall o'er thine Israel shine.

Mine eyes look upward to the place,
Where thou dost plead above,
For all the subjects of thy grace,
The objects of thy love.

This earth, the scene of Satan's thrall,
Long subject to his power,
When ransomed wholly from the fall
Shall hail the promised hour.

Come, gracious Lord, Redeemer, come,
Fulfil thy plighted word;
Let the whole earth break forth in song,
All kindreds crown the Lord.

The saints awaiting from the sky,
Immortal change shall come;
The Spirit, breathing from on high,
Shall waft their spirits home.

Marmora, Oct. 1, 1869. B. B.

"An Honest Journalist."

The Toronto Globe is anxious to know what we conceive to be "the duty of an honest journalist." We are glad our contemporary has asked the question; for we have long had an impression that he entertained very imperfect ideas on the subject. It is an easy matter to supply the information required. The only difficulty is that our contemporary is slow to learn, and still more slow to practice the principles of moderation and justice. With an inordinate self-conceit, he combines an inveterate hatred and revenge; and when once his vanity has been disappointed, and his malignity set at naught, he writhes like a maniac, and because he is afflicted with phrenzy himself, he naturally concludes that all his contemporaries are or should be in the same deplorable and irresponsible condition. It is a mercy for the country that few papers amongst us are afflicted with the same disease, or reduced to the same extremities as the Globe. We should be in a woful state if its spirit were general, or if its example were uniformly followed. For the most part our Canadian newspapers do look at subjects in an independent light, with a view to the public welfare rather than to the gratification of private revenge; and the one single exception in our midst which never seems capable of rising above personal prejudice, or of losing the recollection of past disputes, which revels in slander and abuse, and is incapable of either charity or magnanimity; this one exception, the Globe, is justly held in abhorrence for its cowardice and meanness.

Our contemporary has chosen to take us to task because we have not carried on a violent crusade against Sir Francis Hincks, and the Government of which he is now a member. Does the Globe suppose that we are as literally blinded to what is right as itself, and that we have no other principle to actuate us in the performance of our duty than the gratification of Mr. Brown's personal hostility and revenge? We understand rather better the duties of "an honest journalist." When Sir Francis Hincks was first proposed for the office of Finance Minister, we objected to the appointment. We did so not because we thought him unqualified for the post, but because his advent to power at this particular time might possibly tend to a revival of disputes which had better be forgotten, and thus have a prejudicial rather than a beneficial influence upon the politics of the country. All that we then advanced, we are now prepared to repeat. We do not retract a single opinion or statement. If our contemporary will open its eyes a little wider, and read our last two articles on Sir Francis Hincks with the spirit of "an honest journalist," it will immediately see that we still express regret that he has entered the Cabinet, both for his sake and for the sake of the country. We think it had been better for him to remain in privacy amongst us, and that the whole proceeding may be deplored as a blunder on the part of Sir J. A. Macdonald. Even yesterday we incidentally referred to the matter as a most unpopular and undesirable act.

But are we, therefore, literally to follow the leadership of the Globe, and continue, day after day, to pour a vial of wrath upon the heads of Sir Francis Hincks and Sir J. A. Macdonald? We do not consider this to be the "duty of an honest journalist." However much we may regret the appointment, it has been definitely made. All the opposition we could give, in backing up the attacks of our contemporary, would not produce an immediate change. Sir Francis has been gazetted Finance Minister of the Dominion. Apart from the associations of the past, it is admitted on all hands that he possesses high qualifications for the office. He has avowed his anxiety to perform his duties to the satisfaction of Parliament and to the well being of the country. He may fail in this; he may even resort to a system we could not "honestly" approve. But having been appointed, is it not fair to give him a trial, and to judge him now according to the merit of his actual performances, and not in the light of past political misdeeds? Are we never to forget the past? Can we never be magnanimous enough to forgive an enemy and to hope for his future success? The Globe cannot; but the country will; and much as we regret that Sir Francis Hincks has even come to Canada at the present time, still if he prove an efficient minister of the crown we may do something more even than tolerate his services.

In aspiring to be "an honest journalist," our contemporary must learn to speak the truth, to be magnanimous, forbearing, forgiving, willing to portray the virtues of an opponent equally with his vices, and always anxious to seek his country's good in preference to the gratification of his own malicious spite.—Hamilton Spectator, Oct. 20th, 1869.

A Night of Adventure.

HOW A LOCATING PARTY ON THE INTERCOLONIAL SPENT A NIGHT IN THE GREAT STORM.

Mr. Buck's party, who were locating on the Section of the Intercolonial Railway between Newcastle and Bathurst, had quite an adventure during the great storm. The party consisting of about twenty men, had camped for the night, about 12 miles in a straight line from Bathurst, and had retired to rest. About ten o'clock, they were awakened from sleep by the sound of a tree falling right alongside the tent; they immediately rushed out, and found that the great storm had commenced its work. No sooner were the tents vacated, than two or three fell across one of them, crushing it to the ground. Had the men been in the tent, a terrible accident would have occurred. In their descent, the falling trees struck against another, and canted it over; the roots of which being under the beds in the tent, sent them flying outside. It being very dark, a large fire was kindled by two or three of the men, after some difficulty, for while they were so engaged they had to play a game of dodge with some of the falling trees. The light of the fire enabled the men to see the descending trees, and avoid the danger, otherwise they could not have done so. Soon after, the other tents were levelled to the ground.—From 10 till 3 o'clock, while the storm lasted, the men had quite an exciting time of it. In the light thrown around by the fire, their forms could be seen jumping from one place to another for shelter, not daring to enter the darkness; trees were snapped by the Storm King like pipe stems, and fell around them thick and fast, causing imminent danger; some of the men were engaged cutting down trees in order to make a clearance where it would be safe to stand, not knowing how long the storm might last—others were employed in bracing the trees, to keep them from falling—and when the gale did subside, and the trees maintained their perpendicular, it was a source of thankfulness and relief to all. Truly it must have been a fearful time, and one which will not soon be forgotten. There were many narrow escapes, and it was only by the utmost watchfulness that the party escaped without damage to life and limb. Michael Graham, of Newcastle, who was in camp at the time with a span of horses, had quite a narrow escape. When he heard the first tree fall, he hurried on his clothes and rushed to the horses, and removed them to the road in front of the tents; he had no sooner done this than the spot he had left was torn up and piled with trees. A few minutes later, and there would have been a sad tale to tell. When all was over, the tents were again put up—a few entered them for rest, but the greater number took shelter under the fallen trees, fearing the storm might again come on. The above facts we obtained from an eye witness, Mr. Buck was with his men, and had to share in the dangers with them.

—The Indians had a great feast at Brantford on the 19th inst., when the ox given them by Prince Arthur was roasted. About 500 of the dusky tribe was present.

Great Meetings in London.

50,000 PERSONS PRESENT.

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN IN THE PROCESSION.

AMERICAN FLAG HOISTED AND CHEERED.

Demand for the Release of the Fenians.

INFLAMMATORY SPEECHES.

TROOPS UNDER ARMS.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE.)

LONDON, Oct. 24.—An immense demonstration in favor of amnesty to the Fenians, was made to-day. Large processions were formed in various parts of the city, and headed by bands of music and banners inscribed with significant mottoes, marched to Hyde Park. Several thousand women wearing green favors and scarfs, marched in the procession at Hyde Park during the afternoon.

A monster mass meeting was held. It is estimated that fifty thousand persons were present.

The American flag was hoisted and lustily cheered.

Mr. Brodlaugh and others addressed the people, and the remarks of some of the speakers were of a highly inflammatory character.

Resolutions demanding amnesty for the Fenians were adopted by acclamation, after which the meeting ended and the people quietly retired. The proceedings throughout the day were orderly.

Great precautions had been taken by the Government, the reserves of the police were all on duty and the troops assembled at their barracks, but their intervention was not required.

CHANGES IN THE CABINET.—It is said that Mr. Dunkin, Treasurer of the Quebec Legislature, has been appointed to a seat in the Privy Council, as Secretary of State.

EARTHQUAKE.—Telegrams says that the earthquake of Friday morning was seriously felt in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, throwing down chimneys, cracking walls, and committing other damages and creating general alarm.

TEA MEETING IN CANIFTON.—Our readers are reminded of the Canifton Tea Meeting to-night. Tea served at 7.30, after which Dr. Freshman will deliver his far-famed lecture on "Judaism." We hope there will be a good attendance from Belleville.

WINTRY.—This morning the ground was covered with snow and everything presented a wintry appearance. Ice formed last night in pools of water one quarter of an inch thick. The "cold snap" seems to have been general, South as well as North. Have the earthquakes anything to do with this extraordinary weather?

THE MINERAL REGION.—We draw the attention of those interested in the development of the minerals of North Hastings, to a short letter from Mr. PALMER, in today's issue. The proposal of this gentleman is not involving a large outlay, and well worthy the consideration of those who have already large sums invested in that region.

PRECAUTIONS.—We have reason to know that extra precautions have been taken along the line of the Grand Trunk Railway against incendiarism, and that in some places arms have been distributed, and orders for the Grand Trunk Volunteers to hold themselves in readiness, have been issued. Extra watchmen have been placed on duty. It may be that information has been received that incendiarism is one of the means the Fenians have adopted to harrass us. The fires in Montreal are attributed to this agency.

THE INTERCOLONIAL.—A telegram from Ottawa says:—"Contract for section 11 will probably be awarded to Messrs. Davis, Grant & Sutherland, of Halifax, at $48,000 being at rate of $13,715 per mile. The Commissioners are only waiting for information with regard to the sufficiency of sureties before submitting the tender for the approval of the Privy Council. The tenders now put in are an average of 10 per cent higher then those of last spring, but competent judges still pronounce them 25 per cent below the actual cost of construction.

—The Empress Eugenie has arrived at Cairo.

—Discount on American invoices, 23 per cent.

—The earthquake was severely felt in Quebec on Friday morning.

—The Quebec Legislature meets on the 18th November.

—Average price of Barley in Toronto on Saturday, was 65c.

—Another heavy snow storm in St. Louis on Saturday. Two inches of snow and ice fell.

—Two new Infantry Companies are to be organized in Nova Scotia.

—S. L. Hoover has been arrested at New York for smuggling $5,689 worth of goods from Brockville.

—Adjutant General Ross reports the Volunteer Force in good efficiency and readiness for

The Railway.

The Kingston people should be sufficiently gratified at the result of the meeting held in Madoc a few days since, without supplementing it with untrue statements to mislead people and create an ephemeral feeling in their own favor.

In the report of the meeting held in Madoc, published in the Kingston News, Mr. Bowell is made to say, "he thought that if Kingston should develop its own back "country before seeking to connect itself "with enterprises in Hastings." This is a direct perversion of what Mr. B. said.—What he did say, was, that if Kingston was prepared to invest its money in developing its own back country and extend their road to Madoc, and Belleville would not assist in the construction of a road to Madoc, he would assist the northern Townships in finding an outlet at Kingston or say other point on the front. Quite a different sentiment than that attributed to him.

The Kingston telegraphic reporter to the Globe has also tried his hand at a little romancing. He sent the following precious item to that paper. "The terminus of the "Madoc Railway will be at Kingston in- "stead of Belleville. Belleville only offered "$10,000, while Kingston offered $50,000." The truth is, neither Belleville nor Kingston offered any sum. In fact, the delegates from these places were not in a position to make offers, but those from Kingston did declare that Kingston would give $5 for every one Madoc would; and those from Belleville were equally confident in their assertions that Belleville would contribute as much as Kingston. So that upon this point they were equal, and it yet remains a point to be decided which is most correct.

The News of the 22nd inst., after a day's exultation over the defeat of Belleville at the Madoc meeting, waxeth eloquent, and wallops away at Belleville, in truly Donnybrook style. After a good deal of highfalutin writing, it says: "We learn "that at the meeting some of the Belleville "delegates abused Kingston and cast as- "persions upon the poverty of the yeoman- "ry round about us, saying that they were "too poor to buy seed grain; but these "fellows met with a terrible retaliation.— "They had to return home with the "humiliating report that they were with- "out indluence to secure the selection of a "route to Belleville, and under compulsion "to acknowledge that the sleepy old city "which they had derided had carried off "all the spoils of victory and enjoyed all "the honours of a triumph that measured "their own defeat." No such "aspersions" were cast upon "the yeomanry round about Kingston." The only reference made to "seed grain," during the whole discussion, was by Mr. Holden of Belleville, and then it had no reference whatever to Kingston or its yeomanry nor was it intended as an aspersion upon any person; but simply to show that at the time to which he referred, the County was not in a position to lend itself for Railway purposes, nor would they at that time have listened to such a proposition.

This charge of the News has very much the appearance of a willful perversion of facts, particularly when coupled with the sentence that "the tactics of electioneering "politicians had disgusted them." An expression, which one of the Kingston delegates had the impertinence to use once or twice quietly, when endeavoring to gain a point against Belleville. We did not require to be told the people were disgusted; they have already expressed that disgust in a very tangible shape, knowing as well who to blame as the writer in the News. The object the News has in view in writing tirades against Belleville, is quite transparent. It hopes by such perversions of truth to intensify the feeling now existing in the Townships against this Town, but when it talks about "sad experience" being taught the people "that the faith of Belleville in the matter of a Railway to the mineral region was of a panic character;" it writes about that of which it knows nothing, or if knowing hesitates not to pervert. Belleville has never been in a position to build a Railway unaided by other municipalities, but it did all in its power to push forward such an enterprize by assisting in obtaining a survey of the route, and incurring other expenses. Has Kingston done as much? Really to read the News and Whig for a few days past one would suppose that that good old loyal city had been exerting itself for years to secure an outlet for the products of the North, when the fact is, all this zeal is but the offshoot of the energetic steps taken by the people of Madoc. It remains yet to be seen which of the two Towns will show their earnestness in this matter. Having both embarked in the ship let them see which will give the best evidence of knowing how to reach the harbor safely. It is an honorable emulation, and needs no such tactics as those adopted by the Kingston press to carry on the struggle.

A FEMALE LAWYER. The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser says:—One day last week a novel case was tried in the Court House at Greenville. Judge M. C. Lane brought a suit against Miss Josephine Hutton for a fee. The lady appeared in Court, pleaded her own case, examined witnesses, and made a long speech to the jury. The case, however, went against her. Her reason for appearing was that she did not believe an honest lawyer was to be found in the country. She said, among other things, that if an earthquake was to come, and the clouds were to fall she believed that the first thing thought of by the lawyers would be the collection of their fees preparatory to entering upon that long journey in search of a future home deep down in the dominions of his Satanic Majesty, whither they were all slowly but surely tending.

Great Fire in Montreal.

TWO CHURCHES IN ASHES.

THE WORK OF INCENDIARIES.

The Toronto Telegraph of this morning contains the following account of disastrous fire in Montreal:

MONTREAL, Sunday, Oct. 24.—Montreal was visited by a most disastrous conflagration this morning at five o'clock, and by which two of its finest churches are in a mass of ruins.

The fire was discovered at the hour above mentioned in the basement of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, on Beaver Hill, head of Laugachaterre street, and the alarm being quickly given by the aid of the fire alarm telegraph, the fire department were soon on the ground with their apparatus, and every possible effort was made to confine the flames to the sacred edifice. A very high wind was blowing at the time and notwithstanding the herculean efforts of firemen, police and citizens, all attempts to stay the progress of the devouring element were unavailing. The wind carried the flakes of fire across the street to the Unitarian church, and in a few minutes it was also wrapped in flames.

One fireman and two others were badly injured at the fire.

THE FIRE THE WORK OF INCENDIARIES.

LOSS $100,000.

FIREMEN INJURED.

By Special Telegraph to the Intelligencer.

MONTREAL, October 25th.—St. Andrew's Church was totally destroyed by fire early on Sunday morning. The roof, galleries, and inside of the Unitarian Church were burnt, and the Baptist Church, also on Beaver Hall Hill, narrowly escaped a similar fate.

There were a series of fires during the night, the first occurring about 9 o'clock on Saturday night, in a building in Bleury street, used by Mr. Spence for Stained Glass Works. This was soon put out. Before the firemen got home they were called to St. Jean. Baptiste street, where the Drug Manufactory of Kerry Bro's. & Crathern was found to be on fire. Flames was got under by one o'clock, but broke out again at four, and the brigade had to turn out again, and work till five. Damages are said to be $8,000, covered by insurance in Royal.

AT 5 O'CLOCK as previous of the brigade was going home, when the signal came from Beaver Hall Hill, where dense volumes of smoke were seen ascending from the tall spire of St. Andrew's Church.—Although the firemen worked heartily the whole building was soon enveloped in flames, and the spire fell with a terrible crash across Lagauchatiere street, knocking down porches of opposite houses.

The wind was very high and great masses of burning wood were carried from St. Andrew's, setting fire to out buildings of Dr. Wanless and Mr. Inglis' House. These were soon put out, but the roof of the Baptiste Church, on the lower corner from St. Andrew's, was next discovered on fire. After great exertion the flames here were conquered before they obtained a hold on the building or much damage was done.

The worst of the fire which fell Jon St. Andrew's was also got under, leaving the building a perfect shell. Nothing but the walls standing except that the basement was not much burnt.

The attention of the firemen was next called to the Unitarian Church, on the other side of the hill, the roof of which had also taken fire from the accumulation of sparks on the slates. The galleries and organ were burnt, and inside much damage was done before the flames were mastered.

St. Andrew's Church cost $54,000, and was insured for $40,000 in the Royal and Liverpool and London.

The Unitarian Church was insured for $16,000; damages about $10,000.

Drs. Shington, Smallwood, Drake, Scott, and others attended on the firemen and others injured. During the fire some of the firemen nearly lost their lives in their noble efforts to reach the flames, a difficult matter to do in such buildings.

St. Andrew's congregation have been offered St. Paul's Church half of each Sunday, and St. Patrick's Hall has also been placed at the disposal of the congregations burnt out.

The ruins were visited by an immense number of persons all yesterday.

The sexton of St. Andrew's Church, who was the third to enter the church after the fire broke out reports that some articles of silver service were missing, and it is suspected that incendiaries may have been at work.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR,—Allow me through your columns to lay before the public an enterprize that, if carried out successfully will do much for Belleville, and the projected railway, and will settle at once most important questions relative to our mineral resources. I have discovered a vein in the Township of Tudor, that I have every reason to believe will make a great and lasting mine; the metal is a mixture of Gold and Silver, similar to the great "Comstock vein" in California. To the eye of the Miner and the Geologist, every thing about it indicates richness in depth; but to prove this to the satisfaction of all, a trial shaft of 50 feet in depth is necessary. To execute this work—buy out the rights of the resident squatter, and pay the government for the land, will require $1,500, $500 down and the balance in monthly payments as the work progresses. The execution of this scheme will do more to prove up the mineral value of our country than anything that has yet been done. I am willing to lose a fair share in the expenses of the work, and be responsible for its faithful execution, and cordially invite the business men of Belleville to assist in a project of such vast importance.

I shall remain here a few days, and be happy to lay my plans before any gentlemen who may favor me with a call.

W. H. PALMER.

Hastings Mines, Belleville, Oct. 25th, 1869.

County Council.

SECOND DAY.

FRIDAY, Oct. 22nd.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment.

PRESENT.—A. F. Wood, Esq. Warden, Hon. B. Flint, and Messrs. Rose, Rowe, Armstrong, Appleby, Anderson, Dacey, Finley, Emo, Chard, Conley, Walker, Jones, Farley, Daly, Clapp, Ross, Caldwell, Gabourie and Stokes.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Council resumed in Committee on Roads and Bridges. Mr. Appleby in the chair.

The consideration of the County Surveyors' Report was resumed.

With respect to the repairs to Mayne's Bridge, on motion of Mr. Flint, seconded by Mr. Stokes, the Surveyor was directed to keep the stringers the same height as at present.

The clause referring to the long crossway in Marmora Road was referred to the Committee on Gravel Roads.

MR. ARMSTRONG moved, seconded by Mr. ROWE, That it is the opinion of this Council that there should be no railing on Frankford Bridge, but that it should be sided up and that tenders be advertised for, to be opened and acted upon by the Gravel Road Committee.

Respecting the reference in the Report to Mr. Dacey, the Warden said it was in exceedingly bad taste, and there was only one course to pursue. He would move that that part of the Report referring to Mud Creek Bridge be struck out, and that Mr. Francis be instructed that any reference to personal matters in his report is very objectionable, and meets with the disapprobation of this Council.

Hon. B. FLINT seconded the motion, and said it was about time Mr. Francis understood what his duty was, and that he was kept in his place. If Mr. Francis is to manage the business of the Council in the manner he has heretofore, it would be better for us to give place to Mr. Francis at once. It would seem that Mr. Francis was very fond of going to Trenton for floats which, although cheaper than the timber can be obtained in the back country, still costs a great deal more when the expense of teaming is taken into consideration, besides not being half as good. He condemned the use of floats in the construction of bridges.

The motion was carried.

Respecting the petition to have the road from Marmora village to the west boundary of Boyd's, on motion of Mr. Jones, seconded by Mr. Gabourie, the County Surveyor was instructed to examine the road and report what repairs are necessary.

THE WARDEN said there was some misapprehension about the locating of a road from Lonsdale to the Station. It had been decided by the Council to appoint an arbitrator to say what amount should be paid for this road. Mr. Frizzell was appointed arbitrator, and he had written to him the Warden, respecting the matter, advising to be cautious what steps were taken. No action had been taken but it might be stated that Mr. Dacy was not aware of the difficulties. It was quite clear that the Councillors for Tyendinaga were not to blame.

Mr FRIZZELL, who was present, said he could not act without a copy of the By-law, and he had called twice at the Clerk's Office but he was not here,

THE WARDEN said Mr. Wills was away to the old country.

The question then dropped.

The Committee rose and reported. Report adopted.

WAYS AND MEANS.

Council went into Committee on Ways and Means. Hon. B. Flint in the chair.

A number of accounts were passed.

Mr. CHARD moved, seconded by Mr. Walker, That the prayer of the petition of the village of Stirling for a grant of $50 to the Stirling Grammar School, with the understanding that all children outside the village can attend the School on equal terms with those resident in the village, be granted.—Carried.

The application of Mr. W. H. Carpenter, for compensation for loss sustained by a waggon breaking on the County Road, was not granted.

Respecting the letter of the officers of the Hastings Rifle Association, on motion of Mr. Daly, seconded by Mr. Armstrong, the Clerk was directed to offer a reward of $50 for the apprehension and conviction of the party who set fire to the Rifle Butt of the Association.

The WARDEN moved, seconded by Mr. Caldwell, That the sum of $100 be appropriated towards repairing the road from Millbridge, North, through the Townships of Tudor, Wollaston and Limerick, so that the inhabitants of the Township shall not be shut out from the front altogether.—Carried.

The Committee rose and reported. Report adopted.

DAMAGES.

The WARDEN stated that the Committee appointed to consider the claim of Mr. Tumelty for damages, reported that they were willing to allow him $50, but Mr. Tumelty did not consider that sufficient and he wanted the matter settled by arbitration. It would be his duty to appoint an arbitrator on the part of the County.

DERRY'S BRIDGE.

On motion of Mr. JONES, seconded by Mr. FARLEY, the County Surveyor was instructed to examine and report on the condition of Derry's Bridge.

FINANCIAL SETTLEMENT.

On motion of Mr. APPLEBY, seconded by Mr. EMO, the names of P. R. Daly and J. J. Farley and the Clerk and the Treasurer, were added to the Committee for making a financial settlement with the Town of Belleville.

TO EXAMINE ROADS.

On motion of Mr. WALKER, seconded by Mr. CONLEY, the County Surveyor was instructed to examine the Town Line Road between Marmora and Rawdon, opposite lots 23 and 24, and also the road on the Town Line between Seymour and Rawdon, and report to this Council.

SETTLEMENT WITH THURLOW.

Mr. FARLEY moved, seconded by Mr. DALY, That the County Treasurer be instructed to settle with the Township of Thurlow on account of the old debt without interest, as the settlement was made upon the understanding that Thurlow was not to pay interest.—Carried.

SETTLEMENT WITH SIDNEY.

Mr. Rose moved, seconded by Mr. Rowe That the County be authorised to effect a settlement with the Township of Sidney for the Taxes of 1865 on the same terms as the settlement has been made with Thurlow by Act of Parliament, and that Messrs. Flint, Appleby, and Emo be a Committee to examine into the matter and report to this Council.

After some discussion the motion was carried.

DEATH OF MR. MOODIE.

Hon. B. Flint moved, seconded by Mr. Appleby, That this Council learns with regret of the death of the late Sheriff Moodie, and that this Council expresses its sympathy with Mrs. Moodie and family in the loss they have sustained, and that the Clerk be requested to transmit a copy of this resolution to Mrs. Moodie.

DISCOUNT ON SILVER.

Hon. B. FLINT said a dispute had arisen between himself and the County Surveyor, respecting a job done on the Scootamata.—The facts were briefly these. A Mr. Collins had a contract; having no means he came to him, and got flour and other stuff he wanted to pay his men, promising to pay him when he got the job done. When it was completed, Mr. Francis came to Bridgewater and paid Mr. Collins in silver; Collins paid him. (Mr. Flint) in silver, contrary to an agreement with him. Knowing that the County Treasurer usually paid for these jobs in bills, he asked Mr. McAnnany how this sum had been paid, and found that it was paid by cheque. He immediately wrote to Mr. Francis that unless he refunded the 3½ per cent, discount on silver, he would bring it before the County. He received an answer from Mr. Francis which was not very complimentary, but subsequently he got another letter saying he was hasty, and as he kept an account of the discount on silver, he would give it in his account at the end of the year. It was not his intention to censure Mr. Francis, but there should be some uniform system in the payment of money on such jobs, and he would move, seconded by Mr. Appleby,

"That the County Surveyor, and others, paying out money for roads and bridges be instructed to pay it in the same manner in which they receive it, whether in bills or in silver, and that any sum Mr. Francis may have in his hands, be be instructed to pay it over to the County Treasurer."

The motion was carried, and the Council adjourned until the second Tuesday in Dec. next.

MEETING OF COMMITTEES.

The WARDEN announced that the Committee to arrange the Financial settlement with the Town would meet on Wednesday next, the 27th inst.; and that the General Road Committee would meet on the 8th of November.

THE FENIAN PRISONERS. GLADSTONE'S REPLY CAUSES DISSATISFACTION.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The recent reply of the Right Hon. Mr. Gladstone to the President of the Limerick Amnesty Association on the subject of the course of the government towards the imprisoned Fenians, has caused considerable dissension. The London Amnesty Association has protested against the sentiments of the Premier. A committee appointed by this body has arranged for a monster open air demonstration on Sunday, but the meeting is likely to be indefinitely postponed, as it has transpired that the government would suppress it if attempted.

PORT AU PRINCE, Oct. 9.—The Salnaves war steamers sailed recently with provisions for Cape Haytien, which is besieged by the rebels. While on the way they met the rebel steamers 'Quaker City' and 'Florida,' when a fight ensued. Both sides claim a victory.

COLLISION ON LAKE ERIE—BOTH VESSELS SUNK.

DETROIT, Oct. 24.—The propellor 'Comet,' bound up, and the propellor 'Hunter,' bound down the River, collided about 2 o'clock this morning eight miles below here, and both vessels sunk. No lives lost.

TROUBLE IN MADRID.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Herald's special Madrid, Oct. 22nd, says: A Cabinet Council, the sitting being of an unusually extended duration, was held to-day. The meeting was summoned in consequence of the disagreement of Senor Ardoreg and Silvela, respecting church expenditures and property. The unionists members of the Cortez held a very stormy meeting on the subject of their legislative attitude towards the Government.

A Cabinet difficulty is anticipated if Ardoreg and Silvela should resign their portfolios Topete will also go.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

GENTS.—It is nearly a year since I purchased the first chest of Tea from your house. I have purchased many since, and I am pleased to inform you the Tea has in every case proved most satisfactory, as well as being exceedingly cheap.

F. DENNIE.

Montreal Tea Co:

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continues customer.

Yours respectfully,
FRANCIS T. GRENE,

An Undesirable Office.

A gentleman of Sweetwater, Wyoming Territory, tells a story of his experience on his arrival at the mines in the mountains. It was nearly dark as he alighted from a stage at the hotel. As he entered the public room he was, of course, marked at once as a new comer. He had scarcely seated himself comfortably when a stranger approached him, and with evident intention of doing the stranger a favor, quietly asked if, as he had just arrived, he did not want a 'job.' Of course, money was the object of our friend's visit to the mountains, and he at once responded in the affirmative. He would be very much obliged, indeed, if he could be put in the way of a good thing.

'Well,' said the amiable gentleman, 'there is a vacancy in the office of deputy sheriff, and I can secure you the appointment if you will accept; the position pays about $8 a day.' Our friend concluded this was a fine opening, and intimated his willingness to accept the appointment.—Just then the idea struck him: 'By the way,' said he, 'how happens there to be a vacancy in the office of deputy sheriff?'

'Well, you see, stranger,' said the amiable gentleman, 'our deputy died last night.'

'Ah!' indeed; how happened it?' 'Well, he had a slight misunderstanding with another man and was shot.' 'When was he appointed?' 'Day before yesterday.'

'What became of his predecessor?' 'He was shot, too.' 'How long does a deputy sheriff live in these parts?' 'About twenty-four hours.' Our friend concluded to go to work in the mines, and declined to accept the appointment.

A gentleman remarked to a very loquacious visitor about 9 o'clock in the evening: "I think Shelley, the lecturer over the way, is a wise man, for he knows when to shut up." The conversation was interrupted at that point by a brilliant flash of silence.

A countryman, walking along the streets of a town, found his progress stopped by a close barricade of timber "What is that for?" he inquired of a person in the street. "Oh, that's to stop the cholera." "Ah! I have often heard of the board of health, but I never saw it before."

"Dear me," exclaimed Stiggins, "that new surgeon gave Squantum's boy, a new lip from the child's own cheek! What a painful operation it must have been!" "I had a pair of lips taken from my cheek more than once," replied Mrs. Stiggins, 'and it wasn't a painful operation at all."

If you wish to experience a singular sensation, eat two pig's feet and a half of a mince pie just before going to bed. Boggs has tried it, and says that in less than an hour he saw a snake as large as a hawser, devouring eight blue-haired children, who had just escaped from a monster with sorrel eyes and hot overcoats.

BUSINESS.—After all, there is nothing like business for enabling us to get through our weary existence. The intellect cannot sustain its sunshine-flight long; the flagging wing drops to the earth. Pleasure palls, and idleness is 'many gathered miseries in one name.' But business gets over the hours without counting them. It may be very tired at the end, still it has brought the day to a close sooner than anything else.

NOT POSTED.—There was once a very illiterate gentleman, one Peter Paterson, appointed a justice of the peace. The first day his clerk handed him a duplicate writ. "Well, wot shall I do with it?" was the query. "Nothing but sign your initials," was the reply. "My nibluls; what are they?" "Why, two P's," replied the clerk impatiently. Cold perspiration stood on the forehead of the unhappy magistrate, and he seized a pen, and with desperation in his countenance wrote "Too peze."

Canadian Dominion Directory FOR 1870-71.

THE SUBSCRIBER proposes to issue in SEPTEMBER, 1870, if sufficient suppo t by SUBSCRIPTIONS and ADVERTISEMENTS can be obtained to cover the cost of Publication, a CANADIAN DOMINION DIRECTORY, comprising the Provinces of ONTARIO, QUEBEC, NOVA SCOTIA and NEW BRUNSWICK, to which will be appended the Provinces of NEWFOUNDLAND and PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND. The Directory will contain the names of Professional and Business Men, and of the principal Inhabitants in the Cities, Towns and Villages, together with a large amount of general information, including Alphabetical Directories of Post Offices and Postmasters, Banks, Governmental Departments and Employees, Houses of Parliament, Law Courts, Educational Departments, Custom Houses and Officers of Customs, Ports of Entry, Inland Revenue, List of Patents of Inventions, Canals, Railways, Railway and Steamboat Boards, Benevolent and Religious Societies, Clergy of all Denominations, Registrars with their Divisions, Newspapers and Periodicals, &c., &c.; also, Statements of Imports and Exports, Revenue, Expenditures, Trade, Population, &c., &c.

To be corrected to August, 1870.

The Canada Directory for 1857-58, published by the Subscriber, contained the names of the Principal Inhabitants in 1,99 Cities, Towns, and Villages in Upper and Lower Canada. The CANADIAN DOMINION DIRECTORY for 1870-71 will contain a short description of at least 2,500 Cities, Towns and Villages in the Dominion of Canada, and the Provinces of Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island, together with the Names of the Professional and Business Men, and of the principal Inhabitants.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. An occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

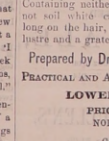

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody at a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of the most remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action,—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the morbid matter which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of Ayer's Pills makes him feel decidedly better, by their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are but simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains plain directions for their preparation, to be followed at the pleasure of the patient. Sold at 60 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to tetter, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin, ringworm, erysipelas, blotches and boils; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, and thereby prolongs the voyage of life pretty well. Sold at 60 cents per package.

Dr. THOMPSON'S Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Indigestion. For convalescence it has no equal; it is a mild and safe stimulant and corrective for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable appetizer and promoter of digestion, and generally and distinctly having their origin in an imperfect digestion, or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6. OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold, chills, chills and fever, pain in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it has a property to relieve pain. It may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, bowel complaints, summer complaints, and other bowel complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with safety by the most delicate. Sold at 50 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply suffering humanity with medicine for one-third the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures. many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of the virtues of this preparation.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. In its early stages, and up to the practicability of its separation, it undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seeps into hereditary taint throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or cachexia formed in the liver, or the first we know of its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers attack us at some part of the body. Hence the necessity of our having within reach a bottle of this Sarsaparilla to administer, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally manifest considerable relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of the SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sores, Sore Ears, and other symptoms of visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterine affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilitic or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are combated by it, though a long time is required, for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Blotches and flushes for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Ulcerations and Gout, when unassisted by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaint, Torpidity, Congestion and Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the impurities of poison in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer of the vital energies of the system, and those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervousness, Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Nervous Debility, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this extraordinary remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and in every quarter of the globe, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to relieve the most violent cases, it is equally efficacious at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for the slightest cough, and the changeful variations of the throat and lungs. As a protection against pulmonary disease which Cherry Pectoral is worthy of, no family should be without it. Indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is incurable, still even in that hopeless form, where the disease cannot be entirely cured, the patient can find great relief, and a single trial will prove to him that Cherry Pectoral is the best remedy that can be obtained to promote expectoration, relieve the cough, and induce refreshing sleep.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

To Singers and Speakers it is virtues are the most not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully established.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Mercury, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is in no way injurious to the system. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts of the West, Southwest, and Northwest, are well known without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. No one who is subject to these distressing complaints should neglect to procure this remedy. Its wonderful cures have attracted the attention of the afflicted everywhere, and we believe it is now known that no one need suffer from Fever and Ague who will procure this remedy. Its wonderful cures have attracted the attention of the afflicted everywhere, and we believe it is now known that no one need suffer from Fever and Ague who will procure this remedy.

Unscrupulous druggists, when asked for it, frequently attempt to impose upon their customers some other pretended remedy, which they claim to be "just as good," and "the same thing," because they can afford to make more profit on it. Such conduct is unworthy of any one entitled to the confidence of the community, and we trust that the afflicted will not be induced to purchase any other than Ayer's Ague Cure, which we warrant to cure them, if anything in the form of medicine can.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine everywhere.

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry, in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the best, most salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years in Italy, it has been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

Strangers Now.

Years of checkered life together,
Days of fair and stormy weather,
Hours of toil and weary pain,
Moments of eternal gain;
All are gone, we know not how,
And have left us strangers now!

Words that flowed to lighten care,
Thoughts which others could not share,
Hopes too bright for mortal eyes,
Prayers for wisdom from the skies;
All have ceased, we know not how,
And have left us strangers now!

Will it evermore be thus?
Shall the past be lost to us?
Can the souls, united here,
Never once again be near?
Must we to the sentence bow:
"Strangers ever, strangers now?"

Thorns amid the roses press,
Earth is but a wilderness,
Flitting o'er a fallen race,
Love can find no resting place;
Where his flowers immortal grow,
Shall we strangers be as now?

The United States vs Canada.

A correspondent of the Toronto Telegraph writes as follows on the subject:

Sir.—In the leading columns of your paper this morning you briefly refer to the superior advantage offered to working men in Canada, over those presented by the United States. After many years passed in the British Colonies, I have recently spent twelve months in the close examination of the social condition of the people of the United States and I can fully endorse your statement. I am almost a stranger in the Dominion, and have no interests to prejudice me; but I say without hesitation, that any honest man is far better off in Canada than he can possibly be under the Republican Government at Washington. The people of the United States are the most heavily taxed nation in the world, and even where wages are represented as being higher than here, the advantage is only nominal. I have carefully compared the rates of living, and while a United States dollar is worth 76 cents Canadian money, to sell at the brokers, it is not worth more than 28 cents, sometimes not as much, as a means of purchasing the ordinary requirements of life among our Southern neighbors. I will not now occupy your space by going into details upon the comparative demerits of the States; but I should be glad to see the matter thoroughly ventilated; so that the condition of the Republic might be made fully known to those who are dissatisfied here, and are too ready to listen to the tales of 'American' agents."

Deserted by their Wives.

Two young men, one a farmer and the other a shoemaker, have been for a day or two waiting about the police station in an anxious state of mind under the following circumstances: Michael Kirwan, the farmer, and Louis Proulx, the shoemaker, were the husbands of two sisters, and all of them lived together in the same house in Gloucester, about five miles from this city, and there is nothing to show that they did not all live happy together. On the contrary Mr. Kirwan relates a circumstance in which, at least on one occasion, he put himself about a good deal to please his wife, and indeed, from the liberal requests she seems to have considered it her right to make to her husband, it is presumeable that he was not much in the habit of saying "no." On Sunday last, so his story goes, she became very uneasy about some potatoes they had growing in a piece of ground about ten miles away. She wanted to have them dug up to-morrow, that is, last Monday. He must go and dig them—certainly. She knew of three dollars and some odd cents he had in his pocket, that must be left at home, because he might be tempted to drink, so the money was left at home in her care; and then, too, he must wear his worst clothes, for she was going to wash and mend everything in his absence. He went away on Monday morning to dig potatoes. Monsieur Proulx, who does not appear to be a dangerous man, had a job of work found for him only two miles away. Mrs. Kirwan and Madame Proulx, thus left alone, began to execute together what they had together devised. All the clothes not in use, with beds and bedding, were packed up; one hundred dollars which Kirwan had intended for a very different purpose, was taken special charge of. Everything being ready the ladies went to Mrs. Graham, and told her they wanted to go into town to visit the priest, and asked for the loan of the first mare and cart for that purpose. The request was complied with, and they came to town, bringing sundry articles with them, which for the most part they sold at auction on the public market. And as they had to be sold in a hurry, whether there were buyers or no they went at very low prices; a cooking stove for example was sold at $1 25. When the two husbands returned home what must have been their amazement and affliction? All that was left to them of this world's goods in their homes was the clothes they stood in, and a bedstead. Now where are the ladies? That is the first question to be solved. They have a mother in Belleville, but Mrs. Proulx gave out that the old lady was gone to Toronto. Our detectives have made enquiries of the Belleville chief of the police, but can get no answer. Three messages had been sent, and last night, after waiting twenty-four hours, the men were out of all patience. They believe that the fugitives have gone to Belleville to their mother, but nothing was known for certain. Kirwan has been married, he says, nineteen months, but he is not very enthusiastic in his admiration of the matrimonial institution. Mr. Proulx is rather lugubrious over the matter, but on the whole evinces a commendable sang froid. But then, though he lost his wife, for his wife sold his kit on the market, he did not lose a hundred dollars. —Ottawa Times, Oct. 25th.

Raising Russian War Vessels at Sebastopol.

An American named Col. J. E. Gowen, has been wonderfully successful in his operations on the sunken war vessels, in the harbor of Sebastopol. It will be remembered that these ships were sunk by the Russian Government to prevent capture, or being set on fire by the Allies during the Crimean war. The number thus sunk was seventy-eight, of which the Col. has raised twenty seven in a serviceable condition. Some of these were large line-of battle ships and very heavy, the Volodimir weighting 5,000 tons. Most of the wooden vessels were so damaged by the boring of the little teredo as to be worthless, but all the iron craft were in complete preservation, and one of them, the Ekaterose, is now the yacht of the Empress of Russia.

On the first attempt to raise these vessels Col. Gowen met with failures that would have disheartened less persevering men. The ordinary India rubber caissons and pantoons used for such purposes proved inadequate to lift such immense weights, and the Colonel then built caissons, had six gilder frames running fore and aft to give strength, and at the bows were heavy slinging chains running over wheels to lift the submerged vessels. They were divided into compartments, and when the lifting commenced the after ones admitted water to counterbalance the the depression forward and the caisson was sunk to nearly the level of the water; then, by means of an air pump, the compartments were freed of water, and as the caissons rose, the ship lifted with them. When it is stated that the ships were sunk in 50 feet of water, and imbedded in from 19 to 23 feet of mud, some idea may be formed of the magnitude of the undertaking, which through the energy of Col. Gowen, resulted in freeing the harbor of and roadstead of Sebastopol from much serious obstruction to navigation.

The Grand Trunk Railway.

FLATTERING REPORT.

Richard Potter, Esq., President of the Grand Trunk Railway, arrived in Ottawa last week. He came from England some weeks ago, and has since been engaged in making a thorough inspection of the line. He expresses himself gratified by finding it in a very excellent condition, much more so than people in England has supposed. Mr. Potter's long connection with railways, and his large experience of their working and management, give great weight to his opinions. He was for some time President of the Great Western Railway of England, and afterwards for many years a Director of the Grand Trunk, of which he was lately chosen President. Probably, therefore, no one is better able to speak as to the present condition and efficiency of the great Canadian road. It is now his intention to proceed West to view the working of the American railway system. —Citizen.

Facts not Generally Known.

The following answers were sent up in a recent examination in a certain public school:—"1. Give an account of Raleigh—He was passing throw the forest when Walter Terral seeing a dear pass by he puled his boe, and the arer stuck a tree and glanced off and hit Walter Taleigh throw the head and Walter Terral seeing him dead at once died. And a few years afterwards a man was passing by and found the body and at once called some people and they took the body and buried him in Winchester Redieral." "2. The policy of Queen Elizabeth.—Queen Elizabeth was very fond of wrilding, and she did not live long but raised very short time." "8 The Causes that led to dissatisfaction with Charles the First.—Because they did not like him and he ran about when his head was cut off." "4 The Principal Buttles of the Civil War.—There was the crimmear and the great war of the red roses and the war of the wite rose." 5. Life of Charles the First.—Charles the 1. was a very good king. He came to the frome 1866 and rained 13 years, and he was hated by every one no one loved him and he was executed and he ran about when his head was cut off."

A Word to Local Newspapers.

We clip the following from the New York Tribune; it is true, and we recommend it to every one who is interested where he resides:

"Nothing is more common than to hear people talk of what they pay newspapers for advertising, &c., as so much given in charity. Newspapers, by enhancing the value of property in the neighborhood, and giving the localities in which they are published a reputation abroad, benefit all such, particularly if they are merchants or real estate owners, thrice the amount yearly of the meagre sum they pay for their support. Besides every public spirited citizen has a laudable pride in having a paper of which he is not ashamed, even though he should pick it up in New York or Washington.

"A good looking, well conducted, lively and regularly-appearing sheet helps property, gives character to locality, and in many respects is a desirable public convenience. It from any cause the matter in the local or editorial column should not be to your standard, do not cast it aside and pronounce it good for nothing, until satisfied that there has been more labor bestowed it than is paid for. If you want a good readable sheet it must be supported. And it must not be supported in a spirit of charity either, but because you feel a necessity to support it. The local press is the power that moves the people."

Unsoldierlike Ornaments.

Major-General Freeman Murray, commanding the troops in the Chatham district, has issued a divisional order to the forces under his command, in which he censures the practice recently adopted, not only by many of the officers but likewise by non-commissioned officers and men, of appearing on parade and on other occasions when on duty, displaying massive gold watch-gaurds and other articles of jewelry which he considers to be highly objectionable, as well as unofficer and unsoldierlike. Commanding officers are enjoined to discourage the practice. Major-General Murray likewise calls attention to the quantity of whisker and moustache worn by many of the officers and men, and directs that the Queen's regulations respecting the same are to be strictly adhered to. Under no circumstance are "imperials" to be allowed to be worn. The same order also directs that officers are not to be permitted to wear a black silk tie and collar, instead of the regulation black silk stock, when in uniform.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY, OCT. 26.

SNOW STORM.—We need scarcely inform our readers, except those at a distance, that to day we have had a regular old fashioned snow storm. It commenced in the morning, and continued most of the day.

VICTORIA COLLEGE.—Our readers will remember that the meetings in aid of Victoria College will be held to-morrow, afternoon and evening, in the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Bridge Street, and that the Rev. Morley Punshon will address the meetings.

LITERARY LECTURES.—Our readers will please notice that the second lecture of the literary and scientific series previously announced, will be delivered on Thursday evening next, Oct. 28th, when those who attend may confidently anticipate a high intellectual treat.

I. O. G. T.—The following are the officers elected to serve in Moira Temple, I. O. G. T., during this quarter. W. C., W. A. Ostrom; W. V., T.M. Giberson; W. R. S., H. Stevens; W. T., C. H. McIntosh; W. F. S., A. M. Terwilliger; W. M., T. S. Quancy; W. I. G., F. Sanderson; W. O. G., C. Tate.

THE NOR' WEST.—The Ottawa Citizen of the 25th inst., says: "We have news by mail from the Red River party, to the 17th of October. Our friend, who is one of the number, writes from St. Cloud Mississippi. He says: "The Hon. Mr. McDougall and party left here yesterday. His train consisted of four heavily laden waggons and his own carriage. An additional conveyance had to be got. Six hundred dollars was paid for a good team of horses, harness and waggon. Mr. Richards will proceed by stage to Fort Abercrombie, Mr. Provencher had reached St. Paul, and will likely reach St. Cloud to-morrow. Weather very cold, with hard frosts; pinching times in prospect before the party get through. The river Mississippi at St. Cloud is not nearly so large as the Ottawa opposite the capital."

CANADIAN ILLUSTRATED NEWS.—We have received the prospectus of the "Canadian Illustrated News," the first number of which will be issued on the 23rd inst. It is to be published by Mr. Geo. E. Desbarats, and will be under the editorial management of Mr. Alex. Robertson, formerly of the Ottawa Times, a gentleman whose literary ability and thorough knowledge of Canadian affairs will secure for the News at the start a very permanent position. The specimen before us gives a very fair idea of the powers of the Leggotype process which is to be used in the illustrations, and by which the transformation of photographs into relief engravings can be effected with a degree of delicacy and accuracy, rendering the invention worthy of a high rank among recent artistic discoveries. The engraved title is tastefully designed, a group of medallions round the national insignia comprising effective views of well known Canadian scenery, conspicuous among which are faithful representations of the Victoria Bridge, Quebec and Ottawa. An original serial story, special correspondence, musical, literary and dramatic criticism, a record of progress in arts, mechanics and agriculture, a ladies' department of fashions, and a rechauffé of the wit and humor of the standard comic weeklies, are promised by him, side by side, with a digest of the week's Canadian doings. The Illustrated News will consist of sixteen folio pages, (seven illustrated) and be published weekly at $4 per annum, or ten cents per copy. The first number is to contain inter alia illustrations of Prince Arthur's reception, of the Empress' journey, a portrait of the Cuban General Cespedes, &c., &c.

"Universal Interest."

The Kingston News is evidently so much elated with the Railway prospects of Kingston that it is getting reckless. On the 25th it said:—

"The almost universal interest taken by "our citizens in the projected railway to "Madoc was well shown by the very full "attendance at the meeting of the Board of "Trade on Saturday night. The notices "were only issued during the afternoon, "and the night was stormy and inclement, "yet a very full attendance was secured of "members anxious to hear the report of "the delegates and to consider and help "on the prospects of the Railway." After reading this announcement, we turn with some interest to the report of the meeting of the Board of Trade, in another column of the same paper, and read with amazement the following: "Mr. H. Cunningham "presided, and the following members "were present:—Messrs. R. M. Rose, W. "R. McRae, W. Ford, jr., J. Carruthers, W. "Irving, I. Simpson, A. Livingston, E. "Chown, W. B. Simpson, George Robert- "son, H. C. Voigt, and Arthur Chown." Thirteen all told. Well, when it is remembered that the Three tailors of Tooley Street constituted themselves the people of England, we should not complain that the News considers thirteen a "very full attendance" for Kingston.

The Death of Lord Derby.

The Cable gave us on Saturday the news of the death of this great Conservative leader, which took place on that morning. The Right Hon. Edward Geoffrey Stanley, afterwards Earl Derby, was born on the 29th March, 1799, at Knowsley Park, Lancashire. He was educated at Eton and at Christ Church, Oxford, where he obtained the Chancellor's prize for Latin verse. In 1812, he was returned to the House of Commons, as member for Stockbridge, and in 1824, at the age of 25, made his maiden speech, which, although on some matter of mere local interest, received a high eulogium from Sir J. Mackintosh. In 1827 he was returned for Preston, and in the Canning and Goderich administration commenced official life as Under Secretary for the Colonies, and on the formation of Lord Grey's Government, was appointed Chief Secretary for Ireland. In 1833 he carried the Church Temporalities Bill, and the measure for the emancipation of the West Indian slaves, having for the latter purpose become Colonial Secretary, and member of the Cabinet. Disapproving however of Lord Melbourne's project, for still further reducing the Irish Church he resigned. He declined to take part in the administration formed by Sir R. Peel on Lord Grey's resignation in 1834; but, having acted in concert with the Conservative opposition for seven years, he accepted the seals at the Colonial office in 1841, and was summoned to the House of Peers as Baron Stanley of Bickerstaffe in September 1844. In 1851 Lord Stanley who succeeded his father as fourteenth Earl of Derby in June, 1851 accepted the responsibilities of office and constructed a Cabinet, which carried measures of Chancery Reform, passed the Militia Bill, and ratified the alliance with the ex-Emperor of the French, which has since become of such importance to England. He formed his second Administration in 1858, and being defeated in 1859 appealed to the country. The result was favorable to the Conservatives, but suffering defeat in a vote by want of confidence he resigned in June, and was succeeded by Lord Palmerston. The fall of Lord Russell's second administration in June, 1866, led to the formation of Lord Derby's third administration, he resigned office in 1868. For the last few years the Earl of Derby has been in ill health, and has not been able to attend so actively to his public duties, though from the position he took on the Irish Church question it is evident he had not lost the old fire which distinguished him as one of the ablest debators in the Commons and the Lords.

Sabbath School Convention.

PRESENTATION.

The Local Committee of the Sabbath School Convention concluded their duties Monday evening, Oct. 25th. The Report of the Finance Committee was presented by the Treasurer, J. C. Holden, Esq. showing the pleasing fact, which speaks volumes for the liberality of our people, that more money has been subscribed for Local as well as Association purposes here, than in any other place where the Convention has been held.

The Committee feeling that much of the success of the Convention had been due to the exertions of their Local Secretary, Mr. William Johnson, resolved to mark their appreciation of his services in some tangible way. At a previous meeting a Committee had been appointed to select some suitable testimonial, and certainly they well performed their duties. The presentation consisted of a large and beautifully embellished procelain lined Silver Ice Pitcher and Salver, the best which could be procured in the market. The Pitcher bears the following inscription:

Presented to WILLIAM JOHNSON
by the Local Committee,
as a mark of appreciation of his most valuable services as Local
Secretary of the Sabbath School Convention,
Belleville,
1869.

The Hon. B. FLINT, President of the Provincial Sabbath School Convention, who, in the absence of the Chairman, occupied the chair, in making the presentation to Mr. Johnson, said: I have much pleasure on behalf of this Committee in presenting you with this Silver Pitcher and Salver. Your services cannot be too highly spoken of; we feel that to a very great extent the success of the Convention was owing to your natural and acquired abilities; the arrangements were left almost entirely in your hands, and I must give expression to my own personal feelings as well as that of this Committee, the Convention, and the public, when I say that every detail of the arrangements were perfect, and that your attention to them, and to the personal comfort of the delegates has placed us under lasting obligations. We do not make this presentation as an equivalent for your services, we know that already you have been rewarded a thousand fold in your own soul, and that God will still continue to reward you in this world as well as in that which is to come, but we request your acceptance of it as a momento of the glorious meetings we have had, and the active and appreciated part you took in them. May God continue to bless you in all your efforts for his glory, and at last give you an abundant entrance into the everlasting glory.

Mr. JOHNSON, in reply, very feeling referred to the prayers and influence of a holy mother, as the secret of his being in connection with the Church of Christ, and that it was in answer to those prayers that now he was endeavoring to do something for that religion which had done so much for him. He assured the committee that he had been already rewarded abundantly. He had felt all through the Convention, and since, that He whom he endeavored to serve owned his labours and approved them; and this, to him, was the reward he sought for. He thanked the committee for the presentation, which would often remind him with pleasure of his labours with them.

After this pleasing close to the business of this Committee, the question of the advisability of forming a County Sabbath School Association was discussed, and it was decided to call at an early date, a meeting of those interested throughout the County, and at once form such an Association.

The School Lot Suit

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

MR. EDITOR,—I observed in a recent issue that Messrs. Rose, Bell & Holden were pressing for payment of their costs in the suit of Smith vs. School Trustees. Can you tell who are to pay these costs? Are we, the ratepayers, to do it? or are the trustees who forced on this illegal and most inequitable chancery suit? If the former, I would like to know how much is to pay—If the latter, I don't care how much.

Yours,
A RATEPAYER.

Belleville, Oct. 25th.

ED. NOTE.—"Ratepayer," may rest content, he and his fellow tax payers will have to foot the bill. If he wishes to be convinced of the fact, he had better go to the Sheriff's office, and he will find that an execution is already in the Sheriff's office to satisfy the plaintiff in this action. Whether the trustees intend to allow the desks, maps, etc., to be sold on the corner of the street, we know not. On the whole it is a pretty muss, for which the people will have to pay sweetly.

The Weather Forty Years Ago and at Present.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

MR. EDITOR.—Being somewhat unwell, and obliged to keep the house on account of the rain, I thought it might not be amiss to write on the state of the weather of this week, as compared with that of forty years ago.

Forty years ago the 17th, 18th and 19th of October there were heavy frosts at night, the 20th cold and cloudy with appearance of rain, 21st, warmer but cloudy, the rain commenced falling late in the afternoon, it rained all night and all of the 22nd up to near night, when the wind, which had been blowing from the south-east, west south, south-west, then west, and on the morning of the 23rd blew fresh from the north-west, and very cold; so much so, that the main street of our Town would carry a person any where over the mud without breaking through.

I intended leaving for Montreal by the Sir James Alexander, Capt. Gildersleeve, Master, on the 22nd, but owing to the storm the boat did not arrive till after dark, when the captain sent me word that he would leave at half-past five next morning. As Mrs. Flint was going with me as far as Brockville, we started at five o'clock to walk down to the boat. No omnibuses or cabs then, and found the air biting cold. All day the ice made on the steamer's sides, and we were with the other passengers quite content to keep the cabin.

The state of the weather this week has been somewhat, though not exactly, similar to that of forty years ago, as we had had frosts on the nights of the 17th, 18th and 19th. The 20th cold and cloudy most of the day, with strong appearance of rain. The 21st cloudy and cool; the 22nd differed materially, being a very fine day to the close, when the rain began; the rain through the past night and the continued heavy rain of to day being similar to those of the 21st and 22nd, forty years ago. From present appearance it is not probable we shall have the cold and sharp freezing weather to contend with, at least I hope not.

Having stated this much about the weather, allow me to say that afterwards up to the last of November we had some very pleasant weather, as well as some very cold and sharp frosts. I have stated I left for Montreal on the 23rd of the month of October. I did not return to Belleville until the last day of November, when I arrived by the Sir James Kempt with my winter stock of goods. We left Brockville on the 27th, at night, Kingston on the 28th morning, and arrived at Soimes' Wharf about dusk of the same day, having encountered ice some three miles below that point, we remained all night at the wharf. The next morning being Sunday, the boat got under weigh and broke the ice up to Northport, where we remained all day and up to Monday morning; having crossed the bows with two large sticks of timber, which were wrapped with log chains I had on board, and having run out an extra bowsprit, rigged with a snatch block and rope to raise or fall the bow of the steamers small boat, which was used by three men in helping to break down the ice in front of the boat. We got under weigh about 8 o'clock, a. m., and after a hard fight with the ice arrived at the wharf in Belleville, in time to prevent being kept out by night.

There were a goodly number of passengers on board, many of whom felt a doubt as to our succeeding, and at times it was to me rather uncertain. But by encouraging the Captain and men we at last entered port. At one time the Captain would have backed out, but for the fear of destroying the stern of the boat, this was after we came this side of the Narrows, where we were met by men and boys on skates, who run in every direction, except across the stern of the boat. When we got near Belleville we encountered ice four inches thick, but by occasional backing and going ahead, we at last made our way to port, where the Captain made all haste to unload and return to Kingston.

The old Toronto came in on our track the same evening, and barely escaped outward by crossing her bow with anchors, the bay fairly closing on the last December, and remained so until near the 1st of May.

While we were at Soimes' Wharf a "Friend" came on board who accosted me as follows: "Is thy name Flint?" I said yes sir. "Is these thy corn brooms?" Yes sir. "I want thee to sell me two." I don't sell brooms on Sunday. "If thee won't sell these I will take them." I turned and walked away. He took the brooms, and the following winter called at my store and offered me the pay, I would not take it, stating if he saw fit to take my brooms on Sunday, I would not take pay on a week day. The next fall a barrel of splendid graft apples found their way by some means into my house, addressed to Mrs. Flint. I made enquiries but never found out who sent them. I strongly suspected that my "Friend" sent them in a quiet way to make payment for my brooms.

Forty years ago there was no talk of a Railway from Madoc to Kingston. What changes has been effected in forty years.

Yours, &c., &c.,
BILLA FLINT.

—Two million bales is the estimated cotton crop of North Carolina.

—The Jackson (Mich.) coal mines produce 35,000 tons per annum.

—The rat fur trade of Michigan amounts to one million dollars yearly.

—The brass door made for the Wolf Rock Lighthouse weighs 13 cwt, and cost £170. The door which it is to replace was of solid oak, 4 inches thick, and was shivered into fragments by the sea.

—An aged couple of 94 and 87 years, living in Pettis, Mo., who have been married 70 years, concluded that matrimony was played out, and the other day, got divorced, each taking a half of the joint stock.

—A Massachusetts paper says that the Provincetown fisheries are less successful this year than usual. Several whaling vessels are advertised for sale, and the catch of cod, 66,000 quintals, is less than the average for the last ten years.

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childlessbanded Proprietor terminated his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squabble over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Arabian Bitters.

—The unfortunate sympathy of masses of the Irish people with the perpetrators of agrarian crime has just been shown in a remarkable manner at Galway. It will be remembered that in the case of Barrett, charged with shooting at Captain Lambert the jury were discharged without verdict. A rumour got abroad that only one juror, Mr. Jackson, stood out against a verdict of acquittal. He was in consequence mobbed, and had to be guarded to his hotel by the police. The judges were also attacked in the streets, the windows of their carriage being broken with stones. No one, however, was injured.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heat, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry; and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and health. I say that this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

SECURITY

SHOULD be THE FIRST CONSIDERATION in INSURANCE TRANSACTIONS.

THE Directors of the Royal Insurance Company have the pleasure of supplying the following information to the public, as evidence of the ample security they afford to their assurers:—

The Capital of the Company, available for the purpose of meeting any unusual calamity happening to the Assured, is

Two Millions Stirling.

The amount actually paid up is £288,495. This, with the Accumulated Funds in Hand, makes the invested resources of the Company upwards of One Million Six Hundred Thousand Pounds, which amount is invested as follows:—

INVESTED FUNDS OF THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY, 30th June, 1869.

Real Property owned by the Company,	£219,571	11	8
Mortgages on Freehold Property,	53,500	0	0
£ 9,000 Reduced 3 per Cent. Consols,	28,085	1	3

Loans on Security of Life Policies,	63,938	8	5
	£1,674,856	16	11

The above is a complete list of the Investments of the Company at the date specified, in addition to which the funds are still further increased, by amounts constantly varying, at different periods, in the hands of the Bankers and the Company's Agents.

At 31st December, 1868, these stood at ..... £ 108,089 2 0

For the satisfaction of the Public, the whole of the Securities belonging to the Company are annually submitted to the careful scrutiny of two Independent Auditors, and the following is an Extract from their Report to the last Annual Meeting:—

"The whole of your Books have been Audited—every Document, every Account, every Voucher, your Bank book, and every Security—all have been most carefully kept, and there is not one doubtful Security in the whole."

THE ACCUMULATIONS OF THE LIFE DEPARTMENT,

After payment of Losses, Annuities, and Expenses of every description, have been as follows:

Funds in Hand at the last Quinquennial Valuation, 31st Dec., 1864,	£ 621,421	15	8
Added to 31st December, 1865,	148,146	7	3

"CANADA LIFE"

Have published a Report and net valuation of all its policy and annuity obligations, by an Actuary totally unconnected with it, the Hon. Elijah Wright, of Boston, late Insurance Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts.

It is believed that such a voluntary submission of the Company's position to an eminent and entirely independent Actuary of the Hon. Elijah Wright's well known high character and professional skill, will add to that public satisfaction and confidence which the 'Canada Life Company' enjoys.

Copies of Mr. Wright's Report may be had at the Head Office, or at any of the Agencies throughout the Dominion.

Persons who may be assured in the Companies whose condition is unsatisfactory, desiring to join the "Canada Life," will be dealt with upon such terms as are reasonable and fair.

An Astonished Court.

A few days ago, says the New Orlean Picayune, an old lady and a young one found themselves in court, charged with disturbing the peace. The officer's statement was clearly given, and certainly disclosed an equal culpability in both. It was evident, however, that the court inclined a favorable judgment to the youngest, and the scales of justice were rapidly tipping in her favor.

'Why did you abuse this young lady?' the magistrate demanded of the old one.

'I had a right to!' was the calm reply.

'What was she doing?'

'Keeping company with a very improper character!'

'And what is that to you?'

'She's my daughter!'

'Oh, indeed! and you think the person was a very improper character?'

'I do, sir!'

'Do you know who he was?'

'I don't know his name. I've seen him frequently prowling around after night.'

And then, as if actuated by a sudden impulse, the old lady adjusted her spectacles, peered curiously at the court from under her green sunbonnet, and then exclaimed:

'Good lack! good lack! Why, you're the man!'

'Me!' me!' exclaimed the astonished Court. 'Me! womna, did you say me?'

Again the spectacles were adjusted, and the curious gaze prolonged, while the old lady nodded her head at intervals.

'Yes, yes, it's the same ugly face. I'm sure of it; but I'll forgive you this time, I'll forgive you.' And the old lady hobbled away, leaving the Court gasping with astonishment, and unable to interpose an objection to her departure.

Improvement in Grain.

Experiments have demonstrated, analogy has shown, that the finest and best sample of seed, continued for years, will improve the quantity and quality of the product.—A better wheat is thus 'raised; even a variety may be established. On this principle, in farm stock, we have the short horn, the indeed horses, and the different breeds of sheep, swine, poultry, &c. Experiments have been made on the human species, but the same no doubt holds good there. We plant and sow as it comes. We take the seed of the same grain that we use in the aggregate, and sow it. It not this the case always? Corn is an exception to some extent—but why do we except corn? Because it is understood to be good. Analogically, then it is good to do the same with wheat, oats, barley, &c. But this is less easily done; we therefore neglect it. How long will it take a farmer to go through this wheat and secure the finest and ripest heads sufficient to sow an acre, or half an acre, or a quarter, or a pint of seed? This pint sown will be sufficient to form a test crop. The best heads taken from this again, and sowed, will yield another test crop from which should be taken as before; and so on for a number of years say half a dozen—more still better. But three or four years will work a decided difference. But the thing should be continued from selected wheat every time. In this way grain can be improved and crops enlarged. There will be larger grains, earlier maturity, and better growth.—Rural World.

A lot of Young Americans were standing in front of an ancient saddler's shop, kept by one Hans, a Dutchman. A cockerel reigned supreme in their number, and thinking to have some sport with our German friend, one of them opened the door and addressed him: "I say, German, have you any saddles for dogs?" Looking up from his work quite composedly, he replied: "Yaw, come in unt dry one on."

Canadian Dominion Directory
FOR 1870-71.

THE SUBSCRIBER proposes to issue in SEPTEMBER, 1870, if sufficient support by SUBSCRIPTIONS and ADVERTISEMENTS can be obtained to cover the cost of publication, a CANADIAN DOMINION DIRECTORY, comprising the Provinces of ONTARIO, QUEBEC, NOVA SCOTIA and NEW BRUNSWICK, to which will be appended the Provinces of NEWFOUNDLAND and PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND. The Directory will contain the names of Professional and Business Men, and of the principal Inhabitants in the Cities, Towns and Villages, together with a large amount of general information, including Alphabetical Histories of Post Offices and Postmasters, Banks, Governmental Departments and Employees, Houses of Parliament, and Civil and Educational Departments, Custom Houses and Officers of Customs, Ports or Entry, Tariffs of Customs, List of Patents of Inventions, Canals, Railways, Railway and Steamboat Routes, Benevolent and Religious Societies, Clergy of all Denominations, Registrars with their Divisions, Newspapers and Periodicals, &c., &c., and, in short, settled points of expense will be spared to make the Imports and Exports, Revenue, Expenditure, Trade, Population, &c., &c.

To be corrected to As inf, 1870.

The Canada Directory for 1857-58, published by the Subscriber, contained the names of the Principal Inhabitants in the 100 Cities, Towns and Villages in Upper and Lower Canada. The CANADIAN DOMINION DIRECTORY for 1870-71 will contain a short description of at least 2,500 Cities, Towns and Villages in the Dominion of Canada, and the Provinces of Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island, together with the Names of the Professional and Business Men, and of the principal Inhabitants.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the glow and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Restoratives from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. It wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally relied upon by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable, safe and far more effectual remedy than any other cathartic. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compound. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Ayer's Pills are the best aperient medicine in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in our wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentary or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. When such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and purifying effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in relation to medicines, and have the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and areas readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

Why not, then, try our preparations in this manner as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, &c.?

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as scrofula, salt rheum, fever sores, white swellings, tendency to rush, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin, dyspepsia, sick stomach and bowels, loss of appetite, fever, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For convenience it has no equal; it is a mild and safe purgative and corrective for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful dispersant after the disease has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as agreeable preventive against summer complaint, debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
FOR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as coughs, colds, consumption, and pains in the breast or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Opium or Morphine or Relief are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaint, bilious fevers, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with safety by children, and is sold at 50 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present convenient style of putting up the medicine in packages, as in as literally concentrated a form as possible, and medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this extraordinary medicine enjoys is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. In cases of Scrofula, its disease when the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. In the severer forms of scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflictive, they have been radically cured in a great number in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of the virtues of this

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Whether it show itself in running sores or in the form of internal ulcers, or whether it lurk in the system and invisibly undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of fatal disease, it is equally dangerous, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tuberculous matter is deposited in the lungs, or other organs of the chest, or forms in the liver, or it shows its presence by exudations on the skin, or foul ulcers among or loose parts of the body. Hence the occasional use of this

Sarsaparilla is all that is necessary to purify the blood, and relieve when active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints should not neglect a thorough and perfect trial, by all means, of the use of this Sarsaparilla:—

Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, in the shape of Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterine affections of the female, familiar and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for polishing the constitution entirely from the virus before the continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Weakness, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effects. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis by agents below named. Coughs, Colds, caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the lungs yield quickly and, in time, Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, when arising from the same cause, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. Dyspepsia or Indigestion is a great promoter for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nightmare, Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections of the nervous system, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years its reputation has grown, and it has come to have more than a national fame. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the throat, lungs, and chest, have made it known as a reliable protector against disease. While adapted to regular practice, it is constantly finding favor in the hands of leaders and members in the profession, and at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given to the people. Clergymen, on account of its generous efficacies in the throat and lungs. As a provision against such diseases, should always be kept on hand in every family, as it indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, and should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled consumption is thought incurable, still there are numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured by the use of this remedy. It is certain that we now possess the best antidote for that fatal disease, that has ever been known. So complete is its mastery over the diseases of the throat and lungs, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could relieve, we have found the Cherry Pectoral to be certain in its effects.

Singers and Speakers find great protection from it.

Even Colds are always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So prepared is it, that we know that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Fever, Bilious Fever, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed the whole class of diseases originating from malarious, marshy or miasmatic poisons.

As the name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, Mercury, or any mineral or poisonous drug whatever, it is in nowise injurious to the patient. The number of cases where this remedy has been tried, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicines. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical character of its cures. In the Southern, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or traveling through, miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all around the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Turin, 1861, by Professor Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Cagliari, Sardinia, and finally at London in 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to the notice of Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the élite of society, having gradually secured the Royal Rooms immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no line of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Vanity.

The sun goes up and the sun goes down,
But the day and night are the same as one;
The year grows green and the year grows brown,
And what is it all when all is done?
Grains of sombre or shining sand,
Sliding into or out of the hand.

And men go down in ships to the seas,
And a hundred ships are the same as one;
And backward and forward blow the breeze,
And what is it all when all is done?
A tide with never a shore in sight,
Setting steadily on to the night.

The fisherman dropped his net in the stream,
And a hundred streams are the same as one;
And a maiden dreameth her love-lit dream,
And what is it all when all is done?
The sat of the fabar with burden breaks,
And after dreaming the dreamer awakes.

Canadian Religious Items.

Bishop Farrell has left for Rome.

The church lately occupied by the Baptists of Ingersoll has been purchased by the colored Baptists.

The Bishop of St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, has received from his parishioners a purse of $500 for transmission to the Pope.

The new St. George's Church at Montreal is nearly completed and already looks magnificent.

Seventy-two persons joined the church at the close of a Wesleyan Methodist camp meeting held at Georgian in September.

The new N. C. church erected in the village of Ancaster will be dedicated on the 7th prox.

A call has been tendered the Rev. Wm. Cochrane, of Brantford, by the second Presbyterian congregation of Newport, Massachusetts.

A tea meeting, concluding the dedicatory services of the new M. E. Church at Benmiller, held on the 4th inst., realized $180. The cost of the church is $690.

The steeple of the King street Wesleyan church, Hamilton, is approaching completion; the sidewalks of the new St. Taomas' church are also nearly finished.

At a meeting recently held in North Gower, the sum of $2,865 was subscribed toward building a more respectable and capacious place of worship for the Wesleyans of that village.

The Ashfield Presbyterian church, erected under the auspices of the Church of Scotland in Canada, has been voluntarily handed over to the Canada Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. W. Manning having entered upon the pastorage of the Baptist church at Almonte, Ont., requests that his correspondents address him at that place, instead of St. Andrews, as formerly.

At a social held on the 5th inst., in the Bible Christian Church, Oshawa, Rev. W. S. Pascoe, pastor of the church, was presented with a magnificent cake, in the top of which was a nest containing $50.

At the recent Presbyterian Synod held in Hamilton, a Board was appointed and directed to proceed to secure an endowment of $120,000 for Knox College, to be made payable in three months.

The members of the Methodist New Connexion church at Gorrie are erecting a shed above which they intend having a hall for Sabbath school and tea meeting purposes.

The induction of the Rev. James Thomas, pastor of the Canada Presbyterian church at Enniskillen, took place on the 12th.—At the conclusion of the service he was presented with a purse containing $300, six months' salary in advance.

The new W. M. church opened recently at Stanstead, Que., cost over $50,000 American currency, of which more than $30,000 were subscribed by Carlos Pierce, Esq. The pews have all been let, and the edifice is entirely free from debt.

The W. M. church lately erected at Beaverton was dedicated on the 3rd instant.—The church is constructed of white bricks, with Gothic windows and doors, and a very neat centre piece, and cost over $1,000, of which only $200 are still unpaid.

A few days ago a deputation of ladies presented the wife of Rev. Mr. Acheson, of Galt, with a purse containing $110, to assist in furnishing the elegant and comfortable manse erected by the congregation during the past summer.

The Lutheran congregation at Heidelberg have lately erected a very commodious edifice, Gothic style, and will comfortably seat, when finished, 600 persons. It is expected to be opened for worship about New Year.

The new Canada Presbyterian church at Wyoming was opened on the 10th. A soiree was held on the Monday evening following, the proceeds of which, added to the collections of the Sabbath services, amounted to $115, which will nearly clear off the liabilities standing against the building.

Last week the Rev. Mr. Middlemiss, of Guelph, was presented with a cheque for $50, as a recognition of the services he has rendered the congregation as Moderator of the Kirk session. The Rev. John Hogg was also presented with five handsome volumes, a token of appreciation for his kindness to the congregation while they were without a minister.

Goderich St. Andrew's church has undergone considerable improvements within the past few months. The steeple has been renovated and repainted, the inside brushed up, hot air introduced in place of the old unsightly stove pipes, and a handsome new fence is in course of erection now, all of which will add greatly to the appearance of the edifice, and reflect much credit upon the congregation.

The monument to be erected on the spot where the remains of the Jesuit priest, Rev. Eunemond Masse are buried, is to bear the following inscription:—"The residents of Sillery have erected this monument to the memory of P. Eunemond, S. J., first missionary to Canada, whose remains were interred in the church of St. Michael at Sillery in 1646." On the opposite tablet of the monument an inscription will be cut commemorative to the memory of the Commandeur de Sillery, who built the St. Michael Church, in which the venerable Jesuit was buried.

Age of Man.

We may be considered the normal age of man—the age to which the human mechanism might endure but for disease, accident, or other collateral interference! Three score years and ten is the scriptural answer, we all know; but without irreverence, we may easily assume that the scriptural statement contemplated the probability of disease, of accident, or of one or another amongst the extraneous causes in that by far the majority of cases terminates human life; not allowing enthanasia, or death from actual wearing out of the animal mechanism, to supervene. The phylologist, Blumenback, came to the conclusion that there is no period which can be said to be entitled by its frequency and marked regularity to be considered the natural term of advanced old age. Trying to determine this point, he consulted all the bills of mortality he could gain access to, and the conclusion he was able to arrive at was that in Europe, go inconsiderable number of individuals reached their eighty fifth year, but few got beyond it; and that from one or other cause, only one in every seventy-eight human beings can with any truth be said to die in the condition of enthanasia. Blumenback, it is worthy of remark, died in the beginning of 1840, aged eighty-eight, having retained his faculties to the last. He continued to lecture up to a few days before his death, and with the spirit and humor that had always been his wont.

Hufeland was of opinion that, were it not for disease or accident, or other extraneous cause, the natural term of man's life, ending in enthanasia, might be fixed at about two hundred years. He considered the assertion strengthened by its agreement with the proportion between the time of growth and the duration of life.—An animal, according to Hufeland, lives eight times as long as it grows; and the growth of man can be hardly looked upon as complete until twenty-five years of age.

Buried Alive.

A SAD REMINISENCE OF THE YEAR 1832.

From the Detroit Union.

The laborers engaged in removing bodies from the old city cemetry, on digging into a full sized grave struck a five inch plank box in an excellent state of preservation. The singular circumstances of burying a person in such a coffin at once engaged the attention of bystanders, and their curiosity was heightened to pain, when, on removing the cover, the remains of a human body were found, with the skull resting upon its face, showing beyond question that it had been buried alive.

On further examination there appeared the remains of what was evidently at one time clothes, and this indication was made almost a certainty when the cover of the coffin was entirely removed so as to expose the opposite end of the remains, when a pair of shoes perfect in form, but so decayed as to crumble at the least touch, were exposed to view. They were low cut lace shoes, apparently of a superior quality, and fashionable make, indicating that the wearer, who from their size and cut must have been a female, was not of the poorest class of society.

The fact that this body was buried in a plank box, without coffin, or case, in the clothing worn while living, and the other fact that it had been buried alive leads inevitably to the conclusion that it was a cholera patient of the terrible year 1833, when people died as the leaves fall in autumn, and were buried almost before life had left their bodies, in order to stay the progress of that fearful pestilence, the cholera.

My first is what lies at the door; my second is a kind of corn; my third is what nobody can do without; and my whole is one of the United States. Matrimony.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 27.

FRESH ARRIVALS.—Geo. C. Holton & Co's advertisement announcing the opening of winter goods, will be found in another column.

REV. JOSEPH WILD.—We see by our exchanges that this gentleman has been well received in Chicago, and his lectures have been a great success.

COMMISION MERCHANTS.—It will be seen by a card in to-day's issue that A. Fletcher & Co., have taken premises in Montreal, where they intend carrying on a Produce and General Commission business. Being well known here, we doubt not they will receive a fair share of the business of this county.

TROUBLE IN FLORIDA.—Official despatches received at Washington, say the northern portion of Florida is in a state of insurrection. In Jackson county the revenue officers have been resisted in the discharge of their duties, and are unable to collect the revenue. The Supervisor of that State has called for troops and it is expected that Gen. Terry has sent them.

A TRUTH.—The Boston Traveller thus alludes to Prof. Goldwin Smith's last deliverances: "Prof. Goldwin Smith has written a letter in favor of Canadian independence, "but opposing the annexation of British "America to what is commonly called "America,'—the United States, that is. The "learned Professor, it is probable, feels very "differently towards this country from what "he felt a year ago. We always regret the "coming of English Liberals to the United "States, their visits for the most part, con- "verting them into foes of the Republic." The best care in the world for an English radical, is a few years residence in the United States.

SCHOOL DISCONTENT IN QUEBEC.—Large meetings of the Irish Roman Catholics in the circuit of Quebec and at Sillery in the Province of Quebec have been held to express their disapproval of the manner in which their body had been ignored in the appointments of the Council of Public Instruction. Strong condemnatory resolutions were adopted and memorials drawn out remonstrating with the Local Government on the subject. We should have thought that French Catholics could have represented that body on the Board, but it appears this national feeling has to be recognized in ever department, or discontent produced.

Renfrew Elections.

If the telegraphic accounts of the meetings now being held by the new Finance Minister in Renfrew, furnished to the Globe be correct, then must Sir Francis Hincks be having a hard time of it. Experience has taught us, however, that these reports are in nine cases out of ten, utterly worthless, furnished by a fellow who never hesitates to draw upon his imagination when ever necessary for his purpose. A telegram to the Telegraph says: "Findlay, to-day "(25th Oct.,) came out a strong Conserva- "tive in his speech." And the Globe's report represents him as asking "Why should the Conservatives of North Renfrew elect a Radical like Hincks, who had edited that Radical newspaper the Moutreal Pilot?" And that Hincks "now presumed to dictate to them what was their duty as Conservatives." Verily this looks like another sell, and that the Globe is the victim this time. Is there any one who can tell what any of the Renfrew candidates are? It matters little, any of them are preferable to Hincks.

Victoria College.

A public meeting was held this afternoon in the the Wesleyan Methodist Church, on behalf the above institution. The attendance was small, limited principally to people from the country. Our citizens waiting evidently for this evening's meetings. The meeting was addressed by the Rev. G. A. Sanderson, Mr. Pugh, and W. Morley Punshon. The latter in his usual eloquent manner, presented the claims of Victoria College, to their considerations, referring to the fact, that on account of the discontinuance of the Government grant, an Endowment fund of $100,000 was necessary for the College to remain open. Explained the benefit of the Institution, the amount of good that had already been done by its influences, and hoped that the people would put forth their efforts to sustain it its usefulness. Between $58,000 and $59,000 had already been subscribed. At the close of the meeting the following amounts were subscribed:—Rev. Robert Thompson, $100; Dr. Potts, $100; Rev. R. Robinson, $40; Rev. Geo. Carr, $25; Rev. Thos. Cullen, $25; J. Walton, $25; Rev. A. Doxic, $10; Rev. W. Ryan, $10; Rev. J. Ferguson, $10. The meeting was then adjourned till this evening. Mr. Punshon pronouncing the benediction.

Canadian Fisheries.

That the Americans, as a people and as a nation, have always had a longing desire to secure the benefits of our fishing grounds is well known; and that they have made, and continue to make, absurd and illegal claims to the right of fishing in Canadian waters is also patent; but it was scarcely expected that respectable journals in the United States would urge their fisherman to deeds of violence to maintain a fancied right. Yet such is the case, for the New York Tribune a few days since made the following announcement:

"The American fishermen of Gloucester, irritated at the frequent and persistant interference of British cruisers in their legitimate pursuits, and determined to submit no longer to expulsion from waters in which they believe themselves entitled to fish, applied some time ago for legal advice as to the extent of their right of resistance, and acting under that advice have armed themselves abundantly with Enfield rifles on their two or three voyages with the firm resolution of maintaining their position by force, in case of molestation by meddlesome revenue cutters."

This is bringing the question of right to an issue, and we trust the Dominion Government, will not, for fear of offending the Americans, hesitate to punish these pirates as their crimes merit, should they attempt to use their Enfield rifles. Every one must regret even a misunderstanding between our neighbors and ourselves.—Much better, however, that it should occur than to be living upon sufferance; by neglecting to assert our rights as a British people for fear of bringing down the vengeance of the Americans. Through blustering, and threatenings Brother Jonathan succeeded in obtaining the advantage of England in negotiations, relative to the Eastern and Western boundries, and expect to accomplish the same relative to the fisheries, and will succeed unless well watched by the Canadian Government. "This fishery question has always been a sore one with our neighbors, who, since the repeal of the Reciprocity Treaty, appear very unwilling to act in regard to it in a manner consistent with British right and the interest of peace. Our neighbors are now, as heretofore, eager to enjoy the same privileges as British fishermen without giving anything in return; but this is just what we can not allow. They have frequently, perhaps generally, succeeded in their one-sided object, through the inability of the two or three British cruisers to watch our long irregular coast lines. But their vessels have been occasionally caught offending and punished or driven off, to the great annoyance of the parties interested. We are sorry to see the Tribune applauding the determination of its Gloucester friends, which could only lead to a serious quarrel between Britain and Canada on one side, and the United States on the other," and trust they may yet see the necessity of respecting the treaty and laws of nations so as to avoid trouble.

A parliamentary return just published shows that there were only $5,217 collected from licenses paid by American fishermen during the past year; while in Nova Scotian waters alone, the previous year there were collected $13,929. The falling off is attributed to the increase of the duty from $1 to $2 a ton, and the practical connivance of the Prince Edward Island authorities at the evasion of the duty; yet we believe the true cause of the falling off is to be found in the open violation of the law by American fishermen, and a want of activity and decison on our part.

Thanksgiving Day.

The Methodist and Presbyterian churches of Canada will observe Friday week next as a day Thanksgiving for the abundant harvest. The following circular on the subject has been published:—

"DEAR BRETHREN,—In view of the goodness of Almighty God in the gift of an abundant harvest, and in humble recognition of Him as the one source of rational and social good, I request you to observe Friday, the 5th of November next, as a day of special Thanksgiving and Prayer. We shall be joined in this observance by our brethren of the Presbyterian churches, by whom the day will be set apart fro the same becoming purpose; and it cannot be that if we reverently enter upon it, we shall fail of the blessing promised to those who, by 'the fruit of their lips,' give thanks unto His name, and whom as the appropriate expression of their gratitude, 'pay their vows unto the Lord in the presence of all his people.'

"I am, dear brethren,

"Yours in the bonds of the gospel,

"W. MORLEY PUNSHON,

"President of Conference."

Those Costs.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

In your issue of yesterday, "a Ratepayer" states that Messrs. Ross, Bell & Holden, are pressing for payment of their costs of defending the suit of Smith vs. School Trustees; and asks to know whether the rate payers or such of the members of the Board as voted to defend the suit are to pay these costs? There is no doubt, according to the decision of the Court, published by you not long since, the rate payers must pay Mr. Smith's and Mr. Dickson's costs; but, the decision says nothing as to the costs of the unsuccessful defence, therefore, I suppose these costs ought not in justice to be paid by the Board. The payment of these costs by the Board would be a misappropriation of the people's money. I have heard it stated there is some way to fix the right amount of these costs, called "taxing," before "taxing" the people for them, and that they cannot be taxed but by an officer in Toronto. Be this as it may —those members of the Board who voted in favor of defending the suit, are to blame for incurring these costs, and ought individually, either to pay them or see to taxation before payment. Time will tell. The day of reckoning is at hand.

The Madoc Railroad.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR.—The pluck and energy with which this scheme is taken up, is one of the most favorable features in the case, and argues well for its success. But, the same spirit that, if properly directed, and governed by sound judgment would lead to victory; may be perverted by injudicious action, and become the chief instrument of defeat. Shrewd and selfish men are well aware of this fact, and even on the alert to take advantage of the weak points in the human character, the cloven foot already shows itself in the direction of Kingston. There must have been some curvy for sinre pulling to have got up such a furore of enthusiasm amongst the Madocers for the Kingston route; but the springs of action will be discovered one of those days, and their fallacies exposed. It needs no argument to prove that Belleville is, and always must be as good a market as Kingston. There are only three qualifications necessary to make a market anywhere on Lake Ontario: Namely, a good harbor—the Grand Trunk, and a good back country: Belleville has all these—Kingston certainly has no more. But to argue that 100 miles of railway can be built as easily as 28 or 30, is a proposition too absurd to call for refutation. In the present financial state of the country, we shall find the shorter route quite as much as we can manage; and being the shortest and cheapest, it would be the soonest in operation. Within two years the Belleville road might be in running order; the road to Kingston could scarcely be completed in five years. And then, the business on that road would not pay running expenses; because, all the produce south of Hog Lake would go to Belleville still. If our railway projectors have such a plethora of cash, let them extend the road north, into the timber and mineral regions, and thereby open up sources of immense and ever increasing traffic; for we know that if the Government were to sell out the timber lands, and abolish the licenses, they must compel them to that next session of Parliament, the whole country would soon pass into the hands of individuals who would open up such a trade in lumber and wooden wares, as would give ample support to a railway, until the more permanent business of mining, with all its concomitant branches of industry becomes a success, and may require enlarged means of transit.

Without stopping then to enquire how much Belleville has risked and lost in her juvenile attempts at mining, or how much she may yet regain by a wiser system, based on dearly bought experience; or whether Kingston ever has done, or ever will do anything for us, to develop our staple source of industrial wealth, give us at once the shortest—the cheapest, and the quickest route.

Great Fire in Toronto.

GOODERHAM AND WORTS' DISTILLERY DESTROYED—IMMENSE DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY—NO INSURANCE—LOSS OVER $100,000.

Scarcely had the people ceased reading the accounts of the Great Fire in Montreal, than they were startled with those of another in Toronto, on Tuesday evening, 26th, which resulted says the Leader, in the entire destruction of the distillery of Messrs. Gooderham & Worts, situated on the esplanade, in the eastern end of the city; the property destroyed being valued at over $100,000. The fire broke out about six o'clock, and was the result of carelessness on the part of one of the employees named Mr. Daniel Murray, who it seems occupied an important position in the establishment, his duty being that of an overseer, despatcher, &c. It seems that Mr. Murray proceed to mix some paint in the filling room, on the stone or lower floor, for the purpose of having it on hand in the morning to paint the heads of the barrels, and when in the act of pouring some benzine the vapor arising from the liquid was ignited by the flames of a coal oil lamp, and an explosion ensued. In an instant the flames extended to a barrel of benzine close by, which also exploded, and the flame ascending to the next floor came in contact with the stills—resulting in a few moments in a fearful conflagration, which illuminated the whole city. It was with a good deal of difficulty that Mr. Murray escaped from the building, as he was nearly suffocated by the explosion, and had one of his arms burned by the flame thereof. The distiller, Mr. Pyper, had also a narrow escape in consequence of the rapidity with which the flames spread in the room in which he was employed at the time. Originating in the centre of the building, which is five storeys in height, the flames extended eastward and westward with such great rapidity that it was found impossible to control them. The fire engines were placed to the west of the distillery, but they had not been long there when it was found necessary to remove them further east, where they had not been long at work, however, till they were driven off, and they had to be drawn through the flames, which were being blown by a strong nor'-wester over the esplanade; and taking up a fresh position at the water slip at the foot of Little Trinity street they recommenced with four branches —two being played from each engine. In the meantime the scene presented was appalling, the fire roared and hissed, and mounting high in the air illuminated the whole city. There was a large quantity of liquor in the distillery, and it not only poured out of the building, but actually flowed in torrents over the railway track, and a channel being finally dug for it under the rails, the boiling, blazing spirits flowed into the bay and burned brilliantly on the surface of the water. Indeed the liquor poured out of the distillery on the north side in such abundance that it flowed across the yard, and into the garden situated between the distillery and Mr. Gooderham's private residence; and it was found impossible to extinguish it even though two branches were brought to play upon it. Finding that there was a likelihood of the fire extending to Mr. Gooderham's residence the whole energy of the fire brigade was directed to keep it back, which they finally succeeded in doing. The western end of the rectifying house caught fire, and a couple of windows and a door were destroyed, but the fire brigade succeded in extinguishing the flames. There was a large quantity of highwines in the building at the time, and during much excitement was felt for a time for its safety.—During this time the flames were working their way westward, and finally reached the farthest end of the mill, which, with the distillery, three hundred feet in length, and constructed of limestone blocks, the walls being very thick and, the timbers of the best description. The efforts of the fire brigade, under the judicious management of Mr. Ashfield, succeeded in preventing the fire extending to the coal yard, to the west of the distillery, in which was stored $40,000 worth of coal.

There was no insurance on any part of the property destroyed. Indeed this firm finds it more profitable to be their own insurers, and have established a sinking fund for that purpose.

The Grand Trunk tarins were notified at the Don Station to avoid coming west, until the track should be repaired. The night express for Montreal did not not go out.

ANOTHER DESTRUCTIVE FIRE—SEVERAL HOUSES DESTROYED.

About half-past two o'clock this morning a fire broke out in a brick store, on the south side of Queen street, near the corner of Brock, occupied by Mr. Wm. Milne, and owned by Mr. Martin Perry. The flames extended to a row of four small frame stores eastward, and, attacking the tavern of D. B. Johnston, on the corner, burnt it down also.

The flames then extended along Brock street, and soon enveloped a row of small tenants as far as a lane, on the south side of which is a large row of dwellings, the occupants of which quickly removed their effects —as no engine had by that time arrived from the conflagration at Gooderham & Worts' distillery. A house on the north side of the lane was also destroyed. It was occupied by Mr. Perry. A fire engine then arrived and prevented the flames extending any further.

THE RECENT RELIGIOUS LIBERTY DECREE.

HAVANA, Oct. 26.—The 'Voss de Cuba,' a liberal journal, praises the decree establishing religious liberty. It expects the most beneficial results for the country from this great measure, believing that under it the Catholic religion will revive, and atheism, now so prevalent, be annihilated.

The 'Diario' has a brief reference to the decree, but indulges in no comments for or against it.

The 'Presza' expresses its dissatisfaction, while it accepts the decree because it is now law.

The expenditures of the Post Office Department during the past fiscal year have increased about one million dollars and the income has increased about two million dollars. The reforms that have been inaugurated since March will show a still greater improvement before another year.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—SIX CARS OFF THE TRACK.

The New York 'Times' says that at 3:45 p. m. yesterday, six cars of a passenger train on the Erie Railroad, on its way from New York to Buffalo, ran off the track two miles east of Susquehanna. The whole train is a complete wreck. It is reported that none of the passengers were injured, but the news reaches us at so late an hour that it is impossible to ascertain if this statement is true. The cause of the accident was a broken rail.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite. The CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE remarks: "The singular success which Mr. Epps attained by his homœpatic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, the cords were supplied my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has other remarkable properties conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

SECURITY

SHOULD be THE FIRST CONSIDERATION in INSURANCE TRANSACTIONS.

THE Directors of the Royal Insurance Company have the pleasure of supplying the following information to the public, as evidence of the ample security they afford to their assurers:—

The Capital of the Company, available for the purpose of meeting any unusual calamity happening to the Assured, is

Two Millions Stirling.

The amount actually paid up is £288,495. This, with the Accumulated Funds in Hand, makes the invested resources of the Company upwards of One Million Six Hundred Thousand Pounds, which amount is invested as follows:—

INVESTED FUNDS OF THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY, 30th June, 1869.

Real Property owned by the Company,	£319,571 11 3
Mortgages on Freehold Property,	33,000 0 0
£40,000 Reduced 3 per Cent. Consols,	28,085 1 3
India Government 5 per Cent. Debentures,	100,000 0 0
English Railway Debenture Bonds,	59,990 17 7
First-class English Railway Preference and Guaranteed Stocks,	335,476 11 11
Loans to Local Authorities of various towns in Great Britian, who have obtained the sanction of the Secretary of State to borrow the amounts,	145,560 12 6
Bonds of the Mersey Docks and Harbour Board,	62,841 14 8
Bonds of the British and Irish Magnetic Telegraph Co.,	10,000 0 0
Bonds of the Liverpool Corporation,	5,160 0 0
United States Government Stocks,	101,250 7 10
Canada Bonds and Canada Dominion Stock,	31,106 11 6
Short Loans on First-class English Dividend-paying Stocks with margins, from 20 to 50 per Cent. on market values,	477,195 0 0
Loans on Security of Life Policies,	63,938 8 5
	£1,672,356 16 11

The above is a complete list of the Investments of the Company at the date specified, in addition to which the funds are still further increased, by amounts constantly varying, at different periods, in the hands of the Bankers and the Company's Agents. At 31st December, 1868, these stood at ..... £ 168,089 2 0

For the satisfaction of the Public, the whole of the Securities belonging to the Company are annually submitted to the careful scrutiny of two independent Auditors, and the following is an Extract from their Report to the last Annual Meeting:—

"The whole of your Books have been Audited—every Document, every Account, every Voucher, your Bank book, and every Security—all have been most carefully kept, and there is not one doubtful Security in the whole."

THE ACCUMULATIONS OF THE LIFE DEPARTMENT,

After payment of Losses, Annuities, and Expenses of every description, have been as follows:

Funds in Hand at the last Quinquennial Valuation, 31st Dec., 1864,	£ 621,434 15 5
Added to 31st December, 1865,	103,146 7 3
" " " 1866,	124,155 7 5
" " " 1867,	126,581 8 10
" " " 1868,	144,945 12 2
Total Accumulation of the Life Department on 31st December, 1868, exclusive of Shareholders' Capital,	£1,122,375 8 1

The Directors also think it necessary to state that the Business of the ROYAL has never been amalgamated with that of any other Company, and that the Liability of its Shareholders is unlimited.

ENGLISH ASSURANCE OFFICES.

NATURALLY causing much anxiety in the minds of Assurers in all Companies, the Directors of the

"CANADA LIFE"

Have published a Report and net valuation of all its policy and annuity obligations, by an Actuary totally unconnected with it, the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT, of Boston, late Insurance Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts.

It is believed that such a voluntary submission of the Company's position to an eminent and entirely independent Actuary of the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT'S well known high character and professional skill, will add to that public confidence and confidence which the "Canada Life Company" enjoys.

Copies of Mr. WRIGHT'S Report may be had at the Head Office or at any of the Agencies throughout the Dominion.

Persons who may be assured in the Companies whose condition is unsatisfactory, desiring to join the "Canada Life," will be dealt with upon such terms as are reasonable and fair.

October.

The scholar drops his book and pen
To mix with visions sober;
The gorgeous tints of hill and glen,
The pallet of October.

For, Jacob-like, the waning year,
With patriarchal passion,
Gives to the month supremely dear
His many-colored fashion.

To this conspired the buds of Spring,
And all the months and seasons;
Their sheaves to his the eleven bring
In manifold abeisance.

Earth finds no bluer, fairer skies,
Since June's, the gentle-hearted;
Each bough suspends some sweet surprise,
In pay for gifts departed.

'Tis sweet when May's young leaves unfold,
To drink her charming caresses;
To-day the forest's fire and gold
Our utmost being blesses.

So, scholar, let thy dream fulfil,
And blithful thought be sober;
And greet, when Life and Joy o'erspill,
The gorgeous-hued October.

Josh Billings' Paper.

THE RACOON AND THE PETTYFOGGER.

The racoon iz a resident of the United States ov America; he emigrated tew this country soon after its diskovery by Kolumbus, without a cent, and nothing but hiz claws to get a livin with.

He is ov them kind ov persons whoze hide is worth more than all the rest ov him.

He resides among the heavy timber and cultivates the cornfields and nabouring garden sasses for sustenance and understanz his business.

Hiz family consists ov a wife and three children, who live with him on the inside ov a tree.

He can always be found at home during the day, reddy tew receive calls, but hiz nights are devoted tew looking after hiz own affairs.

He dresses in soft fur, and hiz tail which iz round, haz rings on it.

This rings are ov the same material that the tail iz, and are worn upon all occasions.

During the winter he lies himself up in a hard knot and lays down by hiz fireside.

When spring comes, he opens, and goes out tew see how the chickens have wintered.

Hiz life iz az free from labor az a new penny, and if it wasn't for the dogs and the rest ov mankind, the racoon would find what everybody else haz lost—a heaven upon earth.

But the dogs tree him and the men skin him, and what there iz left ov him ain't worth a cent.

He iz a natural vagabond like the hedgehog and the alligator, but tuvs to be civilized and liv among folks; but he has one vice that the smartest missionary on earth kan't redeem, and that iz the art ov stealing.

He is second only tew the crow in petit larceny, and will steal what he kan't eat nor hide.

He will tip over a barrel ov apple sass just for the fun ov manling the sass with hiz feet, and will pull out the plug out ov the molasess, not bekause he luvs sugar eny better than he duz young dogs, but just tew see if the molasess, haz got a good dash tew it.

I have studied animal devitry for 18 years, bekause the more devitry in an animal, the more human he iz.

I kan't find by searching the passenger list that had a coon on board, but I am willing tew bet 10 pounds ov muton sassage that mister coon and hiz wife commenced, by stealing a ride.

I never knu a rackoon tew want enny thing long that he could steal quick. Enybody who has ever hooked a coon right square in the face will bet yu a dollar that he iz a dead beat.

I have had tame coons by the dozen, they are az easy tew tame az a child, if yu take them young enuff, but I kan't advise enybody to cultivate coons, they want ez much looking after az a blind mule on a tow path, and there ain't enny more profit in them than thar iz in a stock dividend on the Erie Railroad.

I never was out ov a pet animal since I kan remember, till now, but I have gone out ov the trade forever; lately I discovered that it waz a good deal like making a whissel out ov a kat's tail, and reaping a kusid mean whistle.

Rackoons liv tew be 65 years old, if they miss the society ov men and dogs enuff, but thare ain't but few ov them die of old age; the north-western fur company are the grate undertakers ov the coon family.

I feel sorry for coons; for with a trifle more brains, they would make respectable pettyfoggers before a justiss ov the peace; but even this would not save them from perdishun.

Natur don't make enny mistakes, after all, when she wants a rackoon, with rings on his tail, she makes, him, and when she wants a pettyfogger, she knows how tew make him without spiling a good coon.

Pettyfoggers, no doubt, hav a destiny tew fill, and they may enable a justiss of the peace in a cloudy day, tew know a good deal less ov the law than he other wise would; still, for all this, if I waz obliged tew pray for one or the other, I think now I should say, Give us a little more coon, and a good deal less pettyfogger.

If the rackoon would only give hiz whole attension tew politicks, thar ain't but few could beat him; he's at home on the stump, and menny on us, old coons, kan reckolekt how, in 1840 with nothing but a hard cider diet, he swept the country, from the north to the south pole, like a cargo ov epsom salts.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Nothing can be will prevent its hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally relied on by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country among all classes, as this mild but efficient, purgative Pills. The obvious reason is that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, ask that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can come from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action, remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their regular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derange ments as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally sufficient.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

As occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advertised more than it needs, for no derangement exists but what yields tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our ten and eight dollar bottles at no expense of at least four times when their now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines? why are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

Therefore in our generation unnecessary burdens of the practicability or as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thomvson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, or from any malformation. In the form of white swellings, tendency to rank and rotten, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the secretions, and where it is more free, and promotes the general vigor of the system, so that the whole strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S
Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For Convalescence it has no equal; it is a mild and safe purgative and corrector for all irritable persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful stimulant after the fevers has been reduced by sickness; as excellent as wet as an appetizer, and wonderful as a remedy for general debility. Put disease having their origin in an impoverished or perverted or deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as coal chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or blood, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact in any property be called Cold Blood, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Relefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, sore throats, tonsite complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success for any of the diseases of females' packages.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is now able to supply druggists with a powerful medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

The North British Review.
AND Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

THE reprints of the leading Quarterlies and Blackwood's Magazine, have now become a well established feature in the literature of the day. Each of these periodicals has its own distinctive character, and while devoted to one department of literature, they embrace a wide range of subjects, and are conducted with great ability. Blackwood's Magazine is well known as the leading monthly publication of Great Britain. The contributors to the pages of these several works are men who stand at the head of the list of English writers on Science, Religion, Art and General Literature, and whatever is worthy of discussion finds admission in the pages of these Reviews and Blackwood. The character of a first class periodical cannot be surpassed.

These periodicals are printed with thorough fidelity to the English copy, and are offered at prices which place them within the reach of all.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, and has enjoyed from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of scrofulous disease, in which the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of the virtues it possesses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, the taint seems to be latent of the organism undermines the constitution, and before the seeds of hereditary fatal disease are without existing a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and, in such a favorable condition, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or deep for vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. However the scrofulous use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, and the various Uterous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it after a long time in vain. Those foul pustuling there obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute fibres in the blood, yield only to it, as also Liver Complaint, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising from a disordered state of the fluids or poison in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great remedy for the strength and health of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Dependent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervousness, Irritations or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Nervous Diseases, will find speedy relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power in this remedy.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Colds, Coughs, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably no remedy in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this cherry pectoral for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and through all climates, its fame has been wafted higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Hazardous cases of lung complaint, and of the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector, even when all other remedies failed. In milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the command of the Lungs that it proves itself the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else can reach the seat of trouble, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Mercury, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is entirely harmless upon the most delicate system. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts are literally beyond computation, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is to spread before the afflicted the undeniable evidence of the radical cures effected in countless cases, and where other remedies have entirely failed.

Unscrupulous persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be projected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Receipt—was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, in which Bitters, Cordials, Tonics, Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, who have tested their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

The Bells of Shandon.

With deep affection and recollection
I often think of those Shandon bells, [hood,
Whose sounds so wild would, in days of child-
Fling round my cradle their magic spells.
On this day I ponder, where'er I wander,
And this day grow fonder, sweet Cork, of thee;
With thy bells of Shandon,
That sound so grand on
The pleasant waters of the river Lee.

I've heard bells chiming full many a clime in,
Telling sublime in cathedral shrine;
While at gibe rate brass tongues would vibrate,
But all their music spoke naught like thine;
For memory dwelling on each proud swelling
Of thy belfry knelling its bold notes free,
Made the bells of Shandon
Sound far more grand on
The pleasant waters of the river Lee.

I've heard bells tolling "Old Adrain's Mole,"
Their thunder rolling from the Vatican,
And symbols glorious, swimming uproarious
In the gorgeous turrets of the Notre Dame;
But thy sounds were sweeter than the dome of Peter
Flings o'er the Tiber, pealing solemnly.
O! the bells of Shandon
Sound far more grand on
The pleasant waters of the river Lee.

There's a bell in Moscow, while on tower and kiosko,
In St. Sophia the Turkman gets,
And loud in air, calls men to prayer
From the tapering summits of tall minarets.
Such empty phantom I freely grant them,
But there is an anthem more dear to me,
'Tis the bells of Shandon,
That sound so grand on
The pleasant waters of the river Lee.

The Decay of the American Marine.

We have published, says the New York Times, several interesting letters from a special correspondent in Great Britain on the decay of the American marine. He states what our merchants know only too well, that the United States is rapidly sinking to the position of a third-rate or fourth-rate mercantile Power, while formerly we stood second only to Great Britain. The picture of the London docks, which he gives, is melancholy to an American's eye. Wharves which twelve years ago would show in the course of a season a hundred American-built ships, many of them large handsome clippers, are now not floating a single American flag, and their place is supplied by the iron vessels of the Clyde and the Tyne. A large carrying trade which used to pour its profits into the pockets of our citizens, and train up a body of skilful American seamen, has now passed almost entirely into German and British hands. We who considered ourselves almost the first of maritime powers, find ourselves second in the ocean passenger traffic in Germany, who a few years ago, hardly possessed a marine at all.

If we visit our docks in this city, we find the steamers to Germany, France, and England almost all foreign built, and quantities of our own ships laid up as useless.—This is certainly a most serious matter for a great commercial city like New York, and deserves somewhat more consideration from Congress than it has yet received. Mr. Welles, in his last report, decided our whole misfortune in this respect in epigrammatic terms. "We can," said he, "neither build, buy nor sell an American ship." The inquiries of the Congressional Committee, which has been for some days in session in this City, will, we hope, be followed by comprehensive and practical measures at Washington in the coming winter.

The success of a mercantile marine depends now primarily on cheap coal, iron and lumber. The Clyde is ever driving the Thames out of the field by its cheaper materials; and both English and Germans have utterly defeated us in the competition for the world's trade. For in this branch alone, of all industries, there is throughout the world absolute free trade. We cannot prohibit foreign-built ships from entering our ports, and when here, they compete with ours on the basis of cost alone. The essentially faulty nature of our tariff stands out pre-eminently in this one branch. We 'protect' every raw material entering into an important branch of manufacture while we ruin the branch itself.

To build cheap ships, we must have cheap lumber; but we import only a small quantity, say seven and a half millions of dollars worth, against some fifty-four millions of native production. Yet, on this import, we lay a tax of twenty per cent ad valorem, which with this percentage to the importer may be reckoned at twenty-five per cent. This twenty-five per cent tax, though laid on the imported article only, of course reaches the whole supply, and the ship-builder is placed at that precise disadvantage, as compared with his foreign rival.

On iron, if pig iron, the builder must pay about $12 per ton duty, or at least fifty per cent on what it costs to produce it here; the iron maker making immense profits, while the shipbuilder, who competes with the foreigner, is ruined. This tax is the more unreasonable in that statistics show that pig iron can be produced here even more cheaply than in many of the most favored countries of Europe.

The same is true of coal. This indispensable material for manufacture, and especially for such a branch as iron steamers, can be furnished at the pit's mouth in this country not less cheaply, and often more cheaply than that which is supplied by the best mines of Great Britain and Belgium. When it reaches the consumers in our shipyards, who are purposing to build iron vessels or machinery, it is enhanced by all the amount of the duty, places our iron manufacture in another respect at an immense disadvantage as compared in the corresponding branch in England and Scotland.

Other taxes burden copper and cordage, and in fact we may safely estimate that all articles employed by our native ship builder are raised, on an average, forty-eight per cent thereby. If, however, in spite of this he ventures to build his steamer and start her for Europe, he must pay on the gross receipts of passengers a tax of two and a half per cent, and on his profits (though the probability of this is slight,) a tax of five per cent, his Liverpool or Glasgow rivals build their vessels one-half cheaper, enjoy the use of all articles of common use without duty, burn coal at half the cost of the American, pay smaller wages, are burdened with only a small local tax of but from one to two on the rental of their machine shops, and, finally pay an income tax on profits of only one and two-thirds per cent. It will be easily seen from these brief statements why the American goes to the wall, and why the American marine is passing from the ocean.

Arrest of a Murderer Thirty Years After his Crime.

The following curious story of crime and retribution is told by the Dubuque Times: "For the last fifteen or twenty years there has lived about a dozen or so miles south of this city a farmer named Costello, who, in his own community, and among those with whom he was acquainted, has enjoyed the reputation of being an honorable and fair dealing man. Matters prospered well on his farm; he was all attention to his duties, and was considered a good husband and a kind father. Costello was born in Ireland, and lived there until manhood. He had settled down and rejoiced in the possession of a wife and several children. But an unlucky day came when, in a dispute, he struck a blow which made him a fratricide—an outlaw, and a fugitive from justice. Escaping the officers of the law, he fled the country, embarked on an emigrant ship and came to America. After many years of rambling through this country he came to Dubuque, where, by industry and economy, he succeeded in securing a good farm. Meanwhile his wife and children remained in the old country, entirely ignorant of his whereabouts. He could not write to have them come out to America for that would only lead to his discovery and bring him surely to the gallows. Besides, it is but natural to suppose that his wife, knowing his terrible crime, would hardly be willing to share her life with his. So, after talking the matter into consideration, he married again. But this terrible secret has at last crept out. Last year his nephew, the son of the murdered brother, arrived here, and, after securing the proper legal papers, proceeded to the farm of Costello and had him arrested for the murder committed thirty years ago. He is now on the way back to Ireland to be tried, and, if no circumstances can be adduced to justify the fratricide, to suffer for it to the full extent.

Northern Lights.

The theory generally maintained by scientific men that the auroral, or northern lights, are attributed to electrical influences, is disputed by Dr. A. W. Hall, who recently gave his views on the subject before the American Institute. His theory is that the aurora borealis is produced by the rays of the sun, which are reflected from clouds surrounding the pole to the ice and snow of the Arctic regions and thence again reflected to the clouds, and so back and forth, until it comes within our range of vision. The glancing and flashing of the columns of light, he holds, are caused by the motion of the clouds, an exact correspondence being traceable, the doctor contends, between the movements of the light and those of the clouds. In confirmation of his theory the speaker cited the cases of similar displays of auroral light in the east just after sunset, when there are banks of clouds visible, from which the sun's rays are evidently reflected. The arches or bows often seen in the north are also easily explained according to the hypothesis, while by the electrical theory they are inexplicable. The deflection of the needle and other magnetic effects, sometimes observed during an auroral display, are attributed by Dr. Hall to the fact that the state of the atmosphere most favorable for these successive reflections of sunlight from the pole, is also favorable for the action of the electrical forces which produces the magnetic disturbances.

☞Remember the lecture on "Nelson," to night, in Ontario Hall.

CHURCH MATTERS IN IRELAND.—At a large meeting of the clergy, held at Dublin on the 22nd inst., Archbishop French presided, it was decided by a large majority that the laity have the right to decide upon matters of doctrine and discipline.

THE ARBITRATORS.—The official arbitrators who have been at work in Ottawa for some time past, endeavoring to adjust the accounts between Ontario, Quebec and the Dominion Government, adjourned on Wednesday, Oct. 27th. The supposition is that they will not meet again until the rising of the Local Legislatures.

WHAT IS AN EDITOR?—An exchange answers this question as follows:—" Why, he is a man who reads the newspapers, writes articles on most any subject, sets type, reads proof, folds mails, runs on errands, saws wood, draws water, works in the garden, talks to all who come, is blamed for a hundred things which are nobody's business but his own, works from 5 a. m., to 10 p. m., helps people to get into office (who forget all about it afterwards), and frequently gets cheated out of half his own earnings. He puffs and does more to build up a town than any other body; and the miser and fogy are benefited thereby, yet they will say that the editor's paper is of no account, will not advertise or take the paper, but will borrow it. Who wouldn't be an editor?

FATAL ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, Joseph Epplet, of Belleville, employed as a fireman on a freight train of the Grand Trunk Railway, went upon the top of a car at the Scarboro' station for the purpose of breaking, and unfortunately fell between the cars while the train was in motion, and was killed. The unfortunate man was not raised till the train had gone about two miles. The engine was then reversed and the train ran back and the body was found on the track and conveyed to Toronto, where an inquest was held on the body by Dr. Buchanan, and a verdict of "accidental death" returned. The body has been brought to Belleville, where it will be buried on Friday, October 29th. Young Epplet was the only support of a widowed mother, and was much respected by all who knew him.

The Cabinet.

The Leader's special of the 27th from Ottawa says:—" The Privy Council met to-day and were engaged on matters connected with the reconstruction of the Cabinet. A list of changes, substantially correct, has been published, which is as follows:—Hon. Mr. Howe becomes Secretary of State for the Provinces, and is succeeded as President of the Privy Council by Hon. Mr. Chapais, to whose office, the Bureau of Agriculture, Senator Benson steps in. Hon. Mr. Langevin resigns the Secretaryship for the Commissionship of Public Works, and his successor will be Alex. Morris, M. P., for South Lanark. Hon. Mr. Dunkin enters the ministry as Chief of the Inland Revenue Department." The acquisition of Messrs. Morris and Dunkin to the Cabinet is valuable, and will command the respect of both friends and opponents. The Hon. Mr. Benson is a very respectable nobody, and while he brings little influence to the Cabinet, he will do no harm. If Hincks was out of the Ministry it would command the respect and support of the country.

Cheap Railways.

An important lesson has been taught those who are interested in the construction of cheap railways, in the remarkable success of the Port-Madoc and Festiniog Railway in Wales, which is thus spoken of by the Railway News:

"This is a little line in North Wales, which was originally constructed for the purpose of acting as a tramway for slate and stones from the hills of Merionethshire to the seashore. It is now being used as a regular goods and passenger line. The chief peculiarity in its construction is that the gauge is only two feet broad. Hence, though the line runs through a very difficult country, the expense of construction and working are so small that the traffic yields the enormous revenue of thirty per cent. The reason is simple enough. It is because the proportion between the load, weight and paying weight is so much less than upon other railways. The engine used is tender upon this line weigh about ten tons, against forty tons upon the wider gauge of other lines. Instead of a first class carriage weighing seven and a half tons, to carry thirty-two passengers, and representing nearly five hundred of dead weight for each passenger, the carriages on the Festiniog weigh only thirty cwt. for twelve passengers, or two and a half cwt. for each person carried."

It's two feet gauge road is a success in Wales, where heavy loads of slate and stone are carried over it and running through a very hilly country, we see no reason why it should not be the very thing for rural lines in Canada.

—The Lieut.-Governor of New Brunswick has appointed Wednesday, the 10th of November, as a day of thanksgiving for an abundant harvest.

—The barque Waterwitch was wrecked near Timber Island, on the 20th inst. She was abandonded, and sank shortly after. No lives were lost.

Meeting in Behalf of Victoria College.

The meeting last evening in behalf of the above Institution, was largely attended, and the results very successful. Much interest was taken by those present in the remarks of the different speakers; and the eloquence of the Rev. Mr. Punshon delighted every one who had the pleasure of hearing him. The meeting opened with singing by the choir, and prayer by Rev. Mr. Pugh. W. W. Dean, Esq., being called to the chair, remarked that having no programme he presumed it was an evidence that all were aware of the object of the meeting, and the reason of the presence of his distinguished friend, the Rev. Mr. Punshon. He would, however, say a few words on the matter, and explain to them that on account of the withdrawal of the Government aid from Denominational Colleges, these Educational Institutions were compelled to seek other resources for their support; and that unless the people came forward in their aid these Colleges would cease to exist. He would not now enter into the question whether the wise men at the head of the province were right in withdrawing this support or not, as people might differ on that point. But would say that the 2,000 or 2,500 young men who had gone forth from it would exert an influence through the entire country that would long be felt. He referred to the locations of these Institutes of learning in such towns as Cobourg, as exampling students from many of the temptations and vices, so prevalent in large cities; and although some might leave confidence in their acquabilities to withstand such influences, there were a great many others who did not possess such confidence, and therefore felt more easier when their sons were at a College where the benefit of moral and christian influences could be thrown around them as a safeguard. Mr. Dean also referred to the establishing of a Theological Chair in the College, and spoke highly of the great advantage to be derived from it. He continued his remarks to some length.

After a selection of music by the choir,

Rev. Mr. Sanderson made a few appropriate remarks on the object of the meeting, and hoped that the Belleville people would not be behind those of other places in their liberality. As one of the students of Victoria College, during its infancy, he felt great interest in its prosperity, and had watched its progress from the commencement up to its present state of efficiency, and hoped that it would still continue its career of usefulness. Spoke very highly of the noble efforts of Mr. Punshon on its behalf, and of the success he had met with, and hoped that the balance of the amount required would be raised. He would not detain them, as they could only expect but a few drops from him when they had a Punshon.

The Chairman then called upon the Rev. Mr. Punshon, who upon rising was greeted with great applause. Mr. Punshon spoke of his connection with the College, and of the object of his visit. In regard to the College, perhaps, it was expected of him to give an account of its history, but although he had heard a great deal of its history, and of its claims upon the public, he would rather be a prophet of the future than the historian of the past. He had heard not a little of the probable decease of the Institution; and he had no doubt that there were some people who fancied that all that was necessary to be done was to give it a decent burial and write an appropriate epitaph over the remains.—He was not one of those people. He believed that although a large amount of good had been done by the College, there was much that would be done yet, and that instead of it dying it would live and increase in its usefulness for many a year. It reminded him very much of an old man in London, who, although over 90 years of age, possessed a good deal of strength of will, although but little of physical strength. This old man one day, although confined to his bed with the confirmities of age, fancied that he was as young as ever, and getting up from his bed managed to get into the street, and into that great stream of humanity that is continually surging up and down a London street. Here the excitement, which had kept him up left him, and he succumbed to his weakness and fell to the pavement. A stranger carefully picked him up and brought the old man into the house and put him back into the bed. As the stranger was leaving the old man wished to know who he was that had thus befriended him, when the stranger handed him his card, which upon reading, the old man quickly handed it back, with these words: "I'm much obliged to you for your kindness, but it hasn't come to that yet." The truth was the stranger had handed the old man his business card, which happened to be of an undertaker. Mr. Punshon very aptly applied it to the case of Victoria College. It was very much obliged to those friends who would see it decently put under the ground, but thought it had not quite "come to that yet." Mr. Punshon continuing his remarks, which were clothed in the most beautiful language, showed the advantages a Denominational College possessed over any other, the influence that the christian tenderness of the former held over the students; and the fact, that different studies could not be so placed before their minds without introducing the bias of the teacher, hence how important it was that those ideas should be founded on a belief in God. Went into some particulars in reference to the sums subscribed, and what was yet required, and hoped that not only the rich would give of their plenty, but that all would give according to their ability. At the conclusion of the Rev. gentleman's most eloquent remarks, which were received throughout with great attention and much applause, the following subscription in aid of the object was then taken up: Hon. Billa Flint, $250; E. W. Holton, $250; Nathan Jones, $50; J. N. Yeomans, $50; Rev. G. R. Sanderson, $80; Thos. Holden, $25; John Brenton, $25; Rev. J. Ryan, $25; Rev. J. E. Howell, $25; H. L. Bottoms, $10; J. B. Young, $10; Rev. D. L. Brethour, $10; C. V. Bogart, $10; Miss Gould, $10; Mrs. Maybee, $10; Friend, $10; J. W. Neal, $10; Miss Major, $5; Mrs. Leavens, $5; W. A. Foster, $5; M. B. Roblin, $5; Wm. Jones, $5; W. W. Jones, $5; H. Pearson, $4; Wm. Powell, $4; Mrs. Woods, $1. These with the amount collected at the afternoon meeting as given in yesterday's issue, making a total amount of $1,275.

Marine News.

The schr. Union Jack, a Canada vessel, has been chartered to take a cargo of wheat from Toledo to Liverpool, Eng. She is owned by Mr. Thompson, of Belleville, and sailed by Capt. Brownley, of Kingston.

Vessels which left Oswego on the 9th Oct. were still anxiously looked for at Milwaukie on the 2nd.

The wreck of the schr. Maple Leaf, ashore at Detroit, has been sold for $25, and will be raised, if possible.

Pieces of the ill-fated schr. Kate Bully are floating ashore.

The schr. Mary E. Burgoyne was towed into Oswego with loss of foremast.

We learn from the Oswego Times that the schr. Glad Tidings, on her passage from Detroit to Ogdensburg, with lumber, went ashore at the Ducks, and it was found necessary to throw overboard some 35m. ft. in order to get her off. She then proceeded to her port of destination, discharged cargo, and cleared for Oswego. On her passage there it was discovered she was leaking, and on her arrival she was taken into dry dock for repairs.

The schr. Algora, which went shore at Kingsville, and reported a total loss has been got off.

On Thursday morning the schr. E. G. Benedict, owned by H. B. Rathbun, Mill Point, bound from Toronto to Oswego with a cargo of barley, put into Port Hope in a damaged condition. When off Whitby the masts were broken off short, and the upper portion of the rigging, &c. carried away. The damage is estimated at between $1200 and $1500. The vessel is new.

The schooner "Australia," loaded with Barley, from Toronto, was driven ashore near Oswego during the storm on the 27th Oct. The cargo is damaged.

The schooner "Acorn," with lumber from Port Hope, went ashore under Fort Ontario, near Oswego, and will be a total wreck.

The schooner "Iowa," with Barley from Port Nelson, is ashore high and dry about five miles from Oswego.

Canilton Dedicatory Services.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

MR. EDITOR.—The opening services in connection with the new W. M. Church in Canilton, were a great success. The friends of the cause of God, in the village and vicinity, untiring in their efforts and zeal, have great reason to congratulate themselves on the marvelous success that has attended their labors, in the erection of a commodious edifice, for the worship of the Living God. The building was only commenced in June; it is now completed and ready for use. It is located in a desirable part of the village, both for convenience and appearance. It was consecrated to the worship of Almighty God, last Sabbath, Oct. 24th. The morning service was conducted by the Rev. G. R. Sanderson, chairman of the Belleville District; the afternoon, by the Rev. Wm. McLaren, of the Canada Presbyterian Church, Belleville; and in the evening by the Rev. Chas. Freshman, D. D., a converted Jewish Rabbi.—The services were all of a highly interesting and instructive character—the Ministers feeling at home in their work, and the very large congregations delighted and edified. We hope and pray that the seed faithfully sown, last Sabbath, by the servants of God, will bring forth abundant fruit.

On Monday evening the Tea Meeting took place. In every respect it was a grand success. Long before the time for tea, the crowds were seen wending their way to the large Town Hall where the tea meeting was held. The Hall was not large enough to hold the people, so that adjoining rooms had to be opened in order to accommodate the throng. At as early an hour as possible the ladies commenced serving the people, and occupied the time faithfully till 10½ p. m., before their arduous work was done. They deserve great praise for the noble manner in which they sustained the reputation won on former occasions. The tables fairly groaned under the burden of substantials and delicacies too numerous to mention, which were so profusely provided by the village, and our good neighbors of Reed's Church neighborhood.—When supper was over, although at the late hour of 10½, the Rev. Dr. Freshman delivered his most eloquent and instructive lecture on "Judaism." He maintained the interest and kept the attention of an ever-crowded house till some time after midnight. All seemed highly gratified with his able lecture. New light and interest beamed forth as he advanced in his important subject, upon the history, character and destiny of the Jew. His lecture was a rare treat. The services of both Sabbath and Monday were rendered most interesting and pleasing by choice music furnished by a few friends from Belleville. The financial result of the whole was about $500. This is wonderful, when we consider that but a few months ago the noble sum of $500 was raised for the same purpose, and that less than a year before that time, the principal persons directly interested in the church had subscribed liberally, according to their ability, the handsome sum of $600. The trustees are now placed in quite an easy position, and we trust will soon be able to complete the premises by the erection of a shed and the building of a suitable fence around the Church. We wish them every success.

PHILOS.

Canilton, Oct. 26th, 1869.

The Police Force.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

To day we witnessed a most brutal fight on the Front Street, opposite the market; it waged for some time. A young fiend for no good reason struck an old man and a fight ensued, and ended by no means victorious for the young man. During this fight Policeman Downs stood quietly looking on, making no attempt to separate the parties. They were, however, finally separated by some gentlemen of the town. Much to the disgust of several gentlemen, this Downs took the young man by the arm and walked down the Street with him, while he was uttering the most obscene oaths. Loud were the exclamations, "what a useless officer," "the sooner the town gets rid of him the better." We have already had trouble with policemen, but we never had such scenes as this. Let our town fathers look to it, and if they cannot secure useful officers, let us have none at all.

VOX.

Belleville, Oct. 28th, 1869.

AUTUMN.—The change of color of the leaves in autumn from green to red has been attributed to the effect of acid, and it was asserted that the green color could be restored by submitting the leaves to the action of an alkali. This hypothesis, however, was advanced without any basis of facts to support it, but the London Athenæum now asserts that the theory has been established by experiment. Autumn leaves placed under an exhausted receiver with vapor of ammonia, it is asserted, in nearly every instance lost the red color and renewed their green. In some leaves, such as the sassafras, the blackberry and maple, the change was rapid and could be watched by the eye while others, particularly certain oaks, turned gradually brown, without showing any appearance of green.

MONTREAL DRY GOODS TRADE.—Up to the end of September sales met the expectations of importers and manufacturers, but the first half of October was very dull. The week now closing has, however, been pretty busy with supplying the township and Ottawa trade, and that of the French country. Stocks in first hands are fair, but not large, and it is believed there is no overstock either in wholesale or retail stores.—The only article short is tartans, which are in active and increasing demand. These were in fashion last fall in the States, and it seems that it takes a year for a fashion to cross the lines. Some houses expect fresh supplies of tartan goods in a week or two. Commercial travellers in Western Canada report that the stocks there are not sufficiently broken to induce merchants to make their second fall purchases. In fact the absence of demand for the new crop of grain in September, has affected both purchases and payments somewhat unfavorably; but now that grain is moving freely, though at low prices, the business is likely to improve.—Witness.

—A Devonshire matron, whose husband snores badly, keeps a clothes-peg underneath her pillow, and when his snoring awakes her, she adjusts the peg on his nasal organ, and then slumbers peacefully.

BUTTERFIELD AGAIN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The Tribune says: The investigation which Solicitor Butterfield has made in regard to the charges against General Butterfield, is concluded. Facts were disclosed, which make it improper for Butterfield to remain at the sub Treasury. It is almost a certainty that his resignation will be accepted.

RAILWAY COMBINATION.

The officers of the principal Railway lines running west, met in the St. Nicholas Hotel yesterday and will sit to day. The meeting discussed the adoption of a common classification and through rates on freight from New York to San Francisco.

When Will Top-Dressing Pay.

We think always when we have any fertilizer to spread upon the mowing. Of course we must not rob the plowed fields, but every thrifty farmer can afford to do something for his meadows every year. Material for top-dressing is by no means confined to barnyard manure. The wash of roads is very good, and this can sometimes be gathered in large quantities in the hollows. Peat, taken from near the surface and weathered one winter, will sometimes double the grass crop. On almost all farms near cities it pays well to sell hay, and there is no objection to keeping land in meadow and selling the crop as long as one will keep it up to a production of three tons to an acre by using fertilizers. With top-dressing, we have no doubt that meadows may be kept indefinitely in grass. Without it, most land would run out in a few years, and must be ploughed to make them profitable. As to the best time for applying manure, there is probably much less choice than most farmers think. Well-rotted compost can be safely put on at any time. Fresh stable manure and coarse barn-yard manure we prefer to apply in fall. It will tell more upon the grass of next season than if spread the following spring. There is probably some loss of ammonia if green manure is applied in summer, but we do not hesitate to apply all other manures to grass at any time when it is most convenient to cart them.

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich, but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite. THE CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE remarks.—"The singular success which Mr. Epps attained by his homœopathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold by the Trade only in ½lb., ¼lb., and 1lb. tin lined packets, labelled—JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England. 94—6m7&8

—There is an old German verse relating to this month, which we here give. How correct it is, remains yet to be seen.

"If in October there's much frost and storm,
The coming January will be mild and warm;
But if the weather in the fall prove clear,
The winter winds will blow cold and drear."

MURDERS.—It has been said that the murder of the Kincks at Pantin is without parallel in the records of crime, both in respect of the number of the victims, and all belonging to one family. A communication in the Paris Reveil, however, says that, in 1851, a bookseller on the Boulevard Poissonniere was found one morning murdered in his shop, together with his wife, a domestic, and five children, eight corpses in all. What is also remarkable, the murderer or murderers have never been discovered.

FATHER HYACINTHE'S DEFENCE IN THE COUNCIL.—The Bulletin du Diocese de Reims, France, publishes the following note from the Archbishop:—"Certain journals have announced that the Archbishop of this city, together with several French bishops, would undertake the defence of Father Hyacinthe at the Œcumenical Council. The Archbishop has not protested against such an assertion, because he is perfectly decided on principle, to reply only by silence, saving in certain exceptional cases, to the insinuations of the press. That, in fact, in the only method in these times to avoid placing his speech at the complete discretion of journalism."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1859 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my constitution, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

SECURITY

SHOULD be THE FIRST CONSIDERATION in INSURANCE TRANSACTIONS.

THE Directors of the Royal Insurance Company have the pleasure of supplying the following information to the public, as evidence of the ample security they afford to their assurers:—

The Capital of the Company, available for the purpose of meeting any unusual calamity happening to the Assured, is

Two Millions Stirling.

The amount actually paid up is £288,495. This, with the Accumulated Funds in Hand, makes the invested resources of the Company upwards of One Million Six Hundred Thousand Pounds, which amount is invested as follows:—

INVESTED FUNDS OF THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY, 30th June, 1869.

Real Property owned by the Company,	£319,571	11 3
Mortgages on Freehold Property,	59,400	0 0
£30,000 Reduced 3 per Cent. Consols,	28,085	1 3
India Government 5 per Cent. Debentures,	100,000	0 0
English Railway Debenture Bonds,	59,090	17 7
First-class English Railway Preference and Guaranteed Stocks,	335,476	11 11
Loans to Local Authorities of various towns in Great Britian, who have obtained the sanction of the Secretary of State to borrow the amounts,	145,560	12 6
Bonds of the Mersey Docks and Harbour Board,	62,641	14 4
Bonds of the British and Irish Magnetic Telegraph Co.,	10,000	0 0
Bonds of the Liverpool Corporation,	5,160	0 0
United States Government Stocks,	101,339	7 10
Canada Bonds and Canada Dominion Stock,	31,106	11 6
Short Loans on First-class English Dividend-paying Stocks with margins, from 20 to 50 per Cent. on market values,	477,195	0 0
Loans on Security of Life Policies,	62,938	8 5
	£1,672,336	16 11

The above is a complete list of the Investments of the Company at the date specified, in addition to which the funds are still further increased, by amounts constantly varying, at different periods, in the hands of the Bankers and the Company's Agents. At 31st December, 1868, these stood at ..... £ 168,089 2 0

For the satisfaction of the Public, the whole of the Securities belonging to the Company are annually submitted to the careful scrutiny of two independent Auditors, and the following is an Extract from their Report to the last Annual Meeting:—

"The whole of your Books have been Audited—every Document, every Account, every Voucher, your Bank book, and every Security—all have been most carefully kept, and there is not one doubtful Security in the whole."

THE ACCUMULATIONS OF THE LIFE DEPARTMENT,

After payment of Losses, Annuities, and Expenses of every description, have been as follows:

Funds in Hand at the last Quinquennial Valuation, 31st Dec., 1864,	£ 621,434	15 5
Added to 31st December, 1865,	103,146	7 3
" " " 1866,	120,583	7 5
" " " 1867,	128,583	5 10
" " " 1868,	144,945	13 2
Total Accumulation of the Life Department on 31st December, 1868, exclusive of Shareholders' Capital,	£1,122,275	8 1

The Directors also think it necessary to state that the Business of the ROYAL has never been amalgamated with that of any other Company, and that the Liability of its Shareholders is unlimited.

"CANADA LIFE"

Have published a Report and not valuation of all its policy and annuity obligations, by an Actuary totaly unconnected with it, the Hon. ELIJUH WRIGHT, of Boston, late Insurance Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts.

It is believed that such a voluntary submission of the Company's position to an eminent and entirely independent Actuary of the Hon. ELIJUH WRIGHT'S well known high character and professional skill, will add to that public satisfaction and confidence which the "Canada Life Company" enjoys.

Copies of Mr. WRIGHT'S Report may be had at the Head Office or at any of the Agencies throughout the Dominion.

Persons who may be assured in the Companies whose condition is unsatisfactory, desiring to join the "Canada Life," will be dealt with upon such terms as are reasonable and fair.

Sweet Lavender.

The lovely lilies all are dead,
The rose has lost her bloom;
The earth that once their beauty fed,
Has now become their tomb.

Sweet Lavender! with fragrant breath,
Unchanging, thou dost brave
The storms that veiled the flowers in death,
And smilest o'er their grave.

True type art thou of Christian faith,
Which, when life's blossoms fall,
Knows naught herself of change or death,
Triumphant over all.

Which, did the toys the world so loved
Bless on her funeral pile,
Would stand 'mid Nature's wreck unmoved,
And "o'er the ruins smile."

At Sea.

By some happy fortune I was not seasick. That was a thing to be proud of. I had not always escaped before. If there is one thing in the world that will make a man peculiarly and insufferable self-conceited, it is to have his stomach behave itself, the first day at sea, when nearly all his comrades are sea sick. Soon, a venerable fossil, shaved to the chin and bandaged like a mummy, appeared at the door of the deck-house, and the next lurch of the ship shot him into my arms. I said:

"Good morning, sir. It is a fine day."

He put his hand on his stomach and said, "Oh, my!" and then staggard away and fell over the coop of a sky-light.

Presently another old gentleman was projected from the same door, with great violence. I said:

"Calm yourself, sir—there is no hurry. It is a fine day, sir."

He also put his hand on his stomach and said, "Oh, my!" and roled away.

In a little while another veteran was discharged abrubtly from the same door, clawing at the air for a saving support I said:

"Good morning, sir. It is a fine day for pleasuring. You were about to say—"

"Oh, my!"

I thought so. I anticipated him, any how. I stayed there and was bombarded with old gentlemen for an hour perhaps; and all I got out of any of them was, "Oh my!"

I went away then, in a thoughtful mood. I said, this is a good pleasure excursion. I like it. The passengers are not garrulous but still they are sociable. I like those old people, yet somehow they all seem to have the "Oh, my!" rather bad.

I knew what was the matter with them. They were sea-sick. And I was glad of it. We all like to see people sea-sick when we are not ourselves. Playing whist by the cabin lamps when it is storming outside is pleasant; walking the quarter-deck in the moonlight is pleasant; smoking in the breezy foretop is pleasant, when one is not afraid to go up there; but these are all feeble and common place compared with the joy of seeing people suffering the miseries of sea-sickness.—Mark Twain's New Book.

THE LUMBER TRADE OF CANADA.—The Montreal Witness says:—The business in sawed lumber with the United State has been brisk and remunerative throughout the season, as also that of square timber in Quebec. Lumberers have done well this year, and the stocks being small, and prices rising in Britain, the prospects for the next season are favorable. Fully more than the usual number of men have, therefore, been sent into the woods, with supplies to correspond. The only drawback is the very high price of mess pork, but there is some compensations for this in a low price of flour. An important feature in the sawed lumber trade this year is a greatly increased direct exportation to South America.—This trade is used to go through American ports, and to be loaded with all the tolls, charges, and profits of that route. Now that it goes, to a large extent, direct, the profit of the Canadians engaged in it is, we understand, very satisfactory.

DIABOLICAL WHISKEY IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—The South Carolina Revolution says:—The whiskey here is diabolical, and yet they appear to love it more than anything else, women as well as men. They drink it red hot from the barrel, clean and pure, and I have seen mothers pour it thus down the throats of their six month's old babes. And what is worse, there are very few white men who employ them to any extent that do not keep a barrel on tap, and furnish it to them whenever a better bargain or more work can be had thereby. There are no traces of a temperance association among them so far as I heard or seen.

—The San Francisco News Letter gives the following in reply to a correspondent: "Young Mother—Your little poems upon "Baby" is a gem, and we regret that we have not space for so exquisite a tit-bit. If you have a fault it is the trifling one, common to all young writers of sacrificing melody to hard sense. The third stanza is a striking instance:

Doxery dandle um dinkle um dum,
Tom to its muzzery muzzery mom;
Tizzery izzery bookery boo,
No baby so sweet and so pitty as oo.

"O dear!" blubbered an urchin still smarting under a recent application of birch, "perhaps forty rods do make a fur long, but golly! I'm sure one rod makes an acher."

Mrs. Partington says she did not marry her second husband because she loved the male sex, but just because he was the size of her first husband, and could wear out his old clothes.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. A occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

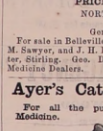

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody at a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient, purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable, safe and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have used it for their children, know how reliable it is, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them a pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular actions to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore a healthy tone and action:

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstruction which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a powerful purgative.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee or bottle us as an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system as reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are now readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more and better properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous unsolicited testimonials of the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as boils, scrofula, salt-rheum, fever sores, swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels, stones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. THOMPSON'S Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe purgative and corrective for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the fever has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable anti-bilious sommatic, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, rheumatism in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called Pain Killer. It may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaint, cholera morbus, fe[illegible] complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a stimulant. Sold at 50 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply a large amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from the cures many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in a great number of instances by every variation of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues in these complaints.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of disease. With unseen and unfelt malice it taints the organisms undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be confidently deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on any part of the body. Hence the general dread use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, in due time, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when sitting, as they often do, from obstruction or poison in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for enfeebled systems of the scrofulous. Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from the cures many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in a great number of instances by every variation of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues in these complaints.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of disease. With unseen and unfelt malice it taints the organisms undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be confidently deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on any part of the body. Hence the general dread use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, in due time, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when sitting, as they often do, from obstruction or poison in the blood. How Smith asked the Old Man.

Smith has just asked Mr. Thompson's daughter if she would give him a lift out of bachelordom, and she had said 'Yes.'

It therefore became absolutely necessary to ask the old gentleman's permission; so, as Smith said, arrangements might be made to hop the conjugal twig. Smith said he'd rather pop the interrogatory to all of old Tompson's daughters, and his sisters, and his lady cousins, and his aunt Hannah in the country, and the whole of his female relations, than ask old Thompson. But it had to be done, and he studied out a speech which he was to disgorge at old Thompson, the very first time he got a shy at him.—So Smith dropped in on him one Sunday evening, when all the family had meandered around to meeting, and found him doing a sum in beer measure.

'How are you Smith?' said Thompson; as the former walked in, white as a piece of chalk, and trembled as if he had swallowed a condensed earthquake. Smith was afraid to answer, 'cause he wasn't sure about the speech. He knew he had to keep his grip on it while he had it there, or it would slip from him quicker than an oiled eel through a knot hole. So he blurted out—

'Mr. Thompson, sir; perhaps it may not be unknown to you, that during the extended period of five years, I have been busily engaged in the prosecution of a commercial enterprise—'

'Is that so, and keepin' it a secret all this time, and we thought you were tendin' in a store? Well, by George, you're one of them cute fellows, ain't you?'

Smith had begun to think the speech over again to get the run of it.

'Mr. Thompson, sir: Perhaps it may not be unknown to you, that during an extended period of five years, I have been busily engaged in the prosecution of a commercial enterprise with a determination to secure a sufficient maintenance—'

'Sit down, Smith, and help yourself to beer. Don't stand there holdin' your hat, like a blind beggar with paralysis. I never have seen you behave yourself so queer in all my born days.'

Smith had been knocked out again and took a fresh start.

'Mr. Thompson, sir: Perhaps it may not be unknown to you, that during an extended period of five years, I have been busily engaged in the prosecution of a commercial enterprise with the determination to secure a sufficient maintenance—'

'A which once?' asked old Thompson—but Smith held on to the last word as if it was his only chance, and went on:

In the hope that some day I might enter wedlock, and bestow my earthly possessions on one whom I might call my own. I have been a lonely man, sir, and have felt that it is not good for man to be alone, therefore I would—'

'Neither is it, Smith; I'm glad you have dropped in. How's the old man?'

'Mr. Thompson, sir,' said Smith in despairing confusion, raising his voice to a yell, 'it may not be unknown to you that during an extended period of a lonely man I have been engaged to enter wedlock, and bestowed all my enterprise on one whom I could determine to be good for certain possessions—no, I mean—that is—that—Mr. Thompson, sir; it may not be unknow—'

'And then again it may. Look here, Smith; you'd better lay down and take something warm—you ain't well.'

Smith, sweating like a four year old colt, went on again: 'Mr. Thompson, sir, it may be lonely to you to prosecute me whom you a friend, for a commercial maintenance, but—eh—dang it—Mr. Thompson, sir:—It—'

'Oh, Smith, you talk like a fool. I never saw a more first-class idiot in the course of my whole life. What's the matter with you anyhow?'

'Mr. Thompson, sir,' said Smith, in agony of bewilderment, 'it may be unknown that you prosecuted a lonely man who is not good for a commercial period of wedlock for some five years, but—'

'See here, Smith, you are drunk, and if you can't behave better than that, you'd better leave; if you don't I'll chuck you out or I'm a Dutchman.'

'Mr. Thompson, sir,' said Smith, frantic with despair; 'It may not be unknown to you that my earthly possessions are engaged to enter wedlock five years with a sufficiently lonely man, who is not good for a commercial maintenance—'

'The very deuce he isn't.' Now you just git out of this, or I'll knock what little brains out of you, you've got left.

With that old Thompson took Smith and shot him into the street as it he had run him against a locomotive, going at the rate of forty miles an hour. Before old Thompson had time to shut the front door, Smith collected his legs, and one thing and another were lying around on the pavement, and yelled out—'Mr. Thompson, it may not be unknown to you—' made the old man so wretchedly mad that he went out and set a bull terrier on Smith before he had a chance to left a brogan, and then there was a dog fight, with odds in favor of the dog, for he had an awful hold for such a small animal.

Smith afterwards married the girl, and lived happily for two months. At the end of that time he told a confidential friend that he would willingly make more trouble and undergo a million more dog-bites to get rid of her.

The U. C. College Champion.

"Alas! how many perils do environ
The man that meddles with cold iron!"

Our contemporary the Globe seems, with increasing years, to decrease in virtue. Painfully manifest is this deterioration whenever the small microscopical interests of Toronto come into collision with the great interests of the Province. So woefully inconsistent with its traditions has the Globe been on the Upper Canada College question that some of its lucubrations seem to have been penned under the presiding influence of that full moon which sits enthroned aloft over the Globe office. We shall here take stock of the advance made by U. C. College in 16 years, and the simultaneous advance made by the Globe in its views of Reform:—

Globe, Friday, Dec. 9th, Globe, Monday, Oct. 18,
1833, editorial entitled 1869, editorial en-
"Our City Schools" titled, "U. C. Col-Extracts: lege." Extracts:

"U. C. College is entirely beyond the reach meeting of our Local of the great body of the Parliament comes on, people. There is no outcry against U. part of our educational College is again system which must be raised, with the old unperatively requires the reasoning vehemence kind of reform that and reckless disregard this institution." of facts."

"The heavy fees present an insurmountable obstacle."—Globe, Dec. 9, 1833.

The fees remain precisely the same as in 1853.

"The course of study is established on the model of the English classical schools, and is entirely unfitted to the wants of the people of this country."—Globe, Dec. 9, 1833.

The irrepressible Cockburn, on October the 4th, 1869, in that modest address to the Governor General, declares it to be the chief excellence of U. C. College that it "is founded on the model of the great public schools of England." Yet the Globe on Oct. 19th, 1869, in order to save this Toronto monopoly from destruction, urges the foundation of "similar establishments," which, on the Globe's own showing, would be "entirely unfitted to the wants of the people of this country."

"Yet this institution only provides education for about 150 boys, whose parents are obliged to pay heavy fees in addition to all this public money."—Globe, Dec. 9th, 1853.

The attendance in 1868 (as appears from Mr. Cockburn's return, pp. 5, 6) was, after deducting the 60 "raw youth" of the first form was exactly 169. As above stated, U. C. C. fees remain the same as in 1853.

The editorial of 1853 passes on to a rapturous description of a free grammar school, then recently erected in North York; urges the erection of a similar institution in Toronto; and reaches the highest rung of the climax in these words:

"It would do more to make the city prosperous than one railway or even two."

Alas! alas! The Globe, in 1869, piteously pleads for the still unreformed U. C. College; indefinitely postpones the free grammar school; and most magnanimously accepts in lieu thereof, the two railways!

The Globe of the 18th inst. inquires the purpose of the present agitation. The Globe may be dissatisfied with our reply; but it cannot well be dissatisfied with its own, (Dec. 9th, 1853):

"If the moneys expended on U. C. College and the Toronto grammar school were joined together, they would form a fund more than adequate for the object required, (to wit, the establishment of a free grammar school.] Nay, if the establishment were judiciously managed, we believe that the expense would not be greater than that of U. C. College at the present moment, and a large surplus from its funds would remain to be distributed for free academies in other towns."—Hamilton Times, (Reform) Oct. 21st.

Helping a Man to Hang Himself.—One of the constables at the Belfast Bridewell on Sunday night, happened to overhear a conversation between two prisoners named Ward and Cassidy. The latter said, "Push me up a little higher." After a brief pause, Ward replied, "You are high enough." The orderly, suspecting that all was not right, opened the cell door, when he found Cassidy suspended by his handkerchief from a projection on the top of the door. Ward was lying on the floor gazing with the greatest composure, and with evident satisfaction, at the elevated position of his fellow prisoner. He was at once cut down, but in a short time longer life would have been extinct.

In not this a lesson to us to fortify our Southern frontiers [illegible] and while doing so it would be well to fortify ourselves against the attacks of rheumatism, coughs, colds, cholics, bowel complaints, and all other diseases incident to this climate by supplying ourselves with the Canadian Pain Destroyer." Can be had of any Medicine Dealer for 25 cts. per bottle.

A Parody on an Old Song.

TUNE.—Malcolm Caird's come Again.

Francis Hincks has come again!
Francis Hincks has come again!
Tell the news to Renfrew men;
Francis Hincks has come again!
Francis Hincks can faun and boo,
Gibbity tell what he can do:
Drink till the gude-man be blind,
Fleech till the gude-wife be kind,
Nurse the baby, rock the cradle,
Or steer the parish wi' the ladle.
Tell the news to Renfrew men;
Francis Hincks has come again!

Francis Hincks has come again!
Francis Hincks has come again!
Scoot and Powell shout amain—
Francis Hincks has come again!

Francis Hincks can wire a Rankin,
Wi' Supple-Mcnzay do them spankin';
In higher game he often delt,
And ne'er a conscious scruple felt;
On Sheriffs, Bailiffs, and Premiers,
He'll shortly turn with scorning sneers,
Then how can he who freely thinks,
Do aught but mell with Francis Hincks?

Francis Hincks has come again!
Francis Hincks has come again!
Gar the harpies loud proclaim—
Francis Hincks has come again!

Francis Hincks can drink a gill,
Fast as Renfrew wife can fill;
Ilka ane that drinks good liquor,
Kens how Francis bends a bicker;
When he's fou' he struts and smiles,
And tells about the Windward Isles,
And brave Sir John and Cartier think
There's nae sick man as Francis Hincks.

Francis Hincks has come again!
Francis Hincks has come again!
Let the solid ones shout for shame,
Francis Hincks has come again!

Steek the aumrie, tuck the kist,
Elze some gear may weel be mist;
Francis finds some orra things,
Where Allan Gregor fand the tings;
Railroad bonds and premiums too,
Whiles a hen and whiles a sow;
Keeks through corners, cracks and chinks,
To see what's there for Francis Hincks.

Francis Hincks has come again!
Francis Hincks will try again,
To fill his pockets as before
The time he left our fertile shore.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, OCT. 29.

EARLY CLOSING.—The Dry Goods houses in town commence closing at 6 o'clock, and the Drug Stores at 7 o'clock, on Monday next, November 1st.

LECTURE.—In consequence of the unfavorable state of the weather, Prof. McIntire's lecture was not delivered last night, but was postponed for two weeks.

SALT MUTTON—A NEW FEATURE IN THE MEAT PACKING TRADE.—Messrs. Davies & Co., of Toronto, pork and beef packers, says the Telegraph, are about to commence to kill and cure mutton for export. The bones of the carcases will be all extracted before salting, in the same mode as is followed in curing beef and pork. Yesterday the first flock of sheep to be disposed of in this way, and numbering about one hundred, were driven into the premises of the firm on Palace st.

DROPPED DEAD.—On Wednesday, Oct. 27th, an old man who has been about the town for some time, named Paul Cronck, was found dead in rear of Mr. Hill's premises, west Belleville. From the evidence taken before the inquest held by J. P. McDonald, coroner, it appears that deceased had a short time before his death taken his dinner, and upon leaving the house fell down and expired. He was quite sober at the time, and had $2 50 cts. upon his person. The verdict of the Jury was, "Died by the visitation of God." The Jury on their finding, call attention to the necessity of a room being provided by the Town, to be used as a dead house, as at present the bodies of friendless people dying in our midst, have to be left in the street.

"PUT MORE MONEY INTO IT."—It is said that many years ago the Proprietor of the American Agriculturist asked a friend of his, an old experienced Publisher, how he should promote the welfare of his journal. After sundry remarks, to the effect that people would in the long run patronize that journal which really contains the most valuable reading matter, and that the only way to secure this was to spare no labor or expense in obtaining the best men and the best information that money would buy, his friend closed by saying he would sum up his advice as to the way to make the American Agriculturist the best and most popular paper in the country—under three heads viz: "1st. Put more into it.—2d. Put more money into it.—3d. Put some more money into it."—That advice seems to have been followed. No other monthly journal or Magazine is got up at greater expense of labor and money than the Agriculturist. Every page shows this. Its beautiful, pleasing, and instructive Engravings cost about $1,000 in each number. Its ample pages are filled with carefully prepared reading matter, abounding in information useful to all classes, whether in city, village, or country. A large force of the best practical men and women are constantly employed in gathering, and sifting, and condensing information. Yet while prepared at a cost exceeding that of the $4 and $5 magazines, the American Agriculturist, owing to the large patronage it enjoys, it is supplied at $1.50 per annum, or four copies for $5, and at still less to large Clubs. And those subscribing now get the paper from date of subscription to the end of 1870 at the price of a year. We advise all our readers to avail themselves of the opportunity, and subscribe now. They will find it a good investment. The Publishers are ORANGE JUDD & Co., 245 Broadway, N. Y. City.

A Lesson for Conservatives.

The London Daily Prototype of the 26th inst., makes the following sensible remarks:—

"The organ of the ultra-Radicals in Toronto has lately devoted a good deal of its space to giving advice to the Conservatives as to the course they should pursue. In offering this advice, the Globe dropped its old offensive epithets, called the Conservative party a great party, and with sanctimonious cunning pretended only to seek for its welfare. * * * It was really amusing to witness the crocodile tears which the Globe shed over the predicted decadence of the great party unless the members of it took the disinterested advice of the leader of the Clear-Grits. We do not for a moment suppose that a score of Conservatives permitted themselves to be humbugged by the transparent humbug while on the other hand, every member too well being caught in that trap before, when a number of Conservatives in Toronto, led astray by Mr. Brown's selfish denunciations of Lower Canada and the Roman hierarchy, assisted to return that gentleman to parliament. Although indebted for his metropolitan seat to the votes of a party of too credulous Orangemen, once in parliament the editor-in-chief of the Globe never lost an opportunity of ridiculing and abusing that association or the party to which they naturally belong."

Contracting.

The different tenders lately published for the work to be done upon sections 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, of the Intercolonial Railway, are somewhat amusing, if not instructive; shewing that tendering is but a lottery—that tenderers are either unable to make proper calculation, or "go it blind." An examination of the following facts will illustrate our meaning:—

For the construction of section eight fifty-three tenders were sent in. The highest of these, $300,209, or at the rate of $15,000 per mile. The lowest tender being for $100,000, or at the rate of $4,878 per mile.

For section nine, thirty-five tenders were put in. Highest, $638,528, or $30,168 per mile. Lowest, $220,632, or $10,506 per mile.

For section number ten, thirty-nine tenders were put in. Highest, $695,050, or $34,425 per mile. Lowest, $308,897, or $15,410 per mile.

For section number eleven, thirty-eight tenders were put in. Highest, $167,000, or $41,000 per mile. Lowest, $48,000, or $13,714 per mile.

For section number twelve, there were forty tenders. Highest, $1,341,229, or $54,744 per mile. Lowest, $539,174, or $22,026 per mile.

The following is a summary of the whole:

Highest.	Lowest.
$ 300,209	$ 100,000
638,528	220,632
695,050	308,897
167,000	48,000
1,341,229	539,174
$ 3,187,016	$ 1,216,203.

Who after this will not admit that tendering produces a variety of calculators. Either the highest tenderers intended to make a good deal of money, or the lowest have no knowledge of the business.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY.—Belleville advertisers will do well to ponder the following sensible remarks, contained in a little book, entitled "How to get Money":—"Whatever your occupation may be, if it needs support from the public, advertise it thoroughly and efficiently, in a manner that will arrest public attention. It has been observed by those who have tried advertising, that it did not pay; this is only when advertising has been done sparingly and grudgingly. Homœopathic doses of advertising may perhaps not pay—it is like half a potion of physic—making the patient sick, but effecting nothing. Administer liberally, and the cure will be sure and permanent. Some say 'they cannot afford to advertise'; they mistake—they cannot afford not to advertise. In a country where everybody reads the newspaper, the man must be blind who does not see that these are the cheapest and best media through which he can speak to the public, among whom he can find his customers. Put on the appearance of business, and generally, the reality will follow. The farmer plants his seed, and while he is sleeping his corn and potatoes are growing. So with advertising. While you are sleeping or eating, or conversing with one set of customers, your advertisement is being read by hundreds and thousands of persons who never saw you, nor heard of your business, and never would, had it not been for your advertisement appearing in the newspapers."

WEATHER PROPHETS.—The weather prophets are again at work, predicting what sort of weather may be expected the coming winter. On former occasions the signs where the approach of bears towards thickly settled districts; the advance of squirrels in the neighborhood of the farm yard, for the purpose of securing and stowing away supplies for the winter, and such like silly stuff. This year the signs have changed. We are to have a winter of unusual severity, from the fact that corn has an unusually heavy coat of husks, and the birds are moulting earlier that usual. Bosh.

Marine.

PICTON, Oct. 28.—Scow Saucy Jack went ashore on South Bay Point in the snow storm last night. She has no load and is in good order; a tug will take her off tonight.

PORT COLBORNE, Oct. 28.—The Schooner Wm. Rayner, with one hundred tons pig iron from Kingston for Cleveland, went ashore at Morgan's Point, six miles west of here, last night at eight o'clock in the snow storm; it is thought she will be got off without much damage. It is reported that another vessel went ashore near the Rayner, name unknown. The schooner Jamaica had to run back with the loss of her forestaff and several sails.

Parsnips.

To the Editor of The Daily Intelligencer.

SIR.—In your issue of the 21st inst., a correspondent signing himself "J. M." asks if there is any means of distinguishing between the seed of the Wild Parsnip and that of the cultivated variety? In answer to his query, I might remark that there is not the slightest difference between the plants, and hence none in the seed. The Wild Parsnip, of the roadside or field, is only the garden variety escaped from cultivation.

It is a popular error that the Parsnip is poisonous, and rests on no foundation whatever. We see notices, it is true, in the newspapers, of children being poisoned by eating Wild Parsnips or Wild Carrots, but this is as near the truth as the statement we saw last summer of a caterpillar causing the death of a child," by stinging it with the horn on its tail!" If children do get poisoned it is not by eating Parsnips or Carrots, but by something else that the ignorance of parents and doctors confound with this highly nutritious vegetable.

Pastinaces from pastus nourishment, is one of the names given to this plant by the Romans, and they prized it so highly that it was brought from Germany to supply the Emperor's table. Before the introduction of the potato, Parsnips were held in great repute as an article of diet in England, but since it has become established their cultivation has declined. In Roman Catholic countries Parsnips are still in great request during Lent to eat with fish.

Belleville, Oct. 29th, 1869.

AN INDIGNANT BRIDEGROOM.—The Globe says that a day or two since a loving couple, residing in the eastern part of Toronto, were bound together with the golden chains of wedlock, and immediately upon the conclusion of the ceremony a festive hotel keeper, who had witnessed the nuptials, stepped forward and kissed the blushing bride, in pursuance of a pleasant but rather antiquated custom. This trespass upon his rights and privileges irritated the bridegroom, who picked up his hat and left the house, to the great dismay of his newly wedded wife, who has, ever since, watched anxiously, but vainly, for his return.

Important Despatch from Earl Granville.

THE UNION OF RUPERT'S LAND, THE NORTH-WEST TERRITORY AND BRITISH COLUMBIA TO THE DOMINION—VIEWS OF THE ENGLISH GOVERNMENT ON THE ADVANTAGES OF SUCH A CONFEDERATION.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.

A copy of a very important despatch from Earl Granville to Governor Musgrave, dated 14th August, regarding the Confederation of British Columbia with Canada, has just been communicated to Sir John Young, in which the Colonial Secretary says that New Rupert's Land and the North West Territory are to be united to Canada. Her Majesty's Government is of opinion that British Columbia should also be united with the Dominion. Regarding the advantages to be derived from such a union, Earl Granville says, on behalf of Her Majesty's Government:—"Finally, they anticipate that the interest of every Province of British North America will be more advanced by enabling the wealth, credit and intelligence of the whole to be brought to bear on every part, than by encouraging each in the contracted policy of taking care of itself, possibly at the expense of its neighbor. Most especially is this true in cases of internal transit. It is evident that the establishment of a British line of communication between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans is far more feasible by the operations of a single Government, responsible for its progress to both shores of the Continent, than by a bargain negotiated between separate, perhaps, in some respects, rival Governments and Legislatures. The San Francisco of British North America would, under these circumstances, hold a greater commercial and political position, than would be attainable by the capital of the isolated Colony of British Columbia. Her Majesty's Government are aware that the distance between Ottawa and Victoria presents a real difficulty in the way of immediate union; but that very difficulty will not be without its advantage, if it renders easy communication indispensable, and forces on ward operations which are to complete it in any case; it is an understood inconvenience, and a diminishing one, and it appears far better to accept it as a temporary drawback on advantages of union, than to wait for those obstacles, often more intractable, which are sure to spring up after neglected opportunity." The despatch also authorizes Governor Musgrave to communicate with Sir John Young, or take such steps as can be constitutionally taken for promoting the favorable consideration of the question. It also says that the constitution of British Columbia will oblige the Government to enter personally on many questions, as to the condition of the Indian tribes, and future positions of the Government servants with which, in case of a negotiation between two responsible Governments, he would not be bound to concern himself.

Interesting Meeting of the Survivors of the Battle of Queenston Heights.

One of the most interesting meetings, which took place this year on the anniversary of the battle of the Queenston Heights 13th instant, was that of those who took part in the glorious contest. There were only eight of the old heroes, and all are residents of the Niagara district. The oldest is 86 years and the youngest 67, and united they number 609 years. We append the names, ages and the capacity in which they served during the war of 1812: Daniel Fields, aged 77, pilot at the taking of Fort Niagara; Solomon Vroman, aged 86, gunner in Vromen's Battery; Seneca Palmer, aged 78, private; John P. Clement, aged 77, private in flank company; John Whitten, aged 72, Engineer Department; Lewis Clement, aged 82, lieutenant; Duncan McFarland, aged 67, powder monkey or carrier boy; Daniel Cooper, aged 69, regimental blacksmith.

To listen to these old veterans fighting their battles o're again is described as having been highly interesting and instructive. Mr. Cooper told how he managed to get the British army into Fort Niagara, and how easy and quick that fort was taken, and the Union Jack replaced the Stars and Stripes. Sentries were surprised and taken and the Yankee defenders were still more surprised when they were prisoners. Lieutenant Clement, who received four balls at Queenston Heights, two of which were never extracted, described that battle in glowing terms—that is, the portion he saw. The gallant man continued to fight after being wounded, and during the Fenian raid in 1866, he turned out and marched, to meet and again repulse the foes of his native country. We trust that some man with industry and talent will secure the reminiscences of these men before they pass away, and will publish them for the benefit of the present and succeeding generations. —St. Catharines Journal.

—Flour market in St. Johns N. B., on the 25th Oct., slightly improved. Ordinary supers sold at $5 40 to $5 50.

—The Feejee Island are reported as being anxious to be annexed to the United States, in order to avoid paying damages for eating a number of Yankee sailors.

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and sunable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

THE LONDON TIMES' ON THE PROPOSED FENIAN AMNESTY.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The 'Times' to-day in an article on the clamor for a Fenian amnesty, says: "Many governments as well as that of England, formerly regarded rebellion as transcending all other crimes, and as one to be punished beyond them all. The British government now looks upon it as more fraught than ordinary crimes with ruinous consequences to the peace and prosperity of the country; as springing from some intractibility of temper and selfish disregard of the welfare of others which prompt common illegalities, and as requiring some standard of punishment. When it is demonstrated that the Fenians have harder work, worse food and harsher treatment than other convicts, it will be time to accuse Mr. Gladstone of being less sensitive to injustice when practised on his fellow countrymen than when inflicted on foreigners. While the government refuses to act towards rebellion as if it were simply virtue mis-directed, Mr. Gladstone can afford to treat with indifference the imputation that he has turned renegade from his generous principles of 1851."

CONSPIRACY DISCOVERED.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—The Patrie, in its issue to-day, asserts that a widespread conspiracy has been discovered in the Turkish provinces of Albania and Herzegovina in connection with the revolt at Cathara in the Austrian province of Dalmatia. Several arrests of persons implicated have been made by the authorities, and a large amount of arms and ammunition seized. It is reported that the governments of Austria and Turkey have come to an understanding whereby they will act jointly in suppression of the insurrection.

The Spanish-men-of-war Pizzarro and Austria have gone to Nassau, N. P., for the purpose of looking after the steamer Lilian.

Serious frauds have lately been discovered in a Government bonded warehouse. The Judge of the Supreme Court, Treasurer, and Captain-General Derodas, are engaged in personally investigating the matter.

The furniture in the palace of Senor Aldama was to-day sold at public auction, by order of the Government.

Insurgent General Caraba has issued the following order to the forces under his command: It is probable that owners of plantations will begin to grind sugar cane at an early date, and the General expects his subordinates to burn the cane fields as soon as the cane is dry.

A STEAMER BURNED TO THE WATER'S EDGE—LARGE NUMBER OF LIVES LOST—FULL DETAILS.

ST. LEWIS, October 28.—Phelps, of Shreveport, La., has arrived here from the wreck of the steamer Stonewall, and furnishes the following brief particulars of the horrible disaster to that boat. The boat caught fire at half-past six o'clock on Wednesday evening, at a point a little below Neeley's Landing, and 125 below St. Lewis, from a candle which the deck passengers had placed near some hay, while they were engaged in playing cards. The Stonewall was run on a gravel bar, the pilot supposing that passengers could wade ashore. Unfortunately at the end of the bar there was a slough, and here it was that a larger number of them were drowned. The boat was run on the bar but two feet, and the shallowest point about her had five or six feet of water. She had so much hay on board that she burned like tinder. All attempts to extinguish the fire were without avail. The Bell of Memphis came at half-past nine, three hours after the accident, and rendered all assistance possible. Out of two hundred and fifty-two passengers and crew, only 39 are known to be saved. The last seen of Captain Scott, he was floating down the stream on a log. There were 89 cabin passengers and 60 of a crew. There were quite a number of ladies on board, and all are supposed to be lost except one.

The Stonewall was owned by Captain Jno. Shaw and Dennis Long, the latter is of Louisville, and was valued at $4,500, and insured for $3,000. She had about 800 tons of freight, including 370 cattle, horses and mules. They were insured.

THE LATEST.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE BURNING OF THE STEAMER 'STONEWALL'

ST. LOUIS, (midnight), Oct. 28.—George W. Fulton, chief engineer of the steamer 'Stonewall,' has arrived here, and gives further particulars of the disaster to that vessel. Sixteen persons were saved by clinging to planks, and sixteen more swam ashore. There were between 250 and 260 souls on board, of whose positive safety there is no certainty. Of the three ladies on board, only one, Mrs. Gregg, was saved.—Capt. Scott was last seen floating on a spar. The scene on board was heartrending in the extreme. The flames spread with wonderful rapidity under the action of a strong wind, and the passengers in wild terror crowded the forecastle until forced overboard in a mass and drowned, each other in desperate struggle to free themselves.

HAVANA.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A special from Havana says: President Salnave is reported to have asked for a vessel of the English Commodore at Jamaica, to carry him over to the latter Island, and the Commodore was about sending the 'Philomel' to receive him.

STEAMBOAT COLLISION.

The Ferry boats 'Morristown' and 'Delaware,' collided on the North River yesterday, and smashed one another considerably. Five or six persons were dangerously injured, and it is believed that some were knocked overboard and drowned.

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—The butchers and drovers who have cattle in the byers at the Don, bought up all the hay which was in the market yesterday, thereby sending that article of fodder up to $14 per ton.

The Globe says: There was a fair demand for barley, and liberal receipts. Prices ranged from 60c to 71c, the latter price being only paid for choice bright samples. On 'Change, 5 cars No. 2, sold at 62c, f. o. b. Wheat remains unchanged, with nothing doing in lots. Spring is still nominal at 90c, for lots, and Fall at 95. Fall is worth 90c to 95c.—The street price of Spring is 85 to 90, and of Midge-proof 80 to 85c.

KINGSTON, Oct. 27.—The News says:—"Grain market quiet, the arrivals being confined to barley, for which 76c is obtained. There is a considerable decline in the receipt of peas and rye, but the old prices still rule the market."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gem" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depute-Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. The Balsam, in fact, has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

"CANADA LIFE"

Have published a Report and net valuation of all the policy and annuity obligations, by an Actuary totaly unconnected with it, the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT, of Boston, late Insurance Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts.

It is believed that such a voluntary submission of the Company's position to an eminent and entirely independent Actuary of the Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT'S well known high character and professional skill, will add to that public satisfaction and confidence which the "Canada Life Company" enjoys.

Copies of Mr. WRIGHT'S Report may be had at the Head Office or at any of the Agencies throughout the Dominion.

Persons who may be assured in the Companies whose condition is unsatisfactory, desiring to join the "Canada Life," will be dealt with upon such terms as are reasonable and fair.

Hints on Care of Horses.

All horses must not be fed in the same proportions, without due regard to their ages, their constitutions, and their work. Because the impropriety of such a practice is self-evident. Yet it is certainly done, and is the basis of disease of every kind. Never use bad hay on account of its cheapness. Because there is not proper nourishment in it. Damaged corn is exceedingly injurious. Because it brings inflammation of the bowels and skin disease. Chaff is better for old horses than hay. Because, they can chew and digest it better. Mix chaff with corn and beans, and do not give the latter alone. Because it make the horse chew his food more, and digest it better. Hay or grass alone would not support a horse under hard work. Because there is not sufficient nutritive body in either.—When a horse is worked hard its food should chiefly be oats. Because oats supply more nourishment and flesh-making material than any other kind of food. Hay not so much. For a saddle or coach horse, half a peck of sound oats, and eighteen pound of good hay are sufficient. If the hay is not good, add a quarter of a peck more oats. A horse that works harder may have rather more of each; one that works little should have less. Rack feeding is wasteful. The better plan is to feed with chopped hay, from a manger. Because the feed is not then thrown about and is more easily chewed and digested.—Sprinkle the hay with water that has salt dissolved in it. Because it is pleasing to the animal's taste, and more easily digested. [A tea spoonful of salt in a bucket of water is sufficient.] Oats should be bruised for an old horse, but not for a young one. Because the former through age and defective teeth cannot chew them properly; the young horse can do so, and they are thus properly mixed with the saliva, and turned into wholesome nutriment. Grass must always be cut for hay before the seed drops. Because the juice that ripens the seed is the most valuable part of the hay. If they are sucked out by its ripening and dropping, the grass will not turn into hay, but will only wither and grow yellow.

A horse should have at least a pail of water morning and evening, or (still better) four half-pails, at four different times in the day. Because this assuages his thirst without bloating him. He should not be made to work directly after he has had a full draught of water; for digestion and exertion can never go on together. Do not allow your horse to have warm water to drink. Because, if he has to drink cold water, after accustomed to drink warm, it will give him colic. When your horse refuses his food, after drinking go no further that day, because the poor creature is thoroughly beaten.

ACCIDENTS.—When a horse falls whilst drawing a vehicle, jump down and hold the animal's head, to prevent him dashing it about to his own injury. Loosen the check rein (if you are so foolish to use one) and the parts of the harness fastened to the vehicle. Back the carriage, so as to get the shafts and traces clear. Steady and support the horse's head, and excite him with hand and voice to raise. When you have got him up, pat and encourage the poor animal, and see if he is wounded or otherwise injured. Let him stand still a short time to recover himself, and proceed gently and with greater caution than before.

It Pays to Keep Good Stock.

While the writer was recently riding in company with a well known stage proprietor, in the eastern part of New York State, the latter pointed out a fine farm lying in an fertile valley, of which he was proprietor.

"Stage routes must be profitable hereabouts," we remarked.

"I assure you," was the reply, "that I never paid a dollar on the farm from my stage route. "There," pointing to a handsome brood mare in the field, "is where the farm came from."

The animal a "Black Hawk," had foaled eleven colts: seven of these had been sold for the aggregate of $9,460, and this had nearly cleared the farm of debt. Great care had been taken in choice of the sire, and as the stock became known, each colt brought a higher price, until the one last sold a few weeks since, realized the handsome figure of $3,000. So much for good blood, although it should be added that the owner's personal attention was given to each animal. He would trust no other hands to feed groom, or train them. (Would he have done this with less valuable stock?) The same expense for feed and care of ordinary colts might have brought say an average of $200 per colt, $1,400 in all, showing a gain of over $8,000 resulting from breeding first-class stock.

Similar examples can be found in every line of farm animals. A breeder of swine in Pennsylvania has realized a fortune in a few years by keeping the best. Vermont sheep raisers have found $5,000 to $10,000 bucks profitably to buy; a poultry fancier of our acquaintance paid over $800 for a single trio of fowels, and will make money by the operation.

We do not advocate a mania for paying enormous prices, but these extreme cases prove what every farmer should feel that he cannot afford to breed inferior animals. The ratio of increase in profit is far greater than that of outlay for good stock. The few wide-awake farmers who are taking advantage of this fact have it all the easier because so many of their brethren have not yet "faith in high farming."

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thomoson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6. OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Prepared and sold wholesale by the Proprietor,

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 30, 1869. No. 154.

If We Knew.

If we knew the woe and heartache
Waiting for us down the road,
If our lips could taste the wormwood,
If our backs could feel the load,
Would we waste the day in wishing
For the time that ne'er can be,
Would we wait in such impatience
For our ships to come from sea?

If we knew the baby fingers
Pressed against the window pane,
Would be cold and stiff to-morrow—
Never trouble us again.
Would the bright eyes of our darling
Catch the frown upon our brow,
Would the print of rosy fingers
Vex us then as they do now?

Ah, these little ice cold fingers,
How they point our memories back
To the hasty words and actions
Strewn along our backward track,
How these little hands remind us,
As in snowy grace they lie
Not to scatter thorns—but roses
For our reaping by and by.

Strange we never prize the music,
Till the sweet-voiced bird has flown;
Strange that we should slight the violets
Till the lovely flowers are gone.
Strange the Summer skies and sunshine
Never seem one half so fair,
As when Winter's snowy pinions
Shake their wafts down in the air.

Lips from which the seal of silence
None but God can roll away,
Never blossomed in such beauty
As adorns the mouth to-day.
And sweet words that freight the memory
With their beautiful perfume,
Come to us in sweeter accents
Through the portals of the tomb.

Let us gather up the sunbeams
Lying all around our path;
Let us keep the wheat and roses,
Casting out the thorns and chaff.
Let us find our sweetest comfort
In the blessings of to-day,
With a patient hand removing
All the briars from our way.

About Boys.

Mr. A. Hope, author of "A book about Dominies," has published in Edinburgh a companion volume, called "A book about Boys." He tells us at the beginning what kind of boys he likes: 'I don't think much of your gentlemanly neat boys, and I abominate your pretty effeminate boys, and I have not such faith as some people in even your good, clever boys, who are always at the head of their classes, and never do anything naughty, except when it is not found out.—But I like the happy, healthy, unsophisticated boy, and not a young gentleman; active, restless, generous, brave and truthful, simple and pure minded; who thinks it half a pleasure to bear pain without crying; climbs trees, tears his trowsers, has frequent tumbles, bumps and bruises, and comes home now and then splashed with mud.'

There are four classes of boys whom this 'dominie' exclude from 'honors and privileges of boyhood'—yet his heart yearns towards them, 'for, after all, are they not in some respects boys and brothers?' The classification is as follows:

1. 'YOUNG GENTLEMEN.'—I shudder as I pen the disgusting name. You know what I mean? The beardless beings who wish to be thought men and dandies, and to that end, smoke, swear, and swagger with more or less impunity. If you go out into the street on Saturday afternoon you will see hundreds of them, whom you would like to take between your finger and thumb, and drop quietly into the gutter.

2. 'MAMMA'S DARLINGS.'—A large and increasing class, I grieve to say, though I would speak tenderly of them since their degradation is often caused by circumstances over which neither they nor the wisest of writers and teachers have control. viz., fond and foolish mothers, who will make them wear comforters and galoshes, and keep them in the house when it is cold, and encourage them to cry when they are hurt.

3. 'CLEVER BOYS.'—I mean preternaturally clever boys, who read Sir Walter Scott at the tender age of five, but having thereafter been introduced to Greek, look with scorn and contempt on all subjects of lighter interest, and never condescend to open another story book, but to spend boyhood and youth in steadily and perseveringly drying themselves up into Latin and Greek mummies, if happily they escape premature death, and by becoming sound and wormless, and not too brilliant bishops, or stupid and useless schoolmasters, or writers of soul appalling commentaries.

4. 'GOOD BOYS.'—I mean very good boys, who always try to please their masters, and never are noisy or idle, and would sink into the ground with shame if it were necessary to punish them, and whose conversation, in story books, is of the most moral and grammatical description. Of course there are such boys, because the story book says so, but it has never been my good fortune to meet with them.'

The Little Heathen Boy.

A godly minister had a careless and idle son who left his home and sailed to a foreign land. His sorrowful parents could only pray for him, and send him good advice when they wrote to him. The ship which bore their boy reached a distant port, and was waiting to take in a fresh cargo, when the sailors went on shore and brought back with them a little native boy, who could play some curious kind of music.

He amused them for a long time; but at last he said, "You must now take me on shore."

The sailors told him that he must not go yet.

"O, indeed I cannot stay any longer," replied the little black boy; "and I will tell you why. A kind Christian missionary has come near the village where I live. From him I have learned all I know about Jesus Christ. This is about the hour when he meets us under a tree to tell us more; I want to go and hear him."

The sailors were quite overcome by the boy's entreaties and at once rowed him ashore.

The minister's thoughtless son was struck with the words of the little heathen boy. He felt condemned by them. "Here am I," he said to himself, "the son of a minister, knowing far more about Jesus than that poor boy, and yet caring far less for Him! That little fellow is now earnestly listening to the word of life, while I am living quite carelessly about it!"

In great distress of mind he retired that night to his hammock. There his father's instructions came back to his thoughts, and reminded him how he might seek and find that salvation he so much needed. He became a sincere Christian; and great was the joy in his home when the happy tiding reached his parents.

Look Out for Him.

When a man asks credit because he's a "Christian," look out for him. The last defaulter is Mr. Frank Ballard, who has for years been a ranting, howling, screaming, roaring, political Christian. He got what political position he held because he belonged to the Young Men's Christian Association. He was put forward in business for the same reason. His credit, position name and reputation hinged on the single fact, that he had a long tail at the end of his signature, taking in some half-dozen or more of the most pious letters of the Christian alphapet. He ran his face, and has now run his race with a vengence—and a moral. Don't trust men who talk temperance—with politics sticking out in every sentence. Don't trust men who preach morality—with selfishness disfiguring every lineament. Above all things don't put the hardearned savings of poor men and women into the unwatched custody of members of the Young Men's Christian Association, who talk politics with a twang, who sing psalms with a snivel, and roll their eyes with a wink. Morality is a good thing; temperance is a good thing—in point of fact they are essential attributes of a manly nature. But if anybody attempts to build up a party, or a business, or a newspaper, or a character by professing morality and temperance, by blowing his own moral horn, and beating his own temperance drum—gently turn him out upon the cold, cold ground, and bid him go to his own place. N. Y. Star.

Superstitions in Norway.

The quiet capital of Norway has recently been subject to a popular commotion of a most extraordinary character. For several days previous to the 17th, the date of a private letter, the Freemasons' Hall in Christiania was the centre of continued riotous demonstrations; numerous arrests were made by the police, and at the night millitary were placed under arms. Similar scenes have been witnessed before, and they are the outcome of a curious superstition. Among the lower class there is a belief that once every seven years the Freemasons have to discharge one of their secret duties at the expense of their fellow citizens, by supplying a few plump human bodies to tickle the appetite of the Grand Turk—Tryngtyrken, or swine-snouted Turk, as he is irreverently denominated in the vernacular. Under the present panic, which is precisely similar to that described by popular poet Wergeland more than twenty years ago, young people of the poorer class and servants refuse to move out of doors after dusk, and are the subjects of unfeigned terror. The most extraordinary stories are afloat of "suitable persons" having been carried off by force in broad daylight; and it is generally believed that the city authorities assist in procuring this Turkish tribute. The people arrested in open war upon the Freemasons stated specifically that fourteen bakers have disappeared; and one tailor and an unknown number of young women and boys are also supposed to be on their way to the Sultan's table. The magistrates have tried to allay the popular frenzy by issuing a caution to householders requiring them to keep young people out of the way and pointing out the stupid character of the panic. The Aftenpost in commenting on his strange commotion ascribes it to the fact that many persons emigrate to America without apprising their friends of their intention, and says that this circumstance, brought into connection with an exaggerated historical tradition handed down from the time when European nations paid tribute to the piratical States of Tripoli and Tunis, accounts for the whole affair.

—The Lieut.-Governor of New Brunswick has appointed Wednesday, the 10th of November, as a day of thanksgiving for an abundant harvest.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 30.

THE CABINET.—The Leader's Ottawa telegrams of the 29th Oct., says:—"The filling up of vacancies in the Dominion Cabinet will not be finally settled until the return of all the ministers."

DINNER TO SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD.—The Picton Gazette says:—"A banquet, on a grand scale, in honor of Sir John A. Macdonald, is shortly to be given in Picton, to which Sir John A. and a number of his colleagues will be invited." We learn that Sir John has excepted the invitation.

THANKSGIVING.—The Bishop of Huron has appointed Sunday, 14th November, 1869, in the Diocese of Huron, as a day of general thanksgiving, for the blessing of peace and plenty which have been mercifully extended to the Dominion of Canada during the past year.

SHARP PRACTICE.—C. J. Brydges, Esq., in company with Mr. Potter, the President of the Northern Railway, paid a visit to Detroit a few days ago in a Director's car with the intention of passing over the Road to Detroit, but were stopped at Port Huron by the Custom House officer, and compelled to pay $1.50 in gold as duty upon the car before it was allowed to touch Yankee soil. No doubt the money will be refunded, but these annoyances are anything but pleasant.

THE HUNTINGDON ELECTION.—The election for Huntingdon bids fair to be an exciting one. Mr. Scriver, the local member, resigned his seat to run for the Commons, in room of the Hon. John Rose, and it seemed to be arranged that he and Mr. Stuart Donell should have the constituency, the latter taking Mr. Scriver's place in the Legislature. It now turns out that Mr. Scriver is himself to be opposed by Mr. Kerr, a Montreal lawyer, and Mr. Donell is to have an opponent in Mr. Hyndman, a resident candidate. Since the above was in type a telegram announces the election of Mr. Scriver by acclamation.

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY.—Parties interested in the Southern Road are moving again. Two meetings have been held recently for the purpose of considering certain propositions connected with the construction of the proposed line. The last took place at London, on Tuesday, and was attended by several gentlemen, among them Messrs. O'Connor and Beecher, as a deputation from Detroit. A proposition to amend the charter, empowering the Company to tunnel the Detroit River, and bridge the Niagara, was rejected. We presume the Directors stick to the original intention of having the Western terminus at Amherstburg.

EMIGRATION.—On Thursday October 28th a meeting composed of Sir John A. Macdonald Hon. Messrs Chapais, Wood, Carling, and Chauveau, was held at the office of the Minister of Agriculture in Ottawa to discuss the emigration question. Letters received from Messrs. Dixon & Simrys, government agents in London and on the continent, concerning their mission, were read and discussed. The preparations now in course to meet the unusually large number of immigrants expected next year also came in for consideration. The governments of Quebec and Ontario have concluded to send large posters containing information regarding unsettled lands in Canada to the United Kingdom, to be affixed in the post offices of that country. All documents, maps, &c., likely to be of use are to be immediately furnished each European agent.

OBITUARY.—The remains of private Joseph Eppiett were yesterday interred, at Wesleyan Methodist Cemetery, with military honors.—Deceased was a member of No. 7 Company, 2nd Battalion, Grand Trunk Rifle Brigade, Capt. Nunn. The firing party as well as pall-bearers were furnished by his late comrades. No. 8 Company also turned out in good numbers, and the 15th and 49th Battalions were represented as well. A large number of civilians joined the funeral cortege. Eppiett was a young man, highly respected by all who knew him, and was the sole support of his mother and sister. He was employed as a fireman on the Grand Trunk Railroad, and met his death from an over-zealous attempt to serve his employers. It seems that the train he was fireman of was running at considerable speed, and after his tender-brakes had been put on, he, knowing that there was a train a short distance in front, and another one behind quite close, leaped from the tender to the next car, with the intention of putting brakes on there. He missed his footing and fell down on the track—the train passing over him. Notwithstanding that one of his legs was completely severed from his body, and the other one only connected by a few threads of flesh, he succeeded, by almost superhuman efforts, in stopping the following train; thereby perhaps preventing a fearful accident. His death occurred within four hours after. Such heroism is not of every day occurrence, and deserved to be remembered.

—A New York editor, if not now married, never will be, for he says:—"The good, honest lasses we knew in years agone seem like choice dreams compared to the waking shop-windows, the hair-padding, ribbon-flinging, tetertipping gew-gaws of humanity now called girls."

The "Orange Vote."

Whenever an election takes place we find men, outside the pale of the Orange Society, either courting for what they term the Orange Vote, or denouncing Orangemen, under the hope of gaining the influence of the Roman Catholics; both of whom, long ere this, have learned to appreciate the value of such friends. The election for North Renfrew is another case in point. We find the Ottawa Times of the 28th October, writing as follows:—

"It is generally understood that Mr. George Brown is using every means to carry the vote of the Orangemen of Renfrew against Sir Francis Hincks, but we should like to know what claim Mr. George Brown can put forward to dictate to any Orange Lodge in Ontario, or how he is going to explain the abuse he heaped upon that body, in the columns of the Globe, whenever it suited his purpose to do so? If the Orangemen of Renfrew understand what is due to the dignity and self respect of their own body, they will scout any candidate who comes out under Brown's wing, or in any way identifies himself with that party. There has never been a man who aspired to lead a party in Canada, who has changed sides more frequently, more shamelessly, and more selfishly than George Brown, and how any man like Mr. Thomas Deacon, holding an honorable position among the Orangemen of the Province, can lend himself to carry out the purposes of George Brown's personal spleen against the Finance Minister almost passes belief. When Brown was raising against John Hillyard Cameron in Toronto, he had cabs driving through the city with ribbons at the horses' heads, inscribed, "Vote for the Protestant Champion," "Down with the Nunneries," etc.; and not two years afterwards when it suited his purpose to change his tone, there was no abuse too foul for him to heap upon the Orangemen of the Province. They were everything that was vile and dishonorable, and should be hooted out of the country. We should think that every Orangemen received a lesson at that time which would make him cautious of any professions which Brown now find it useful to make, and the very fact of his alliance with Mr. Findlay ought to be enough to carry the Orange vote in the Riding against him."

Quite correct Mr. Times, so far as Brown and his antecedents are concerned; but how much better, or favorable to Orangemen and Orangeism, is the record of Sir Francis Hincks, that Orangemen should support him? Will, the Times inform its readers whether Sir Francis was in the Ministry when the Party Processions Act, and the Secret Societies Bill, were passed? And if not in the Cabinet, whether he did not vote for, and support these most one-sided and iniquitous Bills? We have no sympathy with Brown or his antecedents, particularly upon the subject under discussion, but would feel obliged if the Times would point out the claims Hincks has upon that party for support. Certainly Hincks, laying claim to the Conservative vote, is one of the wonders of the age. If his appointment was made to keep up the principle of coalition in the Cabinet, than he should have sought a Reform Constituency, and not gone into one where he has has to lay special claim of the Conservatives. Apart from this, however, will the Times give us a few reasons, we care not how limited, why Conservatives, and especially Orangemen, should support and vote for Hincks. For ourselves, we were under the impression that he had always been their implacable enemy, and we have yet to learn that he has changed his opinion upon that point. Perhaps the Times can inform us.

Fire—Three Tenements Burned.

A fire broke out about 3 o'clock this morning, in the Saloon known as the Club House, kept by Robt. Cronn. The fire is supposed to have originated in the kitchen, and from the combustive nature of the materials rapidly spread through the house. The alarm was given at once, and the steam engine made its appearance, on the scene in a short time, and after getting at work, prevented the fire spreading to any great extent. In the meantime, however, the fire had worked its way north to the next building, occupied by Mr. W. Wright, Harness maker, and Mr. W. H. Scholes, Grocer, which was almost completely destroyed. The contents of Mr. Wright's store were wholly, and those of Mr. Scholes' partially removed before the fire had seriously damaged them. The exertions of the firemen and the powerful stream of water thrown by the engine, prevented the conflagration extending to the adjoining buildings; although Mr. Hayes' on the north, was for some time in great danger. Mr. Perkins on the south being protected by the strong gable wall. The buildings in the rear were also saved. The buildings belonged to Dr. Lister, and were insured in the "British America," for $1,400.

Mr. W. H. Scholes is covered by an insurance of $2,000 in the "Commercial Union," and $900 in the "Phœnix."

Mr. R. H. Cronn was insured upon his Billard Tables, etc., for $2,000 in the "Home."

Mr. Wright had no insurance upon his Stock.

The tables in the Billiard Room, which was partially saved, were found after the smoke had died away, to have been cut with some sharp instrument, when or by whom is not known.

THE BENEFIT OF ADVERTISING.—A merchant in one of our Western cities, lately put an advertisement in a paper headed, 'Boy Wanted.' The next morning he found a band box on his door step with this inscription on the top of it:—'How will this one answer?' On opening it, he found a nice fat, chubby-looking specimen of the article he wanted, warmly done up in flannel.

"The Railway Mania."

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

MR. EDITOR.—The above heads an article in the Chronicle of this week, over the cognomen of "Belleville."

It is not my intention to enter into a controversy through the press, with the writer of the communication above alluded to, but simply to point out to "Belleville," and those interested how easy it is to be mistaken on one point, and if on one, why not upon others. I now particularly allude to that part which says the Township of Elzivir, (over which I have the honor to preside as Reeve) as laying a tax of 2½ cents on the dollar in 1867, and therefore puts the Municipality down as "nil," or not able to assist in building the road to Kingston, simply because the Municipal Act does not allow a Municipality to "impose in any one year, except for debts already incurred, any higher rate than 2 cts. on the dollar." Now it so happens that Elzivir has no debt to provide for, the moneys we raise are for County purposes, Township purposes, and for Schools, and while we raise 2½ cts. on the dollar to cover all the yearly outlay, it takes half a cent of that for school purposes—so that any rate we would have one fourth cent to fall back on, to pay interest and form a sinking fund on any reasonable bonus we might see fit to give.

"Belleville" states we "must have a margin for emergencies;" therefore "the above figures could not be reached." Surely Elzivir could, as he kindly puts us down as "nil," thereby leaving us no difficulty in reaching his figures—but what is the fact as regards Elzivir? Is it "nil?" While Elzevir Council has worked hard to sustain itself as a young Munic pality, being only twelve years in existence, we are clear of debt and have been able to pay to the County out of our reserved fund about $800, on the County appropriation of $350 for 1869. This reserve fund is for the purpose of using the interest to make our Common Schools more efficient, and which we mean to increase as fast as possible from year to year, until the interest reaches a sum sufficient with the Government grant, and the usual levy on absentee lands, to enable the Trustees of each School section to employ a first class teacher without too heavily taxing the School rate-payers.

Such being the facts of the case so far as Elzevir is concerned, we feel quite sure that any action taken by the rate-payers will be such as can safely be carried out, whether the road terminated at Kingston or Belleville, or both places.

As the Act in question excepts School moneys, I think it would have been well for "Belleville" to have quoted that part of it as we do not be able so, probably other municipalities would not have come so far behind as his calculations makes them. The exact wording of the 223 section is as follows: "But no such Council shall assess and levy in "any one year, more than an aggregate of two "cents in the dollar on the actual value exclusive of School rates." No doubt the other Townships in their rate of assessments as laid down by "Belleville," have included their School rates the same as Elzevir.

Had "Belleville" fairly quoted the 225th Section by adding "exclusive of school rates," at the end of the "two cents on the $1," then neither the Kingston nor the Belleville people would have been liable to be deceived as to the real amount which the Townships would be able to raise under by-law to aid in building a Railroad either to Kingston or Belleville, or to both places.

Yours, &c., &c.,

BILLA FLINT.

A Minister Charged with the Murder of his Wife to obtain the Insurance on her Life.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)

The indictment of Rev. Smith by the grand jury of Kane county, for the murder of his wife, brings before the public one of the most remarkable cases which has ever arisen in the country. Mr. Smith has been ten years in the ministry, five spent in New England. Since last November he has preached on a salary of hundred dollars a year, and had just previously preached on four hundred. Yet out of these slim resources, he had undertaken to maintain an insurance on his own life for $10,000, and on that of his wife for $9,000 and to build a house worth $6,000.

The interest on the cost of his house being $600, and the premiums being several hundred dollars more, the reverend gentleman seems to have disregarded his own prospects of solvency or to have had a singular acurate foresight of his wife's unexpected death, and the $9,000 which it would place in his hand. Except in such a contingency, the reverend gentleman had provided for an expenditure of several hundred dollars in excess of his salary, to say nothing of supporting and clothing himself, wife and two children. On the other hand the husband of Mrs. Smith pays for his house in full, with $3,000 with which to furnish it. Under these circumstances, in June last, Mr. Smith, and his wife, drove to a ministers meeting at Elgin. During the evening they set out to go to the house of his brother-in-law, two miles out of Elgin. At half-last nine o'clock Mr. Smith arrived alone, much excited, asking if his wife had arrived, and saying that they had been overturned in a stream and thrown out, and as he had not been able to find his wife, he thought she might have reached the house before him. The most singular discrepancy of all is that Mrs. Smith could have drowned, without violence, in water only seventeen inches deep, and without her husband knowing whether she was hurt or not. Mr. Smith concealed from his friends that there was any insurance on her life until they learned of a policy of $3,000, which was paid by the Northwestern Life to Mr. Smith, and then when asked by a lady of his congregation, whether there was other insurance, he denied it point blank, lest it should make talk. Immediately upon her death and before her burial, he gave orders for the resuming the work of his house, which had been stopped for want of funds, and immediately after her burial he arranged a pleasant tea party, which was given to himself by the ladies of his congregation. Most of the acts were shortly after published whereupon Mr. Smith professed great indignation, and threatened a libel suit, but no suit had been brought. He also circulated among his congregation a paper certifying their belief in his innocence, which several signed, never having heard the facts. Immediately upon the indictment Mr. Smith surrendered himself to the sheriff, and has ever since been a voluntary prisoner at the sheriff's house.

RITUALISM.—Rev. Colin C. Tate of Columbus, Ohio, is to be tried for violating the law of the Episcopal Church, by putting his choir into surplices, and having them enter the church in procession, singing the psalms and hymns at the commencement of the service, and go out in the same manner at its close. There is also a supplemental charge of persistence in this practice after being forbidden to do so by the Bishop of Ohio. The whole case turns upon the question, whether the canon requiring priests to obey the "godly admonition" of their Bishop obliges them to follow his directions on points concerning which there is no written provision.

WARNING TO DIVISION COURT CLERKS.—An Ottawa correspondent of the Sarnia Observer over the signature of 'Reffenatien', gives the following warning to Division Court Clerks. 'I heard it whispered that many of the Division Court Clerks throughout the Province, are not so strict in accounting to the Government for the fees on proceedings in these Courts as they ought to be, by affixing the necessary Law Stamps on the different proceedings, as the law requires. It appears there is such a wide difference between the amount of fees returned by some Counties as compared with others, that the Government feels satisfied there is something wrong, and have resolved on sending an Inspector to visit all the Division Court offices in the Province, and make personal examination into the manner in which the clerks discharge their duties in this respect.'

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squabble over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite. THE CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE remarks, "The singular success which Mr. Epps attained by his homœopathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold by the Trade only in ½lb., ¼lb., and 1lb. tin lined packets, labelled—JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England. 44-6m183

MISS RYE COMING WITH MORE GIRLS.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 29.—Miss Rye sailed yesterday in the steamship "Hibernian" from this port for Quebec, taking with her another large party of female emigrants for Canada.

NEWMARKET RACES.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—In the Newmarket races yesterday the first race was won by 'Palmerston,' beating eight others. The second race was won by 'Cardinal,' beating thirty others.

The Newmarket handicap was won by 'New Chattle,' beating 'Cocsonut' second, and 'Bresch of Promise' third. Ten started. Betting was 5 to 2 against 'New Chattle.'

COLD WEATHER.

The weather is unusually cold, with frost and snow in parts of the kingdom.

AMERICAN FINANCES.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Times has an editorial on American finances, wherein the writer comments on Secretary Boutwell's advocacy of paying the national debt in gold, and considers the very necessity of such advocacy a proof of the strength of the repudiators. Boutwell's appeal for paying the debt will earn him glory and patriotism. The obligation cannot be put too simply and rakedly. It is a duty which America owes primarily to the creditors. The nation does not want any other reason but that the creditor's right pointed to it. The security of the American public faith is excellent, but their liability to alter the terms of the contract against the will of the creditors would render their best security bad. It is a sufficient reason why one party is bound to keep it that the other party to it has made his arrangements on the faith of its being kept.

MR. PEABODY'S ILLNESS—THE QUEEN ANXIOUS ABOUT HIM.

Queen Victoria has telegraphed an inquiry as to the health of Mr. Peabody, wherein she expresses great anxiety in regard to his illness.

The condition of Mr. Peabody is more favorable this evening.

EARL OF DERBY'S FUNERAL.

The remains of Earl Derby were interred at at Knowsley to-day. There were no public proceedings.

MILITARY ABOLITION.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—The Patrie in its issue to-day says that the military sub-divisions of Nancy, Tours and Lille, are to be abolished. The headquarters of the old district of Nancy will be at Metz.

TROOPS FOR CUBA.

MADRID, Oct. 29.—Seven battalions of volunteers will soon sail for Havana. Enlistments for the Cuban army still continues.

SPANISH THRONE.

The discussions among the Cabinet and people touching the choice of a monarch continues unabated.

Discussions have broken out among the different wings of the Opposition. The final selection of the Duke of Genoa as King of Spain is now probable.

DISUNION CONTINUES.

MADRID, Oct. 29.—Complete disunion reigned at the recent meeting of the representatives of all political parties. General Prim made great efforts to avoid a rupture in the coalition on questions that relate to the Church and the future monarch. The ecclesiastical estimates are to be reduced thirty per cent.

KING OF SPAIN.

LONDON, Oct. 29 (evening).—Despatches from Madrid this evening indicate the selection of the Duke of Genoa as King of Spain.

In the meeting of the different parties held to-day the vote resulted in 122 in favor of the Duke to 44 against him.

THE REBELLION IN DALMATIA.

VIENNA, Oct. 30.—Despatches from the South state that the Dalmatian insurrection is more formidable than at first reported.

PROTEST FROM THE EMPEROR.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—There is a rumour afloat though it cannot be traced to any reliable source, that the Russian government has sent a note to Turkey protesting against the passage of armed Austrians through Turkish territory.

THE SUEZ CANAL.

CAIRO, Oct. 29.—The international commission to decide on the question of jurisdiction in the matter of the Suez canal opened its session here to-day. The American Consul was absent, having received no powers from his government. Nouber Pasha, the Egyptian Minister of foreign affairs, was made president of the commission.

THE LATEST.

ELECTIONS IN PARIS.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—The official paper to-day announces that the elections for four vacant seats in the Corps Legislatif from Paris, has been fixed for the 21st of November.

SPAIN.

The Government and people have experienced another Ministerial crisis. The Cabinet difficulty which occurred in this instance was directly on the question of the candidature of different parties for the throne and the division caused by the voter of their different friends in the Ministry and Legislative body. Senators Rivela and Ardouney, have resigned their portfolios.

A meeting of the Progressionists was held last night for the purpose of sauling a King, at which 110 delegates voted for the Duke of Genoa, son of Victor Emanuel. The Unionists will, however, contest the Duke. A meeting of the majority of the party will be held this evening.

MADRID, (midnight) Oct. 29.—During the latest moments of the different Legislative King making caucuses in the city this evening, the chances of Duke de Montpensier were revived, and there appeared a probability of a national union with the Duke de Klog.

American Despatches.

FROM ST. DOMINGO.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—St. Domingo advices of Oct. 15th, state that Gen. Babcock is still there gathering statistics and holding long interviews with President Baez, which lead to the inference among those that annexation to the United States is under consideration.

—Forty-one houses in the town of Princeton, Ill., were entered and ransacked by burglars in one night, and the aggregate of plunder was just two dollars in money, and a peck of brass jewelry.

—A Chicago school-mistress, who is represented to be a person about nineteen years of age, and of a violent and ungovernable temper, recently killed a boy aged seven years, by striking him over the head with a ruler.

A HEAVY THRUST.—At the Church of England Missionary meeting held in Colbourne on Friday evening, Oct. 23rd, Rev. Mr. McKenzie, one of the deputation, in his speech accused the temperance and kindred organizations of so distracting the public mind that church duties were all but forgotten, or words to the same effect. Mr. Grover who also addressed the meeting, took occasion in the course of his remarks to dissent from the Rev. gentleman's opinion, backing up his (Mr. G's.) position by stating that the two millions annually spent in Ontario and Quebec for intoxicating liquors would be better employed in missionary work, or words of similar import.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the 'medicinal gum' of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope and vigour stated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

Irish Astronomy.

O'Ryan was a man of might,
Whic Ireland was a nation,
But poachin' was his heart's delight
And constant occupation.
His had an old militia gun,
An' sartain sure his aim was;
His gave the keepers many a run,
And wouldn't mind the game laws.

St. Patrisk once was passing by
O'Ryan's little houldin'
And as the saint felt wake and dhry,
He thought he'd enter in.
"O'Ryan," says the saint, "avick!
To preach at Tories I'm goin',
So let me have a rasher quick,
And a dhrop of Innishowen."

"No rasher will I cook for you,
While bether is to spare, sir,
An' here's a jug of mountain dew,
An' there's a rashin' here, sir!"
St. Patrisk he looked mighty sweet,
And says he "good luck attend you!
And when your in your windin' sheet,
Its up to heaven I'll send you."

O'Ryan gave his pipe a whiff:
Them tidils's is transportin',
But may I ax your saintship if
There's any kind of sportin'?"
St. Patrisk said, "a Lion's there,
Two Bears, a Bull and Cancer—"
"Bedad," says Mike, "the hunting's rare,
St. Patrick, I'm your man, sir."

So to conclude my song aright,
For fear I'd tire your patience,
You'll see O'Ryan any night
Amid the constellations.
And Venus follows in his track,
Till Mars grows jealous, really,
But he, as fears the Irish sack
Of handling the shillaly.

How Smithson got Married.

Mr. Smithson (an improvement on the celebrated name of Smith), wished to take Miss Browsly (another improvement) to the opera. He had been on terms of intimacy with the family for about five years, but 'never spoke of love;' on the contrary, had frequently declared his intention of leading a bacueior's life. One morning he called and was admitted.

'Oh, James!' exclaimed Miss Jane, 'where have you kept yourself so long?'

This took Smithson a little aback, for he had spent the preceeding evening with the family. Before he could answer it, however, Jane's brothers and sisters (ten in number) had gathered about him. Summoning all his courage, he said, 'I have come to ask you—'

'Not here, James—now—now—oh!'

'Thst is,' stammered Smithson, 'if you are not engaged—'

'Oh, oh! water—quick!'

'What's that I inquired her father, 'who says she's engaged?'

'I didn't mean——' said Smithson in confusion.

'Of course not,' continued Mr. Browsly 'you've always been our favourite!'

Then advancing and takieg poor Smithson's hand, said, 'Take her; she is a good girl, and loves you to distraction. May you both be happy as the day is long.'

Thereupon father, mother, children, crowded around Smithson and wished him joy; and company coming in at the moment, the affair was told to them as a perfect secret. So Smithson got a wife without popping the question, almost before he knew it himself. But we cannot help thinking he was hurried into matrimony.

A young man and woman stopped at a certain hotel to pass a day or two. Their awkward appearance attracted the curiosity of the family by inquiring how far she had travelled that day. "Travelled!" replied the stranger, somewhat indignantly, "we didn't travel, we rid!"

A Scotchman having to ride a half-starved, broken-winded horse a long distance, repeatedly paused during the journey at road-side inns, where after refreshing himself with a gill of whiskey, he would complacently remark to the wretched animal, 'Aweel, fren', now we've refreshed our twa puir bodies, let's e'en jog on.'

At a spiritual scene in Hartford, recently the following conversation took place between a disconsolate widow and the spirit of the departed spouse: Widow—'Are you in the spirit world?' The lamented—'I am.' Widow—'How long have you been there?' The lamented—'O, same time.' Widow—'Don't you want to come back and be with your lonely wife?' The lamented—'Not if I know myself. It's hot enough around here.'

What do you come here after?' inquired Miss Susan Nipper of a bachelor friend who made her a call when the rest of the people had gone out. 'I came to borrow some matches,' he meekly replied. 'Match-s! That's a likely story. Why don't you make a match? I know what you came for,' exclaimed the delighted miss, as she crowded the old bachelor into a corner; 'you came to kiss and kiss me almost to death, but you shan't—without you are the strongest, and everybody knows you are!'

The Committee of a Moral Association in England has reported that "woman are fast being drawn into the tide of demoralization and drunkenness, and that men go to public houses more to get away from their wives than from any other cause."—But may not the argument be reversed? Do not women become demoralized and addicted to drunkenness because their husbands go to public-houses, and leave their wives to loneliness and discontent? We are inclined to think both inferences are correct, and the causes mentioned mutually contribute to bring about the results alluded to.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. It wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, see that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, one should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such varying it those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect promptly.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him decidedly better, from their cleansing and removing effect on the digestive apparatus.

QUERY?

Should we employ the most doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles at the expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in medicine which produces effects only by the administration of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more curative power than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount in money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of all the families that will adopt the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thomson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as Scrofula, Consumption, Fevers, Rheumatism, Swellings, Scurvy, Boils, Old sores, Pimples or Humors of the skin, Ringworm, Erysipelas, Mercurial disease, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and Sore Throat, and all diseases that it comes in contact with, from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofula. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. THOMPSON'S Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For convenience it has no equal; it is a mild and safe purgative and corrective for vitiable portals; a good alterative tonic to assist a weakly patient; a powerful evaporant after the system has been reduced by sickness, an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome cordial, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect secretion of the digestive juice of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as coughs, colds, sore throat, pleurisy, pains in the joints of limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact in any case where it is desired to produce a sweat, it may be used for all purposes for which Thomsonian medicines are used, such as cramps in the stomach, bowels, and limbs. If they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. The SARSAPARILLA is a great remedy for the cure of Ulcers, Sores, and all other ailments. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Nervous Debility, find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of the people as the cherry remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and through every part of the country it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known, for its virtues in character and power to cure the various affections of the throat, lungs, and chest, that are known as a definite protector against them. While adapted to infirm children, it is equally efficacious in mature age. It is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for the incipient consumption, and the most dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a pectoral balsam, and healing remedy, every family should be kept on hand in every family, as it indeed as all are sometimes liable to colds and coughs which should be provided with its antidote for them.

Although settled consumption is generally incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. Even in the last stages of the mortal consumption, when the lungs are breaking down, and the fearful hectic flush and night sweat, the most obstinate cough, and the distressing shortness of breath, this remedy will always afford prompt relief, and in many cases, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

No one generally gives its virtues credit for the power it possesses in breaking up colds, and thus preventing settled diseases of the throat and lungs. Keep it by you. Don't let your neighbor suffer and die for the want of it. Information of its cures in your own neighborhood, and certificates of its virtues, may be had gratis, and we request all who try it for any of the above complaints to get our pamphlet.

Ayer's Ague Cure.

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chills and Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any form of Mercury, it leaves nothing whatever, in no possible manner any patient. The number and testimony of those who have been cured by its use, have literally become secure, and we believe that no remedy of the kind has ever been so universally successful in overcoming these distressing complaints.

Persons in a climate where Fever and Ague prevails, may rest secure from attack by occasionally taking this remedy as a preventive. Travellers or residents, exposed to the influence of miasmatic districts, may defy the disease by the occasional use of this antidote. Even those who have the disease in their systems, when they commence taking this remedy, will soon be relieved of its distressing symptoms, and in a few days realize a perfect cure. Not only will it cure the disease, but it will purify the blood, and drive out the seeds of disease which are implanted in the system, and which, if allowed to remain, will undermine the constitution, and destroy the health.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. In recent cases of Scrofula, disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Even the obstinate and loathsome sores and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in a few weeks. Such cases almost every relation of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of the virtues it possesses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Its taint is in the mind and constitution of the organism undermines the constitution, and inviting the attack of other and fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again it seems to breed infection throughout the body and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles—or deposits of foreign matter—are formed in the heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruption on the skin, and blotches on some part of the body. Hence the occasion so often arises for the services of the physician, when, even when no active symptoms of disease appear, Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find that medicine relief, and in length cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other forms of visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dropsy, Dropsy, Heart, Disease, Pile, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various diseases of the uterine, glandular and nervous systems.

Syphilitic Diseases and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing the disease that has fastened its fangs upon the constitution. Leucorrhœa or White, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied free. Ulcerations and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield readily to this remedy. Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and the various Biliary Derangements they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. The SARSAPARILLA is a great remedy for the cure of Ulcers, Sores, and all other ailments. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Nervous Debility, find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

While adapted to infirm children, it is equally efficacious in mature age. It is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for the incipient consumption, and the most dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a pectoral balsam, and healing remedy, every family should be kept on hand in every family, as it indeed as all are sometimes liable to colds and coughs which should be provided with its antidote for them.

Although settled consumption is generally incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. Even in the last stages of the mortal consumption, when the lungs are breaking down, and the fearful hectic flush and night sweat, the most obstinate cough, and the distressing shortness of breath, this remedy will always afford prompt relief, and in many cases, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

No one generally gives its virtues credit for the power it possesses in breaking up colds, and thus preventing settled diseases of the throat and lungs. Keep it by you. Don't let your neighbor suffer and die for the want of it. Information of its cures in your own neighborhood, and certificates of its virtues, may be had gratis, and we request all who try it for any of the above complaints to get our pamphlet.

Ayer's Ague Cure.

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chills and Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any form of Mercury, it leaves nothing whatever, in no possible manner any patient. The number and testimony of those who have been cured by its use, have literally become secure, and we believe that no remedy of the kind has ever been so universally successful in overcoming these distressing complaints.

Persons in a climate where Fever and Ague prevails, may rest secure from attack by occasionally taking this remedy as a preventive. Travellers or residents, exposed to the influence of miasmatic districts, may defy the disease by the occasional use of this antidote. Even those who have the disease in their systems, when they commence taking this remedy, will soon be relieved of its distressing symptoms, and in a few days realize a perfect cure. Not only will it cure the disease, but it will purify the blood, and drive out the seeds of disease which are implanted in the system, and which, if allowed to remain, will undermine the constitution, and destroy the health.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry, in the of University Pavia, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Cassala, held at Monteferrato, September, 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public at Montreal, Toronto, or Canada.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally used at the Opening Dinners immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietors have no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Hotels, Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Prepared and sold wholesale by the Proprietor,
